8. CALDERON WENT ON TO EXPRESS DEEP APPRECIATION TO USG FOR ITS EFFORTS TO ACHIEVE REVISIONS IN THE ORIGINAL MEXICAN TEXT THAT WOULD MAKE IT A SOMEWHAT MORE BALANCED TEXT, AND, THEREFORE, HE SAID, A TEXT MORE HELPFUL FOR THE CAUSE OF HUMAN RIGHTS.

9. CALDERON WENT ON TO ACKNOWLEDGE THAT AS A RESULT OF THESE USG EFFORTS, THE NEGOTIATIONS HAVE RESULTED IN A MEXICAN TEXT THAT IS SIGNIFICANTLY IMPROVED, LESS UNBALANCED, BUT STILL UNACCEPTABLE.

10. WILLIAMSON THANKED CALDERON FOR HIS CANDID COMMENTS.

11. WILLIAMSON SAID THAT IT MUST BE PERFECTLY CLEAR THAT THE USG HAS A DEEP CONCERN AND DEEP COMMITMENT TO

THE PRINCIPLES OF HUMAN RIGHTS EVERYWHERE. THE USG WANTS A STRONG EFFECTIVE UNHRC WHICH WILL VIGOROUSLY ENCOURAGE THE IMPROVEMENT OF HUMAN RIGHTS. WHILE THE USG WANTS A BALANCED TEXT, THERE SHOULD BE NO REPEAT NO CONFUSION THAT THE USG REMAINS CONCERNED ABOUT HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE AND SEEKS REAL IMPROVEMENTS OF THE SITUATION THERE.

12. CALDERON SAID THAT THE USG'S FIRM POSITION ON HUMAN RIGHTS WAS PERFECTLY CLEAR.

13. WILLIAMSON NOTED THAT THE USG BELIEVES THAT THE ORGANIZATIONS SUCH AS THE UNHRC ARE MOST EFFECTIVE IF THEY HAVE A RECORD AND ADOPT RESOLUTIONS THAT ARE BALANCED, NONDISCRIMINATORY AND FAIR. DOUBLE STANDARDS

SECRET
MEMORANDUM

TO: S/PPR - ARA Inspectors

MAR 10 1987

FROM: ARA/SC - Richard B. Howard

SUBJECT: Program Inspection of ARA

The Office of Southern Cone Affairs has primary action responsibility for the conduct of US relations with Argentina, Chile, Paraguay, and Uruguay. We interact daily with and are under the immediate supervision of Deputy Assistant Secretary for South America Gelbard.

We deal with two countries which have recently returned to democracy after periods of harsh military rule, Argentina and Uruguay, and two authoritarian, non-democratic military governments, Chile and Paraguay. We enjoy good relations with Argentina and Uruguay, while our current relations with Chile and Paraguay are cool and difficult.

The Administration's emphasis on democracy and human rights in Latin America, as applied to the SC countries, was demonstrated most notably by the successful state visits of the Argentine and Uruguayan presidents in 1985 and 1986. Through such visits and other actions we are trying to assist those countries to consolidate their recently re-established democratic forms of government. These efforts include attempts to enhance relations with the military services of the two countries, though in Argentina we are hampered by effective British opposition to the transfer of combat aircraft and some other military materiel and the lack of an IMET program (the latter of which we are trying to remedy through legislation), and in Uruguay we have up to now been unable to obtain a MAP allocation. On the economic front, the international debt issue looms large. Most bilateral economic issues with the two countries involve trade, and are not easily resolved in this period of record US trade deficits. On multilateral political issues in the UN and other international bodies, Argentina and Uruguay are more moderate than other Latin American countries such as Mexico and Peru, but still often do not support us on key issues.

In Chile and Paraguay, septugenarian Presidents (and Generals) Pinochet and Stroessner appear to want to perpetuate their authoritarian regimes until they die, and very serious human rights abuses abound, though the histories and political cultures of the two countries differ markedly. The Administration's emphasis on democracy and human rights, particularly during the tenure in ARA of Assistant Secretary Abrams and the tours of two able, activist career chiefs of mission, has inevitably led to our current strained relations, but hopefully to the long-term benefit of US interests. The "long term" will probably be longer in Paraguay than in Chile, since the former lacks the democratic tradition and relatively strong opposition political parties of the latter. While opposing many of the policies and actions of these regimes, we are nevertheless attempting to enhance our ties with the military forces, since they will necessarily play pivotal roles in any democratic transitions. In the case of Chile, we are hampered by a legal prohibition on IMET. On the economic front, we are impressed by Chile's responsible policies as it copes with its large foreign debt, whereas we have tried through the MDBs to ameliorate the effects of the GOP's egregious economic mismanagement. We advocate improved human rights performance of the two in international fora, but nevertheless generally enjoy more support on political issues than from Argentina and Uruguay. Relations with Paraguay are now at a particularly low point because of an unsatisfactory GOP response to our protest over the February 9 teargassing of Ambassador Taylor and others by GOP security forces.

DECL: OADR

There are major areas of disagreement within the Department and the Administration on two issues affecting Argentina and Chile--whether to authorize the transfer of A-4 aircraft to Argentina in the face of UK opposition, and how hard to push for a democratic transition and human rights progress in Chile in international fora. These issues have been vetted as high as the cabinet and NSC levels at various times over the past few years. At lower levels, we have also encountered opposition within and outside the Department to taking measures in the civil aviation and trade fields beneficial to Uruguay and to allocating scarce MAP resources to that country. There appears to be general concensus in the government on our policy toward Paraguay.

Policy toward Chile is also a contentious issue among the American public and in the Congress, which is reflected in our heavy volume of public and congressional correspondence on that country and in occasional congressional hearings. Hill liberals are today publicly introducing proposed economic sanctions legislation on Chile, which the Administration opposes, and there is the possibility that some in Congress may attempt to include Paraguay in such legislation.

For more detail, please see the four enclosed memoranda dated January 5, 1987 prepared for the Inspectors currently in the SC area in the field, which include the Secretary's letters of instruction and goals and objectives workplans. Also enclosed are the current post reporting plans and our contact lists. NSC papers, important State and CIA assessments, and state visit briefing books are available in a file drawer designated for the inspectors in ARA/SC.

LA SITUACION ACTUAL DE LOS DERECHOS HUMANOS

MAXIMO PACHECO G., Vice Presidente de la Comisión Chilena de Derechos Humanos (Bolonia - 13 de marzo de 1987).

1.- La situación actual de los derechos humanos en Chile es consecuencia de un proceso que se ha desarrollado por trece años y medio, durante los cuales las violaciones a los derechos humanos han sido realizadas como una forma de establecer un nuevo orden cultural, social, político y económico que, expresando la ideología del estado de seguridad nacional, aspira a refundar nuestra sociedad, olvidando nuestra fisonomía histórica, cultura, tradiciones y costumbres libertarias y democráticas.

2.- Manifestación de ésto es la subsistencia de un orden constitucional que no consulta la voluntad popular libremente expresada y que niega o restringe el libre ejercicio de los derechos civiles, políticos, económicos, sociales y culturales, mediante el mantenimiento de poderes ejecutivos arbitrarios.

3.- El Gobierno ha continuado negando las aspiraciones y reivindicaciones de los distintos sectores sociales y partidos políticos y aplicando leyes que establecen restricciones sociales, ilicitudes políticas o prácticas gubernamentales de hostilidad, todo lo cual ha impedido el desarrollo de un proceso de concertación social y político para una rápida transición a la democracia.

4.- El Gobierno ha continuado rechazando iniciativas que conduzcan a una estructura jurídica y política basada en la soberanía popular, expresada mediante elecciones directas de los gobernantes, en procesos electorales libres, informados y en igualdad de condiciones para todos, en pleno ejercicio de los derechos legales que son fundamentales para la plena observancia de los derechos humanos en Chile.

5.- Existe una sistemática renuencia de parte del Gobierno de Chile a respetar los derechos humanos y restablecer el Estado de Derecho de conformidad con la Declaración Universal de Derechos Humanos, que son esenciales para el efectivo disfrute y ejercicio de los derechos humanos y libertades fundamentales y que responden a la mejor tradición democrática de Chile.

6.- El agravamiento en 1986 de la ya deteriorada situación de los derechos humanos del año anterior, se manifestó por la persistencia de graves violaciones tales como asesinatos, muertos en supuestos enfrentamientos, secuestros, desapariciones temporales, torturas y malos tratos que son imputables o hay fuertes indicios que sólo pudieron ser cometidos por fuerzas militares o grupos que actúan en favor del Gobierno. Esta situación general afectó el 31 de diciembre de 1986, inclusive, al Comité Intergubernamental de Migraciones (C.I.M.) con sede en Ginebra, a su personal internacional, a su local y a la seguridad de sus labores humanitarias.

7.- Ha continuado la persistente lesión, a los derechos civiles y políticos, tanto individuales como colectivos, en particular el derecho a la vida y a la libre determinación del pueblo. Por vías admistrativas y judicial, se ha intentado acallar y desmovilizar a las organizaciones sociales, estudiantiles y políticas de oposición mediante la aplicación de nuevos métodos represivos y la respuesta violenta a toda manifestación pacífica convocada por ella, lo que ha originado un número considerable de heridos, detenciones masivas e individuales, crímenes alevosos en que están judicialmente implicados efectivos militares y de seguridad y continuas y masivas ocupaciones militares de poblaciones marginales, allanamientos de sedes universitarias e intimidaciones y acciones para desacreditar a organismos religiosos y laicos de derechos humanos.

8.- Las autoridades gubernamentales no han adoptado efectivas medidas destinadas a impedir la repetición de malos tratos y vejaciones de parte de las fuerzas militares, policiales y de seguridad como tampoco han procurado investigar a fondo y enjuiciar a los responsables, hasta ahora impunes, de los numerosos casos no resueltos de asesinatos, raptos, torturas, desapariciones y lesionados graves mediante el uso de métodos represivos de innecesaria crueldad.

9.- A lo anterior se suma la ineficacia del Poder Judicial en su papel de resguardar el respeto de los derechos y libertades básicas de la población, llegando incluso los Tribunales Superiores de Justicia a sancionar a jueces dispuestos a lograr resultados definitivos en sus investigaciones.

10.- Durante el año 1986, se acentuó la creciente tendencia a ampliar la jurisdicción de los Tribunales Militares, haciendo crecer el número de procedimientos especiales a esta Judicatura, creándose un virtual poder judicial alternativo, frente al cual los derechos de los procesados resultan perjudicados, llegándose al extremo del abuso del sistema de " incomunicaciones ", de acuerdo con el cual se ha llegado a mantener incomunicada a una persona por el lapso de 43 días.

A través de la creación de tribunales especiales con posterioridad a los hechos que se investigan (fiscales ad-hoc nombrados por el Juez Militar de Santiago), se ha afectado el derecho a la defensa, al ejercicio ético de las profesiones y se ha pretendido dañar el prestigio universal logrado por la Vicacría de la Solidaridad de la Iglesia Católica Chilena.

11.- Subsiste, también, el trágico problema del exilio, a pesar de las autorizaciones masivas ya concedidas y de las anunciadas por el Gobierno el 31 de diciembre pasado, puesto que son medidas administrativas insuficientes que no significan una limitación de las facultades discrecionales de la autoridad ni un reconocimiento amplio del derecho a vivir en la patria y a entrar y salir libremente de su territorio, sin restricciones de ninguna naturaleza.

12.- La utilización durante 1986 de restricciones administrativas y de requerimientos judiciales han seguido limitando o suspendiendo los derechos de opinión, información, asociación y reunión, los que han afectado hasta con la privación de la libertad personal a dirigentes políticos, sociales, estudiantiles y a los profesionales y colaboradores de los medios de comunicaciones.

13.- Durante la vigencia del Estado de Sitio (7 de septiembre de 1986 al 5 de enero de 1987), se creó un clima generalizado de amedrentamiento de la población civil, caracterizado, por los siguientes hechos :

- Secuestros, con resultado de muerte, de ciudadanos opositores realizados bajo toque de queda y sin que los servicios policiales ni el Poder Judicial hayan avanzado en la averiguación de los responsables ;

- Persecución, por vías administrativas y de justicia militar, de dirigentes sociales y políticos, a los cuales el Ejecutivo ha tratado de involucrar en los procesos por investigaciones del arsenal y del atentado al General Augusto Pinochet manteniéndolos arrestados por tiempo indefinido y sin formulación de cargos ;

- Denuncias por violaciones al debido proceso en esas investigaciones, de torturas e incomunicaciones indefinidas, con grave detrimento del derecho a la defensa de los inculpados;

- Indefensión de las poblaciones marginales y sedes universitarias, que sufrieron la acción militar (allanamientos, ocupaciones y detenciones individuales y masivas) ;

- Permanente hostilidad mostrada hacia los medios de comunicación opositores, que se reflejó en el cierre de cinco órganos periodísticos, destrucción de ediciones y requisamiento de publicaciones en imprentas de opositores, con los consiguientes perjuicios económicos para editores y su personal,y la aplicación de tratos discriminatorios entre los medios y el ataque horrendo contra un dirigente nacional de la Orden y campañas de amendrentamientos que permanecen impunes;

14.- Es evidente que en un país en crisis moral y donde el ejercicio del poder se realiza mediante la negación o restricción de los derechos de las personas y éstas no gozan del derecho pleno a la justicia, se producen delitos graves por parte de las personas entre sí o de éstas hacia los agentes del poder. Sin embargo, esos crímenes, por condenables que sean, no son estrictamente violaciones de los derechos humanos, pues éstos son los que la Declaración Universal impone a los Estados como obligatorios, en beneficio de los pueblos, como sujeto jurídico colectivo.

En una violación de derechos humanos, como los sucedidos en Chile, el agresor es, justamente, el que cuenta con los medios para ello, pues la sociedad se los otorgó con el fin de asegurar el ejercicio de los derechos humanos para toda la población. Además, por el hecho de controlar los mecanismos de poder, tiene la posibilidad de eludir las consecuencias penales de su agresión, logrando la impunidad oficial y, como consecuencia de ello, la indefensión total de la víctima. En un crimen contra cualquiera persona y, en especial, un agente del poder del Estado, se aplican sobre el agresor todos los instrumentos políticos, legales y judiciales para sancionarlo.

De lo dicho se desprende que éste es un informe sobre violaciones a los derechos humanos y no un estudio general de la violencia en la sociedad chilena.

15.- No obstante lo anterior, el estudio y análisis de las condiciones políticas y la forma en que se desenvuelven las reacciones ciudadanas en contra de un sistema violatorio de los derechos humanos son también indispensables para formular una apreciación exacta del problema.

En Chile, la política gubernativa es respondida diferentemente según diversas concepciones ideológicas. Algunos prefieren usar como método esencial la reorganización de la estructura política y social; otros , reivindican el derecho a la subversión; y otros, los menos, emplean una violencia directa que se ha traducido en actos, como el atentado contra el General Augusto Pinochet. Esta última circunstancia ha facilitado una fuerte operación del gobierno, tanto nacional como internacional, para lograr que el problema de la violación de derechos humanos quede subordinado a una acusación por actos terroristas. Al proceder así, el gobierno quiere acusar a toda la oposición y justificar la adopción de medidas " drásticas " , a veces del todo ilegales o innecesarias y la instauración de procesos en que de ninguna manera se cumplen las normas procesales debidas. A ello se agrega la impunidad de grupos anónimos que actuan bajo estado de sitio o simplemente a cara descubierta, sin que la autoridad controle, impida, investigue adecuadamente y menos sancione crímenes tan graves.

De ahí que es necesario tener en cuenta la responsabilidad del Gobierno, por acción u omisión, en la totalidad de lo que sucede, sin que sea posible justificar la conducta de aquel por el mero hecho de haberse producido un atentado o una intervención armada desde el exterior; hechos que la opinión pública nacional e internacional ha condenado mayoritariamente, en forma categórica.

16.- Durante el año de 1986, el Gobierno ha aprobado las leyes políticas sobre Tribunal Calificador de Elecciones y de Sistema Electoral e Inscripciones Electorales . Ha anunciado, también, la dictación de varias otras, tales como las del Congreso Nacional y Complementarias del Artículo 8º de la Constitución.

La Ley de Sistema Electoral e Inscripciones Electorales entrega a autoridades dependiente del Ejecutivo, la responsabilidad en la confección de los padrones o registros electorales en que se inscribiran los futuros ciudadanos, con lo cual, a juicio de observadores nacionales, hace posible la comisión de fraudes electorales masivos.

El 19 de enero de 1987 se aprobó por la Junta Militar la Ley de Partidos Políticos.

Sus normas establecen un complejo sistema que dificultará el funcionamiento del régimen de partidos, consustancial con una sólida democracia, y que debilitará a las colectividades que tuvieron y tienen una significación nacional. Establecen, además, un riguroso control financiero y arbitrarias inhabilidades para dirigentes sociales que no podrán postular a cargos de elección popular .

Estas leyes ratifican los principios y normas constitucionales inspirados por la doctrina autoritaria del régimen, no conforme a las exigencias básicas de la Declaración Universal de Naciones Unidas.

Ellas han sido dictadas sin consultar la voluntad del pueblo y por órganos del Estado que se han subrogado en sus actuales facultades para hacerlo, según la Constitución de 1980. Esta situación infringe los artículos 1º y 25 del Pacto Internacional de Derechos Civiles y Políticos y el 21 de la Declaración Universal de Derechos Humanos .

17.- La reciente decisión del Gobierno sobre el exilio dista mucho de ser una realidad.

Se trata de una promesa que debiera estar cumplida en un plazo de noventa días, manteniendo el Gobierno sus facultades de expulsar a otros ciudadanos y de impedir el regreso de aquellos que excluye por su mera voluntad. Esperamos resultados positivos pero no podemos darlos por ya logrados.

18.- Otras medidas adoptadas por el Gobierno, tales como el restablecimiento de los Tribunales del Trabajo, que había suprimido en 1981 y la creación de la Comisión Asesora del Ministerio del Interior para Derechos Humanos, no significan avances efectivos debido a las limitaciones jurisdiccionales de los primeros en comparación con los Tribunales que antes existían y a la competencia restringida de la segunda, que le resta eficacia y significación práctica.

19.- Otras decisiones gubernativas, como la de no relegar ni expulsar a opositores chilenos del país, han sido actos discrecionales que no alteran las omnímodas facultades de hacerlo que mantiene plenamente vigente. Sus eventuales efectos positivos se ven anulados por el reemplazo de otras medidas, tales como los arrestos indefinidos y sin encausamiento, bajo la vigencia del Estado de Sitio, en campos de prisioneros que funcionaron en recintos policiales del centro de la capital o de las ocupaciones militares de poblaciones, allanamientos y amedrentamientos que obligaron a cierto número de chilenos durante 1986, a abandonar sus hogares o a emigrar para escapar del hostigamiento.

20.- El estado actual de los derechos humanos en Chile hace necesario mantener la exigencia de la comunidad internacional de que las autoridades chilenas restablezcan y respeten los derechos humanos en cumplimiento de las obligaciones que han contraído en diversos acuerdos internacionales y que adopte, a lo menos, las siguientes medidas, ya contenidas en las resoluciones de la Comisión de Derechos y de la Asamblea General de las Naciones Unidas:

a) Modificar la legislación, incluída las leyes que autorizan la declaración de los estados de excepción, con el fin de ajustarlas a las garantías de los derechos humanos definidas en los tratados internacionales aplicables, y poner fin a los estados de excepción bajo los cuales se llevan a cabo graves y contínuas violaciones de dichos derechos;

b) Terminar con todas las formas de torturas, física y sicológica por parte de las fuerzas militares, de policía y de seguridad, y respetar efectivamente los derechos a la vida y a la integridad física y moral cesando, además, las intimidaciones y persecusiones, los encuentros, las detenciones arbitrarias y al encarcelamiento en lugares secretos;

c) Proceder vigorosamente, a través de medidas judiciales y administrativas, a investigar todos los informes de muertes , torturas, raptos y demás violaciones a los derechos humanos por parte de las fuerzas militares y de seguridad y adoptar medidas adecuadas contra todas las personas declaradas culpables de tales violaciones;

d) Investigar y esclarecer la suerte de las personas detenidas por motivos políticos y luego desaparecidas, sin que la aplicación de la amnistía pueda entrabar el conocimiento de los responsables y la administración de la justicia ;

e) Efectuar la reorganización de las fuerzas de seguridad que sean necesarias para poner fin a problemas persistentes de derechos humanos, con inclusión de organizaciones tales como la Central Nacional de Informaciones y establecer un sistema permanente para vigilar el comportamiento de las fuerzas armadas, de policía y de seguridad;

f) Cooperar plena y eficazmente en la investigación de las violaciones de derechos humanos, garantizando en todas esas investigaciones la independencia del Poder Judicial y la máxima eficacia de los recursos judiciales, especialmente el de amparo y el de habeas corpus, e impidiendo el amedrentamiento y privación de libertad de los testigos y abogados defensores . Asimismo, restablecer las potestades de los Tribunales Civiles de Justicia en materias que les son propias y que en los últimos años fueron transferidas a los Tribunales Militares;

g) Poner fin a las bandas o grupos, ya sean privados o relacionados con las fuerzas de seguridad, que son responsables de raptos, secuestros con resultado de muertes, allanamientos, interrogatorios, intimidaciones y palizas contra ciudadanos corrientes, y castigar a los responsables, especialmente a los jefes de esos grupos;

h) Garantizar que la legislación antiterrorista no sea utilizada contra personas que no han cometido actos terroristas; que las personas inculpadas por actos de violencia o de terrorismo tengan el debido proceso y respeto de sus derechos, y que la acusación de terrorismo no sea aducida para intentar justificar abusos de autoridad, torturas y tratos inhumanos;

i) Permitir el irestricto regreso de todos los ciudadanos chilenos que viven actualmente en el extranjero y que desean regresar, y reconocer su derecho continuo a entrar y salir del país libremente;

j) Restablecer el pleno disfrute y ejercicio de los derechos laborales y sindicales y los legítimos intereses culturales y socioeconómicos de la población, preservando particularmente la identidad sociocultural de las minorías étnicas ;

K) Respetar las actividades relacionadas con la defensa y promoción de los derechos humanos, sean ellas realizadas por organismos internacionales, no gubernamentales o de iglesias .

21.- Consideramos que todo ser humanos tiene derechos fundamentales que le corresponden en razón de su propia naturaleza y que deben ser reconocidos nacional e internacionalmente .

En consecuencia, condenamos toda violación de estos derechos, quien quiera que los cometa y quien quiera que sea la víctima. Frente a un ser humano indefenso, humillado y agobiado, nuestra alternativa sigue siendo un mensaje esperanzador de los que creemos en el hombre libre y capaz de liberarse.

Sólo el diálogo de hombres iguales, libres y dignos, que ejercitan fraternalmente el derecho a la libre determinación del pueblo, para alcanzar la justicia, podrá vencer la violencia y asegurar la paz perdida.

Sólo la acción solidaria, pluralista, fundada en los Derechos Humanos de todos, podrá superar la tentación de la violencia e impulsar un poderoso movimiento de reencuentro del pueblo con su historia, de los hombres con su dignidad, de la sociedad con la justicia y del Estado con la soberanía popular. Para ello es necesario recoger la historia de las violaciones de los derechos humanos, para forjar, entre todos nosotros, el compromiso con los derechos violados, para que nunca más, bajo pretexto alguno, podamos repetir esta dolorosa experiencia que se vive hoy en Chile.

A Report on Legal Issues in the Letelier Murder Case

1. Would a new demand of extradition be feasible?

1.1 - Extradition in Chilean law is a purely judicial matter in which the Executive takes no part.

It is decided by the President of the Supreme Court at the first level and by a panel ("chamber") of the Supreme Court at the appelate level.

The President of the Supreme Court must open and lead an inquiry with the purpose to determine:

(1) Whether the arrested person is in fact the same person mentioned in the demand of extradition;

(2) If the offence with which he is charged is or is not extraditable according with the treaties in force and "the general priniciples of international law";

(3) Whether the accused person has in fact committed the offence attributed to him. In this connection he must examine the evidence submitted by the requesting country and all additional evidence that might be produced in the course of the extradition proceedings.

Extradition is granted or refused according to the treaties in force and the principles of international law.

All this is set forth in Arts. 644 and ff (particularly arts 647 and 651) of the CPP.

1.2 - Could a demand of extradition be renewed with regard to the same persons and on the same charges?

The Bilateral Treaty now in force between Chile and the USA is silent on the point.

But both the Bustamante Code (linking 15 American countries, though not the U.S.) and the Montevideo Convention (to which the U.S. is a party) set forth explicitly the Rule that once a demand of extradition has been rejected it cannot be renewed on the same charges.

Therefore, it is almost a certainty that a new demand of extradition with regard to Conteras and Espinoza would again be turned down by the Chilean courts, on the basis that it is a widely accepted principle of international law (admitted even by the U.S. through the M.C.) that a demand of extradition cannot be renewed on the same charges.

1.3 - Moreover, it must be borne in mind that the previous demand was rejected because the bulk of the evidence consisted of Townley's testimony or derived from it, and that testimony has been obtained through a plea-bargain, which would make it inadmissible under Chilean law, as it is expressly forbidden by arts. 213 and 323 of the CPP with regard to witnesses and to suspected people.

As it would seem that the new Fernandez Larios testimony has also been secured through a plea-bargain it is most likely that it would also be ruled inadmissible by the Chilean courts and the new demand would be rejected again.

In addition, it must be taken into account that by granting the new demand of extradition the Chilean Supreme Court would in fact admit that they committed a serious mistake in their previous decision.

Finally, we must remember that Chile is not bound to grant the extradition of its own citizens (arts. V of the Bilateral Treaty, 345 CB and 2 CM).

1.4 - In sum, a new demand of extradition would almost certainly be rejected again, and such demand would mean a great relief to the Chilean Executive, that could not be pressed with regard to proceedings that fall exclusively in the province of the judiciary, a situation that would last the one or two years that the new proceedings would take in court.

2. Would it be possible to request the extradition of other people, or of the same people on different charges?

2.1 - It would be possible, but:

2.1.a - New indictments would be necessary.

2.1.b - The new charges should be related to crimes committed "within the U.S. jurisdiction" (art. I of the Bilateral Treaty). Most of the new possible offences such as obstruction of justice or perjury seem to have been committed in Chile; at least, the jurisdictional aspects are not quite clear. It is very likely that Chilean courts would rule in favour of Chilean jurisdiction.

2.1.c - If the evidence with regard to the new charges consists mainly in Fernandez Larios testimony, the remarks made above on the inadmissibility of plea-bargain are relevant here too.

3. Would it be possible to secure a conviction of C and E in the so-called "passport case" now being tried in Chile?

3.1 - When the involvment of C and other Chilean military men became public the Chilean authorities opened an inquest at a military court with the acknowledged purpose of investigating the use of forged passports by two Chilean Army officers. Actually, the inquest also dealt with the part C and others had taken in the Letelier - Moffitt murder, though this has never been expressly admitted.

3.2 - In March 1978, Decree Law 2191 granted anmesty with regard to criminal offences committed by military people prior to that date, but an exception was expressly made in art. 4 thereof, with regard to people that might appear as responsible" of the facts that are being investigated in case 192-78". This was interpreted as including the Letelier murder and not only the passport forgery.

3.3 - The military court inquest ended in a dismissal, nobody being indicted on any charge.

On appeal, the Supreme Court reversed that decision and issued a decree of temporary staying in its stead; on the basis that the innocence of the people involved had not been established clearly. That left the legal possibility of re-opening the inquiry if new evidence were produced.

At the end of 1985, the defence of C filed a petition of dismissal, this time on the basis of the statute of limitations. This could have a sound basis with regard to the passport forgery, but not with regard to the murder. In Chilean law, the limitation term is 15 years in the case of murder (which would end in 1991).

The court granted the dismissal requested by C. This was appealed by the Letelier family (a civil party to the proceedings) and the appeal is pending (March 10, 1987) before the Military Court of Appeals.

3.4 - In the light of the new Fernandez Larios testimony it is almost certain that the MCOA will reverse the decree of dismissal and will reopen the inquiry.

If that is the case, the Letelier family is entitled to an appeal to the Supreme Court.

3.5 - If the inquiry is re-opened, it is possible that the written transcript of the Fernandez Larios testimony will not be accepted as such (being in Chile a written attestation not subject to cross examination, and also on account of the plea-bargain problem).

But in that case a new Fernandez Larios testimony could be obtained by the Chilean court through letters rogatory, which can be taken through the court's own motion or by a request of the Letelier family.

3.6 - The final outcome of that case will depend entirely on the integrity and civic courage of the judges that take part in the decision.

And of course the attitude of the Chilean Government will be of paramount importance.

4. What other ways are still open to the U.S. Government?

4.1 - Art. 24 "transitorio" (temporary) of the 1980 Constitution entitles the President of the Republic to expel from the Chilean territory any person that "performs acts that are contrary to the interests of Chile."

Further, it is expressly provided that no appeal or remedy is available with regard to such a decree of expulsion (not even habeas corpus).

This power is granted to the President when he has declared the country as being in a particular state of emergency called "danger to the internal peace". This state has been in force since the Constitution was enacted (1980), without interruption. It has been just renewed for a further term of 90 days (March 10, 1987).

It must be warned that so far this provision has been used by the Government with regard to political foes, and that it has been the subject of sharp criticism from the opposition.

4.2 - If such a request is turned down, some or all of the following requests may be made:

4.2.a - The opening of an internal inquest ("sumario") within the Army, with the purpose to investigate the activities of C, E, FL, Orozco and other military people involved in the murder case as well as the following cover-up.

This investigation is completely independent from any judicial proceedings and its purpose is that of applying disciplinary sanction. If evidence of criminal acts is found, it must be reported to the competent courts.

All this is proviced for in art 32.37 and 45 of the Disciplinary Regulations for the Armed Force, (RDFA).

4.2.b - The intervention of the Military Public Prosecutor ("Fiscal General Militar") in the "passport case".

This position was created in 1980 and is in charge of acting in the military courts "in defence of the social interest endangered" in the cases tried in those courts.

It is vested with much more procedural rights than a mere civilian party like the Letelier family.

Of course, the importance of his intervention will depend on his integrity and energy.

The role and rights of the IGM are described in arts. 70-B and ff. of the CJM.

4.2.c - The opening of a judicial inquiry at the military courts to investigate the possible prevarication (art 224 no. 60 CP), perjury, obstruction of justice (arts 206 and ff., and 212 CP) and other offences committed by military men after the murder as it appears from the Fernandez Larios testimony.

The intervention of the FGM in this case could also be requested.

THE CONFIGURATION OF LANGUAGE PROPOSED BY MONTANO AND CO-SPONSORS. MONTANO AND OTHER NEGOTIATORS HAVE RECONFIGURED THE SENTENCE PROPOSED BY THE USG TO GIVE EXACT OPPOSITE MEANING USG INTENDED.

THIS WAS CAREFULLY EXPLAINED TO USEMBASSY MEXICO,

WHICH MADE DEMARCHE TO SEPULVEDA, ASKING THAT MEXICO SUPPORT ORIGINAL USG LANGUAGE CONFIGURATION ON PINOCHET

ASSASSINATION. MONTANO IS UNDER INSTRUCTIONS TO DO MORE THAN REFER TO PINOCHET ASSASSINATION IN TEXT ON CHILE. HE IS UNDER INSTRUCTION TO ACCEPT USG LANGUAGE ON THIS SUBJECT, WHICH WAS DISCUSSED TWICE, IN DEPTH, WITH MEXICAN FOREIGN MINISTER SEPULVEDA WHO AGREED TO SUPPORT USG.

5. A COMPARISON OF THE LANGUAGE WILL MAKE THE PROBLEM CLEAR TO USDEL:

-- LANGUAGE PROPOSED BY USG: "NOTING THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST THE CHILEAN PRESIDENT AND THE STILL UNRESOLVED MURDERS OF FOUR OPPOSITION FIGURES DURING THE ENSUING STATE OF SEIGE;"

-- MEXICAN LANGUAGE: "NOTING THE STILL UNRESOLVED MURDERS OF FOUR OPPOSITION FIGURES DURING THE STATE OF SIEGE UNJUSTIFIABLY IMPOSED FOLLOWING THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST THE CHILEAN PRESIDENT IN SEPTEMBER 1986;"

6. THE PURPOSE OF USG LANGUAGE IS TO GIVE SOME BALANCE TO THE TEXT BY NOTING THERE WAS AN ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST THE CHILEAN PRESIDENT, WHICH CREATES AN ENVIRONMENT IN WHICH PROGRESS TOWARDS HUMAN RIGHTS IS CONFIDENTIAL

MORE DIFFICULT. IT UNDERSCORES, IN A SUBTLE WAY, THAT VIOLENCE LEADS TO MORE VIOLENCE, AND THE REAL NEED IN CHILE IS FOR A PEACEFUL RETURN TO DEMOCRACY. THE RECONFIGURATION OF THIS SENTENCE MAKES THE OPPOSITION LEADERS THE FOCUS, AND THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AN AFTERTHOUGHT IN WHICH OUR POINT IS LOST.

7. USDEL SHOULD NOT BE CONFUSED BY MONTANO REPRESENTATIONS, BUT CONTINUE TO PRESS FOR USG LANGUAGE ON THIS ONE PARAGRAPH. OF OPTIONS PRESENTED REFTEL B), PARAGRAPH 19, MOST PREFERABLE IS (B) WITH THE ADDED CONDITION THAT THE SENTENCE ON PINOCHET ASSASSINATION BE RECONFIGURED. THE CONFIGURATION PROPOSED BY USG HAS BEEN AGREED TO BY MEXICAN FOREIGN MINISTER SEPULVEDA WHO APPARENTLY FELT STRONGLY ENOUGH ABOUT IT TO CALL HIS AMBASSADOR AT 2:00 AM IN THE MORNING. DEPARTMENT BELIEVES MONTANO HAS THE CLOUT TO SELL THIS APPROACH TO THE CO-SPONSORS AND OTHERS REFERRED TO REFTEL B), PARAGRAPH 10, IF HE WANTS TO USE IT.

8. ITEM 5-12 DEAL: DEPARTMENT NOTES REFTEL B, PARAGRAPH 22, THAT UK WISHES TO NARROW LANGUAGE IN RESOLUTION ON SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM SO IT IS CLEARLY, BUT NOT EXPLICITLY, LIMITED TO ITEM 5. IF UK CAN PROPOSE LANGUAGE THAT CAN BE AGREED TO BY CONTACT GROUP, DEPARTMENT WOULD LIKE TO SEE IT AND CONSIDER IT.

9. IF OUTCOME OF MONDAY NEGOTIATIONS IS SUCCESSFUL, USDEL MAY WISH TO SAY THAT IT WILL RECOMMEND TO WASHINGTON THAT USG JOIN CONCENSUS ON CHILE TEXT. USDEL, HOWEVER, SHOULD NOT GO BEYOND THIS AND GIVE FINAL COMMITMENT. ARMACOST UNQUOTE SHULTZ

1. SUMMARY: PRESIDENT PINOCHET TALKED WITH THE PRESS ON MARCH 6 AND RELEASED WRITTEN RESPONSES TO 17 QUESTIONS. HE HINTED THAT HE WOULD BE A PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE IN 1989 DUE TO POPULAR DEMAND AND DISMISSED THE IDEA OF OPEN ELECTIONS. HE WAS OPTIMISTIC FOR THE FUTURE AND FELT THAT THE PEOPLE OVERWHELMINGLY SUPPORTED RECENT LEGISLATION. HE REJECTED UNHRC RESOLUTIONS ON CHILE AS POLITICIZED BUT REITERATED GOC SUPPORT FOR VOLIO. HE INSISTED THAT THE GOC HAD GIVEN FULL COOPERATION IN THE FERNANDEZ LARIOS CASE AND EXCORIATED THOSE POLITICIANS WHO HAD MADE IT A POLITICAL ISSUE. HE STRONGLY CRITICIZED THE BISHOPS FOR THEIR RECENT PASTORAL LETTER.

END SUMMARY.

2. PRESIDENT PINOCHET MET ON MARCH 6 WITH MEMBERS OF THE PRESS ACCREDITED TO LA MONEDA. FOLLOWING A 40 MINUTE SESSION, THE PRESIDENT RELEASED A WRITTEN RESPONSE TO 17 QUESTIONS SUBMITTED PRIOR TO THE MEETING. HIGHLIGHTS OF

THE ORAL AND WRITTEN RESPONSES FOLLOW.
1989PRESIDENTIALELECTIONS,PINOCHETCANDIDACY:
PINOCHET WAS ASKED IF THERE WOULD BE A PLEBISCITE OR AN OPEN ELECTION IN 1989. HE RESPONDED THAT THE ANSWER TO THAT QUESTION WAS IN THE CONSTITUTION OF 1980, IMPLYING THAT THERE WOULD BE A PLEBISCITE. WHEN ASKED ABOUT THIS AT THE OPEN SESSION, PINOCHET ASSERTED THAT THERE WAS NO NEED TO CONTINUE DISCUSSING FICTIONAL MATTERS. IN REGAR TO HIS OWN SITUATION VIS A VIS 1989, THE PRESIDENT SAID THAT THE JUNTA'S CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT WAS A DECISION THA DEPENDED ON A GREAT MANY FACTORS OVER THE COMING MONTHS AND THAT TO DISCUSS POSSIBLE CANDIDACIES AT THIS TIME WOULD BE PURE SPECULATION. HOWEVER, HE REMINDED THE PRESS THAT THE CARRYING OUT OF THE "POPULAR WILL" WAS REQUIRED IN A DEMOCRACY, HINTING THAT IF THE PEOPLE WANTED HIM HE WAS AVAILABLE. A JOURNALIST AT THE OPEN SESSION ASKED HIM WHEN HE WOULD ANNOUNCE HIS CANDIDACY. THE PRESIDENT SMILED AND SAID THAT HE WOULD DO SO "WHEN THE PEOPLE REQUEST IT." WHEN A JOURNALIST NOTED THAT TH DEADLINE FOR HOLDING THE PRESIDENTIAL PLEBISCITE IS 22 MONTHS AWAY, PINOCHET RESPONDED THAT HIS DECISION WILL B KNOWN BEFORE THEN - IN 15 MONTHS. (THIS IMMEDIATELY LED TO SPECULATION THAT PINOCHET IS PLANNING AN EARLY PLEBISCITE, E.G., ON SEPTEMBER 11, 1988.) PINOCHET WAS ASKED IF THERE MIGHT BE SOME IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENTS ON MARCH 11, WHICH IS THE ANNIVERSARY OF THE CONSTITUTION. HE RESPONDED THAT THE PEOPLE SHOULD LISTEN TO WHAT IS UNCLASSIFIED

SAID THAT DAY AND MEDITATE ON ITS SIGNIFICANCE.

3. POLITICALVIOLENCE:
PINOCHET WAS ASKED ABOUT POSSIBLE VIOLENCE IN THE COMING MONTHS, IN LIGHT OF THE PRESSURE FROM THE ROJC

OS EKLEOATED BY THE POSITIVE DEVELOPMENTS IN THE COUNTRY. I FACT, HE POSTULATED, AS THINGS GOT BETTER THE EXTREMISTS WERE MORE ANXIOUS TO CREATE PROBLEMS. AS FOR THE LEGAL MATTERS, THEY WERE PRESENTLY BEFORE COMPETENT JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES AND WOULD BE DEALT WITH ACCORDING TO LAW.

4. HUMANRIGHTS:
PINOCHET REMINDED THE MEDIA THAT CHILE HAD BEEN THE SUBJECT OF AN INTERNATIONAL CAMPAIGN FINANCED BY THE SOVIET UNION DESIGNED TO PERPETRATE A "BLACK LEGEND" CONCERNING THE EVENTS OF SEPTEMBER 11, 1973. HOWEVER, H WAS PLEASED THAT FERNANDO VOLIO HAD BEEN ABLE TO SEE THROUGH SO MANY OF THESE FALSEHOODS. UNFORTUNATELY, HE

POINTED OUT, THE HEAD OF THE UNHRC IS FROM A SOVIET STAT (BYELORUSSIA) AND THEREFORE PINOCHET WAS UNABLE TO PREDICT WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IN GENEVA. AS FOR THE MEXICAN AND U.S. RESOLUTIONS, HE FOUND THEM BOTH TO BE "TOTALLY POLITICAL" AND WONDERED HOW THEY COULD BE SO DIFFERENT FROM THE FINDINGS OF VOLIO. HE ADDED THAT AMBASSADOR MARIO CALDERON HAD INSTRUCTIONS TO REJECT THE POLITICAL USE OF THE COMMISSION. HOWEVER, HE EMPHASIZED THAT CHIL

5. LETELIERCASE:
A QUESTION RELATING TO FERNANDEZ LARIOS' SITUATION REFERRED TO RECENT STATEMENTS BY JUNTO MEMBER AND AIR FORCE GENERAL FERNANDO MATTHEI INSISTING THAT THE ARMY WOULD CLEAN ITS OWN LAUNDRY. PINOCHET EXPRESSED HIMSELF IN AGREEMENT WITH MATTHEI, THEN QUICKLY WENT ON TO ATTAC POLITICIANS, WHOM HE ACCUSED OF TRYING TO SOIL THE PRESTIGE OF THE ARMY. "THESE GENTLEMEN DO NOT HAVE A MORAL STATURE TO ENABLE THEM TO SPEAK OF PRESTIGE, MUCH LESS TO SPEAK ABOUT MILITARY HONOR." THESE POLITICIANS, HE ADDED, TRAVEL FROM COUNTRY TO COUNTRY AND EMBASSY TO EMBASSY, BEGGING ASSISTANCE IN ORDER TO COVER UP THEIR

DEFENDER OF THE NATION, LIBERTY, ORDER, AND DEMOCRACY. IN ANY CASE, PINOCHET POINTED OUT, THE "FERNANDEZ CASE" WAS BEFORE THE COURTS AND THE GOVERNMENT COULD NOT INTERFERE EXCEPT TO GRANT ITS FULL COPPERATION, WHICH HA BEEN DONE. POLITICAL POLEMICS ONLY CONFUSED THE ISSUE, HE SAID, AND THE GOVERNMENT WOULD CONTINUE TO AWAIT THE JUDICIAL FINDINGS.

6. BISHOPS' CONFERENCE:
PINOCHET SAID THAT WHEN HE READ THE PASTORAL LETTER RELEASED BY THE CONFERENCE (REFTEL), HIS FIRST THOUGHT WAS THAT HE WAS READING THE PLATFORM OF A NEW POLITICAL PARTY, SINCE HE ASSUMED THE BISHOPS HAD BETTER THINGS TO DO WITH LENT AND UPCOMING PAPAL VISIT. HE STATED THAT H COULD NOT CRITICIZE THE BISHOPS SINCE THEY HAD THE RIGHT TO SAY WHAT THEY WANTED BUT HE WONDERED ALOUD IF IT MIGH NOT BE BETTER IF THEY SPENT 90 PERCENT OF THEIR TIME PRAYING. THE PRESIDENT ADDED THAT AS A PRACTICING CHRISTIAN WHO NEVER MISSED SUNDAY MASS, THE LETTER HAD CAUSED HIM DEEP PAIN.

2. THIS IS JUST A BRIEF ALERT TO ONE TOPIC I'D LIKE TO REVIEW WITH YOU NEXT WEEK. AS I MENTIONED WHEN WE TALKED ON THE PHONE IN WASHINGTON, ONE OF MY FEBRUARY MISSIONS ON CAPITOL HILL WAS TO EXPLORE THE POSSIBILITIES OF GETTING CONGRESSIONAL SUPPORT FOR REINSTITUTION OF IMET. I'LL FILL YOU IN IN MORE DETAIL ON THE REACTION, BUT BASICALLY IT WAS ONE THAT VARIED FROM UNDERSTANDING TO VERY SKEPTICAL, WITH ALMOST EVERYONE FEELING IT WOULD BE EXTREMELY DIFFICULT TO ACHIEVE IN THE CLIMATE OF CONTINUING CRITICISM OF CHILE'S HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES.

3. IN THE COURSE OF DISCUSSIONS WITH GREG CRAIG OF SENATOR KENNEDY'S STAFF, HE TOLD ME THE SENATOR WAS VERY FAVORABLY IMPRESSED WITH YOUR CONCEPT ON RETHINKING THE PURPOSES OF SECURITY ASSISTANCE, AND HE ASKED ME TO TRY TO LOOK AT IMET FOR CHILE IN THAT CONTEXT.

4. UNTIL NEXT WEEK,

ARA PRESS GUIDANCE March 11, 1987

CHILE: Kennedy Proposes Economic Sanctions

Q: Can you comment on legislation introduced on March 10 by Senators Kennedy and Harkin and Representatives Morrison and Feighan that would impose economic sanctions on Chile?

(FYI: Proposed legislation would mandate "no" votes on Chile loans in MDBs, end GSP and OPIC benefits for Chile, restrict LanChile landing rights, and ban US imports of Chilean copper)

A: THE ADMINISTRATION WILL OPPOSE THIS PROPOSED LEGISLATION AS WE HAVE DONE WITH SIMILAR LEGISLATION IN THE PAST.

WE ARE DEEPLY CONCERNED ABOUT PERSISTENT HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS IN CHILE AND THE LACK OF SUBSTANTIAL PROGRESS TOWARD IMPLEMENTING A TRANSITION TO FULL DEMOCRACY. BUT ADOPTING PUNITIVE ECONOMIC MEASURES WILL NOT BRING DEMOCRACY TO CHILE, NOR END SUCH HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS AS TORTURE. ON THE CONTRARY, SUCH MEASURES WOULD UNJUSTLY PENALIZE THE CHILEAN PEOPLE AND COULD UNDERCUT CHILE'S EXCELLENT ECONOMIC PROGRAM AND POLICIES. THEY COULD ALSO BE COUNTERPRODUCTIVE BY ENCOURAGING A NATIONALISTIC BACKLASH IN CHILE AGAINST THE US, AND THEREBY REDUCE US INFLUENCE AND EFFECTIVENESS.

WE NEED TO USE WHAT INFLUENCE WE HAVE IN CHILE CONSTRUCTIVELY TO ENCOURAGE INCREASED RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND DEVELOPMENT OF A FREE POLITICAL ATMOSPHERE CONDUCIVE TO IMPLEMENTING A SUCCESSFUL TRANSITION TO FULL DEMOCRACY. US SANCTIONS ARE PARTICULARLY INAPPROPRIATE AT A TIME WHEN THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT HAS CARRIED OUT SOME POSITIVE ACTIONS, SUCH AS REDUCING THE NUMBER OF POLITICAL EXILES AND ENACTING A LAW PROVIDING FOR LEGALIZATION OF POLITICAL PARTIES, TO GO INTO EFFECT TODAY.

IF ASKED ONLY

Q: A month has passed since one of the defendants in the Letelier/Moffitt case entered the US voluntarily to cooperate with US law enforcement officials. What does the US intend to do, ask for extradition of other Chileans indicted in the case?

A: WE ARE SEEKING THE COOPERATION OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE TO BRING TO JUSTICE OTHER CULPABLE INDIVIDUALS IN THE LETELIER/MOFFITT MURDERS AND WILL NOT CONSIDER THIS CASE CLOSED UNTIL JUSTICE IS DONE. I AM NOT GOING TO GO BEYOND THAT AT THIS TIME.

2. USDEL INSTRUCTIONS ON CHILE ARRIVED HALFWAY THROUGH THIS MORNING'S WEOG MEETING (REF A).

3. AMBASSADOR WILLIAMSON MADE CLEAR USG POSITION THAT USDEL COULD JOIN CONSENSUS ON THE MEXICAN TEXT AND WITHDRAW THE U.S. RESOLUTION ON CHILE IF AND ONLY IF (A) THE WEOG WOULD SUPPORT AN ITEM 24 TO START A PROCESS TO ELIMINATE ITEM 5 FROM FUTURE UNHRC AGENDAS, AND (B) USDEL BELIEVES THAT ELIMINATION OF ITEM 5 NEXT YEAR HAS A GOOD CHANCE. 4. USDEL ALSO MADE CLEAR THAT IF THE CONDITIONS ABOVE WERE NOT REPEAT NOT SATISFIED, USDEL INTENDED TO CALL FOR A VOTE ON THE MEXICAN TEXT ON CHILE AND ABSTAIN, MAKE A STATEMENT CLARIFYING USG POSITION ABOUT CONCERNS IN THAT TEXT, AND PUSH FOR CONSIDERATION OF THE USG TEXT ON CHILE.

5. USDEL INFORMED WEOG THAT WE WOULD TAKE THE POSITION THAT THE MEXICAN AND THE U.S. TEXTS WERE COMPATIBLE AND BOTH SHOULD BE CONSIDERED, AS OCCURRED WITH THE UNHRC ADOPTION OF TWO RESOLUTIONS ON PROPERTY RIGHTS THE NIGHT BEFORE.
6. WEOG CHAIRMAN, UK, MADE CLEAR UK'S CONCERN ABOUT TWO TEXTS. THEN THERE WAS A REVIEW OF HOW WEOG MEMBERS WOULD VOTE IF THE ITEM 24 WERE NOT REPEAT NOT SATISFIED AND THE UNHRC WERE CONFRONTED WITH TWO TEXTS (MEXICAN AND USG).

9. IN THE DISCUSSION THAT FOLLOWED, A VARIETY OF VIEWS WERE EXPRESSED, FROM THE FRG'S FIRM POSITION TO ELIMINATE ITEM 5 TO IRELAND DEL WHO SAID THEY COULD SUPPORT A DECISION TO ENSURE THAT THE QUESTION OF A SEPARATE ITEM 5 WOULD AUTOMATICALLY BE RAISED NEXT YEAR, BUT THEY COULD NOT PRE-JUDGE HIS GOVERNMENT'S DECISION PENDING WHAT PROGRESS, IF ANY, ON HUMAN RIGHTS ARE MADE BY THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT IN COMING MONTHS.

3. FOLLOWING CONSENSUS ADOPTION OF RESOLUTION, USDEL SHOULD MAKE AN EXPLANATION OF VOTE, USING TALKING POINTS IN PARA 4. USDEL SHOULD REQUEST THAT DELEGATIONS FAVORABLE TO US POSITION MAKE SIMILAR STATEMENTS.

4. TALKING POINTS:

--THE UNITED STATES HAS DECIDED TO WITHDRAW ITS RESOLUTION ON CHILE SO THAT THERE CAN BE A SINGLE CONSENSUS RESOLUTION.

--WE HAVE MADE EXTENSIVE EFFORTS TO REVISE THE TEXT OF THIS RESOLUTION. A NUMBER OF OUR CONCERNS HAVE BEEN ADDRESSED, BUT THIS RESOLUTION IS STILL FLAWED.

--WE CONSIDER IT VERY POSITIVE THAT THIS RESOLUTION ACKNOWLEDGES EFFORTS BY THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT TO ADDRESS HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS. MORE COULD BE SAID, AND IN A MORE POSITIVE FASHION, BUT THIS IS AN IMPROVEMENT OVER THE TEXT ORIGINALLY CIRCULATED AT THIS SESSION.

--SIMILARLY IT IS POSITIVE THAT THE RESOLUTION NOW CONTAINS A SECTION CRITICIZING EXTREMIST VIOLENCE FROM ALL SIDES AND NOTING THE NEGATIVE IMPACT OF THIS VIOLENCE ON CARRYING OUT A DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION.

--BUT THE RESOLUTION STILL OMITS A REFERENCE TO THE BLOODY ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT LAST FALL AGAINST CHILEAN PRESIDENT PINOCHET WHICH KILLED FIVE PEOPLE. TO IGNORE THIS TERRORIST ACT, WHICH COMMUNIST TERRORISTS TOOK CREDIT FOR PUBLICLY, AND WHICH WAS CONDEMNED BY THE CHILEAN DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION, IS A SERIOUS FLAW, WHICH PLAYS INTO THE HANDS OF VIOLENT TERRORIST EXTREMISTS.

--THESE TERRORISTS ARE SUPPORTED BY ELEMENTS OUTSIDE CHILE, SOME OF WHOM HAVE THE AUDACITY TO CONDEMN HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN CHILE WHILE THEY ARM TERRORISTS WHO

--THE SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS IN CHILE ARE BEST UNDERSTOOD IN THE OVERALL CONTEXT. TERRORISM, WHILE NEVER A JUSTIFICATION FOR ABUSES, IS UNFORTUNATELY A

REALITY IN CHILE. TERRORIST VIOLENCE CREATES AN UNNECCESARY OBSTACLE TO IMPLEMENTING A DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION IN CHILE. ANY RESOLUTION INTENDED TO ENCOURAGE DEMOCRACY, MUST DEAL FORTHRIGHTLY WITH THIS ISSUE.

--THE LACK OF SERIOUSNESS DEMONSTRATED BY THE FAILURE OF THE RESOLUTION CO-SPONSORS TO FACE UP TO THE TERRORISM ISSUE--AND TO CALL TERRORISM BY ITS RIGHT NAME--IS ALSO EVIDENT IN THE FAILURE OF THE RESOLUTION TO END THE DISCRIMINATORY TREATMENT OF CHILE IN A SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM.

--DESPITE THE FACT THAT THERE ARE MANY WORSE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATIONS IN THE WORLD--MY DELEGATION HAS BROUGHT THE CASE OF CUBA TO THE COMMISSION'S ATTENTION--NO OTHER COUNTRY IS SINGLED OUT IN THE MANNER OF CHILE.

--THERE MAY BE A HISTORICAL REASON FOR A SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM FOR CHILE, BUT THE TIME HAS LONG SINCE PASSED TO END THAT PRACTICE.

--TO CONTINUE THIS PRACTICE, DESPITE ITS GLARING DISCRIMINATORY NATURE, IS TO UNDERMINE THE CREDIBILITY OF THIS COMMISSION AS AN IMPARTIAL HUMAN RIGHTS ADVOCATE.

--THE COMMISSION HAS THE OPPORTUNITY TO CORRECT THIS UNFORTUNATE AND UNWARRANTED PRACTICE WHEN IT CONSIDERS THE ORGANIZATION OF ITS AGENDA UNDER ITEM TWENTY-FOUR. WE ARE GRATIFIED THAT MANY OF OUR COLLEAGUES HAVE TOLD US THEY AGREE THAT THE TIME HAS COME TO TAKE THESE SIMPLE PROCEDURAL STEPS NECESSARY TO CORRECT THIS UNFORTUNATE SITUATION, SO THAT THE COMMISSION CAN FOCUS ON SUBSTANCE AT ITS NEXT SESSION.

5. IF DELEGATION IS NOT SATISFIED THAT OBJECTIVES STATED IN PARA TWO ARE OBTAINABLE, USDEL SHOULD CALL FOR A VOTE ON US RESOLUTION AND ABSTAIN ON THE MEXICAN TEXT. IN AN EFFORT TO ACHIEVE GREATER BARGAINING LEVERAGE, USDEL SHOULD NOT INDICATE BEFOREHAND HOW THE US WILL VOTE. SUBJECT: Charles Horman case

Several weeks ago I received a call from [ ] Apparently he had called the front office and asked for the AMB or DCM and was told they were not available. Thecall was transferred to me. I agreed to meet him the next day but he failed to show. On the afternoon of March 11 he appeared at the Embassy and asked for me. He explained that [ ] preventing his attendance at the earlier date. I asked if he could come back the next day but he said he was going to [ ] for a few days to [ ] So. I arreed to see him for a few minutes. He told the following story:

] Charles Horman was detained on Sept. 18, interrogated on Sept. 19, and executed that evening for being an extremist. [ ] says that the GOC deliberately [ ] report and issued a false one claiming Horman was killed by the left. In his opinion, Horman was a leftist but not a radical extremist and therefore his death was an injustice. He feels that the cause of justice requires that the truth be known.

] expressed didpleasure with the current regime though maintaining his own anti-Communism [

He says that he knows who ordered the killing of Horman and that some of these people are currently top officials. He would like to discuss the case further with a high Embassy official and will call me when he returns from [ ] He says that he will name names. (FYI. He was extremely critical of our role in 1973, saying we did next to nothing to aid Mr. Horman (the father)) He was especially critical of some consular officers.

1. El artículo 24 transitorio de la Constitución de 1980 contempla un especial estado de excepción que suele llamarse "estado de peligro de perturbación de la paz interior". La declaración de dicho estado la hace el Presidente de la República; las causales de declaración son: a) Producción de actos de violencia destinados a alterar el orden público y b) el peligro de perturbación de la paz interior.

   Este especial estado de excepción no está contemplado en el articulado permanente de la Constitución, que sólo considera los de "asamblea", "sitio", "emergencia" y "catástrofe" (Arts. 39 y sgts.)

   Una vez decretado el estado de"peligro de perturbación de la paz interior", el Presidente puede: a) ordenar arrestos; b) restringir el derecho de reunión y la libertad de información; c) prohibir el ingreso y expulsar personas, y d) disponer relegaciones o "permanencias obligadas".

2. El ejercicio de estas atribuciones se cumple mediante decretos supremos del Ministerio del Interior. De este modo, TODAS las detenciones, relegaciones, EXPULSIONES Y PROHIBICIONES DE INGRESO CONSTAN EN UN DECRETO FIRMADO POR EL MINISTERIO DEL INTERIOR.

3. El país ha sido declarado en "estado de peligro de perturbación de la paz interior" desde el mismo día 11 de Marzo de 1981, fecha de vigencia de la actual Constitución. Como la declaración es por seis meses, el 11 de Septiembre de 1981 fue prorrogada, y así ha ocurrido ININTERRUMPIDAMENTE cada 11 de Marzo y 11 de Septiembre de los años 1981 a 1987.

4. Aunque el texto no lo dice, las medidas adoptadas en virtud de este estado de excepción terminan con su vigencia. Así ha sido la tradición jurídica chilena (lo establecía el Art. 72 Nº 17 de la Constitución de 1925), y así lo dice el Art. 41 Nº 7 de la actual, si bien establece una norma especialísima para las expulsiones y prohibiciones de ingreso "que se autorizan en los números precedentes (es decir, en estado de asamblea, sitio y emergencia). Como no existe una norma similar en el artículo 24 transitorio SIEMPRE SE HA ENTENDIDO QUE LAS MEDIDAS DE PROHIBICION DE INGRESO Y EXPULSION CADUCAN CON LA VIGENCIA DEL ESTADO DE PELIGRO DE PERTURBACION DE LA PAZ INTERIOR.

5. De esta forma cada 11 de Septiembre y cada 11 de Marzo, junto con renovarse la vigencia del estado de excepción citado, mediante decretos supremos del Ministerio del Interior SE RENUEVAN TODAS LAS ORDENES DE PROHIBICION DE INGRESO, tal como se aprecia en los documentos que se adjuntan.

   Esto significa que las personas que tienen HOY prohibición de ingreso es porque el 11 de Marzo de 1987 se dispuso la renovación de la prohibición anterior. Si no se hubiere dictado la prórroga, no existirían personas impedidas.

6. Conviene aclarar que los "listados de personas impedidas de ingresar a Chile" no son sino resúmenes de los nombres que aparecen en los decretos supremos que establecen las prohibiciones.

CONCLUSION.

Los documentos adjuntos demuestran que el 11 de Marzo de 1987 el Ministerio del Interior dispuso las prohibiciones de ingreso de chilenos y extranjeros que se encuentran vigentes.

6. WILLIAMSON AGAIN SAID THE USG HAS A DEEP, CONSTANT COMMITMENT TO HUMAN RIGHTS EVERYWHERE. HE SAID THE USG IS NOT REPEAT NOT SATISFIED WITH THE RATE OF PROGRESS OF HUMAN RIGHTS CONDITIONS IN CHILE. WILLIAMSON SAID THE SITUATION CONTIUES TO BE SIMPLY UNACCEPTABLE. HE SAID, FURTHER, IT IS IMPORTANT TO THE USG THAT CHILE MAKE FURTHER PROGRESS IN THIS AREA AND DO SO MORE RAPIDLY.

7. WILLIAMSON WENT ON TO SAY THAT THE USG CONTINUES TO HAVE CONCERNS WITH THE MEXICAN TEXT ON CHILE. IT STILL IS FLAWED IN A NUMBER OF AREAS. FOR EXAMPLE, HE SAID, IT FAILS TO MAKE REFERENCE TO THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST THE CHILEAN PRESIDENT.

8. NONETHELESS, HE TOLD AMB CALDERON THAT IF THROUGH A SEPARATE ITEM 24 DECISION CONCRETE MOVEMENT CAN BE MADE FOR EVENTUAL ELIMINATION OF A SEPARATE ITEM 5 IN FUTURE UNHRC AGENDAS, THEN THE USG COULD JOIN CONSENSUS ON THE MEXICAN TEXT.

9. AMB CALDERON EXPRESSED DISAPPOINTMENT THAT THE MEXICAN TEXT, WHICH HE CALLED VERY IMBALANCED, MIGHT GET CONSENSUS.

10. WILLIAMSON AND AMB CALDERON AGREED TO CONTINUE TO EXCHANGE VIEWS ON THIS MATTER AS IT DEVELOPS. FLACK

BRIEFING MEMORANDUM
CONFIDENTIAL S/S 3/17

TO: D - Mr. Whitehead

FROM: EB - Doug McMinn

SUBJECT: Your Meeting with Peter Kilborn, Financial Journalist from the New York Times, Wednesday, March 18, 1987, 3 PM

I. Setting

- Mr. Kilborn, who has written extensively on international debt issues for the New York Times, requested to speak with you about (a) the U. S. approach to managing LDC debt, and (b) the subject of debt/equity conversions.

- You should take the opportunity to reaffirm that the general thrust of our debt management approach is correct but indicate that refinements in response to evolving market developments may be appropriate.

- You could also indicate that increased stress on promoting equity investment is fully consistent with our approach and that debt/equity conversions can be one important element in promoting such investment.

II. Background

NR

- The recent profusion of debt alleviation proposals, as well as heightened Congressional interest in debt issues, reflect that view.

- We do not accept the view that our approach to LDC debt management is in need of major revision. As noted in the attached Talking Points, there have been important signs of progress. At the same time however, there are areas where actual developments have not met our expectations.

[redacted] NR

- One major sign of progress is that a number of debtors (Mexico, Philippines, Ecuador, Chile) are moving to improve their investment climates and seeking to transfer enterprises from public to private sector control. Equity investment can and should serve as a more productive alternative to the accumulation of more debt.

- [redacted] NR

- Since mid-1985, Chile has approved debt/equity conversions of some $1.2 billion. By the end-86, Mexico had approved conversions worth $650 million.

- For 1987, conversions in Mexico and Chile could be in the $1 billion range. By end-87, conversions in the Philippines could be as much as $500 million.

As you are aware, we are close to negotiating a consensus text on the Chilean human rights resolution at the UNHRC Geneva meeting. IO has serious problems with preambular paragraph 12 of the draft text, which mentions the Pinochet assassination attempt. They feel that our suggested wording in this paragraph has been re-worked in negotiations in Geneva to the point where it does not adequately reflect our concerns over presenting a resolution balanced in all its parts. While agreeing with the substance of IO's concern, we do not feel the Mexican formulation of this paragraph should prevent our voting for the resolution. IO is amenable to this position, and will not seek to block consensus on this point.

As originally proposed (by the US) this paragraph read, "Noting the assassination attempt last fall against the Chilean President and the still unsolved murders of four opposition figures during the ensuing state of siege." The formulation proposed by Mexico downplays the significance of the assassination attempt by reading, "Noting the still unsolved murders of four opposition figures during the state of siege imposed following the assassination attempt."

We have discussed the paragraph 12 issue with Bob and, on his suggestion, are forwarding talking points to be phoned down by you to Amb. Pilliod in Mexico for immediate use with the highest available appropriate government official. The tabling deadline is tomorrow at 1300 hours Geneva time.

Talking Points:

--We are close to achieving a consensus on a Chilean human rights text in Geneva. Passage of a balanced text by consensus will aid the cause of democracy in Chile and encourage improvements in the human rights situation. Our objective is to encourage real improvements, not simply criticize.

--Our delegations have worked together in Geneva on forging a consensus document. I understand that one sticking point remains. This involves preambular paragraph 12.

--As originally proposed this paragraph reads,"Noting the assassination attempt last fall against the Chilean President and the still unsolved murders of four opposition figures during the ensuing state of siege." The formulation proposed by your delegation downplays the significance of the assassination attempt by reading, "Noting the still unsolved murders of four opposition figures during the state of siege imposed following the assassination attempt."

--We believe it important to have a formulation for this paragraph which draws attention to the attempt on Pinochet's life. In order for international resolutions to have impact, they need to address the reality of the situation. Clearly, the attempt on the Chilean President's life was a major incident last year. Failure to include it prominently will undercut the resolution and make it less likely that it will have positive impact by making it appear that the resolution is unbalanced and, therefore, not worthy of response.

--I ask you to immediately contact your delegation in Geneva in order that this remaining issue can be resolved.

SUBJ: LETELIER CASE: WILLOUGHBY TRIP TO THE U.S.

1. [redacted] ENTIRE TEXT.

2. FEDERICO WILLOUGHBY WILL GO TO THE STATES FOR MEDICAL TREATMENT, ARRIVING MIAMI AT 0554 FRIDAY, MARCH 20, ON EASTERN 22, AND NEW YORK AT 1100 SAME DAY, ON EASTERN 14. HE TOLD DCM HE WOULD BE WILLING TO MEET WITH STATE AND JUSTICE OFFICIALS IN WASHINGTON. WE ARE ATTEMPTING TO OBTAIN PHONE NUMBER WHERE HE COULD BE REACHED IN NEW YORK; MEANWHILE, WOULD APPRECIATE KNOWING WHETHER DEPARTMENT IS INTERESTED.

3. IN EARLIER CONVERSATION WITH WILLOUGHBY, HE MADE THES COMMENTS ON LETELIER CASE:

-- HE BELIEVES THAT ESPINOZA "IS VERY CLOSE TO THE POSITION OF FERNANDEZ LARIOS," I.E., WANTS TO FREE HIMSELF OF THE BURDEN HANGING OVER HIM.

-- THREE CNI AGENTS HAVE BEEN PUT AT DISPOSAL OF RAUL GONZALEZ ALFARO, MANAGING EDITOR OF ULTIMAS NOTICIAS NEWSPAPER WHO IS PINOCHET SUPPORTER, TO HELP HIM DIG UP MATERIAL TO DISCREDIT FERNANEZ LARIOS. MARINA CALLEJAS, TOWNLEY'S EX-WIFE WHO ONCE WORKED WITH HIM FOR DINA, IS AGAIN WORKING FOR CNI. WILLOUGHBY BELIEVES THAT FERNANDEZ' ARMY MEDICAL RECORDS MAY BE CHANGED TO SUPPORT STORY THAT HE IS MENTALLY ILL.

-- WHEN WILLOUGHBY VISITED TOWNLEY IN A U.S. JAIL IN 1979, TOWNLEY TOLD HIM THAT FERNANDEZ LARIOS HAD NO PRIOR KNOWLEDGE OF THE MURDERS. WILLOUGHBY ASSERTED THAT GENERAL ORDZCO, IN PRIVATE TALKS WITH TOWNLEY IN THE U.S., PERSUADED HIM TO LIMIT CERTAIN ASPECTS OF HIS TESTIMONY IN RETURN FOR GUARANTEES CONCERNING HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN.

-- WILLOUGHBY ASSERTED THAT HE NEVER PURPORTED TO REPRESENT THE GOC DURING HIS 1979 TRIP TO THE U.S. AND DOES NOT UNDERSTAND HOW U.S. ATTORNEYS GOT THAT IMPRESSION. HE SAYS HE ACTED SOLELY OUT OF FRIENDSHIP FOR FERNANDEZ.

-- WILLOUGHBY SAID HE WAS AWARE THAT HE IS A PARTICULAR TARGET OF PINOCHET'S WRATH, BUT SEEMED QUITE RELAXED. HE SAID HIS CONTACTS WITH BOTH ACTIVE DUTY AND RETIRED MILITARY HAVE CONTINUED. HE CITED A RECENT VISIT BY A GROUP OF RETIRED GENERALS ONE MENTIONED ARELLANO OF CALAMA FAME, BONILLA, AND KURTZI WHOM HE KNEW TO BE ACTING ON BEHALF OF PINOCHET.

-- NOR DID HE EXPRESS CONCERN ABOUT ARTURO FERNANDEZ' SECURITY, BUT HE DID WORRY ABOUT ARTURO'S ECONOMIC SITUATION AS HE HAS BEEN UNABLE TO FIND EMPLOYMENT SINCE BEING FIRED.

-MANY OF THE MILITARY DO VIEW FERNANDEZ AS A TRAITOR, BUT IN THE ARMY, A TRAITOR TODAY CAN BE A HERO TOMORROW - IF THE ORDERS CHANGE. HE CITED GENERAL PRATS AS AN EXAMPLE IN REVERSE - THE OBJECT OF INTENSE LOYALTY UNTIL THE 1973 COUP, AND SINCE THEN A TRAITOR.

-- GOC HAS ORDERED THE MEDIA TO STOP REFERRING TO "LETELIER CASE" AND INSTEAD ALWAYS SAY "FERNANDEZ LARIOS" CASE. WILLOUGHBY GAVE AN INTERVIEW TO COSAS MAGAZINE IN WHICH HE INSISTED "LETELIER" BE USED OR NO INTERVIEW.

4. TURNING TO CHILEAN POLITICS, WILLOUGHBY CONTINUES TO BELIEVE - AS HE HAS INSISTED IN EVERY CONVERSATION WITH EMBOFFS - THAT PINOCHET WANTS TO LEAVE THE PRESIDENCY (BUT NOT THE COMMAND OF THE ARMY) IN 1989. HE SAID THIS IS ALSO MRS. PINOCHET'S WISH. (BOTH STATEMENTS ARE CONTRARY TO CONVENTIONAL WISDOM IN CHILE.) HE SAID WHEN HE TOLD PINOCHET THAT HE WOULD HAVE TO RESIGN AS HIS PRESS SECRETARY BECAUSE OF HIS WORSENING KIDNEY CONDITION, PINOCHET ASKED HIM WHO ELSE HE HAD TOLD. WILLOUGHBY SAID ONLY PINOCHET, NOT EVEN HIS OWN WIFE. PINOCHET SAID KEEP IT THAT WAY; NEVER ANNOUNCE YOU'RE LEAVING POWER, JUST DO IT WHEN THE TIME COMES. HE EVEN TOLD WILLOUGHBY TO "APRETAR" (TURN THE SCREWS ON) VARIOUS MINISTERS, TO SHOW THAT HE WAS STILL A POWERFUL MAN. BUT, WILLOUGHBY SAID, PINOCHET WANTS TO LEAVE THE PRESIDENCY IN THE HANDS OF SOMEONE SAFE. HE MENTIONED BELTRAN URENA, PRESIDENT OF THE GOC ECONOMIC ADVISORY COUNCIL, AS A POSSIBILITY. WILLOUGHBY BELIEVES MAJORITY OF THE ARMY WANTS PINOCHET TO TURN OVER THE PRESIDENCY TOO, AND THAT IT COULD BE PERSUADED TO ACCEPT SOMEONE LIKE URENA ON THE GROUNDS THAT "WE FINALLY GOT HIM TO AGREE TO GO." THE DANGER, WILLOUGHBY SAID, IS THAT A CIVILIAN CANDIDATE IMPOSED THROUGH A YES-OR-NO PLEBISCITE COULD BE DEFEATED JUST AS PINOCHET WOULD BE, AND THE MILITARY AS AN INSTITUTION WOULD BE THE LOSER. THEREFORE, WILLOUGHBY BELIEVES COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS, WITH OR WITHOUT PINOCHET AS A CANDIDATE, ARE THE ONLY WAY OUT FOR THE ARMY.

Sentencing Date for Fernandez Likely to be Delayed

The US Attorney's office will ask that the April 6 sentencing date be delayed three weeks. Fernandez' defense attorney will not object. Although Judge Parker is said to be unpredictable, he is likely to agree. (Swigert)

Moffitt Family Supports Holding Off New Request for Extradition

After several false starts Bob Gelbard and Mike Kozak met on March 12 with Michael Moffitt, Murray Karpen (Ronni Moffitt's father) and their attorney Buffone. (Mrs. Letelier could not attend.) The meeting went as well as could be expected. Moffitt and Karpen expressed a great deal of skepticism, but said they were willing to give us the benefit of the doubt, and accept Gelbard's assurances that the USG was genuinely interested in seeking to bring Contreras and Espinoza to justice, seek compensation for the victims' families from the GOC (at the appropriate time), and continue to work in favor of bringing democracy to Chile. Buffone said they were pleased that the US favored holding off another request for extradition, which in their view would lead only to Pinochet shifting responsibility to the courts for the prolonged period a new request would be "under study". They promised to keep this information in confidence. Gelbard said we would keep them informed about future US actions. (Swigert)

Lawyer for Rojas Case Describes Next Steps

At their request Mrs. Dènegri and her Chilean lawyer Hector Salazar of the Vicariate of Solidarity met last week with Jim Swigert. Salazar said he planned to request a second reenactment of the crime--this time with the family's witnesses--once Carmen Quintana had recovered from a new operation and could travel to Chile. He estimated this would be June or July. Salazar charged a GOC whitewash in the case. According to Salazar, the forced retirement and prosecution of an Army Colonel (for failure to inform his superiors that an army patrol had encountered Rojas) was aimed at explaining why the GOC had insisted at first that army personnel had nothing at all to do with Rojas' burning. This arrest did not imply acknowledgement by the Army of criminal wrongdoing; the defense's story was still that Rojas and Quintana had burned themselves. Pressed concerning the number of eyewitnesses, Salazar said that other than the patrol and Carmen Quintana, there was only one eyewitness to the actual burning--and he had fled to Australia after receiving death threats. Other witnesses saw earlier events, e.g. the youths' detention and subsequent beating. But it was likely that only Quintana would be present for the reenactment to explain how the youths were burned. Salazar, who had been quoted last fall by The Washington Post as saying that Rojas was carrying a molotov cocktail when arrested, was much less definite when questioned by Swigert regarding this point. Salazar said that eyewitness testimony on this matter was contradictory. Furthermore the two eyewitnesses who reported Rodrigo as carrying flammable material (Quintana denies this) at his time of detention, so reported this after their detention and release by Chilean authorities. (Swigert)

elier Prosecution Boosts US Policy on Terrorism

Chilean Army officer Armando Fernandez' surrender to US law enforcement officials this weekend has produced a dramatic breakthrough in the long-stalled prosecution of the Chilean intelligence officers who directed the 1976 bombing in Washington D.C. that killed former Chilean ambassador Orlando Letelier and his US citizen assistant Ronni Moffitt. Fernandez approached US officials secretly over a year ago to express remorse over his role in the crime (he surveilled Letelier's movements) and seek a plea-bargain. Following extensive secret negotiations in Chile and Brazil he arrived in the US January 31.

Fernandez will be arraigned before the D.C. District Court on Wednesday February 4. At that time his cooperation and sworn statements, which we consider truthful, will become public, and major news. Fernandez fingers Pinochet as directing the cover-up which followed (and thwarted) our 1978 extradition request. He fully substantiates other evidence in the case.

This development will boost US anti-terrorism policy by demonstrating our determination to prosecute terrorists even ten years after the fact. Amb. Barnes is being instructed to inform th GOC of Fernandez' arraignment and to request their cooperation bringing other guilty individuals to justice. As evidenc Pinochet himself being involved in the cover-up, and murder plot itself, chances are slim for getting th orchestrated the killings.

SUBJ: AMBASSADOR'S KEYNOTE SPEECH AT THE JOURNALISTS' AND EDITORS' WORKSHOP ON LATIN AMERICA

AMBASSADOR HAS BEEN TOLD BY THE DIRECTOR OF THE WORKSHOP TO BE HELD MARCH 19-21 AT THE MIAMI HERALD THAT THE MIAMI HERALD MIGHT WANT TO PUBLISH THE KEYNOTE SPEECH HE WILL BE GIVING ON FRIDAY. THEREFORE, WE ARE CABLING AN ADVANCE TEXT.

BEGIN TEXT:
KEYNOTE ADDRESS
JOURNALIST'S AND EDITOR'S WORKSHOP ON LATIN AMERICA

HARRY G. BARNES, JR., AMBASSADOR TO CHILE

LET ME START WITH MY ASSIGNMENT. EVEN THOUGH WE AMBASSADORS ARE CACLED ENVOYS EXTRAORDINARY AND MINISTERS PLENIPOTENTIARY, WE ARE VERY DISCIPLINED AND TAKE OUR INSTRUCTIONS VERY SERIOUSLY. SO YOU SHOULD KNOW THE ASSIGNMENT I RECEIVED FROM MARK ROSENBERG. HE ASKED FIRST OF ALL THAT I ANALIZE THE SITUATION IN CHILE, PARTICULARLY CONCERNING THE EFFORTS AT DEMOCRATIZATION

AND TRENDS IN HUMAN RIGHTS. THEN HE ASKED ME TO ADDRESS U.S. CHILEAN RELATIONS WITH SPECIAL EMPHASIS ON THE LIMITS OF OUR ABILITY TO INFLUENCE CHANGES IN CHILE. THE OTHER INSTRUCTION MARK GAVE ME WAS TO TALK FOR ABOUT TWENTY-FIVE MINUTES. I'LL TRY TO CARRY OUT ALL THREE REQUIREMENTS.

THIS IS A GOOD TIME TO LOOK AT CHILE BECAUSE MARCH REPRESENTS THE START OF THE WHOLE SERIES OF ACTIVITIES ASSOCIATED WITH THE END OF SUMMER AS PEOPLE COME BACK FROM THEIR VACATIONS AT THE BEACH OR ON THE LAKES IN THE SOUTH. THE SCHOOLS HAVE OPENED, THE POLITICIANS ARE STARTING TO SPEAK AGAIN, AND MARCH IS IMPORTANT THIS YEAR IN PARTICULAR BECAUSE IT IS FULL OF PREPARATIONS FOR THE VISIT OF THE POPE EARLY IN APRIL. THIS IS ONLY MY SECOND FALL IN CHILE, BUT SOMEHOW THE CHANGE FROM FEBRUARY TO MARCH SEEMED MORE ABRUPT THAN I REMEMBER LAST YEAR. ON FEBRUARY 28 IT WAS HOT, AND AS I SAT OUTSIDE THAT EARLY EVENING THE SUN SEEMED TERRIBLY BRIGHT. THE NEXT EVENING AT ABOUT THE SAME TIME I FELT AS IF I COULD USE A SWEATER. WITHOUT GETTING INTO A THEORY OF LINKS BETWEEN WEATHER AND POLITICS, MY SENSE IS THAT I987 PROMISES TO BE A MORE EXCITING YEAR THAN 1986 WHICH WAS EXCITING ENOUGH.

WHAT DO I SEE? AFTER YEARS OF TALK, THE FRAMEWORK OF THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT'S PROGRAM FOR TRANSFORMING THE POLITICAL STRUCTURE OF THE COUNTRY IS BECOMING CONSIDERABLY MORE VISIBLE. OTHER STEPS HAVE BEEN TAKEN AS WELL THAT AFFECT DEMOCRATIZATION. THERE IS NOW A SYSTEM FOR REGISTERING VOTERS AND PEOPLE ARE STARTING TO SIGN UP. THERE IS A LAW JUST PROMULGATED WHICH PROVIDES FOR STEPS THAT CAN LEAD TO LEGALIZATION OF POLITICAL PARTIES. THE FIRST NEW OPPOSITION NEWSPAPER TO BE UNCLASSIFIED

AUTHORIZED STARTED APPEARING A FEW DAYS AGO, AND EACH WEEK LISTS APPEAR OF SEVERAL HUNDRED PEOPLE WHO ARE NOW PERMITTED TO RETURN FROM EXILE. AT THE SAME TIME, IT IS CLEAR THAT THESE MEASURES DO NOT SATISFY MANY CHILEANS. SOME, LIKE THE COMMUNIST PARTY, HAVE TOLD THEIR ADHERENTS NOT EVEN TO REGISTER TO VOTE, OTHER PARTIES, WHILE STRONGLY CRITICIZING THE NEW PROVISIONS, HAVE NONETHELESS DECIDED THEIR MEMBERS SHOULD REGISTER. SOME HAVE ALSO COME OUT IN FAVOR OF FOLLOWING THE TORTUOUS PATH TO LEGALIZE THEIR PARTIES. IT IS NOT CLEAR AT THIS POINT HOW MANY MORE WILL ADOPT THE SAME POSITION, NOR IS IT CLEAR WHAT SORT OF ACCESS, IF ANY, THE PARTIES WILL EVENTUALLY HAVE TO GOVERNMENT CONTROLLED TV, ESPECIALLY DURING THE PERIOD WHEN THEY ARE TRYING TO MEET THE QUALIFICATIONS IMPOSED UNDER THE NEW LAW. THE PRINCIPAL REQUIREMENT IS THAT FOR A PARTY TO BE RECOGNIZED AT THE NATIONAL LEVEL, IT MUST HAVE 35,000 CITIZENS WHO ARE PREPARED TO DECLARE PUBLICLY THEIR MEMBERSHIP.

WHILE THERE IS ABSOLUTELY NO DOUBT IN MOST PEOPLE'S MINDS THAT PRESIDENT PINOCHET WILL BE A CANDIDATE IN THE 1889 PRESIDENTIAL PLEBISCITE, THERE ARE PLENTY OF DOUBTS AS TO WHO MIGHT REPRESENT THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION. THE CLASSICAL PATTERN IN PRE 1973 CHILE HAD BEEN FOR THE PARTIES TO DIVIDE THEMSELVES INTO WHAT WAS CALLED THE THREE THIRDS ("TRES TERCIOS"), AND IN FACT, THE VERY CLOSE VICTORY OF ALLENDE IN 1973 CAN BE SEEN IN THOSE TERMS. NOW, WITH THE COMMUNISTS WHO WERE A MAJOR PARTY OF THE LEFT THIRD TELLING THEIR SYMPATHIZERS NOT TO REGISTER, THAT LEAVES THE LEFT LARGELY IN THE HANDS OF

VARIOUS GROUPS OF A DEMOCRATIC ORIENTATION SUCH AS THE RADICAL PARTY AND THE NUNES SOCIALISTS. STRADDLING THE CENTER IS THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY WHICH WAS IN POWER FROM 1964 - 1970 AND IS STILL PROBABLY THE SINGLE LARGEST AND BEST ORGANIZED PARTY. IN ADDITION, THERE ARE GROUPS LIKE THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATICS, THE REPUBLICANS AND THE LIBERALS, ALL RELATIVELY SMALL IN NUMBER. TO THE RIGHT COME THE NATIONALS, ANOTHER HISTORIC PARTY, AND THEN A NEW ENTITY CALLED NATIONAL RENEWAL WHICH HAS JUST BEEN FORMED OUT OF THREE ACTIVE ELEMENTS. IF THIS PANOPLY OF PARTIES, AND I HAVEN'T NAMED THEM ALL, IS SOMEWHAT CONFUSING, LET ME ADD TO YOUR CONFUSION BY TELLING YOU THAT THERE IS A GROUPING OF PARTIES CALLED THE DEMOCRATIC ALLIANCE, ANOTHER CALLED THE NATIONAL ACCORD, AND A THIRD CALLED THE GROUP OF THIRTEEN, WITH MANY PARTIES BELONGING TO TWO OR THREE OF THESE ENTITIES. IN ADDITION, IT IS IMPORTANT TO BEAR IN MIND

THAT NONE OF THESE PARTIES EXIST -- THAT IS, EXIST LEGALLY. THE COMMUNISTS ARE BANNED, AND ALL OF THE DEMOCRATIC GROUPS ARE "IN RECESS". HENCE THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE NEW LAW WHICH OFFERS A WAY OF

ACQUIRING WHAT IS CALLED A JURIDICAL PERSONALITY. NONETHELESS, THERE HAVE BEEN SERIOUS EFFORTS TO BRING TOGETHER REPRESENTATIVES OF THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION, MOST NOTABLY BY THE CARDINAL, JUAN FRANCISCO FRESNO. HIS EFFORTS LED TO THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ACCORD FOR TRANSITION TO FULL DEMOCRACY IN AUGUST 1985, A DEVELOPMENT WHICH OUR OWN GOVERNMENT AMONG OTHERS WELCOMED AS PROMOTING THE CHANCES OF A CONSTRUCTIVE DIALOGUE BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT AND THE OPPOSITION. PRESIDENT PINOCHET, HOWEVER, IN A WELL PUBLICIZED TEA WITH CARDINAL FRESNO ON CHRISTMAS EVE, 1985, REJECTED THE ACCORD AND SAID IT WAS TIME TO MOVE ON TO OTHER THINGS. IN THE ENSUING MONTHS THE OPPOSITION TURNED BACK TO THE TECHNIQUE OF STREET DEMONSTRATIONS WHICH HAD BEEN BRIEFLY SUCCESSFUL IN 1983 - 1984 IN INDUCING THE GOVERNMENT TO BEGIN DESCUSSIONS; THIS TIME THE SAME APPROACH FAILED AND IF ANYTHING, THE GOVERNMENT ENDED UP IN A STRONGER POSITION BY THE END OF 1986. IN GOOD PART THIS WAS DUE TO THE IMPACT OF DISCOVERIES OF LARGE ARMS CACHES LAST AUGUST AND THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST PRESIDENT PINOCHET IN SEPTEMBER, BOTH EVENTS FOR WHICH THE COMMUNIST PARTY'S VIOLENT AFFILIATE THE MANUEL RODRIGUEZ PATRIOTIC FRONT CLAIMED CREDIT. ASIDE FROM A BRIEF PERIOD LAST NOVEMBER WHEN THE MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR ASKED FOR COMMENTS ON THE VOTERS REGISTRATION AND PARTY LAWS, THE GIVERNMENT HAS TAKEN THE POSITION THAT IT HAS ITS TIMETABLE IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE CONSTITUTION OF 1980 AND IT WILL CARRY OUT THAT PLAN. HENCE THERE IS NO PRESSING NEED FELT FOR CONSULTATION WITH OTHER ELEMENTS OF THE SOCIETY. IN FACT, PRESIDENT PINOCHET HAS BEEN EMPHATIC IN HIS REJECTION OF ANY DISCOURSE WITH THE OPPOSITION, WHOSE LEADERS HE HAS CALLED "PILGRIMS OF POWER", BECAUSE OF THEIR TRAVELLING AROUND THE WORLD

SEEKING FOREIGN SUPPORT. HE CURRENTLY INSISTS, FOR EXAMPLE, THAT THE CONSTITUTION SHOULD NOT BE AMENDED FOR ANY PURPOSE. THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION, FOR ITS PART,

HAS JUST LAUNCHED A CAMPAIGN FOR OPEN ELECTIONS, DESIGNED TO PRESSURE THE GOVERNMENT INTO CALLING A PLEBISCITE TO APPROVE REPLACEMENT OF THE PRESIDENTIAL PLEBISCITE WITH COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS. ALTHOUGH SUPPORT FOR THE IDEA HAS COME EVEN FROM SECTORS SYMPATHETIC TO THE GOVERNMENT, IT IS TOO EARLY TO TELL WHETHER THE CAMPAIGN WILL PRODUCE THE DESIRED EFFECT. TO SUMMARIZE THEN, THE POLITICAL SCENE IS BEGINNING TO CHANGE AND 1989 IS ALREADY LOOMING MUCH CLOSER, THEREBY FORCING PEOPLE TO THINK IN MUCH MORE CONCRETE TERMS. BUT, FOR THE MOMENT, IT LOOKS AS IF THE ONLY 1989 EVENT WILL BE A PLEBISCITE TO ACCEPT OR REJECT PRESIDENT PINOCHET FOR ANOTHER EIGHT YEAR TERM, FOLLOWED BY CONGRESSIONAL COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS IN 1990. BUT BETWEEN NOW AND 1989, THE SOMEWHAT MORE OPEN ATMOSPHERE COULD IN TURN SET IN MOTION A DYNAMIC THAT COULD CHANGE THAT PICTURE.
WITH REGARD TO HUMAN RIGHTS, THE PICTURE IS ALSO MIXED. I HAVE ALREADY MENTIONED THE QUESTION OF EXILES, WHERE PRESIDENT PINOCHET ANNOUNCED IN HIS NEW YEAR'S MESSAGE THAT ALMOST ALL EXILES WOULD BE ALLOWED TO RETURN. THE REVIEW OF THE CASES OF EXILES, IN FACT, HAS TURNED OUT TO BE ONE OF THE MAIN ACTIVITIES OF THE ADVISORY COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS THE GOVERNMENT SET UP LAST YEAR. IN ADDITION, THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS HAS BEEN ABLE TO REACH AGREEMENTS WITH THE SECURITY SERVICES WHEREBY RED CROSS REPRESENTATIVES ARE ALLOWED TO VISIT DETAINEES. TERRORISM, HOWEVER, REMAINS A SERIOUS

PROBLEM. NOT ONLY WAS PRESIDENT PINOCHET ALMOST KILLED,

FIVE OF HIS BODY GUARDS DID DIE. THEN, IN THE NEXT DAY OR SO FOUR OPPOSITION FIGURES WERE MURDERED, APPARENTLY IN RETALIATION. IN THE FIRST INSTANCE, A NUMBER OF SUSPECTS HAVE BEEN CHARGED, IN THE LATTER NONE. IN FACT ONE OF THE MOST SERIOUS CRITICISM OF HUMAN RIGHTS PRACTICES IN CHILE IS PRECISELY THAT -- WHERE THE GOVERNMENT IS THE VICTIM, THE APPREHENSION AND PROSECUTION OF THOSE RESPONSIBLE IS CARRIED OUT PERSISTENTLY, WHERE IT IS THE GOVERNMENT THAT IN TURN IS ACCUSED OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS, NEITHER THE GOVERNMENT'S SECURITY SERVICES NOR THE COURTS SEEM CAPABLE OF MAKING PROGRESS IN APPREHENDING OR PROSECUTING. A CASE IN POINT IS THAT OF "LOS QUEMADOS", THE BURNED ONES, WHICH OCCURRED LAST JULY WHEN TWO TEENAGERS, ONE OF WHOM, RODRIGO ROJAS, HAD BEEN A RESIDENT OF THIS COUNTRY, WERE BADLY BURNED AND RODRIGO DIED. IN ADDITION, THE RED CROSS ARRANGEMENTS DO NOT APPLY IN THE PERIODS WHEN SOMEONE IS "INCOMUNICADO" -- BARRED FROM SEEING FAMILY OR COUNSEL -- AND THERE ARE STILL RELIABLE REPORTS OF PSYCHOLOGICAL AND PHYSICAL

TORTURE IN THOSE CIRCUMSTANCES.
TV, AS I NOTED EARLIER, IS GOVERNMENT CONTROLLED AND THE OPPOSITION HAS NO ACCESS TO IT, BUT THERE ARE A FEW RADIO STATIONS WHICH ARE OPEN TO THEM AND THE PRESS, ESPECIALLY THE WEEKLY NEWS MAGAZINES, DO PROVIDE SPACE FOR CRITICISM, SOMETIMES, VERY STRONG, AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT. NONETHELESS, CENSORSHIP IS EXERCISED EFFECTIVELY IF INDIRECTLY IN MANY INSTANCES. UP TO NOW OPPOSITION GROUPS HAVE GENERALLY NOT BEEN GIVEN PERMISSION TO HOLD RALLIES IN PUBLIC PLACES AND HAVE AT TIMES BEEN DENIED PERMISSION TO ORGANIZE MEETINGS AS WELL. IN PRINCIPLE, ONCE THEY ACQUIRE THEIR JURIDICAL PERSONALITY THEY SHOULD HAVE NO BAR TO THE MEETINGS AT LEAST, BUT AN IMPORTANT UNCERTAINTY IS, AS I NOTED EARLIER, WHETHER THEY WILL BE ABLE TO HAVE ANY ACCESS TO TV IN THE PERIOD WHEN THEY HAVE TO SIGN UP THEIR 35,000 MEMBERS EACH TO LEGALIZE THEIR EXISTENCE.
WHEN IT COMES TO THE QUESTION OF U.S. CHILEAN RELATIONS, LET ME START BY RECALLING THAT THIS YEAR WE CELEBRATE THE 175TH YEAR OF THOSE LINKS. THEY BEGAN WITH THE ARRIVAL OF A SOUTH CAROLINIAN NAMED JOEL POINSETT. POINSETT, WHO INCIDENTALLY, GAVE HIS NAME TO THE POINSETTA WHICH HE LATER BROUGHT FROM MEXICO, WAS ALSO A MEMBER OF CONGRESS AND SUBSEQUENTLY SECRETARY OF WAR. SOME OF HIS EARLY MILITARY EXPERIENCE CAME FROM FIGHTING ALONGSIDE CHILEAN PATRIOTS IN THEIR OWN WAR FOR INDEPENDENCE. BUT THE

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES IN SUBSEQUENT YEARS WAS NOT ALWAYS AN EASY ONE. IN FACT, EVEN BEFORE CHILEAN INDEPENDENCE, AN ADVISOR TO THE THEN ROYAL GOVERNOR WARNED OF THE DANGEROUS IDEAS THAT NORTHAMERICANS WERE BRINGING, IDEAS ABOUT SUCH THINGS AS THE DIGNITY OF MAN; AND ONE OF THE EARLY GREAT STATESMEN OF INDEPENDENT CHILE, DIEGO PORTALES, ALSO VOICED HIS

SUSPICIONS IN THE I820'S ABOUT U.S. HEGEMONISTIC INTENTIONS. WE WERE SEEN TO BE MORE SUPPORTIVE OF PERU THAN OF CHILE IN THE WAR OF THE PACIFIC, ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO, AND IN THIS CENTURY TO HAVE PUT UNDUE PRESSURE ON CHILE TO BREAK ITS RELATIONS WITH THE AXIS. I MENTION THESE ASPECTS NOT TO PAINT AN OVERLY GLOOMY PICTURE BUT TO ADD A DIMENSION THAT CHILEANS HAVE REMINDED ME OF WHEN I EXPRESS SURPRISE AT THE READINESS WITH WHICH SOME OF THEM USE THE TERM "INTERVENTIONISM" TO DESCRIBE OUR EXPRESSIONS OF INTEREST, CONCERN.OR CRITICISM ON.THEIR PROGRESS TO DEMOCRACY OR THEIR HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD. MANY OF YOU WILL HAVE HEARD OF THE VENERABLE NEWSPAPER CALLED EL MERCURIO. IN AN EDITORIAL ON U.S. CHILEAN RELATIONS JUST A WEEK AGO, EL MERCURIO GAVE A GOOD DESCRIPTION OF THE CURRENT STATE THEREOF. LET ME USE A FEW CITATIONS FROM THE ARTICLE AS A BACKGROUND FOR SOME COMMENTS. "U.S. CHILEAN RELATIONS HAVE BEEN CHARACTERIZED IN THE LAST DECADE BY A DICHOTOMY REPRESENTED BY THE DEEPENING OF JOINT INTERESTS IN CERTAIN ASPECTS (AND) BY THE DIFFICULTY OF (FINDING SUCH INTERESTS) IN OTHERS." EL MERCURIO GOES ON TO SAY THAT IN THE FIRST CATEGORY FALL ECONOMIC AND COMMERCIAL RELATIONSHIPS, IN THE LATTER POLITICAL, ESPECIALLY IN THE AREAS OF DEMOCRACY AND HUMAN RIGHTS. ON THE FORMER COUNT, NOT ONLY DOES THE U.S. CONTINUE TO BE CHILE'S LARGEST BUYER AND SELLER, BUT IN MANY RESPECTS CHILE HAS MET IN MODEL FASHION THE AIMS OF THE BAKER PLAN. THE STRONG PUSH GIVEN BY THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT TO THE PRIVATE SECTOR AND THE REDUCTION IN STATE CONTROL HAS ALSO OBVIOUSLY BEEN SUPPORTED BY THE U.S. ALTHOUGH THERE IS NOT AS MUCH U.S. INVESTMENT IN CHILE AS THERE WAS DURING THE HEYDAY OF ANACONDA AND KENNECOTT IN CHILEAN COPPER IN THE 1960S, STILL CHILE CONTINUES TO ATTRACT THE ATTENTION OF U.S. INVESTORS, INCLUDING MOST RECENTLY PROVISIONS FOR DEBT-EQUITY SWAPS. AND THE INTERNATIONAL BANKING COMMUNITY HAS JUST CONCLUDED RESCHEDULING OF CHILE'S PRIVATE DEBT THROUGH 1991. THERE ARE SOME PROBLEMS, TO BE SURE, EVEN SO. CHILEANS WORRY ABOUT WHAT THEY CONSIDER U.S. PROTECTIONIST LEGISLATION OR ACTIONS, BE THEY ARE AGAINST COPPER OR FRUIT; WE FOR OUR PART OBJECT TO CHILEAN PRICE SUPPORTS FOR WHEAT WHICH SHUT US OUT OF THE MARKET OR INADEQUATE PROTECTION FOR U.S. PHARMACEUTICAL PATENTED PRODUCTS. AND THERE HAVE BEEN SEVERAL CASES LATELY WHERE DUMPING CHARGES HAVE BEEN BROUGHT AGAINST CHILEAN FIRMS.

BUT IT IS, AS EL MERCURIO NOTES, IN THE AREAS OF DEMOCRACY AND HUMAN RIGHTS WHERE THE MAIN DIFFERENCES LIE. IN PRINCIPLE, ONE WOULD THINK THAT IN A COUNTRY

LIKE CHILE WITH ITS LONG DEMOCRATIC HERITAGE, THERE SHOULD NOT BE PROBLEMS OF SUCH MAGNITUDE. BUT THEY DO EXIST AND ARE LIKELY TO CONTINUE SO LONG AS CHILE REMAINS UNDER AUTHORITARIAN RULE AND HUMAN RIGHT ABUSES PERSIST. SO FAR AS DEMOCRACY IS CONCERNED, WE HAVE FELT THAT THE PACE OF CHANGE HAS BEEN TOO SLOW AND THAT THE UNWILLINGLESS ON THE GOVERNMENT'S PART TO ENGAGE IN MEANINGFUL DIALOGUE WITH THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION PROMOTES POLARIZATION AND ONLY FAVORS THE SAME VIOLENT ELEMENTS IN THE SOCIETY WHICH THE GOVERNMENT SAYS IT IS FIGHTING. FOR ITS PART, THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT RESENTS WHAT IT CONSIDERS TO BE THESE LATEST MANIFESTATIONS OF U.S. INTERFERENCE, CONSIDERS THAT WE GROSSLY UNDERSTIMATE

THE COMMUNIST DANGER AND SHOW NONE OF THE TRUST WE OUGHT TOWARDS A COUNTRY THAT IS SO STRONGLY ANTI-COMMUNIST. WITH REGARD TO HUMAN RIGHTS, ALTHOUGH THE SAME EL MERCURID EDITORIAL ALLOWS FOR THE LEGITIMACY OF INTERNATIONAL CONCERNS ON THAT SCORE (AS COMPARED INCIDENTALLY TO THE MATTER OF DEMOCRACY), THE GOVERNMENT HAS USUALLY MAINTAINED THAT REPORTS OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS ARE EITHER EXAGGERATED OR ARE THE INVENTION OF COMMUNIST SYMPATHIZERS. IN ADDITION, THE GOVERNMENT ARGUES THAT THE U.S. AND OTHERS APPLY A DOUBLE STANDARD, AND IGNORES THE LOSSES THE POLICE AND INNOCENT CIVILIANS SUFFER AT THE HANDS OF LEFT WING TERRORISTS.
THOUGH THERE ARE THESE SERIOUS DIFFERENCES IN JUDGMENT AND APPROACH, THIS DOES NOT MEAN THERE IS NO HOPE OF CHANGE. MARK ASKED ME, YOU WILL RECALL, TO TALK IN PARTICULAR ABOUT OUR ABILITY TO INFLUENCE CHANGE. LET ME MAKE A COUPLE GENERAL OBSERVATIONS ON THAT SCORE FROM MY EXPERIENCES IN VARIOUS COUNTRIES. ONE COUNTRY'S ABILITY TO INFLUENCE ANOTHER OBVIOUSLY IS SOMEWHAT LIKE GRAPHING AN EQUATION. THERE ARE AT LEAST TWO FUNCTIONS; THE NATURE OF THE RELATIONSHIP AND THE DIFFICULTY OF THE PROBLEM INVOLVED. IF YOU ARE ON VERY BAD TERMS, NO MATTER HOW EASY THE PROBLEM IS, YOU WILL HAVE REAL TROUBLE EFFECTING CHANGE; IF THE RELATIONS ARE GOOD, THEN CHANGE IS A LOT EASIER THOUGH NOT GUARANTEED, FOR THE SIMPLE REASON THAT COUNTRIES' INTERESTS VARY SO GREATLY. FOR EXAMPLE, WHEN I WAS IN INDIA, IT WAS CLEAR THAT WE BOTH WANTED TO SUSTAIN AND EXPAND SCIENTIFIC AND CULTURAL EXHANGES, BUT A MAJOR OBSTACLE IN NEGOTIATING AN ARRANGEMENT TO FINANCE THESE EXCHANGES TURNED OUT TO BE THE INDIAN PERCEPTION THAT TOO LONG TERM AN AGREEMENT WOULD BECOME WHAT GEORGE WASHINGTON ONCE CALLED "ENTANGLING." IN THE CASE OF CHILE, WHAT HAS IMPRESSED ME FROM THE BEGINNING HAS BEEN THE EXTREMELY GREAT IMPORTANCE ATTACHED TO WHAT THE U.S. SAYS AND DOES.

I DON'T THINK I EXAGGERATE IF I SAY THAT THERE ARE SOME WHO FEARED THAT MY MISSION WAS TO "BOOT OUT" THE GOVERNMENT, ESPECIALLY AFTER THE FALL OF MARCOS AND DUVALIER, AND OTHERS WHO HOPED IT WAS. THERE ARE ALSO THOSE WHO ARE CONVINCED THAT SUSTAINED PRESSURE FROM THE UNITED STATES WILL ACCOMPLISH THAT SAME RESULT. IN THE LATTER CASE, IT IS ALMOST AS IF THE U.S. WERE THE BIG BAD WOLF (OR MAYBE THE BIG GOOD WOLF) IN THE FAIRY STORY AND THAT BY HUFFING AND PUFFING SOME MORE WE COULD BLOW THE HOUSE DOWN.
NO COUNTRY, LIKES TO BE TOLD WHAT TO DO. WE OURSELVES,

FOR THAT MATTER. IN ANY CASE, THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT IS EXTREMELY SENSITIVE TO ANYTHING THAT SMACKS OF FOREIGN INTERVENTION AND IF CHANGES DO OCCUR IT IS QUICK TO UNDERLINE THAT THEY ARE THE RESULT, AGAIN TO QUOTE EL MERCURIO "OF DECISIONS ADOPTED FOR THE GOOD OF THE COUNTRY AND BECAUSE OF THE SOLEMN UNDERTAKING OF THE ARMED FORCES AND NOT BECAUSE OF INTERNATIONAL PRESSURE." NONETHELESS, IT IS ALSO TRUE THAT OFFICIALS OF THE GOVERNMENT DO LISTEN TO VIEWS EXPRESSED FROM ABROAD, BE THEY CONVEYED PRIVATELY OR MORE PUBLICLY. A CASE IN POINT IS THE WILLINGNESS OF CHILE SINCE 1985 TO WORK WITH THE U.N. HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR, FORMER FOREIGN MINISTER VOLIO OF COSTA RICA, WHO WILL BE VISITING CHILE AGAIN STARTING THIS WEEKEND. IN ADDITION, I AM CONVINCED THAT THE GOVERNMENT'S DECISIONS TO SET UP ITS OWN HUMAN RIGHTS ADVISORY COMMISSION AND TO PERMIT AN ACCELERATED RETURN OF EXILES, WHILE CERTAINLY TAKEN FOR REASONS THAT MAKE SENSE IN THE INTERNAL CONTEXT, ALSO WERE TAKEN WITH A VIEW TO FEELINGS IN THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY, INCLUDING PARTICULARLY THE UNITED STATES, ON THE IMPORTANCE OF HUMAN RIGHTS.

TO PUT IT IN ANOTHER WAY, THERE IS NOT A STRAIGHT LINE

EFFECT BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES SAYING OR DOING SOMETHING IN THE AREA OF EITHER DEMOCRACY OR HUMAN RIGHTS AND A CORRESPONDING ACTION BY THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE. IN FACT, THERE ARE MANY CHILEANS WHO HAVE WARNED ME THAT THE BEST WAY NOT TO ACHIEVE INFLUENCE IS TO PRESS TOO - MUCH FOR IT. I HAVE BEEN ACCUSED BY OTHER CHILEANS, HOWEVER, OF SUBSTITUTING "NOISY" DIPLOMACY FOR THE SO CALLED MORE CONVENTIONAL "SILENT" DIPLOMACY.

THAT LEADS ME TO ANOTHER POINT WHICH I THINK IS VITAL, AT LEAST FOR US AS AMERICANS. WE PRIDE OURSELVES ON BEING PRACTICAL, AND WE ARE; WE SEE PROBLEMS AND WE SEEK SOLUTIONS; WE ARE RESULTS ORIENTED AND WE KNOW HOW TO GET A JOB DONE. DIPLOMACY IS NO DIFFERENT; IF ANYTHING, IT IS VERY MUCH THE ART OF THE POSSIBLE, OF THE PRACTICAL, OF FINDING WHERE INTERESTS CONVERGE. AT THE SAME TIME THERE IS ANOTHER VERY AMERICAN CHARACTERISTIC, SOMETHING OF THE ESSENCE OF OUR COUNTRY AND THAT IS, A BELIEF IN VALUES, A CONCERN FOR IDEALS. DEMOCRACY AND HUMAN RIGHTS ARE FUNDAMENTAL IN THAT CONTEXT, AND THEREFORE EVEN IF WE CANNOT BE SURE EXACTLY WHAT CHANGES OUR ADVOCACY OF THEM WILL HAVE, WE STILL HAVE THE OBLIGATION, I BELIEVE, TO BE VERY CLEAR ABOUT OUR DEDICATION TO PROMOTING THEM. WE HAVE TO BE AS CLEAR AND AS CONSISTENT AS WE POSSIBLY CAN, AND THIS IS WHAT I HAVE SEEN AS ONE OF THE PRINCIPAL OBJECTIVES OF MY MISSION IN CHILE, WHICH IS PERHAPS WHY I SOUND "NOISY". I AM FURTHER PERSUADED THAT FOR ALL THE HISTORICAL DIFFICULTIES FROM TIME TO TIME, FOR ALL THE ANNOYANCES THAT SPECIFIC ACTIONS IN THE TRADE FIELD MIGHT NOW OCCASION, AND FOR ALL THE DISAPPOINTMENT ON ONE SIDE OR ANOTHER OF THE POLITICAL SPECTRUM, MOST CHILEANS WANT AND FEEL THEY NEED GOOD RELATIONS WITH THE UNITED STATES, IN LARGE PART BECAUSE OF WHAT THIS COUNTRY REPRESENTS.

THEREFORE, WHAT WE SAY AND WHAT WE DO CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE EVEN IF THAT DIFFERENCE IS NOT IMMEDIATELY PERCEPTIBLE. OUR SUPPORT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, FOR EXAMPLE, DOES HELP SUSTAIN THOSE WHO WORK IN THAT FIELD, AND IT ALSO SHOWS THE GOVERNMENT THE SERIOUSNESS WE ATTACH TO THE ISSUE. SIMILARLY, OUR ADVOCACY OF A SUCCESSFUL RETURN TO DEMOCRACY, TO A REAL AND STABLE DEMOCRACY, HELPS THOSE OF SIMILAR MIND, WHILE OUR OPPOSITION TO VIOLENCE AND TERRORISM FROM WHATEVER QUARTER REINFORCES OUR STATEMENT ABOUT THE NATURE OF THE DEMOCRACY WE SUPPORT.
LET ME TURN TO AN EXAMPLE OR SO OF EXTERNAL INFLUENCES ON CHANGE AND OF THE DILEMMAS THE U.S. THEREBY CONFRONTS.

LAST FALL WE HAD TO DECIDE WHETHER TO ABSTAIN OR VOTE AGAINST A LARGE WORLD BANK LOAN FOR CHILE, GIVEN LEGISLATION WHICH REQUIRES OPPOSITION IN CASES WHERE PATTERNS OF GROSS HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS EXIST. WE FINALLY DECIDED TO ABSTAIN. THAT DECISION SYMBOLIZED THE CONFLICT BETWEEN OUR RECOGNITION OF THE SUBSTANTIAL SUCCESSES ACHIEVED ON THE ECONOMIC SIDE AND THE GRAVE SHORTCOMINGS IN THE AREA OF HUMAN RIGHTS, AS WELL AS THE PRACTICAL ASSESSMENT OF THE EFFECTS OF ONE TYPE OF VOTE OR THE OTHER. RIGHT NOW, TO TAKE ANOTHER INSTANCE, LEGISLATION IS BEING INTRODUCED IN THE U.S. CONGRESS WHICH WOULD MANDATE NEGATIVE VOTES IN SUCH CASES, INSTEAD OF LEAVING THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH WITH ANY DISCRETION, AND WOULD REQUIRE OTHER SANCTIONS AS WELL. THE STATED AIM OF THE LEGISLATION IS TO SUPPORT THE STRUGGLE FOR DEMOCRACY AND HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE BY USING THIS FORM OF PRESSURE TO COMPEL CHANGE. THOSE WHO SUPPORT IT ARE CLEARLY CONCERNED ABOUT THE SLOW PROGRESS ON BOTH FRONTS AND BELIEVE THIS MEASURE WILL ACCELERATE CHANGE. WE HAVE HAD SOME SANCTIONS IN PLACE, SINCE THE MID 1970S AND IN THE SAME DECADE WE CONSISTENTLY VOTED AGAINST LOANS FOR CHILE. TO MY VIEW, THESE MEASURES HAVE NOT BROUGHT ABOUT CHANGES OF THE SORT INTENDED, WHATEVER OTHER JUSTIFICATION THERE MAY HAVE BEEN FOR THEM. IN ADDITION, BASED ON CONVERSATIONS WITH A NUMBER OF CHILEANS WHO ARE OUTSIDE THE GOVERNMENT, THEY HAVE THEIR DOUBTS ABOUT WHETHER THE PROPOSED NEW LEGISLATION WILL BE ANY MORE EFFECTIVE IN BRINGING ABOUT CHANGE.

CLEARLY, IF CHANGE IS TO COME IN CHILE IT WILL COME PRIMARILY BECAUSE CHILEANS WANT CHANGE. AND AS I INDICATED AT THE BEGINNING, 1987 MAY BE A YEAR WHEN THAT PROCESS OF CHANGE BEGINS TO TAKE PLACE, EVEN BEYOND THE EXPECTATIONS OF THE PARTICIPANTS. THOSE OF US ON THE OUTSIDE WHO ARE FRIENDS OF CHILE AND CONCERNED ABOUT PROMOTING DEMOCRACY AND HUMAN RIGHTS CANNOT KEEP QUIET ABOUT OUR CONCERNS.
PRESIDENT REAGAN PUT IT THIS WAY IN JUNE OF 1986 WHILE WELCOMING PRESIDENT SANGUINETTI OF URUGUAY TO THE WHITE HOUSE: "WE SHOULD NOT BE SATISFIED UNTIL ALL AMERICANS -- AND THIS MEANS EVERY LIVING SOUL FROM THE NORTH SLOPE OF ALASKA TO THE TIP OF TIERRA DEL FUEGO -- LIVE IN FREEDOM, AS IS THEIR BIRTHRIGHT." OR LOOK AT WHAT THE NOTED ARGENTINE POLITICAL SCIENTIST GUILLERMO O'DONNELL SAID IN WRITING ABOUT "LATIN AMERICA, THE UNITED STATES AND DEMOCRACY": "IT WOULD BE A STUPID PARADOX IF THE DEMOCRATIC FORCES IN BOTH CONTINENTS (AND IN THE REST OF THE WORLD WHICH INCLUDES THE INCREASINGLY ACTIVE PRESENCE POLITICALLY OF EUROPE) WERE TO ABSTAIN FROM RECOGNIZING THEIR COMMON INTERESTS AND ACTING THEREFORE, WHEN POWERFUL PRO-AUTHORITARIAN FORCES ARE DOING SO WITHOUT ANY HESITATION WHATSOEVER."

ON THE CONTRARY, WE NEED TO KEEP MAKING CLEAR WHERE WE STAND. THIS IS OF COURSE FAR FROM SIMPLE, ESPECIALLY WHEN AS EDWIN NEWMAN SAID FROM THIS SAME PLATFORM TWO YEARS AGO WHEN TALKING ABOUT THE RESPONSIBILITY OF JOURNALISTS, "THERE ARE TIMES WHEN THERE IS NO PERFECT ANSWER. THERE ARE TIMES WHEN YOU MUST WEIGH THE VARIOUS FACTORS AND DECIDE WHAT TO DO." IN FACT, I CAN MAKE THE CASE THAT THAT IS PRECISELY THE WORLD OF THOSE OF US IN THE BUSINESS OF DIPLOMACY; WE ARE FOREVER IN THE WORLD OF IMPERFECT ANSWERS. WHEN THE FRUSTRATION MOUNTS, I FIND IT USEFUL TO GO BACK TO THE WRITINGS OF TWO INDIVIDUALS WHO FOR ME REPRESENT OUR OWN COUNTRY EXCEPTIONALLY WELL -- ONE OF THEM BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, THE OTHER WOODROW WILSON. TO OVERSIMPLIFY, WILSON THE IDEALIST, FRANKLIN THE PRAGMATIST. IN THE PERIOD WHEN HE WAS STRUGGLING FOR THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS, WILSON ARGUED THAT: "AMERICA HAS NO REASON FOR BEING UNLESS HER DESTINY AND DUTY BE IDEAL. NOTHING LESS IS WORTH FIGHTING FOR, NOTHING LESS IS WORTH SACRIFICING FOR. THE MEN AND WOMEN OF THE AMERICAN COLONIES WERE PHYSICALLY CONFORTABLE...WE WOULD HAVE BEEN AS PROSPEROUS UNDER THE BRITISH CROWN, BUT WE SHOULD NOT HAVE BEEN AS HAPPY, AND WE SHOULD NOT HAVE RESPECTED OURSELVES SO MUCH." FRANKLIN FOR HIS PART ONCE SAID PITHILY: "WHAT SIGNIFIES PHILOSOPHY THAT DOES NOT APPLY TO SOME USE?"

SOMEWHERE IN THIS MEETING OF IDEALS AND PRACTICALITY, THE CHALLENGE IS TO EXPRESS OUR BELIEFS AND SHAPE OUR ACTIONS IN WAYS THAT DO NOT HINDER BUT RATHER HELP THE PROCESS OF DEMOCRATIZATION AND RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, BE IT IN CHILE OR ANYWHERE.

Dear Colleague,

We are writing to ask you to join us in taking a significant step to promote human rights and democracy in Chile. We urge you to cosponsor S. 709, the Democracy in Chile Act of 1987 which we introduced in the Senate on March 10, 1987.

This legislation will terminate U.S. economic support for the dictatorial regime in Chile and will impose certain economic sanctions against that government. The time has come for Congress to take this step for the following reasons:

First, Chile continues to pursue a policy of terrorism at home and abroad.

On February 4, 1987, a former member of the Chilean military appeared in the Federal District Court for the District of Columbia and provided evidence implicating the President of Chile, General Augusto Pinochet, in the murder-by-bombing of two residents of Washington, D.C., Orlando Letelier, the former Chilean Ambassador to the United States, and Ronni Karpen Moffitt, an American citizen working with Letelier. That testimony also provided additional evidence against two other Chilean officials already indicted by U.S. courts for those murders. The government of Chile steadfastly refuses to cooperate in the effort to bring these individuals to justice.

The Government of Chile has also failed to take adequate steps to prosecute those members of the government security forces who beat and set on fire a Washington resident, Rodrigo Rojas, and his Chilean companion, Carmen Gloria Quintana. Rojas died in great pain shortly after the incident, yet the Chilean government has set free on $25 bail the last remaining member of the security forces held in the case.

The terror and repression unleashed upon Orlando Letelier, Ronni Moffitt and Rodrigo Rojas are felt daily by the people of Chile. Since General Pinochet seized power 14 years ago, tens of thousands of political opponents of his regime have endured his brutal policies -- assassinations, physical and psychological torture, abductions, arbitrary arrests, detentions in secret locations and violations of labor rights.

Second, General Pinochet continues to block the return of democracy in Chile. The National Accord formed last year by 13 opposition parties to promote a peaceful transition to democracy, has been rejected by Pinochet. Last July, in a direct affront to the democratic opposition, General Pinochet announced his intention to remain in power for another decade. Pinochet's intransigence promises further polarization and violence for the people of Chile.

Finally, in the face of the Chilean government's terrorism and intransigence, the Reagan Administration has continued to provide substantial economic support to Chile, to the extent that most Chileans see the United States as propping up the Pinochet regime. For six years, this Administration has supported billions of dollars in loans from multilateral development banks to the government of Chile and has given Chile millions of dollars in guaranteed credits and preferential trade assistance.

The Administration has pursued this policy despite U.S. laws requiring the United States to oppose such assistance to countries whose governments systematically violate human and labor rights. The time has come to put the U.S. clearly on the side of justice, democracy and human rights in Chile. The imposition of these measures against the Government of Chile will accomplish that goal.

When enacted, S. 709 will require a U.S. no vote on international loans to Chile, will revoke Chile's trade benefits under the General System of Preferences, will prohibit guarantees and insurance of U.S. investments in Chile by the Overseas Private Investment Corporation, will revoke the landing rights of Chile's national airline and will prohibit the importation into the U.S. of Chilean copper.

The sanctions can be lifted if the Congress approves a Presidential certification that Chile has made significant progress in respecting human rights and worker rights, in promoting a return to democracy, and in acting on the Letelier-Moffitt and Rojas-Quintana cases.

If you would like any further information or to cosponsor this legislation, please call Ed Long at x4-3254 or Nancy Soderberg at x4-2635.

Sincerely,

Tom Harkin

SUBJ: MERINO RULES OUT MODIFYING THE CONSTITUTION

1. (U) IN A PRESS INTERVIEW FOLLOWING THE MARCH 16 MEETING OPENING THE 1987 CALENDAR OF THE FIRST LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE HEADED BY JUNTA MEMBER ADMIRAL JOSE MERINO, HE STATED THAT THERE ARE NO PRESENT PLANS TO MODIFY THE CONSTITUTION BECAUSE OF THE LACK OF TIME. MERINO NOTED THAT ANY SUCH CHANGES WOULD HAVE TO BE STUDIED AND THEN APPROVED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE CONSTITUTION, WHICH WOULD MEAN HOLDING A PLEBISCITE. THIS COULD NOT BE DONE UNTIL EVERYONE HAS HAD THE OPPORTUNITY TO REGISTER TO VOTE, AND THIS IS NOT EXPECTED TO BE FINISHED UNTIL LATE IN 1988. IT WOULD THEREFORE NOT BE POSSIBLE TO CHANGE THE CONSTITUTION IN A VALID MANNER UNTIL LATE 1988.

2. (C) COMMENT: MERINO'S REMARKS ARE OF INTEREST IN THAT THEY ARE ONE OF THE FIRST PUBLIC STATEMENTS BY A JUNTA MEMBER THAT APPEAR TO RULE OUT ANY POSSIBILITY OF MODIFYING THE CONSTITUTION BEFORE 1988. THEY ARE ALSO NOTEWORTHY IN THAT ONE YEAR AGO MERINO ADDRESSED THE NEED TO CHANGE THE CONSTITUTION ON INAUGURATING THE LEGISLATIVE

YEAR. MERINO CANDIDLY RECOGNIZES THE TIME FACTOR INVOLVED IN COMPLETING THE VOTER REGISTRATION DRIVE, AND SEEMS SINCERE IN RULING OUT ANY CHANCE OF CHANGING THE RULES TO ALLOW FOR ANYTHING OTHER THAN A PLEBISCITE IN 1989. SINCE HE IS SOMETIMES GIVEN TO MAKING CASUAL OFF-THE-CUFF REMARKS TO THE PRESS, HOWEVER, IT CANNOT YET BE RULED OUT THAT SOME METHOD MIGHT STILL BE FOUND TO HOLD AN OPEN ELECTION INSTEAD OF A PLEBISCITE.

THE STORY RECEIVED A BOOST THROUGH SCREENING IN THE USSR AND SWEDEN OF A SOVIET DOCU-DRAMA ON THE SUBJECT WHICH

INSINUATES U.S. COMPLICITY IN THE CRIME. THE STATEMENT IN PARAGRAPH 2 WAS MADE AT THE DEPARTMENT'S NOON PRESS BRIEFING ON MARCH 16. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION IS AVAILABLE IN FOLLOWING PARAGRAPHS WHICH MAY BE OF USE TO POSTS. END SUMMARY.

2. BEGIN PRESS STATEMENT. YOU WILL RECALL THAT AT THE FEBRUARY 13 BRIEFING A QUESTION WAS RAISED CONCERNING A SOVIET FILM WHICH INSINUATES THAT THE USG WAS INVOLVED IN PALME'S ASSASSINATION. WE SAID THAT WE HAD EXPRESSED OUR CONCERN OVER THIS MALICIOUS AND OUTRAGEOUS CHARGE IN THE FILM.

SOVIET EFFORTS TO LINK THE USG TO PALME'S MURDER ARE CONTINUING. MOST RECENTLY, THE STORY WAS REPEATED IN ULTIMAS NOTICIAS, A VENEZUELAN DAILY.

LET ME REPEAT THAT THE US REJECTS THE ALLEGATION THAT IT WAS LINKED IN ANY WAY TO OLAF PALME'S ASSASSINATION. THE ATTEMPT TO EXPLOIT THE DEATH OF THIS WORLD LEADER IS A DISSERVICE TO HIS MEMORY. END TEXT.

3. BEGIN BACKGROUND. IN NEWSPAPERS IN MANY COUNTRIES, THERE HAVE BEEN STORIES ATTEMPTING TO BLAME THE UNITED STATES FOR THE TRAGIC ASSASSINATION OF SWEDISH PRIME MINISTER OLAF PALME. THESE STORIES ARE GRIEVEOUSLY WRONG, AND THEY ARE AN AFFRONT TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE AND THE U.S. GOVERNMENT. OUR AFFECTION AND RESPECT FOR OLAF PALME AS A MAN, AS THE LEADER OF SWEDEN, AND AS A CHAMPION OF DEMOCRATIC VALUES WAS REFLECTED IN THE UNCLASSIFIED

STATEMENT BY PRESIDENT REAGAN ISSUED FROM THE WHITE HOUSE FOLLOWING THE ASSASSINATION. HE SAID, "I HAVE LEARNED WITH GREAT SHOCK OF THE TRAGIC DEATH OF SWEDISH PRIME MINISTER OLAF PALME. MY SORROW IN THE FACE OF THIS SENSELESS ACT OF VIOLENCE IS PROFOUND. OLAF PALME WAS ONE OF THE WORLD'S MOST RESPECTED LEADERS, A MAN WHO MADE COMPASSION THE HALLMARK OF SWEDISH POLICY. THE WORLD WILL REMEMBER HIM FOR HIS DEVOTION TO DEMOCRATIC VALUES AND HIS UNTIRING EFFORTS TO PROMOTE PEACE."

4. THE U.S. GOVERNMENT IS AWARE THAT MANY WILL WONDER WHY WE EXPEND THE EFFORT TO CALL ATTENTION TO AND DENY SUCH AN OUTRAGEOUS ACCUSATION. IN FACT, WHEN THE STORY FIRST APPEARED, WE CHOSE TO IGNORE IT BECAUSE IT WAS

PRIMARILY IN SOVIET OR COMMUNIST-CONTROLLED MEDIA. FOR EXAMPLE, THE JUNE 14, 1986 EDITION OF THE BULGARIAN COMMUNIST PARTY DAILY "RABOTNICHESKO DELO" CARRIED THE STORY. IT THEN SPREAD TO THE THIRD WORLD PRESS; FOR EXAMPLE, THE GOVERNMENT OF GHANA'S NEWSPAPER, THE "DAILY GRAPHIC," REPEATED THE ACCUSATIONS ON JULY 17, CITING "SOVIET NEWS COMMENTARY" AS ITS SOURCE.

5. THE SOVIET UNION HAS NOW TAKEN A FURTHER STEP IN THE UNSUBSTANTIATED CLAIMS OF U.S. COMPLICITY IN THE PALME ASSASSINATION; THEY HAVE PRODUCED A TELEVISION FILM, SHOWN IN THE USSR AND SWEDEN, WHICH INSINUATES THAT THE U.S. IS RESPONSIBLE. ABSOLUTELY NO EVIDENCE IS PRESENTED THROUGHOUT THE FILM. A SOVIET COMMENTATOR INQUIRES, "WHY WAS OLAF PALME KILLED?" THE QUESTION IS ANSWERED BY ANOTHER COMMENTATOR, "THREADS OF CONSPIRACY LEAD TO THE CIA." NO BACKUP INFORMATION IS PROVIDED. THE REASON IS, OF COURSE, BECAUSE THERE IS NONE.

6. THE U.S. HAS PROTESTED THIS FILM TO THE SOVIET UNION AND NOW CALLS UPON WORLD PUBLIC OPINION TO REJECT SUCH UNCLASSIFIED

EN LO PRINCIPAL : RECUSACION. OTROSI CONSIGNACION.

Exma. Corte Suprema.

Fabiola Letelier del Solar, por la parte perjudicada, en autos rol ingreso N° 29 - 81 Corte Marcial, instruído por el delito de falsificación documentario y otros, a US. Exma, con respeto digo :

Vengo en solicitar a S.S. Exma. que se declare recusado en esta causa el Señor Ministro de la Corte Marcial, don Enrique Montero Marx y que, por tanto quede excluído de la vista de la causa. Fundo esta solicitud en lo dispuesto en el artículo 196 N^{os} 9, 14, 15, 16 y 17 del Código Orgánico de Tribunales.

Cabe hacer presente en esta oportunidad que el señor Montero Marx se desempeñó como sub - Secretario del Interior entre el 11 de septiembre de 1973 y el 22 de abril de 1982, y de esta última fecha al 10 de agosto de 1983 como Ministro del Interior del actual Gobierno; es decir realizó funciones del más alto nivel y absoluta confianza para el régimen durante exastamente 9 años y 12 meses. Durante su gestión de Sub - Secretario del Interior, año 1976, se produjaron los hechos que motivaron la sustanciación de la presente causa, y que dicen relación con la supuesta falsificación de pasaportes oficiales. Del merito de autos ha quedado establecida la responsabilidad que les cupo a funcionarios de Gobierno, específicamente del Ministerio de Relaciones Exteriores, en el otorgamiento fraudulento de pasaportes oficiales. Materia tam - bién de la investigación sumarial en esta causa en la conexión que habría habido entre el otorgamiento de los mencionados pasaportes oficiales y la posterior muerte del ex - Canciller Orlando Letelier del Solar. Al respecto, cabe hacer notar que el señor Montero Marx, en su calidad de representante del Gobierno chileno viajo a Estados Unidos de Norteamerica, donde subscribió un acuerdo entre el Gobierno Norteamericano y el Chileno, que tuvo por objeto limitar las declaraciones de Michael Townley exclusivamente a lo referente a la investiga - ción por el asesinato de Orlando Letelier. Este acuerdo fue subscrito durante el otoño de 1978, habiendo constancia de él y del posterior reconocimiento de firma hecha por el señor Montero Marx en el proceso seguido para extraditar a tres oficiales chilenos implicados en el asesinato de Letelier.

Artículo 196, N° 9 del C. O. T. "Haber el juez declarado como "testigo en la cuestión actualmente sometida a su conocimien- "to". Como se desprende de la diligencia de reconocimiento de firma prestada por el señor Montero Marx, en relación al acuerdo subscrito entre los Gobierno de Chile y Estados Unidos, de lo cual hay constancia en el proceso 1 - 78 sobre extradición pasiva.

Artículo 196 N°14 del C.O.T. " Haber el juez recibido de alguna de las partes un beneficio de importancia, que haga presumir empeñada su gratitud". No habiendo en la causa parte pasiva por el hecho de que los inculpados no han sido encargados dos reos, y teniendo en cuenta que fue el propio Presidente de la República General Pinochet, quien el 23 de marzo de 1978 ordenó que se remitieran los antecedentes a la justicia militar y se instruyera proceso, llevando el rol 192 - 78, queda establecida la causal, cuando el señor Montero Marx en abril de 1972, es decir con posterioridad a los hechos, es promovi- al cargo de Ministro del Interior.

Artículo 196 N° 15 del C.O.T. "Tener el juez con alguna de

"las partes amistad que se manifieste por actos de estrecha "familiariaddd". Al respecto damos por reproducidos los argumentos aducidos en la causal anterior, señalando que esta parte estima que se deben entender por actos de extrema familiaridad los prolongados servicios prestados al Gobierno en cargos de su más absoluta confiansa.

Artículo 196 N° 16 del C.O.T. "Tener el juez con alguna de "las partes enemistad, odio o resentimiento que haga presumir "que no se halla revestido de la debida imparcialidad". Al respecto cabe señalar que el señor Montero Marx durante su desempeño como Sub-Secretario del Interior, es decir parte del Gobierno de Chile, fue parte de la campaña del desprestigio dirigida desde las esferas de Gobierno y a través de todos los medios de comunicación con los que contaba, en contra del Ex- Canciller Orlando Letelier. Posteriormente durante el año 1981, cuando se encontraba pendiente ante la Corte Marcial, la apelación al sobreseimiento definitivo dictado por el juez militar, y siendo el señor Montero Marx Sub Secretario del Interior, se procedió a expulsar del país, por vía administrativa precisamente por orden del Ministerio del Interior, a don Jaime Castillo Velasco, abogado de la familia Letelier del Solar, parte perjudicada en la causa. Una vez expulsado el señor Castillo Velasco, y habiendo quedado la familia sin abogado defensor, el señor Montero Marx, siendo ya Ministro del Interior, manifestó en reiteradas oportunidades en forma pública, que mientras él se desempeñara en su cargo, el señor Castillo Velasco no podría volver a entrar al país.

Artículo 196 N° 17 C.O.T. "Haber el juez recibido, después de comenzado el pleito, dádivas o servicios de alguna de "las partes, cualquiera que sea su valor o importancia ". Al respecto esta parte reproduce el expresado en relación a la causal Nº 14 del Artículo 196 del C.O.T. debiendo tenerse presente que el proceso en cuestión sobre el cual se pretende evitar que el señor Montero Marx se pronuncie, se inició en marzo de 1978 y el fue promovido en abril de 1972 al cargo de Ministro del Interior, lo cual significó una importante distinción por parte del gobierno.

POR TANTO, en atención a lo expresado y a lo dispuesto en los artículos 194 y siguientes del Código Orgánico de Tribunales, 113 y siguientes del Código de Procedimiento Civil y 107 y siguiente del Código de Justicia Militar, Ruego a US. Exma se sirva tener por formulado incidente de recusación en contra del Señor Ministro de la Corte Marcial don Enrique Montero Marx.

March 20, 1987

TO: Charge - Mr. Jones

THRU: POL - Mr. Keane

FROM: Labor Attache - Don Knight

SUBJECT: Fabiola Letelier Message

Fabiola Letelier was seated next to me last evening at the Colegio de Abogados forum on the Letelier case. She gave me a copy of the legal document she had filed yesterday challenging the right of the Air Force judge to hear the court martial case of the false passports. She said this judge was the Vice-Minister of Interior in the late 1970s, when the Letelier case was brought before the Supreme Court, and his judgement may not be balanced in reviewing the passport case at this time.

Attached is a copy of her challenge, so you can tell her the next time you see her that the document was delivered.

The forum, by the way, was very interesting, and rather exciting towards the last when Brigadier Espinosa's lawyer walked out. He had a hard night of it, and the audience was obviously not receptive to his point of view. The newspaper acounts of the meeting are accurate, with the Epoca article being very good.

E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: PREL, XK, NO, OVIP (HABIB, PHILIP C.)
SUBJECT: HABIB MEETING WITH PRESIDENT AZCONA,
- MARCH 23, 1987

1. ~~SECRET - ENTIRE TEXT.~~

2. SUMMARY: PRESIDENT AZCONA IS DEEPLY SKEPTICAL ABOUT ARIAS' PLAN FOR PEACE AND DOES NOT EXPECT MUCH TO COME OUT OF THE ESQUIPULAS MEETING WHICH HE BELIEVES WILL NOT NOW TAKE PLACE UNTIL LATE JUNE. NEVERTHELESS, IN CONTRAST TO DUARTE, AZCONA IS PREPARED TO PLAY AN ACTIVE ROLE IN THE PROCESS LEADING UP TO THE MEETING. HABIB HAD VOICED OUR DISAPPOINTMENT THAT LITTLE HAD BEEN DONE AND URGED AZCONA TO POSITIVE ACTION. THE SANDINISTAS, AZCONA SAID, WILL SIGN ON TO THE ARIAS PROPOSALS IN ORDER TO GAIN THE TIME TO DEFEAT FURTHER MILITARY ASSISTANCE TO THE CONTRAS, AND FOR THE U.S. ADMINISTRATION TO TURN IN THEIR FAVOR. AZCONA INSTRUCTED HIS FOREIGN MINISTER TO INITIATE CONTACT WITH FONMIN ACEVEDO OF EL SALVADOR FOR THE PURPOSE OF DEVELOPING A COMMON APPROACH FOR ESQUIPULAS. FOREIGN MINISTER LOPEZ CONTRERAS' WORST FEAR IS THAT HONDURAS WILL BE ISOLATED AT ESQUIPULAS AND CHARACTERIZED BY THE WORLD AS OBSTRUCTIONIST. ALSO ON AZCONA'S MIND WAS CONGRESSMAN OBEY'S REALLOCATION OF FUNDS IN THE DOL 300 MILLION FOREIGN ASSISTANCE SUPPLEMENTAL, REDUCING SUBSTANTIALLY HONDURAS' SHARE. HE SEES OBEY'S RE-ORDERING AS PUNISHING THOSE WHO SHARE THE ADMINISTRATION'S VIEWS AND REWARDING THOSE WHO DON'T. AZCONA'S MILITARY CHIEFS ARE IMPRESSED WITH THE CONTRAS AND SAY THEIR ACCOMPLISHMENTS SO FAR EXCEED EXPECTATIONS. CONTRAS ARE CREDITED WITH GOOD PLANNING, EXECUTION AND WITH DOWNING FOUR SANDINISTA HELICOPTERS. HABIB ENTHUSIASTICALLY WELCOMED AZCONA'S WILLINGNESS TO TAKE AN ACTIVE ROLE IN THE PEACE PROCESS AND ENCOURAGED HIM TO SEEK CONTACT WITH ALL THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES IN PREPARATION FOR ESQUIPULAS. HABIB POINTED OUT THE COINCIDENCE IN OUR VIEWS, PARTICULARLY WITH RESPECT TO THE NECESSITY OF DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA AND CONVEYED TO AZCONA SECRETARY SHULTZ'S ASSURANCES THAT THE ADMIN-ISTRATION WOULD MAKE A MAJOR EFFORT TO RESTORE THE ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE TAKEN AWAY BY CONGRESSMAN OBEY. END SUMMARY.

3. ON MARCH 23, AMBASSADOR HABIB, AMBASSADOR BRIGGS, AND NSC STAFFER KIM FLOWER MET WITH HONDURAN PRESIDENT AZCONA TO DISCUSS THE SITUATION IN CENTRAL AMERICA. PRESIDENT AZCONA WAS JOINED BY FOREIGN MINISTER LOPEZ CONTRERAS AND BY COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF GENERAL REGALADO AND ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF GUTIERREZ MINERA.

4. PRESIDENT AZCONA OPENED BY OBSERVING THAT A DELEGATION OF FRENCH PARLIAMENTARIANS HAD JUST VISITED HONDURAS AND THAT EVEN THE SOCIALIST DEPUTY SEEMED TO HAVE A BETTER UNDERSTANDING OF CENTRAL AMERICA. AMBASSADOR HABIB SAID THAT HE HAD GAINED THE SAME IMPRESSION FROM A RECENT TRIP TO EUROPE. THE FRENCH (AND THE EUROPEANS) WERE TURNING AROUND ON NICARAGUA. THE EC WAS REALLOCATING ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE AWAY FROM NICARAGUA TO THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES. WE HAD ASKED THE EUROPEANS TO DO THIS AND HAPPILY OUR ADVICE SEEMED TO HAVE BEEN TAKEN TO HEART. HABIB TOLD THE PRESIDENT THAT HE WAS PLEASED, TOO, TO REPORT THAT THE PROPOSED SALE OF REPLACEMENT AIRCRAFT (F-5S) HAD BEEN SETTLED TO HONDURAS' SATISFACTION.

5. LEADING INTO THE PRINCIPAL TOPIC OF DISCUSSION, AMBASSADOR HABIB TOLD AZCONA THAT ON THIS TRIP HE WOULD VISIT ALL FOUR CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES AS WELL AS THE ORIGINAL FOUR CONTADORA CAPITALS. HE SAID HE WOULD BE PARTICULARLY INTERESTED TO HAVE AZCONA'S APPRECIATION FOR THE HEALTH AND PROGRESS OF THE DIPLOMATIC/NEGOTIATING TRACK, ESPECIALLY COSTA RICAN PRESIDENT ARIAS' PROPOSALS, AND HIS IDEAS ABOUT WHAT COMES NEXT, TACTICALLY AND PRACTICALLY.

6. AZCONA OBSERVED THAT THE NEXT MEETING OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS IS LIKELY TO TAKE PLACE IN LATE JUNE IN ESQUIPULAS. THE DATE, HABIB SAID, SEEMS TO GET MORE AND MORE DISTANT. MAY HAD PREVIOUSLY BEEN SUGGESTED, AND DUARTE HAD MENTIONED EARLY JUNE. DUARTE HAD TALKED ABOUT POSSIBLY VISITING TAIWAN SOME TIME IN JUNE.

7. AZCONA RECALLED THAT AT THE SAN JOSE MEETING HE HAD PUSHED FOR MORE TIME IN ORDER TO SEE HOW THE SITUATION DEVELOPED, PARTICULARLY THE RENEWED EFFORT BY THE CONTRAS. ANOTHER IMPORTANT ASPECT THAT WOULD AFFECT ESQUIPULAS WOULD BE THE FINAL DISPOSITION OF THE DOL 300 MILLION SUPPLEMENTAL FOREIGN ASSISTANCE LEGISLATION. WOULD THE ADMINISTRATION AND THE SENATE BE ABLE TO UNDO THE REALLOCATION MADE BY CONGRESSMAN OBEY AND HIS HOUSE SUBCOMMITTEE? HABIB TOLD THE PRESIDENT THAT THE ADMINISTRATION WAS DEAD SET AGAINST OBEY'S REALLOCATION AND THAT SECRETARY SHULTZ HAD PERSONALLY INSTRUCTED HIM TO TELL PRESIDENT AZCONA THAT WE WOULD ENERGETICALLY FIGHT THE BILL ON THE FLOOR AND IN CONFERENCE. THE ADMINISTRATION WOULD MAKE A MAJOR EFFORT, HABIB SAID.

8. WHERE WAS THE PEACE PROCESS GOING NOW, HABIB ASKED? HOW ABOUT PREPARATION FOR THE NEXT ROUND AT ESQUIPULAS? SHOULD THE CORE FOUR NOT BE HOLDING DISCUSSIONS IN ANTICIPATION OF THE PROBLEMS TO BE CONFRONTED? HABIB SAID THAT PRESIDENT DUARTE HAD TOLD HIM THAT THERE HAD BEEN NO DISCUSSIONS AT ALL AMONG THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES SINCE THE SAN JOSE MEETING. WE WERE QUITE DISAPPOINTED THAT NO EFFORT HAD BEEN MADE. UNITY AND HARMONY AMONG THE DEMOCRATIC ALLIES WAS ESSENTIAL IN THE FACE OF OUR COMMON ENEMY, THE SANDINISTAS. HABIB ASKED: HOW DID AZCONA SEE THE SITUATION? WHAT COULD BE DONE TO IMPROVE ARIAS' PROPOSAL? AZCONA'S RESPONSE WAS BLUNT. ARIAS HAS MADE HIS PROPOSAL VERY ATTRACTIVE TO NICARAGUA; THEY WILL SIGN IT. BESIDES, THE U.S. SENATE HAS PRAISED IT SO FULSOMELY THAT ARIAS' PLAN IS NOW DIFFICULT TO CRITICIZE. IN THIS SENSE ESQUIPULAS IS A TRAP, AND THE PRESIDENT SAID, FRANKLY, THAT HE WOULD PREFER NOT TO GO. HABIB TOLD HIM THAT HE WAS TOO IMPORTANT NOT TO GO; THAT IT WAS THE SANDINISTAS THAT MUST BE SHOWN TO BE UNREASONABLE. IF AZCONA WERE NOT TO ATTEND, HIS ACTION WOULD NOT BE UNDERSTOOD. AS HE HAD WITH DUARTE, HABIB PARAPHRASED THE LANGUAGE OF THE SENATE RESOLUTION POINTING OUT THAT THE SENATE HAD IN FACT PRAISED THE HEADS OF GOVERNMENT OF CENTRAL AMERICA COLLECTIVELY, AND HAD NOT SPECIFICALLY SINGLED OUT ARIAS. THE LANGUAGE SPOKE OF THE INITIATIVE OF THE FOUR PRESIDENTS. HABIB WENT ON TO REMIND AZCONA THAT THE LAST TIME THEY HAD SPOKEN OF ARIAS' PLAN, IT WAS CONSIDERED A DRAFT MUCH IN NEED OF IMPROVEMENT. SINCE THEN VERY LITTLE DIALOGUE HAD TAKEN PLACE. AZCONA AGREED THAT LITTLE HAD BEEN DONE.

9. FOREIGN MINISTER LOPEZ CONTRERAS COMMENTED THAT HONDURAS COULD NOT GO TO ESQUIPULAS AND BE THE ONLY COUNTRY OBJECTING TO ARIAS' PLAN OR EVEN PAIRED WITH EL SALVADOR IN THIS POSITION AGAINST COSTA RICA, GUATEMALA AND NICARAGUA. HONDURAS CANNOT AFFORD TO BE CAST AS AN OBSTRUCTIONIST. AMBASSADOR BRIGGS SAID THAT FOR HONDURAS TO BE BLAMED FOR FAILURE AT ESQUIPULAS WOULD BE BAD; BUT A BAD AGREEMENT COULD BE WORSE.

10. ADDRESSING THE MINISTER, HABIB ASKED ABOUT THE PROSPECTS FOR A MEETING OF THE FOREIGN MINISTERS? HAD COSTA RICA'S MADRIGAL BEEN IN TOUCH TO ARRANGE A MEETING? LOPEZ CONTRERAS REPLIED THAT THEY HAD NOT BEEN IN TOUCH RECENTLY. PICKING UP THE POINT, PRESIDENT AZCONA SAID THAT IT WOULD BE VERY DIFFICULT FOR THE PRESIDENTS TO MEET PRIOR TO ESQUIPULAS BUT THAT THE FOREIGN MINISTERS CERTAINLY COULD AND SHOULD. HE SAID THAT THE POSITIONS OF EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS WERE CLOSE; THAT MINISTER ACEVEDO WAS A TRUSTWORTHY MAN; AND THAT HONDURAS WOULD TAKE THE INITIATIVE WITH EL SALVADOR, AND PERHAPS WITH THE OTHERS AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. THE PRESIDENT OBSERVED THAT PERHAPS HONDURAS COULD INFUSE THE PROCESS WITH SOME MUCH-NEEDED DYNAMISM. LOPEZ

CONTRERAS SAID THAT THE TIMING WOULD BE RIGHT TO APPROACH EL SALVADOR NOW, FIRST; AND THAT THERE WERE OTHER DEVELOPMENTS TO WATCH, NAMELY, THAT CEREZO WAS GOING TO NICARAGUA THIS WEEK AND THAT ARIAS WAS SENDING A DELEGATION TO MANAGUA AS WELL. THE MINISTER SAID THAT BILATERAL MEETINGS WOULD PROVE TO BE USEFUL. HABIB SAID HE WOULD URGE MADRIGAL TO CALL THE FOREIGN MINISTERS TOGETHER. AMBASSADOR BRIGGS EMPHASIZED THAT THE MAIN POINT WAS NOT TO LEAVE THE INITIATIVE TO OTHERS, I.E., THE SANDINISTAS. TO AZCONA, HABIB SAID THAT DUARTE HAD TOLD HIM THAT HE CANNOT TAKE THE LEAD ROLE THIS TIME. DUARTE FEELS THAT HE IS TOO WEAK AND PREOCCUPIED DOMESTICALLY TO PLAY THE LEAD ROLE THIS TIME.

12. AZCONA ASKED IF HABIB HAD SEEN GUATEMALA'S FOREIGN MINISTER QUINONES ON THIS TRIP. HABIB SAID HE WAS SAVING THAT FOR AFTER CEREZO HAD RETURNED FROM MANAGUA AND THAT AMBASSADOR BRIGGS WOULD GIVE AZCONA A READ-OUT OF THE MEETING NEXT WEEK. HABIB ASKED IF AZCONA'S RELATIONS WITH CEREZO WERE STILL STRAINED. THE PRESIDENT SAID THEY WERE NOT. BUT THEN HE SARDONICALLY COMMENTED THAT IT WAS TOO BAD THE U.S. CONGRESS INSISTED ON GIVING CEREZO SO MUCH MORE MONEY. HABIB SAID THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT THAT THE DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTS REMAIN ON GOOD TERMS; THAT THE SANDINISTAS NOT BE ABLE TO SET THEM AGAINST EACH OTHER.

13. AZCONA SPECULATED THAT IF HE, ARIAS AND DUARTE COULD ONLY AGREE, CEREZO WOULD FIND IT DIFFICULT NOT TO COME ALONG. GUATEMALA, HOWEVER, WAS SUBJECT TO PRESSURE FROM MEXICO AND THIS WAS ALWAYS A FACTOR TO BE CONSIDERED. THE SANDINISTAS, AZCONA SAID, WILL SIGN ANYTHING IN ORDER TO GAIN TIME FOR THE U.S. ADMINISTRATION TO TURN IN THEIR FAVOR. HABIB REPLIED THAT THE CURRENT DOCUMENT WAS FRONT-

EXDIS EXDIS EXDIS EXDIS

UNCLASSIFIED

LOADED IN FAVOR OF NICARAGUA AND THAT AMONG OTHER THINGS THE SEQUENCE WAS ALL WRONG. HE MENTIONED AGAIN THAT THE SALVADORANS HAD DONE SOME GOOD WORK ON THE SEQUENCE PROBLEM. AS FOR MEXICO, HABIB SAID IT WAS TRUE THAT

Department of State UNCLASSIFIED S/S-O INCOMI

CEREZO HAD TO TAKE THE MEXICAN POSITION INTO ACOUNT. MOREOVER, HE HAD GOTTEN THE IMPRESSION HIMSELF WHEN RECENTLY IN MEXICO THAT FONMIN SEPULVEDA SAW THE ARIAS PLAN AS UNWELCOME COMPETITION TO CONTADORA, AND THAT THERE WOULD BE EVEN GREATER UNHAPPINESS IF CONTADORA WERE IGNORED. AZCONA OBSERVED THAT CONTADORA HAD NOT SUCCEEDED BECAUSE IT LACKED THE VITAL INGREDIENT - REAL PRESSURE ON NICARAGUA, MILITARY PRESSURE. THE MEXICANS DON'T AGREE ABOUT MILITARY PRESSURE SAID HABIB, BUT THEY CAN'T IGNORE CORE FOUR UNITY.

16. GENERAL REGALADO SAID THAT IN FACT THE CONTRAS WERE DOING VERY WELL INDEED. JUST TODAY, HE HAD RECEIVED A FULL REPORT FROM COL. GUTIERREZ ON THE STATUS OF THE FIGHTING INSIDE NICARAGUA. HE AND HIS STAFF ARE VERY IMPRESSED WITH WHAT THE CONTRAS SEEM TO BE ACCOMPLISHING, FAR MORE THAN THEY HAD EXPECTED. THE CONTRAS, HE SAID, HAVE SET SPECIFIC MILITARY OBJECTIVES, ESTABLISHED TIMETABLES AND ARE ACHIEVING THEIR GOALS. THERE IS GOOD EVIDENCE THAT THEY HAVE SHOT DOWN FOUR HELICOPTERS INCLUDING AT LEAST ONE ARMED MI-24. ONE PARTICULARLY TALENTED INDIVIDUAL IS REPORTEDLY CREDITED WITH TWO KILLS, USING A SAM-7. ANOTHER ENCOURAGING SIGN WAS THAT ANTI-GOVERNMENT SLOGANS WERE NOW APPEARING ON CITY WALLS IN MANAGUA. AZCONA SAID THAT IT WAS EQUALLY IMPORTANT FOR UNO TO GET ITS POLITICAL ACT TOGETHER. HE WAS, HOWEVER, CONTEMPTUOUS OF ALFREDO CESAR AND ARTURO CRUZ, JR., CHARACTERIZING THEM AS WORTHLESS (NO

17. AZCONA SAID THE SENATE VOTE AFFIRMING CONTINUED AID TO THE CONTRAS WAS VERY IMPORTANT AND PROVIDED RENEWED HOPE. HE WAS ENCOURAGED BY THE FACT PRESIDENT REAGAN DIDN'T HAVE TO USE HIS VETO POWER. HABIB AGREED, BUT SAID THAT POLITICAL PRESSURE FROM THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES WOULD BE AN ESSENTIAL FACTOR FOR THE FUTURE. THE DIPLOMATIC/NEGOTIATION TRACK WAS VERY IMPORTANT. IT MUST BE UNDERSTOOD THAT EVERY EFFORT IN THIS REGARD HAD BEEN MADE. GOOD FAITH HERE WAS KEY TO CONGRESSIONAL SUPPORT FOR FUTURE MILITARY ASSISTANCE TO THE CONTRAS.

19. COMMENT: THIS VISIT MORE THAN PAID FOR ITSELF. WHILE SKEPTICAL OF ARIAS' PLAN AND DOUBTFUL ABOUT PROSPECTS FOR ESQUIPULAS, PRESIDENT AZCONA IS NOW ENERGIZED AND WILLING TO ENGAGE THE PEACE PROCESS AND PREPARE FOR ESQUIPULAS WITH HONDURAS PLAYING A LEADERSHIP ROLE (THROUGH FONMIN LOPEZ CONTRERAS). WITH DUARTE APPARENTLY DOWN IN THE DUMPS - AT LEAST AT THE MOMENT - IT IS VERY IMPORTANT THAT THE DEMOCRACIES HAVE SOMEONE TO TAKE THE INITIATIVE WHO UNDERSTANDS AND IS PREPARED TO WORK TO IMPROVE THE ARIAS PROPOSALS.

Dear Mr. Ambassador:

We have had the privilege of meeting Mr. Ulises Gomez, only recently released from prison in Chile, after 7 terrible years as a political detainee. His experiences and insights into the situation in Chile are truly enlightening.

As an expression of our regard for his heroism and commitment to the highest ideals of a journalistic free press, democracy and human rights, we have conveyed to Mr. Gomez the enclosed Resolution on behalf of the California Senate Rules Committee, a ceremony carried out on the floor of the Senate February 9, 1987 followed by a reception in honor of Mr. Gomez.

I hope you will take notice of this action and share it with appropriate colleagues and the press as you see fit. We shall continue to take a keen interest in the human rights conditions in Chile and support every effort to restore full democracy and the rule of law there given the significant commercial relations which exist between Chile and California.

Sincerely,

Diane E. Watson

SUBJECT: TORTURE IN CHILE

1. C - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. IN A ONE-ON-ONE MEETING ON MARCH 23, HA ASSISTANT SECRETARY SCHIFTER HANDED CHILEAN AMBASSADOR ERRAZURIZ A COPY OF THE RECENT AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL REPORT ON TORTURE IN CHILE. COMMENTING ON THE REPORT, SCHIFTER SAID THAT HE WAS NOT PREPARED TO STATE WITH CERTAINTY THAT ALL OF THE ALLEGATIONS CONTAINED IN THE REPORT WERE TRUE, BUT THAT HE BELIEVED THAT MUCH THAT WAS CONTAINED IN THE REPORT MAY VERY WELL BE TRUE. HE ADDED THAT THE VICTIMS ARE LIKELY TO HAVE BEEN INVOLVED IN THE PINOCHET ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AND THE ASSEMBLING OF THE ILLEGAL ARMS CACHE, BUT THAT WOULD NOT JUSTIFY THEIR BEING TORTURED. ALL THE PROGRESS WHICH CHILE IS MAKING IN LAYING A FOUNDATION FOR A DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION, HE OBSERVED, WAS BEING NEGATED BY THESE REPORTS ON TORTURE IN CHILE. HE REMINDED ERRAZURIZ OF THE FACT THAT IN PREVIOUS CONVERSATIONS ON ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

TORTURE, ERRAZURIZ HAD ASKED FOR SPECIFIC ALLEGATIONS. HERE, SCHIFTER CONCLUDED, WERE SPECIFICS THAT DESERVED BEING LOOKED INTO.

3. ERRAZURIZ TOOK THE MATTER MOST SERIOUSLY. HE SAID THAT HE SOMETIMES DESPAIRED WHETHER ANY STEPS TAKEN BY

THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE ON THE ROAD BACK TO DEMOCRACY WOULD EVER BE WELCOMED IN LIGHT OF HIS COUNTRY'S NEGATIVE IMAGE. NEVERTHELESS, HE ADDED, IF TORTURE TAKES PLACE, IT MUST BE ENDED FOR MORAL REASONS. HE SAID HE WOULD TRANSMIT THE AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL REPORT WITH SCHIFTER'S COMMENT THAT HE BELIEVES THAT THE ALLEGATIONS MAY VERY WELL BE TRUE. THE REACTION OF SOME GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS IN SANTIAGO, HE SPECULATED, WILL BE: "THERE GOES ERRAZURIZ AGAIN. NOW HE IS TAKEN IN BY AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL." HE CONTINUED HIS MUSINGS BY NOTING THAT A GOOD MANY PEOPLE IN THE CHILEAN SECURITY FORCES HAVE HERETOFORE BEEN KILLED OR MAIMED IN TERRORIST ATTACKS. SOME SECURITY PEOPLE, HE HINTED, HAVE TOLD HIM THAT IT IS SOMETIMES NECESSARY TO PLAY ROUGH TO GET THE INFORMATION NECESSARY TO PREVENT FURTHER TERRORISM. HE CONCLUDED, HOWEVER, THAT IN SPITE OF ALL OF THAT, CHILE'S GOVERNMENT SHOULD NOT BE INVOLVED IN TORTURE.

5. SUPPORTING THIS POINT, SCHIFTER OBSERVED THAT ARGUMENTS SIMILAR TO THOSE TO WHICH ERRAZURIZ HAD JUST REFERRED HAD BEEN RAISED IN TURKEY AND EL SALVADOR AND THAT BOTH OF THESE COUNTRIES HAD TAKEN SIGNIFICANT STEPS TO END THE PRACTICE OF TORTURE.

6. AT THE CONCLUSION OF THE MEETING, ERRAZURIZ PRESENTED TO SCHIFTER THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT'S COMMENTS

2. SUMMARY: ON MARCH 24, AMBASSADOR HABIB AND CHARGE MELTON MET WITH COSTA RICAN PRESIDENT ARIAS, FOREIGN MINISTER MADRIGAL, AND MINISTER OF THE PRESIDENCY RODRIGO ARIAS. IN A PRELIMINARY MEETING WITH MADRIGAL, HABIB NOTED HIS DISAPPOINTMENT THAT SINCE HIS LAST VISIT IN FEBRUARY THERE HAD BEEN NO REAL CONSULTATIONS AMONG THE DEMOCRACIES AND THAT VALUABLE TIME TO COORDINATE WAS BEING LOST. MADRIGAL REPLIED THAT COSTA RICA HAD REPEATEDLY TRIED TO ARRANGE FOR MEETINGS WITH EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS, BUT THAT THOSE TWO NATIONS WERE NOT RESPONDING. COSTA RICA WANTED TO HAVE VICE MINISTERIAL LEVEL MEETINGS TO BE FOLLOWED BY MEETINGS AT THE MINISTERIAL LEVEL TO DEAL WITH ANY PARTICULARLY DIFFICULT ISSUES.

WILLINGNESS TO DEMOCRATIZE. HABIB REPEATEDLY STRESSED THE IMPORTANCE OF UNITY AMONG THE DEMOCRACIES. THE SANDINISTAS WOULD SEEK TO EXPLOIT ANY DIFFERENCES AND DIVIDE THE DEMOCRACIES. IT COULD RESULT IN A 2-3 SPLIT, WITH NICARAGUA ACCEPTING THE CURRENT DRAFT OF THE ARIAS PROPOSALS, AND WITH COSTA RICA AND GUATEMALA CONCURRING. MADRIGAL AGREED THAT THIS OUTCOME WOULD BE A DISASTER AND MUST BE AVOIDED. HE DOUBTED THAT THE SANDINISTAS COULD EVER ACCEPT A PLAN THAT REQUIRED THEM TO DEMOCRATIZE, BUT HE ACKNOWLEDGED THAT IF THEY WERE CONVINCED THAT EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS WOULD NOT SIGN, THEY MIGHT DECLARE THEIR ACCEPTANCE AS A TACTICAL MANEUVER. THE GOCR HAD NOT BEEN IN CONTACT WITH THE NICARAGUAN DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE ABOUT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS, AND HABIB NOTED THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT TO CONSULT WITH THE RESISTANCE, AS THEY MUST CONCUR IN ANY AGREEMENT IF IT IS TO SUCCEED. HABIB POINTED OUT THAT THE U.S. HAD BEEN VERY SUPPORTIVE OF THE EFFORT BY THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES TO PROMOTE DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA. HE NOTED THE SEVERE DEFICIENCIES IN THE MILITARY AND SECURITY ASPECTS OF THE PROPOSALS AS THEY NOW STOOD. MADRIGAL STATED THAT HE WOULD TAKE PROMPT ACTION TO CONSULT WITH THE DEMOCRACIES AND WAS CONFIDENT THAT THERE WAS SUFFICIENT TIME TO ATTAIN A UNIFIED POSITION BEFORE ESQUIPULAS.

3. HABIB AND MELTON THEN CALLED ON PRESIDENT ARIAS WHO WAS ACCOMPANIED BY MINISTER OF THE PRESIDENCY RODRIGO ARIAS AS WELL AS BY MADRIGAL. ARIAS SAID THAT HE HAD JUST RECEIVED A LETTER FROM UNO AND HAD NOT HAD A CHANCE TO READ IT. HABIB EMPHASIZED THAT THE POSITION OF THE RESISTANCE MUST BE TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT. HABIB EXPRESSED HIS CONCERN ABOUT THE LACK OF CONSULTATIONS AMONG THE DEMOCRACIES SINCE THE SAN JOSE SUMMIT AND NOTED THAT HE WAS PLEASED TO LEARN FROM MADRIGAL THAT COSTA RICA WOULD NOW REDOUBLE ITS EFFORTS TO GET THE PROCESS UNDERWAY. THAT HE WOULD SOON SEND MADRIGAL TO NICARAGUA TO DISCUSS THE PROPOSALS WITH THE SANDINISTAS. HIS INTENTION WAS TO PUSH THE SANDINISTAS ON THE POLITICAL ASPECT OF THE PROPOSALS. HABIB SAID THAT WE AND THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES AGREED WITH THE FOCUS ON DEMOCRACY. HE POINTED OUT THAT THE OTHER ISSUES COULD NOT BE NEGLECTED, HOWEVER, AND THAT THE PROPOSALS WOULD HAVE TO PROVIDE

FOR A PROCESS OF DIALOGUE AMONG THE VARIOUS PARTIES WHICH WOULD DEAL FULLY WITH KEY MATTERS SUCH AS THE TERMS OF A CEASE-FIRE AND THE NATURE OF THE POLITICAL SYSTEM. HABIB ASSURED ARIAS THAT THIS ADMINISTRATION WAS DETERMINED TO PURSUE ITS POLICY OF PROMOTING DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA. HE REEMPHASIZED THE NEED FOR COSTA RICA TO WORK WITH THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES TO ACHIEVE UNITY. HE POINTED OUT THAT THE FINAL VERSION OF THE PROPOSALS SHOULD HAVE THE SANDINISTAS' ACTIONS TOWARD DEMOCRACY AT THE BEGINNING OF THE SEQUENCE. HE SAID THAT THE GROWING MILITARY PRESSURE FROM THE RESISTANCE AND THE INTERNAL PRESSURE IN THE FORM OF DISSATIS-FACTION WITH THE REGIME WERE FACTORS IN FAVOR OF HIS STRATEGY. FOR IT TO WORK, HOWEVER, THERE MUST BE ADDED PRESSURE IN THE FORM OF UNITY OF THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES. END SUMMARY.

THE PRESIDENCY RODRIGO ARIAS TO DISCUSS THE NEGOTIATING TRACK IN CENTRAL AMERICA AND PARTICULARLY THE ARIAS PROPOSALS. THEY FIRST MET MADRIGAL AT THE FOREIGN MINISTRY FOR NEARLY ONE HOUR. HABIB OPENED THE MEETING BY INFORMING MADRIGAL THAT ON THIS TRIP HE INTENDED TO VISIT THE FOUR CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES AND THE FOUR CONTADORA COUNTRIES. HE EXPLAINED THAT, ALTHOUGH THE DEMOCRACIES NOW HAD THE INITIATIVE ON THE NEGOTIATING TRACK, IT WAS IMPORTANT TO KEEP IN TOUCH WITH CONTADORA. MADRIGAL AGREED, ADDING THAT COSTA RICA HAD RECEIVED MESSAGES FROM THE CONTADORA COUNTRIES THAT THEY DID NOT WANT TO BE IGNORED AND THAT IT WOULD CREATE RESISTANCE TO THE ARIAS PRO-POSALS IF THEY WERE NEGLECTED. HABIB THEN NOTED HIS DISAPPOINTMENT THAT SINCE HIS LAST VISIT IN FEBRUARY, THERE HAD BEEN NO REAL CONSULTATIONS AMONG THE DEMOCRACIES. HABIB STRESSED THAT VALUABLE TIME TO COORDINATE WAS BEING LOST AND ASKED WHEN THE ESQUIPULAS SUMMIT WOULD BE HELD. MADRIGAL REPLIED THAT HE WAS SUGGESTING THAT IT BE HELD IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING THE JUNE 17-20 SEMINAR IN NEW ORLEANS ARRANGED BY THE MAYOR OF NEW ORLEANS

DENTS. ARIAS' INITIAL REACTION TO THIS IDEA WAS THAT IT WOULD BE BETTER TO WAIT FOR AT LEAST 30 DAYS AFTER THE NEW ORLEANS MEETING, WHICH WOULD PUSH ESQUIPULAS BACK UNTIL JULY. UPON REFLECTION, ARIAS HAD THEN CONCLUDED THAT THIS WOULD BE TOO LATE, BECAUSE IT WAS IMPORTANT THAT THE SUMMIT BE HELD IN TIME TO GIVE NICARAGUA 60 DAYS IN WHICH TO IMPLEMENT A GENUINE POLITICAL OPENING BEFORE THE SEPTEMBER DEBATE IN THE U.S. CONGRESS ON AID TO THE DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE. THE SANDINISTAS WOULD EITHER HAVE TO SHOW THEIR TRUE COLORS, WHICH WOULD MAKE OBTAINING THE AID EASIER, OR BEGIN A PROCESS OF DEMOCRATIZATION THAT WOULD RESULT IN THEIR DOWNFALL. HABIB COMMENTED THAT THE DATE FOR ESQUIPULAS KEPT SLIPPING FURTHER AND FURTHER INTO THE FUTURE.

COSTA RICA HAD SOUGHT A MEETING WITH SALVADORAN VICE FOREIGN MINISTER MAZA MARTELLI, BUT WAS TOLD THAT HE WAS NOT READY BECAUSE PRESIDENT DUARTE HAD NOT REVIEWED THEIR POSITION PAPER. COSTA RICA ALSO SOUGHT A MEETING WITH HONDURAN OFFICIAL JORGE HERNANDEZ. BUT HE WAS NOT ANSWERING THEIR REQUESTS. COSTA RICA WANTED TO HAVE VICE MINISTERIAL LEVEL MEETINGS INDIVIDUALLY WITH THE GOES AND THE GOH TO LEARN THEIR POSITIONS AND ESTABLISH WHAT POINTS THEY AGREED UPON AND WHAT REVISIONS THEY WANTED. THIS COULD BE FOLLOWED BY MEETINGS AT THE MINISTERIAL LEVEL TO DEAL WITH ANY PARTICULARLY DIFFICULT ISSUE. MADRIGAL EMPHASIZED THAT THE GOCR INTENDED TO BE FLEXIBLE. IF THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES WANTED JOINT MEETINGS, THE GOCR WOULD AGREE. THE NEXT PHASE WOULD BE TO GET GUATEMALA ON BOARD.

6. HABIB SAID THAT IN HIS CONVERSATIONS WITH THE GOES AND THE GOH, HE HAD BEEN TOLD THAT COSTA RICA HAD NOT TAKEN THE INITIATIVE TO ARRANGE CONSULTATIONS AND HE WAS PLEASED TO LEARN THAT THE GOCR WAS INDEED TRYING TO DO SO. HABIB NOTED THAT BOTH EL SALVADOR AND

HONDURAS WERE DEEPLY CONCERNED THAT COSTA RICA WOULD NOT ACCEPT THEIR PROPOSED CHANGES. IN BOTH CAPITALS, IT HAD BEEN POINTED OUT THAT DURING THE MEETING ON THE EVE OF THE FEBRUARY 15 SAN JOSE SUMMIT, THE GOES AND THE GOH HAD MADE KNOWN THEIR OBSERVATIONS TO THE GOCR. BUT COSTA RICA HAD IGNORED THEIR CONCERNS AND ANNOUNCED ITS OWN DRAFT. THIS HAD GREATLY TROUBLED THEM AND CAUSED THEM TO QUESTION COSTA RICA'S INTENTIONS. MADRIGAL ASSURED HABIB THAT COSTA RICA WAS INDEED PREPARED TO ACCEPT CHANGES. THE PROBLEM AT SAN JOSE WAS THAT THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES WANTED TOO MANY CHANGES TO WORK THEM ALL OUT IN ONE DAY. EL SALVADOR, IN PARTICULAR, HAD MANY SUGGESTIONS BASED ON THE FACT THAT IT HAD ITS OWN INSURGENCY AND MUST CONSIDER HOW ANY AGREEMENT WOULD AFFECT ITS SITUATION. THE ONLY QUICK WAY TO ACCOMMODATE ALL OF EL SALVADOR'S RESERVATIONS WOULD HAVE BEEN TO MAKE THE PROPOSALS APPLY ONLY TO NICARAGUA. HOWEVER, GUATEMALA MADE IT CLEAR THAT IT WOULD NOT ACCEPT A PLAN DIRECTED ONLY AT NICARAGUA. SINCE IT WAS IMPOSSIBLE TO REACH AN AGREE-

RICA OPTED TO PUT ITS OWN IDEAS ON THE RECORD, WITH THE UNDERSTANDING THAT THE PROPOSALS WERE A DRAFT SUBJECT TO CHANGE. COSTA RICA WAS ON THE SIDE OF EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS, AND IT WAS PREPARED TO ACCEPT CHANGES SO LONG AS THEY DID NOT ALTER THE UNDERLYING PRINCIPLE OF THE ARIAS PROPOSALS, WHICH WAS TO PUT TO THE TEST THE SANDINISTAS' WILLINGNESS TO DEMOCRATIZE. FOR EXAMPLE, IF THE GOES AND THE GOH WANTED TO HAVE THE CEASE-FIRE COME AS THE RESULT OF DIALOGUE, THAT COULD BE DONE. COSTA RICA DID NOT KNOW THE SPECIFICS OF HOW IT COULD BE ARRANGED BUT ENVISIONED HAVING SOME FORM OF INTERNATIONAL SUPERVISION OF THE CEASE-FIRE, PRESUMABLY BY THE OAS. MADRIGAL INSISTED THAT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS WERE A STEP FORWARD; IN FOUR YEARS, CONTADORA HAD ACHIEVED NOTHING, NOR HAD THE NICARAGUAN DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE. THIS WAS A NEW APPROACH WHICH WOULD BOX IN THE SANDINISTAS IN A VERY LIMITED TIME FRAME.

7. HABIB REPEATEDLY STRESSED THE IMPORTANCE OF UNITY AMONG THE DEMOCRACIES. UNLESS THEY WERE UNITED, THIS INITIATIVE COULD TURN INTO A DISASTER. THE SANDINISTAS WOULD SEEK TO EXPLOIT ANY DIFFERENCES AND DIVIDE THE DEMOCRACIES. HE ADVISED MADRIGAL THAT

THE GOES AND GOH WERE CONCERNED THAT COSTA RICA HAD BROKEN THE EXISTING UNITY. THEY FEARED THAT RATHER THAN HAVE THE PROCESS BOX IN NICARAGUA IT COULD RESULT IN A 2-3 SPLIT, WITH NICARAGUA ACCEPTING THE CURRENT DRAFT OF THE ARIAS PROPOSALS AND WITH COSTA RICA AND GUATEMALA CONCURRING. MADRIGAL AGREED THAT THIS OUTCOME WOULD BE A DISASTER AND MUST BE AVOIDED. HE DOUBTED THAT THE SANDINISTAS COULD EVER ACCEPT A PLAN THAT REQUIRED THEM TO DEMOCRATIZE, BUT HE ACKNOWLEDGED THAT IF THEY WERE CONVINCED THAT EL SALVADOR AND HUNDURAS WOULD NOT SIGN, THEY MIGHT DECLARE THEIR ACCEPTANCE AS A TACTICAL MANEUVER. HE ADDED THAT IF DRASTIC CHANGES WERE MADE IN THE PROPOSALS IN ORDER TO OBTAIN UNITY THIS WOULD GIVE THE SANDINISTAS AN EXCUSE TO REJECT THEM OR TO ASK FOR 60-90 DAYS TO STUDY THE CHANGES, THUS DRAWING OUT THE PROCESS WITHOUT BEING PUT TO THE TEST. HABIB REPLIED THAT IF THE CHANGES SERVED TO STRENGTHEN THE PROPOSALS IN A WAY THAT WAS PERCEIVED AS FAIR AND REASONABLE, THE SANDINISTAS WOULD

NOT BE ABLE TO USE THAT ARGUMENT. WHILE IT WOULD BE BEST IF THERE WERE AGREEMENT THAT BROUGHT PEACE AND DEMOCRACY, IF THE INITIATIVE FAILED IT MUST BE CLEAR TO ALL THAT THE SANDINISTAS WERE TO BLAME BECAUSE THEY REFUSED TO ACCEPT DEMOCRACY. MADRIGAL AGREED, ADDING THAT HE DOUBTED THAT THE SANDINISTAS COULD EVER ACCEPT IN GOOD FAITH AN AGREEMENT THAT INCLUDED DEMOCRACY.

8. HABIB ASKED IF THE GOCR HAD BEEN IN CONTACT WITH THE NICARAGUAN DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE ABOUT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS. MADRIGAL REFERRED TO THE TELEX FROM THE UNO DIRECTORATE AND THE LETTER FROM BOS RECEIVED IN FEBRUARY. HABIB ASKED IF HE KNEW WHETHER UNO HAD EVEN SEEN THE PROPOSALS WHEN THEY HAD SENT THE TELEX, AND MADRIGAL ACKNOWLEDTED THAT HE DID NOT. MADRIGAL REMARKED THAT THE POSITION OF THE RESISTANCE WILL REFLECT WHAT HAPPENS ON THE GROUND IN NICARAGUA. HABIB NOTED THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT TO CONSULT WITH THE RESISTANCE, AS THEY MUST CONCUR IN ANY AGREEMENT IF IT IS TO SUCCEED.

TRATION HAD BEEN VERY SUPPORTIVE OF THE INITIATIVE. WE WELCOMED AN EFFORT BY THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES TO PROMOTE DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA. WE HAD OUR OWN INTERESTS IN THE REGION, AND UP UNTIL NOW OUR POSITION HAS BEEN IN HARMONY WITH THAT OF COSTA RICA BECAUSE WE BOTH WANTED THE SAME THING: DEMOCRACY. MADRIGAL ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE USG HAD GIVEN APPROPRIATE SUPPORT TO THE INITIATIVE. HABIB REITERATED THAT IT WAS NECESSARY FOR THE DEMOCRACIES TO ACHIEVE UNITY AND TO IMPROVE THE PROPOSALS SO THAT IF THE SANDINISTAS ACCEPTED, THEY WOULD SERVE THE INTENDED PURPOSE. HE NOTED THE SEVERE DEFICIENCES IN THE MILITARY AND SECURITY ASPECTS. HE POINTED OUT ONCE AGAIN THE NEED TO GET THE CONSULTATION PROCESS MOVING IMMEDIATELY. REMARKED THAT THIS WAS VERY IMPORTANT. ARIAS NOTED THAT HE HAD MET EARLIER WITH PANAMANIAN PRESIDENT DELVALLE, ADDING THAT DELVALLE WANTED TO VISIT HIM IN COSTA RICA BEFORE FOREIGN MINISTER ABADIA DEPARTED FOR THE CONTADORA MEETING IN ARGENTINA IN MID-APRIL. HABIB SAID THAT HE HAD MET WITH THE POLITICAL LEADERSHIP OF UNO AND BOS AND FOUND THEM TO BE SURPRISINGLY FLEXIBLE ABOUT NEGOTIATIONS. ARIAS SAID THAT HE HAD JUST RECEIVED A LETTER FROM UNO AND HAD NOT HAD A CHANCE TO READ IT. (UNO DIRECTORATE MEMBER PEDRO JOAQUIN CHAMORRO WAS SEEN DEPARTING THE PRESIDENT'S OFFICE BUILDING JUST AS HABIB ARRIVED.) HABIB EMPHASIZED THAT THE POSITION OF THE RESISTANCE MUST BE TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT.

ABOUT THE NEED FOR UNITY AND THE DANGERS THAT THE SANDINISTAS COULD USE THE INITIATIVE TO DIVIDE THE DEMOCRACIES AND STRING OUT THE PROCESS. HE ALSO REFERRED TO THE NEED TO IMPROVE THE PROPOSALS IN AREAS SUCH AS MILITARY AND SECURITY ISSUES, VERIFICATION, AND THE SEQUENCE OF EVENTS. HE ASKED ARIAS WHAT HE THOUGHT ABOUT THE DELAY IN HOLDING ESQUIPULAS. ARIAS RESPONDED THAT THERE WERE MANY PROBLEMS IN SCHEDULING THE SUMMIT. BOTH HE AND HONDURAN PRESIDENT AZCONA WERE TRAVELLING TO EUROPE IN MAY. GUATEMALAN PRESIDENT CEREZO WAS GOING ON AN OFFICIAL TRIP TO WASHINGTON AND WANTED TO DELAY ESQUIPULAS UNTIL AFTER HE RETURNED. THE JUNE MEETING IN NEW ORLEANS WAS ANOTHER COMPLICATION. ARIAS SAID HE WAS NOW THINKING ABOUT THE THIRD WEEK IN JUNE, NOTING THAT THERE HAD TO BE TIME TO TEST THE SANDINISTAS BEFORE THE CONGRESS TOOK UP AID TO THE RESISTANCE IN SEPTEMBER. HABIB CAUTIONED THAT THE SANDINISTAS MIGHT WELL TRY TO DELAY THE PROCESS, AND ARIAS REPLIED THAT HE WOULD NOT PERMIT THIS; THAT WAS PRECISELY THE PURPOSE OF SPECIFYING A TIMETABLE.

HE SAID THAT THEY, AND NATURALLY WASHINGTON, WOULD THEN BE BLAMED. HABIB REPLIED THAT IF THE AGREEMENT IS GOOD, THE USG WOULD SUPPORT IT; IF NOT, WE WOULD NOT. HE SAID THAT THERE WAS LITTLE DIFFERENCE AMONG THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES ABOUT THE NEED FOR DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA. THIS WAS THE HEART OF THE PROPOSALS. THE DEMOCRACIES SHOULD PROCEED TO WORK OUT THE OTHER POINTS SO THAT THEY COULD REESTABLISH THEIR PREVIOUS HARMONY. ARIAS WORRIED THAT EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS WOULD ASK FOR SO MANY CHANGES THAT IT WOULD DETRACT FROM THE REAL ISSUE OF DEMOCRACY AND THE NEED TO PUT NICARAGUA TO THE TEST. HABIB WARNED ARIAS OF THE CAPACITY OF COMMUNISTS TO PLAY OFF DEMOCRACIES AGAINST EACH OTHER, AND ARIAS CONCEDED THAT THIS WORRIED HIM. ARIAS URGED HABIB TO PERSUADE CEREZO TO SUPPORT HIS PROPOSALS, SAYING THAT GUATEMALA'S ROLE WAS CRITICAL AND THAT ALTHOUGH CEREZO WAS WITH THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES IN SPIRIT, HE WAS CONCERNED ABOUT CONTADORA AND MEXICO.

ARIAS ASKED IF HABIB WAS SEEING SALVADORAN GENERAL BLANDON AND HONDURAN GENERAL REGALADO, EXPLAINING THAT THEY HAD GREAT INFLUENCE. HE SAID THAT BLANDON IN PARTICULAR INHIBITED DUARTE FROM PLAYING A MORE POSITIVE ROLE IN SUPPORTING HIS PROPOSALS. HABIB ASSURED ARIAS THAT BLANDON AND REGALADO FULLY UNDERSTOOD THE USG'S SUPPORT FOR CIVILIAN DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT. WHEN HABIB MENTIONED THAT HE WOULD MEET WITH PANAMANIAN GENERAL NORIEGA ON THIS TRIP, ARIAS RESPONDED THAT THIS WOULD BE VERY USEFUL, AS FONMIN ABADIA WAS NORIEGA'S MAN. ARIAS SAID THAT IN HIS MEETING WITH NORIEGA EARLIER THIS MONTH, HE HAD ASKED THE GENERAL TO TALK WITH BLANDON AND PERSUADE HIM TO GIVE PRESIDENT DUARTE MORE SPACE IN WHICH TO OPERATE REGARDING THE ARIAS PROPOSALS. THAT WE AND ARIAS SHOULD BE CAREFUL ABOUT GETTING THE MILITARY INVOLVED IN THIS PROCESS AT A TIME WHEN WE WERE SEEKING TO ASSERT THE PRINCIPLE OF CIVILIAN CONTROL OVER THE MILITARY.

14. ARIAS SAID THAT HE WOULD SOON SEND MADRIGAL TO NICARAGUA TO DISCUSS THE PROPOSALS WITH THE SANDINISTAS. HE HAD CONSIDERED GOING HIMSELF, BUT HAD DECIDED AGAINST IT. HABIB AGREED THAT IT WOULD BE UNWISE TO EXPOSE HIMSELF IN THAT FASHION AND THAT MADRIGAL IS THE RIGHT MAN FOR THE JOB. ARIAS SAID THAT HIS INTENTION WAS TO PUSH THE SANDINISTAS ON THE POLITICAL ASPECTS OF THE PROPOSALS. HE EXPLAINED THAT CONTADORA HAD FOCUSED ON THE SECURITY ASPECTS FOR FOUR YEARS WITHOUT SUCCESS, AND HE WOULD NOT FOLLOW CONTADORA'S EXAMPLE. HABIB SAID THAT WE AND THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES

AGREED WITH THE FOCUS ON DEMOCRACY. HE POINTED OUT THAT THE OTHER ISSUES COULD NOT BE NEGLECTED, HOWEVER, AND THAT THE PROPOSALS WOULD HAVE TO PROVIDE FOR A PROCESS OF DIALOGUE AMONG THE VARIOUS PARTIES THAT WOULD DEAL FULLY WITH KEY MATTERS SUCH AS THE TERMS OF A CEASE-FIRE AND THE NATURE OF THE POLITICAL SYSTEM. HE ASKED WHAT COSTA RICA HAD HEARD THUS FAR FROM NICARAGUA. MADRIGAL ANSWERED THAT THERE HAD BEEN NO FORMAL RESPONSE. THE NICARAGUAN COMMUNIQUE ON THE PROPOSALS HAD BEEN ISSUED BEFORE COSTA RICA ACTUALLY DELIVERED THE PROPOSALS TO THE NICARAGUAN EMBASSY IN SAN JOSE, SO IT DID NOT CONSTITUTE A REPLY. COSTA RICA HAD HEARD INFORMALLY THAT NICARAGUA WAS NOT READY TO ACCEPT DEMOCRACY. MADRIGAL SAID THAT THE PROPOSALS WERE VERY STRICT ON ELECTIONS, FOR EXAMPLE, AND CALLED FOR THEM TO BE SUPERVISED BY THE OAS, NOT MERELY OBSERVED. HE MADE A POINT THAT THE SPANISH WORD USED IN THE TEXT (VIGILADAS) WAS ACTUALLY EVEN STRONGER THAN THE ENGLISH WORD SUPERVISED. THE SANDINISTAS WOULD FIND THIS VERY DIFFICULT TO ACCEPT.

15. HABIB RAISED THE ISSUE OF THE CONTADORA CONNECTION TO THE PROPOSALS. HE NOTED THAT MEXICAN FOREIGN SECRETARY SEPULVEDA HAD MADE CLEAR THAT HE WOULD OPPOSE ANY PLAN THAT IGNORED CONTADORA. THE MEXICANS ARGUED THAT DEMANDING DEMOCRATIZATION WAS INTERFERENCE IN NICARAGUA'S INTERNAL AFFAIRS. ARIAS WAS CONFIDENT THAT CONTADORA WOULD ENDORSE THE PROPOSALS. HE BELIEVED THAT THEY COULD NOT IGNORE THE WILL OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES OR THE 97-1 VOTE IN THE SENATE. HE ARGUED ALSO THAT MEXICO HAD NO MORAL AUTHORITY TO TAKE THIS POSITION, AS ONLY A FEW YEARS AGO IT HAD JOINED FRANCE IN TELLING EL SALVADOR WHAT TYPE OF GOVERNMENT IT SHOULD HAVE. ARIAS SAID THAT WHEN HE HAD MADE THIS POINT TO MEXICAN PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID DURING HIS RECENT VISIT TO MEXICO, DE LA MADRID'S ONLY REJOINDER WAS "THAT WAS LOPEZ PORTILLO, NOT ME." MADRIGAL STATED HAT COSTA RICA HAD CONTACTED OR WAS IN HE PROCESS OF CONTACTING ALL THE CONTADORA AND SUPPORT GROUP COUNTRIES EXCEPT PERU. MOST WERE SUPPORTIVE. HABIB NOTED THAT THERE WERE CERTAIN ADVANTAGES TO WORKING WITH CONTADORA. HE NOTED THAT HONDURAN FOREIGN MINISTER LOPEZ CONTRERAS HAD COMMENTED TO HIM THAT THERE WERE MANY GOOD ELEMENTS IN THE CONTADORA DRAFT AGREEMENT THAT NEEDED TO BE TIED IN SOME MANNER TO THE GOOD POINTS IN THE ARIAS PROPOSALS.

THE ADMINISTRATION FORMULATES AND EXECUTES POLICY. THIS ADMINISTRATION WAS DETERMINED TO PURSUE ITS POLICY OF PROMOTING DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA. ARIAS THEN ASKED HABIB'S HELP IN OBTAINING A MEETING BETWEEN AMBASSADOR GUIDO FERNANDEZ AND SECRETARY SHULTZ IN ORDER TO EXPLAIN DIRECTLY COSTA RICA'S POINT OF VIEW. HABIB REPLIED THAT A MEETING AT THIS TIME WOULD BE VERY DIFFICULT, AS THE SECRETARY WAS PREPARING FOR HIS TRIP TO MOSCOW. HE ASSURED ARIAS THAT THE SECRETARY IS WELL INFORMED ON THIS ISSUE, AND CENTRAL AMERICA IS ONE OF THE HIGHEST PRIORITIES ON THIS ADMINISTRATION'S FOREIGN POLICY AGENDA.

17. HABIB CLOSED BY REEMPHASIZING THE NEED FOR COSTA RICA TO WORK WITH THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES TO ACHIEVE UNITY. HE POINTED OUT THAT THE FINAL VERSION OF THE PROPOSALS

SHOULD HAVE THE SANDINISTAS' ACTIONS TOWARD DEMOCRACY AT THE BEGINNING. 2. SUMMARY: AMB. HABIB TOLD PRESIDENT DELVALLE AND FOREIGN MINISTER ABADIA THAT THE USG WELCOMED THE EFFORTS OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES TO REVITALIZE THE NEGOTIATING TRACK. WE SAW THEIR INITIATIVE AS PART OF AN OVERALL PEACE PROCESS WHICH INCLUDED CONTADORA. WHILE THE ARIAS PROPOSALS HAD SERIOUS OMISSIONS AND DEFICIENCIES, THEY FOCUSED ON THE KEY ISSUE OF DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA, WHICH WAS OUR MAIN OBJECTIVE. WE WERE DISTURBED THAT THE DEMOCRACIES HAD NOT BEGUN CONSULTING WITH EACH OTHER TO RESOLVE THEIR DIFFERENCES AND ACHIEVE HARMONY. THE PANAMANIANS AGREED THAT THE DEMOCRACIES MUST BE UNITED AND THE NEGOTIATING PROCESS MUST MOVE AHEAD QUICKLY. THEY MADE CLEAR THAT THEY WANTED TO SUPPORT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS BUT COULD ONLY DO SO IF THEY WERE LINKED TO CONTADORA. END SUMMARY.

3. ON MARCH 26, AMB HABIB, AMB. DAVIS AND DCM JOHN MAISTO CALLED ON PANAMANIAN PRESIDENT DELVALLE AND FOREIGN MINISTER ABADIA TO DISCUSS THE NEGOTIATING PROCESS. HABIB STATED THAT THE USG SUPPORTED THE INITIATIVE OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES AT THE FEBRUARY SAN JOSE SUMMIT. WE VIEWED THIS INITIATIVE AND THE UPCOMING ESQUIPULAS MEETING AS PART OF THE OVERALL PEACE PROCESS FOR CENTRAL AMERICA. WE DID NOT VIEW IT

AS AN EFFORT TO PUT ASIDE CONTADORA. TO THE CONTRARY, CONTADORA WOULD STILL PLAY AN IMPORTANT ROLE WHETHER ESQUIPULAS SUCCEEDED OR NOT. HABIB NOTED THAT HE HAD BEEN DISTURBED TO HAVE FOUND THAT THERE HAD BEEN NO REAL CONSULTATIONS AMONG THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES SINCE SAN JOSE. HE HAD URGED THEM TO BEGIN TALKING TO EACH OTHER SO THAT THEY COULD HARMONIZE THEIR POSITIONS AND ACHIEVE UNITY. EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS WERE UPSET AT THE WAY COSTA RICA HAD LAUNCHED THE INITIATIVE. THE SANDINISTAS MUST NOT BE ALLOWED TO USE THE INITIATIVE TO SPLIT THE DEMOCRACIES OR TO STRING OUT THE PROCESS. HABIB WELCOMED THE NEWS THAT COSTA RICA HAD ANNOUNCED THAT THE CONSULTATION PROCESS WOULD SOON BEGIN. DELVALLE SAID THAT THE DEMOCRACIES HAD TO REACH AGREEMENT AMONG THEMSELVES BEFORE ESQUIPULAS, AND ABADIA ADDED THAT IT WOULD BE DANGEROUS IF THEY DID NOT. THE PANAMANIANS AGREED THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT TO GET THE NEGOTIATING PROCESS MOVING AND NOT ALLOW IT TO DRAG ON FOR YEARS.

4. HABIB EXPLAINED THAT THE NICARAGUAN DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE WAS BEGINNING TO PUT REAL PRESSURE ON THE SANDINISTA REGIME AND THAT THIS PRESSURE WOULD INCREASE SIGNIFICANTLY IN THE NEXT FEW MONTHS. THE SANDINISTAS

WERE ALSO FEELING PRESSURE FROM THE GROWING INTERNAL DISCONTENT. THE NEGOTIATING TRACK OFFERED THE SANDINISTAS A WAY OUT. THERE COULD BE NO AGREEMENT WITHOUT GENUINE DEMOCRACY, HOWEVER, AND DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA WAS OUR PRINCIPAL GOAL. THE ARIAS PROPOSALS FOCUSED ON DEMOCRACY AND WERE DESIGNED TO PROMOTE A POLITICAL OPENING. THE PROPOSALS ALSO CONTAINED SOME DEFICIENCIES WHICH NEEDED TO BE CORRECTED. FOR EXAMPLE, A CEASE-FIRE CANNOT BE SIMPLY DECLARED; IT MUST HAVE TERMS WHICH ARE THE PRODUCT OF NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN THE COMBATANTS. THE PROPOSALS WERE ALSO FRONTLOADED IN FAVOR OF THE SANDINISTAS AND NEEDED TO HAVE THEIR ACTIONS TO OPEN THE POLITICAL SYSTEM COME AT THE BEGINNING. ANY AGREEMENT NEEDED A VIABLE VERIFICATION MECHANISM. HABIB ADDED THAT CONTADORA WITH ITS 21 OBJECTIVES WAS MORE COMPREHENSIVE THAN THE ARIAS PROPOSALS.

UNCLASSIFIED

5. DELVALLE STATED THAT PANAMA HAD PROMPTLY DECLARED ITS GENERAL SUPPORT OF THE ARIAS PROPOSALS. CONTADORA HAD DONE ITS BEST TO PROMOTE THE NEGOTIATIONS, AND NOW IT WAS UP TO THE CENTRAL AMERICANS THEMSELVES TO DEMONSTRATE THEIR POLITICAL WILL TO RESOLVE THE CRISIS. HE ADDED THAT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS WERE SIMILAR TO CONTADORA AND REALLY OFFERED NOTHING NEW. HABIB REPLIED THAT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS DID EXPAND THE POLITICAL ELEMENTS AND ALSO INCLUDED A CHRONOLOGY FOR SPECIFIC

ACTIONS. IT WAS IMPORTANT TO GET THE PROCESS MOVING AND NOT TO LET IT DRAG ON INTERMINABLY LIKE CONTADORA. IF ESQUIPULAS MADE REAL PROGRESS, THEN THIS MOMENTUM COULD STIMULATE CONTADORA TO COMPLETE QUICKLY A COMPREHENSIVE AGREEMENT. DELVALLE PREDICTED THAT AT SOME POINT SOONER

OR LATER THE NEW INITIATIVE WOULD BOG DOWN AND THE CENTRAL AMERICANS WOULD TURN TO CONTADORA FOR HELP. ABADIA SAID THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT THAT THE INITIATIVE BE LINKED TO CONTADORA. IF AN ESQUIPULAS AGREEMENT WAS INTERRELATED WITH CONTADORA, THEN PANAMA COULD SUPPORT IT; IF IT REPLACED CONTADORA, PANAMA COULD NOT. ABADIA SAID HE WAS SEEKING A LETTER FROM ARIAS EXPLICITLY STATING SUCH A LINKAGE WHICH HE COULD TAKE TO THE APRIL CONTADORA MEETING IN ARGENTINA. IF HE HAD SUCH A LETTER, HE WAS CERTAIN HE COULD GET CONTADORA TO SUPPORT THE INITIATIVE. HABIB POINTED OUT THAT ARIAS HAD SPECIFICALLY NOTED THAT HIS PROPOSALS WERE WITHIN THE CONTADORA CONTEXT.

6. ABADIA ASKED IF THE SANDINISTAS HAD TOLD ARIAS WHETHER THEY WOULD GO TO ESQUIPULAS. HABIB REPLIED THAT THE SANDINISTAS HAD NOT SENT ARIAS A FORMAL RESPONSE BUT HAD STATED IN THE PRESS THAT THEY COULD GO. DELVALLE SAID THAT ARIAS HAD TOLD HIM AT THE MEETING IN DAVID THAT HE DOUBTED THE SANDINISTAS WOULD EVEN GO TO

ESQUIPULAS. HABIB REMARKED THAT ARIAS WAS SKEPTICAL ABOUT THE WILLINGNESS OF THE SANDINISTAS TO ACCEPT HIS PROPOSALS, BUT HABIB HIMSELF BELIEVED THAT THE SANDINISTAS MIGHT WELL ATTEMPT TO USE THE PROPOSALS TO SPLIT THE DEMOCRACIES. COSTA RICAN FOREIGN MINISTER MADRIGAL WOULD SOON VISIT MANAGUA TO SOUND OUT THE SANDINISTAS. DELVALLE ASKED WHY THE SANDINISTAS WOULD SIGN AN ESQUIPULAS AGREEMENT IF THEY WERE DOING ALRIGHT NOW WITHOUT AN AGREEMENT. HABIB SAID THAT THIS IS WHERE

THE PRESSURE FIT IN. THIS MEANT PRESSURE FROM THE RESISTANCE BUT ALSO FROM NICARAGUA'S NEIGHBORS. NICARAGUA COULD BE ISOLATED FROM ALL OF LATIN AMERICA IF IT REFUSED DEMOCRATIZATION. HE ADDED THAT THE SANDINISTAS SHOULD UNDERSTAND THAT THEY COULD NOT SIMPLY STALL UNTIL 1988 AWAITING A CHANGE OF ADMINISTRATION IN THE U.S.; NO U.S. ADMINISTRATION COULD QUIETLY ACCEPT AN AGGRESSIVE MARXIST-LENINIST STATE ON THE AMERICAN MAINLAND.

UNCLASSIFIED

7. DEVALLE RECALLED HABIB'S REFERENCE TO THE GROWING PRESSURE FROM THE RESISTANCE AND ASKED IF THIS DID NOT JUSTIFY THE SANDINISTAS' ARGUMENT THAT THEY COULD NOT ACCEPT A CEASE-FIRE WHILE UNDER PRESSURE. HABIB STATED THAT EXACTLY THE OPPOSITE WAS TRUE. THE PRESSURE WAS THE ONLY INCENTIVE FOR THE SANDINISTAS TO ACCEPT A NEGOTIATED CEASE-FIRE. IF THE SANDINISTAS THEN VIOLATED THE CEASE-FIRE, THE PRESSURE WOULD BE RESTORED. HABIB REMARKED THAT HE HAD MET WITH THE POLITICAL LEADERSHIP OF THE RESISTANCE AND FOUND THEM VERY FLEXIBLE AND DESIRING AN AGREEMENT THAT LED TO A GENUINE POLITICAL OPENING. THEY WANTED CHANGES IN THE ARIAS PROPOSALS BUT SUPPORTED THE INITIATIVE ITSELF. THEY WOULD NOT ABIDE BY AN INADEQUATE AGREEMENT, OF COURSE, AND WE WOULD SUPPORT THEM.

8. DELVALLE ASKED IF THE SANDINISTAS WERE CONTINUING TO PROVIDE ARMS TO GUERRILLAS IN EL SALVADOR. HABIB ANSWERED THAT THEY CONTINUE TO DO SO. HE NOTED THAT DESPITE THE SANDINISTA'S AID TO THE GUERRILLAS, THE MILITARY SITUATION WAS IMPROVING IN EL SALVADOR. THERE HAD TO BE A TEMPORARY LOSS OF MOMENTUM IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING THE EARTHQUAKE, BUT THE GOVERNMENT HAD AGAIN SEIZED THE INITIATIVE. HABIB ADDED THAT DESPITE THIS PROGRESS, PRESIDENT DUARTE WAS FACING ENORMOUS DIFFICULTIES, INCLUDING PRESSURE FROM THE FAR RIGHT. DUARTE FELT HE WAS TOO WEAK TO TAKE THE LEAD IN THE NEGOTIATIONS ON THE ARIAS PROPOSALS.

9. AT THE THE CONCLUSION OF THE MEETING, HABIB ASKED ABADIA TO MEET WITH AMB. DAVIS AFTER THE CONTADORA MEETING IN ARGENTINA AND PASS ON HIS IMPRESSIONS. ABADIA ASSURED HABIB HE WOULD CONSULT CLOSELY WITH DAVIS.

2. SUMMARY. AMB. HABIB MET WITH PRESIDENT BARCO AT PRESIDENTIAL PLACE MARCH 26. ACCOMPANYING HABIB WERE AMB. GILLESPIE AND NOTETAKER PETER OLSON (L/ARA); WITH BARCO WERE FONMIN LONDONO AND MINISTER OF THE PRESIDENCY CEPEDA. HABIB REPORTED HE HAD ENCOURAGED THE CENTRAL AMERICANS TO WORK TOGETHER TO ENSURE ESQUIPULAS PRESSURED THE SANDINISTAS RATHER THAN THE DEMOCRACIES. LONDONO ALSO EXPRESSED CONCERN ABOUT A POSSIBLE SPLIT OF THE DEMOCRACIES AT ESQUIPULAS. THE CONTADORA AND SUPPORT GROUPS WILL ANALYZE AND ADOPT A COMMON POSITION ON THE ARIAS PROPOSALS IN BUENOS AIRES. BUT LONDONO DID NOT KNOW THE POSITIONS OF ANY OTHER COUNTRIES AT THIS TIME. HABIB EMPHASIZED CONTADORA'S MANDATE TO PRESS FOR DEMOCRATIZATION IN NICARAGUA. UNLIKE THE SITUATION WHEN CONTADORA BEGAN, NICARAGUA NOW STANDS ALONE IN RESISTING DEMOCRACY. LONDONO DOUBTED THAT NICARAGUA COULD BE MADE

TO AGREE TO NEW ELECTIONS IN ADVANCE OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL SCHEDULE AND SUGGESTED THE KEY PROBLEM IS NICARAGUAN INTERVENTION IN OTHER COUNTRIES. LONDONO OBSERVED THAT CUBA'S MAIN CONCERN IS AND HAS BEEN DIALOG IN EL SALVADOR, AND THAT ITS SUPPORT FOR AN AGREEMENT MAY BE NECESSARY. BARCO FOLLOWED THE DISCUSSION CLOSELY AND TOOK EXTENSIVE NOTES. END SUMMARY.

NICARAGUA IS NECESSARY FOR PEACE AND STABILITY IN CENTRAL AMERICA. CURRENT INITIATIVE IS USEFUL AND IMPORTANT BUT DOES NOT SIGNIFY ABANDONMENT OF CONTADORA, WHICH REPRESENTS A UNIFIED LATIN APPROACH AND LATIN SUPPORT FOR AN AGREEMENT IN CENTRAL AMERICA. CENTRAL AMERICANS HAD NOT COORDINATED TO DATE, ALTHOUGH THERE ARE VERY REAL DIFFERENCES. HE HAD NOW "ENERGIZED" CENTRAL AMERICANS TO TALK, AND MADRIGAL HAS NOW CALLED A MEETING OF VICEMINISTERS. ESQUIPULAS AND THE ARIAS PROPOSALS OFFER A CHANCE TO FORCE NICARAGUA TO ACCEPT A SCHEDULED MOVE TO DEMOCRACY. WHILE ARIAS PROPOSALS REQUIRE IMPROVEMENT, CENTRAL AMERICANS MUST AGREE ON FINAL PROPOSAL AND THUS DENY SANDINISTAS OPPORTUNITY TO PLAY THEM OFF AND BLAME AN ESQUIPULAS FAILURE ON THEM.

UNCLASSIFIED

4. ASKED HOW HE SAW NEXT STEPS IN DIPLOMATIC PROCESS, LONDONO SAID THAT BUENOS AIRES MEETING OF CONTADORA AND SUPPORT GROUPS WOULD ANALYZE ARIAS PROPOSALS, BUT THAT HE HAD NO FIRM SENSE OF WHAT THE OTHER SEVEN FEEL ABOUT THEM. HE EXPECTS THEY WILL ADOPT A COMMON POSITION ON THE PROPOSALS, AS WELL AS IDEAS ON HOW TO PROCEED AFTER ESQUIPULAS. ALTHOUGH THE COSTA RICAN VICE FONMIN AND HONDURAN FONMIN HAD CONTACTED HIM, HE WAS ALSO UNCLEAR ON THEIR POSITIONS OTHER THAN THAT THERE ARE SIGNIFICANT DIFFERENCES OVER THE PROPOSALS' CONTENT - AS THERE ARE IN THE UNITED STATES. HABIB CLARIFIED THAT THE SENATE HAD SUPPORTED THE INITIATIVE OF THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES, NOT THE ARIAS PROPOSAL PER SE, WHICH IS THE ADMINISTRATION'S POSITION AS WELL. THE USG HAD WELCOMED THE INITIATIVE BUT HAD NOT PUBLICLY COMMENTED SPECIFICALLY ON THE PLAN'S CONTENTS, AND ARIAS IS SATISFIED WITH OUR POSITION. THE USG HAS PRIVATELY INDICATED AREAS WHICH MIGHT BE IMPROVED, BUT AT THIS TIME PREFERS THAT THE CENTRAL AMERICANS THEMSELVES COOPERATE IN MAKING NEEDED CHANGES. THE UNITED STATES UNDERSTANDS DUARTE AND AZCONA HAVE STRONG VIEWS ON WHAT IS NEEDED. ARIAS IS OPEN TO CHANGE IN BOTH THE SECURITY AND, TO SOME EXTENT, THE POLITICAL ELEMENTS. WHETHER HE WILL RESIST CHANGES ON TIMING IS UNCLEAR. WHAT MATTERS IS TO TEST THE SANDINISTAS ON DEMOCRATIZATION EARLY.

UNCLASSIFIED

5. LONDONO NOTED THAT CONTADORA SHOWED IT IS EASY TO AGREE ON GRAND PRINCIPLES. THE PROBLEMS WOULD BEGIN WHEN IT CAME TO THE DETAILS OF THE DIALOG, SECURITY ELEMENTS, ETC. THESE DETAILS WILL BE IMPORTANT TO BOTH NICARAGUA AND THE OTHERS, ESPECIALLY EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS. EACH HAS ITS OWN INTERESTS, AND A 3-1-1 OR 2-2-1 OUTCOME AT ESQUIPULAS WAS CLEARLY POSSIBLE. HABIB RESPONDED THAT, WHILE THE CONTADORA PRINCIPLES ARE IN SOME WAYS MORE COMPLETE, THE ARIAS PROPOSALS COMPLEMENTED THEM BY

EMPHASIZING THE POLITICAL ELEMENTS AND SPECIFYING A SERIES OF ACTIONS TO BE TAKEN ON A DEFINED SCHEDULE. CONTADORA HAD DELIBERATELY AVOIDED THIS APPROACH, APPARENTLY ON GROUNDS IT WAS IMPROPER INTERFERENCE IN INTERNAL AFFAIRS. TO THE CONTRARY, THE 21 OBJECTIVES GAVE CONTADORA A MANDATE TO ADDRESS THE PROBLEM OF DEMOCRATIZATION IN NICARAGUA. IF NICARAGUA IS INTRANSIGENT ON THIS POINT, ESQUIPULAS WILL FAIL.

6. LONDONO NOTED THAT DUARTE SEES NO ROLE FOR OUTSIDE STATES IN DEVELOPING AND CONDUCTING THE DIALOG, OTHER THAN GENERAL SUPPORT. THE QUESTION OF DIALOG BETWEEN THE GOES AND THE GUERRILLAS HAD FOR FOUR YEARS BEEN THE MOST IMPORTANT ISSUE FOR THE CUBANS WITH RESPECT TO THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PEACE PROCESS. AND WITHOUT CUBAN SUPPORT, HOW COULD AN AGREEMENT BE OBTAINED? HABIB SAID THE UNITED STATES UNDERSTOOD THAT CUBA WAS ENCOURAGING NICARAGUA TO GO TO ESQUIPULAS, ALTHOUGH WE DID NOT KNOW WHAT POSITION IT WAS URGING, AND THAT NICARAGUA WAS NOW TAKING A MORE POSITIVE ATTITUDE. CUBA'S POSITION WAS IMPORTANT, BUT THE SOVIET UNION'S IS MORE SO. OUR IMPRESSION IS THAT THE SOVIETS ARE MORE CAUTIOUS, AND DO NOT WISH TO UNNECESSARILY ENDANGER THEIR OTHER INTERESTS, INCLUDING EXPANDING THEIR PRESENCE IN LATIN AMERICA.

7. ASKED WHETHER CONTADORA WOULD BE PREPARED TO ASSIST IF ESQUIPULAS DID RESULT IN AN AGREEMENT, LONDONO SAID THAT IF THE FIVE CENTRAL AMERICANS REACHED AGREEMENT CONTADORA WOULD HAVE NO CHOICE, AND THAT COLOMBIA AT LEAST WOULD WORK TO MAKE SUCH AN AGREEMENT EFFECTIVE. HE DID NOT REACT TO HABIB'S OBSERVATION THAT MEXICAN FONMIN SEPULVEDA HAD INDICATED HE WOULD WORK AGAINST ANY AGREEMENT THAT IGNORED CONTADORA.

8. LONDONO THEN EXPRESSED DOUBT THAT IT WAS POSSIBLE TO DEMAND NEW ELECTIONS IN NICARAGUA NOW, ESPECIALLY SINCE THE 1984 ELECTIONS HAD GENERALLY BEEN ACCEPTED AS CLEAN. HABIB OBSERVED THAT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS DO NOT EXPRESSLY REQUIRE NEW ELECTIONS AND THAT THIS IS A TOPIC BEST DISCUSSED AS PART OF THE DIALOG. BY SITTING DOWN WITH THE SANDINISTAS THE CIVIL AND ARMED OPPOSITION WOULD TACITLY ACCEPT THE 1984 ELECTION RESULTS BUT THEY HAD A RIGHT TO ASK FOR NEW ELECTIONS UNDER PROPER CONDITIONS. THE SANDINISTAS HAD PROMISED A POLITICAL OPENING, AND THE OPPOSITION HAD A RIGHT TO INSIST ON ELECTIONS NOT CONDUCTED UNDER THE REPRESSIVE CONDITIONS OF THE PAST. THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT ELECTIONS WOULD BE A TEST OF THIS AT THE SAME TIME AS THE DIALOG CONTINUED. THE ARIAS PROPOSALS IMPLY, BUT DO NOT STATE, THAT UNO WOULD PARTICIPATE IN THE DIALOG IF ITS LEADERS RETURNED TO NICARAGUA, AS SEVERAL ARE PREPARED TO DO. UNO SUPPORTS THIS APPROACH AND HAS MADE ITS VIEWS KNOWN TO ARIAS. THE RESISTANCE WAS PREPARED TO FIGHT THE SANDINISTAS THROUGH FREE ELECTIONS, AND SOMEHOW THIS MUST BE MADE POSSIBLE UNDER ACCEPTABLE CONDITIONS.

UNCLASSIFIED

9. AFTER LONDONO OBSERVED THAT CARDINAL OBANDO IS THE ONLY NICARAGUAN WITH WIDESPREAD POPULAR SUPPORT IN

NICARAGUA, HABIB REPLIED THAT THE SANDINISTAS REGRETTABLY SEEMED UNPREPARED TO ACCEPT HIM EVEN AS AN INTERMEDIARY WITH THE RESISTANCE. THE OAS MIGHT SERVE THIS FUNCTION. WHETHER VIA AN INTERMEDIARY OR OTHERWISE, THE RESISTANCE MUST OBVIOUSLY BE INVOLVED IF A CEASEFIRE IS TO BE ACHIEVED, AND ATTENTION SHOULD BE GIVEN TO SUCH PRACTICAL QUESTIONS AS HOW TO DO SO.

10. HABIB STATED THAT HIS INSTRUCTIONS FROM THE PRESIDENT AND THE SECRETARY WERE TO PURSUE THE U.S. GOAL, WHICH IS DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA. OUR FRIENDS MUST UNDERSTAND THAT PURSUING A DIPLOMATIC TRACK DOES NOT MEAN THAT THE UNITED STATES IS PREPARED TO ACCEPT AN AGREEMENT WHICH DOES NOT MEET OUR REQUIREMENTS. THE UNITED STATES WILL OPPOSE ANY AGREEMENT WHICH DOES NOT.

UNCLASSIFIED

11. IN RESPONSE TO LONDONO'S REFERENCE TO THE IMPORTANCE OF THE PRINCIPLE OF NON-INTERVENTION, HABIB UNDERSCORED THAT IN THIS CASE CONTADORA HAD A MANDATE TO CONCERN ITSELF WITH DEMOCRATIZATION IN NICARAGUA. MOREOVER, TO THE EXTENT NON-INTERVENTION MEANS PREVENTING U.S. INTERVENTION, IT WAS CONTADORA'S RESPONSIBILITY TO HELP PRODUCE A LATIN SOLUTION. MUCH OF CENTRAL AMERICA HAD BECOME DEMOCRATIC SINCE CONTADORA BEGAN; NICARAGUA ALONE RESISTED DOING SO. THE CONVICTION OF THE DEMOCRACIES THAT DEMOCRATIZATION IN NICARAGUA WAS NECESSARY DESERVED

UNCLASSIFIED

GREATER ATTENTION THAN CONTADORA HAD GIVEN IN THE PAST. LONDONO OBSERVED THAT THIS ISSUE WAS IMPORTANT NOT ONLY FOR THE SECURITY OF NICARAGUA'S IMMEDIATE NEIGHBORS, BUT FOR THAT OF COLOMBIA AS WELL.

12. TAKING ANOTHER TACK, LONDONO SUGGESTED THAT NICARAGUAN NON-INTERVENTION IN OTHER COUNTRIES' AFFAIRS WAS THE KEY. HABIB REPLIED THAT THE SECURITY AND POLITICAL ELEMENTS WERE CO-EQUAL: BOTH MUST BE ADEQUATELY ADDRESSED IF A PEACE WAS TO BE ACHIEVED. NICARAGUA'S OFFERS TO CUT A DEAL ON THE MILITARY SIDE ONLY WERE ILLUSORY, JUST AS ITS SUGGESTIONS THAT CONTADORA PROVIDE A BORDER VERIFICATION FORCE AVOIDED THE FACT THAT THE REAL PROBLEMS ARE INSIDE NICARAGUA, NOT ACROSS ITS BORDERS. ON THE MILITARY SIDE, NICARAGUA'S ARMED FORCES MUST BE IN EQUILIBRIUM WITH THEIR NEIGHBORS'. LONDONO DOUBTED THEY WOULD ACTUALLY SACRIFICE ARMS, BUT DID NOT DISAGREE THAT THEY WOULD DO SO IF THAT WERE THE ONLY OBSTACLE TO AN AGREEMENT.

13. LONDONO NOTED THAT IT WAS DIFFICULT TO COOPERATE WITH THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES IF THEY WERE NOT INTERESTED IN COOPERATING WITH EACH OTHER. HABIB SAID THAT, ALTHOUGH THERE HAD IN RECENT MONTHS BEEN A TROUBLING RESURGENCE OF OLD JEALOUSIES, THEY WERE NOW STARTING

Dear Secretary Abrams:

(R)

I am writing to you to express my concern regarding the U.S. delegation's vote of "no" on the United Nations resolution entitled "The Situation of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms in Chile."

The position taken by the U.S. delegation on this vote does not seem to correspond to the State Department's expressed commitment to encourage reform of human rights by the government of Chile. In my view, the U.N. resolution was a reasonably worded document that expressed disapproval of human rights violations in Chile and the "absence of institutional machinery" to protect basic freedoms. These points are well taken regardless of particular difficulties the Chilean government may be experiencing at the hands of political opponents.

Furthermore, I am troubled by some aspects of Ambassador Patricia M. Byrne's explanation of the U.S. vote as presented in Press Release USUN 177-(86). Ambassador Byrne claims that the U.N. resolution "fails to take into account the positive steps taken by the government of Chile, which are mentioned by the Special Rapporteur..." In fact, the resolution praises the Chilean government for cooperating with the Special Rapporteur and "invites the Commission on Human Rights to consider, as a matter of high priority, the report of the Special Rapporteur..." Thus, rather than supposing that this resolution ignored the report of the Special Rapporteur, I am led to understand that it weighed the report but concluded that human rights abuses in Chile warranted the admonition contained in this resolution. I find no evidence of Ambassador Byrne's claim that the U.N. resolution employs "name-calling." Rather, it expresses concern with human rights violations described in the report of the Special Rapporteur and encourages adoption of specific steps to end such abuses.

I am sure that the U.S. vote on this resolution does not indicate a retraction of concern for the state of human rights in Chile. However, it seems that a vote of "yes" would have been more in keeping with the U.S. responsibility to present a firm and consistent viewpoint to the Chilean government. Bearing in mind that we all support the goal of the development of democracy in Chile, I would hope that the United States will keep these concerns carefully in mind during any future review of that government's human rights record.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

James M. Jeffords

- MARCH 27, 1987

1. ~~SECRET~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. MEXICAN FOREIGN SECRETARY BERNARDO SEPULVEDA TOLD CENTRAL AMERICAN ENVOY AMBASSADOR HABIB THAT MEXICO HAD WARMLY RECEIVED COSTA RICAN PRESIDENT ARIAS' PEACE INITIATIVE AS A POSITIVE INDICATION OF CENTRAL AMERICA'S CONCERN FOR ITS OWN REGION. MEXICO WILL RESERVE JUDGMENT ON THE SPECIFICS UNTIL AFTER ESQUIPULAS. SEPULVEDA STRONGLY BELIEVES THAT ARIAS PROPOSALS ARE COMPLEMENTARY TO CONTADORA'S EFFORTS WHICH IN FACT REPRESENT A FAR MORE COMPREHENSIVE APPROACH TO SOLVING THE CRISIS OF CENTRAL AMERICA. SEPULVEDA SAYS ARIAS WAS PROMPTED BY FEAR OF A GENERALIZED VIOLENCE PROVOKED BY THE "CONTRAS", AND NOT PRIMARILY BY CONCERN ABOUT THE LACK OF DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA. THE CARABALLEDA DECLARATION IS THE BEST DISTILLATION OF CONTADORA.

SECURITY, DEMOCRACY AND ECONOMIC/SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT MUST BE DEALT WITH SIMULTANEOUSLY AS EQUALLY IMPORTANT ASPECTS OF THE PROBLEM. TO FOCUS ON DEMOCRACY AS PREEMINENT IS TO MISUNDERSTAND THE PROBLEM AND TO ALIENATE NICARAGUA FROM THE PROCESS. SEPULVEDA CONTEMPTUOUSLY DISMISSED THE "CONTRAS" AS EX-SOMOCISTAS AND CRITICIZED THE U.S. FOR SUPPORTING THEM, SUGGESTING SARCASTICALY THAT WE FUND "CONTRAS" AGAINST PINOCHET. THE "CONTRAS" IMPEDES GREATER PROGRESS TOWARD FULL DEMOCRACY AND CIVIL RIGHTS AND CLAIMS THAT NICARAGUA, TOO, HAS HELD ELECTIONS. MEXICO IS UNALTERABLY OPPOSED TO OUTSIDE INTERVENTION OF ANY KIND IN NICARAGUA WHETHER IT IS MILITARY PRESSURE FROM THE "CONTRAS" OR PRESSURE ON NICARAGUA TO CHANGE ITS POLITICAL SYSTEM. HABIB DEFENDED THE "CONTRAS" AS A NECESSARY INGREDIENT IN A MIXTURE OF MEASURES TO COMPEL THE SANDINISTAS TO DEMOCRATIZE. HE TOLD SEPULVEDA THAT ARIAS PROPOSALS WERE A SIGNIFICANT STEP FORWARD BECAUSE THEY FOCUSED ON DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA, AN ESSENTIAL PRIOR CONDITION TO A PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT AND ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT IN CENTRAL AMERICA. HABIB TOLD SEPULVEDA THAT DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA WAS A SPECIFIC FOREIGN POLICY OBJECTIVE OF THE UNITED STATES AS ESTABLISHED BY THE PRESIDENT. HE ALSO SAID THAT SEPULVEDA SHOULD HAVE NO ILLUSION THAT A DIFFERENT ADMINISTRATION - REPUBLICAN OR DEMOCRAT - WOULD TOLERATE A TOTALITARIAN, MARXIST-LENINIST REGIME IN NICARAGUA. HABIB APPRISED SEPULVEDA OF OUR VIEW THAT ARIAS PROPOSALS CONTAINED SERIOUS OMISSIONS AND DEFICIENCIES, AND THAT EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS HAVE TOLD US THEY THINK SIMILARLY. NEVERTHELESS, NOW IT SEEMS THAT SOME CONSULTATIONS WILL TAKE PLACE AMONG THE FOUR

3. AMBASSADOR HABIB ACCOMPANIED BY AMBASSADOR PILLIOD AND NSC STAFFER KIM FLOWER LUNCHED WITH MEXICAN FOREIGN SECRETARY BERNARDO SEPULVEDA AND HIS SENIOR STAFF ON FRIDAY, MARCH 27, 1987, AT THE FOREIGN MINISTRY. THE MINISTER WAS OBVIOUSLY IN A MOOD FOR A GOOD, LONG TALK AND THE SESSION WENT ON FOR NEARLY TWO AND ONE-HALF HOURS.

4. SEPULVEDA BEGAN BY OBSERVING THE FULL CONTADORA GROUP WOULD MEET IN ARGENTINA EASTER WEEK. THERE WOULD BE TWO ASPECTS TO THE GATHERING. FIRST, IN BUENOS AIRES, THE EIGHT COUNTRIES WOULD DISCUSS GENERAL HEMISPHERIC ISSUES UNRELATED TO CENTRAL AMERICA. THEN, DURING THE LATER HALF OF THE WEEK, CONTADORA WOULD MOVE TO THE MOUNTAIN RESORT OF BARILOCHE TO TAKE UP THE SUBJECT OF CENTRAL AMERICA. HABIB OBSERVED THAT THE FIRST PART OF THE MEETING APPEARED TO DUPLICATE THE ROLE OF THE OAS. SEPULVEDA REMARKED THAT THE OAS WAS NOT ALWAYS A COMFORTABLE FORUM FOR THE EIGHT LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES. HIS

TEGUCIGALPA ON SUNDAY. SEPULVEDA FACTITIOUSLY ASKED IF THERE WERE ANY "CONTRAS" LEFT TO TALK WITH AND CONTEMPTUOUSLY REFERRED TO THEM AS SOMOCISTAS.
HABIB POINTED OUT THAT THE "CONTRAS" COULD NOT BE CHARACTERIZED AS SOMOCISTAS, AND THAT THOUSANDS OF "CONTRA" FIGHTERS HAD RETURNED TO NICARAGUA AND WERE ACHIEVING NOTABLE MILITARY SUCCESSES. IN FACT, IN THE NEXT FEW MONTHS THE "CONTRAS" WOULD PUT MAXIMUM PRESSURE ON THE SANDINISTA REGIME. HABIB WENT ON TO SAY THAT UNO LEADERSHIP WAS SAVVY AND FLEXIBLE:
THAT UNO HAD A REALISTIC APPRECIATION FOR COSTA RICAN
PRESIDENT ARIAS PEACE PROPOSALS AND HAD OFFERED
SOME USEFUL SUGGESTIONS FOR THEIR IMPROVEMENT.
HABIB SUGGESTED TO THE MINISTER THAT HE SHOULD HAVE CONTACT WITH THE NICARAGUAN DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE,
IF NOT PERSONALLY, THEN INDIRECTLY. SEPULVEDA
REJECTED THE SUGGESTION INSTANTLY WITHOUT QUALIFICATION AND FURTHER OBSERVED THAT HE WAS UNHAPPY TO LEARN OF

6. HABIB ASKED SEPULVEDA FOR THE MEXICAN VIEW OF THE ARIAS PROPOSALS AND HOW THEY FIT IN WITH CONTADORA. HE SAID WE SAW THEM AS FLAWED BUT USEFULLY COMPLEMENTARY. CONTADORA REMAINED THE MOST COMPREHENSIVE EFFORT AND PROVIDED SOME WELL-CONCEIVED MECHANISMS PARTICULARLY IN REGARD TO VERIFICATION. AND THE 21 POINTS PROVIDED THE ESSENTIAL OVERALL BASIS FOR A COMPREHENSIVE SETTLEMENT. STILL, ARIAS PROPOSALS HAD VALUE BECAUSE THEY FOCUSED SPECIFICALLY ON THE ISSUE OF DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA, AN ASPECT CONTADORA HAD NOT BEEN WILLING TO SERIOUSLY COPE WITH. PREHAPS IT COULD BEST BE INCORPORATED AS A PROTOCOL TO THE CONTADORA ACTA.

7. CONTADORA, THE MEXICAN SAID, WAS FAR MORE COMPLETE THAN THE ARIAS PROPOSALS. CONTADORA, FOR INSTANCE, HAD DEVELOPED CAREFULLY ELABORATED PROVISIONS NOT ONLY ON VERIFICATION BUT ON THE RELATED QUESTIONS OF REFUGEES, FOREIGN MILITARY ADVISORS AND MILITARY BASES, TOPICS NOT EVEN MENTIONED BY ARIAS. EVEN ON THE SUBJECT OF POLITICAL ARRANGEMENTS CONTADORA HAD NEGOTIATED A CHAPTER THAT HAD BEEN AGREED TO BY ALL PARTIES AND HAD BEEN CONSIDERED CLOSED UNTIL ARIAS SURFACED HIS PROPOSALS. THE DECLARATION OF CARABALLEDA WAS PERHAPS THE BEST SHORT FORMULATION

OF THE VIEWS OF THE EIGHT LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES. CARABALLEDA IDENTIFIED THREE BASIC CONCERNS. ALL WERE INTERRELATED AND EQUALLY IMPORTANT AND MUST BE DEALT WITH SIMULTANEOUSLY: SECURITY ARRANGEMENTS, POLITICAL SYSTEMS AND ECONOMIC/SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT. IN CONTRAST THE U.S., SEPULVEDA SAID, SEEMED TO BELIEVE THAT NICARAGUA'S POLITICAL SYSTEM (I.E., DEMOCRACY) WAS PARAMOUNT. NICARAGUA, ON THE OTHER HAND, BELIEVED THAT SECURITY WAS THE MOST IMPORTANT. AFTER ALL, THE U.S. IS AT THIS MOMENT PLANNING MASSIVE MILITARY MANEUVERS IN HONDURAS, AN ASPECT OF THE PROBLEM THE U.S. HAD REFUSED TO NEGOTIATE. AND, OF COURSE, THE DISMAL ECONOMIC CONDITIONS AND VERY BACKWARD SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT EXACERBATED THE WHOLE SITUATION. HABIB AGREED THAT ALL THREE CONCERNS WERE OF VITAL IMPORTANCE AND SAID THAT WE DID NOT MINIMIZE ANY OF THEM, BUT THAT DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA WAS THE ESSENTIAL PRE-CONDITION. HABIB TOLD THE MINISTER THAT PRESIDENT REAGAN HAD SET THE PROMOTION OF DEMOCRACY AS THE PRIMARY OBJECTIVE OF U.S. POLICY. CONTRARY TO WHAT SEPULVEDA MAY HAVE HEARD FROM SOME U.S. CONGRESSMEN, ANY ADMINISTRATION - REPUBLICAN OR DEMOCRAT - WOULD INSIST ON DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA. SUCH CONGRESSMEN SPEAK ONLY FOR THEMSELVES, AND NOT FOR THE UNITED STATES. NO FUTURE ADMINISTRATION COULD TOLERATE A TOTALITARIAN MARXIST-LENINIST REGIME IN NICARAGUA.

POSAL. IT IS OBVIOUS: IF THE SANDINISTAS WOULD ACCEPT MOVES TOWARD DEMOCRACY AND THE "CONTRAS" BECAME PART OF THE AGREED POLITICAL PROCESS THERE WOULD BE NO NEED FOR THE "CONTRAS"; THEY WOULD BECOME A NON-ISSUE. ARIAS PROPOSALS DO, HOWEVER, HAVE SEVERAL SERIOUS OMISSIONS AND DEFICIENCIES, HABIB POINTED OUT.
ONE OF THE MOST SIGNIFICANT IS HIS IDEA OF A CEASE-FIRE. A MEANINGFUL CEASEFIRE CANNOT BE MERELY PRO-CLAIMED AS ARIAS PROPOSES. IT MUST BE THE RESULT OF

NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN THE BELLIGERENTS. IN OTHER WORDS DIALOGUE MUST COME FIRST AND A CEASEFIRE SHOULD BE THE RESULT AND STARTING POINT FOR NEGOTIATIONS ABOUT THE NATURE OF FUTURE POLITICAL LIFE.

FLEXIBILITY IS THE KEY. THE "CONTRAS" MUST BE INVOLVED IN THE PROCESS BUT NOT NECESSARILY DIRECTLY AT FIRST. HABIB CAUTIONED SEPULVEDA THAT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS WERE NOT COMPLETELY ACCEPTABLE TO HIS DEMOCRATIC COLLEAGUES IN THE REGION. BOTH DUARTE AND AZCONA HAD SOME SERIOUS RESERVATIONS. ESQUIPULAS COULD CONCEIVABLY RESULT IN A SETBACK FOR THE PROCESS.

9. HABIB ASKED SEPULVEDA HOW HE SAW THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE ARIAS PROPOSALS AND CONTADORA. SEPULVEDA SAID THAT HE SAW NO BASIC CONFLICT; THAT MEXICO WARMLY SUPPORTED ARIAS' INITIATIVE BECAUSE IT REPRESENTED REAL PROGRESS IN THE SENSE THAT FOR THE FIRST TIME CENTRAL AMERICANS THEMSELVES, BY THEMSELVES, WERE GRAPPLING WITH THE BASIC ISSUES CONVULSING THEIR REGION. ESQUIPULAS I HAD BEEN MOSTLY A DISCUSSION OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT. SEPULVEDA SAID HE, TOO, WAS DISAPPOINTED THAT THE ESQUIPULAS MEETING HAD BEEN POSTPONED UNTIL LATE JUNE. ADVERSE DEVELOP-

MENTS COULD OCCUR BETWEEN NOW AND THEN THAT MIGHT NEGATIVELY ALTER THE NEGOTIATING CLIMATE - WHICH THE MINISTER CONSIDERED TO BE QUITE FAVORABLE AT THE MOMENT. IN FACT, SEPULVEDA SAID, CIRCUMSTANCES HAVE NOT BEEN AS PROPITIOUS SINCE 1984 WHEN CONTADORA HAD MAINTAINED A FULL-TIME TEAM OF EXPERTS IN PANAMA. UNFORTUNATELY, THE TEAM WAS NOT THERE NOW TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE MOMENT. HABIB REMARKED THAT SUCH A TEAM COULD BECOME USEFUL AGAIN, PERHAPS IN THE NOT TOO DISTANT FUTURE: AND THERE MIGHT BE GOOD REASON TO HAVE SOME U.S. EXPERTS CLOSE AT HAND ON A CONSULTATIVE BASIS. AFTER ALL, ANY AGREEMENT HAD TO BE ACCEPTABLE TO THE U.S. AS WELL AS ALL THE OTHER PARTIES OR WE COULD NOT BE EXPECTED TO ABIDE BY IT. THE U.S., SAID HABIB, HAD A VITAL NATIONAL INTEREST IN CENTRAL AMERICA, JUST AS DID MEXICO, AND WE HAD TO SATISFY OUR CONCERNS. THE U.S. SHOULD NOT BE EXCLUDED FROM THE NEGOTIATING PROCESS. SEPULVEDA SAID THAT THAT WAS NOT HIS INTENTION. HABIB REMARKED THAT THE TIME COULD COME WHEN HE WOULD HOLD THE FOREIGN SECRETARY TO HIS COMMITTMENT. HABIB SAID THAT HE INTENDED TO SPEND MORE TIME IN THE REGION, AND WOULD BE BACK TO SEE THE CORE FOUR IN EARLY APRIL. IF EVENTS MOVED FAVORABLY TO JUSTIFY A MORE INTENSE EFFORT BY THE U.S. HABIB SAID HE WOULD CONSIDER STEPPING UP HIS VISITS, A REAL SHUTTLE DIPLOMACY, SPENDING LONG PERIODS IN THE AREA. THE SITUATION WAS NOT CLOSE TO THAT YET.

THAT IS WHY WE TALK ABOUT A PROCESS AND WHY OUR EMPHASIS IS ON THE "PROMOTION" OF DEMOCRACY. NICARAGUA HAD GONE FROM SOMOZA'S DICTATORSHIP TO A DICTATORSHIP OF MARXIST-LENINISTS: OR, AS ARIAS HAD PUT IT, NICARAGUA NOW HAD NINE SOMOZAS. BE WILLING TO FINANCE "CONTRAS" AGAINST PINOCHET? SUPPORT FOR DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA WAS NOT INTERVENTION AT ALL, HABIB SAID. THE 21 POINTS OF THE ACTA OF CONTADORA CLEARLY PROVIDED FOR THE DEMOCRATIZATION OF THE COUNTRIES OF CENTRAL AMERICA. ALL BUT NICARAGUA HAD MADE IMPRESSIVE PROGRESS. NICARAGUA HAD WILLINGLY SIGNED ON TO THIS PROCESS AND SO HAD MEXICO. INDEED, CONTADORA AND NICARAGUA BOTH HAD AN OBLIGATION TO ACCEPT AND PROMOTE DEMOCRACY AS A BASIC OBJECTIVE OF THE PEACE PROCESS IN CENTRAL AMERICA GENERALLY AND IN NICARAGUA SPECIFICALLY. THE DEMOCRATIC COUNTRIES OF THE REGION DID NOT ACCEPT THE LEGITIMACY OF NICARAGUA'S MARXIST-TYPE ELECTION. AND NEITHER COULD CONTADORA. HABIB DID NOT RESPOND TO SEPULVEDA'S PROVOCATIVE COMPARISON OF NICARAGUA WITH CHILE. AMBASSADOR PILLIOD OBSERVED TO SEPULVEDA THAT MEXICO APPEARED TO UNCRITICALLY DEFEND NICARAGUA; TO SING THE SANDINISTA'S SONG. SEPULVEDA STRONGLY DEMURRED, AFFIRMING THAT HE SPOKE ONLY FOR NON-INTERVENTION. WHY DID HE NOT SPEAK AS LOUDLY FOR SELF-DETERMINATION THEN, ASKED PILLIOD?

11. SEPULVEDA, RETURNING TO THE ESQUIPULAS MEETING, SAID THAT MEXICO WOULD WAIT FOR THE OUTCOME BEFORE MAKING ANY PUBLIC STATEMENTS ABOUT THE MEETING OR ON THE PARTICULARS OF THE ARIAS PROPOSALS. HE SAID FROM MEXICO'S STANDPOINT THE BEST OUTCOME OF ESQUIPULAS WOULD BE SERIOUS DICUSSION; DECISIONS COMPLIMENTARY TO CONTADORA; AND IMPLIMENTATION POSTPONED FOR LATER, AFTER CONTADORA COULD ABSORB THE ESQUIPULAS RESULTS. HABIB AGREED THAT AT THIS POINT IT SEEMED BEST TO WAIT AND SEE, AND STRONGLY CAUTIONED THE MINISTER AGAINST PERMITTING THE PROCESS POST-ESQUIPULAS TO DRAG ON INTERMITABLY LIKE CONTADORA. THEN WOULD BE THE TIME FOR CONTADORA TO ACT EXPEDITIOUSLY. HABIB ASKED SEPULVEDA IF HE HAD ANY FEELING FOR HOW THE NICARAGUANS VIEW ESQUIPULAS AND ARIAS' PLAN. SEPULVEDA SAID HE HAD NO DIRECT KNOWLEDGE OF HOW THE SANDINISTAS FELT BUT THAT ONE ASPECT OF CONCERN WAS THAT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS DID NOT PROVIDE FOR ELECTIONS FOR A CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT. HABIB INFORMED THE MINISTER OTHERWISE: THAT IN FACT ELECTIONS FOR A CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT WERE A PROMINENT FEATURE. THE REAL PROBLEM WAS TO ASSURE THAT ELECTIONS IN NICARAGUA WERE NOT MERELY MARXIST-STYLE ELECTIONS, BUT RATHER WERE FREE ELECTIONS UNDER CONDITIONS FAIR TO THE OPPOSITION. FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND ASSEMBLY, AND ACCESS TO THE MEDIA WERE ESSENTIAL. SEPULVEDA SAID THE SANDINISTAS HAD, INITIALLY, SUGGESTED THAT DELEGATES TO THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT BE INDIRECTLY ELECTED BY THE EXISTING LEGISLATURES. HABIB INFORMED HIM THAT THE GON HAD GONE FURTHER AND NOW HAD AGREED TO DIRECT ELECTIONS. THE PROBLEM WAS HOW TO BE SURE THAT THE ELECTIONS WOULD BE FAIR AND REPRESENTATIVE, AND THEN THERE WAS THE QUESTION OF FREE NATIONAL, AND LOCAL ELECTIONS FOR NICARAGUA ITSELF.

SUPPOSE THERE IS AGREEMENT IN ESQUIPULAS ON THE ISSUE OF DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA. THEN THE CONTADORA ACTA COULD COME INTO PLAY WITH ITS MORE DETAILED, CAREFULLY WORKED OUT PLANS FOR VERIFICATION AND DISARMAMENT, PERHAPS CALLING ON THE OAS FOR ADDITIONAL EXPERTISE AND HUMAN RESOURCES. UNDER THESE CONDITIONS THE PROCESS FOR PEACE AND DEMOCRATIZATION COULD MOVE FORWARD RAPIDLY. COMPLETION OF THE PROCESS, THE END RESULT, WOULD, OF COURSE, TAKE MUCH MORE TIME, PERHAPS YEARS.

Dear Senator Thurmond:

This is to express my dismay of the United States of America's vote, on November 28, 1987, on the U.N. Resolution condemning human rights abuses in Chile. The vote was "no".

Ambassador Patricia Byrne's rationale was that the resolution was unbalanced because it failed "to take into account the positive steps taken by the government of Chile," and because the resolution did not condemn the attempted murder of President Pinochet.

There are continuing reports of repression in that once democratic country and the callousness of General Pinochet toward human rights; including, but not limited to, mass roundups, bullying use of the judiciary; burning alive, branding of crosses on priest's bodies, arrest of doctors who protest involvement of other doctors in torture.

I, as a taxpayer of the United States of America, vigorously object to this country's United Nation's vote and any further funding of the Pinochet, Regime. Further, please obtain clarification of this vote form Elliott Abrams, Undersecretary of State for Inter-American Affairs and so inform me.

Your attention to this matter is sorely needed and greatly appreciated.

Sincerely.

Dear Mrs. Letelier:

As we discussed by phone, I regret very much the prolonged delay in getting back to you regarding the issues you and your attorney raised last September when you met with Jim Swigert and Peter Olson. Under normal circumstances, this would never have occurred. The circumstances, however, were not normal. As you now know, very sensitive efforts have been underway for some time which have led to a significant development in the long-stalled criminal prosecution of the murderers of your husband and Ronni Moffitt.

Common courtesy as well as usual State Department practice dictated our responding to your September request much more expeditiously, especially following the misunderstanding regarding the missing letter to Secretary Shultz apparently sent by your attorney in September 1985. We considered it critical, however, to efforts by USG prosecutors to revive the criminal case to avoid any action that might, even inadvertently, have jeopardized the departure from Chile and prosecution in the United States of former Chilean Army Major Fernandez Larios. Regretfully, we could not inform you of these efforts when you visited the State Department in September. Nor could we address the substance of the issues you, your attorney, Mr. Karpen and Mr. Moffitt raised at that time, until these efforts were resolved. We hope you can understand the reasons for the delay.

Now that Mr. Fernandez Larios is safely in the custody of U.S. officials, we would be very pleased to meet with you and the other plaintiffs to discuss the civil court case, as well as discuss issues related to prosecution of the other individuals indicted for the murders of your husband and Ronni Moffitt. I plan to be out of the country the remainder of February, but a meeting can be set up right after my return at the beginning of March. I suggest that you, Mr. Karpen and Mr. Moffitt agree on a time frame you can all be in Washington and then contact Mr. Swigert (202-647-2575) to set up an appointment. Your attorney, of course, is welcome to be present in accordance with your desires.

I am sending similar letters to Mr. Moffitt and Mr. Karpen, with copies to Mr. Buffone as well.

Sincerely yours,

2. AS DEPARTMENT IS AWARE, MISSION SOME TIME AGO SUGGESTED CONSIDERATION BE GIVEN TO NEGOTIATING A NEW EXTRADITION TREATY WITH CHILE. EXPERIENCE WITH THE LETELIER CASE AND MORE RECENTLY WITH BUESO ROSA AND GOMEZ CASES DEMONSTRATE THAT THE CURRENT TREATY IS VIRTUALLY USELESS. APART FROM OUR PERMANENT INTEREST IN AN EFFECTIVE TREATY, NOW MIGHT BE A PARTICULARLY PROPITIOUS TIME TO APROACH THE GOC ABOUT A NEW TREATY, EVENTHOUGH, UNFORTUNATELY, IT WOULD NOT BE RETROACTIVE. IT WOULD BE DIFFICULT FOR THE GOC TO REFUSE TO NEGOTIATE A MODERN TREATY.

EM ALTERNATIVELY, WE COULD CONSIDER THE ROUTE RECOMMENDED BY ALFRED ETCHEBERRY IN HIS NOVEMBER 1985 MEMORANDUM (ARA/SC HAS COPY). ETCHEBERRY POINTED OUT THAT TREATY COULD BE DENOUNCED ON SIX MONTHS' NOTICE AND THAT AT END OF SIX MONTHS THE MONTEVIDEO CONVENTION

3. WE HAVE DECIDED TO INTRODUCE AT THE UNHRC IN GENEVA A RESOLUTION ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE. (TEXT OF RESOLUTION SENT REFTEL, BEING REPEATED TO ALL ACTION ADDRESSEES.) WE ARE SEEKING BROAD SUPPORT FOR THIS US INITIATIVE. ACTION ADDRESSEES ARE INSTRUCTED TO MAKE AN IMMEDIATE APPROACH TO APPROPRIATE HOST GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS TO REQUEST SUPPORT FOR US DRAFT. WE WOULD WELCOME OTHERS AS CO-SPONSORS. YOU SHOULD ASK HOST GOVERNMENTS TO INSTRUCT THEIR DELEGATIONS TO SUPPORT THE US RESOLUTION AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. IN PARTICULAR, FOREIGN MINISTRIES IN EC-12 COUNTRIES AND LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES SHOULD BE ENCOURAGED TO INSTRUCT THEIR DELEGATION TO WORK CLOSELY WITH USDEL IN GENEVA. WE UNDERSTAND THAT DEBATE ON CHILE COULD TAKE PLACE AS EARLY AS FEBRUARY 25. IN MAKING THIS APPROACH, YOU MAY DRAW ON BELOW TALKING POINTS (WHICH MAY BE LEFT AS NON-PAPER).

4. USDEL IN GENEVA IS INSTRUCTED TO MAKE SIMULTANEOUS,

PARALLEL APPROACH FOR SUPPORT TO DELEGATIONS OF ACTION ADDRESSEE COUNTRIES. YOU MAY ALSO INFORM MEXICAN AND CHILEAN DELEGATIONS OF OUR INITIATIVE.

5. PLEASE REPORT ALL SIGNIFICANT REACTIONS.

6. TALKING POINTS:

--THE US WILL INTRODUCE A RESOLUTION AT THE UNHRC MEETING IN GENEVA ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE, FOR WHICH WE WOULD LIKE YOUR GOVERNMENT'S SUPPORT. MY GOVERNMENT IS SERIOUSLY CONCERNED ABOUT HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS IN CHILE, AND ALSO DISTURBED BY UNFAIR TREATMENT OF CHILE IN PAST RESOLUTIONS.

--THE US TEXT GIVES A FAIR APPRAISAL OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE. IT CALLS ATTENTION TO THE CONFIDENTIAL

SIGNIFICANT PROBLEM AREAS, SUCH AS TORTURE BY SECURITY FORCES, RESTRICTIONS ON FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS, SUCH AS FREEDOM OF ASSEMBLY AND FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION, AND THE PERSISTENT FAILURE BY GOVERNMENT AUTHORITIES TO IDENTIFY AND PROSECUTE THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES.

--AT THE SAME TIME OUR RESOLUTION NOTES THOSE EFFORTS THAT HAVE BEEN MADE BY THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT TO ADDRESS HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS, SUCH AS THE GOVERNMENT'S COOPERATION WITH THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR--UNLIKE SOME OTHER COUNTRIES WITH SPECIAL RAPPORTEURS, SUCH AS IRAN AND AFGHANISTAN--AND THE SUBSTANTIAL REDUCTION IN THE NUMBER OF CHILEANS PROHIBITED FROM ENTERING CHILE.

--THE RESOLUTION ALSO REFERS TO THE GENERAL PROBLEM OF TERRORISM, WHICH HAS HELPED CREATE AN ENVIRONMENT WHICH IMPEDES THE RETURN TO DEMOCRACY.

--THE RESOLUTION CALLS ON THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT TO TAKE MEASURES TO RETURN CHILE TO DEMOCRATIC RULE. IT EXPLICITLY SUPPORTS A RETURN TO DEMOCRACY THROUGH A NON-VIOLENT, NATIONAL DIALOGUE. THE US RESOLUTION ACCURATELY REFLECTS AND REINFORCES THE EFFECTIVE WORK OF THE UN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR, FERNANDO VOLIO.

--THE RESOLUTION ALSO CALLS FOR ENDING THE PRACTICE OF SINGLING CHILE OUT FOR CONSIDERATION UNDER A SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM. THIS ANOMALOUS PRACTICE DEVELOPED ONLY

BECAUSE CHILE WAS THE FIRST COUNTRY TO HAVE A SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR ON HUMAN RIGHTS, AND THEREFORE CHILE WAS CONSIDERED UNDER A SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM. NOW THERE ARE MANY COUNTRIES WITH SPECIAL RAPPORTEURS. IT IS ONLY FAIR
CONFIDENTIAL

THAT THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE BE CONSIDERED AT THE SAME TIME AS FOR THESE OTHER COUNTRIES, UNDER GENERAL AGENDA ITEM TWELVE.

--LAST YEAR THE UNHRC APPROVED A BALANCED RESOLUTION ON CHILE BY CONSENSUS, WITH US SUPPORT. WE BELIEVE THAT PASSAGE OF ANOTHER BALANCED RESOLUTION ON CHILE WOULD HELP ENCOURAGE CONSTRUCTIVE ACTION BY THE GOVERNMENT TO ADDRESS THE SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS IN CHILE. OUR OBJECTIVE SHOULD BE TO ENCOURAGE REAL IMPROVEMENTS, NOT SIMPLY CRITICIZE.

--IN THE PAST WE HAVE VOTED AGAINST UNFAIR RESOLUTIONS ON CHILE, BOTH IN THE UNHRC AND UNGA. WE PREFER TO VOTE IN FAVOR, AS WE WERE ABLE TO DO LAST YEAR ON THE CHILE RESOLUTION IN THE UNHRC. WE WILL NOT SUPPORT ANY RESOLUTION ON CHILE WHICH IS NOT FAIR AND BALANCED, AND WHICH DOES NOT CONTAIN ALL ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS CONTAINED IN THE US DRAFT.

--IN THIS REGARD, WE SHOULD NOTE THAT THE MEXICANS HAVE CIRCULATED A COMPETING DRAFT ON CHILE. WE DO NOT FIND THIS DRAFT ACCEPTABLE.

--OUR MOST SERIOUS OBJECTION TO THE MEXICAN TEXT IS WHAT THIS TEXT OMITS. THE MEXICAN TEXT MAKES NO REFERENCE TO THE EFFORTS BY THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT TAKEN FOLLOWING LAST YEAR'S UNHRC RESOLUTION TO ADDRESS HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS. IT DOES NOT MENTION THE PROBLEM OF TERRORISM, THE DISCOVERY OF MAJOR QUANTITIES OF TERRORIST ARMS, OR THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST PRESIDENT PINOCHET LAST SEPTEMBER, WHICH WE CONSIDER IMPORTANT ASPECTS OF THE OVERALL ENVIRONMENT IN CHILE. THE TEXT ALSO DOES NOT CALL FOR AN END TO THE PRACTICE OF CONSIDERING CHILE IN THE UNHRC UNDER A SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM.

--WE WOULD LIKE YOUR SUPPORT FOR OUR INITIATIVE AND HOPE YOU WILL INSTRUCT YOUR DELEGATION TO CO-SPONSOR THE US TEXT.

--WE HOPE YOU WILL ACT ON THIS REQUEST EXPEDITIOUSLY. THIS ISSUE COULD COME TO A VOTE IN THE UNHRC AS EARLY AS FEBRUARY 25. WHITEHEAD

E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: UNHRC, PHUM, CI, PK
SUBJECT: 43RD UNHRC: U.S. RESOLUTION ON CHILE - DEMARCHE TO PAKISTAN

REFS: (A) STATE 52474; (B) STATE 51557

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. ON FEBRUARY 22, POLOFF DELIVERED ORALLY AND AS NON-PAPER POINTS CONTAINED REF A ON U.S. CHILE RESOLUTION AND PROVIDED COPY OF DRAFT RESOLUTION TEXT (REF B) TO MFA UN DIRECTOR SALMAN BASHIR.

3. BASHIR WAS MORE RESPONSIVE ON CHILE RESOLUTION THAN ON THE PROPOSED U.S. RESOLUTION ON CUBA (SEE SEPTEL). HE NOTED THAT SEVERAL YEARS AGO THE GOP SWITCHED FROM SUPPORTING TO OPPOSING NEGATIVE AND UNBALANCED RESOLUTIONS ON CHILEAN HUMAN RIGHTS. HE RECALLED PAKISTAN'S SUPPORT OF LAST YEAR'S CONSENSUS RESOLUTION AND HOPED A SIMILAR APPROACH WOULD BE ADOPTED THIS YEAR.

4. WHILE COMMENTING THAT INSTRUCTIONS HAVE NOT BEEN ISSUED ON HANDLING A RESOLUTION ON CHILE, BASHIR INDICATED UNOFFICIALLY THAT THE GOP WOULD PROBABLY SUPPORT THE U.S. APPROACH AND OPPOSE THE MEXICAN DRAFT IF IT IS UNBALANCED AND INCOMPLETE.

5. COMMENT: PAK POSITION IN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION APPEARS TO BE THAT GOP WILL SUPPORT MOVES THAT HAVE CONSENSUS BACKING, E.G., AGAINST INTERNATIONAL PARIAHS.

2. BECAUSE GOC AUTHORITIES DID NOT MEET THE AIRCRAFT AS REQUESTED, MR. KNIGHT PROCEEDED DIRECTLY TO THE INTERNATIONAL POLICE TO SEEK ASSISTANCE. DURING MR. KNIGHT'S ABSENCE, MR. ALVARO CONTINUED TO VERBALLY ABUSE [redacted] WHILE BOTH WERE WAITING FOR THEIR BAGGAGE. BECAUSE OF THIS DISTURBANCE AND AT MR. KNIGHT'S INSISTANCE, MR. KNIGHT, [redacted] MR. ALVARO AND HIS FAMILY WERE REQUIRED TO GO TO THE CARABINEROS (POLICE) STATION FOR STATEMENTS.

E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: PREL, CS, XK, OVIP (HABIB, PHILIP C.)
SUBJECT: AMB. HABIB'S MEETING WITH COSTA RICAN PRESIDENT ARIAS

2. SUMMARY: AMBASSADOR HABIB OPENED DISCUSSION OF PRESIDENT ARIAS' RECENT PROPOSAL NOTING SIMILAR DESIRE ON THE PART OF THE UNITED STATES TO EMPHASIZE THE IMPORTANCE OF BRINGING DEMOCRACY TO NICARAGUA. WE WANTED TO WORK WITH COSTA RICA TO ACHIEVE THIS COMMON GOAL BUT WE WERE DISTURBED THAT OUR CONCERNS HAD BEEN IGNORED IN DRAFTING HIS PROPOSALS. THE PLAN HAD SERIOUS DEFICIENCIES AND OMISSIONS, WHICH WERE THEN OUTLINED. ARIAS SAID HE WAS TROUBLED BY THE U.S. CONCENTRATION ON AID TO THE NICARAGUAN RESISTANCE. HE SAW HIS PLAN AS A WAY TO BOX IN NICARAGUA. IF THEY ACCEPTED, THEY WOULD FALL FROM POWER. IF THEY REJECTED IT OR RENEGED, THEY WOULD BE ISOLATED, AND THE U.S. COULD TAKE WHATEVER ACTION IT WANTED. TO HAVE THIS AFFECT HIS PLAN REQUIRED CONTADORA'S SUPPORT, INCLUDING MEXICO. HE ALSO SPOKE OF THE NEED THAT GUATEMALA ACCEPT THE PLAN. ARIAS REPEATEDLY SAID THAT THE PLAN WAS ONLY A DRAFT AND ACKNOWLEDGED IT HAD MAJOR FLAWS. CONCERNING A CEASE-FIRE, FOR EXAMPLE, HE SAID COSTA RICA DID NOT KNOW ABOUT SUCH THINGS, SO THE DRAFT JUST MENTIONED IT BRIEFLY; HE EXPECTS HONDURAS AND EL SALVADOR TO FLESH OUT THAT SECTION BEFORE ESQUIPULAS. HE ACCEPTED THAT THE RESISTANCE SHOULD PARTICIPATE IN THE DIALOGUE AT SOME POINT, AND IN PARTICULAR WITH REGARD TO A CEASE-FIRE. HE ALLEGED THAT CALERO, CRUZ AND ROBELO HAD WIRED HIM SUPPORT FOR HIS PROPOSALS. HE ERRONEOUSLY THOUGHT THE CALL FOR AN END TO AID THE RESISTANCE WOULD NOT REPEAT NOT HAVE AN IMPACT UNTIL THE FALL, AS THE DOLS. 48 MILLION WOULD BE DISBURSED BEFORE THE ESQUIPULAS MEETING.
END SUMMARY.

3. ON FEBRUARY 23, AMB. HABIB AND CHARGE TULL CALLED ON COSTA RICAN PRESIDENT ARIAS AND FOREIGN MINISTER MADRIGAL TO DISCUSS THE NEGOTIATING PROCESS IN CENTRAL AMERICA. AMB. HABIB STATED THAT THE UNITED STATES WELCOMED THE EFFORTS OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES TO ASSERT THEMSELVES AND THE EMPHASIS THEY WERE PLACING ON DEMOCRACY. THE UNITED STATES INTENDED TO INTENSIFY ITS DIPLOMATIC EFFORTS, AND THE GOAL OF ITS POLICY WAS TO BRING ABOUT DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA AND BREAK THE RELATIONSHIP WITH THE SOVIET BLOC.

4. HABIB TOLD ARIAS THAT THE USG HAD SOUGHT TO COOPERATE WITH COSTA RICA AS IT DRAFTED ITS PEACE PROPOSAL AND WAS DISTURBED THAT OUR CONCERNS HAD BEEN IGNORED. THIS WAS A SERIOUS PROBLEM, FOR THE PLAN

AFFECTED US AND OUR POLICY, AND IT REQUIRED US TO TAKE CERTAIN ACTIONS. THE PLAN NEEDED U.S. SUPPORT OR IT WOULD FALL APART. IT ALSO NEEDED THE SUPPORT OF THE OTHER CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES, AND AS OF NOW, IT DID NOT HAVE THEIR SUPPORT. HABIB NOTED HIS CONCERN THAT THE SANDINISTAS MIGHT ACCEPT, OR PARTIALLY ACCEPT, THE PLAN AND THEN MANAGE TO TURN THE WHOLE COSTA RICAN INITIATIVE TO THEIR ADVANTAGE.

5. ARIAS EXPRESSED HIS PLEASURE THAT THE UNITED STATES CONTINUED TO PURSUE THE DIPLOMATIC TRACK. HE SHARED U.S. OBJECTIVES OF DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA, BUT DISAGREED WITH OUR MEANS. HE WAS TROUBLED THAT ALL HE SAW FROM THE U.S. WAS SUPPORT FOR THE CONTRAS. HE HAD BEEN TOLD BY A RECENT CONGRESSIONAL VISITOR THAT THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION WAS ONLY CONCERNED WITH TWO ISSUES, SDI AND CONTRA AID. BUT THE ONLY ONES WHO HAD ANY CONFIDENCE IN THE CONTRAS WERE A FEW PEOPLE IN WASHINGTON. FROM WHERE HE STOOD, THE CONTRAS WERE IN DISARRAY. PEDRO JOAQUIN CHAMORRO HAD CALLED HIM OVER THE WEEKEND TO ASK HIM FOR ADVICE ABOUT WHAT HE SHOULD DO. ARTURO CRUZ HAD BEEN DISCOVERED TO BE ON OLIVER NORTH'S PAYROLL. NO ONE TRUSTED ADOLFO CALERO. ALFREDO CESAR HAD INVITED HIMSELF TO LUNCH AT ARIAS' RESIDENCE THE PREVIOUS SUNDAY TO SHOW ARIAS A LETTER RENOUNCING CESAR'S SHARE OF THE DOLS 5 MILLION IN U.S. AID IF THE SANDINISTAS ACCEPTED THE ARIAS PLAN. HE MADE CLEAR THAT HE WOULD BE PREPARED TO RETURN TO NICARAGUA. MOREOVER, ARIAS HAD RECEIVED A TELEX FROM THE THREE UNO DIRECTORS SUPPORTING HIS PLAN (PRESUMABLY IN PRINCIPLE, BEFORE THEY SAW THE TEXT). AMIDST ALL THIS CONFUSION, THERE WAS A MAJOR BATTLE GOING ON IN WASHINGTON OVER CONTRA AID.

6. ARIAS SAID HE WAS SEEKING A NEW APPROACH WHICH WOULD FOCUS ON DEMOCRACY, AN AREA IN WHICH COSTA RICA HAD MORAL AUTHORITY. HE WANTED NEGOTIATIONS, SO HE HAD TABLED HIS PROPOSAL AS A DRAFT, NOT AS A "TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT" PLAN. ALL FOUR OTHER CENTRAL AMERICAN STATES, INCLUDING NICARAGUA, WOULD SUBMIT THEIR RECOMMENDED REVISIONS. THE FINAL TEXT WOULD BE CONSIDERED AT THE ESQUIPULAS MEETING WITHIN 90 DAYS. HE WANTED HIS DRAFT, NOT THE DRAFT CONTADORA AGREEMENT, TO BE THE SUBJECT OF THE DISCUSSION AT ESQUIPULAS. (THE SANDINISTAS DID NOT WANT THIS, AND WERE TREATING HIS PLAN AS ONE OF MANY.) ARIAS SAID THAT HE INTENDED TO GET THE SANDINISTAS IN A BOX. IF THEY ACCEPTED HIS PLAN WITH ITS REQUIREMENT FOR DEMOCRACY, IT WOULD MEAN THEIR DOWNFALL. IF THEY REFUSED, OR IF THEY ACCEPTED AND THEN RENEGED, THEN THEY WOULD BE EXPOSED TO THE WORLD, AND THE U.S. "COULD DO WHAT IT WANTED." THIS WOULD RESULT IN A BIPARTISAN U.S. POLICY, AND SEN. DODD HAD TOLD ARIAS THAT HE WOULD AGREE WITH THE ADMINISTRATION IN SUCH A SITUATION.

7. ARIAS SAID THAT HE DID NOT WANT TO GET DRAWN INTO U.S. POLITICAL INFIGHTING. MANY PEOPLE WERE TRYING TO USE HIM AND HIS WORDS TO THEIR OWN POLITICAL ADVANTAGE. HE HOPED THAT HIS PLAN COULD ALLOW A BIPARTISAN U.S. POLICY. HABIB EXPLAINED THAT THE 1988 CAMPAIGN WAS ALREADY BEGINNING, AND THAT HE SHOULD NOT BE MISLED INTO THINKING THAT HIS DEMOCRATIC VISITORS WERE APPROACHING THE ISSUE IN A BIPARTISAN SPIRIT.

8. HABIB SAID THAT ARIAS HAD GIVEN TOO MUCH AWAY IN ORDER TO MAKE THE PROPOSAL ACCEPTABLE TO THE SANDINISTAS. IT WAS CLEARLY FRONT LOADED IN FAVOR OF NICARAGUA, WITH THOSE THINGS WHICH BENEFIT THE SANDINISTAS COMING EARLY, AND THE SANDINISTAS' ACTIONS COMING MUCH LATER. HE EXPLAINED THAT IT WAS BAD NEGOTIATING TACTICS TO GIVE YOUR OPPONENT TOO MUCH OF THEY WANT AT THE BEGINNING, FOR THEY WILL SIMPLY START THERE AND DEMAND EVEN MORE CONCESSIONS. TURNING TO

SPECIFICS, HABIB NOTED THAT THE PROVISION FOR A CEASE-FIRE WAS TOTALLY INADEQUATE. A CEASE-FIRE WAS A COMPLICATED MATTER WHICH REQUIRED TOUGH NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN THE ARMED PARTIES. THE ARIAS PROPOSAL IGNORED THE CONTRAS AND WOULD SIMPLY PROCLAIM A CEASE-FIRE, WITHOUT ANY OF THE TERMS BEING AGREED UPON BY THE PARTIES CONCERNED. MOREOVER, IT WOULD START AT THE INITIATION OF DIALOGUE AMONG THE INTERNAL OPPOSITION, WITH NO CLEAR NOTION OF WHERE THOSE NEGOTIATIONS WOULD LEAD. THE PROPOSAL WOULD ALSO CALL FOR THE END OF U.S. AID TO THE RESISTANCE UPON SIGNATURE OF THE AGREEMENT, BEFORE THE SANDINISTAS HAD TAKEN A SINGLE STEP TOWARD DEMOCRATIZATION. THE PLAN ACCEPTED THE SANDINISTA CONSTITUTION AND WOULD HAVE NO NATIONAL ELECTIONS UNTIL 1990. HABIB SAID HE UNDERSTOOD THE REASONS FOR INCORPORATING THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT INTO THE PLAN, BUT QUESTIONED WHY NATIONAL ELECTIONS SHOULD BE PUT OFF THREE YEARS. HABIB ALSO ASKED WHY THE PLAN WAS REGIONAL, WHEN EVERYONE KNEW THAT NICARAGUA WAS THE PROBLEM.

9. ARIAS REPLIED THAT THE PLAN NEEDED TO BE REGIONAL TO BE ACCEPTED BY GUATEMALA. CEREZO WOULD NOT AGREE TO ANY PLAN WHICH WAS DIRECTED SPECIFICALLY AGAINST NICARAGUA. GUATEMALA WAS THE KEY TO THE PLAN, AND WITHOUT IT THE PLAN DIED. ARIAS EXPLAINED THAT TO SUCCEED, THE PLAN NEEDED CONTADORA'S ENDORSEMENT. UNLESS GUATEMALA SIGNED, MEXICO WOULD DENOUNCE THE PLAN AS SIMPLY THE WORK OF THREE U.S. PUPPETS. IN THIS CASE, THE OTHER CONTADORA AND SUPPORT GROUP COUNTRIES WOULD BE COMPELLED NOT TO SUPPORT IT. NICARAGUA WOULD THEN BE JUSTIFIED IN REJECTING THE PLAN. IF MEXICAN FOREIGN SECRETARY SEPULVEDA APPROVED THE PLAN, THE OTHER CONTADORA COUNTRIES WOULD CERTAINLY DO SO ALSO, AND NICARAGUA WOULD BE FORCED TO DISCUSS THE PLAN AT ESQUIPULAS. ARIAS HAD HEARD THAT MEXICO HAD PRESSURED CEREZO NOT TO ATTEND THE SUMMIT, AND HE HAD INFORMED THE MEXICAN AMBASSADOR THAT IF THIS HAPPENED, ARIAS WOULD CANCEL HIS PENDING TRIP TO MEXICO. THE MEXICANS HAD ASSURED HIM THIS WAS NOT TRUE. ARIAS WOULD OF COURSE BE DISCUSSING THE MATTER LATTER THIS WEEK WITH PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID DURING HIS VISIT TO MEXICO. HABIB SAID THAT HE WOULD SEE SEPULVEDA ON FEBRUARY 24 AND WOULD SEND ARIAS FEEDBACK ON THE MEETING BEFORE ARIAS EMBARKED ON FEBRUARY 25.

10. ARIAS READILY ACKNOWLEDGED THAT HIS PLAN'S PROVISIONS CONCERNING A CEASE-FIRE WERE INADEQUATE. HE EXPLAINED THAT SINCE COSTA RICA HAS NO ARMY, IT DOES NOT KNOW ABOUT CEASE-FIRES. HE HAD DELIBERATELY LIMITED THE PASSAGE ABOUT CEASE-FIRE TO "A LINE AND A HALF" BECAUSE HE INTENDED TO LEAVE IT TO HONDURAS AND EL SALVADOR WHICH DID HAVE ARMIES TO WORK OUT THE SPECIFICS. HE AGREED THAT THE RESISTANCE WOULD NEED TO BE INCLUDED IN ARRANGING THE TERMS. SCANNING THE TEXT OF THE PLAN, HE SUGGESTED THAT THE PRINCIPLE OF THEIR PARTICIPATION WAS INCLUDED IN SECTION 7 OF THE PLAN WHICH CALLED FOR NEGOTIATIONS ON MILITARY MATTERS. WHEN IT WAS POINTED OUT TO HIM THAT THE LANGUAGE APPEARED TO REFER TO NEGOTIATIONS AMONG THE FIVE NATIONS AND NOT BETWEEN GOVERNMENTS AND INSURGENT FORCES, HE SEEMED A BIT PUZZLED.

11. HABIB ASKED ABOUT WHETHER THE RESISTANCE WOULD BE INCLUDED IN THE DIALOGUE AFTER A CEASE-FIRE TOOK PLACE. ARIAS SAID THAT IT WOULD, AND AGAIN LOOKED OVER THE PLAN TO FIND SOME PASSAGE THAT MIGHT BE INTERPRETED TO MEAN THAT.

12. ARIAS SAID THAT THE CALL FOR AN END TO SUPPORT FOR IRREGULAR FORCES SHOULD NOT BOTHER THE UNITED STATES.

THE PLAN WOULD NOT BE SIGNED UNTIL ESQUIPULAS, WHICH WOULD PROBABLY BE IN MAY. SINCE THE U.S. WAS GOING TO GET THE FINAL DOLS 48 MILLION FOR THE CONTRAS IN A FEW WEEKS, THE CALL FOR AN END TO AID WOULD HAVE NO REAL IMPACT UNTIL IT SOUGHT ADDITIONAL FUNDS IN THE FALL. BY THIS TIME, THE AGREEMENT WOULD HAVE TAKEN HOLD OR--MORE LIKELY--THE SANDINISTAS WOULD HAVE REJECTED OR VIOLATED IT, MAKING IT EASIER FOR THE U.S. TO SECURE MORE CONTRA AID. HABIB QUICKLY POINTED OUT THE ERROR OF THIS LOGIC. HE EXPLAINED THAT THE AID WAS DISBURSED OVER A PERIOD OF TIME, AND SOME OF THE 48 MILLION WOULD STILL BE IN THE PIPELINE EVEN AFTER SEPTEMBER. AN END TO AID AS CONTEMPLATED IN THE PLAN WOULD TAKE EFFECT IMMEDIATELY AND CRIPPLE THE RESISTANCE. THE UNITED STATES COULD NEVER ACCEPT THIS. ARIAS AND MADRIGAL WERE SURPRISED THAT THEIR PLAN WOULD HAVE THIS KIND OF EFFECT. THEY DID NOT INDICATE A WILLINGNESS TO CHANGE THE PROPOSAL, HOWEVER. ARIAS SAID THAT IF THE PLAN WERE TO BE TOUGH ON DEMOCRATIZATION, IT MUST BE TOUGH ON AID TO THE CONTRAS, TOO.

13. HABIB NOTED THAT THE PLAN OUTLINED NEGOTIATIONS ON MILITARY FORCE LEVELS. HE SAID THAT THESE ALSO WERE COMPLICATED MATTERS THAT WOULD REQUIRE GREAT THOUGHT AND EFFORT, BUT WERE BARELY MENTIONED. AGAIN, ARIAS SAID EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS WOULD HAVE TO TAKE THE LEAD AND WORK OUT REVISIONS FOR ESQUIPULAS. HABIB NOTED THAT THE PLAN LACKED ANY MENTION OF FOREIGN MILITARY ADVISORS, AND EXPLAINED THAT THE PRESENCE OF THOUSANDS OF CUBAN AND SOVIET BLOC ADVISORS IN NICARAGUA WAS A SERIOUS DESTABILIZING FACTOR. ARIAS AGREED THIS WAS AN OMISSION.

14. ARIAS SAID THAT PRECEDING THE ESQUIPULAS MEETINGS, THERE WOULD BE A SERIES OF TALKS AMONG THE CENTRAL AMERICAN STATES. SOME WOULD BE BILATERAL BETWEEN COSTA RICA AND THE OTHER FOUR TO DISCUSS THEIR INDIVIDUAL PROPOSALS FOR CHANGES. THERE COULD ALSO BE JOINT MEETINGS OF THE DEMOCRACIES WITHOUT NICARAGUA. ARIAS WAS SEEKING TO ACHIEVE A JOINT POSITION FOR THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES, SO THAT THEY WOULD BE IN A STRONG POSITION VIS-A-VIS NICARAGUA. ARIAS SAID THAT HE RECOGNIZED THAT MANY REVISIONS WERE NEEDED IN PARTS OF THE PLAN, BUT HE INSISTED THAT HE WOULD NOT CHANGE ONE WORD OF THE SECTIONS ON DEMOCRATIZATION AND ELECTIONS. HABIB WARNED AGAINST ALLOWING THE SANDINISTAS TO PLAY THE DEMOCRACIES AGAINST ONE ANOTHER, AND ARIAS SAID HE WOULD NOT LET THIS HAPPEN.

15. ARIAS SAID THAT AT THE SAN JOSE SUMMIT, IT WAS CLEAR THAT NO AGREEMENT WAS GOING TO BE REACHED IN A SINGLE DAY. NOT ONLY WAS CEREZO UNWILLING TO BE PART OF ANYTHING DIRECTED AGAINST NICARAGUA, BUT EL SALVADOR ARRIVED WITH A LONG LIST OF PROPOSED CHANGES. HE NOTED THAT GENERAL BLANDON HAD ACCOMPANIED DUARTE AND WAS CONSTANTLY LOOKING OVER HIS SHOULDER. DUARTE HAD CONFIDED PRIVATELY THAT IF HE ACCEPTED THE PLAN AS ORIGINALLY DRAFTED, WHICH WOULD RESULT IN A CUT-OFF OF MILITARY AID TO EL SALVADOR, HE WOULD BE OVERTHROWN IN 24 HOURS. ARIAS HAD SUGGESTED HOLDING ESQUIPULAS IN 15 DAYS TO PUT PRESSURE ON NICARAGUA TO RESPOND QUICKLY. HONDURAN PRESIDENT AZCONA HAD OBJECTED, HOWEVER, AND WANTED TO DELAY 30 DAYS, CLAIMING THAT THE CONTRAS WOULD MOVE OUT OF HONDURAS DURING THIS TIME. AZCONA COULD THEN FACE ORTEGA WITHOUT HAVING CONTRAS INSIDE HIS COUNTRY. ARIAS ADDED THAT HE ASSUMED THAT WE HAD PERSUADED AZCONA TO SEEK THIS DELAY. HABIB REPLIED THAT TO THE BEST OF HIS KNOWLEDGE, THE UNITED STATES HAD NOT DONE SO. HABIB ADDED THAT HE AGREED WITH ARIAS THAT THE ESQUIPULAS MEETING SHOULD BE HELD AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

16. HABIB ASKED WHY ARIAS HAD ANNOUNCED THE SPECIFICS

OF HIS PLAN AT THE SUMMIT EVEN THOUGH NO AGREEMENT HAD BEEN REACHED. ARIAS SAID THAT DRAFTS HAD BEEN CIRCULATED TO THE OTHER THREE DEMOCRACIES DURING THE PRECEDING WEEK. GUATEMALA MAY WELL HAVE PASSED A COPY TO MEXICO. HE CONCLUDED THAT WITH SO MANY COPIES FLOATING AROUND, IT WOULD INEVITABLY LEAK VERY SOON, SO HE MIGHT AS WELL RELEASE THE DRAFT.

EXDIS

17. HABIB ASKED WHY COSTA RICA HAD ABANDONED ITS DEMAND THAT NICARAGUA DROP ITS ICJ SUIT BEFORE COSTA RICA RESUMED BILATERAL NEGOTIATIONS. MADRIGAL REPLIED THAT COSTA RICA HAD ADOPTED ITS EARLIER POSITION IN ORDER TO PUT PRESSURE ON CONTADORA TO IN TURN PRESSURE NICARAGUA; THIS HAD NOT WORKED. IF PROGRESS IS MADE AT ESQUIPULAS, THEN THE CONTADORA COUNTRIES WOULD BE LIKELY TO ASK NICARAGUA TO DROP THE CASES.

EXDIS

18. HABIB ASKED HOW ARIAS SAW HIS PROPOSAL IN RELATION TO CONTADORA. ARIAS SAID IT COMPLEMENTED CONTADORA, BUT WAS A CONCRETE PLAN THAT FOCUSED ON POLITICAL ISSUES, WHEREAS CONTADORA HAD FOCUSED ON SECURITY ISSUES. HABIB SAID THAT CONTADORA'S INABILITY TO DEAL WITH POLITICAL ISSUES WAS WHAT HAD MADE IT INCOMPLETE. ARIAS SAID THAT HE NATURALLY COULD NOT COME OUT AGAINST CONTADORA, BUT HE DID NOT WANT IT TO INTERFERE WITH THIS PLAN. HE HOPED CONTADORA WOULD EMBRACE IT, BUT HE DID NOT WANT CONTADORA TO TAKE IT OVER. WHEREAS THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES HAD BEEN WEAK BEFORE, HE WANTED THEM TO ASSERT THEMSELVES UNDER COSTA RICAN LEADERSHIP.

19. ARIAS EXPLAINED THAT HE HAD INCLUDED THE UN AND OAS SECRETARIES GENERAL IN HIS PROPOSALS BECAUSE BOTH DISLIKED THE SANDINISTAS, AND IT WOULD BE USEFUL TO HAVE THEIR ORGANIZATIONS INVOLVED IN THE VERIFICATION ASPECTS OF ANY AGREEMENT.

20. ARIAS SAID THAT ELECTIONS FOR THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT WOULD TEST THE WILLINGNESS OF THE SANDINISTAS TO ACCEPT DEMOCRACY. THESE ELECTIONS WOULD HAVE INTERNATIONAL SUPERVISION. IN A FAIR CONTEST, THE SANDINISTAS WOULD WIN ONLY 20 PERCENT OF THE VOTE, AND THIS WOULD BE POLITICALLY DEVASTATING FOR THEM.

EXDIS

21. ARIAS ASKED WHAT THE UNITED STATES INTENDED TO DO DURING THE NEXT 90 DAYS. HABIB ANSWERED THAT THE UNITED STATES WOULD INTENSIFY ITS NEGOTIATING EFFORTS. HE NOTED THAT ALTHOUGH ARIAS DISAGREED WITH OUR POLICY OF SUPPORTING THE RESISTANCE, MANY THOUSANDS OF FIGHTERS WERE NOW INSIDE NICARAGUA AND WERE PUTTING INCREASING PRESSURE ON THE SANDINISTAS. THIS FACT COULD HELP MAKE THE SANDINISTAS MORE FLEXIBLE AND ENHANCE THE PROSPECTS FOR A NEGOTIATED SETTLEMENT.

22. AMBASSADOR HABIB APPROVED THIS MESSAGE. (POL 866) BRIGGS

TAGS: PREL, XK, NU, OVIP (HABIB, PHILIP C.)
SUBJECT: AMB. HABIB'S MEETING WITH LEADERS OF THE NICARAGUAN CIVIC OPPOSITION

1. ~~(S)~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: ON FEBRUARY 22, AMB. HABIB MET WITH NICARAGUAN CIVIC OPPOSITION LEADERS ERICK RAMIREZ AND MAURICIO DIAZ TO DISCUSS THE NEGOTIATING PROCESS IN CENTRAL AMERICA. HE EXPLAINED THAT THE GOAL OF U.S. POLICY TOWARD NICARAGUA WAS DEMOCRACY. RAMIREZ AND DIAZ SAID THAT NICARAGUA WAS IN THE MIDST OF A MAJOR CRISIS MARKED BY GROWING SOCIAL UNREST. THE PEOPLE WERE UNHAPPY WITH THE GOVERNMENT, AND THE CIVIC OPPOSITION WAS GEARING UP TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS DISCONTENT. THE CRISIS WAS HELPING PROMOTE OPPOSITION UNITY, MANIFESTED IN THE 7-PARTY PROPOSAL. THIS PROPOSAL WAS DESIGNED TO START A PROCESS WHICH WOULD EVENTUALLY INCLUDE THE ARMED OPPOSITION IN A DIALOGUE, AND THE PARTIES WOULD SOON MEET TO ELABORATE THE DETAILS. THEY HAD NOT SEEN THE FULL TEXT OF THE ARIAS PLAN. HABIB INFORMED THEM THAT THE TWO PLANS WERE GENERALLY COMPATIBLE AND FOCUSED ON DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA, BUT THE 7-PARTY INCLUDED SOME IMPORTANT CONCEPTS THE ARIAS PLAN DID NOT, SUCH AS REACHING A CEASE-FIRE THROUGH DIALOGUE AND HAVING A TIMETABLE FOR NATIONAL ELECTIONS. RAMIREZ AND DIAZ SAID THAT THEY PLANNED TO PROMOTE THEIR PLAN ABROAD ACTIVELY, VISITING LATIN AMERICA AND EUROPE. HABIB ASKED IF THEY FORESAW WORKING WITH THE RESISTANCE IN A POLITICAL BATTLE AGAINST THE SANDINISTAS IF A POLITICAL OPENING AND A CEASE-FIRE COULD BE ARRANGED. DIAZ ANSWERED THAT THEY HAD NOT. HABIB NOTED THAT THE RESISTANCE HAD 20,000 NICARAGUANS UNDER ARMS AND WERE A POLITICAL FORCE THAT HAD TO BE TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT. RAMIREZ AND DIAZ SAID THAT THEY SAW A CHANCE FOR A POLITICAL OPENING, AS SOME SANDINISTAS WERE UNHAPPY WITH THE COURSE OF EVENTS AND READY TO REACH AN AGREEMENT. END SUMMARY.

3. ON FEBRUARY 22, AMBASSADOR HABIB MET IN SAN JOSE WITH TWO LEADERS OF THE NICARAGUAN CIVIC OPPOSITION, ERICK RAMIREZ OF THE SOCIAL CHRISTIAN PARTY (PSC) AND MAURICIO DIAZ OF THE POPULAR SOCIAL CHRISTIAN PARTY (PPSC). BOTH NICARAGUANS HAD SIGNED THE 7-PARTY PROPOSAL PRESENTED TO THE SANDINISTA GOVERNMENT ON FEBRUARY 6 AND HAD BEEN PART OF THE OPPOSITION DELEGATION THAT HAD DISCUSSED THE PLAN WITH THE VARIOUS EUROPEAN GOVERNMENTS ATTENDING THE EC MINISTERIAL (SAN JOSE III) IN GUATEMALA. VIRGILIO GODOY OF THE INDEPENDENT LIBERAL PARTY (PLI), ALSO A MEMBER OF THAT DELEGATION, HAD AGREED TO TAKE PART IN THE MEETING WITH AMBASSADOR HABIB BUT FAILED TO APPEAR. JANET CRIST OF THE POLITICAL SECTION AT AMEMBASSY MANAGUA ALSO WAS PRESENT.

4. AMBASSADOR HABIB OPENED THE MEETING BY EXPLAINING THAT HE WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR PURSUING THE DIPLOMATIC TRACK OF U.S. POLICY IN CENTRAL AMERICA. THE U.S. OBJECTIVE IN NICARAGUA WAS DEMOCRACY AS WELL AS THE RESOLUTION OF THE CONDITIONS WHICH CREATED INSTABILITY SUCH AS THE SANDINISTAS' TIES TO THE SOVIETS AND CUBANS, THEIR MILITARY BUILDUP, AND THEIR EFFORTS TO SUBVERT THEIR DEMOCRATIC NEIGHBORS.

5. DIAZ SAID THAT NICARAGUA WAS AT A TIME OF GREAT CRISIS. THERE WAS GROWING SOCIAL UNREST, DUE LARGELY TO ECONOMIC HARDSHIP. RAMIREZ NOTED THAT THE SITUATION HAD DETERIORATED SIGNIFICANTLY SINCE HIS NOVEMBER MEETING WITH HABIB IN GUATEMALA. THE DISCONTENT WAS MANIFESTED BY THE WILLINGNESS OF PEOPLE TO SPEAK OUT OPENLY IN CRITICIZING THE GOVERNMENT. DIAZ ADMITTED THAT IN THE PAST, THE INTERNAL OPPOSITION HAD NOT MOVED TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS "AMORPHOUS DISCONTENT" AND NEEDED TO DO SO QUICKLY. HE RECALLED THAT WHEN THE SANDINISTAS HAD INSTITUTED THE MILITARY DRAFT, THERE HAD BEEN A SIMILAR REBELLIOUS SPIRIT, BUT THE SANDINISTAS HAD SUCCEEDED IN GETTING THE PEOPLE TO ACCEPT IT. IF THE CIVIC OPPOSITION DID NOT ACT TO FOCUS THE CURRENT DISCONTENT, THERE WAS THE DANGER THAT THE PEOPLE WOULD BECOME ACCUSTOMED TO THE CURRENT SITUATION AND THEIR TOLERANCE LEVEL WOULD RISE, AS HAD HAPPENED IN CUBA. RAMIREZ ADDED THAT THE PARTIES WERE TAKING ACTIONS SUCH AS STAGING ILLEGAL MARCHES, ORGANIZING FAMILIES OF POLITICAL PRISONERS, AND FOCUSING CRITICISM ON THE ECONOMIC SITUATION.

6. RAMIREZ SAID THAT AS A RESULT OF THIS CRISIS, THE CIVIC OPPOSITION WAS SUCCEEDING IN DRAWING TOGETHER. THE 7-PARTY PROPOSAL WAS A MANIFESTATION OF THIS INCREASING UNITY. THE PARTIES WOULD MEET ON MARCH 1 TO ELABORATE THE SPECIFICS OF THE PROPOSAL. THEIR PLAN WAS CENTERED ON THE FORMATION OF A NATIONAL COMMISSION INCLUDING THE SANDINISTAS AND THE CIVIC OPPOSITION. ONCE IN OPERATION, THIS COMMISSION WOULD CONCLUDE THAT PEACE WAS THE FIRST PRIORITY, AND PEACE REQUIRED A DIALOGUE WITH THE ARMED RESISTANCE. DIAZ EXPLAINED THAT THE SANDINISTAS WOULD REJECT ANY PROPOSAL IF DIALOGUE WITH THE RESISTANCE WAS SPECIFICALLY INCLUDED, SO IT WAS NECESSARY TO DRAW THEM INTO THE PROCESS, THEN HAVE THE PROCESS LEAD THEM INEVITABLY TO A DIALOGUE. HE ADDED THAT NO PARTY COULD ACT AS THE AGENT OF THE RESISTANCE IN A DIALOGUE WITHOUT BEING REPRESSED. ASKED IF THE CIVIC OPPOSITION HAD COORDINATED THEIR APPROACH WITH UNO, RAMIREZ SAID THAT THEY HAD NOT. HABIB STRESSED THE IMPORTANCE OF THINKING THROUGH THIS PROCESS VERY CAREFULLY. IN WORKING OUT THE TERMS OF A CEASE-FIRE, IT WAS VITAL TO DEFINE THE SPECIFIC COMMITMENTS OF THE SANDINISTAS AND HAVE A TIMETABLE FOR THEIR IMPLEMENTATION. THEY SHOULD NOT GIVE SOMETHING FOR NOTHING. ONCE THE PRESSURE FROM THE RESISTANCE WAS BLUNTED, IT WOULD BE VERY DIFFICULT TO RENEW IT. HABIB SUGGESTED THAT THE OPPOSITION SHOULD CONSIDER THE ADVANTAGES OF LINKING ANY AGREEMENT TO INTERNATIONAL SUPPORT SUCH AS THE ARIAS PLAN OR CONTADORA. HE WARNED AGAINST ALLOWING THE SANDINISTAS TO DRAW OUT ANY DIALOGUE, WHILE ALL THE TIME GUARANTEEING THEIR HOLD ON POWER. THE NICARAGUANS SAID THE 7-PARTY PLAN WOULD ALLOW CONTADORA A CHANCE TO REVIVE AND MAKE PROGRESS BECAUSE IT ADDRESSED THE KEY ISSUE OF POLITICAL CHANGE IN NICARAGUA.

7. HABIB ASKED WHAT THE TWO NICARAGUANS THOUGHT OF THE ARIAS PLAN. THEY SAID THAT THEY DID NOT KNOW ALL THE DETAILS OF THE ARIAS PLAN; IT HAD NOT BEEN PUBLISHED IN FULL IN NICARAGUA, AND THEIR ONLY INFORMATION ABOUT IT WAS WHAT FILTERED THROUGH THE SANDINISTA MEDIA. THEY BELIEVED THAT THE SANDINISTAS PREFERRED THE ARIAS PLAN TO THE 7-PARTY PROPOSAL, BECAUSE IT WOULD NOT LEAD TO THE SAME KIND OF INTERNAL DIALOGUE THE OPPOSITION WAS CALLING FOR. HABIB NOTED THAT THE 7-PARTY PLAN AS THEY HAD EXPLAINED IT WOULD HAVE A CEASE-FIRE AS THE RESULT OF DIALOGUE, WHILE THE ARIAS PLAN WOULD SIMPLY HAVE IT DECLARED AT THE OUTSET. THE ARIAS PLAN ALSO WOULD ACCEPT THE SANDINISTAS' CONSTITUTION AND NOT REQUIRE ELECTIONS FOR NATIONAL LEADERS UNTIL 1990, WHILE THE 7-PARTY PROPOSAL CALLED FOR ELECTION IN ONE YEAR.

8. HABIB ASKED IF THE CIVIC OPPOSITION WAS WORKING WITH THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES. DIAZ REPLIED THAT GUATEMALAN PRESIDENT CEREZO HAD SAID HE WOULD TAKE THE 7-PARTY PROPOSAL TO THE SAN JOSE SUMMIT ON FEBRUARY 15, BUT THEY DID NOT KNOW IF HE HAD ACTUALLY DONE SO. RAMIREZ ADDED THAT CEREZO WAS GENERALLY VERY SUPPORTIVE OF THE SOCIAL CHRISTIAN PARTY IN NICARAGUA. EL SALVADOR'S ROLE WAS MORE LIMITED BECAUSE OF THE TENSION BETWEEN THE SANDINISTAS AND THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT. ARIAS, WHOSE PARTY WAS SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC, HAD LIMITED CONTACT WITH THE NICARAGUAN SOCIAL CHRISTIANS. HABIB URGED THE TWO NICARAGUANS TO TRY AND MEET WITH COSTA RICAN GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS WHILE THEY WERE IN SAN JOSE TO MAKE THEIR POSITION KNOWN, AND THEY AGREED TO TRY.

9. RAMIREZ STATED THAT THE SANDINISTAS' INTERNAL CRISIS IS ACCOMPANIED BY AN INTERNATIONAL CRISIS, AS LATIN AMERICA AND EUROPE ARE SOURING ON THE SANDINISTAS. HE SAID HE HAD BEEN WELL RECEIVED ON A RECENT TRIP TO EUROPE AND BY NUMEROUS DELEGATIONS AT THE EC MEETING IN GUATEMALA. THE OPPOSITION WAS NOW PLANNING A MAJOR CAMPAIGN TO PROMOTE THEIR PLAN INTERNATIONALLY. THEY WOULD VISIT ALL THE CONTADORA AND SUPPORT GROUP COUNTRIES (WITH ONLY MEXICO'S SEPULVEDA LIKELY TO DECLINE AN INTERVIEW), THE UNITED STATES, WESTERN EUROPE, HAVANA, AND EVEN MOSCOW. HABIB WELCOMED THIS ACTIVE APPROACH AND SAID THE UNITED STATES WOULD DO WHATEVER IT COULD TO HELP THE OPPOSITION MAKE CONTACT WITH GROUPS IN THESE OTHER COUNTRIES. HE ADDED THAT HE HAD FOUND OPINIONS ABOUT NICARAGUA SHIFTING DURING HIS RECENT TRIP TO EUROPE. HE COMMENTED THAT HE DOUBTED THAT VISITING MOSCOW WOULD BE OF MUCH USE, HOWEVER. RAMIREZ NOTED THAT THE CIVIC OPPOSITION WAS ALSO GOING TO PUT PRESSURE ON THE SANDINISTAS IN THE PERIOD LEADING UP TO THE INTER-PARLIAMENTARY UNION MEETING IN MANAGUA IN THE END OF APRIL. HE ASKED IF THE RESISTANCE MIGHT NOT CALL A CEASE-FIRE FOR 90 DAYS TO ALLOW THE CIVIC OPPOSITION A CHANCE TO USE INTERNAL PRESSURE. HABIB RESPONDED THAT THE RESISTANCE HAD STATED ITS WILLINGNESS TO ACCEPT A CEASE-FIRE, BUT THAT THE TERMS AND CONSEQUENTIAL ACTIONS MUST BE CLEARLY DEFINED, AND HE DOUBTED THAT THEY WOULD AGREE TO ANY UNILATERAL CEASE-FIRE.

10. HABIB NOTED THE NEED FOR UNITY AMONG ALL ELEMENTS OF THE OPPOSITION IF THEY WERE TO CONFRONT SUCCESSFULLY THE SANDINISTAS AND ASKED ABOUT ANY PLANS FOR THE CIVIC OPPOSITION TO WORK WITH THE RESISTANCE POLITICALLY IF A GENUINE POLITICAL OPENING WERE TO TAKE PLACE. DIAZ DISMISSED ANY THOUGHT OF A COALITION WITH THE RESISTANCE. HABIB URGED THAT HE CONSIDER CAREFULLY THE FACT THAT THE RESISTANCE HAD 20,000 NICARAGUANS UNDER ARMS; THEY WERE A POLITICAL FORCE THAT WOULD NEED TO BE TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT IN ANY POLITICAL SOLUTION. HABIB ASKED WHAT IMPACT THE RESISTANCE HAD INSIDE NICARAGUA. RAMIREZ SAID THAT THE RESISTANCE HAD ACTUALLY HELPED THE SANDINISTAS IN MANY WAYS, SUCH AS GIVING THEM AN EXCUSE FOR REPRESSION AND THEIR MILITARY BUILDUP. HE ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THEY HAD ALSO PROVOKED SANDINISTA REPRESSION WHICH HAD CONTRIBUTED TO THE CURRENT DISCONTENT.

11. RAMIREZ COMMENTED THAT THE INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL PRESSURES FACING THE SANDINISTAS NOW WERE OFFERING THE FIRST REAL CHANCE OF A POLITICAL OPENING IN MANY YEARS. DIAZ EXPLAINED THAT THERE WERE A NUMBER OF SANDINISTAS WHO WERE NOT HARDCORE MARXIST-LENINISTS AND WHO WERE DISTURBED BY THE COURSE OF EVENTS: THEY WANTED TO REACH AN UNDERSTANDING WITH THE UNITED STATES. HE NOTED THAT INTERIOR MINISTER TOMAS BORGE, WHO WAS REGARDED AS THE TOP HARDLINER IN THE FSLN, HAD LOST MUCH POWER AND NO LONGER EVEN CONTROLLED THE SECRET POLICE (DGSE). HE POINTED OUT THAT THE FACT THAT THE INTERNAL OPPOSITION WAS MEETING WITH HABIB HAD BEEN PUBLICIZED IN NICARAGUA BUT THE SANDINISTAS HAD NOT ATTACKED THEM ABOUT IT. INSTEAD, ORTEGA HAD ASKED THEM TO INVITE HABIB TO MANAGUA. HABIB RESPONDED THAT OUR POSITION ABOUT NOT DEALING WITH THE SANDINISTAS WAS WELL KNOWN. THE SANDINISTAS WANTED TO BILATERALIZE THE ISSUE, TRYING TO PORTRAY THEIR PROBLEM AS A CONFLICT BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND NICARAGUA. IN FACT, THE PROBLEM WAS BETWEEN THE SANDINISTAS AND THEIR OWN PEOPLE AND BETWEEN NICARAGUA AND ITS NEIGHBORS. WHEN THE SANDINISTAS WERE PREPARED TO FACE THIS AND NEGOTIATE SERIOUSLY WITH THEIR OWN PEOPLE, THEN THE UNITED STATES WOULD TALK TO THEM. PILLIOD

1. CONFIDENTIAL ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: CHARGE PROTESTED TO ACTING FONMIN THE CONTINUING CAMPAIGN IN THE CHILEAN PRESS CHARGING CIA AND/OR FBI WITH MURDER OF LETELIER, WITH HAVING BRIBED AND/OR BRAINWASHED FERNANDEZ LARIOS, AND INSULTING PRESENT AND FORMER U. S. AMBASSADORS. FONMIN SAID GOC DID NOT ENDORSE THESE ALLEGATIONS, BUT ASSUMED U.S. DID NOT WANT IT TO LIMIT FREEDOM OF THE PRESS. HE ASKED FOR EARLY STATE DEPARTMENT ACTION ON CIVIL SUIT FILED BY MRS. DENEGRI AND SAID GOC HAD SENT FERNANDEZ LARIOS DOCUMENTS TO THE MILITARY APPEALS COURT. END SUMMARY.

3. DURING CALL ON ACTING FONMIN COVARRUBIAS FEBRUARY 23, CHARGE SAID HE WISHED TO MAKE MOST FORCEFUL PROTEST AGAINST WHAT WAS OBVIOUSLY A CAMPAIGN IN THE CHILEAN PRESS TO DEFAME USG AGENCIES AND PRESENT AND FORMER U.S. AMBASSADORS WITH THE MOST OUTRAGEOUS LIES. HE READ EXCERPTS FROM LA TERCERA PIECE OF FEBRUARY 11, AND FROM LA NACION ARTICLE OF FEBRUARY 23 (REF B), BOTH OF WHICH PURPORTED TO BE NEWS STORIES, AND FROM HIDALGO CALVO AND CRUZ COKE COLUMNS THAT APPEARED IN TERCERA AND NACION RESPECTIVELY. HE SAID HE COULD HAVE LISTED A NUMBER OF OTHERS. HIDALGO PIECE WAS MOST REPUGNANT OF THE LOT, SUGGESTING LINKAGE BETWEEN AMBASSADOR BARNES AND ASSASSINATION OF INDIRA GANDHI, AND BETWEEN CIA AND PALME, ROLDOS AND TORRIJOS DEATHS. CRUZ COKE (DEFENSE ATTORNEY FOR CONTRERAS AND ESPINOZA) SAID CIA HAD BRIBED FERNANDEZ TO LEAVE CHILE AND THEN "BROKE" HIM UNDER INTERROGATION. LA NACION THAT VERY MORNING HAD TURNED WHAT OTHER PAPERS CARRIED AS A PAID AD INTO A "NEWS" STORY, INCLUDING THE SUGGESTION THAT AMBASSADOR LANDAU HAD BEEN A CIA OFFICIAL AND THAT VICE PRESIDENT BUSH HAD BEEN INVOLVED IN COVERUP AFTER LETELIER MURDER. CHARGE NOTED EFFORTS WE HAD MADE TO HANDLE FERNANDEZ LARIOS CASE STRICTLY AS A LEGAL MATTE WHICH NEED NOT AFFECT OUR BILATERAL RELATIONS. THIS ORGANIZED CAMPAIGN IN THE PRESS WAS CLEARLY POINTED IN A DIFFERENT DIRECTION.

4. COVARRUBIAS SAID THESE SAME THINGS ARE SAID IN THE UNITED STATES. CHARGE RETORTED THAT IN A COUNTRY OF 228 MILLION YOU COULD FIND SOMEONE WHO WOULD SAY ALMOST ANYTHING; THAT WAS NO EXCUSE FOR PRINTING IT. COVARRUBIA SAID U.S. WAS FIRST TO PROTEST IF GOC CLOSED A MAGAZINE AND ASSUMED WE DID NOT WISH THEM TO PREACH AGAINST FREEDO OF PRESS. NO, SAID CHARGE, BUT IN THIS CASE HE WAS

SPEAKING TO THE OWNER OF ONE OF THE PAPERS, GOC'S LA NACION, AND HOPED THAT GOC WOULD SEE THE MERIT OF NOT POISONING THE BILATERAL ATMOSPHERE THROUGH ONE OF ITS OWN INSTRUMENTS. GOC MIGHT WELL "PREACH," TO USE THE MINISTER'S WORD, TO OTHER NEWSPAPERS THAT CHILE'S INTERESTS WERE NOT SERVED BY PRINTING THIS KIND OF GARBAGE.

5. COVARRUBIAS SAID STATE DEPARTMENT SPOKESMAN HAD ALSO MADE ERRONEOUS STATEMENTS IMPUGNING THE HONOR OF CHILE'S PRESIDENT (SANTIAGO 9241). CHARGE DENIED ANY ERROR; WE WERE TALKING ABOUT A QUESTION OF PHRASING, NOT OUTRIGHT LIES OF THE KIND HE WAS PROTESTING. COVARRUBIAS FINALLY SAID GOC OF COURSE DID NOT "SHARE" THE SENTIMENTS EXPRESSED IN THE ARTICLES, BUT HE DID NOT OFFER TO DO ANYTHING ABOUT THEM.

6. COMMENT: OWNER OF LA TERCERA TOLD PAO THAT HIDALGO HAD BEEN HIRED AS A COLUMNIST ON THE EXPRESS ORDERS OF GOC PRESS CZAR FRANCISCO CUADRA. ULTIMAS NOTICIAS HAS ALSO BEEN HEAVILY DISTORTING ITS COVERAGE TO IMPUGN MOTIVES OF USG, AND FERNANDEZ, AT EVERY OPPORTUNITY, BUT NOT QUITE AS SLANDEROUSLY AS THE OTHER PAPERS. MERCURIO HAS BEEN MUCH MORE SUBTLE AND SEGUNDA, AS USUAL, THE MOST OBJECTIVE OF ALL THE PAPERS.

7. TURNING TO OTHER SUBJECTS, COVARRUBIAS SAID CHILEAN EMBASSY IN WASHINGTON HAD SENT THE STATE DEPARTMENT A NOTE ON FEBRUARY 7 CONCERNING THE CIVIL SUIT FILED IN THE U.S. BY MRS. DENEGRI. NOTE HAD ASKED THAT DEPARTMENT CONVEY PROMPTLY TO THE COURT ITS VIEW ON CHILE'S SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY FROM SUITS OF THIS KIND. AMBASSADOR ERRASURIZ HAD JUST TOLD HIM BY PHONE THAT DEPARTMENT HAD NOT YET ACTED. CHARGE SAID HE WOULD REPORT GOC CONCERN.

8. COVARRUBIAS SAID LETELIER FAMILY HAD NOT YET SUBMITTED TO THE MILITARY APPEALS COURT THE FACTUAL PROFFER AND OTHER DOCUMENTS SUBMITTED TO THE U.S. DISTRICT COURT IN THE FERNANDEZ LARIOS CASE, SO GOC HAD TAKEN THE INITIATIVE TO SEND THEM TO THE COURT. CHARGE SAID THAT WAS GOOD NEWS AND EXPRESSED APPRECIATION FOR GOC ACTION. HE SAID HE ASSUMED COURT WOULD STILL REQUIRE LEGALIZED COPIES OF THE DOCUMENTS; COVARRUBIAS CONFIRMED THAT WAS CORRECT.

9. CHARGE GAVE COVARRUBIAS A COPY OF WIRELESS FILE STORY (ART 483 OF FEBRUARY 19) ON LETTERS FROM HOUSE SUBCOMMITTEE ON IDI'S TO SECRETARIES BAKER AND SHULTZ, NOTING THAT ADMINISTRATION POLICY OF ABSTAINING WAS BEING CRITICIZED IN THE CONGRESS. COVARRUBIAS MADE NO COMMENT. JONES

THE DAUGHTERS, SOPHIA AND ANGELINA, REQUESTED ANY ASSISTANCE WHICH THE U.S. MIGHT BE ABLE TO PROVIDE IN SOLVING THE ASSASSINATION OF THEIR PARENTS, AND IN PARTICULAR ANY INFORMATION WHICH MIGHT BE MADE AVAILABLE TO U.S. OFFICIALS BY FERNANDEZ LARIOS. THEY ASKED THAT THE U.S. TAKE THE INITIATIVE IN SEEKING FURTHER INFORMATION FROM FERNANDEZ LARIOS AND MICHAEL TOWNLEY ON THESE MATTERS, AND MAKE ANY INFORMATION ON THE PRATS MURDER AVAILABLE TO THE JUDGE IN CHARGE OF THE CASE IN ARGENTINA.

2. CHARGE INFORMED THEM THAT INFORMATION AVAILABLE TO US WAS THAT FERNANDEZ LARIOS HAD NO INFORMATION ON THE MURDER OF THE PRATS. IT WAS OUR UNDERSTANDING THAT FERNANDEZ HAD BEEN CAREFULLY QUESTIONED ON THIS MATTER WHILE UNDERGOING A POLYGRAPH TEST, AND THAT THE POLYGRAPH HAD SUPPORTED HIS DENIAL OF ANY KNOWLEDGE. WE ASSUMED THAT SOME WAY COULD BE FOUND FOR THE ARGENTINE COURTS TO SUBMIT QUESTIONS TO FERNANDEZ IF THEY SO REQUESTED. THE AGREEMENT BETWEEN U.S. AUTHORITIES AND FERNANDEZ LARIOS APPLIED ONLY TO THE LETELIER CASE, AND THERE WAS NO BAR TO HIS EXTRADITION TO ARGENTINE, IF BASIS WERE ESTABLISHED FOR DOING SO. CHARGE PROVIDED THE WOMEN WITH A COPY OF THE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE U.S. ATTORNEYS AND FERNANDEZ LARIOS, AT THEIR REQUEST, AND ASSURED THEM THAT WE WOULD DO WHATEVER POSSIBLE TO ASSIST THEM IN THEIR EFFORTS TO RESOLVE THE MURDER OF THEIR PARENTS. HE MADE NO COMMENT ON THEIR REQUEST THAT TOWNLEY BE REINTERVIEWED.

SUMMARY: CHARGE DELIVERED TEXT OF DRAFT U.S. RESOLUTION TO ACTING FONMIN, WHO PROMISED TO RESPOND LATER TO CHARGE'S INVITATION TO LET US HAVE COMMENTS AND SUGGESTIONS. FONMIN REGRETTED THAT WE HAD SEEN FIT TO SUBMIT ANY RESOLUTION AT ALL, AS OUR VERSION, HOWEVER COMMENDABLE, WOULD BE WATERED DOWN IN NEGOTIATIONS WITH OTHERS. HE WAS PLEASED, HOWEVER, TO HEAR THAT WE WOULD NOT SUPPORT ANY RESOLUTION THAT DID NOT DECIDE TO CONSIDER CHILE UNDER AGENDA ITEM 12 NEXT YEAR. END SUMMARY.

2. CHARGE PHONED AMBASSADOR MARIO CALDERON, CHILEAN FOREIGN MINISTRY HUMAN RIGHTS SPECIALIST, FRIDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 20, AND INFORMED HIM WE HAD DECIDED TO TABLE CONFIDENTIAL

LAST POINT APPEARED TO BE NEWS TO COVARRUBIAS AND HE EXPRESSED PLEASURE; BUT HE SAID THAT AS WE KNEW, CHILE WOULD HAVE PREFERRED WE NOT SUBMIT A RESOLUTION. HOWEVER COMMENDABLE OUR DRAFT, IT WOULD BE WATERED DOWN, JUST AS IT WAS LAST YEAR, IN EFFORT TO OBTAIN THE SUPPORT OF OTHERS. CHARGE SAID ALTERNATIVE WAS TO LEAVE CLEAR FIELD TO THE MEXICANS, WHICH DID NOT APPEAR TO US TO BE DESIRABLE EITHER FROM STANDPOINT OF PRESTIGE OF THE U.N. ON THESE MATTERS, AND MAKE ANY INFORMATION ON THE PRATS MURDER AVAILABLE TO THE JUDGE IN CHARGE OF THE CASE IN ARGENTINA.

2. CHARGE INFORMED THEM THAT INFORMATION AVAILABLE TO US WAS THAT FERNANDEZ LARIOS HAD NO INFORMATION ON THE MURDER OF THE PRATS. IT WAS OUR UNDERSTANDING THAT FERNANDEZ HAD BEEN CAREFULLY QUESTIONED ON THIS MATTER WHILE UNDERGOING A POLYGRAPH TEST, AND THAT THE POLYGRAPH HAD SUPPORTED HIS DENIAL OF ANY KNOWLEDGE. WE ASSUMED THAT SOME WAY COULD BE FOUND FOR THE ARGENTINE COURTS TO SUBMIT QUESTIONS TO FERNANDEZ IF THEY SO REQUESTED. THE AGREEMENT BETWEEN U.S. AUTHORITIES AND FERNANDEZ LARIOS APPLIED ONLY TO THE LETELIER CASE, AND THERE WAS NO BAR TO HIS EXTRADITION TO ARGENTINE, IF BASIS WERE ESTABLISHED FOR DOING SO. CHARGE PROVIDED THE WOMEN WITH A COPY OF THE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE U.S. ATTORNEYS AND FERNANDEZ LARIOS, AT THEIR REQUEST, AND ASSURED THEM THAT WE WOULD DO WHATEVER POSSIBLE TO ASSIST THEM IN THEIR EFFORTS TO RESOLVE THE MURDER OF THEIR PARENTS. HE MADE NO COMMENT ON THEIR REQUEST THAT TOWNLEY BE REINTERVIEWED.

SUBJECT: AMBASSADOR HABIB'S MEETING WITH PRESIDENT AZCONA

1. (S-ENTIRE TEXT.)

2. SUMMARY: PRESIDENT AZCONA DOES NOT BELIEVE AN AGREEMENT WILL BE SIGNED WHEN THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS MEET NEXT IN ESQUIPULAS: THE SANDINISTAS WILL NOT SIGN IT, AND THE GUATEMALANS WILL NOT SIGN IT IF THE SANDINISTAS DON'T. HE DESCRIBED THE ARIAS PLAN AS "NAIVE." AZCONA SAID THAT HE HAD ASKED FOR THE ESQUIPULAS MEETING TO OCCUR IN 90 DAYS BECAUSE HE HOPED THE NICARAGUAN DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE COULD PERHAPS "SOFTEN" THE SANDINISTAS BY THEN. AMBASSADOR HABIB EXPLAINED THAT THE PURPOSE OF HIS TRIP WAS TO GET THE VIEWS OF THE DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS ABOUT THEIR FEBRUARY 15 MEETING IN SAN JOSE AND TO GET A FULLER UNDERSTANDING OF HOW THE ARIAS PLAN FIT INTO THE BROADER PROCESS OF SEEKING A DIPLOMATIC SOLUTION TO THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PROBLEM. DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA WAS OUR GOAL. AMBASSADOR HABIB AND PRESIDENT AZCONA

3. ON FEBRUARY 23, AMBASSADOR HABIB MET WITH HONDURAN PRESIDENT AZCONA TO DISCUSS THE NEGOTIATING PROCESS IN CENTRAL AMERICA. PRESIDENT AZCONA WAS ACCOMPANIED BY FOREIGN MINISTER LOPEZ CONTRERAS, AND AMBASSADOR TED BRIGGS AND NSC STAFFER JACQUELINE TILLMAN ACCOMPANIED

AMBASSDOR HABIB. AMBASSAOR HABIB EXPLAINED THAT RECENT EVENTS--THE MEETING IN SAN JOSE OF THE FOUR DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS; THE EC MEETING IN GUATEMALA; THE RECENT CONTADORA, SUPPORT GROUP AND SECGENS OF THE UN AND OAS TOUR--ALL MADE THIS ROUND OF CONSULTATIONS QUITE TIMELY. HE REITERATED THAT HIS PURPOSE, AS ALWAYS, WAS TO PURSUE THE PEACE PROCESS AND ASSESS WHAT MIGHT AFFECT AND INFLUENCE IT. WE WERE ESPECIALLY INTERESTED IN THE POINTS OF VIEW OF THE DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS ABOUT THE ARIAS PROPOSAL AND WERE ALSO TRAVELLING TO MEXICO TO LEARN FOREIGN MINISTER SEPULVEDA'S VIEWS ABOUT THE STATE OF PLAY IN CONTADORA. AMBASSADOR HABIB EXPLAINED THAT WE THOUGHT THE ARIAS INITIATIVE WAS IMPORTANT BUT FELT THERE WERE DEFICIENCES IN HIS PROPOSAL. WE WERE INTERESTED IN PRESIDENT AZCONA'S VIEWS ABOUT THE PLAN AND HOW HE THOUGHT THE PROCESS WOULD DEVELOP BETWEEN NOW AND THE UPCOMING MEETING IN ESQUIPULAS.

4. THE ARIAS PLAN: PRESIDENT AZCONA SAID THAT HONDURAS HAD ASKED FOR SOME MODIFICATIONS IN THE DRAFT, EVEN THOUGH THEY HAD DECIDED NOT TO SIGN ANYTHING AT THE SAN JOSE MEETING, AND HAD RAISED SPECIFIC QUESTIONS ABOUT PARTS OF ARIAS'S PLAN. THE SEQUENCE OF EVENTS IN

THE ARIAS PLAN WOULD WEAKEN THOSE WHO ARE FIGHTING THE SANDINISTAS. THE CEASE-FIRE SHOULD BE A RESULT OF A DIALOGUE; IT SHOULD NOT PRECEDE THE DIALOGUE. VARIOUS TIME FRAMES FOR THE FUTURE ESQUIPULAS MEETING HAD BEEN DISCUSSED IN SAN JOSE--30 DAYS, 45 DAYS--BUT HE HAD REQUESTED THAT THE MEETING TAKE PLACE IN 90 DAYS BECAUSE HE WANTED TO SEE HOW THE FUTURE ACTIONS OF THE NICARAGUAN DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE WOULD DEVELOP AND AFFECT THE INTERNAL NICARAGUAN SITUATION. HE SAID THAT THE HONDURAN GOVERNMENT HAD SUPPORTED THE CONTRAS, ALBEIT NOT OFFICIALLY, AND WAS NOT COMFORTABLE WITH THE PROSPECT OF GOING TO ESQUIPULAS IN JUST 30 DAYS, SAY, TO SIGN, PRESUMABLY ALONG WITH THE SANDINISTAS, A DOCUMENT CALLING FOR A CEASE-FIRE. THE CHANGE TO 90 DAYS HAD NOT BEEN HARD TO GET. PRESIDENT AZCONA SAID THAT WHILE HE DIDN'T WANT TO SOUND AS THOUGH HE WAS LOSING FAITH, HE DID NOT EXPECT MUCH FROM THE ESQUIPULAS MEETING UNLESS THE PRESSURE FROM THE CONTRAS IN THE NEXT 90 DAYS WAS STRONG ENOUGH TO FORCE ORTEGA TO ARRIVE AT ESQUIPULAS "WITH A LESS ARROGANT ATTITUDE." EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS WOULD GO WITH A TRUSTWORTHY POSITION. HE SAID THAT HE AND DUARTE HAD CONFERRED BEFORE THE SAN JOSE MEETING SO HE WENT TO SAN JOSE KNOWING THAT DUARTE HAD DECIDED NOT TO SIGN.

5. WHEN ASKED BY AMBASSADOR HABIB ABOUT OTHER ASPECTS

UNCLASSIFIED

OF THE ARIAS PLAN THAT HE MIGHT COMMENT ABOUT, PRESIDENT AZCONA REPLIED THAT THE DIALOGUE HAD TO BE WITH THE ARMED OPPOSITION AND WHILE THE DIALOGUE COULD BEGIN FIRST WITH THE CIVIC OPPOSITION, THERE HAD TO BE A DIALOGUE WITH THE ARMED OPPOSITION BEFORE A CEASE-FIRE

COULD BE DECLARED. AMBASSADOR HABIB SAID HE HAD RAISED THE IDENTICAL POINT WITH PRESIDENT ARIAS THAT MORNING IN SAN JOSE. AZCONA SAID THAT HONDURAS WOULD HAVE TO ANALYZE THE WHOLE DOCUMENT CAREFULLY, ESPECIALLY THE PART THAT CALLED FOR THE CUT IN ASSISTANCE TO THE CONTRAS ON SIGNATURE, AND REITERATED THE HONDURAN VIEW THAT WITHOUT A DIALOGUE WITH THE ARMED OPPOSITION, THE ARIAS PLAN OFFERED NO SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEMS IN CENTRAL AMERICA. HE DESCRIBED THE ARIAS PLAN AS "NAIVE."

6. AMBASSADOR HABIB SAID THAT IN HIS CONVERSATION WITH ARIAS EARLIER IN THE DAY, ARIAS HAD MADE IT CLEAR THAT THE PLAN PRESENTED TO SAN JOSE ON FEBRUARY 15 WAS A COSTA RICAN DRAFT AND THAT HE EXPECTED THAT THE HONDURANS AND EL SALVADORANS WOULD CHANGE IT. HONDURAS AND EL SALVADOR WERE MORE EXPERIENCED AND COULD DEAL WITH ISSUES LIKE THE CEASE-FIRE AND ARMS LEVELS, BUT COSTA RICA COULD AND WOULD TAKE THE LEAD ON DEMOCRATIZATION AND NATIONAL RECONCILIATION. COSTA RICA WOULD PUSH FOR OPENING UP THE POLITICAL SYSTEM FOR THE PARTIES, WOULD PUSH FOR FREEDOM OF THE PRESS AND SO FORTH. AMBASSADOR HABIB SAID THAT HE HAD COMMENTED TO PRESIDENT ARIAS THAT HIS PLAN HAD PUT WHAT THE SANDI-

NISTAS WANTED FIRST (CUT IN AID TO THE CONTRAS) AND THE ISSUES THEY LEAST LIKED (DEMOCRATIZATION) WERE TO BE IMPLEMENTED AT THE END OF THE PROCESS. TWO CIRCUMSTANCES FOR ELECTIONS WERE DISCUSSED IN THE ARIAS PLAN: ELECTIONS FOR THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT WHICH WOULD OCCUR IN THE FIRST HALF OF 1988, BUT ELECTIONS FOR PRESIDENT, PARLIAMENT, AND MUNICIPALITIES WERE LEFT TO THE CONSTITUTION, AND COULD BE POSTPONED AS LATE AS 1990.

7. PRESIDENT AZCONA SAID THAT THE NICARAGUAN CONSTITUTION DID NOT HAVE A FIXED DATE FOR ELECTIONS. AMBASSADOR HABIB ASKED IF THE HONDURANS HAD ANALYZED THE NICARAGUAN CONSTITUTION. WHEN PRESIDENT AZCONA REPLIED NEGATIVELY, AMBASSDAOR HABIB REQUESTED THAT THE ANALYSIS PREPARED BY THE U.S. BE MADE AVAILABLE TO HIM. PRESIDENT AZCONA SAID HE THOUGHT IT WOULD BE DIFFICULT TO GET TO A POINT WHERE SOMETHING COULD BE SIGNED IN 90 DAYS. HE GAVE AMBASSADOR HABIB A COPY OF THE HONDURAN ANALYSIS OF THE ARIAS PROPOSAL PREPARED BEFORE THE SAN JOSE MEETING AND A COPY OF A PRESS RELEASE ISSUED THAT MORNING ABOUT THE SAN JOSE MEETING. 8. THE ROAD TO ESQUIPULAS: AMBASSADOR HABIB THEN ASKED ABOUT THE PROCESS LEADING TO THE ESQUIPULAS MEETING. PRESIDENT AZCONA SAID THAT HE DID NOT ANTICIPATE THAT THE CORE FOUR PRESIDENTS WOULD MEET BEFORE ESQUIPULAS, BUT THE FOREIGN MINISTERS MIGHT MEET IN THE INTERIM PERIOD. AS OF NOW, THE HONDURANS INTENDED TO TAKE A WELL DEVELOPED ANALYSIS TO ESQUIPULAS.

9. CEREZO: PRESIDENT AZCONA SAID GUATEMALAN PRESIDENT

AMBASSADOR HABIB SAID THAT CEREZO'S POSITION HAD ALWAYS BEEN CAST IN REGIONAL TERMS. PRESIDENT AZCONA SAID THAT CEREZO'S INTERNAL POSITION WAS WEAK AND HE WAS LOOKING FOR LEADERSHIP OUTSIDE THE COUNTRY. HE SAID THAT CEREZO WAS ON "OUR SIDE" IN PRIVATE, BUT WOULD NOT PUBLICLY SUPPORT THE POSITION OF THE OTHER DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL AMERICNS. AMBASSADOR HABIB SAID THAT IF THE ARIAS PROPOSALS FAILED, IT WAS IMPORTANT THAT THE BLAME BE ATTRIBUTED TO SANDINISTA INTRANSIGENCE. PRESIDENT AZCONA REPLIED THAT CEREZO HAD COMMENTED IN SAN JOSE THAT THE REAL DANGER OF THE ARIAS PLAN WAS THAT THE SANDINISTAS WOULD SIGN IT RIGHT AWAY, AND SINCE IT WAS WEAK ON VERIFICATION, THE OTHERS WOULD FIND IT DIFFICULT TO SUPPORT IT, AND THEY WOULD BE PERCEIVED AS OBSTRUCTING PEACE. AZCONA DID NOT KNOW IF THIS WAS A RUSE ON CEREZO'S PART.

THAT UNO SUPPORTED IT. BOS HAD GIVEN THE PRESIDENTS A LETTER STATING THEIR SUPPORT FOR THE PLAN. HE SAID HE INTENDED TO CONSULT WITH UNO'S LEADERS SOON TO LEARN WHAT EXACTLY THEIR POSITION WAS. PRESIDENT AZCONA APPEARED SURPRISED TO LEARN THAT UNO HAD ACTUALLY WRITTEN SOMETHING TO ARIAS.

11. CONTADORA: WHEN ASKED HOW HE FELT ESQUIPULAS AND CONTADORA RELATED TO EACH OTHER, PRESIDENT AZCONA REPLIED THAT THE ARIAS PLAN WAS DERIVED FROM THE 21 CONTADORA OBJECTIVES, BUT WAS MORE "SYNTHETIC" AND HAD MANY LOOSE ENDS. BUT IT WAS NOT OPPOSED TO CONTADORA. HE SAID HE THOUGHT ARIAS WANTED TO BRING THE CENTRAL AMERICANS IN AS PROTAGONISTS, AND NOT BE SO SUBJECT TO ACTIONS FROM "PERIPHERAL PLAYERS." AMBASSADOR HABIB SAID HE THOUGHT CONTADORA'S WEAKEST POINT WAS ITS FAILURE TO DEVELOP A STRONG DEMOCRATIZATION PROGRAM AND THAT PERHAPS THE ARIAS PLAN, WHICH WAS STRONG IN THIS AREA, COULD BE USED AS A LEVER, OR INCORPORATED INTO CONTADORA.

MEMORANDUM

TO: ARA - Mr. Gelbard

FROM: L - Michael G. Kozak MGK

SUBJECT: Chile's Request for Transmittal of Diplomatic Note

As you are aware, on February 11, 1986, the Department received a diplomatic note from the Embassy of Chile which discussed a lawsuit brought against the Government of Chile (hereinafter "GOC") in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia by the family of Rodrigo Rojas DeNegri. Attached to the note was a lengthy legal brief that argued that the case against the GOC should be dismissed. The note requested that the Department transmit the note and brief to the District Court.

The GOC's request places the Department in an awkward position. Generally, when foreign states are sued in the United States, it is their responsibility to appear before the court and raise any defenses to which they may be entitled. Accordingly, in 1978, the Department issued a circular note informing foreign states that we would no longer transmit diplomatic notes to the Supreme Court or to the U.S. courts of appeal. With respect to transmittal of notes to trial courts, the Department practice is less uniform: although it is against our policy, on several occasions we have transmitted such notes. Indeed in the Letelier proceeding, the Department twice transmitted Chilean notes to the district court. 1/ Thus, the Department has a sound basis to either grant or deny the GOC's request.

The Department can anticipate criticism either way it decides the issue. If we transmit the note, we could be perceived to be supporting Chile's case in the Rojas killing. If we do not transmit the note, we could be criticized for

1/ When the Department transmitted the GOC's note in 1983, we explained that we were making an exception to our general policy because of the unique procedural posture of that case (i.e., a plaintiff attempted to attach the assets of Lan Chile to collect on a judgment against the GOC).

treating the GOC unfairly, since we have on a few occasions transmitted diplomatic notes to other countries, including the USSR.2/ The GOC also could attempt to use our refusal as a pretext to refuse our request for its cooperation in the Letelier proceeding in Chile.

The irony of Chile's request is that transmittal of the note could actually harm the GOC's legal position in the Rojas proceeding. Were we to send the note, the GOC might then conclude that it need not appear in the case.3/ As L has witnessed repeatedly, states which do not appear as parties in litigation are at a tremendous disadvantage. Even if the Department were to transmit the note, moreover, there is no guarantee that the court would accept it. Worse, from the GOC's perspective, the court might hold that the submission of the lengthy brief constituted an "appearance" by the GOC in the case. Not only would this finding have serious negative legal consequences, it is precisely the outcome that the GOC hoped to avoid by declining to appear before the court.

Given these considerations, I recommend that before the Department decides whether to transmit the note, we make a demarche to Ambassador Errazuriz, urging his government to reconsider its request. In this demarche, we would emphasize the serious risks Chile would take if the note were sent to the district court. In addition, we would reiterate that the Department does not generally involve itself in litigation in which it is not a party, and that foreign states are expected to appear in U.S. courts to assert sovereign immunity. Ultimately if the GOC insists, we might agree to forward a reformulated diplomatic note (without an attached legal brief) which explicitly stated the GOC's intention to appear before the court at a later date. If pressed by Ambassador Errazuriz, we could suggest this option.

A meeting has been scheduled for 10:00 A.M. on February 26, between Ambassador Errazuriz and Liz Verville and Leonard Kusnitz. Attached are suggested talking points for the demarche.

2/ In a recent proceeding involving the USSR as defendant, the Department transmitted a diplomatic note which informed the court that the USSR intended to appear in the proceeding. Gregorian v. Izvestia, No. 85-1011-KN (C.D. Cal.).

3/ Recently, the Chilean Ambassador told ARA that although the GOC eventually intends to appear in court, it does not want to appear at this stage "for strategic reasons." When we speak with Ambassador Errazuriz, we will ask him to clarify these considerations.

decision made not to return note

-- On February 11, the Department received your embassy's diplomatic note on the lawsuit brought by Veronica DeNegri.

-- Without addressing the substance of the note, I would like to return it to you and ask that your Government reconsider its request to have the Department transmit this note and the attached legal brief to the court.

-- As a general matter, the Department does not participate in legal proceedings in which it is not a party. Our general practice, as enunciated in an August 17, 1978 diplomatic note, is to refuse to transmit diplomatic notes to the courts.

-- Under U.S. law, a party does not waive its sovereign immunity nor its adherence to the theory of absolute immunity by appearing before a U.S. court. In fact, such appearance is the proper way for the state to assert its immunity.

  o Countries which adhere to absolute immunity (e.g., China, Poland, and Czechoslovakia) appear in U.S. courts to raise the issue of immunity.

-- I am informed that the GOC may appear in this proceeding at a later date, but does not want to appear now for "strategic reasons." What are these reasons?

-- For the following reasons, transmission of the note is not in GOC's interest.

  o If GOC hopes to prevail in this proceeding, it should retain U.S. counsel and assert its sovereign immunity in court.

  o Were GOC not to appear, there is a high probability that the court would issue a default judgment against Chile. Plaintiff might then attempt to execute against GOC assets in the United States.

  o Even if the Department were to go against its policy and transmit the note, the court would not be obliged to accept it.

  o Worse from GOC's perspective, the court might hold that submission of the note and legal brief constituted an "appearance" by GOC. This is precisely the outcome GOC hoped to avoid by not appearing. Moreover, this finding would place the GOC in the worst possible position, since it would have forfeited its chance to have its legal position zealously presented to the court by its legal counsel.

UNCLASSIFIED

-- (If asked about the Department's transmittal of a diplomatic note in Letelier) o In returning this note, the Department is asking the GOC to reconsider its request; we are not rejecting the request.

o In any event, at the time the Department transmitted the note in Letelier, it explained to the GOC that its general policy was to refuse such requests. As the USG also explained, it made an exception to its policy in that case because of the unique procedural posture of that proceeding (i.e., a party attempted to attach the assets of Lan Chile to collect on a judgment against the GOC).

-- (If the Ambassador refuses to reconsider the GOC's request)

o Given the GOC's intention to appear at a later date, the Department would consider transmitting to the court a new diplomatic note (without an attached brief) which stated this intention. [FYI: This would offer the GOC the same treatment that we gave the USSR in the Gregorian case.]

-- (If the Ambassador says that if the GOC participates, it will ask the court to request the Department's views on the FSIA, thereby entangling the USG in the DeNegri case)

o If the GOC participates, it is free to avail itself of this opportunity. Because this case involves rather straight-forward issues of law, it is doubtful that a court would ask for our views.

o In any event, the USG is not obligated to respond to a judicial invitation to express its views.

NEVERTHELESS, BOTH HE AND HARDING THOUGHT CHANGES WOULD BE NEEDED TO WIN GOA SUPPORT, PARTICULARLY TO THOSE PARAS APPARENTLY FAVORABLE TO THE GOC. TO ILLUSTRATE, FORRESTER SAID THAT CANBERRA WOULD WANT TO INCLUDE REFERENCE TO TERRORISM BUT NOT THE ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE PINOCHET. THUS, HE RECOMMENDED SHORTENING OPERATIVE PARA 3 TO END WITH "... IMPEDES THE RETURN TO DEMOCRACY."

7. REGARDING THE COMPETING MEXICAN DRAFT, CANBERRA HAS NOT YET RECEIVED THE TEXT. Re: Amnesty International Prisoner of Conscience Dagoberto Lopez Rebolledo

Dear Senator:

In early December I wrote to you on behalf of Amnesty International Group 297 in Silver Spring, to ask you to ask the State Department to investigate the case of Dagoberto Lopez Rebolledo, whose case was investigated by AI and who was adopted by our group as a prisoner of conscience. As I said in my December letter, Mr. Lopez was arrested in 1984 for allegedly having participated in an attack on a police station in which two officers were killed. AI is satisfied that Mr. Lopez has never used nor advocated violence and that he is not guilty as charged. He confessed under torture; his confession was the evidence used against him. Although he was not tried, he has been "provisionally sentenced" to 35 years and a day in prison, where he now is.

We would appreciate any help you can provide. Specifically, the State Department seems satisfied with Chile's response, that this is simply a case of terrorism. Would you ask them to make a deeper inquiry, please? I look forward to hearing from you. Thanks for thinking about it.

Sincerely yours,

February 25, 1987

TO: The Secretary

FROM: ECA - Philip C. Habib

SUBJECT: The Diplomatic Track - My February Trip to Central America and Mexico

I travelled to Central America and Mexico February 22-24 to continue my consultations on the negotiating process. I began in Costa Rica to seek President Arias' views on his peace proposals. I then visited Honduras, El Salvador, and Mexico.

President Arias is determined to make a major effort to promote his initiative. He has put his own and his nation's prestige on the line. By going public with his proposals, he has ensured that it will be the focal point of the next phase of the negotiating process. He enjoys that he and Costa Rica will be in the international spotlight and that he has managed to place himself at the center of the Central American democracies' desire to assert themselves and have their views taken into account in any peace plan.

Arias views his proposals as having two parts, political elements and security elements. He has emphasized the former, and paid relatively little attention to the latter. He accepts that his plan is a draft that needs revision, although he clearly regards it as more than a draft. I told him that we wanted to work with him, but that his plan had major deficiencies and omissions. He did not argue with me about its weaknesses. He understands that Presidents Azcona and Duarte also have strong objections to parts of his plan. He had hoped that the other three presidents would sign on immediately but now accepts that his proposals will require considerable deliberation.

It is not clear to what extent he is willing to make changes in the proposals, but in general he will be less likely to revise the political elements than the security elements. Before he begins redrafting, he will probably wait to receive all the recommendations from the other Central American democracies, Nicaragua, Mexico, us, and probably others. In the end, there will be an effort to get an agreement at Esquipulas or the effort will break down. If it breaks down, it will be in our interest to have it do so because of Sandinista intransigence. That is what Arias expects, or at least what he says he does.

Arias wanted to make a big splash by announcing his proposals. He now has less than 90 days until the Esquipulas meeting to attempt further manipulation. He may well start dealing directly with the Sandinistas, if he concludes this will be useful. But he did not give much indication of what his approach would be or show awareness of how the Sandinistas might try to take advantage of his proposals. This will be a critical period, and we must maintain close and careful contact with him, both through the Embassy and my visits. If his initiative goes awry, it could seriously complicate our policy.

He has drafted his proposals in consultation with various members of Congress, particularly Sen. Dodd, who was present before, during, and after the San Jose summit on February 15. I was told that Sen. Dodd has sought to define how U.S. Democrats will react to the Arias plan; he allegedly has told Arias that if the Sandinistas reject or accept and then renege on the Arias plan, the Democrats will support the Administration policy.

One factor influencing Arias as he prepared the text of his plan has been the distorted and one-sided view of the American political scene he has received from these Congressional members. This has affected and strengthened his already existing bias against the democratic resistance. Also, his views have been reinforced by the apparent acceptance of his proposals by resistance leaders; he believes that UNO endorses his proposals, and he is certain that BOS does.

Presidents Azcona and Duarte remain stalwarts upon whom we can rely. They share our views on the Arias proposals, and their criticisms parallel our own. Their attitude is already beginning to show, especially in the case of Azcona who has analyzed carefully the proposals and understands the relationship between the political and security elements and the importance that they be placed in the proper sequence. Azcona is less concerned about the Arias proposals because he doubts they will go anywhere. Duarte is more concerned. He is troubled that Arias chose to ignore his recommended changes to the draft as well as his advice not to make the draft public. Duarte's serious internal political problems are weighing heavily on his mind; this influences his response, compelling him to be more assertive lest the proposals contribute to his domestic difficulties.

I did not see President Cerezo who was travelling in South America. I expect that he will continue his "active neutrality" policy and be reluctant to participate openly in any plan directed against Nicaragua. He will also seek to link the Arias proposals to Contadora, as will Duarte. Nevertheless, I still believe that he will be sympathetic to efforts to promote democracy in Nicaragua.

UNCLASSIFIED

The problem of the resistance's role in a dialogue and its future political role in Nicaragua have been scarcely thought about by Arias. Azcona has focused on this, however, because he does not want resistance troops coming back into Honduras. Azcona pointed out that the success of the resistance on the ground in the next 90 days will be an important factor in what happens at Esquipulas. If there is no intensification of their activity marked by what can clearly be viewed as real success, they will be of little value in the negotiations.

In all three of the Central American democracies I visited there is concern about our resolve. Thus Arias and to a lesser extent Azcona and Duarte are hedging their bets in fear that we will not stay the course. I made a point of emphasizing to all of them the President's firmness and determination to pursue his objectives. I stressed the President's view that the goal in Nicaragua is democracy. This was well received by all. While Azcona and Duarte remain firm, events in Washington -- reinforced by the message they are hearing from a deluge of CODELs -- only feeds their fears that someday the United States will abandon them, beginning with an end to aid to the resistance and leaving Nicaragua unchanged with the Sandinistas in power and consolidating their control.

Foreign Secretary Sepulveda made clear that he is determined to keep Contadora alive and would lead the charge against any plan to replace Contadora. He has not been well briefed on the Arias proposals and is uncertain about how they will correspond to Contadora. He is also committed to protecting the Sandinistas and ensuring their participation in discussions under the Arias plan. Sepulveda argues that Contadora is a better and more comprehensive process than the Arias proposals. It provides for the full range of political and security issues and has a better verification system. He will seek to take what he wants from the Arias proposals, while discarding the rest. Arias intends to press on with his own initiative independent of Contadora. He recognizes that he has the option of marrying up the two at some point.

I intend to return to the region in 2 to 3 weeks. Meanwhile, I will see Cerezo, who will be a key figure in the coming negotiations. In addition, I intend to meet with Calero, Cruz, and Robelo to ascertain just where they stand. For now, I have laid down our markers, and we will see how the situation evolves. I intend to work closely with Arias, while depending on Azcona and Duarte to remain firm. The Arias proposals have injected a new and urgent note in the peace process. We should not reject the Arias plan, just as we do not reject Contadora, but treat it as one element of a continuing negotiating process. One advantage of the Arias plan is that it comes at a time when, for our own reasons, we wanted to intensify our diplomatic efforts. Our purpose will be to lead the process in a direction that could produce an agreement acceptable to us and centered on the goal of democracy in Nicaragua. Thus, in this sense, the Arias proposals are useful to us.

SUBJECT: UNHRC CHILE HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION:
- BRITISH SEEK TO TOUGHEN U.S. DRAFT

REF: A) STATE 52474 B) STATE 51557

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: THE FCO APPROVES OF THE BALANCED APPROACH TAKEN BY THE U.S. DRAFT HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION ON CHILE. THEY WOULD PREFER, HOWEVER, A MORE POINTED TEXT WHICH CITES SPECIFIC HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. THE BRITISH ATTACH GREAT IMPORTANCE TO THE EMERGENCE OF A SINGLE RESOLUTION ON CHILE AND URGE THE U.S. WORK WITH THE MEXICANS FOR A BALANCED AND HARD-HITTING TEXT. END SUMMARY.

3. PER REF A, WE DISCUSSED THE U.S. DRAFT RESOLUTION ON

HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE WITH DAVID GORDON-MCCLOUD, SENIOR CHILE DESK OFFICER IN THE FCO'S SOUTH AMERICA DEPARTMENT. GORDON-MCCLOUD COMMENDED THE U.S. DRAFT FOR ITS BALANCE, BUT WARNED THAT IT WOULD HAVE TO BE MORE "HARD-HITTING" TO WIN BRITISH SUPPORT.

5. TO ILLUSTRATE HIS POINT, GORDON-MCCLOUD SUGGESTED THE FOLLOWING ADDITIONS TO THE U.S. DRAFT (REF B):

. -- OPERATIVE PARAGRAPH 8 (EXPRESSING CONCERN ABOUT CONTINUED VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE) SHOULD BE BEEFED UP TO INCLUDE REFERENCE TO THE OPERATION OF RIGHT WING DEATH SQUADS IN THE AFTERMATH OF THE PINOCHET ASSASINATION ATTEMPT;

. -- OPERATIVE PARAGRAPH 11 SHOULD BE PREFACED BY PARAGRAPHS WHICH EXPRESS CONCERN AT A) THE FAILURE TO SUCCESSFULLY PROSECUTE SECURITY FORCES FOR HUMAN RIGHTS ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ VIOALATIONS, AND B) THE FACT THAT ONLY THREE OF PERHAPS 10,000 APPLICATIONS FOR REVIEW BASED ON AMPARO (HABEAS CORPUS) HAVE BEEN UPHELD SINCE THE REVIEW;

. -- OPERATIVE PARAGRAPH 12 (F) SHOULD CITE SPECIFIC CASES OF TORTURE, KILLINGS, KIDNAPPINGS AND OTHER ABUSES AND PERHAPS MENTION THE ROJAS CASE.

6. REGARDING THE MEXICAN DRAFT RESOLUTION, GORDON-MCCLOUD INDICATED THAT THE FCO HAD SENT UKDEL UNHRC A DETAILED CRITIQUE WHICH EMPHASIZED THE TEXT'S LACK OF BALANCE. HE SAID THE U.S. AND MEXICO SHOULD WORK TOWARD THE COMMON GOAL OF ENCOURAGING THE UNHRC TO MAINTAIN A UNITED FRONT ON CHILE BY APPROVING ONE RESOLUTION THAT IS BALANCED AND YET STRONG ENOUGH TO PROD THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT.

7. GORDON-MCCLOUD SAID THAT HMG WOULD SUPPORT A U.S. EFFORT TO MOVE CONSIDERATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN CHILE TO THE GENERAL AGENDA ITEM NUMBER 12. HE SAID

HMG CONSIDERS THIS A PROCEDURAL ISSUE UNRELATED TO THE SUBSTANTIVE ISSUE OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN CHILE.

8. MCCLOUD ALSO SAID THAT WHILE HMG WOULD IN PRINCIPLE BE WILLING TO CO-SPONSOR A U.S. RESOLUTION THAT WAS BOTH HARD-HITTING AND BALANCED, THE DECISION WOULD HAVE TO TAKE INTO ACCOUNT DEVELOPMENTS IN GENEVA. HE URGED US TO STAY IN CLOSE TOUCH WITH THE UKDEL UNHRC.

BUT BE CONSIDERED AS A PACKAGE WITH ITEM 12 MATTERS. PERICAS REITERATED THAT BRAZIL COULD SUPPORT U.S. EFFORTS TO MOVE CONSIDERATION OF CHILE TO ITEM 12 FOR NEXT YEAR'S SESSION.

2. PERICAS CRITICIZED THE MEXICAN DRAFT

RESOLUTION ON CHILE AND SAID THAT IT FAILED TO TAKE SUFFICIENTLY INTO ACCOUNT THE FINDINGS OF THE RAPPORTEUR. HE INDICATED THAT BRAZIL COULD NOT VOTE FOR IT IN THE PRESENT FORM AND WOULD PROBABLY ABSTAIN IF IT CAME TO A VOTE. POLITICAL COUNSELOR POINTED OUT THAT THE U.S. OBJECTIONS TO THE MEXICAN TEXT INCLUDE ITS FAILURE TO MENTION THE PROBLEM OF TERRORISM AND THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST PINOCHET. PERICAS ACKNOWLEDGED THAT, BUT REMARKED THAT ATTITUDES TOWARD THE GOC ARE NOT HELPED BY NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN THE LETELIER CASE.

3. FINALLY, PERICAS SAID THAT BRAZIL WOULD CAREFULLY STUDY THE U.S. RESOLUTION. HE OPINED THAT THE BEST RESULT WOULD BE A COMPROMISE (OF THE U.S. AND MEXICAN) DRAFT SO THAT THE UNHRC COULD APPROVE A BALANCED RESOLUTION BY CONSENSUS AS HAPPENED LAST YEAR.

E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: PREL, MX, XK, OVIP (HABIB, PHILIP C.)
SUBJECT: AME. HABIB'S MEETING WITH MEXICAN FOREIGN SECRETARY SEPULVEDA

1. (S) - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: ON FEB. 24, AME. HABIB MET WITH MEXICAN FOREIGN SECRETARY SEPULVEDA AND REVIEWED TE PURPOSES OF HIS STOP IN MEXICO: TO SEEK THE MEXICAN VIEWS ON THE ARIAS PLAN AND TO SOLICIT THE VIEWS OF THE MEXICANS ON THE STATE OF PLAY IN CONTADORA. SEPULVEDA EMPHASIZED THAT HE DID NOT WANT TO SEE CONTADORA "SABOTAGED." HE SPOKE OF THE IMPORTANCE THAT SOLUTIONS TO CENTRA AMERICAN PROBLEMS REQUIRED THE AGREEMENT OF ALL FIVE

OF THE SAN JOSE MEETING WAS THE INCLUSION OF NICARAGUA IN THE UPCOMING ESQUIPULAS MEETING. SEPULVEDA WAS NOT WELL BRIEFED ON THE ARIAS PROPOSALS BUT EXPRESSED A STRONG CONVICTION THAT CONTADORA REMAINED VERY MUCH A PART OF THE SEARCH FOR PEACE IN CENTRAL AMERICA. END SUMMARY.

3. MEXICAN FOREIGN SECRETARY BERNARDO SEPULVEDA HOSTED A LUNCHEON IN HONOR OF AMB. HABIB ON FEBRUARY 24. HABIB WAS ACCOMPANIED BY AME. PILLIOD AND NSC STAFFER

JACQUELINE TILLMAN. HABIB INFORMED SEPULVEDA THAT WE BELIEVED AN INTENSIFIED U.S. DIPLOMATIC TRACK WAS TIMELY IN LIGHT OF THE RECENT INITIATIVES INVOLVING THE SEARCH FOR PEACE IN THE CENTRAL AMERICAN REGION. HE HAD CONSULTED WITH THREE OF THE FOUR DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS ON THIS TRIP ABOUT THEIR FEB. 15 MEETING IN SAN JOSE BUT HAD FELT THAT IT WAS IMPOR AN TO CONSULT WITH THE MEXICANS AS WELL BECAUSE OF THE POTENTIAL IMPACT THE ARIAS INITIATIVE MIGHT HAVE ON THE CONTADORA PROCESS. THE U.S. GOVERNMENT SUPPORTED CONTADORA AND DID NOT WANT EITHER TO SABOTAGE THE PROCESSS OR TO SEE IT SABOTAGED. TWO THINGS WERE OF PARTICULAR INTEREST TO US AT THIS POINT: THE VIEW OF THE MEXICANS REGARDING THE ARIAS PLAN AND HOW THE MEXICANS ASSESSED WHERE THINGS CURRENTLY WERE REGARDING THE CONTADORA PROCESS.

4. THE ARIAS PLAN: HABIB SAID THAT COSTA RICAN PRESIDENT ARIAS HAD EMPHASIZED THAT HIS PLAN WAS A DRAFT, A COSTA RICAN DRAFT, AND THAT HE FULLY EXPECTED THAT IT WOULD BE REVISED. HE AND THE GOVERNMENTS OF HON URAS AN

EL SALVADOR FELT THE DRAFT PROPOSAL HAD SOME STRENGTHS AND SOME DEFICIENCIES. THERE WOULD BE A PROCESS OF CONSULTATIONS LEADING TO A MEETING IN ESQUIPULAS IN 90 DAYS OF THE FIVE CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS, INCLUDING NICARAGUA. SEPULVEDA SAID THAT THE MEXICANS DID NOT HAVE A DIRECT EVALUATION OF THE ARIAS PLAN YET, BUT EXPECTED TO DISCUSS IT MORE FULLY DURING ARIAS'S STATE VIST WHICH WOULD BEGIN THE NEX DAY. SEPULVEDA SAID THAT FROM THE BEGINNING OF CONTADORA, THEY HAD INSISTED THAT ANY SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEMS IN CENTRAL AMERICA HAD TO HAVE ALL FIVE COUNTRIES AS PARTICIPANTS AND ALL HAD TO BE SUBJECT TO ALL PARTS OF A FINAL AGREEMENT. CONTADORA'S FIRST SUCCESS HAD BEEN TO GET THE FIVE CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRIES TOGETHER FOR DISCUSSIONS. THERE ORE, WHA HAD BEEN MISSING IN THE FEB. 15 SAN JOSE MEETING WAS THE PRESENCE OF NICARAGUA AND THE MEETING'S MOST POSITIVE RESULT WAS THE INCLUSION OF NICARAGUA AT THE UPCOMING ESQUIPULAS MEETING.

5. SEPULVEDA SAID THAT A NUMBER OF IDEAS IN THE ORIGINAL ARIAS PROPOSAL WERE NOT PRESENT IN THE FINA PROPOSAL THAT HAD BEEN SIGNED. HABIB AGAIN STRESSED THAT ARIAS HAD BEEN CLEAR THAT WHAT HAD BEEN PRESENTED IN SAN JOSE WAS A DRAFT, WAS SUBJECT TO MODIFICATIONS, AND THAT ONLY A STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES HAD BEEN SIGNED IN SAN JOSE. HABIB EXPLAINED THAT WE BELIEVED THAT THE ELEMENTS OF THE ARIAS PLAN THAT CONCERNED DEMOCRATIZATION WERE THE MOST SIGNIFICANT AND NEWEST CONTRIBUTIONS IN THE NEGOTIATING

PROCESS. THE DRAFT HAD BEEN COUCHED IN A CENTRAL AMERICAN CONTEXT DELIBERATELY TO AVOID POINTING THE FINGER AT NICARAGUA, BUT IT WAS CLEAR THAT THE DEMOCRATIZATION ELEMENTS DID NOT REFER TO THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES. CONTADORA HAD NOT REACHED THE SAME DEGREE OF PRECISION ON DEMOCRATIZATION THAT THE COSTA RICANS HAD DEVELOPED. THE ARIAS PLAN WAS NOT AS STRONG ON SECURITY AND VERIFICATION MEASURES PERHAPS BECAUSE CONTA ORA HAD ALREADY DONE EXTENSIVE WORK ON THESE AREAS. IN ANY CASE, ARIAS HAD SAID THAT HE DID NOT KNOW MUCH ABOUT THESE MATTERS AND ANTICIPATED THAT EL SALVADOR AND HON URAS WOULD MAKE EXTENSIVE CONTRIBUTIONS IN THESE AREAS. COSTA RICA INTENDED TO PRESS ON DEMOCRATIZATION. HABIB SAID THAT THE SEQUENCES IN THE PLAN WERE NOT RIGHT: A CEASE-FIRE SHOULD COME AFTER DIALOGUE BETWEEN THOSE WITH THEIR FINGERS ON THE TRIGGER. HE ASKED AGAIN IF THE MEXICANS HAD ANY VIEWS ON THE ARIAS PLAN. SEPULVEDA AVOIDED SUCH DISCUSSION, STATING THAT THEY WERE WAITING FOR THE MEETING WITH ARIAS.

6. CONTADORA AND THE ARIAS PLAN: SEPULVEDA THEN RECTED HIS FAMILIAR LITANY ABOUT HOW THE CONTADORA PROCESS HAD DEVELOPED OVER THE LAST FOUR YEARS, MOVING CONSISTENTLY FROM GENERAL PRINCIPLES TO SPECIFIC ITEMS IN ACTUAL DRAFT TREATIES. THE ORIGINAL DOCUMENT OF OBJECTIVES HAD BEEN INTENDED TO BE THE FIRST STEP IN THE ELABORATION OF A TREATY. HE SAID THAT COSTA RICA HAD NOW SUBMITTED A DRAFT THAT WENT BACK TO WHERE CONTADORA HAD STARTED, WITH A FEW SIMPLE IDEAS. HABIB POINTED OUT THAT WHI E THE ARIAS PLAN HAD NOT DEVELOPED THE VERIFICATION OR SECURITY AREAS VERY WELL, THE POLITICAL PLAN WAS MUCH MORE SPECIFIC THAN ANYTHING CONTADORA HAD DEVELOPED TO DATE. SEPULVEDA SAID THAT CONTADORA WAS HAPPY TO PLAY A USEFUL ROLE IN NEGOTIATIONS OR MEDIATIONS WITH THE CENTRAL AMERICANS, BUT EMPHASIZED THAT HE DID NOT WANT AN EROSION OF CONTADORA, A "DOUBLE TALK WITH LIP SERVICE ABOUT CONTADORA AND ACTIONS BEING TAKEN EXACTLY CONTRARY TO WHAT CONTADORA SAYS." HE IMPLIED THAT ARIAS HAD PROFESSED SUPPORT FOR CONTADORA IN HIS INAUGURAL ADDRESS AND HIS AM SPEECH AND THAT IF HE AND THE OTHER CENTRA AMERICANS WANTED CONTADORA TO PLAY A ROLE, THEY SHOULD

LET CONTADORA FUNCTION AND NOT SABOTAGE IT. HABIB REPLIED THAT CENTRAL AMERICA HAD CHANGED OVER THE LAST FOUR YEARS; THE CENTRAL AMERICANS WERE MORE ASSERTIVE NOW. THEY WANTED THEIR VIEWS TO BE TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT IN A MUCH MORE POSITIVE MANNER THAN CONTADORA HAD IN THE PAST. ARIAS DID NOT WANT TO SABOTAGE CONTADORA AND BY REFERRING SPECIFICALLY TO CONTADORA OBJECTIVES, HAD INDICATED THAT HIS PLAN OCCURRED IN THE CONTEXT OF CONTADORA.

2. ICJ CASE: THE MAIN OBSTACLE TO DATE IN CONTADORA, WHICH SEPULVEDA SAID "WE REGARD AS AN EXCUSE," WAS THE HONDURAN AND COSTA RICAN POSITION REGARDING NICARAGUA'S PETITION BEFORE THE INTERNATIONAL COURT OF JUSTICE. HABIB ASKED WHY, DURING THE TRAVELS OF THE TEN (CONTADORA, SUPPORT GROUP AND SECGENS OF THE OAS AND UN), THEY HAD NOT PRESSURED THE SANDINISTAS TO MOVE THE ICJ CASE OFF THE TABLE. SEPULVEDA REPLIED THAT THE NICARAGUANS BELIEVE THAT THEY HAD A LEGAL FORUM BASED ON THE UN CHARTER AND THAT THE UN HAD BEEN PROMOTING THE USE OF THE COURT TO RESOLVE CONFLICTS. THE NICARAGUANS ASKED, "WHAT DO WE GET FROM THE CENTRAL AMERICANS FOR A WITHDRAWAL OF THE CASE?" HABIB REPLIED THAT THE POINT WAS TO HAVE A FORUM WHERE ALL COULD TALK AND THAT IT WAS IN CONTADORA'S INTEREST THAT ANY EXTRANEOUS OBSTACLES SHOULD BE REMOVED. CONTRADICTING HIS OPENING REMARK, SEPULVEDA REPLIED THAT THIS REALLY WAS NOT A PROBLEM ANYMORE BECAUSE THE DOCUMENT THE NICARAGUANS HAD GIVEN THE TEN HAD NOT REFERRED TO THE ICJ CASES, THE FIVE HAD MET IN GUATEMALA WITH THE EC AND ALL HAVE NOW SAID THAT THEY WILL MEET IN ESQUIPULAS.

3. THE INTERNAL AND ARMED NICARAGUAN OPPOSITION: HABIB INFORMED THE MEXICANS THAT HE HAD MET WITH MEMBERS OF THE INTERNAL NICARAGUAN OPPOSITION WHILE IN SAN JOSE AND THAT THEY HAD DEVELOPED A NINE-POINT PROPOSA FOR POLITICAL CHANGE THAT DID NOT CONTRADICT THE OBJECTIVES DEVELOPED BY CONTADORA. SEPULVEDA SAID THAT WHEN THE TEN HAD GONE TO MANAGUA, REFERENCE HAD BEEN MADE TO THIS PROPOSAL AND THAT THE SANDINISTAS HAD SUGGESTED THAT THEY MIGHT CONSIDER TWO SETS OF ELECTIONS: FOR THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT AND MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS. AMB. HABIB POINTED OUT THAT ONE PROBLEM WITH THE ARIAS PLAN WAS THAT IT RECOGNIZED THE NICARAGUAN CONSTITUTION. THE CONSTITUTION HAD TRAPS ALL THROUGHOUT THAT GUARANTEED THE CONTINUATION IN POWER OF THE SANDINISTAS. FOR EXAMPLE, THE SANDINISTAS WOULD EXERCISE TOTAL CONTROL OVER THE ELECTIONS COMMISSION. SEPULVEDA SAID THAT THE NICARAGUANS FELT THEY WOULD HAVE PROBLEMS HAVING ELECTIONS IN A NUMBER OF MUNICIPALITIES BECAUSE OF THE WAR. TURNING TO THE ARMED OPPOSITION, HABIB INFORMED THE MEXICANS THAT THERE WERE OVER 12,000 RESISTANCE FIGHTERS BACK IN NICARAGUA AND VERY FEW WERE LEFT IN HONDURAS. HE SAID THEY HAD TO BE PART OF ANY DIALOGUE LEADING TO A CEASE-FIRE. HE ANTICIPATED A CONTINUATION OF THEIR FUNDING AND IT APPEARED POSSIBLE TO GET THE THIRD TRANCHE WITHOUT THE USE OF A PRESIDENTIAL VETO. ARIAS HAD TOLD US THAT OAS LEADERS HAD APPROVED OF HIS PLAN, BUT WE WERE NOT SURE WHAT THIS REALLY MEANT, AND WE WANTED TO CONSULT WITH THEM ABOUT THEIR SPECIFIC IDEAS REGARDING THE ARIAS PLAN. DOS HAD ALSO DISCUSSED THE PLAN WITH ARIAS, AND ACCORDING TO ARIAS DOS HAD INDICATED ITS SUPPORT. ARIAS HAD AGREED THAT HIS PLAN COULD PERMIT A DIALOGUE WITH ARMED RESISTANCE LATER ON IN THE PROCESS.

4. DUARTE AND AZCONA: SEPULVEDA OPENED A DISCUSSION ABOUT DUARTE AND AZCONA BY STATING THAT HE HAD A FEELING THAT HONDURAS WAS NOT FULLY COMMITTED TO A GIVE-AND-TAKE

DIALOGUE WITH THE NICARAGUANS. HABIB REPLIED THAT WHEN THE HONDURANS BELIEVED THAT THE NICARAGUANS ARE SERIOUS ABOUT NEGOTIATIONS, THEY WOULD BE MORE FORTCOMING. THE HONDURANS DID NOT HAVE MUCH CONFIDENCE IN THE MANAGUA COMANDANTES. SEPULVEDA REPLIED THAT PERHAPS SOME CONFIDENCE BUILDING MEASURES SHOULD BE DEVELOPED. HABIB REPLIED THAT HE HOPED SEPULVEDA WAS RAISING CARAB LLEDA AND THE SUBJECT WAS DROPPED. SEPULVEDA THEN ASKED ABOUT DUARTE. HABIB SAID DUARTE WAS STILL FIGHTING FOUR TO SIX THOUSAND GUERRILLAS HEADQUARTERED AND SUPPLIED BY MANAGUA. HE ALSO HAD SOME POLITICAL PROBLEMS WHICH INFLUENCED WHAT HE COULD OR COULD NOT DO. THE U.S. WAS TOTALLY COMMITTED TO SUPPORT FOR EL SALVADOR'S DEMOCRACY. SEPULVEDA THEN ASKED ABOUT THE PROSPECTS FOR AN INTERNAL PROCESS OF RECONCILIATION IN EL SALVADOR AND IF ONE WAS ENVISIONED IN THE NEAR FUTURE. HABIB ANSWERED THAT DUARTE HAD ALWAYS BEEN WILLING TO TALK BUT WAS UNDER LESS PRESSURE TO DO SO BECAUSE OF INCREASING MILITARY SUCCESSES.

10. ARIAS VISIT TO MEXICO: SEPULVEDA SAID THE MEXICANS WERE LOOKING FORWARD TO ARIAS'S STATE VISIT WHICH BEGAN THE FOLLOWING DAY. BEYOND DETAILED DISCUSSIONS ABOUT THE ISSUES AND WOULD SIGN VARIOUS AGREEMENTS ON FEB. 28 REGARDING DEBT, TRADE AND DRUG TRAFFICKING.

11. COMMENT: THROUGHOUT THE DISCUSSION IT WAS EVIDENT THAT SEPULVEDA WAS NOT WELL BRIEFED ON THE DETAILS OF THE ARIAS PROPOSALS. BUT HE WAS ANXIOUS AND PREPARED TO EMPHASIZE HIS INSISTENCE ON THE CONTINUED VALIDITY AND USEFULNESS OF CONTADORA. THIS WAS TO BE EXPECTED, BUT IT IS ALSO CLEAR THAT MEXICO WILL WORK AGAINST THE ARIAS PROPOSALS UNLESS THEY ARE ENFOLDED INTO CONTADORA IN SOME WAY. SHULTZ

SUBJ: MFA HUMAN RIGHTS ADVISOR COMMENTS ON VOLIO REPORT, U.S. AND MEXICAN DRAFT RESOLUTIONS

1. MFA SPECIAL ADVISOR FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, AMBASSADOR MARIO CALDERON, TOLD THE PRESS ON FEBRUARY 26 THAT THE GOC RESPONSE TO THE VOLIO REPORT WAS TO BE SUBMITTED TO PRESIDENT PINOCHET ON FEBRUARY 27 FOR FINAL APPROVAL. CALDERON PLANNED TO TRAVEL TO GENEVA ON FEBRUARY 28 FOR A MARCH 2 MEETING WITH VOLIO, WHERE FINAL ARRANGEMENTS WOULD BE MADE FOR THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR'S LATE MARCH VISIT TO CHILE.

2. CALDERON WAS ASKED VARIOUS QUESTIONS CONCERNING THE MEXICAN AND U.S. DRAFT RESOLUTONS ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE. THE MEXICAN DRAFT, HE SAID, WAS TOTALLY UNACCEPTABLE SINCE IT TOOK NO NOTICE OF THE VOLIO REPORT. THEREFORE, "OUR POSITION IS TO CATEGORICALLY REJECT IT." THE U.S. PROPOSAL, HE SAID, WAS MORE BALANCED BUT STILL LACKING IN SEVERAL RESPECTS. CALDERON SAW NO INCONSISTENCY IN THE U.S. POSITION OF VOTING

AGAINST A RESOLUTION ON CHILE AT THE 1986 UNGA AND NOW INTRODUCING A RESOLUTION TOUCHING ON THE SAME THEME. HE CONJECTURED THAT THE PRESENT U.S. DRAFT WAS IN RESPONSE TO THE HIGHLY CONDEMNATORY MEXICAN PROPOSAL. TAKEN IN THAT LIGHT, THE U.S. DRAFT COULD BE INTERPRETED AS "POSITIVE". CALDERON EMPHASIZED THAT THE IDEAL

RESOLUTION FOR CHILE WOULD BE ONE THAT FOLLOWED THE VOLIO REPORT. IN HIS OPINION, THE U.S. DRAFT CONTAINED SOME MAJOR DISCREPANCIES WITH THAT REPORT.
3. CALDERON APPLAUDED U.S. EFFORTS TO END THE CONSIDERATION OF CHILE UNDER ITEM 5 AND SAID THAT VOLIO WOULD SUPPORT THIS CHANGE. WHILE NOTING THAT THE GOC WOULD LIKE TO END THE CONSIDERATION OF CHILE ALTOGETHER, HE REALISTICALLY ACKNOWLEDGED THAT SUCH A STEP WAS NOT POLITICALLY POSSIBLE AT THIS TIME.

4. FOLLOWING UP ON THAT POINT, A REPORTER ASKED IF THE ENTIRE HUMAN RIGHTS DEBATE WAS NOT IN REALITY A POLITICAL GAME BEING PLAYED BY THE SUPERPOWERS. THE U.S. DRAFT RESOLUTION ON CUBA WAS OFFERED AS AN EXAMPLE. CALDERON READILY AGREED THAT THE CAUSE OF HUMAN RIGHTS HAD BEEN TRANSFORMED INTO A POLITICAL GAME WITH HUMAN RIGHTS BECOMING THE MEANS TO REACH POLITICAL ENDS. HOWEVER, HE OPINED THAT THE LACK OF A HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION ON CUBA IN PREVIOUS YEARS WAS THE BEST EXAMPLE OF THE POLITICIZATION OF THE PROCESS, NOT THE PRESENT INITIATIVE OF THE U.S. TO END THE HYPOCRISY. CALDERON WAS THEN ASKED IF THE U.S. DRAFT RESOLUTION ON CHILE WAS NOT POLITICALLY MOTIVATED. CALDERON REPLIED "I BELIEVE IN THAT RESPECT ONE CANNOT MAKE SUCH A CATEGORICAL STATEMENT. IN THE FIRST PLACE, THE UNITED STATES HAS A TRADITION OF RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS WHICH IT HAS NEVER ABANDONED. THAT IT HAS AT TIMES ACTED IN POLITICAL TERMS

2. SECUID GENERAL OROZCO RETURN TO PARAGUAY FROM VACATIONING IN CHILE (REF A), EMBASSY ASUNCION SHOULD ATTEMPT TO CONTACT OROZCO. WE WISH TO DETERMINE WHETHER OR NOT OROZCO IS WILLING TO DISCUSS IN ANY MANNER HIS KNOWLEDGE OF THE LETELIER ASSASSINATION CASE WITH USG LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS.

3. WE LEAVE TO AMBASSADOR'S DISCRETION MEANS OF ATTEMPTING TO ESTABLISH CONTACT WITH OROZCO. WE WOULD SUGGEST THAT ANY APPROACH BE MADE IN A MANNER THAT CIRCUMVENTS CHILEAN EMBASSY STAFF, SINCE OROZCO IS LIKELY TO BE UNDER SURVEILLANCE. NO EFFORT SHOULD BE MADE UNTIL OROZCO RETURNS TO PARAGUAY. WE RECOGNIZE THAT THERE IS A STRONG POSSIBILITY THAT OROZCO WILL NOT RETURN BUT REMAIN IN CHILE INDEFINITELY.

4. IN CONVEYING USG INTEREST IN DISCUSSING LETELIER MATTER WITH OROZCO, YOU SHOULD NOTE THAT IN LIGHT OF ARMANDO FERNANDEZ' STATEMENTS, USG PROSECUTORS ARE GIVING SERIOUS CONSIDERATION TO SEEKING GRAND JURY INDICTMENT AGAINST OROZCO, FOLLOWED BY PROVISIONAL ARREST REQUEST AND EXTRADITION PROCEEDINGS AGAINST OROZCO FOR HIS ROLE IN THE COVER-UP. HIS COOPERATION WITH USG LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS, OR LACK THEREOF, WOULD HAVE A STRONG INFLUENCE ON NEXT STEPS MADE BY THE USG.

CFEO-3 DOJ

TO: ARA - Mr. Gelbard

FROM: ARA/SC - Richard Howard

SUBJECT: Next Steps on Letelier/Moffitt Case: Etcheberry Visit

Etcheberry arrives Wednesday and will be available Thursday morning. We want to use this visit (1) to pick Etcheberry's brains on propects for second extradition request and on reinforcing the Letelier family court case; and (2) to establish (via DOJ) a contractual relationship with him. We have asked L/LEI to ensure that DOJ is prepared to work out a contract with Etcheberry during the course of his visit. We have asked Etcheberry to stay until Tuesday, just in case a hitch develops or further consultations are needed.

After consulting with Mike Kozak, we have decided to start off with the large group meeting (Justice, US Attorney's Office, FBI) at 10:30 in the ARA conference room. Etcheberry will meet with you in your office at 10:00 a.m.

Harry Barnes met with Etcheberry today and provided by secure phone a preview of his current thinking:

- Etcheberry is very negative about propects for a second extradition request, because of legal obstacles (double jeopardy problem as well as that posed by plea-bargained evidence, although former could possibly be overcome if new charges are developed) and political (pressures on courts likely to be even stronger than before).

- Furthermore, Etcheberry believes a new U.S. extradition request would relieve pressure on the regime by permitting GOC to shift all responsibility to courts.

- Instead, he favors other approaches to GOC which have the effect of keeping pressure on, proposing for example:

  -- A new request to expell Contreras and Espinoza, relying on authority of a pre-1980 constitution law which may still be in effect (apparently used successfully by us in 1975 against drug traffickers).

  -- Request the GOC initiate an investigation of any violations of Chilean law revealed by Fernandez' statements, particularly by Orozco;

  -- Pursue an independent judicial investigation by Chilean courts. (Harry will ask Supreme Court President Retamal about this possible avenue when he sees Retamal on Wednesday.)

Señor
Harry Barnes
Embajador de los Estados Unidos de Norteamérica en Chile
Presente.

Estimado Señor Embajador:

Por medio de la presente queremos comunicar a usted algunas opiniones y peticiones sobre los últimos acontecimientos relacionados con el asesinato de nuestro familiar Orlando Letelier y de la ciudadana norteamericana Ronnie Karpen Moffit.

Es un hecho evidente que el gobierno militar de Chile no ha dado a ustedes la colaboración solicitada en el sentido de poner a disposición de la justicia norteamericana a los dos militares acusados del atentado en Estados Unidos, General (r) Manuel Contreras Sepúlveda y Coronel (r) Pedro Espinoza Bravo, así como de otras personas involucradas en el crimen.

Adicionalmente se ha comenzado a delinear la estrategia que el gobierno chileno seguirá frente a la nueva situación abierta con las declaraciones del Mayor Armando Fernández Larios. El día 24 de febrero recién pasado, la Cancillería chilena informó que el "espíritu de colaboración del gobierno con los tribunales de justicia"; el ministro de Relaciones Exteriores envió una comunicación al Presidente de la Ilustre Corte Marcial haciéndole llegar el texto de las declaraciones formuladas por el Sr. A. Fernández, el cual le fue proporcionado por la Embajada que usted preside.

Dicho "espíritu de colaboración", no corresponde a la petición hecha por el Gobierno de Norteamérica.

UNCLASSIFIED

Por nuestra parte estamos convencidos que el Sistema Judicial chileno está viciado y en forma muy especial la Corte Marcial lo cual no nos da ninguna garantía que se hará justicia en Chile.

Por las razones anteriormente expuestas es de suma importancia los pasos que el Gobierno de Norteamérica adopte en el futuro próximo frente a esta situación, entre ellos las peticiones de extradición.

Aprovechamos la oportunidad para informarle que el señor Jaime Castillo Velasco seguirá siendo el abogado de nuestra familia, el cual alegará ante la Corte Marcial el caso de los Pasaportes y Homicidio de Orlando Letelier. Entre las diligencias que él solicitará ante la Corte Marcial queremos destacar algunas que requerirán de la colaboración de ustedes: exhortos a Fernández Larios y Townley para que declaren de acuerdo a la ley chilena; un retrato hablado de la Liliana Walker que debería ser proporcionado por Fernández Larios y una lista de preguntas a Fernández Larios cuyas respuestas aclaren puntos que interesan a nuestra causa.

Finalmente, queremos reiterar a usted lo planteado al señor Encargado de Negocios George Jones respecto a la designación diplomática del Coronel Espinoza Bravo en SudAfrica, lo cual constituye para nosotros una manifestación más de la; protección y privilegio de que gozan quienes han cometido un acto de terrorismo internacional en territorio norteamericano, así como una burla más a la Justicia de Estados Unidos.

Le adjuntamos para su conocimiento un breve estudio inicial sobre las extradiciones.

Sin otro particular, lo saludan atentamente,

Juan Pablo Letelier Morel

Fabiola Letelier del Solar.

TOWARD ADDRESSING ITS HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS. SO FAR OUR EFFORTS HAVE FALLEN ON DEAF EARS. WE HAVE HEARD THAT TWO LATIN COUNTRIES (COSTA RICA AND COLOMBIA) WOULD SUPPORT THE ELIMINATION OF CHILE AS A SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM. THE OTHER LATIN DELEGATIONS ARE NON-COMMITTAL. AMONG THE WEOG WE CAN ONLY COUNT ON THE FIRM SUPPORT OF

THE UK AND THE FRG FOR OUR RESOLUTION. THE OTHER WEOG MEMBERS, INCLUDING THE HISTORICAL CO-SPONSORS AUSTRALIA, ITALY, FRANCE, AUSTRIA, AND OBSERVERS NETHERLANDS AND SPAIN, DO NOT REPEAT NOT WANT A "SOFT" TEXT ON CHILE. THEY FEEL THAT THE U.S. DRAFT IS TOO SOFT. NONE ARE WILLING TO CO-SPONSOR; NONE REPEAT NONE ARE WILLING TO ACCEPT THE ELIMINATION OF ITEM 5 AS PART OF A RESOLUTION. THE CURRENT DEADLINE FOR TABLING RESOLUTIONS IS THURSDAY, 6:00 P.M. LOCAL TIME (12:00 NOON WASHINGTON TIME).

3. SOME WEOG MEMBERS AND COSTA RICA HAVE PROPOSED THAT WE PURSUE A DIFFERENT TACK FOR ELIMINATING ITEM 5. THEY SUGGEST THAT THE U.S. MOVE UNDER ITEM 24 TO CONSIDER ELIMINATING ITEM 5 FROM THE AGENDA FOR NEXT YEAR'S SESSION. THE CO-SPONSORS SAY THERE IS SUPPORT FOR THIS TACTIC. WE HAVE NO FIRM COMMITMENT FROM ANY DELEGATION TO MAKE SUCH A MOTION. THEREFORE, WHILE THIS MAY BE A SLIGHT STEP FORWARD TOWARD ELIMINATION OF CHILE AS A SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM, IT IS A VERY SLIGHT STEP. THERE IS NO GUARANTEE THAT SUCH A MOTION TO CONSIDER REPEAT CONSIDER ELIMINATING CHILE AS A SEPARATE ITEM WOULD PASS THIS YEAR. MEMORANDUM

TO: IO - Ambassador Keyes

FROM: HA - Richard Schifter RS

SUBJECT: UNHRC Chile Resolution

I have heard the statement made yesterday that our difficulty in fighting against the Mexican 1987 UNHRC Chile Resolution is that it is like the 1986 U.S. UNHRC Chile Resolution. Before that allegation is accepted as revealed truth, it is vital to set the record straight.

I urge you most strongly to compare the two texts. You will find that Mexico has indeed used the U.S. 1986 text as its point of departure. However, throughout the Resolution you will find time again changes in wording, sometimes merely slight twists, and sometimes major changes, which have significantly altered the tone and basic thrust of the text, so as to make it unacceptable to us. This, of course, compounds the problem presented by the fact that the Mexican text fails to deal appropriately with the events which transpired during the last year.

I would be grateful if you could see to it that your bureau and the U.S. Delegation to the UNHRC stress the foregoing points in any discussions with delegations from other member states of the UNHRC.

SUBJECT: UNHRC - RESOLUTION ON CHILE

REFS: (A) GENEVA 2480 (B) STATE 51557

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. THE CHILE RESOLUTION AT THE UNHRC IS OF GRAVE IMPORTANCE TO OUR CHILE POLICY. THE PROPOSED "COMPROMISE" RESOLUTION WITH MEXICO (DATAFAXED) IS NOT ACCEPTABLE. US DEL IS INSTRUCTED TO TABLE RESOLUTION TRANSMITTED IN REF B WHEN DEEMED APPROPRIATE, BUT TRYING TO GET AHEAD OF MEXICO. AT THE SAME TIME US DEL SHOULD CONTINUE TO DISCUSS ALL ASPECTS OF US RESOLUTION AND OF OUR POLICY WITH LATIN AMERICAN AND WEOG DELEGATIONS AND ATTEMPT TO GAIN SUPPORT FOR OUR POSITION.

3. US DEL IS REQUESTED TO EXPLAIN THAT US PROPOSAL ON CHILE IS KEYED TO OUR EFFORTS IN SANTIAGO, THE PURPOSE OF WHICH IS TO ENCOURAGE DIALOGUE BETWEEN MODERATES IN GOC AND DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION ON IMPLEMENTING A PEACEFUL TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY AND BRING ABOUT HUMAN RIGHTS IMPROVEMENTS. THIS REQUIRES A BALANCED TEXT AND END TO ANOMALOUS TREATMENT OF CHILE AS SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM.

4. DEPARTMENT BELIEVES THAT US DEL SHOULD MAKE A MAJOR EFFORT TO SEEK GREATER SUPPORT FROM LATIN AMERICAN AND WEOG DELEGATIONS FOR OUR FORMULATION. WITH GREATER SUPPORT IN HAND, IT SHOULD BE POSSIBLE TO BE MORE EFFECTIVE IN CONTINUING DICUSSIONS WITH MEXICO ON A CONSENSUS TEXT.

5. WITH COLOMBIA AND COSTA RICA IN SUPPORT OF US POSITION, US DEL SHOULD FOCUS ON ARGENTINA, BRAZIL, PERU AND VENEZUELA. EACH OF THESE DELS SHOULD BE PRESSED TO SUPPORT US POSITION. DEPARTMENT IS INSTRUCTING EMBASSIES IN THESE COUNTRIES TO MAKE DEMARCHES IN SUPPORT OF OUR POSITION.

6. FOLLOWING CONTACTS WITH LATIN AMERICANS, US DEL SHOULD CONCENTRATE ON BELGIUM, FRANCE, AND ITALY. WITH THE SUPPORT OF AUSTRIA, FRG, AND UK, THIS WOULD LEAVE AUSTRALIA, IRELAND AND NORWAY FOR THE END.

7. DEPARTMENT IS INSTRUCTING WEOG EMBASSIES TO MAKE ANOTHER DEMARCHE.

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. FOLLOWING COMMENTS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED ON DRAFT U.S. RESOLUTION ON CHILE FROM SOME OF THE MISSIONS IN SANTIAGO TO WHOM WE CIRCULATED IT LAST WEEK.

3. AUSTRIAN AMBASSADOR KREID TOLD DCM HE PERSONALLY AGREED COMPLETELY WITH U.S. TEXT, WHICH HE CONSIDERED "VERY WELL BALANCED" AND CONSISTENT WITH REPORTS ON THE CHILEAN SITUATION HE HAS BEEN SENDING TO VIENNA. HE HAD ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

HEARD NOTHING ABOUT HIS GOVERNMENT'S POSITION.

4. COLOMBIAN AMBASSADOR RODRIGUEZ SAID HE ALSO WAS PERSONALLY IN TOTAL AGREEMENT. HE SAID THAT TWO WEEKS AGO HE HAD RECOMMENDED TO BOGOTA THAT IT SUPPORT COMBININ ITEMS 5 AND 12 AT THIS YEAR'S GENEVA SESSION.

5. PHILIPPINES AMBASSADOR ARIZALA SAID HE PERSONALLY THOUGHT OUR TEXT WAS QUITE WELL BALANCED. HE HAS INFORMED MANILA OF TEXT HE RECEIVED FROM US, AND OF COURSE THE DECISION ON GOP POSITION WILL BE MADE THERE.

6. AUSTRALIAN AMBASSADOR FLANAGAN, WHO IS QUITE SYMPATHETIC TO THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT, SAID HE THOUGHT THE RESOLUTION WAS GENERALLY O.K., IF ANYTHING A LITTLE BIT UNBALANCED AGAINST CHILE. HE STRONGLY AGREED, HOWEVER, WITH THE PROPOSAL TO ELIMINATE ITEM 5, AND SAID HE WOULD SO RECOMMEND TO CANBERRA.

7. VENEZUELAN AMBASSADOR VARGAS SENT US FOLLOWING WRITTEN COMMENTS:

"(1) OPERATIVE PARA 5: SINCE DECEMBER THEY HAVE PERMITTED THE RETURN (TO CHILE) OF A LITTLE MORE THAN A THOUSAND PERSONS AND THAT THE PROHIBITION STILL EXISTS WITH RESPECT TO ALMOST THREE THOUSAND.

"(2) OPERATIVE PARA 12, SUBPARA (B): I PLAN TO SUGGEST TO MY GOVERNMENT THAT IT PROPOSE ADDING TO (B) THE FOLLOWING: 'IN PARTICULAR TRANSITORY ARTICLE 27 OF THE PRESENT CONSTITUTION.' THIS REMOVAL OF ART. 27 WOULD OPEN THE WAY TO UNIVERSAL, DIRECT AND SECRET ELECTIONS INSTEAD OF A PLEBISCITE.

8. COMMENT: AUSTRALIAN AMBASSADOR TOLD DCM HE HAD LITTLE HOPE HIS VIEWS WOULD BE LISTENED TO IN CANBERRA. THIS IS A COMPLAINT WE HAVE HEARD BEFORE FROM EC AMBASSADORS, MOST OF WHOM SEE MORE GREY IN THE CHILEAN SITUATION THAN DO POLITICAL MINISTERS AT HOME.

2. ACTION ADDRESSEES ARE REQUESTED TO APPROACH FOREIGN MINISTRIES AGAIN AT APPROPRIATELY SENIOR LEVEL TO REITERATE US DESIRE FOR THEIR SUPPORT ON US DRAFT OF CHILE RESOLUTION IN UNHRC. YOU MAY DRAW AS APPROPRIATE

ON TALKING POINTS IN STATE 058268 AND STATE 052474. IN THOSE COUNTRIES WHO HAVE INDICATED WILLINGNESS TO SUPPORT US INITIATIVE ON CHILE, EMBASSIES SHOULD CONFIRM THIS SUPPORT.

3. FOR ALL WEOG CAPITALS: IN ADDITION TO USING TALKING POINTS PREVIOUSLY PROVIDED, EMBASSIES SHOULD MAKE FOLLOWING ADDITIONAL POINTS:

- WESTERN DEMOCRACIES SHARE A COMMON INTEREST IN ENCOURAGING A DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION AND HUMAN RIGHTS IMPROVEMENTS IN CHILE. US CONSIDERS PASSAGE OF A BALANCED AND FAIR RESOLUTION A KEY ELEMENT IN WESTERN EFFORTS TO PROMOTE THESE GOALS. DECISION TO INTRODUCE A RESOLUTION WAS TAKEN AT HIGHEST LEVEL OF US GOVERNMENT.

- WE HAVE WORKED TOGETHER BEFORE TO PROMOTE OUR MUTUAL CONCERNS ON DEMOCRACY AND HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE. WE BELIEVE IT IS IMPORTANT THAT WE WORK TOGETHER IN GENEVA NOW AND WANT YOUR SUPPORT FOR A BALANCED TEXT ON CHILE AS WE HAVE PROPOSED.

- OUR RESOLUTION IS PART OF A BROADER STRATEGY TO ENCOURAGE DIALOGUE BETWEEN THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

AND THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT ON IMPLEMENTING A DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION AND BRINGING ABOUT HUMAN RIGHTS PROGRESS. THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT'S COOPERATION WITH THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR HAS GIVEN US AN OPPORTUNITY TO MAKE REAL PROGRESS ON THESE CONCERNS. SOME STEPS HAVE BEEN TAKEN BY THE GOVERNMENT -- NOTABLY REDUCING THE NUMBER OF POLITICAL EXILES, PROVIDING ACCESS BY INDEPENDENT DOCTORS TO DETAINEES, MEASURES TO LEGALIZE POLITICAL PARTIES. MUCH MORE NEEDS TO BE DONE TO ADDRESS REMAINING PROBLEMS, BUT WE CONSIDER IT CRITICAL THAT THESE STEPS BE ACKNOWLEDGED BY THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY NOW, PRECISELY SO THAT WE CAN ENCOURAGE GREATER PROGRESS.

- A BALANCED TEXT, SUPPORTED BY THE US AND THE OTHER WESTERN COUNTRIES WILL HAVE MUCH GREATER IMPACT IN CHILE THAN ADOPTION OF AN UNBALANCED TEXT, SUCH AS THAT PROPOSED BY MEXICO, WITHOUT US SUPPORT.

4. FOR ALL ADDRESSEES: IF APPROPRIATE, YOU SHOULD MAKE THESE ADDITIONAL POINTS:

- RETENTION OF PARA 15 IN US TEXT IS NOT NEGOTIABLE. GREAT MAJORITY OF WEOG MEMBERS HAS FOR YEARS FAVORED ENDING SPECIAL STATUS FOR CHILE IMPLIED BY MAINTAINING A SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM. US AGREED AT 1986 UNHRC SESSION THAT VOTE ON THIS ISSUE BE POSTPONED UNTIL 1987. WE CANNOT AGREE TO POSTPONEMENT FOR ANOTHER YEAR.

- CONCERNING OTHER PARTS OF THE TEXT, DEPARTMENT IS NOT SYMPATHETIC TO FRG CONCERNS (BONN 5971) REGARDING PARA 3. THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AND THE KILLING OF A NUMBER OF PRESIDENT PINOCHET'S GUARDS WAS VIEWED BY MANY, INCLUDING THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION, AS A SET-BACK IN THE COUNTRY'S EVOLUTION TOWARD DEMOCRACY. ON THE OTHER HAND, DEPARTMENT WOULD CONSIDER UK

SUGGESTIONS AS SET FORTH IN LONDON 4166, PARA 5, BUT WOULD NEED TO LOOK AT SPECIFIC LANGUAGE.

2. DURING A FEBRUARY 25 MEETING BETWEEN DAS ROBERT GELBARD AND PERUVIAN FOREIGN MINISTER ALLAN WAGNER IN LIMA, WAGNER EXPRESSED SATISFACTION WITH THE U.S.' UNHRC RESOLUTION ON CHILE. HE TERMED IT "VERY GOOD... MODERATE...SOFT, BUT FINE," AND INDICATED THAT HE HAD INSTRUCTED THE PERUVIAN DELEGATION TO CONSULT CLOSELY WITH US ON THE ISSUE. THE GOP WOULD BE MORE COMFORTABLE WITH A CONSENSUS RESOLUTION, WAGNER NOTED, GIVEN THE SUBJECT'S SENSITIVITY IN THE BILATERAL RELATIONSHIP WITH CHILE. HE ALSO EXPRESSED SATISFACTION WITH U.S. POLICY WITH RESPECT TO CHILE'S INTERNAL DEMOCRATIC EVOLUTION, WHICH HE RECOGNIZED WAS AN EXTREMELY COMPLEX PROBLEM.

12. THEY PROPOSED TO U.S. DEL A COMPROMISE WHEREBY A SEPARATE RESOLUTION WOULD BE INTRODUCED UNDER ITEM 24 CALLING ON THE SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE UN (HRC) TO PREPARE A NEW AGENDA FOR NEXT YEAR IN CONSULTATION WITH MEMBERS WHICH SHOULD BE ORGANIZED IN A MANNER THAT IS MORE PRACTICAL, DOES NOT, REPEAT NOT, DISCRIMINATE AGAINST INDIVIDUAL NATIONS AS AGAINST OTHERS (I.E., ELIMINATES A SEPARATE ITEM 5) AND WHICH DOES NOT, REPEAT NOT, ADD NEW ITEMS SUCH AS DISARMAMENT.

13. ALL CO-SPONSORS OF THE MEXICAN TEXT ON CHILE WOULD JOIN IN CO-SPONSORING THIS MOTION AND COMMIT TO U.S. TO ELIMINATE A SEPARATE ITEM 5 THROUGH THIS PROCESS.

14. OBVIOUSLY, THIS COMPROMISE PROCEDURE IS A VEHICLE TO ACHIEVE THE ELIMINATION OF ITEM 5 AS A SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM WITHOUT FORCING COUNTRIES TO HAVE A SEPARATE VOTE ON IT NOW -- WHICH, IN THEIR STRONGLY-HELD VIEW, SENDS THE WRONG SIGNAL TO CHILE AT THIS TIME.

15. POTENTIAL CHILE-CUBA RELATIONSHIP: AS U.S. DELEGATION HAS MADE CLEAR, DUE TO OUTSTANDING WORK BY DEMARCHES IN CAPITALS, THE VOTE ON CUBA IS VERY, REPEAT VERY, CLOSE. WHILE IT STILL IS AN UPHILL BATTLE, VICTORY IS DO-ABLE. MANY DELS SEEM TO BE WITHOUT INSTRUCTIONS OR HAVE BEEN GIVEN WIDE LATITUDE. E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: PREL, NU, XK, OVIP (HABIB, PHILIP C.)
SUBJECT: AMB. HABIB'S MEETINGS WITH LEADERS OF THE NICARAGUAN DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE

1. ~~SECRET~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. ON FEBRUARY 27, AMB. HABIB AND DAS WALKER MET SEPERATELY WITH UNO LEADERS CRUZ, ROBELO, AND CHAMORRO, AND WITH BOS LEADERS CESAR, JEREZ, AND RIVERA. HABIB WELCOMED THE ARIAS INITIATIVE WHOSE FOCUS WAS ONE DEMOCRATIZATION IN NICARAGUA. UNFORTUNATELY, THE ARIAS PROPOSALS HAD DEFICIEN.IES AND OMISSIONS AS WELL AS SOME PROBLEMS WITH SEQUENCE. CRUZ SAID THERE WAS AN URG NT NEED FOR THE UNITED STATES AND THE RESISTANCE TO AVE A CREDIBLE NEGOTIATING TRACK AND WELCOMED THE ARIAS PLAN.

INITIATIVE TO ARIAS, BUT THE PROPOSALS ANNOUNCED AT THE SUMMIT WERE FAR DIFFERENT THAN WHAT HE HAD HAD IN MIN . UNO HAD ENDORSED THE ARIAS PROPOSALS BEFORE IT KNEW THE SPECIFICS. ROBELO STRESSED THAT THERE HAD TO BE TALKS BETWEEN THE SANDINISTAS AND THE RESISTANCE TO WORK OUT THE TERMS OF A CEASE-FIRE. ONCE THE FIGHTING HAD STOPPE, UNO LEADERS WOULD PARTICIPATE IN THE INTERNAL DIALOGUE AS MEMBERS OF THE UNARNE OPPOSITION. CRUZ

NOTED THE IMPORTANCE OF RETAINING CONTADORA.

3. CESAR SAID THAT HE WELCOMED THE ARIAS PROPOSALS AS A NEW ELEMENT IN THE NEGOTIATIONS. IF A CEASE-FIRE TOOK EFFECT, THE SANDINISTAS WOULD HAVE NO EXCUSE TO CONTINUE THE STATE OF EMERGENCY AND REBEL LEADERS COULD RETURN AND JOIN IN THE NATIONAL DIALOGUE. CESAR SAID THAT BOS DID WANT TALKS WITH THE SANDINISTAS TO NEGOTIATE THE TERMS OF A CEASE-FIRE; IT WAS PREPARED TO ACCEPT THE USE OF INTERMEDIARIES. JEREZ STATED THAT IT WAS NECESSARY TO TAKE THE ARIAS PROPOSALS TO CONTADORA OR MEXICO WOULD OPPOSE IT. CESAR SAID THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT TO MAV UNITY AMONG THE CENTRA- AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES, THE UNTE STATES, AND THE RESISTANCE. END SUMMARY.

4. ON FEBRUARY 27, AMB. HABIB AND DAS WALKER MET AT UNO HEADQUARTERS IN MIAMI WITH THE LEADERS OF THE NICARAGUAN DEMOCRACTIC RESISTANCE. THEY FIRST MET FOR NEARLY TWO HOURS WITH THE LEADERSHIP OF UNO: ARTURO CRUZ, ALFONSO ROBELO, PEDRO JOAQUIN CHAMORRO, LEONARDO SOMARIBA, CAR-OS

ULVERT, AND ERNESTO PALACIOS. HABIB OPENE BY COMMENTING THAT THIS WAS A VERY ACTIVE PERIOD IN THE NEGOTIATING TRACK, SUCH AS THE TRIP TO CENTRAL AMERICA OF THE

EC MINISTERIAL IN GUATEMALA (SAN JOSE III), THE ARIAS PROPOSALS, THE CIVIC OPPOSITION'S 7-PARTY PLAN, AND, OF COURSE, THE ACTIVITIES OF NUMEROUS MEMBERS OF CONGRESS.

5. HABIB SAID THAT THE USG WELCOMED THE ARIAS INITIATIVE AND BELIEVED THAT ITS FOCUS ON DEMOCRATIZAON IN NICARAGUA WAS CORRECT. HE STRESSED THAT DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA WAS PRECISELY THE GOAL OF THE UNITED STATES. HE SAID THAT ARIAS HAD TOLD HIM THAT THE PURPOSE OF THE PROPOSALS WAS TO BOX IN THE SANDINISTAS AND COMPELL THEM TO OPEN THE POLITICAL SYSTEM (WHICH ARIAS ASSUMED WOULD RESULT IN THEIR DOWNFALL) OR BE EXPOSED TO THE WORLD AS INTRANSIGENT MARXIST-LENINISTS. UNFORTUNATELY, THE ARIAS PROPOSALS HAD SOME DEFICIENCIES AND OMISSIONS AS WELL AS SOME PROBLEMS WITH SEQUENCE. AS NOW DRAFTED, IT WAS FRONTLOADED IN FAVOR OF THE SANDINIS AS. HABIB EXP AINED THAT ARIAS HAD ASSURED HIM THAT THE PROPOSALS WERE JUST A DRAFT AND THAT WHILE HE WOULD REMAIN FIRM ON THE POLITICAL ELEMENTS, HE WAS PREPARED TO REVISE THE SECURITY ELEMENTS. HABIB ADDED THAT PRESIDENTS AZCONA AND DUARTE ALSO HAD RESERVATIONS ABOUT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS THAT WERE SIMILAR TO OUR OWN. HABIB NOTED THA IT WAS IMPORTANT NOT,TO TORPEDO CONTADORA, AS IT WAS MORE COMPETE THAN THE ARIAS PLAN AND INVOLVED THE MAJOR LATIN NATIONS. HE SAID HE HAD COME TO LEARN UNO'S POSITION ON

THE ARIAS PROPOSALS, CONTADORA, AND NEGOTIATIONS IN GENERAL.

6. CRUZ RESPONDED THAT HE BELIEVED THAT THER WAS AN URGENT NEED FOR THE UNITED STATES AND THE RESISTANC TO HAVE A CREDIBLE NEGOTIATING TRACK. HE SAID THAT MEMBERS OF CONGRESS HAD COMPLAINED THAT TE ADMINISTRATION HAD JUST USED HABIB LAST YEAR TO GET THE DOLS 100 MILLION AID PACKAGE AND HAD NOT ALLOWED HIM TO SEEK ACTIVELY A NEGOTIATED SOLUTION. HE WELCOMED THE ARIAS PLAN AND AGREED THAT CONTADORA MUST BE RETAINE, BUT DOMINA ED BY THE CENTRAL AMERICANS THEMSELVES. HE STRESSED THAT DIPLOMATIC EFFORTS MUST NOT BE COSMETIC; ALL POSSIBILITIES TO REACH A COMPREHENSIVE, VERIFIABLE, AN SIMULTANEOUS AGREEMENT MUST BE EXHAUSTED.

7. ROBELO THEN RECOUNTED THE HISTORY OF THE ARIAS PROPOSALS. HE SAID THAT LAST FALL, HE HAD SUGGEST D TO ARIAS THAT COSTA RICA TAKE THE LEAD IN PROPOSING A PLAN WITH SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS AND DEADLINES FOR ALL PARTIES INVOLVED IN THE NICARAGUAN CRISIS. THIS PLAN COUL BE SUPPORTED BY ALL FOUR OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES. ARIAS HAD REPLIED THAT HE COULD ONLY DO SO IF GUATEMALA WERE ON BOARD. IF ONLY EL SALVA OR AN HONDURAS JOINED HIM, HE "WOULD GET BURNED." ARIAS HAD EXPLAINED THAT THEY WERE INVOLVED IN MILITARY AC IVITIES AGAINST NICARAGUA, AND HE WANTED TO PROTECT COSTA RICA'S "VIRGINITY" BY STICKING TO POLITICAL PRESSURE. ARIAS ALSO HAD COMPLAINED THAT THE UNITED STATES KEPT TRYING TO GET HIM INVOLVED IN SUPPORTING THE RESISTANCE'S MILITARY ACTIVITIES AND DID NOT UNDERS AND THAT HE HAD TO DEFEN COSTA RICA'S IMAGE, PARTICULARLY IN VIEW OF THE ICJ CASE.

8. ROBELO SAID THAT IN LATE NOVEMBER, HE HAD A FOLLOW-UP DISCUSSION WITH ARIAS, RODRIGO ARIAS, JOHN BIEHL, AND ALFREDO CESAR. ARIAS AGREED AT THAT TIME TO UND RTAKE SUCH AN INITIATIVE, AND ROBELO TRAVELED TO MIAMI WHERE HE PUT HIS IDEAS INTO WRITING. ROBELO PROVIDED RO RIGO ARIAS WITH A DRAFT PLAN WHICH PROVIDED FOR THREE STAGES OF DIALOGUE, BEGINNING WITH TALKS BETWEEN THE SANDINISTAS

AND THE RESISTANCE TO ESTABLISH THE TERMS OF A CEASE-FIRE. [illegible] ALSO GAVE ARIAS ITS IDEAS ABOU WHAT A PLAN SHOULD LIKE. ROBELO SAID THAT HE EXPECTED THESE PLANS TO BE DISCUSSED DURING ARIAS'S DECEMBER TRIP TO WASHINGTON WITH THE AIM OF HAVING A FIRM PLAN REA Y FOR THE FEBRUARY EC MINISTERIAL IN GUATEMALA. TO ROBLO'S SURPRISE, THE IDEA WAS NEVER RAISED DURING ARIAS'S VISIT. HABIB NOTED THAT ARIAS HAD LONG INDICATE HIS INTEREST IN PROMOTING A PEACE PLAN BUT NO SPECIFICS HA

BEEN DISCUSSED UNTIL THE JANUARY MEETING WITH MADRIGAL IN MIAMI. ROBE O REPLIED THAT HE ASSUMED THAT THE MIAMI MEETING FINALLY HAD PUT THE PLAN ON TRACK. HE WAS CONCERNED WHEN HE LATER TALKED WITH BIEHL AND LEARNED THAT THERE WAS STILL NO PLAN PER SE BUT SIMPLY "IDEAS." ROBELO ADDED THAT UNO LEADERS PUBLICLY SUPPORTED THE ARIAS PLAN, EVEN THOUGH THEY DID NOT KNOW WHAT IT WOUD SAY, BECAUSE THEY BELIEVED THAT ARIAS WAS A GOOD MAN AND THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT TO HAVE THE FOUR CENTRA- AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES BEHIND A PLAN.

9. CRUZ STATED THAT HE AND ROBELO HAD CALLED ON ARIAS ABOUT A WEEK BEFORE THE SUMMIT AND WERE SHOCKED TO LEARN THAT THE PROPOSALS WERE NOT EVEN READY AS A ROUGH DRAFT. THEY TOLD ARIAS TO KEEP TWO THINGS IN MIND AS HE FINISH D THE DRAFT: IT MUST BE COMPREHENSIVE, VERIFIABLE, AND SUMULTANEOUS; AND UNO HAD ALREADY AGREED TO A PEACE PLAN, I.E., THE SIX-PARTY PROPOSAL BY THE CIVIC OPPOSITION OF 1986. BELIEVING THAT ARIAS WOULD TAKE THEIR POSITION INTO ACCOUNT AND PRODUCE A GOOD PLAN, THEY CONTACTED MANY PEOPLE AND URGED THEM TO SUPPORT IT. SOMARIBA EVEN HAD SENT A TELEX TO ARIAS IN THE NAME OF THE THREE MEMBERS O THE UNO DIRECTORATE (CRUZ, ROBELO, AND--AT THAT TIME--CALERO) OFFERING THEIR SUPPORT SIGHT UNSEEN FOR HIS PROPOSALS.

10. CHAMORRO SAID THAT HE LATER VISITED BIEHL, WHO WAS HIS NEIGHBOR, TO CHECK ON THE PROGRESS OF THE PROPOSALS. HE DISCOVERED THAT BIEHL WAS WORKING ON THEM AT HOME ON HIS COMPUTER. INDICATIVE OF THE HAPHAZZARD PREPARATION WAS THAT BIEHL COULD NOT PROVIDE CHAMORRO WITH A COPY OF THE DRAFT UNTIL BIEHL'S 14-YEAR-OLD ARRIVED TO OPERATE THE COMPUTER'S PRINTER. CHAMORRO WAS DISMAYE WHEN HE READ THE DRAFT, AND WROTE A CRITICAL ARTICLE IN LA NACION. ARIAS THEN CALLED IN CHAMORRO TO FIND OUT WHY HE HAD CRITICIZED THE PROPOSALS. CHAMORRO TOLD ARIAS THAT HE AGREED WITH THE DEMOCRATIZATION ELEMENTS OF THE PROPOSALS BUT COMPLAINED THAT UNO COULD NOT BE EXCLUDED FROM PARTICIPATION IN THE DIALOGUE AND THAT AID COULD NOT BE CUT OFF AS A FIRST STEP. ARIAS RESPONDED THAT HE HAD INCLUDED THESE PROVISIONS BECAUSE HE COULD NOT BE SEEN AS MERELY FOLLOWING U.S. POLICY. CHAMORRO COMMENTED TO HABIB THAT ARIAS'S ACTIONS WERE ATTRIBUTABLE IN PAR TO THE FACT HE WAS POORLY INFORME ABOUT UNO'S SITUATION, PARTICULARLY ITS MILITARY SITUATION. ARIAS BELI VES THA UNO'S FORCES ARE ON THE VERGE OF DEFEAT AND THAT CONGRESS WILL BLOCK FURTHER AID, WHICH WILL FINISH THEM OFF COMPLETELY. CHAMORRO ADDED THAT ARIAS DID NOT UNDERSTAND THAT THOUSANDS OF UNO TROOPS HAD REINFLITRA ED INTO

NICARAGUA AND WERE PREPARING FOR AN OFFENSIVE AND THA THIS PRESSURE COULD GIVE THE RESISTANCE LEVERAGE IN NEGOTIATIONS. HABIB FULLY AGREE THAT ARIAS'S MISPERCEPTIONS AND THE BAD ADVICE HIS HAS BEEN RECEIVING FROM SEVERAL QUARTERS WERE SERIOUS PROBLEMS.

11. WALKER NOTED THAT BRENT BUDDWSKI OF CONGRESSMAN'S SLATTERY'S STAFF BELIEVED THAT UNO AND BOS FULLY CONCURRED WITH THE ARIAS PLAN. ULVERT REPEATE THAT WHEN UNO HAD ENDORSED THAT ARIAS PROPOSALS, IT HAD DONE SO WITHOUT KNOWING THE SPECIFICS. ROBE O ADDD THAT UNO HA MEANT TO ENDORSE ARIAS'S CREDENTIALS, NOT THE PROPOSALS THEMSELVES.

12. ROBELO STRESSED THAT THERE HAD TO BE TALKS BETWEEN THE SANDINISTAS AND THE RESISTANCE AT THE BEGINNING TO WORK OUT THE TERMS OF A CEASE-FIRE. ONCE THE FIGHTING HAD STOPPED, UNO LEADERS WOU-D BE ABLE TO PARTICIPA E IN THE INJERNAL DIALOGUE AS MEMBERS OF THE UNARMED OPPOSITION. HABIB ASKED WHAT FLEXIBILITY UNO HAD ABOUT DEALING WITH THE SANDINISTAS; FOR EXAMPLE, WOUL THEY ACCEPT INDIRECT NEGOTIATIONS DONE THROUGH AN INTERMEDIARY. ROBELO RESPONDED THAT THIS WAS EXACTLY WHAT HE HAD ORIGINALLY PROPOSED TO ARIAS. REGARDING THE SUSPENSION OF AID TO THE RESISTANCE, ROBELO ADDED THAT HE HAD SUGGESTED TO ARIAS THAT THE PROPOSALS INC-UDE A CALL DIRECTED TO THE RESISTANCE ASKING THAT IT STOP RECEIVING AID, AS THIS COULD BE THEN WORKED INTO THE TERMS OF A NEGOTIATED CEASE-FIRE. ROBELO HAD NOT INTENDED THE CALL BE MADE TO THE UNITED STATES, AS THIS WOULD PROMPT THE CONGRESS TO STOP THE AID UNILATERALLY. IT WAS IMPOR AN THAT UNO HAVE BOTH A CARROT AND A STICK, HE EXPLAINED.

13. HABIB ASKED WHAT UNO THOUGHT ABOUT HAVING THE CIVI OPPOSITION REPRESENT THEM IN THE DIALOGUE. CRUZ REPLIED THAT IN 1986 HE HAD MENTIONED THIS POSSIBILITY TO A JOURNALIST AND THAT IT HAD BEEN PRINTED IN THE PRESS, BUT THAT WAS ONLY HIS PERSONAL VIEW. ROBELO EMPHASIZED THA THIS WAS NOT THE POSITION OF UNO AS AN ORGANIZATION. CHAMORRO SAID THAT HE HAD TOLD ARIAS THERE WAS NO ONE INSIDE NICARAGUA THAT THEY COULD FULLY TRUST EXCEPT CARDINAL OBANDO. ARIAS HAD RAISED THE POSSIBILITY O GOING TO NICARAGUA TO SEE OBANDO. CRUZ ADDED THAT NICARAGUANS WOULD ONLY ACCEPT AN AGREEMENT IF OBANDO SIGNED IT. HABIB NOTED THAT THE UNITED STATES HAD LONG ADVOCATED A ROLE FOR THE CHURCH AS MEDIATOR.

14. HABIB ASKED WHAT UNO THOUGHT ABOUT ARIAS'S PROPOSAL TO HAVE A POLITICAL OPENING FOLLOWED BY ELECTONS FOR THE

CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT AS OPPOSED TO NATIONA OFFICES. HE NOTED THAT THE 7-PARTY PLAN SEEM D PREFERAB-E AS IT PROVIDED FOR ELECTIONS WITHIN ONE YEAR. CRUZ ACCEPTED THE CONCEPT OF ELECTIONS FOR THE PARLIAMENT, PROVIDED THAT THE PROPER CONDITIONS EXISTE . HE ADDED THAT THE UN AND OAS SYGS WOULD SUPERVISE THE SUGGESTION. ROBELO ADDED THAT THE SANDINISTAS NEEDED TO EXERT EVER TIGHTER CONTRO- TO STAY IN POWER. UNO NEEDED TO BE AUDACIOUS IN ITS PROPOSALS AND WILLING TO TAKE RISKS IN ORDER TO TEST THE SANDINISTAS' WILLINGNESS TO OPEN THE POLITICAL SYSTEM. THIS WAS ESSENTIAL TO ENHAN E UNO'S INTERNATIONAL CREDIBILITY AND MAKE CLEAR WHO WAS STUBBORN AND REJECTING PEACE. CRUZ SAID THAT THE SANDINISTAS WERE A WHORE DRESSED LIKE A MAIDEN, AND THE OPPOSITION NEEDED TO TAKE MEASURES WHICH WOULD EXPOSE THEM FOR WHAT THEY ARE. THIS MEANT THAT UNO MUST BE FLEXIBLE AND TAUNT THE SANDINISTAS ABOUT OPENING THE POLITICAL SYSTEM. HABIB ASKED WHETHER UNO WAS PREPARED TO RETURN TO NICARAGUA AND PARTICIPATE IN THE POLITICAL PROCESS IF SUCH AN OPENING COULD BE ACHIEVED. CRUZ AND ROBELO EMPHATICALLY STATED THAT THIS IS PRECISELY WHAT THEY WANTED.

15. HABIB SAID THAT AT THE SUMMIT, HONDURAS HAD PROPOS D DELAYING THE ESQUIPULAS MEETING FOR 90 DAYS IN ORDER TO ALLOW THE RESISTANCE TIME TO PUT PRESSURE ON THE SANDINISTAS AND MAKE THEM MORE FLEXIBLE. THE FINAL VERSION OF THE PROPOSALS WOULD NOT BE RESOLVED UNTIL ESQUIPULAS. HOPEFULLY, THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES WOU D HAVE A

UNITED POSITION, AND NICARAGUA COULD EITHER ACCEPT OR SHOW IT WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE FAILURE OF THE INITIATIVE. ROBELO OPINED THAT ORTEGA WOULD TRY TO TURN THE ARIAS PROPOSALS INTO ANOTHER CONTA ORA, I.E., A PROTRACTED NEGOTIATING PROCESS YIELDING NO AGRE MEN,. HABIB REPLIED THAT HE HAD WARNED ARIAS ABOUT THIS POSSIBILITY AS WELL AS SANDINISTA EFFORTS TO USE THE PLAN TO DIVIDE THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES. HABIB NOTED THAT AZCONA AND DUARTE HAD PROVIDED THEIR RECOMMENDATIONS TO ARAS, BUT ARIAS HAD IGNORED THEM AND ANNOUNCED HIS ORIGINAL PLAN AT THE SUMMIT. HONDURAS HAD GRASPED THE IMPORTANCE OF THE CONNECTION BETWEEN THE POLITICAL AND SECURITY ELEMENTS AND HAD PLACED THEM IN THE PROPER SEQUENCE. DUARTE WAS VERY TROUBLED ABOUT HOW SOME ELEMENTS O THE PROPOSALS COULD AFFECT HIS DEALINGS WITH THE FMLN AND HIS OWN MILITARY. WE HAD MADE OUR POSITION KNOWN DURING THE MIAMI MEETING WITH MADRIGAL AND DURING NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR CARLUCCI'S MEETING IN FEBRUARY WITH ARIAS. UNFORTUNATELY, ARIAS IGNORED OUR COMMENTS AND APPEARE

INTENT ON SOFTENING HIS PROPOSALS IN ORDER TO MAKE THEM EASIER FOR THE SANDINISTAS TO ACCEPT. THE PROPOSALS WERE ALREADY TOO SOFT, AND NOW THAT THEY WERE PUBLIC IT WOU D BE MORE DIFFICULT TO STRENGTHEN THEM. HABIB URGED UNO TO WORK OUT ITS POSITION ON THE PROPOSALS AND GIVE THE SPECIFICS IN WRITING TO ARIAS.

16. HABIB NOTED THAT IN HIS DISCUSSIONS WITH SEPU VEDA, IT WAS CLEAR THAT MEXICO WOULD STONGLY OPPOSE ANY A TEMPT TO BYPASS CONTADORA. HE SAID THAT SEPULVEDA HAD MADE ONE POINT THAT MADE SENSE: CONTADORA HAD A FAR BETTER VERIFICATION S STEM THAN THE ARIAS PROPOSALS. CRUZ NOTE THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT TO WORK WITHIN THE CONTADORA FRAMEWORK AS ALL THE MAJOR LATIN STATES WERE INVOLVED IN THE PROCESS. HABIB REPORTED THAT ON HIS RECENT TRIPS TO THE CONTADORA COUNTRIES, THERE WAS A GROWING WILLINGNESS TO HEED THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES AND TO FOCUS ON THE ISSUE OF DEMOCRATIZATION. CRUZ REFERRED SPECSFICA -Y

17. CRUZ ASKED ABOUT THE PROSPECTS FOR OBTAINING DO-S 105 MILLION IN AID FOR FY88. HABIB ANSWERED THAT IT WOULD BE TOUGH, BUT THE ADMINISTRATION WAS COMMITTED TO ITS POLICY AND WOULD WORK HARD TO SECURE THE AID. HE SAID IT WOULD DEPEND ON THE RESISTANCE DOING A CREDIBLE JOB AND THE CREDIBILITY OF THE NEGOTIATING TRACK. SEN. DODD REPORTEDLY HAD TOLD ARIAS THAT IF THE SANDINIS AS REJECTED THE PROPOSALS OR ACCEPTED THEM AND THEN RENEGED, THE DEMOCRATS WOULD SUPPORT THE ADMINISTATRATION'S POLICY. CRUZ COMMENTED THAT SOME IN CONGRESS WANT TO CUT THE AID AND SUBSTITUTE SOMETHING ELSE. ROBELO CRITI IZ D ANY PLAN WHICH WOULD WAS TANTAMOUNT TO CONTAINMENT AND WHICH WOULD LEAVE THE SANDINISTAS FREE TO CONSOLIDATE THEIR REGIME.

18. HABIB STATED THAT DURING HIS RECENT TRIP TO CENTRAL AMERICA HE HAD MEET WITH TWO LEADERS OF THE NICARAGUAN CIVIC OPPOSITION. HE HAD BEEN DISAPPOINTED THAT THEY HAD NOT CONSIDERED HOW TO WORK WITH THE DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE IN THE EVENT THAT A POLITICAL OPENING WERE ACHIEVED. HE ASKED ABOUT UNO'S PLANS IN THIS REGARD. CRUZ ANSWERED THAT IF THE SANDINISTAS WERE STILL IN THE PICTURE, THE OPPOSITION WOULD NEED TO WORK AS A SOLID BLOC. IF THE OPENING WERE TO COME ABOUT BY THE FALL OF THE SANDINISTAS, EACH ELEMENT OF THE UNO COALITION WOUD GO ITS OWN WAY. ROBELO NOTED THAT THE CIVIC OPPOSI ION THA REMAINED INSIDE NICARAGUA WAS VERY WEAK, AS THE BES LEADERS HAD GONE INTO EXILE.

19. HABIB AND WALKER THEN MET FOR AN HOUR WITH BOS LEADERS ALFREDO CESAR, ALVARO JEREZ, AND BROOKLYN RIVERA. HABIB REPEATED HIS INTRODUCTOR REMARKS AND ASKED ABOUT BOS'S POSITION ON NEGOTIATIONS. CESAR SAID THAT HE WELCOMED THE ARIAS PROPOSALS AS A NEW ELEMENT IN THE NEGOTIATIONS. IT WAS IMPORTANT THAT THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES WERE TAKING THE LEAD IN THE PROCESS. BOS HAD AS ONE OF ITS STRATEGIC OBJECTIVES THE STRENGTHENING OF TIES WITH THE DEMOCRACIES. BOS HOPED THE ARIAS PROPOSALS COULD LEAD TO AN END TO THE WAR. ONCE A CEASE-FIRE TOOK EFFECT, THE SANDINISTAS WOULD HAVE NO EXCUSE TO CONTINUE THE STATE OF EMERGENCY AND THEIR NICARAGUA AND JOIN IN THE NATIONAL DIALOGUE AND PARTICIPATE IN THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION PROCESS.

20. HABIB NOTED THE DEFICIENCIES IN THE ARIAS PROPOSALS, SUCH AS THE EXCLUSION OF THE RESISTANC FROM THE DIA OGUE AND THE CALL FOR AN IMMEDIATE END TO U.S. AID. CESAR

FOR IT NOT TO SUPPORT HIS PROPOSALS. NEVERTHELESS, BOS DID HAVE PROBLEMS WITH THE PROPOSALS AS DRAFTED. BOS HAD INTENDED ITS LETTER TO ARIAS TO BE INTERPRETED AS GIVING ONLY QUALIFIED ENDORSEMENT. FOR EXAMPLE, BOS WOULD FOREGO U.S. AID ONLY SO LONG AS THE CEASE-FIRE WERE IN EFFECT, AND IF THE SANDINISTAS VIOLATED IT, BOS WOUL AGAIN SEEK THE AID. BOS WANTED TA-KS WITH THE SANDINISTAS TO NEGOTIATE THE TERMS OF A CEASE-FIRE; IT WAS PREPARED TO ACCEPT THE USE OF INTERMEDIARIES IN RECOGNITION OF THE SANDINISTAS' REJECTION OF DIRECT TALKS. BOS WANTED SOME INTERNATIONAL BODY TO SERVE AS THE INTERMEDIARY.

21. HABIB ASKED ABOUT BOS'S VIEW ON THE ARIAS PROPOSALS' ACCEPTANCE OF THE SANDINISTA CONSTITUTION AND PROVISION FOR ELECTIONS ONLY FOR THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PAR IAMENT. CESAR ANSWERED THAT BOS HAD NOT FORMED POSITIONS YET ON THE CONSTITUTION OR THE ISSUE OF ELECTIONS. JEREZ SAID THAT THE ELECTIONS FOR A CENTRAL AMERICAN PAR-AMENT COU D SERVE AS A TEST OF THE SANDINISTAS' WILLINGNESS TO ALOW THE CONDITIONS NEEDED FOR DEMOCRACY. CESAR STRESSED THAT ONCE A CEASE-FIRE WAS ARRANGED, BOS INTENDED TO RETURN AND PARTICIPATE IN THE INTERNAL POLITICAL STRUGGLE.

22. HABIB ASKED BOS'S POSITION ABOUT CONTADORA. JR Z REPLIED THAT IT WAS NECESSARY TO LINK THE ARIAS PROPOSALS

TO CONTADORA, OTHERWISE MEXICO WOULD OPPOSE IT. CESAR SAID THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT TO HAVE UNITY AMONG THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES, THE UNITED STATES, AND TH RESISTANCE. HABIB NOTED THAT HE HAD WARNED ARIAS ABOUT THE POSSIBILITY THAT THE PROPOSALS COULD DIVIDE THE DEMOCRACIES INSTEAD OF UNIFYING THEM. HABIB POIN ED OUT THAT CEREZO WOULD PLAY A KEY ROLE IN MAKING OR BREAKNG UNITY.

23. RIVERA STATED THAT IN ANY AGREEMENT, THE CONDI ION OF THE INDIAN PEOPLES HAD TO BE PLACED ON THE AGENDA. CESAR SAID HE AGREED WITH THIS DEMAND. WHITEHEAD

SUBJECT: Your Meeting with the Families and Attorney Involved in the Letelier/Moffitt Civil Suit, Tuesday, March 10 at 2:00 p.m.

As you recall, Jim Swigert and Peter Olson met on Sept. 17 with Samuel Buffone, the lawyer for the Letelier and Moffitt families, and-with his clients. They agreed to get back to Buffone with a reply to his request that the State Department assist in collection of the outstanding court judgment against the Government of Chile from the civil suit brought by the families in US courts. The prolonged delay in replying to Buffone and his clients led to some criticism of our actions, which we have sought to deflect by pointing out sensitive efforts were underway that demanded the avoidance of any action that, even inadvertantly, might have jeopardized our initiative. Copies of your letters to the families are attached as are talking points for your meeting.

Buffone and his clients have suggested a number of ways the USG might help in collection on their suit, ranging from negative votes on loans to Chile to confiscating GOC assets in the US. Buffone has also requested that the USG publicly associate itself with the court judgment. He and his clients can be expected to push hard for USG action now, arguing that we have delayed long enough, a question of good faith is involved, and that our concerns regarding Fernandez are now no longer valid. Indeed, they are likely to argue that the Fernandez revelations more clearly than ever establish GOC responsibility in the murders and, therefore, demand USG action on their behalf. The gist of your meeting is likely to be passed on to Rep. Glickman, who has charged in his letter to the Secretary reporting on a proposed revision to the FSIA (attached) that the Department has failed to advise the families and move expeditiously on their request.

Mike Kozak plans to attend the meeting. We have raised the issue of publicly associating ourselves with the civil suit judgment with L. Kozak is not willing to adopt such an approach, feeling it improper for the US to take this action.

I plan to send Jim as notetaker for the meeting. I do not plan to attend, unless you feel it would have some utility. We have also reserved the conference room for an hour should you feel your office would be too crowded.

Attachments: As stated.

Talking Points:

--As I wrote you, I am sorry for the delay in response to your previous request. You now know the reason for that delay was to move forward the prosecution of the case by bringing Major Fernandez to the US.

--We have considered the arguments made by Mr. Buffone last September and have decided to make a diplomatic approach to the Chilean Government seeking compensation for the families.

--The question of timing, however, concerns us. We do not want to give the impression to the GOC that Contreras, Espinosa and whoever else may be involved in the crime and cover-up can "get off the hook" if the families are compensated. As we have repeatedly said, in public and private, our concern is that all all culpable parties face justice.

--My expectation is that we will move on this diplomatic approach following the April 6 sentencing of Fernandez. We will also likely move on the criminal case at that time.

--(if asked) No firm decision has yet been made on whether to seek extradition of Contreras/Espinosa (and Orozco). We are discussing options now with our Chilean attorney and will make a firm decision following Fernandez' sentencing. I reiterate, however, that we will not drop this matter. We intend to keep the pressure on.

--(if asked) Last September, Mr. Buffone asked that the USG take several measures to put pressure on Chile, including publicly associating itself with the civil suit judgment. We have carefully considered all of Mr. Buffone's suggestions, bearing in mind that our primary objective is to take action that will yield results. We do not feel that a public statement is called for.

--(if needed) We have chosen the diplomatic approach, seeking ex gratia (by GOC's grace, not admitting tie to case or guilt) payment, because we think this approach has the greatest chance of success. The Government of Chile is unlikely to respond to demands that it acknowledge itself bound by the court's judgment. I would add along these lines that the GOC does not believe the court had jurisdiction and that judgment is based on default (not case merits).

Subject: Chile Resolution: Velasco/Pacheco

Eugenio Velasco called this morning to report that he had been in touch with Maximo Pacheco in Santiago. Velasco said the latter believes we are close to agreement on the Chile Resolution in Geneva. Pacheco stated that the only remaining problem is in the final paragraph on the bottom of the first page (ref. attached text). Maximo argues that the GOC is guilty of terrorism as well as the MRPF, and that if we are going to mention the attempt to assassinate Pinochet we should also mention the killings of leftists which followed that attempt.

Velasco was clearly pleased with the news from Santiago and Geneva.

3. SUMMARY: U.S. DEL HAS MADE EXTENSIVE CONTACTS AND EXHAUSTIVE EFFORTS TO: (1) GET REVISIONS IN THE MEXICAN ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

RESOLUTION ON CHILE (PROBABLE CO-SPONSORS INCLUDING NETHERLANDS, SPAIN, ITALY, AUSTRALIA, YUGOSLAVIA, ALGERIA, DENMARK AND PORTUGAL) TO ACCOMODATE DEPARTMENT GUIDANCE (REFTEL D); (2) LINE UP SUPPORT FOR POSSIBLE SEPARATE U.S. RESOLUTION ON CHILE (REFTEL C); AND (3) GAUGE POSSIBLE CONSEQUENCES OF ACTIONS ON THE CHILE

RESOLUTION TO EFFORTS ON THE CUBA RESOLUTION.

4. REGARDING (1), THERE HAVE BEEN REVISIONS IN THE INITIAL DRAFT OF THE MEXICAN RESOLUTION WHICH ACCOMMODATES SOME BUT NOT, REPEAT NOT, ALL U.S. CONCERNS (REFTEL C); (2) U.S. DEL IS NOT, REPEAT NOT, PICKING UP INDICATIONS OF SUPPORT FOR SEPARATE U.S. RESOLUTION ON CHILE (THOUGH THERE ARE A HANDFUL OF MEMBERS "SYMPATHETIC" TO ELIMINATING A SEPARATE ITEM 5 IN NEXT YEAR'S AGENDA); (3) THE STATUS ON THE CUBA RESOLUTION IS THAT WE ARE IN POSSIBLE REACH BUT STILL JUST SHORT OF A MAJORITY ON THE PROCEDURAL QUESTION, THAT WE FEEL IT POSSIBLY CAN BE WON, AND THAT SEPARATE ACTION ON CHILE COULD CRITICALLY DAMAGE WHATEVER POSSIBILITY REMAINS TO GET THE NEEDED VOTES (AND MIGHT LOSE VOTES AMONGST SOME ALREADY COMMITTED); AND (4) FINALLY, THE SPONSORS HAVE RETURNED TO US WITH A POSSIBLE COMPROMISE (SEE PARA. 11).

5. U.S. DEL NEEDS INSTRUCTIONS IMMEDIATELY. THE SPONSORS AND MEXICO HAVE DELAYED INTRODUCTION OF THEIR RESOLUTION TWO DAYS AS WE HAVE WORKED TO FIND AN ACCEPTABLE COMPROMISE. U.S. DEL HAS PROMISED TO GIVE THEM OUR FINAL DECISION AT THE 9:00 A.M. WEOG MEETING, THURSDAY, MARCH 5. END SUMMARY.

6. LOBBYING ACTIVITIES: YESTERDAY WE MET INDIVIDUALLY ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

WITH EACH CO-SPONSOR OF THE MEXICAN RESOLUTION, MET WITH THEM IN A GROUP, AND VISITED WITH OTHER NON-SPONSOR DELEGATIONS (REFTEL). TODAY, MARCH 4, CHILE WAS DISCUSSED IN THE MORNING WEOG MEETING. ALSO, MEMBERS OF U.S. DEL AGAIN MET INDIVIDUAL WITH EACH CO-SPONSOR OF THE MEXICAN RESOLUTION, VISITED WITH OTHER NON-SPONSOR DELEGATIONS, AND, LATE THIS AFTERNOON, MET WITH THE CONTACT GROUP OF CO-SPONSORS. THIS ACTIVITY HAS BEEN GETTING AND CONTINUES TO GET SUBSTANTIAL ATTENTION FROM THE DELEGATION.

7. A REPORT ON THE OVERALL SITUATION WITH SOME COUNTRY-BY-COUNTRY BREAKDOWN FOLLOWS. THE POSITIONS OF DELEGATIONS AS OF 6:00 P.M. MARCH 4 ARE AS FOLLOWS:

AUSTRIA: DELEGATION SAYS IT HAS NOT, REPEAT NOT, RECEIVED INSTRUCTIONS TO CO-SPONSOR U.S. DRAFT AND FAVORS A CONSENSUS TEXT.

ITALY: FAVORS A CONSENSUS TEXT AND WILL CO-SPONSOR REVISED MEXICAN DRAFT.

AUSTRALIA: NOT IN FAVOR OF #5 CHANGE TO #12; SAYS IT IS PREMATURE.

NORWAY: SUPPORTS REVISED MEXICAN DRAFT; NOT IN FAVOR OF #5 CHANGE TO #12 AT THIS TIME.

YUGOSLOVIA: SUPPORTS REVISED MEXICAN DRAFT; OPPOSES #5 CHANGE TO #12.

COLOMBIA/COSTA RICA: NO CHANGE FROM PREVIOUS POSITIONS. U.S. DEL WILL CONTINUE PRESSURE ON SELECTED LATIN DELEGATIONS.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

FRANCE: WILL NOT CO-SPONSOR REVISED MEXICAN DRAFT, BUT WILL VOTE YES ON IT AND WANTS A CONSENSUS TEXT; THINKS CHILE ISSUE DETRACTS FROM ATTENTION ON CUBA.

DENMARK: NOT IN FAVOR #5 TO #12 CHANGE AT THIS TIME; WILL CO-SPONSOR REVISED MEXICAN DRAFT.

PORTUGAL: WOULD SUPPORT EVENTUAL #5 TO #12 CHANGE BUT NOT THIS YEAR.

HOLY SEE: STRONGLY OPPOSED TO A TEXT THAT IS MORE POSITIVE THAN THE REVISED MEXICAN DRAFT.

INDIA: WILL SUPPORT MEXICAN TEXT.

BELGIUM: WILL SUPPORT A CONSENSUS TEXT AND FAVORS STRONG EUROPEAN INVOLVEMENT.

8. ATMOSPHERICS: CARMEN QUINTANA, THE CHILEAN BURN VICTIM, SPOKE TO A RAPT, ATTENTIVE COMMISSION AUDIENCE THE AFTERNOON OF MARCH 4. HER PRESENTATION WAS EMOTIONAL WITHOUT BEING OVERBEARING. PERSONS CROWDED AROUND HER FOR COPIES OF HER SPEECH AND SHE WAS EMBRACED BY VARIOUS DELEGATIONS FROM ALL REGIONAL GROUPS.

9. THESE AND OTHER DELEGATIONS WITH WHOM U.S. DEL HAVE TALKED HAVE A UNIFORM CONCERN THAT WHILE THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT MAY HAVE MADE SOME HUMAN RIGHTS PROGRESS THAT IT HAS NOT BEEN MUCH. THEY FEEL U.S. LANGUAGE DOES NOT, REPEAT NOT, REPRESENT A BALANCED TEXT BUT AN IMBALANCED

TEXT THAT IS OVER-GENEROUS TO THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT AND SENDS THE WRONG MESSAGE. AS ONE DELEGATE AFTER ANOTHER TOLD U.S. DELEGATE, "WE SHOULD KEEP THE PRESSURE ON, WE ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

SHOULDN'T SEND THE WRONG SIGNAL." TO THEM ELIMINATION OF ITEM 5 AS A SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM, WHILE ACCEPTABLE IN THEORY, IS NOT REPEAT NOT ACCEPTABLE NOW. IT WOULD SEND THE WRONG MESSAGE.

10. THIS VIEW IS BEING STRENGTHENED BY THE HOLY SEE DELEGATE WHO IS WORKING THE FLOOR URGING NO ELIMINATION OF THE SEPARATE ITEM 5 NOW. WE ARE TOLD THAT HE IS TELLING DELEGATES THAT THE VATICAN WANTS TO KEEP THE PRESSURE ON THE CHILE GOVERNMENT LEADING UP TO THE PENDING TRIP OF THE POPE TO CHILE. HE IS TELLING DELEGATES THAT ELIMINATION OF THE SEPARATE ITEM 5 WILL UNDERMINE THE POPE'S EFFORTS IN THIS REGARD.

11. COMPROMISE: THIS AFTERNOON MEMBERS OF THE U.S. DELEGATION MET WITH REPS FROM ITALY, NORWAY, MEXICO, NETHERLANDS AND DENMARK. THEY TOLD U.S. DEL THAT FOR TWO MONTHS SOME MEMBERS OF THE WESTERN GROUP HAD BEEN WORKING ON RESTRUCTURING OF THE HRC AGENDA.

12. THEY PROPOSED TO U.S. DEL A COMPROMISE WHEREBY A SEPARATE RESOLUTION WOULD BE INTRODUCED UNDER ITEM 24 CALLING ON THE SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE UN (HRC) TO PREPARE A NEW AGENDA FOR NEXT YEAR IN CONSULTATION WITH MEMBERS WHICH SHOULD BE ORGANIZED IN A MANNER THAT IS MORE PRACTICAL, DOES NOT, REPEAT NOT, DISCRIMINATE AGAINST INDIVIDUAL NATIONS AS AGAINST OTHERS (I.E., ELIMINATES A SEPARATE ITEM 5) AND WHICH DOES NOT, REPEAT NOT, ADD NEW ITEMS SUCH AS DISARMAMENT.

13. ALL CO-SPONSORS OF THE MEXICAN TEXT ON CHILE WOULD JOIN IN CO-SPONSORING THIS MOTION AND COMMIT TO U.S. TO ELIMINATE A SEPARATE ITEM 5 THROUGH THIS PROCESS.

14. OBVIOUSLY, THIS COMPROMISE PROCEDURE IS A VEHICLE TO ACHIEVE THE ELIMINATION OF ITEM 5 AS A SEPARATE ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

AGENDA ITEM WITHOUT FORCING COUNTRIES TO HAVE A SEPARATE

VOTE ON IT NOW -- WHICH, IN THEIR STRONGLY-HELD VIEW, SENDS THE WRONG SIGNAL TO CHILE AT THIS TIME.

15. POTENTIAL CHILE-CUBA RELATIONSHIP: AS U.S. DELEGATION HAS MADE CLEAR, DUE TO OUTSTANDING WORK BY DEMARCHES IN CAPITALS, THE VOTE ON CUBA IS VERY, REPEAT VERY, CLOSE. WHILE IT STILL IS AN UPHILL BATTLE, VICTORY IS DO-ABLE. MANY DELS SEEM TO BE WITHOUT INSTRUCTIONS OR HAVE BEEN GIVEN WIDE LATITUDE. SOME DELEGATIONS HAVE SUGGESTED THAT A SEPARATE U.S. RESOLUTION ON CHILE MAY AFFECT THE CURRENT PRECARIOUS BALANCE ON THE CUBA RESOLUTION.

16. ACTION REQUESTED: IN LIGHT OF THE ABOVE, U.S. DEL NEEDS INSTRUCTIONS AT ONCE AS TO WHETHER TO PURSUE COMPROMISE LANGUAGE AS OUTLINED IN PARA. 11 ABOVE OR TO TABLE SEPARATE RESOLUTION. U.S. DEL HAS COMMITTED TO

1. THE SECOND MILITARY COURT HAS OFFICIALLY CHARGED FORMER ARMY COLONEL RENE MUNOZ WITH THE PASSING OF FALSE INFORMATION. COL. MUNOZ RESIGNED FROM THE ARMY LAST WEEK IN THE WAKE OF CHARGES THAT HE HAD FAILED TO NOTIFY HIS SUPERIORS OF VITAL INFORMATION CONCERNING THE ROJAS/QUINTANA CASE (REFTEL). THE CURRENT CHARGE AGAINST HIM WOULD INDICATE THAT HE DELIBERATELY FALSIFIED INFORMATION IN HIS POSSESSION, MOST LIKELY THE INITIAL VERSION OF EVENTS RELATED BY THE MILITARY PATROL INVOLVED IN THE TORCHINGS. IF CONVICTED, MUNOZ WOULD BE SENTENCED TO DEPRIVATION OF LIBERTY FOR A PERIOD FROM 61 DAYS TO 3 YEARS. MUNOZ WAS RELEASED ON BAIL IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING THE FILING OF CHARGES.

2. THE INVESTIGATION INTO MUNOZ' ROLE IS BEING HANDLED SEPARATELY FROM THE ROJAS/QUINTANA PROCEEDINGS. IT IS LIKELY, HOWEVER, THAT BOTH INVESTIGATIONS WILL SOON BE MERGED UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF MILITARY PROSECUTOR ERWIN

PINOCHET IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION, ASKED FOR U.S. VIEWS REGARDING A "WIDELY SUPPORTED TEXT" BEING CIRCULATED BY MEXICO. HE CLAIMED THAT THE TEXT CONTAINS MUCH U.S. LANGUAGE. (WHILE WE HAVE NOT SEEN THE MEXICAN TEXT, WE HAVE THE IMPRESSION THAT THE FRG WILL LINE UP IN FAVOR OF A TEXT WHICH AVOIDS AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE LANGUAGE CONTAINED IN THE SECOND HALF OF PARA THREE IN THE U.S. RESOLUTION ON CHILE - SEE REF D AND PREVIOUS.)

3. WITH RESPECT TO MOVING CHILE FROM ITEM 5 TO ITEM 12, GIESDER STATED HIS OBJECTION TO INCLUDING A PROCEDURAL MATTER SUCH AS THIS IN AN OPERATIVE HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION. HE REPEATED (REF D) THAT A FORMAL MOVE TO HAVE CHILE CONSIDERED PERMANENTLY UNDER ITEM 12 BEGINNING WITH NEXT YEAR COULD PROPERLY BE ADDRESSED UNDER ITEM 24, LATE IN THIS YEAR'S SESSION. IN FACT, IT HAD ALREADY BEEN DECIDED - AGREED TO BY THE U.S. IN THE SECOND UNHRC SESSION IN GENEVA THIS YEAR - THAT CHILE WOULD BE CONSIDERED THIS YEAR LUMPED TOGETHER WITH OTHER CASES UNDER ITEM 12; GIESDER FAILED TO SEE THE NECESSITY FOR INCLUDING LANGUAGE ON THIS POINT IN THE RESOLUTION.

4. WE POINTED OUT THAT ARGENTINA HAD DECIDED TO SUPPORT THE MOVE OF CONSIDERATION OF CHILE TO ITEM 12 (REF B). WHILE SEEMING PLEASED WITH THIS INFORMATION, GIESDER OBSERVED THAT THE USDEL IN GENEVA HAD TOLD HIM EARLY ON IN THE SESSION THAT ARGENTINA HAD SUPPORTED THE U.S. RESOLUTION.

3. INDIA - FIRST SECRETARY NANDAN IN THE INDIAN EMBASSY NOTED THAT HIS EMBASSY WAS JUST BEGINNING TO INTEREST ITSELF IN THE AREA OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE. THEY DO NOT HAVE GOOD COMMUNICATIONS WITH NEW DELHI, ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

BUT THEY HAVE FORWARDED OUR DRAFT WITH COMMENTS ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION, BASED ON INFORMATION PROVIDED BY OUR ANNUAL HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT. NANDAN ALSO ASKED IF WE COULD PROVIDE A COPY OF THE MEXICAN DRAFT FOR COMPARISON, WHICH WE DECLINED TO DO, SAYING THAT WE DID NOT HAVE THE LATEST VERSION OF THIS DRAFT.

HE UNDERSTOOD OUR INTEREST IN A BALANCED RESOLUTION, AND OUR POSITION ON THE AGENDA ITEMS, SAID HE WOULD IMMEDIATELY INFORM HIS AMBASSADOR, BUT COULD MAKE NO COMMITMENT TO SUPPORT OUR POSITION OR NOT AS HE HAD NO GUIDANCE FROM HIS HOME OFFICE.

4. JAPAN - DCM HANAWA INFORMED POL COUNSELOR ON MARCH 5 THAT HIS EMBASSY HAD RECOMMENDED TO JAPANESE FOREIGN MINISTRY THAT JAPAN SUPPORT A RESOLUTION ALONG THE LINES OF THE U.S. RESOLUTION BECAUSE IT WOULD FOSTER HUMAN RIGHTS IMPROVEMENTS IN CHILE. HANAWA REPORTED THAT HE WAS UNDER THE IMPRESSION THAT JAPAN WOULD SUPPORT A MODERATE RESOLUTION, AND THAT AS OF A WEEK OR SO AGO WAS HOPING FOR A RECONCILED TEXT BETWEEN THE U.S. AND MEXICO. HE HAD RECEIVED A REPORT WITHIN THE LAST 24 HOURS, HOWEVER, OF ASSISTANT SECRETARY SCHIFTER'S CONVERSATION WITH THE MINISTER OF THE JAPANESE EMBASSY AT WASHINGTON IN WHICH SCHIFTER DESCRIBED THE STATE OF PLAY. HANAWA PRESUMED THAT GOJ WOULD SUPPORT THE U.S. BOTH ON PROCEDURAL MOVES AS WELL AS ON THE CONTENT OF THE RESOLUTION, BUT HE HAS RECEIVED NO INFORMATION ON TOKYO'S POSITION. HE AGREED TO SEND AN URGENT MESSAGE TO TOKYO REITERATING THE IMPORTANCE OF A MODERATE, BALANCED RESOLUTION TO ACHIEVING HUMAN RIGHTS PROGRESS IN CHILE.

5. PERU - PERUVIAN DCM TOLD POLCOUNSELOR THAT HIS EMBASSY HAS NO INFORMATION ON LIMA'S CURRENT THINKING, BUT HE PROMISED TO SEND AN IMMEDIATE MESSAGE REPORTING OUR DEMARCHE AND REQUESTING ADVICE OF THE GOP'S VIEWS.

6. CHINA - POLOFF MET WITH POLCOUNSELOR MAI GUOYAN AT THE PRC EMBASSY ON MARCH 5. MAI WAS NOT WELL-INFORMED ABOUT OUR EFFORTS IN GENEVA, BEING UNABLE AT FIRST TO DIFFERENTIATE BETWEEN GENEVA, UNGA, AND OUR ANNUAL REPORT ON HUMAN RIGHTS. HE WAS ALSO CONFUSED ABOUT OUR VOTING RECORD, MIXING THE UNGA WITH LAST YEAR'S UNHRC VOTE. POLOFF ATTEMPTED TO SET THE RECORD STRAIGHT, AND PRESENTED MAI WITH ANOTHER COPY OF THE U.S. RESOLUTION AND AN ORAL RENDERING OF THE TALKING POINTS. MAI TOLD POLOFF THAT HE WOULD PASS ON THE INFORMATION TO HIS AMBASSADOR FOR TRANSMISSION TO BEIJING, BUT ADDED THAT IN SUCH MATTERS THE PRC TRADITIONALLY ABSTAINS.

7. AFTERNOON MARCH 5 EDUARDO CEDRA, THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT WHO IS SECRETARY OF THE DEMOCRATIC ALLIANCE (AD) THE CENTRIST COALITION OF OPPOSITION PARTIES, VISITED DCM TO GIVE ALLIANCE'S REPLY TO OUR REQUEST FOR SUPPORT OF U.S. TEXT. CEDRA SAID ALLIANCE HAD MET FORMALLY TO DISCUSS THERESOLUTION AND WITH EXCEPTION OF WORD HERE AND THERE FOUND IT QUITE ACCEPTABLE - EXCEPT FOR LAST PARA ON ITEM 5. THEY SIMPLY COULD NOT SUPPORT DROPPING SPECIAL ITEM FOR CHILE, AND THAT WAS UNANIMOUS VIEW OF THE ALLIANCE PARTIES. TO SHOW THAT THEY WERE CONSISTENT IN THEIR VIEWS, THEY WANTED US TO KNOW THAT THEY ALSO SUPPORT A PERMAMENT SPECIAL ITEM FOR DISCUSSION

4. FORRESTER RECALLED THAT HE HAD PREVIOUSLY TOLD US THAT THE ITEM 5 ISSUE WAS SIMPLY SYMBOLIC AND COULD DETRACT FROM MORE IMPORTANT WEOG AND USG GOALS AT UNHRC (REFTEL F). CONVINCED OF U.S. RESOLVE ON THIS ISSUE, HE NOW BELIEVED A SIMILAR LINE SHOULD BE USED WITH THE COSPONSORS OF THE MEXICAN RESOLUTION -- NAMELY, THIS ISSUE IS NOT IMPORTANT ENOUGH TO BLOCK CONSENSUS. HE HAS CIRCULATED FOR CLEARANCE A DECISION MEMORANDUM TO FOREIGN MINISTER HAYDEN WHICH WILL ASK APPROVAL TO WITHDRAW AUSTRALIAN COSPONSORSHIP (THOUGH NOT SUPPORT) FROM THE MEXICAN RESOLUTION IF THE CONTINUATION OF ITEM 5 IS NOT DROPPED FROM THE TEXT.

5. IN THAT REGARD, FORRESTER ASKED IF WASHINGTON WOULD BE PREPARED TO JOIN CONSENSUS ON THE MEXICAN RESOLUTION IF THE ITEM 5 ISSUE WAS RESOLVED. POLCOUNS REPLIED THAT THE USG WANTED A BALANCED TEXT, WHICH THE MEXICAN WAS NOT. NEVERTHELESS, DROPPING ITEM 5 WOULD REMOVE ONE OF THE MOST DIFFICULT HURDLES TO ACHIEVING CONSENSUS.

SUBJ: FERNANDEZ CASE, DISCUSSION WITH CHIEF JUSTICE RETAMAL

1. WHEN I SAW THE CHIEF JUSTICE MID DAY MARCH 5, I FILLED HIM IN ON THE STATUS OF THE LETELIER/FERNANDEZ CASE IN THE U.S. AND TOLD HIM WE HAD NOT YET REACHED A DECISION AS TO WHAT STEPS WE WOULD NEXT TAKE. HE SAID IT WOULD BE OBVIOUSLY IMPROPER FOR HIM TO COMMENT ON ANY ASPECTS WHICH COULD TOUCH ON HIS OWN POSSIBLE EVENTUAL HEARING OF THE CASE IN CHILE, BUT WITHIN THOSE LIMITS HE INVITED ME TO PUT ANY QUESTIONS I WANTED.

2. AS IT TURNED OUT HALF OF MY DOZEN QUESTIONS WERE ONES WHERE HE SAID HE COULD NOT COMMENT, BUT HE DID CONFIR THAT THE SUPREME COURT HAS THE AUTHORITY TO TAKE COGNIZANCE OF A CASE IN A LOWER COURT, AS HE SAID IT HAD IN THE NOT TOO DISTANT PAST IN ONE INSTANCE INVOLVING THE CARABINEROS. HE ALSO SAID THAT IN GENERAL HE WOULD NOT DISQUALIFY THE TESTIMONY OF A WITNESS, WHO WAS ALSO AN ACCUSED IN SO FAR AS THE TESTIMONY HAD TO DO WITH ANOTHER ACCUSED PERSON.

3. I HAD MENTIONED EARLIER TO HIM MY CONVERSATION OF FEBRUARY 3, WITH INTERIOR MINISTER GARCIA AND SPECIFICALLY MY REQUEST FOR COOPERATION FROM THE GOVERNMENT. RETAMAL SAID I COULD REST ASSURED THAT THERE WOULD BE NO IMPEDIMENT FROM THE JUDICIAL SIDE TO ANY COOPERATION THE GOVERNMENT MIGHT BE PREPARED TO GIVE ON THE ADMINISTRATIV SIDE. WE BOTH AGREED HOWEVER THAT THAT WOULD BE A QUES QUESTION OF WHETHER THE GOVERNMENT CHOSE TO COOPERATE. H SAID HE COULD NOT COMMENT, HOWEVER, ON WHETHER PLEA BARGAIN TESTIMONY OBTAINED IN U.S. COURTS WAS AUTOMATICALLY NOT ADMISSIBLE IN CHILEAN COURTS, NOTING THAT THAT WAS THE SORT OF EVIDENTIARY MATTER ON WHICH AT SOME POINT HE MIGHT HAVE TO EMIT AN OPINION. LIKEWISE HE WOULD NOT SPECULATE ON WHETHER PERJURY OF WITNESSES LIKE CONTRERAS AND ESPINOZA BEFORE A PANEL OF THE SUPREME COURT WOULD CONSTITUTE ADEQUATE GROUNDS FOR THE PRESENT COURT TO TAKE COGNIZANCE OF THE LETELIER FAMILY CASE NOW IN THE MILITARY COURT SYSTEM. IT WAS CLEAR, HOWEVER, THAT THE DECISION OF THE MILITARY APPEALS COURT COULD BE APPEALED TO THE SUPREME COURT AND THAT COURT WOULD HAVE TO HEAR THE CASE.

4. I ASKED RETAMAL IF HE SAW ANY REASON FOR ME NOT TO SEE HIS FELLOW JUSTICE JOSE EYZAGUIRRE WHO HAD HEADED THE SUPREME COURT PANEL THAT REJECTED THE EXTRADITION REQUEST ON APPEAL IN 1979. RETAMAL SAID NO AND SINCE

THE DECISION WAS PUBLIC HE THOUGHT I MIGHT GET SOME SENSE OF THE PERTINENT FACTORS FROM HIS COLLEAGUE, WHOM I WILL SEEK TO SEE NEXT WEEK.

5. COMMENT: THERE WERE ABOUT 35 REPORTERS AND CAMERAMEN WAITING FOR ME AFTERWARDS, BUT I LIMITED MYSELF TO SAYING AS THE CHIEF JUSTICE HAD REQUESTED, THAT THE ASPECT OF THE LETELIER CASE ON WHICH I HAD TOUCHED WAS THAT OF FILLING HIM ON THE STATE OF PLAY IN THE U.S.

SUBJECT: LETELIER CASE: CONTRERAS WILL NOT OPPOSE THE REOPENING OF PASSPORT FRAUD CASE, WILL LEND FULL COOPERATION IF REOPENED

1. (U) RETIRED ARMY GENERAL MANUEL CONTRERAS HAS NOTIFIED THE MILITARY HIGH TRIBUNAL (CORTE MARCIAL) THAT HE WAS PREPARED TO ACCEPT THE REOPENING OF THE "PASSPORT FRAUD" CASE. IN A LETTER TO THE COURT PUBLISHED IN THE SANTIAGO PRESS ON MARCH 6, CONTRERAS STATED THAT HE WOULD HAVE "NO OBJECTION" TO THE COURT ORDERING THE REOPENING OF THE CASE WHICH WAS SUSPENDED IN OCTOBER, 1985. THE LETTER EXPRESSED CONTRERAS' CONFIDENCE THAT HIS INNOCENCE WOULD ONCE MORE BE DEMONSTRATED. THE FINAL PARAGRAPH ASSURED THE COURT THAT "OBVIOUSLY, I WOULD GIVE MY FULL COOPERATION" IN ANY NEW INVESTIGATION IF THE CASE IS REOPENED.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

2. (C) WE HAVE NO HARD FACTS TO INDICATE WHY CONTRERAS HAS SUDDENLY DECIDED TO ASSIST THE CAUSE OF JUSTICE, BUT IT IS DIFFICULT TO BELIEVE THAT HE IS TRULY INTERESTED IN JUSTICE BEING SERVED, GIVEN THE FACTS OF THE CASE. THE TONE OF HIS LETTER WOULD INDICATE THAT CONTRERAS EXPECTS THE MILITARY TRIBUNAL TO OVERTURN THE 1985 DECISION TO SUSPEND THE COURT PROCESS. IT COULD BE THAT A DEAL IS BEING ARRANGED TO USE THE PASSPORT FRAUD CASE AS A VEHICLE TO HANDLE THE LETELIER CASE IN THE CHILEAN COURT SYSTEM, THUS AVOIDING EXTRADITION PROCEEDINGS AND THE AIRING OF DIRTY LAUNDRY IN A PUBLIC FORUM. SUCH A SCENARIO REQUIRES A SCAPEGOAT, OR SOMEONE WILLING TO TAKE THE HEAT, OR EVEN THE FALL. CONTRERAS WOULD SEEM THE MOST LIKELY CANDIDATE. PERSISTENT RUMORS HOLD THAT HE IS SUFFERING FROM CANCER WHICH WOULD MAKE THIS SCENARIO MORE PLAUSIBLE. PERHAPS NOT COINCIDENTALLY, PRESIDENT PINOCHET HAS IN RECENT DAYS HELD A SERIES OF MEETINGS WITH TOP-RANKING MILITARY OFFICERS.

3. (U) CUADRA WAS ASKED IF THE EXTRADITION OF GENERAL CONTRERAS AND OTHERS HAD BEEN DISCUSSED AT THE MEETING. HE REPLIED IN THE NEGATIVE, EXPLAINING THAT SUCH A DISCUSSION AT THIS TIME WOULD BE SPECULATIVE AND NOT IN KEEPING WITH THE GOC POLICY OF MOVING STEP BY STEP THROUGH THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM. ANY EVENT CAN HAVE POLITICAL IMPLICATIONS, HE SAID, BUT REITERATED THAT THI WAS A JUDICIAL MATTER AND THAT TO SPECULATE ON WHAT WAS TO COME WOULD NOT BE A PROPER COURSE OF ACTION. CUADRA WAS ASKED IF THE MATTER WAS HAVING AN EFFECT ON RELATIONS WITH THE UNITED STATES. HE REPLIED THAT U.S.-CHILEAN RELATIONS WERE ONLY DISCUSSED TANGENTIALLY DURING THE MEETING AND THAT A BRIEF MENTION WAS MADE THAT THE U.S. GOVERNMENT HAD OFFICIALLY ASSURED THE GOC THAT THE U.S. ALSO CONSIDERED THE "FERNANDEZ LARIOS CASE" A JUDICIAL MATTER.

4. (C) COMMENT: QUADRA'S STATEMENTS TO THE PRESS EMPHASIZED THAT THE CASE IS JUDICIAL RATHER THAN POLITICAL. HIS PASSING REFERENCE TO THE "PASSPORT FRAUD CASE" COULD INDICATE THAT THE GOC CONSIDERS A "CORRECT" DECISION BY THE SUPREME MILITARY TRIBUNAL TO BE A WAY OUT OF THE MORASS, PERHAPS

BY KEEPING THE MATTER WITHIN THE ARMY AND OUT OF CIVILIAN AND FOREIGN COURTS. IT IS WORTH NOTING THAT THE GOC NOW REFERS TO THIS AS THE FERNANDEZ LARIOS CASE RATHER THAN THE LETELIER CASE. FEDERICO WILLOUGHBY TOLD US MARCH 5 THAT THE PRESS HAD BEEN INSTRUCTED BY CUADRA TO USE THE SAME LABEL IN ALL ITS STORIES, IN ORDER TO FOCUS ON THE "DESERTOR," NOT ON THE CRIME. END COMMENT.

2. SUMMARY: USDEL MET WITH CONTACT GROUP ON MEXICAN RESOLUTION PER REFTEL A THIS A.M. FOR 90 MINUTES. USDEL MADE ABSOLUTELY CLEAR THAT FINAL INSTRUCTIONS ON USG VOTE ON CHILE RESOLUTION ARE STILL PENDING. USDEL SOUGHT AND ACHIEVED DESIRED MODIFICATIONS OF DRAFT DECISION DENIED AT RESTRUCTURING AGENDA TO ELIMINATE ITEM 5 CONSIDERATION OF CHILE IN NEXT YEAR'S AGENDA. USDEL SOUGHT FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS ON MEXICAN TEXT, ESPECIALLY ON ISSUE OF REFERENCE TO THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST CHILEAN PRESIDENT PINOCHET (REF B, NEW PREAMBULAR 12). IN THIS EFFORT, USDEL FAILED. A

TROUBLING NEW WORD HAS TENTATIVELY BEEN ADDED TO PREAMBULAR 12 (OUTLINED BELOW IN PARA 3). USDEL TOLD CONTACT GROUP THIS WAS NOT REPEAT NOT ACCEPTABLE AND WOULD FORCE U.S. TO INTRODUCE ITS OWN CHILE RESOLUTION AND VOTE AGAINST MEXICO RESOLUTION. AFTER PRIVATE CAUCUS OF CONTACT GROUP (WITHOUT USDEL), MEXICAN ASKED

USDEL TO CHECK WITH WASHINGTON ON THEIR REVISED TEXT AND SOUGHT AND ACHIEVED A DEADLINE EXTENSION FOR INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS TO 6:00 P.M. TODAY. NEED INSTRUCTIONS AT ONCE.

3. PER REFTEL A, USDEL MET WITH CONTACT GROUP ON CHILEAN ISSUE CHAIRED BY MEXICAN AMBASSADOR MONTANA. OTHERS IN ATTENDANCE INCLUDED REPRESENTATIVES FROM THE FOLLOWING DELEGATIONS: ALGERIA, AUSTRALIA, DENMARK, MEXICO, NETHERLANDS, NORWAY, SPAIN, AND YUGOSLAVIA.

4. AT THE OUTSET, USDEL EXPRESSED APPRECIATION FOR THE HARD WORK AND SPIRIT OF COMPROMISE BY ALL MEMBERS OF THE CONTACT GROUP, BUT FOUR ITEMS MUST BE ADDRESSED.

5. FIRST, USDEL MADE ABSOLUTELY CLEAR THAT THERE WERE NO FINAL INSTRUCTIONS ON USG VOTE ON CHILE RESOLUTION.

6. SECOND, USDEL SAID THAT THE LANGUAGE FOR THE DECISION RESOLUTION ON RESTRUCTURING THE AGENDA REMAINED INADEQUATE. USDEL PROPOSED INSERTION OF DEPT LANGUAGE "... TO DEAL WITH ALL RELEVANT ISSUES SYSTEMATICALLY AND UNIFORMLY." THERE WAS HEATED DISCUSSION ON THIS AS WELL AS FURTHER PROPOSED REVISIONS. FINALLY, USDEL AGREED TO A PACKAGE OF CHANGES WHEREBY THE RESOLUTION NOW READS AS FOLLOWS:

7. IT WAS USDEL'S OPINION THAT THIS REVISION SATISFIED DEPT CONCERNS AND THIS NEW LANGUAGE WAS ACCEPTED.

8. UPON ACCEPTANCE OF NEW LANGUAGE, USDEL AGAIN SAID

THAT THIS WAS ACCEPTABLE CONTINGENT ON THE CLEAR UNDERSTANDING THAT ALL DELEGATES IN THE CONTACT GROUP RECOGNIZED AND WILL ACTIVELY SUPPORT AN AGENDA RATIONALIZATION THAT WOULD INCLUDE, BUT NOT NECESSARILY BE LIMITED TO, ELIMINATION OF CHILE AS A SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM. ALL MEMBERS OF THE CONTACT GROUP INDICATED AGREEMENT WITH THIS FORMULATION AND UNDERSTANDING.
9. THIRD, USDEL SOUGHT IMPROVEMENTS IN MEXICAN/CONTACT GROUP TEXT PER REFTEL A INCLUDING IMPROVEMENTS ON PREAMBULAR 12 REGARDING LANGUAGE REFERRING TO THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST CHILEAN PRESIDENT PINOCHET.

10. A LONG ENERGETIC DISCUSSION ON PREAMBULAR 12 FOLLOWED. MEXICAN AMB. MONTANA SAID THAT FOLLOWING OUR

DELEGATIONS NOT MEMBERS OF THE CONTACT GROUP. HE SAID THAT THERE WAS STRONG AND REPEATED CONCERNS ABOUT THE REFERENCE TO THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT IN PREAMBULAR 12. HE SAID THAT HE WAS SURE THAT SOME DELEGATION WOULD ASK FOR A VOTE AND THAT OVER 20 DELEGATIONS WOULD VOTE TO ELIMINATE PREAMBULAR 12.

11. USDEL MADE CLEAR THAT SUCH A MOVE WOULD BE TOTALLY UNACCEPTABLE. USDEL WOULD VOTE AGAINST ELIMINATION OF PREAMBULAR 12 AND IF IT WERE ELIMINATED WOULD VOTE AGAINST THE ENTIRE RESOLUTION.

12. AFTER SUBSTANTIAL DISCUSSION, THE BELGIUM

REPRESENTATIVE PROPOSED A COMPROMISE WHEREBY PREAMBULAR 12 AS TENTATIVELY AGREED TO WOULD REMAIN IN THE RESOLUTION TEXT BUT THAT THE WORD "UNJUSTIFIABLY" WOULD BE INSERTED AFTER THE WORD SEIGE.

13. THE NEW TEXT FOR PREAMBULAR 12 WOULD READ AS FOLLOWS: "NOTING THE STILL UNRESOLVED MURDERS OF FOUR OPPOSITION FIGURES DURING THE STATE OF SEIGE, UNJUSTIFIABLY IMPOSED FOLLOWING THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST THE CHILEAN PRESIDENT IN SEPTEMBER 1986."

14. USDEL REACTED STRONGLY. USDEL MADE CLEAR THAT WE HAD ALREADY COMPROMISED BEYOND REASON ON THIS ISSUE, THAT WE STRONGLY FELT THE WORDING SHOULD BE CHANGED SO AS TO BE MORE BALANCED ALONG THE LINES OF REFTEL A, PARAGRAPHS 5 AND 6. USDEL SAID THIS WAS SIMPLY UNACCEPTABLE.

15. AFTER FURTHER ENERGETIC DISCUSSION, USDEL SAID THERE WERE TWO OPTIONS:

--(A) WE GO BACK TO THE CHILE RESOLUTION TEXT AS TENTATIVELY AGREED TO MARCH 5 (REFTEL B) AND THE DECISION RESOLUTION ON AGENDA RESTRUCTURING AS OUTLINED IN PARAGRAPH 6 ABOVE, AND THEN USDEL WOULD NOT REPEAT NOT INTRODUCE ITS OWN CHILE RSOLUTION. OR,
--(B) MEXICO COULD GO AHEAD AND INTRODUCE THEIR CHILE TEXT WITH THE WORDS "UNJUSTIFIED" INCLUDED IN PREAMBULAR 12 AND THEN USDEL WOULD INTRODUCE ITS OWN CHILE RESOLUTION AND USDEL WOULD PROBABLY CALL FOR A VOTE ON THE MEXICAN RESOLUTION ON CHILE AND THE USDEL WOULD PROBABLY VOTE AGAINST IT.

16. USDEL THEN SAID THERE WAS NO MORE FOR US TO DISCUSS, AND SINCE IT WAS ONLY 30 MINUTES BEFORE THE DEADLINE TO FILE RSOLUTIONS WITH THE SECRETARIAT, THAT THE CONTACT GROUP MIGHT WISH TO CAUCUS WITHOUT USDEL PRESENT.

17. AT APPROXIMATELY 7:00 P.M., MEXICAN AMB. MONTANA APPROACHED USDEL. HE SAID AFTER MEETING, THE FOLLOWING COUNTRIES INTENDED TO CO-SPONSOR THE CHILE RESOLUTION THAT INCLUDED THE WORD "UNFORTUNATE" IN PREAMBULAR 12: ALGERIA, AUSTRALIA, DENMARK, MEXICO, NETHERLANDS, NORWAY, SPAIN AND YUGOSLAVIA. UNDECIDED AND CHECKING WAS AUSTRIA. AND NOT ABLE TO CO-SPONSOR IF THERE WERE TWO TEXTS INTRODUCED INCLUDED FRANCE AND ITALY.

18. MEXICAN AMB. MONTANA THEN TOLD USDEL THAT THEY STRONGLY DID NOT WANT TWO TEXTS INTRODUCED. WOULD WE PLEASE CHECK WITH WASHINGTON IF HE COULD GET A DEADLINE EXTENSION TO 6:00 P.M. OF THE CUT-OFF FOR INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS. USDEL AGREED. AN EXTENSION WAS AGREED TO BY THE COMMISSION.

19. ON THE WAY OUT OF THE UN CENTER TO RETURN TO THE MISSION, USDEL WAS APPROACHED BY THE BELGIUM REPRESENTATIVE TO THE CONTACT GROUP. HE SAID THAT IF USDEL COULD INDICATE A "YES" VOTE FOR MEXICAN TEXT IF IT WERE CALLED FOR A VOTE (WHILE CONTINUING TO VOTE "NO" TO ANY PROPOSED CHANGE IN PREAMBULAR 12), PERHAPS THE WORD "UNJUSTIFIABLY" COULD BE DROPPED. BUT THAT OTHER MEMBERS OF THE CONTACT GROUP ALL FELT USDEL MEANT, THOUGH NOT SAYING IT, THAT USDEL WOULD VOTE NO ON ENTIRE TEXT IF IT CAME TO A VOTE EVEN IF EFFORTS TO PUT THE WORD "UNFORTUNATE" INTO PREAMBULAR 12 WERE UNSUCCESSFUL. IN OTHER WORDS, REPEATED STATEMENTS BY USDEL THAT THERE WERE NO FINAL INSTRUCTIONS ON USG VOTE ON CHILE RESOLUTION HAD BEEN ASSUMED BY CONTACT GROUP TO ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

SUBJECT: 43RD UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION: FURTHER INSTRUCTIONS ON CHILE

REF: A) GENEVA 2582; B) MARCH 5 GENERO-WILLIAMSON TELCON

1. (SUMMARY): DEPARTMENT AGREES THAT FURTHER MAJOR CHANGES IN MEXICAN TEXT ON CHILE ARE UNLIKELY, BUT WOULD LIKE USDEL TO CONTINUE TO TRY FOR IMPROVEMENTS. WE ARE ALSO PURSUING THIS SEPARATELY THROUGH EMBASSY MEXICO. TACTICAL DECISION ON WHETHER OR NOT TO TABLE US DRAFT RESOLUTION AS PART OF NEGOTIATING EFFORT IS LEFT TO ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

DISCRETION OF DELEGATION NEGOTIATORS. FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS IN MEXICAN TEXT SOUGHT BY DEPARTMENT ARE LISTED BELOW IN PARAGRAPH 5. GUIDANCE FOR FRIDAY, MARCH 6 WEOG DISCUSSION, AND TALKS WITH CONTACT GROUP, ON SEPARATE RESOLUTION TO BE INTRODUCED UNDER AGENDA ITEM 24 ARE OUTLINED BELOW IN PARAPGRAPH 2. USDEL SHOULD MAKE IT

CLEAR IN ALL NEGOTIATIONS THAT FINAL INSTRUCTIONS ON USG VOTE ON CHILE RESOLUTION ARE STILL PENDING. (END SUMMARY)

2. US DEL IS INSTRUCTED TO SEEK FURTHER MODIFICATION OF DRAFT RESOLUTION RESTRUCTURING UNHRC AGENDA TO ELIMINATE ITEM 5 CONSIDERATION OF CHILE (REF A, PARAPGRAPH 4, LAST TIC). DEPARTMENT IS INTERESTED IN GETTING SOME LANGUAGE IN RESOLUTION WHICH COULD LATER BE INTERPRETED AS CALLING FOR ELIMINATION OF SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM FOR CHILE. DEPARTMENT SUGGESTS THE FOLLOWING: INSERT "...TO DEAL WITH ALL RELEVANT ISSUES SYSTEMATICALLY AND UNIFORMLY" AFTER THE WORD "MATTER." RESOLUTION WOULD THEN READ, "REQUESTS THE SECRETARY GENERAL TO PROPOSE TO THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS AT ITS FORTY-FOURTH SESSION A PROVISIONAL AGENDA BASED ON THE EXISTING WORK PROGRAM OF THE COMMISSION, BEARING IN MIND THE NEED TO RATIONALIZE THIS SUBJECT MATTER TO DEAL WITH ALL RELEVANT ISSUES SYSTEMATICALLY AND UNIFORMLY AND TO ENABLE THE COMMISSION TO CONCENTRATE ITS ATTENTION EQUITABLY ON ALL SUBJECTS BEFORE IT IN AN EFFORT TO REDUCE DUPLICATION OF DEBATE AND TO MAXIMIZE THE EFFICIENCY TO MATERIAL RESOURCES THUS USED UP."

3. IN ADDITION, DEPARTMENT CONCURS WITH WILLIAMSON SUGGESTION MADE(REF B), THAT HE FOLLOW THIS UP WITH A PERSONAL LETTER TO EACH MEMBER OF THE CONTACT GROUP
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

AFFIRMING THIS RESOLUTION MEANS ELIMINATION OF THE SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM FOR CHILE. FYI ONLY: DEPARTMENT IS INTERESTED IN AMBASSADOR WILLIAMSON'S OPINION AS TO WHETHER OR NOT "DEAL" ON REMOVAL OF ITEM 5 HOLDS IF THE USG WERE TO ABSTAIN ON THE RESOLUTION.

4. DEPARTMENT WOULD LIKE TO SEE FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS IN MEXICAN TEXT ON CHILE. DEPARTMENT LEAVES THE TACTICAL QUESTION OF WHETHER OR NOT TO TABLE USG RESOLUTION TO DISCRETION OF DELEGATION. IF THIS WOULD HELP TO PROLONG NEGOTIATIONS AND WOULD NOT HARM THE AGREEMENTS ALREADY REACHED, DELEGATION SHOULD TABLE USG RESOLUTION. IF TABLING WOULD NEGATE IMPROVEMENTS REACHED THUS FAR, AND FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS IN THE TEXT CAN BE MADE WITHO T TABLING, DELEGATION SHOULD NOT TABLE USG RESOLUTION. IN THE LATER INSTANCE, DELEGATION SHOULD HOLD OPEN QUESTION OF HOW USG WILL VOTE ON MEXICAN RESOLUTION AS A WHOLE IN ORDER TO SECURE FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS IN TEXT.

5. DEPARTMENT CONCURS WITH CHANGES IN MEXICAN TEXT DISCUSSED IN GENERO-WILLIAMSON TELCON (REF. B). USDEL IS INSTRUCTED TO SEEK FURTHER CHANGE IN TEXT OF MEXICAN-RESOLUTION: RESOLUTION SHOULD GO BACK TO ORIGINAL U.S. FORMULATION OF LANGUAGE REFERRING TO ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST CHILEAN PRESIDENT PINOCHET (REF, A, NEW PREAMBULAR 12). DEPARTMENT WANTS SENTENCE TRANSPOSED

BACK TO ITS ORIGINAL FORMULATION OF, "NOTING THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT LAST FALL AGAINST THE CHILEAN PRESIDENT AND THE STILL UNSOLVED MURDERS OF FOUR OPPOSITION FIGURES DURING THE ENSUING STATE OF SIEGE."

6. USDEL MAY WISH TO DRAW UPON FOLLOWING TALKING POINTS IN SUPPORT OF THIS CHANGE:

-- WE BELIEVE IT IMPORTANT TO HAVE A FORMULATION FOR

PREAMBULAR PARA. 12 WHICH DRAWS ATTENTION TO THE ATTEMPT ON PINOCHET'S LIFE. IN ORDER FOR INTERNATIONAL RESOLUTIONS TO HAVE IMPACT, THEY NEED TO ADDRESS THE REALITY OF THE SITUATION. CLEARLY, THE ATTEMPT ON THE CHILEAN PRESIDENT'S LIFE WAS A MAJOR INCIDENT LAST YEAR. FAILURE TO INCLUDE IT PROMINENTLY WILL UNDERCUT THE RESOLUTION AND MAKE IT LESS LIKELY THAT IT WILL HAVE POSITIVE IMPACT BY MAKING IT APPEAR THAT THE RESOLUTION IS UNBALANCED AND, THEREFORE, NOT WORTHY OF RESPONSE. Text of US Resolution
Question of Human Rights in Chile

The Commission on Human Rights

Aware of its responsibility to promote and encourage respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms and resolved to remain vigilant with regard to violations of human rights wherever they occur;

Noting the obligation of the Government of Chile to respect and protect human rights in accordance with the international instruments to which Chile is a party, an obligation which is not different from that of any other government which is a party to international human rights instruments;

Recalling its successive resolutions on the situation of human rights in Chile and in particular its resolution 11 [XXXV] of 6 March 1979, by which it appointed a Special Rapporteur on the situation of those rights, and its resolution of 1986/63 of 14 March 1986, in which it agreed most recently to extend for a year the mandate of the Special Rapporteur, and, in view of the violations of human rights in Chile, to give high priority to the study of this issue;

Also recalling General Assembly resolution 41/161 of 4 December 1986, in which the Assembly invited the Commission on Human Rights to consider the report of the Special Rapporteur, and to take the most appropriate steps for the improvement of human rights and the effective restoration of fundamental freedoms in that country, including the maintenance of the Special Rapporteur;

Considering that the Special Rapporteur submitted to the forty-first session of the General Assembly a preliminary report on the situation of human rights in Chile and has delivered to the Commission on Human Rights in its 43rd session another report, which indicate the persistence of violations of human rights in that country;

Having examined the Special Rapporteur's reports:

SUBJECT: TORTURE CHARGES BY DETAINEES IN ARMS DISCOVERIES AND ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT

REF: (A) SCHIFTER/JONES TELCON 3/5/87

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: TORTURE CHARGES RELATING TO THOSE DETAINED IN THE ARMS DISCOVERIES AND THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT SURFACED FROM THE VERY BEGINNING OF THESE DETENTIONS. THEY ARE BEING INVESTIGATED BY THE CIVILIAN COURTS, WITH SOME PROOF THAT A FEW OF THE DETAINEES WERE AT LEAST PHYSICALLY MISTREATED. WE CANNOT CONFIRM OR DENY THESE STORIES, BUT NOTE THAT THEY ARE COMMONLY HELD TO BE TRUE BY THE POLITICAL OPPOSITION. END SUMMARY.

3. CHARGES OF TORTURE ARE COMMONLY HEARD IN CHILE, AND THE DETENTION A NUMBER OF PEOPLE FOR INVOLVEMENT IN THE ARMS DISCOVERIES AND THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST PINOCHET HAS STIRRED UP THESE STORIES ONCE AGAIN. THERE ARE

SOMEWHERE BETWEEN 25 AND 30 PEOPLE BEING DETAINED FOR THE ARMS DISCOVERIES, AND APPROXIMATELY 15 TO 20 FOR THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT. THE EXACT NUMBER IS NOT CLEAR AS PEOPLE HAVE BEEN DETAINED, RELEASED, AND SOMETIMES DETAINED AGAIN. THE COMMON CHARGE IS THAT THESE DETAINEES HAVE BEEN SUBJECTED TO BEATINGS, ELECTRICAL SHOCK, RAPE, SUBMERSION IN WATER, VIOLATION BY ANIMALS, PSYCHOLOGICAL TORTURE, AND OTHER METHODS OF INTIMIDATION AND PHYSICAL VIOLENCE. IN SOME INSTANCES THE VICTIMS HAVE MADE FORMAL STATEMENTS TO THE COURTS ON THIS, SUCH AS THE CASE REPORTED IN SANTIAGO 576. IN TWO INSTANCES DOCTORS FROM THE OFFICIAL LEGAL MEDICAL INSTITUTE REPORTED TO THE GOVERNMENT THE RESULTS OF MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS IN WHICH THEY FOUND SIGNS OF DETAINEES BEING MISTREATED (SANTIAGO 469). BASED ON THIS INFORMATION, WE BELIEVE THAT SOME DETAINEES HAVE MOST LIKELY BEEN PHYSICALLY AND PSYCHOLOGICALLY MISTREATED, BUT WE CANNOT CONFIRM THE SPECIFICS AS TO HOW THIS WAS DONE.

4. A MAJOR PROBLEM IS DISCUSSING THE TREATMENT OF THESE DETAINEES IS THE EXTREMELY LONG PERIODS OF TIME THEY ARE HELD INCOMMUNICADO BY THE MILITARY PROSECUTOR.

WHEN A CIVILIAN COURT HAS JURISDICTION, CHARGES OF TORTURE DO NOT GENERALLY

APPEAR AS THE DETAINEES ARE SELDOM AGAIN HELD INCOMMUNICADO. THE MILITARY COURTS, HOWEVER, MAKE LIBERAL USE OF THIS PRACTICE, AND IT IS DURING THESE PERIODS OF PROLONGED INCOMMUNICATION THAT THE ACTS OF TORTURE ARE SAID TO OCCUR. THIS "LAPSE" HAS BEEN NOTED TO THE GOC, BUT WE ARE AWARE OF NO EFFORTS BEING MADE TO CLOSE THIS GAP.

5. THE GOC CHARGES THAT ALLEGATIONS OF TORTURE ARE PART OF A COMMUNIST CAMPAIGN TO DISCREDIT THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT. THIS CHARGE IS GIVEN SOME CREDIBILITY BY THE SIMILARITY OF THE TORTURE STORIES, AND BY INTERNATIONAL PUBLICITY GIVEN TO STORIES PROVIDED BY EXTREME LEFT GROUPS SUCH AS THE MANUEL RODRIGUEZ PATRIOTIC FRONT. INFORMATION ON SPECIFIC TORTURE PRACTICES AND ON HOW THE DETAINEES HAVE BEEN TREATED IS PROVIDED BY THE DETAINEES, EITHER IN PERSONAL INTERVIEWS

WITH THE PRESS, OR THROUGH THEIR LAWYERS, FAMILIES AND FRIENDS. EXCEPT FOR WHEN THEY ARE HELD INCOMMUNICADO, WHICH COMES AND GOES AS THE MILITARY PROSECUTOR DICTATES, THE DETAINEES HAVE THE RIGHT TO REGULAR VISITS BY ANYONE WISHING TO SEE THEM, AS WELL AS THE ICRC. DURING THESE VISITS THEY CAN GIVE WHATEVER INFORMATION THEY MIGHT WISH TO THEIR VISITORS, INCLUDING INTERVIEWS OR STATEMENTS FOR TRANSMISSION TO OTHERS.

SUBJECT: TORTURE CHARGES BY DETAINEES IN ARMS

6. CHARGES OF TORTURE CAN BE, AND ARE INVESTIGATED IN CHILE, NOT TO THE EXTENT WHICH WE MIGHT THINK NECESSARY, BUT AT LEAST THEY ARE NOT COMPLETELY COVERED UP. AT PRESENT A PUBLIC PROSECUTOR FROM THE SANTIAGO COURT OF APPEALS IS INVESTIGATING THE CHARGES OF TORTURE MADE BY THESE DETAINEES, AT THE ORDER OF A SUPREME COURT JUDGE. THIS FOLLOWED PETITIONS BY LAWYERS OF THE DETAINEES AND THE DENUNCIATION MADE IN JANUARY BY A PUBLIC PROSECUTOR THAT SHE HAD PERSONALLY FOUND SOME DETAINEES WITH SIGNS OF TORTURE. THIS INVESTIGATION IS BEING GIVEN PRESS COVERAGE, AND INVOLVES 25 OF THOSE DETAINED IN THE ARMS DISCOVERIES AND 19 OF THOSE INVOLVED IN THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT. WHERE THIS INVESTIGATION WILL COME OUT IS NOT CLEAR, BUT THE PUBLICITY ALONE MAY LEAD TO IMPROVEMENTS IN THE TREATMENT OF THE DETAINEES.

7. WE NOTE THAT ONE COMMON STORY HAS BEEN THAT ANIMALS HAVE BEEN USED IN VARIOUS WAYS TO INTIMIDATE THE DETAINEES. STORIES ON THE USE OF ANIMALS IS ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NOT NEW, AS MANY VICTIMS OF TORTURE IN THE 1973-75 ERA REPORTED ON HOW THEY WERE ASSAULTED BY ANIMALS DURING INTERROGATION SESSIONS. WHETHER THESE STORIES ARE TRUE OR NOT WE CANNOT SAY, BUT WE ARE FAIRLY CERTAIN THAT THE CNI, FOR EXAMPLE, IS PERHAPS PROPAGATING SUCH STORIES AS PART OF ITS OWN EFFORTS TO INSTILL A CERTAIN DEGREE OF TERROR IN THOSE IT DETAINS, OR MIGHT DETAIN. WE HAVE REPORTED BY SEPTEL THE TREATMENT OF A YOUNG GIRL, CLAUDIO DRAGO CAMUS, WHO WAS DETAINED FOR 3 DAYS LAST WEEK BY THE CNI. ACCORDING TO HER, SHE WAS THREATENED, WHILE BLINDFOLDED, BY HER INTERROGATORS WITH VIOLATION BY A DOG. WHILE NO SUCH ATTACK ACTUALLY TOOK PLACE, SHE WAS SPECIFICALLY TOLD THAT IT WAS GOING TO HAPPEN. THE CNI MADE NO EFFORT LATER TO KEEP THE GIRL FROM TELLING HER STORY, ALTHOUGH THE PRESS DID NOT REPORT IT, WHICH COULD INDICATE THAT THE CNI DOES NOT CARE IF SUCH STORIES ARE SPREAD VERBALLY OR IN THE OPPOSITION NEWS MAGAZINES, AS SUCH STORIES HELP TERRORISE THOSE WHO MIGHT FEAR BEING DETAINED BY THE AUTHORITIES. AT THE SAME TIME, SUCH STORIES CAN BE DENIED BY THE GOVERNMENT AS COMMUNIST PROPAGANDA TACTICS.

8. IN SUM, WE HAVE HEARD THE STORIES OF HOW THE DETAINEES HAVE BEEN TORTURED AND MISTREATED. WE BELIEVE THAT SUCH STORIES HAVE A BASIS IN FACT, AS WITNESS BY THE MEDICAL EXAMS GIVEN BY DOCTORS TIED TO THE GOVERNMENT AND THE CHARGE MADE BY THE PUBLIC PROSECUTOR.

THEREFORE, WE

CANNOT CONFIRM THAT THE USE OF TORTURE AGAINST THOSE DETAINED IN THE ARMS DISCOVERIES AND THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT IS TRUE. NOR CAN WE CONFIRM THE SPECIFICS AS TO HOW THEY MIGHT HAVE BEEN TORTURED. THE IMPORTANT THING, PERHAPS, IS THAT FOR THOSE IN THE POLITICAL OPPOSITION SUCH STORIES ARE GENERALLY ACCEPTED AS FACT, AND THEY, IN TURN, HELP SPREAD THE STORIES ON A WORLD-WIDE BASIS.

EXCISE

Dear Senator Boschwitz:

We have received your letter of February 23, 1987 concerning the human rights situation in Chile. Your letter was on behalf of your constituent [redacted] a member of Amnesty International.

The US has a clear and strong policy toward Chile of encouraging a peaceful democratic transition and increased respect for human rights in that nation. All of our actions are directed toward these goals. The recommendations made by Amnesty International are congruent in many ways with those made by the US in both public and private comments about human rights in Chile. It may be that we differ from time to time on individual decisions taken to advance these objectives. This should not overshadow, however, the fact that we are in full agreement on the fundamentals. Our latest human rights report (enclosed) addresses Mr. Bialek's concerns in some depth.

As you know, there are many human rights problems in Chile. We are working to encourage progress across the board. Recent months have seen encouraging efforts by the Chilean government to address some longstanding problems, such as political exile. Since December the government has reduced the list of those Chileans banned from returning to their country from 3,500 to less than 2,000. Government security forces have recently agreed with the International Committee of the Red Cross to allow visits by independent ICRC doctors to most prisoners. This could help provide a means for addressing the serious problem of torture.

Other steps have been taken, such as authorizing publication of an opposition newspaper, to begin shortly. On the transition to democracy, the government has begun to reestablish voter registries and has published the text of a law to go into effect early this year which would permit political parties to gain legal recognition. While Chile's 1980 constitution calls for a single-candidate presidential plebiscite in 1989, rather than free elections, these measures will help ensure broad discussion of prospects for amending that constitution to permit free elections in 1989, as most opposition groups and many government supporters have advocated. The relaxation of constraints on press freedom has allowed an open discussion within Chile of the issues raised by Major Fernandez' decision to cooperate with U.S. law enforcement officials in the Letelier/Moffitt case, including publication of Major Fernandez' complete proffer of evidence.

The Honorable
Rudy Boschwitz,
United States Senate.

We do not wish to exaggerate the relative impact of these changes on the overall human rights situation in Chile, or on prospects for a successful democratic transition. Serious problems have continued, such as torture by security forces and violent activities of right-wing groups that may have direct links to government security agencies. There has not, however, been any retreat from our vocal support for democracy and human rights in Chile. Along these lines, the Administration has proposed a resolution on Chile this year in the United Nations Human Rights Commission, just as we did last March in Geneva. We hope that once again we can win consensus for passage of a balanced and objective resolution. This may not be easy, given the posturing that characterizes the actions of many other countries in treating human rights issues in international fora. But we hope that we will be successful, and will in any event continue to strive to implement a clear, consistent and effective policy toward Chile.

If we can be of any further assistance to your office in this matter please do not hesitate to contact us.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

J. Edward Fox
Assistant Secretary
Legislative and Intergovernmental Affairs

SUBJ: VOLIO DISCUSSES PRELIMINARY PLANS FOR MARCH 21-30 TRIP

1. THE MARCH 5 EDITION OF SANTIAGO DAILY "EL MERCURIO" RAN AN ARTICLE ON SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FERNANDO VOLIO'S TRAVEL PLANS IN CHILE WHICH THE NEWSPAPER HAD OBTAINED BY TELEPHONE FROM VOLIO IN GENEVA. VOLIO CONFIRMED THAT HE WOULD ARRIVE ON MARCH 21 WITH DEPARTURE ON MARCH 30 WITH PROJECTED VISITS TO FOUR UNNAMED CITIES OUTSIDE OF SANTIAGO. TYPICALLY, HE SAID, HE WOULD CALL ON GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AND OTHER AUTHORITIES DURING THE MORNING HOURS, HOLDING HIS AFTERNOONS OPEN FOR THE GENERAL PUBLIC. THESE ENCOUNTERS WILL TAKE PLACE AT ECLAC, WHERE ARRANGEMENTS HAVE BEEN MADE FOR OFFICE SPACE.

2. VOLIO TOLD "EL MERCURIO" THAT HE WOULD MEET WITH THE PRESIDENT OF THE SUPREME COURT AND WITH RELEVANT SPECIAL INVESTIGATING JUDGES AND MILITARY PROSECUTORS IN ORDER TO FURTHER ACQUAINT HIMSELF WITH THE CHILEAN JUDICIAL

SYSTEM. HE MENTIONED THAT SEVERAL UNIVERSITY RECTORS HAD ASKED TO MEET WITH HIM AND HE HAD AGREED SINCE HE PLANNED TO MEET WITH STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS. WHILE EMPHASIZING THAT HIS WORK COVERED A VAST AREA AND THAT HE HAD LIMITED TIME AND RESOURCES, HE NOTED THAT CERTAIN POINTS REQUIRED MORE ATTENTION THAN OTHERS. HE MENTIONED THE OPERATION

OF "PRIVATE GROUPS" (READ VIGILANTE ORGANIZATIONS) THAT SERVE AS "BARRIERS BETWEEN DIVERSE SECTORS OF SOCIETY". HE ADDED THAT HE WOULD ALSO BE LOOKING INTO TERRORISM AND ITS REPERCUSSIONS. "I WANT TO KNOW" HE SAID "ABOUT THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE NEW ELECTORAL LAWS, THE PROBLEMS OF THE 'DISAPPEARED', AS WELL AS THE PRESENCE OF LIBERTIES THAT ARE ESSENTIAL FOR ELECTORAL FREEDOM."

3. VOLIO WAS ASKED IF HE HAD DETECTED ANY IMPROVEMENTS DURING THE PAST YEAR. HE ANSWERED IN THE AFFIRMATIVE AN SAID THAT THE POSITIVE STEPS HAD BEEN DULY NOTED IN HIS REPORT. HE ADDED THAT THERE WAS STILL A GREAT DEAL TO ACCOMPLISH IN CHILE, OPINING THAT ONGOING HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES CREATE TENSIONS THAT COULD IMPEDE A PEACEFUL TRANSITION PROCESS. BARNES

Dear Senator Thurmond:

We have received your letter of February 25, 1987 concerning the November UN General Assembly vote on a human rights resolution concerning Chile. Your letter was on behalf of your constituent [redacted].

In viewing our vote against the Chile resolution in the UN General Assembly last fall, it is important to recognize that the United States does not vote for resolutions unless we consider them sound. We considered the Chile resolution adopted by the General Assembly to be seriously flawed in not reflecting accurately the constructive work of the UN Special Rapporteur, former Costa Rican Foreign Minister Fernando Volio.

This was apparent in many ways. In particular, Volio, like the majority of the Chilean democratic opposition, had acknowledged that the assassination attempt against General Pinochet last September and the discovery of communist arsenals helped to impede the return of democracy in Chile. We felt it was important that a resolution on Chile recognize the negative impact of terrorism, while providing the government no excuse for human rights abuses. We did not inflate the impact of Chile's cooperation with the UN Special Rapporteur or exaggerate the importance of limited government actions to address human rights problems, many of which were taken (such as removal of the state of siege) only after the vote.

As you know, there are many human rights problems in Chile. We are working to encourage progress across the board. Recent months have seen encouraging efforts by the Chilean government to address some longstanding problems, such as political exile. Since December the government has reduced the list of those Chileans banned from returning to their country from 3,500 to less than 2,000. Government security forces have recently agreed with the International Committee of the Red Cross to allow visits by independent ICRC doctors to most prisoners. This could help provide a means for addressing the serious problem of torture.

The Honorable
Strom Thurmond,
United States Senate.

Other steps have been taken, such as authorizing publication of an opposition newspaper, to begin shortly. On the transition to democracy, the government has begun to reestablish voter registries and has published the text of a law to go into effect early this year which would permit political parties to gain legal recognition. While Chile's 1980 constitution calls for a single-candidate presidential plebiscite in 1989, rather than free elections, these measures will help ensure broad discussion of prospects for amending that constitution to permit free elections in 1989, as most opposition groups and many government supporters have advocated. The relaxation of constraints on press freedom has allowed an open discussion within Chile of the issues raised by Major Fernandez' decision to cooperate with U.S. law enforcement officials in the Letelier/Moffitt case, including publication of Major Fernandez' complete proffer of evidence.

We do not wish to exaggerate the relative impact of these changes on the overall human rights situation in Chile, or on prospects for a successful democratic transition. Serious problems have continued, such as torture by security forces and violent activities of right-wing groups that may have direct links to government security agencies. There has not, however, been any retreat from our vocal support for democracy and human rights in Chile. Along these lines, the Administration has proposed a resolution on Chile this year in the United Nations Human Rights Commission, just as we did last March in Geneva. We hope that once again we can win consensus for passage of a balanced and objective resolution. This may not be easy, given the posturing that characterizes the actions of many other countries in treating human rights issues in international fora. But we hope that we will be successful, and will in any event continue to strive to implement a clear, consistent and effective policy toward Chile.

If we can be of any further assistance to your office in this matter please do not hesitate to contact us.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

J. Edward Fox
Assistant Secretary

Subject: Chile Resolution Negotiations

Velasco called this morning to say he had been in touch with Jaime Castillo and Maximo Pacheco over the weekend and that they agreed the Chile Resolution draft should include a reference to the attempt on Pinochet's life, as well as murders of Chileans, of course. Castillo and Pacheco said Taborga has been sent clear instructions.

Martin Poblete called from New York to say more or less the same. However, Martin added that the democratic Opposition could not accept shifting Chile from item 5 to 12. Poblete said he understands full well that such action would not prevent discussion of Chile in the future, but he argued that item 5 has come to have such symbolic importance that no democratic leader in Santiago could agree to the shift. Martin expressed distrust of Taborga, as usual.

HE SAID THAT IT IS THE USG VIEW THAT THIS GOAL WILL BE BEST ACHIEVED BY A RESOLUTION THAT IS BALANCED, CREDIBLE, REAISTIC. TO HAVE EFFECT, IT MUST NOT REPEAT NOT BE

EXTREME. HE SAID THE USG AS GONE A LONG WAY IN WORKING FOR ACCEPTABLE COMPROMISE. FROM THE OUTSET, USDEL HAS MADE CLEAR IT NEEDS (1) ELIMINATION OF A SEPERATE ITEM 5, (2) AN ACCURATE REFERENCE TO THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST THE CHILEAN PRESIDENT, (3) MENTION OF THE POSITIVE DEVELOPMENTS FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE, AND (4) MENTION OF TERRORISM IN CHILE.

5. WILLIAMSON SAID THAT AS A RESULT OF THE HARD WORK OF MANY COLLEAGUES THERE WAS COMPROMISE AND POINTS (3) AND (4) HAVE BEEN ADDRESSED; THOUGH NOT IN AS STRAIGHT FORWARD A MANNER AS USDEL WOULD HAVE LIKED. NONETHELESS, THERE WAS TENTATIVE RESOLUTION OF USG CONCERNS. HOWEVER, POINTS (1) AND (2) REMAIN MAJOR PROBLEMS.

6. WILLIAMSON REITERATED USG COMMITMENT TO ELIMINATION OF SEPARATE ITEM 5 AS DISCRIMINATORY AND AN ACCURATE AND BALANCED REFERENCE TO THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT ON THE CHILEAN PRESIDENT (REFTEL A). WILLIAMSON SAID THAT THESE ISSUES HAVE NOT REPEAT NOT BEEN ADDRESSED SATISFACTORILY IN THE MEXICAN TEXT.

2. THIS IS HRC - 324.

3. AMBASSADOR WALLACH HAD LUNCH WITH AMBASSADOR JORGE MONTANO (MEXICO) ON MARCH 6. IT WAS AN OPEN, REMARKABLY CANDID EXCHANGE ON MONTANO'S PART. HE CONCEDED THAT THE COMMISSION HAD BEEN CHANGED PERMANENTLY BY THE U.S. APPROACH. IT WOULD NO LONGER BE A PLACE FOR "TECHNICIANS" (HIS WORD) BUT FOR ADVOCATES. HE DID NOT KNOW IF IT WAS FOR THE BEST, BUT MIGHT WELL BE.

4. CHILE: HE WAS PLEASED WITH U.S. EFFORT AND OPTIMISTIC ABOUT ULTIMATE CONSENSUS RESULT. AMBASSADOR WALLACH EXPLAINED REMAINING PROBLEMS, ESPECIALLY WITH "UNJUST" LANGUAGE. THIS CONVERSATION TOOK PLACE BEFORE AMBASSADOR WALLACH'S TELEPHONE CONVERSATION WITH DAS LAURA GENERO. MONTANO EXPRESSED SATISFACTION WITH HIS ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

CONTACT WITH AMBASSADOR WILLIAMSON, DESCRIBING HIM AS CANDID AND AS AN EXPERT NEGOTIATOR.

5. CUBA: WHILE IT SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE TO EXPECT, AMBASSADOR WALLACH UNDERTOOK TO PERSUADE MONTANO THAT MEXICO SHOULD ABSTAIN ON PROCEDURAL VOTE IN ITS OWN INTERESTS. CITING HIS OWN BACKGROUND IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA WITH WIDE CONTACTS IN THE HISPANIC AND MEXICAN COMMUNITIES, AMBASSADOR WALLACH DISCUSSED THE STRAINS BETWEEN THE U.S. AND MEXICO. MONTANO EXPRESSED ACKNOWLEDGEMENT AND REGRET THAT THEY EXISTED, WHILE DEFENDING MEXICO'S POSITION. BECAUSE AMBASSADOR WALLACH IS GENERALLY FAMILIAR WITH U.S. - MEXICO JUSTICE DEPARTMENT CONTACTS REGARDING NARCOTIC AND IMMIGRATION SUBJECTS, IN WHICH HE IS INVOLVED, THEY HAD A BASIS TO CITE AN AREA OF VERY CONSTRUCTIVE WORK BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES. AMBASSADOR WALLACH URGED MONTANO TO DISCUSS ABSTENTION WITH A VIEW TOWARD A MAJOR GESTURE OF COOPERATION BETWEEN THEIR TWO NATIONS, AT NO EXPENSE TO MEXICO, WHICH WOULD STILL VOTE FOR CUBA ON THE MERITS. AMBASSADOR WALLACH EMPHASIZED THAT CUBA NEEDS MEXICO MUCH MORE THAN THE OTHER WAY AROUND. MONTANO LISTENED CAREFULLY, MADE NO SPECIFIC COMMENT, AND INDICATED HE WOULD REPORT OUR REQUEST TO MEXICO CITY.

6. COMMENT: ON THE BASIS OF AMBASSADOR WALLACH'S CONTACT WITH MONTANO AND OBSERVATION OF HIS CONDUCT AT THIS YEAR'S SESSION OF HRC, IT IS APPARENT THAT MONTANO HAS GENERALLY STAYED OUT OF CUBA - U.S. FRAY. HIS MANNER, AS AMBASSADOR WALLACH HAS INDICATED EARLIER, IS LESS HOSTILE. AMBASSADOR WALLACH EXPECTS NOTHING FROM HIM ON CUBA, BUT BELIEVES EVERY GESTURE WHICH COSTS US NOTHING IS WORTHWHILE. FLACK

EXCISE MARCH 9 - 1987

Dear Senator Boschwitz:

We have received your letter of February 23, 1987 concerning the human rights situation in Chile. Your letter was on behalf of your constituent [redacted].

The US has a clear and strong policy toward Chile of encouraging a peaceful democratic transition and increased respect for human rights in that nation. All of our actions are directed toward these goals. The recommendations made by Amnesty International are congruent in many ways with those made by the US in both public and private comments about human rights in Chile. It may be that we differ from time to time on individual decisions taken to advance these objectives. This should not overshadow, however, the fact that we are in full agreement on the fundamentals. Our latest human rights report (enclosed) addresses [redacted] concerns in some depth.

As you know, there are many human rights problems in Chile. We are working to encourage progress across the board. Recent months have seen encouraging efforts by the Chilean government to address some longstanding problems, such as political exile. Since December the government has reduced the list of those Chileans banned from returning to their country from 3,500 to less than 2,000. Government security forces have recently agreed with the International Committee of the Red Cross to allow visits by independent ICRC doctors to most prisoners. This could help provide a means for addressing the serious problem of torture.

Other steps have been taken, such as authorizing publication of an opposition newspaper, to begin shortly. On the transition to democracy, the government has begun to reestablish voter registries and has published the text of a law to go into effect early this year which would permit political parties to gain legal recognition. While Chile's 1980 constitution calls for a single-candidate presidential plebiscite in 1989, rather than free elections, these measures will help ensure broad discussion of prospects for amending that constitution to permit free elections in 1989, as most opposition groups and many government supporters have advocated. The relaxation of constraints on press freedom has allowed an open discussion within Chile of the issues raised by Major Fernandez' decision to cooperate with U.S. law enforcement officials in the Letelier/Moffitt case, including publication of Major Fernandez' complete proffer of evidence.

We do not wish to exaggerate the relative impact of these changes on the overall human rights situation in Chile, or on prospects for a successful democratic transition. Serious problems have continued, such as torture by security forces and violent activities of right-wing groups that may have direct links to government security agencies. There has not, however, been any retreat from our vocal support for democracy and human rights in Chile. Along these lines, the Administration has proposed a resolution on Chile this year in the United Nations Human Rights Commission, just as we did last March in Geneva. We hope that once again we can win consensus for passage of a balanced and objective resolution. This may not be easy, given the posturing that characterizes the actions of many other countries in treating human rights issues in international fora. But we hope that we will be successful, and will in any event continue to strive to implement a clear, consistent and effective policy toward Chile.

If we can be of any further assistance to your office in this matter please do not hesitate to contact us.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

J. Edward Fox
Assistant Secretary

ON THE MEXICAN REQUEST FOR RECOVERY OF ENRICHMENT TAILS MATERIAL FROM THE U.S.A.

(1). AT THE MEXICAN REQUEST, CONSULTATIONS WERE CARRIED OUT LAST YEAR BETWEEN THE IAEA SECRETARIAT AND THE MEXICA AND UNITED STATES AUTHORITIES WITH A VIEW TO RECOVERY BY MEXICO OF 374.43 TONS OF DEPLETED URANIUM, WHICH IS MEXICAN PROPERTY AND RESULTS FROM THE ENRICHMENT PROCESS CARRIED OUT IN THE U.S.A. FOR THE INITIAL FUELLING OF THE LAGUNA VERDE NUCLEAR POWER PLANT, UNITS 1 AND 2. THE ENRICHMENT SERVICES IN QUESTION WERE PROVIDED, THROUGH TH AGENCY'S INTERMEDIARY, UNDER THE TRILATERAL SUPPLY AGREEMENTS OF 12 FEBRUARY 1974 (INFCIRC/203) AND 14 JUNE 1974 (INFCIRC/203/ADD.1) RELATING TO UNIT 1 AND UNITS 2 RESPECTIVELY, ON TERMS AND CONDITIONS AGREED BETWEEN MEXICO AND THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY (USDOE) IN BILATERAL LONG-TERM, FIXED-COMMITMENT CONTRACTS.

(2). AS A RESULT OF SUCH CONSULTATIONS, THE IAEA SECRETARIAT BY LETTERS OF 31 OCTOBER 1986 PROPOSED TO THE MEXICAN AND U.S. AUTHORITIES THAT THE RETURN TO MEXICO OF THE TAILS MATERIAL IN QUESTION BE EFFECTED BY AN EXCHANGE OF LETTERS BETWEEN THEM AND THE IAEA, IN CONNECTION WITH AND SUBJECT TO ALL THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE EXISTING AGREEMENTS RELATING TO THE LAGUNA VERDE NPP.

(3). ON 26 MARCH 1987, THE U.S. MISSION VERBALLY INFORMED THE IAEA SECRETARIAT OF THE FOLLOWING:

(A) THE U.S. WOULD CONCUR WITH THE PROPOSED ARRANGEMENT, SHOULD MEXICO PREFER IT;

(B) HOWEVER, AS MEXICO HAS THE RIGHT TO RECOVER

THE TAILS MATERIAL DIRECTLY FROM THE USDOE, PURSUANT TO ARTICLE VII OF THE BILATERAL ENRICHMENT CONTRACT (DESCO 5-84 UEME-200), MEXICO MAY AS WELL EXERCISE THAT RIGHT DIRECTLY WITHOUT ADDITIONAL ARRANGEMENT THROUGH THE AGENCY (THIS POINT HAD BEEN BROUGHT EARLIER TO THE ATTENTION OF THE MEXICAN AUTHORITIES BY THE USDOE);

(C) IN EITHER ALTERNATIVE, THE INPUT MATERIAL (URANIUM CONCENTRATES IN THE FORM OF URANIUM DIURANATE) OWNED BY MEXICO AND LOCATED IN SPAIN, SHOULD MEET THE ENRICHMENT CRITERIA SPECIFIED

IN THE ENRICHMENT CONTRACT.

(4). IN THE MEANTIME, THE IAEA SECRETARIAT ON 19 MARCH 1987 RECEIVED FROM THE MEXICAN MISSION A LETTER DATED 13 MARCH 1987 PROPOSING THAT THE RETURN OF TAILS MATERIAL BE FORMALIZED BY MEANS OF A TRILATERAL AGREEMENT, WITH THE AGENCY'S INVOLVEMENT, TO PROVIDE FOR SYSTEMATIC RETURN OF ALL DEPLETED URANIUM RESULTING FROM THE ENRICHMENT SERVICES PERFORMED IN THE USA, IN CONFORMITY WITH THE ENRICHMENT CONTRACT. (COPIES OF THE MEXICAN LETTER TOGETHER WITH THE PROPOSED AGREEMENT WERE COMMUNICATED TO THE U.S. MISSION ON 26 MARCH 1987 FOR ADVANCE INFORMATION

(5). IN VIEW OF THE IAEA SECRETARIAT, AND SUBJECT TO COMPLEMENTARY INFORMATION WHICH THE MEXICAN AUTHORITIES MAY WISH TO PROVIDE FOR THE PURPOSE OF AN ADDITIONAL TRILATERAL AGREEMENT AS THUS PROPOSED, THERE DOES NOT APPEAR TO BE ANY REQUIREMENT FOR FORMAL ARRANGEMENTS INVOLVING THE AGENCY FOR RECOVERY BY MEXICO OF THE TAILINGS RESULTING FROM THE ENRICHMENT SERVICES PERFORMED IN THE USA FOR THE LAGUNA VERDE NPP, ON THE BASIS OF THE

(A) THE RIGHT TO THE TAILS MATERIAL IN QUESTION IS PROVIDED FOR UNDER THE USDOE-MEXICO ENRICHMENT CONTRACT;

(B) EACH SUCH BILATERAL CONTRACT RELATING TO UNIT 1 AND UNIT 2, RESPECTIVELY, HAS BEEN INCORPORATED BY REFERENCE INTO THE EXISTING TRILATERAL AGREEMENTS WITH THE IAEA CONCERNING THE LAGUNA VERDE NPP AND THUS REMAINS SUBJECT TO ALL THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS SET FORTH THEREIN AND, INSOFAR AS MEXICO IS CONCERNED, TO THE SAFETY, SAFEGUARDS AND SHIPMENT PROVISIONS LAID DOWN IN THE RELATED PROJECT AGREEMENT BETWEEN IT AND THE IAEA (INFCIRC/203, PART II).

~~1. (S-ENTIRE TEXT).~~

2. SUMMARY: AMB. HABIB TOLD PRESIDENT CEREZO THAT THE UNITED STATES WELCOMED THE DIPLOMATIC INITIATIVE OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES ALTHOUGH WE BELIEVED THE ARIAS PROPOSALS H SERIOUS DEFICIENCIES AND OMISSIONS WHICH NEEDED TO BE CORRECTED. HE STRESSED THE NEED FOR THE DEMOCRACIES TO BE UNITED AND URGED THAT THEY BEGIN THE CONSULTATION PROCESS QUICKLY. CEREZO SAID HE INTENDED TO CONSULT INDIVIDUALLY WITH EACH OF THE OTHER THREE DEMOCRACIES AND THEN DRAFT HIS OWN PROPOSALS WHICH INCORPORATED THE MAIN POINTS OF EACH POSITION. HIS GOAL WAS TO PRODUCE A DRAFT WHICH ALL FOUR DEMOCRACIES COULD ACCEPT AND WHICH WOULD PUT NICARAGUA "UP AGAINST THE WALL" AT ESQUIPULAS, NOW SET FOR JUNE 25-26. CEREZO SAID NICARAGUAN PRESIDENT ORTEGA SEEMED AFRAID OF THE POLITICAL OPENING CALLED FOR IN THE ARIAS PROPOSALS BECAUSE THIS WOULD BREAK SANDINISTA CONTROL. CEREZO

BELIEVED THAT ORTEGA WAS FEELING MILITARY PRESSURE AND WOULD BE SOMEWHAT FLEXIBLE AT ESQUIPULAS. HABIB NOTED THAT ORTEGA MIGHT TRY TO MAKE CONCESSIONS ONLY ON SECURITY ISSUES AND NOT POLITICAL ONES, THEREBY MAINTAINING AND CONSOLIDATING SANDINISTA POWER. HE SAID THE DEMOCRACIES SHOULD GO TO ESQUIPULAS DEMANDING DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA. HE ADDED THAT THE PRESSURE FROM THE RESISTANCE WOULD CONTINUE TO MOUNT IN THE COMING MONTHS. WITH RESISTANCE LEADER ROBELO AND AGREED THAT IT WAS NECESSARY TO INVOLVE THE RESISTANCE IN ANY NEGOTIATED SOLUTION. HABIB STATED THAT CONGRESSIONAL FUNDING FOR THE RESISTANCE WOULD DEPEND ON THE CIRCUMSTANCES THIS FALL: IF THE RESISTANCE DID WELL AND THE SANDINISTAS WERE SEEN TO BE REJECTING A NEGOTIATED SOLUTION BECAUSE THEY REFUSED TO ACCEPT DEMOCRACY, THIS WOULD INFLUENCE THE CONGRESS. 3. ON MARCH 30, AMB. HABIB AND AMB. PIEDRA MET WITH GUATEMALAN PRESIDENT CEREZO AND FOREIGN MINISTER QUINONES TO DISCUSS THE ARIAS PROPOSALS AND CEREZO'S JUST-COMPLETED TRIP TO NICARAGUA. WHILE AWAITING CEREZO, QUINONES REVEALED THAT JUNE 25-26 HAD BEEN SET AS THE DATE OF THE ESQUIPULAS SUMMIT. ONLY PRESIDENT DUARTE HAD NOT YET CONFIRMED. THIS WOULD FOLLOW CLOSELY THE NEW ORLEANS CONFERENCE TO WHICH ALL FIVE CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS HAD BEEN INVITED AND ONLY NICARAGUA'S ORTEGA HAD NOT YET ACCEPTED. HABIB NOTED THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT THAT THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES CONSULT WITH EACH OTHER BEFORE ESQUIPULAS. QUINONES REPLIED THAT HE HAD TALKED BY PHONE WITH COSTA RICAN FOREIGN MINISTER

MADRIGAL ON FRIDAY, MARCH 27, AND DISCUSSED GUATEMALA'S PLANS FOR CEREZO'S TRIP TO NICARAGUA. QUINONES ADDED THAT GUATEMALA RECOGNIZED THE NEED FOR CONSULTATIONS AMONG THE DEMOCRACIES AND PREFERRED THAT THIS BE ACCOMPLISHED THROUGH A SERIES OF BILATERAL MEETINGS. HE EXPLAINED THAT LARGE MEETINGS CAUSED PROBLEMS WITH THE NEWSPAPERS. QUINONES SAID THAT THE GENERAL POSITION OF THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES WAS KNOWN AS A RESULT OF THE CONVERSATIONS AT ESQUIPULAS. NOW THE QUESTION WAS HOW TO RESOLVE THE DIFFERENCES.

4. UPON CEREZO'S ARRIVAL, HABIB EXPLAINED THAT HE HAD COME TO DISCUSS WITH THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES AND THE CONTADORA NATIONS THE DIPLOMATIC TRACK AND PARTICULARLY THE ESQUIPULAS MEETING WHICH HAD BECOME THE FOCUS OF THE REGIONAL NEGOTIATIONS. IT WAS IMPORTANT THAT THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES HARMONIZE THEIR VIEWS AND ARRIVE AT ESQUIPULAS UNITED. HE WAS DISTURBED THAT THERE HAD BEEN NO CONSULTATIONS AMONG THE DEMOCRACIES SINCE SAN JOSE AND HAD URGED THEM TO BEGIN THE PROCESS. THE USG WELCOMED THE CURRENT INITIATIVE OF THE DEMOCRACIES BUT BELIEVED THE ARIAS PROPOSALS HAD SERIOUS DEFICIENCES AND OMISSIONS THAT NEEDED TO BE CORRECTED. ARIAS HAD TOLD US THAT HE WAS OPEN TO SUGGESTIONS ON THE SECURITY ASPECTS OF

TO CONTADORA. HABIB SAID THAT IN HIS CONVERSATIONS IN PANAMA AND COLOMBIA, BOTH HAD APPEARED RELAXED ABOUT ESQUIPULAS. SIGNIFICANTLY, MEXICAN FOREIGN SECRETARY SEPULVEDA HAD INDICATED THAT HE WOULD NOT SABOTAGE ESQUIPULAS: SEPULVEDA HAD TOLD HABIB HE WOULD WAIT TO SEE WHAT CAME OUT OF ESQUIPULAS AND SEEMED TO ACCEPT THAT THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES WERE TAKING A MORE ASSERTIVE ROLE.

CEREZO'S PLANS

5. CEREZO SAID THAT HE WAS SEEKING TO DETERMINE THE BASIC ELEMENTS IN THE POSITIONS OF THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES AND BLEND THEM INTO A REVISED PLAN WHICH ALL COULD ACCEPT. HE STATED THAT IF THE FOUR COULD AGREE, THEY "COULD PUSH NICARAGUA UP AGAINST THE WALL". HE HAD TALKED BY TELEPHONE WITH ARIAS AND INFERRED THAT ARIAS WAS ONLY INTERESTED IN THE POLITICAL ASPECTS OF THE PRO-

POSALS. ARIAS DID NOT SEEM CONCERNED ABOUT THE SECURITY ELEMENTS. HABIB AGREED WITH THIS ASSESSMENT, ADDING THAT ARIAS HAD SAID HE EXPECTED GUATEMALA, EL SALVADOR, AND HONDURAS TO FLESH OUT THE SECURITY PORTIONS OF THE PROPOSALS. CEREZO SAID HE INTENDED TO SEND QUINONES TO COSTA RICA TO OBTAIN A FULLER READOUT ON THE COSTA RICAN POSITION. CEREZO SAID THAT DUARTE WOULD TRAVEL TO GUATEMALA LATER THAT WEEK FOR A PRIVATE MEETING

ON THE PROPOSALS. DUARTE WAS VERY CONCERNED ABOUT THE SECURITY ELEMENTS AND PARTICULARLY THE ISSUE OF AID TO THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS. CEREZO NOTED THAT PRESIDENT AZCONA HAD SOUGHT TO DELAY ESQUIPULAS IN ORDER TO GIVE THE NICARAGUAN DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE TIME TO IMPROVE ITS POSITION. CEREZO PLANNED TO VISIT THE BAY ISLANDS OF HONDURAS NEXT WEEK AND MEET WITH AZCONA.

6. CEREZO STATED THAT AFTER HE HAD RECEIVED THE INPUT FROM THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES, THE GOG WOULD BEGIN DRAFTING ITS VERSION, WHICH HE ESTIMATED WOULD ONLY TAKE TWO WEEKS. HE WOULD THEN PROPOSE A MEETING OF THE FOUR "ABSOLUTELY IN PRIVATE" TO COORDINATE THEIR POSITIONS BEFORE ESQUIPULAS. HABIB AGREED THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT THAT THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES ARRIVE AT ESQUIPULAS UNITED. HE STRESSED THAT THEY MUST INCLUDE THE POLITICAL ELEMENTS: THEY MUST GO TO ESQUIPULAS DEMANDING DEMOCRATIZATION. CEREZO REPLIED THAT ALL FOUR HAD AGREED ON THIS FROM THE OUTSET, AND THAT THIS WAS THE SANDINISTAS' WEAKEST POINT. HE RECOGNIZED THAT THE SANDINISTAS WOULD BE RELUCTANT TO ACCEPT A POLITICAL OPENING, BUT IF THEY DID IT WOULD BE AN

7. CEREZO SAID THAT HE HAD TRAVELLED TO MANAGUA TO ASCERTAIN THE POSITION OF THE SANDINISTAS. HIS GENERAL IMPRESSION WAS THAT THE SANDINISTAS WERE AFRAID OF THE POLITICAL OPENING CALLED FOR IN THE ARIAS PROPOSALS, SINCE THIS WOULD BREAK THEIR CONTROL. ORTEGA HAD USED THE TRADITIONAL ARGUMENT THAT NICARAGUA COULD NOT LIBERALIZE WHILE THE WAR WAS GOING ON. CEREZO HAD ANSWERED THAT THE SANDINISTAS MUST MOVE ON THE POLITICAL FRONT, OR THERE WAS NO SOLUTION. ORTEGA HAD COMPLAINED ABOUT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS' EMPHASIS ON POLITICAL ISSUES. HE HAD PROTESTED THE COSTA RICANS' TYPICAL "ARROGANCE": THEY ONLY WANTED TO DISCUSS POLITICAL ISSUES, WHILE ALL THE OTHER COUNTRIES HAD SERIOUS SECURITY ISSUES TO WORRY ABOUT. HABIB ASKED IF THE SANDINISTAS WERE BEGINNING TO FEEL MILITARY PRESSURE, AND CEREZO REPLIED AFFIRMATIVELY.

8. CEREZO SAID THAT ORTEGA WAS NOT WORRIED ABOUT A POSSIBLE U.S. INVASION, BUT WAS CONCERNED ABOUT THE WAR WITH THE RESISTANCE AND THE TERRIBLE ECONOMIC

SITUATION. CEREZO DREW THE CONCLUSION THAT ORTEGA WAS FEELING THE EFFECTS OF THE WAR BOTH ON THE FRONT AND IN TERMS OF THE RESOURCES THAT NEEDED TO BE DIVERTED TO FIGHT THE WAR. ORTEGA HAD

MENTIONED HOW EXPENSIVE THE WAR WAS AND WHAT A HIGH PERCENTAGE OF THE BUDGET WENT TO THE MILITARY.

9. CEREZO HAD TOLD ORTEGA THAT THERE MUST BE PARALLEL PROGRESS ON THE ISSUE OF SUPPGRT FOR INSURGENT FORCES IN EL SALVADOR AND NICARAGUA. IN OTHER WORDS, IF NICARAGUA WANTED AN END OF U.S. SUPPORT FOR THE RESISTANCE, IT WOULD HAVE TO CURTAIL ITS SUPPORT FOR THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS. ORTEGA HAD CLAIMED THAT THE TWO SITUATIONS WERE DIFFERENT: THE RESISTANCE ONLY HAD STRENGTH BECAUSE OF US SUPPORT, WHILE THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS WERE STRONG BECAUSE THEY HAD THE SUPPORT OF THE PEOPLE. CEREZO HAD DISAGREED WITH THIS ANALYSIS. ORTEGA HAD ASKED CEREZO FOR HIS POSITION ON DEALING WITH INSURGENTS, AND CEREZO HAD REPLIED THAT HE WOULD GIVE THEM AMNESTY AND WORK TO INCLUDE IN THE POLITICAL SYSTEM ANY GUERRILLAS WHO PUT DOWN THEIR ARMS. CEREZO TOLD HABIB THAT SOMETHING TO THIS EFFECT SHOULD BE INCLUDED IN THE PROPOSALS.

10. HABIB ASKED WHAT ORTEGA HAD SAID ABOUT DEALING WITH THE RESISTANCE. CEREZO REPLIED THAT ORTEGA'S POSITION HAD BEEN HARD. ORTEGA HAD SAID THAT THE GOVERNMENT COULD NOT RECOGNIZE THE RESISTANCE AS THIS WOULD ENHANCE THE RESISTANCE'S STATURE AS AN OPPOSITION FORCE. ORTEGA HAD SAID THAT HE WAS PREPARED TO DIALOGUE WITH THE CIVIC OPPOSITION. THE SANDINISTAS

WERE ALREADY MEETING WITH THE CHURCH AND WERE PREPARED TO DISCUSS OTHER ISSUES SUCH AS POLITICAL PRISONERS. HABIB NOTED THE IMPORTANCE OF INCLUDING THE RESISTANCE IN ANY PEACE PROCESS, ADDING THAT THE CIVIC OPPOSITION WAS TOO WEAK TO NEGOTIATE EFFECTIVELY WITH THE SANDINISTAS BY THEMSELVES. THE ISSUE OF WHO WAS GOING TO PARTICIPATE IN THE DIALOGUE SHOULD BE AGREED TO IN ADVANCE. CEREZO AGREED THAT THEY MUST FIGURE SOME WAY TO GET THEM INTO THE DIALOGUE.

ORTEGA HAD INDICATED THAT ELECTIONS FOR THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT WERE A DIFFERENT MATTER, HOWEVER AS THIS WOULD NOT INTERFERE WITH THE INSTITUTIONALIZATION OF THE REVOLUTIONARY PROCESS IN NICARAGUA.

CEREZO HAD TOLD ORTEGA THAT NO CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRY SHOULD DRAW THE REGION INTO THE EAST-WEST CONFLICT. NICARAGUA'S TIES WITH THE SOVIET UNION WERE HURTING ALL THE COUNTRIES IN THE REGION. ORTEGA HAD RESPONDED THAT HE REALIZED THAT IT WOULD BE DIFFICULT TO TRY ANOTHER CUBAN EXPERIMENT IN CENTRAL AMERICA. ORTEGA ALSO HAD SAID THAT HE WAS WORRIED ABOUT A PROLONGED CONFRONTATION WITH THE UNITED STATES. o TESTING GOC WILLINGNESS TO COOPERATE

-- We do not want this issue to become more of an impediment to normal relations between our two countries.

-- We have treated this as a law enforcement matter, trying to avoid public comment that could hinder cooperation.

-- Your MFA statement indicated willingness to cooperate, but the results to date are insufficient.

-- Our interest is that those responsible for this crime be brought to justice. This can be done most effectively if they are tried in the United States.

-- The murders occurred in our country; one of the victims was a U.S. citizen, the other a permanent resident. It was our sovereignty that was violated.

-- Our courts are seized of the matter, have access to the evidence, and are in a position to carry out a full and fair trial.

o REQUEST FOR EXPULSION

-- This note requests that you use the legal means available to expel the two accused to the U.S.

-- Transitory article 24 of your constitution permits expulsion of anyone who carries out actions contrary to Chile's interests. These men appear to meet that test.

-- Precedent exists for expulsion of Chileans (drug traffickers) to the U.S. for law enforcement purposes.

-- We oppose forced exile. This expulsion would be for legitimate law enforcement purposes only; following conclusion of judicial proceedings and any resulting incarceration, they would be free to return to Chile.

-- Based on experience we have little confidence in extradition proceedings.

o NEED FOR RESPONSE

-- We would give full public acknowledgement for such action which would undercut Congressional moves for sanctions.

-- In making this request we do not in any way waive any of our other rights to bring these individuals to justice.

-- We hope for an expeditious and positive response.

-- It will not suffice to refer us to alternative procedures (e.g. extradition) that have not worked in the past.

-- The Chilean Executive Branch clearly has the legal authority to expell the accused individuals to the United States without reference to other branches of government.

-- Whether or not you take this step is a basic policy decision for the Chilean executive, and your response will be viewed in light of that fact.

SUBJECT: Status of the Diplomatic Track in Central America

I visited the four Central American democracies and the four Contadora countries March 22-31 to continue my consultations on the negotiating process. I met with the presidents of all but Mexico as well as with the political and military leadership of the Nicaraguan democratic resistance. I assessed their attitudes toward the Arias proposals and the upcoming Esquipulas meeting, and I emphasized that our goal was democracy in Nicaragua.

Esquipulas, now scheduled for June 25-26, is the center of attention. I was disturbed to find that the four democracies had done nothing since the February summit in San Jose to coordinate their positions in preparation for Esquipulas. I have succeeded in energizing the four to try to reach a harmonized position and they are beginning consultations with each other.

Presidents Duarte and Azcona have no commitment to the Arias proposals and are pessimistic about a useful outcome at Esquipulas. Tney are unhappy with the manner in which Arias has handled himself and particularly his failure to respond to their suggestions during the San Jose summit. Duarte is concerned about how the proposals would affect his own position vis-a-vis his guerrillas and his military. He regards himself as too weak because of his internal difficulties to take the initiative in correcting the proposals, but he made clear that he would be firm in his views at Esquipulas. Azcona is also unimpressed with the proposals but has done little or no work to improve them. Their views of the flaws of the Arias proposals are similar to our own, and they will not accept an agreement harmful to our interests.

Arias seeks to enhance his stature as a regional leader and peacemaker, and he intends that his proposals be the agenda at Esquipulas. He told me he is ready to consult with the other democracies and understands now the danger that the Sandinistas could use his initiative to divide the democracies unless they achieve unity. Shortly after my meeting, Costa Rica called a technical-level meeting of the three. Still, Arias is stubborn and we will have to wait and see how willing he is to accept modifications of the crucial elements of his proposals that deal with political issues. He has clearly sought to attract the Nicaraguans to his proposals (for example, by not specifying that they must negotiate with the resistance), and may be prepared to go even further, although I do not believe he will sacrifice his essential demands for a political opening and promotion of democratic processes.

Cerezo sees Esquipulas as an opportunity for enhancing his own role as regional leader and bridge between the other three democracies and Nicaragua. He plans to gather comments from his democratic colleagues and prepare a Guatemalan draft which all four could accept and which would, in his words, "push the Sandinistas against the wall." I met with him immediately following his trip to Managua. He said that Nicaraguan President Ortega was concerned about the economic crisis there and was feeling military pressure. I sensed that Cerezo was holding back somewhat on the proposals that might be discussed at Esquipulas.

Views of the Resistance

The resistance political leadership understands both the problems with the Arias proposals and the opportunity they present. They are flexible in their approach to negotiations and are presenting their comments in writing to Arias and the other democratic presidents. I encouraged them to increase their contacts with the democracies in the coming months.

The military leadership does not believe it possible to negotiate a workable agreement with the Sandinistas, and as a consequence, are skeptical about the diplomatic track. They fear that the Sandinistas may be offered and accept an agreement which does not protect resistance interests and that they will be isolated and abandoned if continued funding is not approved this fall. I emphasized the importance of military pressure in obtaining an agreement achieving our common objective of democracy in Nicaragua. They listened, but remained unconvinced of the viability of a negotiated agreement, preferring to believe that they can defeat the Sandinistas militarily. It will be necessary to make a special effort to consult closely with them.

Relationship to Contadora

The relationship between the Arias proposals (or any successor agreed upon by the four democracies) and Contadora remains to be developed. Honduras and El Salvador see in Contadora an advantage over the Arias proposals in that it is more comprehensive; for example, its security and verification provisions are far more developed. At the same time, they recognize that the Arias proposals are superior in dealing with the need for political change in Nicaragua. Guatemala also expects a tie-in to Contadora, but sees the Arias proposals -- or Cerezo's own substitute -- as an important new element. Arias feels that the initiative should essentially stand alone, although he accepts the need for some ties to Contadora. The four Contadora countries expect that any Esquipulas agreement will tie in to Contadora in some way, but are prepared to suspend judgment until they see what happens at Esquipulas.

UNCLASSIFIED

In discussing the possible value of Contadora, I emphasized that the Arias proposals contain essential elements not found in Contadora -- notably, a clear focus on the importance of democratization in Nicaragua and a schedule of specific, coordinated commitments designed to lead to that result.

Principal Issues at Esquipulas

With respect to the political elements of the Arias proposals, the most difficult issue at Esquipulas will be the role of the resistance in the internal dialogue. The Arias proposals are obscure on this point now, which may be one of their attractions for the Sandinistas. Azcona and Duarte say they will insist on such a role, however. We have suggested ways in which this problem might be addressed, but have no assurance an answer has been found. Difficulties may also arise on sequencing, if Arias should prove as unready to change the timing of the political steps in his proposals as he is to change their substance. This could result in tabling of more than one draft by the democracies. There is also the question of the Nicaraguan constitution, which the Arias proposals appear to accept; this means that national elections would not take place until 1990. The democracies could challenge this concept, making clear that it is an issue that should be settled through the dialogue.

On the military side, the issue which will loom largest is that of Nicaraguan force levels. Contadora has achieved no agreement on this point, which is crucial to Honduras and, to a lesser extent, El Salvador. Our own readings and Cerezo's readout of his talks with Ortega suggest Nicaragua is prepared to reach agreement on the other issues of advisers, maneuvers and subversion (whether it would keep the agreement is a separate question). Although El Salvador and Honduras oppose deferring this issue for later resolution in a comprehensive Contadora agreement, we will need to consider carefully the risk that insisting on this point would weaken our goal that any Esquipulas failure clearly be blamed on Nicaraguan rejection of democratization.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

It is doubtful that Esquipulas can handle adequately the issue of verification of political and military commitments.

Possible Outcomes at Esquipulas

The Esquipulas meeting itself can develop in several different ways. Ideally, it would result in agreement among the five on a specific set of actions meeting our essential policy goals of a political opening and democratization while dealing with military and security issues in a manner we would find acceptable. If the Sandinistas are intransigent on democratization, then we would aim to achieve a 4-1 split isolating Nicaragua on this issue.

Less attractive results are also possible. Although the prospect for division among the democracies is not as great as before my trip, the possibility cannot be discounted that a combination of failure to coordinate and astute Nicaraguan actions will result in Nicaragua (and perhaps Guatemala) signing on to inadequate Arias proposals rejected by El Salvador and Honduras. Such an impasse would inevitably be blamed on the United States and would be a serious setback for our policy and hopes of receiving further assistance for the resistance. More likely is an indefinite protraction of an "Esquipulas process" such as has occurred with the Contadora process; I emphasized to all parties that this type of stalling must not be allowed. Such an outcome would probably undermine efforts to obtain renewed funding for the resistance.

Next Steps

I frankly doubt Esquipulas will produce an agreement. If it does, an agreement reached at a two-day meeting would likely be a bad one. We should therefore concentrate on ensuring the four democracies take a unified position at the meeting. This would offer the best prospect for success, and if Esquipulas fails, would highlight Nicaragua as the obstacle to peace and democracy.

Despite the unlikelihood that Esquipulas will result in an agreement, however, it is essential that we continue to act on the premise that it is possible to induce the Sandinistas to enter into a political settlement acceptable to us. We cannot appear to be aiming to produce a proposal the Sandinistas will reject. We must be willing to respond to promising developments by carrying the diplomatic track forward, particularly if some favorable elements result from the proposals on the table at Esquipulas. Congress has not asked that we abandon our goals, including democratization, but only that we pursue negotiations in good faith. In my view, this policy makes sense in any event, and any other policy will severely damage our credibility both internationally and domestically.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

In working toward a realistic agreed proposal by the democracies, we will be relying principally on Duarte and Azcona. Following this trip, I am fully confident that this "axis" will adamantly resist dangerous or ill-considered ideas to which Arias and Cerezo may be subject despite their democratic commitment. I must reiterate in this connection my concern at the effect on both Duarte and Azcona of the cuts in assistance to them proposed by Congressman Obey. We must fight those cuts, and we must get them reversed.

Everywhere I encountered nervous disappointment with the apparent absence of bipartisan support for our policies in Congress. Apparently, the constant stream of CODELs has severely damaged our credibility. We must work to get much greater expressions of Congressional support for staying the course.

I intend to stay in close contact with the democracies. I anticipate returning to the region in late April and again in May or early June in order to keep our finger on developments and to understand and influence how preparations for Esquipulas develop. In addition, our Ambassadors, who have been with me in all my meetings, are fully clued in and can be counted on to support our efforts on a daily basis.

Dear Ed:

I want to applaud and express gratitude for the excellent work of members of the Department of Justice, the FBI, and the Office of the U.S. Attorney for the District of Columbia involved in the recent breakthrough in the long-stalled Letelier/Moffitt case. Close inter-agency cooperation and discretion characterized this effort and accounts, in part, for the positive outcome of our actions. The professionalism and courage of FBI [redacted] both of whom undertook personal risk in meeting with Fernandez in Chile, deserve special praise.

By bringing Chilean Armando Fernandez Larios to justice in the U.S., and gaining his cooperation in continuing our investigation against other culpable individuals in this case, we have sent a clear signal to the world of our commitment to pursue criminal cases against suspected terrorists. I look forward to our continued cooperation on this important case.

Sincerely yours,

AS TO THE GUARANTEE OF A FREE RETURN FOR THE DEFENDANTS AFTER SERVING THEIR POSSIBLE SENTENCES, "TRANSITORIA" PROVISION 24 IS SILENT. IT WOULD BE A LEGITIMATE REQUEST SHOWING THE CONCERN OF THE USA GOVERNMENT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS. HOWEVER, IT MIGHT BE REGARDED BY THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT AS A MOVE TO FURTHER LIMIT THEIR FREEDOM OF ACTION AND TO LIMIT THEIR SOVEREIGNTY. PERHAPS IT WOULD BE SUFFICIENT TO SAY THAT AFTER THEIR ACQUITTAL OR SERVING THEIR SENTENCES, THOSE PEOPLE WILL BE FREE TO RETURN TO CHILE AND THAT THE USA WOULD DO NOTHING TO IMPAIR THAT RIGHT OF THEM.

THIS IS ALSO AN ANSWER TO PARA. 4 AND 5.

PARAGRAPH 6: FIRST SIGHT INTERPRETATION OF ART. 24 IS INCORRECT.

ACCORDING TO ART. 24 A SPECIAL STATE OF EMERGENCY MAY BE PROCLAIMED IN TWO DIFFERENT SITUATIONS:

A) ACTS OF VIOLENCE HAVE BEEN PERFORMED WITH THE PURPOSE OF DISTURBING PUBLIC ORDER, OR B) THERE IS A DANGER THAT DOMESTIC PEACE BE DISTURBED.

VIOLENT ACTS WOULD ONLY BE NEEDED IN CASE (A). IN CASE (B) THE SOURCE OF DANGER COULD BE ANYONE, WHETHER VIOLENT OR NOT. (FOR INSTANCE, A CONSPIRACY NOT CARRIED OUT THROUGH VIOLENT MEANS.)

ACCORDING TO ART. 24 (C), DURING SUCH A STATE OF EMERGENCY THE PRESIDENT IS ENTITLED:

(2) TO EXPEL FROM THE CHILEAN TERRITORY.

THOSE MEASURES MAY BE APPLIED WITH REGARD TO THE FOLLOWING GROUPS OF PEOPLE:
(1) THOSE WHO MAKE PROPAGANDA OF THE DOCTRINES MENTIONED IN ART. 8 (PERMANENT) OF THE CONSTITUTION (DOCTRINES AGAINST THE FAMILY, THOSE THAT ADVOCATE VIOLENCE, AND THOSE THAT ADVOCATE DOCTRINES THAT ARE TOTALITARIAN OR FOUNDED ON CLASS STRUGGLE). NO ACTS OF VIOLENCE ARE NEEDED AT ALL.
(2) THOSE THAT HAVE A REPUTE OF BEING ACTIVE ADVOCATES OF SUCH DOCTRINES (SUCH REPUTE IS ENOUGH; NO ACTS ARE REQUIRED).
(3) THOSE WHO PERFORM ACTS THAT ARE CONTRARY TO CHILEAN INTERESTS (THE NATURE THEREOF IS NOT SPECIFIED: THEY COULD CONSIST OF CONVINCING A FOREIGN BANK NOT TO LOAN MONEY TO THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT).
(4) THOSE WHO REPRESENT A DANGER FOR INTERNAL PEACE (NOTHING IS SAID OF THE GROUNDS ON WHICH SUCH DANGER WOULD BE ASCERTAINED; NO VIOLENT ACTS ARE NEEDED).

NOTHING IS SAID, EITHER, IN ART. 24, WITH REGARD TO THE PLACE WHERE SUCH DISTURBANCES SHOULD HAVE TAKEN PLACE. IF THE PRESIDENT THINKS THAT CERTAIN ACTS PERFORMED ABROAD ARE CONTRARY TO THE INTERESTS OF CHILE, HE MIGHT PROHIBIT ENTRANCE INTO THE COUNTRY TO PEOPLE WHO HAVE PERFORMED THEM ABROAD.

THIS ANSWERS PARA. 6 AND 7.

PARAGRAPH 8. STRICTLY SPEAKING, IT IS TRUE THAT ART. 24 ONLY PERMITS EXPULSION FROM CHILE AND NOT TO A PARTICULAR COUNTRY. HOWEVER, IN PRACTICE PEOPLE MUST BE EXPELLED TO A FIXED PLACE. CHILEAN AUTHORITIES USUALLY EXPEL TO COUNTRIES THAT HAVE DECLARED THEMSELVES WILLING TO RECEIVE CHILEAN EXILES.

PARAGRAPH 9. OUR ANSWER TO PARAGRAPH 8 IS PERTINENT HERE, TOO. PEOPLE TO BE TRIED IN THE USA (CHILEAN CITIZENS) ON CHARGES OF DRUG DEALING WERE IN FACT EXPELLED FROM THE COUNTRY WITHOUT TRIAL AND SENT FOR TRIAL TO THE U.S. UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF DECREE-LAW 81 THAT WAS IN FORCE PRIOR TO THE CURRENT CONSTITUTION AND GRANTED TO THE EXECUTIVE VERY SIMILAR POWERS TO THE ONES IN CURRENT ART. 24.

PARAGRAPH 10. PERJURY-FALSE TESTIMONY.

(A) FALSE TESTIMONY CONSISTS IN MAKING FALSE STATEMENTS IN COURT, DURING A PRELIMINARY INQUEST OR A FORMAL TRIAL. OATH IS NOT RELEVANT, BUT ONLY WITNESSES, EXPERT WITNESSES AND TRANSLATORS FOR THE COURT MAY COMMIT THIS CRIME. A DEFENDANT IS NOT BOUND TO TESTIFY. IF HE CHOOSES TO DO SO, HE CANNOT BE QUESTIONED UNDER OATH AND IS NOT SUBJECT TO THE PENALTIES OF FALSE TESTIMONY IF HE LIES. THEREFORE, IT IS MOST LIKELY THAT FERNANDEZ LARIOS WAS NEVER BEEN QUESTIONED UNDER OATH. THE ALLEGED BORQUEZ WARNING DURING THE EXTRADITION PROCEEDINGS WOULD BE QUITE ACCURATE.

THIS TAKES CARE OF PARAS. 11, 12 AND 13.

EXDIS

CONFIRMED: FERNANDEZ LARIOS DID NOT TAKE AN OATH WHEN QUESTIONED AT THE SUPREME COURT.

STATUTORY PROVISIONS: CONSTITUTION OF 1925 (IN FORCE DURING THE EXTRADITION PROCEEDINGS): ART. 18.

CONSTITUTION OF 1980 (NOW IN FORCE): ART. 19, PARA. 3 E)

PENAL CODE: ARTS. 206 TO 210.

(B) PERJURY: IT IS A CRIME CONSISTING OF LYING UNDER OATH TO AUTHORITIES OTHER THAN A COURT OF JUSTICE.

EXDIS

IN MY OPINION, NOT RELEVANT IN THIS CASE.

RECENT NEWS. FORMER ALLENDE MINISTER OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS CLODOMIRO ALMEYDA HAS JUST RETURNED FROM EXILE (UNAUTHORIZED) AND THE GOVERNMENT AT ONCE SENT HIM TO INTERNAL EXILE IN SOUTHERN CHILE, INVOKING ART. 24. IT IS EVIDENT THAT ALMEYDA HAS NOT PERFORMED ANY ACT OF VIOLENCE IN CHILE. ANY SUCH ACTS, OR OTHER NON-VIOLENT ACTS "CONTRARY TO CHILEAN INTERESTS," IF ANY, MUST HAVE TAKEN PLACE ABOARD.

TAGS: PREL, VE, XK, OVIP (HABIB, PHILIP C.)
SUBJECT: AMB. HABIB'S MEETING WITH VENEZUELAN PRESIDENT LUSINCHI

1. SECRET - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: ON MARCH 31, AMB. HABIB AND AMB. REICH CALLED ON PRESIDENT LUSINCHI TO DISCUSS THE NEGOTIATING TRACK IN CENTRAL AMERICA. HABIB SAID WE WERE PLEASED WITH PRESIDENT ARIAS' PROPOSALS INSOFAR AS THEY STRESSED THE IMPORTANCE OF DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA, BUT WARNED THAT THEY WERE DEFICIENT IN SOME RESPECTS AND OMITTED ALTOGETHER SOME IMPORTANT CONSIDERATIONS. HE ASKED LUSINCHI TO IMPRESS UPON THE CENTRAL AMERICANS THE NEED FOR CONSULTATIONS AMONG THEMSELVES IN ORDER THAT THE SANDINISTAS NOT BE ABLE TO DIVIDE THEM AND THAT THE PEACE PROCESS MUST NOT BE ALLOWED TO DRAG ON INTERMINABLY. LUSINCHI SAID THAT DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA WAS ALSO

VENEZUELA'S GOAL AND THAT HE HAD TOLD THIS TO THE NICARAGUANS MANY TIMES. LUSINCHI SEES THE ARIAS PROPOSALS AS COMPATIBLE AND COMPLEMENTARY TO CONTADORA. VENEZUELA WILL WAIT FOR THE OUTCOME OF THE ESQUIPULAS MEETING BEFORE REACHING ANY CONCLUSIONS ABOUT THE CURRENT STATE OF PLAY IN THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PEACE PROCESS. END SUMMARY.

3. ON MARCH 31, AMB. HABIB AND AMB. REICH ACCOMPANIED BY NSC STAFFER KIM FLOWER MET WITH VENEZUELAN PRESIDENT JAIME LUSINCHI IN HIS OFFICE AT MIRA FLORES PALACE. LUSINCHI WAS JOINED BY FOREIGN MINISTER CONSALVI AND INTERIOR MINISTER CILIBERTO. HABIB REVIEWED FOR LUSINCHI THE PURPOSE AND ITINERARY OF HIS TRIP, OBSERVING THAT THE MOMENT WAS PARTICULARLY GOOD TO TAKE UP THE PROBLEM OF CENTRAL AMERICA. THE UPCOMING MEETING AT ESQUIPULAS WAS AN IMPORTANT FOCUS OF ATTENTION. IT WAS ESPECIALLY WORTH COMMENTING THAT THE CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRIES HAD FINALLY ASSERTED THEMSELVES, CREATING A PROCESS THAT IS COMPLEMENTARY TO CONTADORA. THE ARIAS PROPOSALS EMPHASIZED THE IMPERATIVE NEED FOR DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA, AN ISSUE LESS EFFECTIVELY DEALT WITH BY CONTADORA. ARIAS ACTUALLY SETS UP A TIMETABLE FOR DEMOCRATIZATION. THE USG WELCOMES THIS ASPECT OF HIS PROPOSALS. HABIB REMINDED LUSINCHI THAT IN THEIR JANUARY MEETING THEY HAD AGREED THAT THE ABSENCE OF DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA WAS THE CENTRAL PROBLEM IN CENTRAL AMERICA. PRESIDENT REAGAN, HABIB OBSERVED, HAS MADE DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA THE BASIC POLICY OBJECTIVE FOR THE USG. THE ARIAS PROPOSALS ARE A GOOD START IN THIS DIRECTION, ALTHOUGH THEY ARE INCOMPLETE, ESPECIALLY ON MILITARY AND SECURITY QUESTIONS. CONTADORA, ON THE OTHER HAND, HAS DONE A LOT OF USEFUL WORK ON THE SECURITY ISSUES, AND IN THIS SENSE THEY ARE COMPLEMENTARY. HABIB OBSERVED THAT MEXICO RECOGNIZES THE LINK WITH CONTADORA. MEXICAN FOREIGN SECRETARY SEPULVEDA HAD TOLD HIM THAT HE WOULD WAIT AND SEE WHAT RESULTED FROM ESQUIPULAS. LUSINCHI AND CONSALVI BOTH AGREED THAT A WAIT-AND-SEE APPROACH WAS THE MOST USEFUL ATTITUDE TOWARD ESQUIPULAS.

4. HABIB TOLD LUSINCHI THAT THE CONTRAS HAVE BEEN RETURNING TO NICARAGUA IN LARGE NUMBERS AND WERE BEGINNING TO BRING REAL PRESSURE ON THE SANDINISTAS. THIS WOULD HOPEFULLY HAVE A POSITIVE EFFECT ON THE NEGOTIATING CLIMATE BY INDUCING THE SANDINISTAS TO DEAL SERIOUSLY WITH THE CONCERNS OF THEIR NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES. HABIB INFORMED THE PRESIDENT THAT SOME 13,000 WELL-TRAINED, ARMED AND CAPABLY LED CONTRAS WERE NOW BACK INSIDE. THEIR MORALE WAS HIGH, AND THEY HAD BEEN SENSITIZED TO HUMAN RIGHTS PRACTICES. THE CONTRAS WERE A FORCE THE SANDINISTAS WOULD HAVE TO RECKON WITH. THE PRESSURE WAS MOUNTING AND WOULD PEAK WITHIN THE NEXT FEW MONTHS. HABIB COMMENTED THAT GUATEMALAN PRESIDENT CEREZO HAD TOLD HIM THAT FROM HIS RECENT MEETING WITH ORTEGA, HE HAD THE CLEAR IMPRESSION THAT THE SANDINISTAS WERE

FEELING UNCOMFORTABLE MILITARY PRESSURE.

5. PRESIDENT LUSINCHI RESPONDED THAT HE FULLY AGREED WITH PRESIDENT REAGAN THAT DEMOCRACY WAS THE CENTRAL ISSUE. A STABLE PEACE COULD ONLY BE ACHIEVED IF ALL THE COUNTRIES IN THE REGION HAD DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENTS. LUSINCHI TOLD HABIB THAT DEMOCRACY HAD LONG BEEN THE OBJECTIVE OF VENEZUELAN POLICY AND THAT HE HAD MADE THIS CLEAR TO THE SANDINISTAS. IN FACT, HE HAD TOLD DANIEL ORTEGA HIMSELF THAT NICARAGUA MUST DEMOCRATIZE. ORTEGA HAD BEEN MORE RECEPTIVE TO THE IDEA THAN HE THOUGHT HE WOULD BE. BUT ORTEGA TENDS TO DWELL, HE SAID, ON SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC IDEOLOGY, CLAIMING THAT THE USG AND THE CONTRAS SOUGHT TO RETURN NICARAGUA TO A STATE OF FUEDAL OLIGARCHY. THE SANDINISTAS, LUSINCHI SAID, HAVE BECOME ISOLATED, A KIND OF CYST IN CENTRAL AMERICA. LUSINCHI SAID THAT HE HAD TOLD THE CONTRAS, TOO, THAT THEY MUST BE DEMOCRATS AND NOT SOMOCISTAS. HABIB REMINDED LUSINCHI THAT HE WAS A DOCTOR AND THEREFORE HE KNEW THAT CYSTS HAD TO BE CUT OUT. HE OBSERVED THAT IT SEEMED THAT THE SANDINISTAS HAD SPENT TOO MUCH TIME IN CUBA. HE NOTED THAT HE HAD MET WITH BOTH THE POLITICAL AND MILITARY LEADERSHIP OF THE DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE. PARTICULARLY, THE POLITICAL LEADERSHIP OF UNO WAS FLEXIBLE AND PREPARED TO COMPETE IN A FREE POLITICAL ENVIRONMENT IN NICARAGUA, IF ONE COULD BE ESTABLISHED. UNO UNDERSTOOD ARIAS' PROPOSALS AND HAD OFFERED CONSTRUCTIVE SUGGESTIONS FOR IMPROVEMENT. HE TOLD LUSINCHI THAT HE DID NOT NEED TO WORRY ABOUT THE CONTRA LEADERSHIP BEING SOMOCISTAS. THE POINT IS THAT NOW THEY WERE STRUGGLING TO BRING DEMOCRACY TO NICARAGUA. HABIB SAID THAT HE HAD BEEN PARTICULARLY IMPRESSED WITH UNO'S NEW DIRECTORATE MEMBER PEDRO JOAQUIN CHAMORRO, WHO APPEARED TO BE ASSERTING CIVILIAN INVOLVEMENT IN MILITARY AFFAIRS. LUSINCHI SAID THAT HE, TOO, HAS BEEN FAVORABLY IMPRESSED WITH WHAT HE HAD LEARNED OF CHAMORRO.

6. LUSINCHI SAID THAT HE ALSO WAS PLEASED THAT THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES WERE PLAYING AN ACTIVE ROLE. ARIAS AND PARTICULARLY CEREZO WERE KEY FIGURES. LUSINCHI OBSERVED THAT FOR THE FIRST TIME THERE APPEARED TO BE EMERGING A CENTRAL AMERICAN COLLECTIVE CONSCIOUSNESS, AND HE SPECULATED THAT THIS FEELING MIGHT PREFIGURE A FUTURE POLITICAL FEDERATION OF CENTRAL AMERICAN STATES, AN EVENTUALITY HE HAD LONG FAVORED. THE

SETTLEMENT. WE EACH HAVE DEGREES OF INFLUENCE IN CENTRAL AMERICA, AND WE SHOULD USE THIS SUBTLY TO INDUCE A FAVORABLE, PEACEFUL OUTCOME. NICARAGUA IS THE PROBLEM. THE SANDINISTAS DO NOT TRUST ANYBODY, NOT EVEN THE MEXICANS, AND ESPECIALLY NOT VENEZUELA. PERHAPS THE RECENT EVENTS IN THE SOVIET UNION WILL HAVE AN EFFECT ON NICARAGUA. GORBACHEV'S REFORMS COULD POSITIVELY INFLUENCE THE COMANDANTES, LUSINCHI SAID.

7. HABIB REMARKED THAT SECRETARY SHULTZ WOULD SOON BE MEETING WITH SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER SHEVARDNADZE AND THAT UNDER SECRETARY ARMACOST HAD RECENTLY VISITED MOSCOW. POSSIBLY THE SOVIETS WOULD BE MORE RECEPTIVE TO DISCUSS CENTRAL AMERICA IN A CONSTRUCTIVE WAY, BUT IN ANY CASE THE USG WAS DETERMINED NOT TO PERMIT THE SOVIETS TO PENETRATE THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE. LUSINCHI ADDED THAT IT SEEMED LIKELY TO HIM THAT THE SOVIETS WOULD LINK ANY DISCUSSIONS ABOUT CENTRAL AMERICA TO AFGHANISTAN, AND THIS ILLUSTRATED THAT THE CENTRAL AMERICAN CRISIS HAD A SUPERPOWER DIMENSION. AS FOR THE SOVIETS IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE, LUSINCHI SAID VENEZUELA'S POSITION IS CLEAR: NO SOVIETS. HE SAID THAT HE HAD MADE THIS POINT TO THE NICARAGUANS REPEATEDLY.

8. CUBA WAS A DIFFERENT AND MORE COMPLICATED QUESTION. LUSINCHI SEES REASON TO BELIEVE THAT CASTRO, TOO, IS CHANGING. RECENTLY, CASTRO HAD SENT HIM AN INTERESTING MESSAGE. CASTRO HAD SOUGHT OUT THE VENEZUELAN DELEGATE TO A CONFERENCE ON PEDIATRICS IN HAVANA AND TOLD HIM TO TELL LUSINCHI THAT EVERY ECONOMIC POLICY HE HAD PURSUED HAD TURNED OUT WRONG. HE SHOULD HAVE KEPT HIS POLITICAL POLICIES SEPARATE, BECAUSE EXCEPT FOR PUBLIC HEALTH AND EDUCATION, HE HAD FAILED MISERABLY. CASTRO'S MESSAGE TO

LUSINCHI WAS: DO NOT MESS WITH THE ECONOMY. HABIB REMARKED IRONICALLY THAT IT TOOK CASTRO A LONG TIME TO DISCOVER HIS SHORTCOMINGS. THE MAIN LESSON CASTRO SEEMS TO HAVE LEARNED, SAID LUSINCHI, IS THAT AN ECONOMIC REVOLUTION CANNOT BE DECREED. GIVEN CASTRO'S ECONOMIC DIFFICULTIES, NOW MAY BE A PROPITIOUS TIME TO LOOK FOR PEACE IN CENTRAL AMERICA.

UNCLASSIFIED

9. RETURNING TO THE SUBJECT OF ESQUIPULAS, HABIB TOLD LUSINCHI THAT IT WOULD BE USEFUL IF HE WERE TO REINFORCE TWO POINTS WITH THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES: THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT FOR THEM NOT TO ALLOW THE SANDINISTAS TO SPLIT THEM INTO OPPOSING FACTIONS; AND THAT WHATEVER THE RESULT OF ESQUIPULAS, THE PROCESS COULD NOT BE ALLOWED TO DRAG ON INTERMINABLY AS HAD CONTADORA. HABIB SAID HE THOUGHT THAT SIX MONTHS SHOULD BE MORE THAN AMPLE TIME TO DETERMINE WHETHER THE SANDINISTAS WERE DISPOSED TO BRING NICARAGUA INTO THE FOLD OF DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL AMERICA.

HABIB SAID THAT TO AVOID THESE NEGATIVE PROSPECTS, IT WAS ESPECIALLY IMPORTANT THAT THE CENTRAL AMERICANS CAREFULLY CONSULT IN ADVANCE OF ESQUIPULAS. WHILE ARIAS IDENTIFIED THE NEED FOR DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA, A MORE PRECISE APPROACH WAS CALLED FOR. FOR EXAMPLE, HOW WOULD THE CONTRAS BE INCLUDED? THERE WERE A NUMBER OF WAYS THEIR PARTICIPATION COULD BE ARRANGED WITHOUT A DIRECT CONFRONTATION WITH THE SANDINISTAS. AS FOR THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT, HABIB SAID THE IDEA WAS A GOOD ONE. IT HAD THE MERIT OF CALLING FOR A FREE ELECTION. BUT THAT WAS NOT SUFFICIENT. IT WAS NOT ENOUGH JUST TO DESIRE A WAY TO GET ALONG WITH THE SANDINISTAS. WHAT WAS REALLY NEEDED WAS BASIC POLITICAL CHANGE IN NICARAGUA ITSELF, AND THIS HAD TO BE ARRIVED AT BY NEGOTIATIONS

~~SECRET~~

AMONG THE NICARAGUANS THEMSELVES.

10. IN CLOSING, LUSINCHI SAID THAT ARIAS AND CEREZO WERE THE KEY ACTORS; PARTICULARLY CEREZO, WHO WAS WELL AWARE OF GUATEMALA'S VULNERABILITY TO SUBVERSION AND INSURGENCY. GUATEMALA WAS POORER THAN EL SALVADOR AND ITS OLIGARCHY WAS THE MOST REPRESSIVE. CEREZO, LUSINCHI SAID, WAS A GOOD MAN, AND THE USG SHOULD TRUST HIM. AS FOR ARIAS, HE FEARED NICARAGUA; AND THIS FEAR PROMPTED HIM TO COME FORWARD WITH HIS PROPOSAL. LUSINCHI REMARKED THAT GIVEN THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE SITUATION, HE SIMPLY COULD NOT UNDERSTAND FORMER PRESIDENT MONGE'S RECENT STATEMENT THAT HE WAS NEUTRAL ON ARIAS' PROPOSALS. HOW COULD HE BE NEUTRAL IN THE FACE OF SUCH DANGER? HABIB SAID MONGE MAY BE NEUTRAL BUT NOT THE COSTA RICAN PEOPLE. PUBLIC OPINION POLLS HAD REPEATEDLY SHOWN THAT THEY FEARED NICARAGUA GREATLY, BY WIDE MARGINS. SHULTZ

EXCISE

Dear Mr. Kolbe:

We have received your letter of April 7, 1987 concerning a negative vote cast by the United States last fall against a United Nations General Assembly resolution on the human rights situation in Chile. Your letter was on behalf of your constituent [redacted].

In viewing our vote last fall, and in considering our decision to join consensus on a Chilean human rights resolution at the United Nations Human Rights Commission in Geneva during March of this year, it is important to realize that our positions in international organizations concerning Chile are determined with US support for democracy and human rights in Chile very much in mind. We take our actions in these bodies seriously, and seek to be constructive. Accordingly, we do not vote for resolutions unless we consider them sound.

There were significant parts of the resolution on Chile presented last year that reflected our own assessment of the human rights situation in that country. But, taken as a whole, we considered it to be seriously flawed in not reflecting accurately the constructive work of the UN Special Rapporteur, former Costa Rican Foreign Minister Fernando Volio, and in not recognizing the negative impact of terrorism on the human rights situation and the effort to return Chile to democracy. We voted against the resolution only after we were unable to obtain sufficient amendments to the text to allay these fundamental concerns.

There has been no retreat from our vocal support for democracy and human rights in Chile. We took the initiative to propose a resolution on Chile this year in the UN Human Rights Commission, just as we did last year. Through persistent diplomatic efforts we were able to obtain improvements in an unbalanced resolution circulated by Mexico, and to reach agreement on a proposal for eliminating discriminatory treatment of Chile under a separate agenda item. We succeeded in revising the text so that it would deplore "continued acts of extreme violence from all quarters." In view of the improvements we obtained, despite flaws in the text, we joined the consensus in approving the resolution.

The Honorable
Jim Kolbe,
House of Representatives.

Harry G. Barnes
American Ambassador
Santiago

Dear Harry:

First, my thanks to you, George, John and everyone else at the mission who went to great effort to make my orientation trip to Chile so worthwhile and productive. I consider it the best organized and most thorough visit of that kind I have made. The reporting cables on the visit were excellent, and went beyond the call of duty in covering all aspects of the visit. The round-up should be useful particularly for the analysts. We will pass on any feedback we get.

Follow-up: On the items we discussed just before I left: I have arranged a luncheon with Peter Eigen, and will probe then regarding timing for SAL III. (As you will have seen from the reporting cable, Buchi confirmed to Elliott that a third SAL is in the offing.) Before pursuing with USIA the IMET-substitute you discussed with Greg Craig, I am trying--so far unsuccessfully--to get ahold of Craig to see what, if anything, he has done on this proposal. I will keep you posted. The HG, as you know, appears to be on track. We are still considering how to proceed in planning for the UNGA. Jim has put together some thoughts on that below.

Congressional Environment: The Agris/Dunman trip was cancelled as you know.

I will see Nancy next week and try to get her sense of timetable for floor consideration of the foreign assistance bill, as well as any hearings on the Morrison/Feighan sanctions bill. We will also stay in touch with Sklar, as you suggest.

We have the sinking feeling, however, that this year we may be unable to hold off negative Congressional action on Chile, particularly if there is a continuing resolution (as the pundits here are predicting) rather than legislation. OPIC and GSP are targetted, as Sergio Bitar mentioned during my trip. Both appear vulnerable because of the controversy over the worker rights review.

DOL's handling of Congressional relations on the review has not helped, to say the least. At the HFAC mark-up last week, Bonker complained that he had received no information as to why the decision to put Chile in probationary status was made. Labor, apparently, had not followed through as we had expected they would in providing the background information on the results of the review. (We had cleared a few weeks ago a draft of a paper which covered all the countries reviewed, not just Chile.) The DOL official present was unable to respond in a satisfactory fashion. Weiss added fuel to the fire when he read the text of an internal DOL memorandum which criticized the decision on Chile. We understand the memo was written by a DOL employee who has since resigned and gone to work on the Hill. We are working with EB to get more information to the Hill (Bonker) on the decision.

Once we get a better idea of the Congressional timetable, we can consider how your presence here might best be used to try to deflect such measures. If the pundits are right, the critical period will be in September/October when a continuing resolution may be decorated with such ornaments as suspension of OPIC to Chile.

Safety-of-Flight: The outlook for getting any broadening of the exception to the embargo is very bad. RPP has been working with DOD to come up with a short list of vital items (see draft enclosed) and will develop an alternative to our original legislative proposal. The trick is to find someone willing to push it on the Hill (other than Helms). We have had no luck on that count yet. There is no stomach in DSAA for making any push on the proposal this year. The cad-pad/technical manual exemption was approved in 1985, only because of the major investment of time made by the head of DSAA and Jim Michel.

GSP/Worker Rights: Meanwhile, the interagency quarterly review on GSP/worker rights progresses. Although Bob Serby has dropped the idea of booting Chile out after the first quarter, those engaged in the issue a few notches below Serby at DOL are concerned about the modifications made in the GOC proposals since last fall. We can expect a major bureaucratic battle if the GOC in fact makes no gesture at all towards facilitating formation of confederations. When Jim pressed Buchi on this issue, Buchi said the reason for not allowing unions or federations to join more than one confederation was their desire to avoid a proliferation of union organizations, with more union leaders entitled to excused absences, etc. Jim allowed that this could be a concern in theory, but questioned whether the practical effect would in fact be to spawn many more confederations and associated leaders. Jim urged Buchi to discuss the issue at STR and DOL (an appointment with Brock was sought but not confirmed).

Sliding Matthei: I was struck, no doubt as you were, by the contradictory statements attributed to Matthei in recent reports. Who is the real Matthei? Given reports of renewed junta support for Pinochet's candidacy, it might be useful to do a brief telegram analyzing current positions on the junta about a Pinochet candidacy.

B-1

Visitors from Chile: We certainly want to see Molina, Arriagada and Boeninger when they are here in late May for the NED conference. Please let us know whether they would be interested in meetings here and what level you think appropriate.

I am reluctant to try to arrange meetings at any higher level than Elliott, since the group is 100% PDC. Depending on events, however, it might be worth considering the possibility of a high-visibility, seventh floor meeting with representatives of the Chilean democratic opposition later this year. What do you think about stimulating the visit by a broader-based group of the democratic opposition, perhaps non-partisan representatives from the campaign for free elections and seek a meeting for them on the seventh floor with Shultz or Armacost? While we could run serious risks in Chile of renewed "interventionism" that could play into government hands, there could also be some benefits to our policy in Chile--particularly in isolating the Communists--and to efforts to deflect sanctions here. How do you see the pluses and minuses? I support - H.A.

KEANE Action

The timing for such a visit would be critical. Now is not the right time, when the military seems to be rallying behind Pinochet, the opposition more fragmented than ever, and the free elections campaign just getting started. But we may want to give this idea serious thought once we get a better idea of how the Molina initiative is prospering. The possibility of a Shultz-Del Valle meeting in late May is another factor in the equation. Before we discuss this with Bob and Elliott, it would be useful to get your thoughts.

Back to the Molina, Arriagada, and Boeninger visit. Should we try to see Molina alone or just the three together? Can and will they weigh in against sanctions? If so, we believe it would very useful for them to have some appointments on the Hill. It would be better if we were not in the position of organizing these appointments [ ] Will they arrange their own schedule through local, Washington-based PDC contacts, or have you considered suggesting that they travel as voluntary IVPs so that Meridian House or another USIA contractor arranges appointments? Are there any other major political figures coming our way in the next few months (apart from Del Valle) that we should begin to plan for?

B1

After the Pope: Now that the Pope's visit is over will the much-talked about cabinet shuffle take place? Are you picking up anything about Hernan Felipe's future? There has been talk in the press here about a crackdown to follow the Pope's visit. In your follow-up reporting on the Pope's visit, please address this issue. We would not be surprised if there are efforts by some sectors to demonstrate that a crackdown is in progress whether or not that is in fact the case.

POL Action

Torture: Your telegram on torture was excellent. Bob agreed with your reservations about interviewing reported torture victims (which I share completely). Dick Schifter is consumed with an upcoming visit to the Soviet Union so we have not yet gotten his reaction. But we expect he will drop the idea of your interviewing reported victims directly. We have explored the possibility you raised of an approach to the ICRC in Geneva with others in HA. Their reaction was very skeptical. Kathy Barmon, who dealt with the ICRC extensively in El Salvador, is convinced that the higher up you go in the ICRC hierarchy, the more rigid the adherence to policy and the more bureaucratic the response. According to her, the best possibility of getting specific information on ICRC findings is to cultivate the local ICRC reps. C

I doubt if we would have such success in Chile, unless the report gave a clean bill of health to the security forces.

Meeting with Dr. Olivares: Dr. Schaller, President of the Physicians for Human Rights, met with Jim this week. Like Aryeh Neier, she also suggested that you visit Dr. Olivares in prison. Your response to Neier that you would want first to get the views of Chileans on such an initiative was absolutely correct. If you wish to pursue such a visit, we will need to raise it in advance with Elliott and Bob. From the Washington vantage point, it appears very unlikely that this would be an effective means of deflecting GOC pressure against the Vicariate. The symbolism of such a gesture could also be distorted by Pinochet to suggest US tolerance of terrorism. There are enough shades of gray in the Vicariate's handling of the Gomez case, that I am reluctant for us to become identified too closely with the specific court cases. The issue of pressure against the Vicariate is another matter. You might wish to consider how Bob's visit--if it materializes--could be used in that regard.

Telegrams of the Week: The reporting on the Pope's visit was absolutely top-notch. All three analytical cables were well-crafted, to the point, with just the right amount of detail and overview. We look forward to your further analysis of reaction to the visit over the next weeks, and will be interested in particular in the impact of the Pope's message, if any, on attitudes within the business class and armed forces, as well as the effect of the visit on Fresno's standing within the Church, and on the communists.

UNGA: Before raising how we handle Chile at the UNGA with Kim or Sorzano, I want to discuss the issue with Bob and Dick Schifter. Jim believes the tactic of our putting forward our own text has lost its utility, and could be counterproductive in New York, as it nearly was in Geneva this year. Last year the mere fact that the US had introduced a text on Chile in the UNHRC was important; what the text said was not. We probably had the opportunity in New York last year to make a US text the basis for negotiation of a consensus resolution. But when we failed to introduce our own text, we lost the negotiating position we had gained in Geneva. By the time we managed to get agreement within the USG on a text to introduce at this year's UNHRC, the Mexicans had already made their text the point of reference. It may have been possible for the US delegation to regain the initiative, had Chile been a priority and the chief delegate determined to obtain a balanced consensus resolution. But Cuba not Chile was the priority, and Bob Wallach, as you know, was not committed to a consensus outcome on Chile.

KLAVE ACTION also as we think for April 24 ICHRC.

At New York next year we can expect both problems in spades. A knockdown fight over Cuba will consume a great deal of energy. As you well know, General Walters is unlikely to be enthusiastic about our supporting any Chile resolution, let alone introducing one. After our failure to nail down the agenda item change this year, the NSC will not be enthusiastic about undertaking new initiatives or mediating between Walters and the State Department. Our having signed on to an extremely detailed and relatively harsh Mexican resolution in the UNHRC will make it more difficult to secure support for a balanced resolution in New York. It is hard to imagine how the sort of text that we could achieve consensus on within the USG could become the basis for discussion in the UNGA. If against the odds we got agreement and introduced such a text, while it would not become a point a reference for other countries, it could serve as a reference point for those within the Administration who do not want us to support any resolution critical of Chile.

What seems to make most sense at this stage would be for us to develop a short list of criteria for a balanced resolution on Chile--similar to those used in Geneva--which we share with others well in advance. The analog of elimination of item five, which will not be an issue in New York, is elimination of Cuba as a co-sponsor. Walters will not agree to vote yes on any human rights resolution on which Cuba is a co-sponsor--and I doubt that there will be many people who will argue the point.

These are just preliminary thoughts. I will get back to you with more after we have discussed the issue with Dick and Bob.

Sincerely yours,

Dick

Dear Ambassador Linowitz:

Ambassador Harry Barnes asked that I provide you with the enclosed copies of correspondence between Senator Kennedy and Sergio Molina, one of the coordinators of Chile's National Accord.

Amb. Barnes also asked that I let you know that on the basis of his most recent discussion with Kennedy's aide Greg Craig, he is dropping for now the idea of seeking legislative changes to permit resumption of IMET. It was agreed, however, that Mr. Craig would look into alternative ways of increasing opportunities for Chilean military officers to be exposed to U.S. democratic institutions, perhaps through USIA, in ways that also included professional military contact.

Dear Mr. Weiss:

The letter of March 23 from you and seventeen other House colleagues to Secretary of State Shultz, concerning the Administration's request for military assistance for Chile in FY 1988, has been referred to me for response. You are apparently referring to our request for $50,000 in International Military Education and Training (IMET).

As you note in your letter, under current legislation the provision of IMET training to Chile is dependent upon presidential certification under Section 726 of the International Security and Development Cooperation Act of 1981. We do not believe that conditions warrant certification at this time. For FY 1988, however, we do not want to rule out the possibility that conditions in Chile may change so that certification under Section 726 could be considered--in close consultation with Congress.

If implemented, an IMET program would be consistent with our policy of encouraging military professionalism, a dialogue within Chile on the transition to democracy and improved human rights practices. Resuming limited military training would enable us to expand our contacts with the Chilean armed forces. This would serve both our security interests and help in our effort to promote democracy and human rights in Chile. Let me repeat, however, that we would not recommend certification without first undertaking thorough consultations with Congress.

I hope the above has addressed your concerns.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

EJF

029 — N

Dear Mr. Jeffords:

Thank you for your letter of March 30 expressing disagreement with the US delegation's "no" vote last fall against a United Nations General Assembly resolution on the human rights situation in Chile. Let me assure you that our actions in international organizations concerning Chile are determined with US support for democracy and human rights in Chile very much in mind. We take our actions in these bodies seriously, and seek to be constructive. Accordingly, we do not vote for resolutions unless we consider them sound.

There were significant parts of the resolution on Chile presented last December that reflected our own assessment of the human rights situation in that country. But, taken as a whole, we consider it to be seriously flawed in not reflecting accurately the constructive work of the UN Special Rapporteur, former Costa Rican Foreign Minister Fernando Volio. (The resolution passage quoted in your letter refers to a report not yet written at the time of the vote on the resolution, submitted later to the Human Rights Commission.)

This ommision was apparent in many ways. It is true, as you note, that the resolution praised Chilean government cooperation with the Rapporteur, but other positive steps mentioned in Volio's report were not acknowledged fairly. We consider it important that, whenever possible, progress should be recognized in order to encourage more progress in the future.

In addition, Volio, like the majority of the Chilean democratic opposition, had acknowledged that the assassination attempt against General Pinochet last September and the discovery of communist arsenals a month earlier had helped to impede the return of democracy in Chile. The UN resolution did not acknowledge that the government is not the sole source of political violence in Chile. We felt it was important that a resolution on Chile recognize the negative impact of terrorism. We voted against the resolution only after we were unable to obtain sufficient amendments to the text to allay these fundamental concerns.

The Honorable
James E. Jeffords,
House of Representatives.

In seeking to promote human rights and democracy in Chile, we consider it important to be vocal in deploring terrorist violence, just as we are outspoken in deploring violence by theChilean government. As Pope John Paul II demonstrated in his recent visit to Chile, it is possible to condemn violence from all sources without providing the government justification for human rights abuses.

There has been no retreat from our vocal support for democracy and human rights in Chile. We took the initiative to propose a resolution on Chile this year in the UN Human Rights Commission, just as we did last March. Through persistent diplomatic efforts we were able to obtain improvements in an unbalanced Chile resolution circulated by Mexico; and to reach agreement on a proposal for eliminating discriminatory treatment of Chile under a separate agenda item. We succeeded in revising the text so that it would deplore "continued acts of extreme violence from all quarters." In view of the improvements we obtained, despite flaws in the text, we joined the consensus in approving the resolution.

We continue to work to encourage progress across the board in Chile. Recent months have seen encouraging efforts by the Chilean government to address some longstanding problems, such as political exile. Government security forces have recently agreed with the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) to allow visits by ICRC doctors to most prisoners. An opposition newspaper has appeared. The government has begun to reestablish voter registries and enacted a law which permits political parties to gain legal recognition. While Chile's 1980 constitution calls for a single-candidate presidential plebiscite in 1989, rather than free elections, these measures help ensure broad discussion of prospects of the possibility of amending that constitution to permit free elections by 1989, as most opposition groups and many government supporters have advocated.

Despite these positive changes, serious human rights problems such as torture have continued. Moreover, President Pinochet gives every indication of wishing to continue in office beyond 1989, and has resisted replacement of the plebiscite with an open election.

The aforementioned steps, however, can help create the type of atmosphere conducive to a return to full democracy in Chile. We hope that these measures are followed up by greater relaxation of restrictions on individual liberties and by decisive steps to end human rights abuses. We will continue to strive to encourage human rights progress and a peaceful return to democracy in Chile.

Elliott Abrams

SUBJECT: Weisfeiler Case

I had the opportunity to mention the Weisfeiler disappearance briefly to General Stange April 7, the first time I had discussed the case with him. He seemed reasonably familiar with it, saying he knew the file was very thick, that the Carabineros had deployed helicopters and police dogs in search of Weisfeiler and that to his knowledge three investigations had been carried out at different times. I told him that I had read all the material we had and could make no real sense out of it in terms of coming to any clear conclusion as to what might have happened, save it seemed to me that there existed a possiblity that Weisfeiler had not been drowned in the river. Stange said he, too, was puzzled. He knew that out consul general and representatives of our military attache office had been talking to some of his staff recently and he wanted to continue to cooperate in any way he could. He would give instructions the next day to his subordinates to be certain that cooperation was forthcoming. When I mentioned that we felt there were some "discrepancies," he asked that we be sure to point those out. I said I knew that the assistant army attache would be in touch again with General Portillo and would cover those points. I also mentioned that at some stage I might want to talk further to Stange myself, and he said I should feel free to do so whenever I thought it would be useful.

SUBJECT: and Unresolved Judicial Cases passed on the following information for me to use as best I could.

learned from Air Force General Vicente Rodriguez (no friend of his, but well plugged into the Army and willing to talk, according to) the following:

The several AGECH professors who had been detained by the then since abolished Carabineros organization DICOMAR (not the three who had had their throats cut) were kept in a house on 18 September street in a basement room. Their presence had been confirmed by police dogs who had picked up the trail, but then the exterior stairway leading to the area had been filled in and blocked over. At the time, the fresh cement was evident. also referred to a woman, but it was not clear who she was (perhaps the owner of the house) who could verify what had happened as well. He said he had not passed this information to General Stange, because Stange could do nothing from the inside. The present prosecutor who was handling the case, Munoz, had been told by Justice Minister Rosende to do nothing about it but mark time. knew from Rodriguez that a Carabineros official who had, according to the press, been interviewed by Munoz could if investigated further lead the prosecutor to more information, including the sort of thing he had just told me. All that, in turn, would provide leads to the murder of the three communists and to the arrest and prosecution of Col. Fontaine and other DICOMAR officials involved. In turn, they had the goods on some officials in the Army who had been involved in the murder several years earlier of labor leader Tucapel Jimenez and were using that information as blackmail to keep themselves from being prosecuted seriously.

The Department of State refers to the Embassy of Chile's diplomatic note of February 11, 1987 concerning the lawsuit of Denegri v. Republic of Chile, Case No. 86-3085, in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, which requested that the Department of State transmit this Embassy's note to the court. The Department also refers to subsequent meetings between the Department and Embassy officials in which the Department asked the Government of Chile to reconsider this request and to the Embassy's later confirmation of the request.

In response to the request of the Embassy, the Department has transmitted the note and annexed Memorandum of Law to the court. The Department made this transmittal without any formal filing by it in the case.

The Department wishes to reiterate points it made in meetings with Embassy officials. Under United States law, a court is not required to consider a diplomatic note transmitted to it through diplomatic channels. Alternatively, the court might consider that the Embassy's note and annexed Memorandum of Law constitute an "appearance" by the Government of Chile in the case, which could prejudice or forfeit any subsequent opportunity for the Government of Chile to present its legal position to the court by its legal counsel.

Consistent with the advice the Department has given other foreign governments, the Department urges the Government of Chile to engage United States counsel to advise it and to enter an appearance before the court. Under the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, a foreign state named as a defendant in an action before a United States court must assert any defenses, including those of sovereign immunity, directly to the court before which the suit is pending. The function of making determinations concerning sovereign immunity and other defenses is vested solely in the courts. Neither the Department of State nor other political authorities of the United States are authorized by law to decide whether a foreign state is entitled to immunity or to other defenses; nor can the United States Government present such defenses to the court. Thus, to protect its interests, a foreign state wishing to assert the defense of sovereign immunity or other defense must present any such defenses to the court. It would be advisable for the Government of Chile to consult with its attorney in the United States.

Dear Mr. Young:

Thank you for your letter of March 24 concerning U.S. efforts regarding the human rights situation in Chile.

The U.S. Government supports a peaceful transition to democracy and encourages greater respect for human rights in Chile. There are some who believe that moving too fast now toward democracy in Chile may jeopardize the prospects for a stable future in that country. Progressing too slowly, however, may discourage hopes for the democratic future held by a vast majority of Chileans. We are deeply concerned that the absence of a clear movement toward democratization will contribute to the polarization and radicalization of Chilean society, thereby aiding the communists. Of course, the terms and timetable for a democratic transition are matters that only the Chilean people can determine.

The United States is concerned over the human rights conditions in Chile, and we have communicated our views both publicly and privately to the Chilean Government and the international community. When Assistant Secretary of State Elliott Abrams appeared before the House Banking Subcommittee on Development and International Financial Institutions on July 30, 1986, he testified in detail regarding the serious, persistent problems in Chile in the area of human rights.

Mr. Abrams specifically referred in his testimony to the tragic burnings of Rodrigo Rojas and Carmen Quintana, calling for those guilty of this terrible crime to be brought to justice. The U.S. Government has taken a strong stand in advocating a complete and impartial investigation of the tragedy. We have made our position clear to the Chilean Government, and will continue to do so. A Chilean military court is investigating the incident and an army officer is under indictment.

Don Young,

Regarding U.S. voting on multilateral development bank loans for Chile, the United States makes its decisions on a case-by-case basis, taking into account all relevant economic, financial, and statutory considerations. The United States abstained at the World Bank on a structural adjustment loan voted on November 20, 1986. We were joined in this abstention by several other countries which had voted in favor of such loans in the past. There is little evidence that a U.S. negative vote would have been joined by these countries. Since that time, we have also abstained on a loan at the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) and voted in favor of a basic human needs loan at the IDB for Chile. We abstained on the two non-basic human needs loans as a way of registering our strong concerns about persistent and serious human rights problems in Chile.

The United States provides Chile with no bilateral economic assistance except for a small humanitarian assistance program which largely provides powdered milk to the poor -- distributed, in part, through voluntary church agencies.

What we seek and hope to encourage through our policy is for Chile to participate in the tide of democracy sweeping the Western Hemisphere. Thus, while we greatly value and commend the considerable economic freedom that has been established in Chile, we must also continue to voice our firm conviction that political freedom and respect for individual rights are indispensable to the establishment and long-term durability of free societies.

I am enclosing copies of the 1986 Human Rights Report on Chile and the U.S.-sponsored UN Human Rights Commission resolution on human rights in Chile. As you may know, the UN resolution was unanimously passed in March, 1986. I believe this information will be useful to you in responding to your constituents.

Sincerely,

by

J. Edward Fox
Assistant Secretary

1. (C) SUMMARY: UN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FERNANDO VOLIO VISITED CHILE FOR TEN DAYS, CALLING ON DIVERSE POLITICAL AND HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS. A HUNGER STRIKE AMONG "POLITICAL" PRISONERS COINCIDED WITH THE TRIP, WITH THE RESULT THAT VOLIO CALLED ON NUMEROUS DETENTION FACILITIES TO ASK THE STRIKERS TO END THEIR PROTEST. THE GOC HAS, AT TIMES, FOUND VOLIO'S RELATIVE MODERATION AND STRONG ANTI-COMMUNISM USEFUL TO COUNTER ATTACKS FROM MORE EXTREME HUMAN RIGHTS ADVOCATES. IT FINDS HIS VISITS A MIXED BLESSING, HOWEVER, SINCE HE RECEIVED HEAVY PUBLICITY FOR FORTHRIGHT CRITICISM OF THE LIMITED ROLE OF THE COURTS, GOC NON-

2. U) UN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FERNANDO VOLIO, ACCOMPANIED BY THREE ASSISTANTS, MET WITH REPRESENTATIVES OF ALL FACTIONS DURING HIS MARCH 21-30 TRIP TO CHILE. DURING

4. (U) DURING THE COURSE OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR'S VISIT, A HUNGER STRIKE BY A LARGE GROUP OF "POLITICAL" PRISONERS ENTERED ITS FOURTH WEEK (REFTEL B). A SIMILAR STRIKE, THOUGH ON A SMALLER SCALE, OCCURRED DURING VOLIO'S PREVIOUS FACT-FINDING MISSION IN DECEMBER, 1985. UNDOUBTEDLY, THE CURRENT HUNGER STRIKE WAS TIMED TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE PUBLICITY ACCORDED NOT ONLY VOLIO'S PRESENCE BUT ALSO THAT OF THE POPE. VOLIO WAS ABLE TO VISIT A NUMBER OF PRISONS IN SANTIAGO AS WELL AS IN CONCEPCION AND VALPARAISO. HE TALKED WITH SOME OF THE STRIKERS AND LATER DESCRIBED HIMSELF AS A "MEDIATOR" WIT ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

THE GOVERNMENT. ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS HE CALLED UPON THE STRIKERS TO END THE CAMPAIGN. (FYI: THE FOLLOWING WEEK, ON APRIL 3, IN RESPONSE TO A PAPAL APPEAL, THE STRIKE WA OFFICIALLY ENDED.)

5. (C) AFTER VOLIO'S DEPARTURE, IT WAS REVEALED THAT HE HAD PASSED ON TO THE GOVERNMENT-SUPPORTED HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION THE NAMES OF 29 PEOPLE CURRENTLY BARRED FROM RETURNING TO CHILE. ALTHOUGH NEITHER VOLIO NOR THE COMMISSION WOULD REVEAL THE NAMES ON VOLIO'S LIST, SANTIAGO DAILY "EL MERCURIO" PUBLISHED THE PURPORTED LIST. BESIDES SUCH "SAFE" NAMES AS ERICH SCHNAKE AND JOSE ZALAQUETT (A STRANGE INCLUSION, AS THE GOC ALLOWED ZALAQUETT TO RETURN A YEAR AGO), THE LIST INCLUDES A LARGE NUMBER OF EXILES ASSOCIATED WITH THE NON-DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION, SUCH AS ANSELMO SULE (RADICAL PARTY), FORMER SENATOR JULIETA

CAMPUSANA (COMMUNIST PARTY), ALLENDE'S MINISTER OF JUSTICE SERGIO INSUNZA BARRIOS (COMMUNIST PARTY), ALFREDO JOIGNANT (SOCIALIST PARTY), HEAD OF THE INVESTIGATIONS POLICE AND INTENDENTE OF SANTIAGO UNDER ALLENDE, AND JORGE INSUNZA BECKER (PCCH).

6. (C) COSTA RICAN AMBASSADOR HAD PLANNED TO GIVE A DINNER AT WHICH VOLIO COULD TALK WITH U.S., BRITISH AND FRG AMBASSADORS. VOLIO WENT TO CONCEPCION, HOWEVER, ON THE DAY THE DINNER HAD BEEN SCHEDULED, AND DESPITE EMBASSY OFFERS TO SEE VOLIO AT SOME OTHER TIME, NO ATTEMPT WAS MADE TO RESCHEDULE.

Dear Mr. Kolbe:

We have received your letter of April 7, 1987 concerning a negative vote cast by the United States last fall against a United Nations General Assembly resolution on the human rights situation in Chile. Your letter was on behalf of your constituent [redacted]

In viewing our vote last fall, and in considering our decision to join consensus on a Chilean human rights resolution at the United Nations Human Rights Commission in Geneva during March of this year, it is important to realize that our positions in international organizations concerning Chile are determined with US support for democracy and human rights in Chile very much in mind. We take our actions in these bodies seriously, and seek to be constructive. Accordingly, we do not vote for resolutions unless we consider them sound.

There were significant parts of the resolution on Chile presented last year that reflected our own assessment of the human rights situation in that country. But, taken as a whole, we considered it to be seriously flawed in not reflecting accurately the constructive work of the UN Special Rapporteur, former Costa Rican Foreign Minister Fernando Volio, and in not recognizing the negative impact of terrorism on the human rights situation and the effort to return Chile to democracy. We voted against the resolution only after we were unable to obtain sufficient amendments to the text to allay these fundamental concerns.

There has been no retreat from our vocal support for democracy and human rights in Chile. We took the initiative to propose a resolution on Chile this year in the UN Human Rights Commission, just as we did last year. Through persistent diplomatic efforts we were able to obtain improvements in an unbalanced resolution circulated by Mexico, and to reach agreement on a proposal for eliminating discriminatory treatment of Chile under a separate agenda item. We succeeded in revising the text so that it would deplore "continued acts of extreme violence from all quarters." In view of the improvements we obtained, despite flaws in the text, we joined the consensus in approving the resolution.

The Honorable
Jim Kolbe,
House of Representatives.

We will continue to encourage human rights progress and a peaceful return to democracy in Chile. The United States Government is second to none in pressing these concerns. In contrast with most nations, we buttress our words with actions and do not vote for seriously flawed resolutions which undermine the very progress we seek.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

J. Edward Fox

Volio, like the majority of the Chilean democratic opposition, had acknowledged that the assassination attempt against General Pinochet last September and the discovery of communist arsenals a month earlier had helped to impede the return of democracy in Chile. The UN resolution did not acknowledge that the government is not the sole source of political violence in Chile. We felt it was important that a resolution on Chile recognize the negative impact of terrorism. In addition, positive steps taken by the government and mentioned in Volio's report were not acknowledged fairly. We consider it important that, whenever possible, progress should be recognized in order to encourage more progress in the future. We voted against the resolution only after we were unable to obtain sufficient amendments to the text to allay these fundamental concerns.

In seeking to promote human rights and democracy in Chile, we consider it important to be vocal in deploring terrorist violence, just as we are outspoken in deploring violence by the Chilean government. As Pope John Paul II demonstrated in his recent visit to Chile, it is possible to condemn violence from all sources without providing the government justification for human rights abuses.

There has been no retreat from our vocal support for democracy and human rights in Chile. We took the initiative to propose a resolution on Chile this year in the UN Human Rights Commission, just as we did last March. In view of the improvements we obtained, despite flaws in the text, we joined the consensus in approving the resolution.

We continue to work to encourage progress across the board in Chile. Recent months have seen encouraging efforts by the Chilean government to address some longstanding problems, such as political exile. Government security forces have recently agreed with the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) to allow visits by ICRC doctors to most prisoners. An opposition newspaper has appeared. The government has begun to reestablish voter registries and enacted a law which permits political parties to gain legal recognition. While Chile's 1980 constitution calls for a single-candidate presidential plebiscite in 1989, rather than free elections, these measures help ensure broad discussion of prospects of the possibility of amending that constitution to permit free elections by 1989, as most opposition groups and many government supporters have advocated.

Despite these positive changes, serious human rights problems such as torture have continued. Moreover, President Pinochet gives every indication of wishing to continue in office beyond 1989, and has resisted replacement of the plebiscite with an open election.

The aforementioned steps, however, can help create the type of atmosphere conducive to a return to full democracy in Chile. We hope that these measures are followed up by greater relaxation of restrictions on individual liberties and by decisive steps to end human rights abuses. We will continue

Dear [redacted]

Your letters of March 30, 1987 to President Reagan and Secretary of State Shultz have been referred to me for response. In your letters, written on behalf of Chilean Anselmo Sule, you request assistance for the return of Chilean exiles to their country. In addition to Mr. Sule, your inquiry expressed specific concern over the cases of Hugo Miranda, Carlos Morales and Orlando Cantuarias.

United States policy toward Chile is to support the restoration of democracy and to encourage greater respect for human rights. As part of this policy we have consistently called on Chilean authorities to permit all exiles, including those you have mentioned, to return to their homeland. I am enclosing copies of the 1986 State Department Human Rights Report, which addresses the question of exiles in some depth, as well as the March 1986 US-sponsored UN resolution on human rights, which calls upon Chile to allow the return of all exiles. The US also joined consensus on the March 1987 UN resolution on Chile which calls for an end to the practice of exile.

Though the Chilean Government has made considerable progress since the start of the year on the exile problem, reducing the number of those prohibited to return to Chile from more than 3500 to under one thousand, the US has continued to advocate an end to the practice of exile.

I hope the foregoing has been of value to you.

Sincerely,

Richard B. Howard

E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: GT, XK, PREL, OVIP (HABIB, PHILIP C.)
SUBJECT: AMBASSADOR HABIB'S MEETING WITH GUATEMALAN PRESIDENT CEREZO

1. ~~SECRET~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: AMBASSADOR HABIB STRESSED THE NEED FOR THE FOUR CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES TO UNITE AT ESQUIPULAS AND FOCUS ON THE KEY ISSUE OF DEMOCRATIZATION. PRESIDENT CEREZO AGREED FULLY AND SAID HE WAS ACTIVELY SEEKING TO PROMOTE UNITY. HE WAS DEVELOPING AN IDEA TO EXPAND THE ARIAS PROPOSAL'S CONCEPT OF THE NATIONAL COMMISSION; HE WOULD HAVE IT INCLUDE ALL ELEMENTS OF THE OPPOSITION--I.E., THE DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE--AND WORK CONCURRENTLY TOWARD ACHIEVING A CEASE-FIRE AND A POLITICAL OPENING. CEREZO SAID MEXICAN PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID ACCEPTED THAT THE CENTRAL AMERICANS HAD THE LEAD IN THE NEGOTIATING PROCESS BUT WANTED TO KEEP CONTADORA INVOLVED--EVEN TO

3. ON APRIL 28, AMBASSADORS HABIB AND PIEDRA MET WITH GUATEMALAN PRESIDENT CEREZO TO DISCUSS THE NEGOTIATING TRACK AND THE JUNE ESQUIPULAS MEETING. HABIB EXPRESSED

HIS PLEASURE THAT THE DEMOCRACIES WERE NOW CONSULTING WITH EACH OTHER. HABIB SAID THAT COSTA RICAN PRESIDENT

UNCLASSIFIED

ARIAS DID NOT WANT ANY FUNDAMENTAL CHANGES WHICH WOULD ALTER THE ESSENCE OF THE PROPOSALS, BUT FOREIGN MINISTER MADRIGAL HAD STATED THAT HE WAS HOPEFUL THAT THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES COULD REACH AN AGREEMENT. HABIB STRESSED THAT IT WAS ESSENTIAL THAT THEY ACHIEVE UNITY; IT WAS CLEAR THE SANDINISTAS WOULD SEEK TO DIVIDE THEM AT ESQUIPULAS. HABIB NOTED THAT THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES AGREED ON THE ISSUE OF DEMOCRATIZATION, WHICH WAS THE HEART OF THE ARIAS PROPOSALS, SO THEY SHOULD BE ABLE TO WORK IN HARMONY AND COME UP WITH A UNIFIED POSITION THAT STRESSED DEMOCRATIZATION.

4. RECALLING THAT IN MARCH CEREZO HAD NOTED THAT NICARAGUAN PRESIDENT ORTEGA WAS FEELING PRESSURE, HABIB STATED THAT THE PRESSURE ON THE SANDINISTAS WAS CONTINUING TO MOUNT. THIS INCLUDED MILITARY PRESSURE FROM THE RESISTANCE AS WELL AS INTERNAL PRESSURE BECAUSE OF THE MISERABLE ECONOMIC CONDITIONS. HABIB POINTED OUT THAT ANOTHER ELEMENT OF PRESSURE WAS THAT CREATED BY NICARAGUA'S DEMOCRATIC NEIGHBORS WHO WERE DEMANDING POLITICAL CHANGE.

5. CEREZO AGREED FULLY ON THE NEED FOR UNITY AND TO FOCUS ON DEMOCRACY. HE INSISTED THAT THE FOUR

SECRET

DEMOCRACIES MUST DEVELOP A STRATEGY AND WORK OUT THE SPECIFICS OF THE PROPOSALS. HE SAID THAT HE SOUGHT TO DETERMINE WHAT DIFFERENCES THE DEMOCRACIES HAD ABOUT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS AND THEN TO REACH AGREEMENT ON THESE POINTS. HE HAD MET WITH DUARTE AND HAD TALKED ON THE TELEPHONE WITH ARIAS AND AZCONA. HE HAD BE UNABLE TO ARRANGE A MEETING WITH AZCONA, BUT STILL SOUGHT ONE; HE WOULD EITHER GO TO HONDURAS OR INVITE AZCONA TO GUATEMALA. HE WAS SENDING FOREIGN MINISTER QUINONES TO COSTA RICA ON MAY 5. CEREZO BELIEVED THAT ALL FOUR DEMOCRACIES AGREED ON THE NEED TO PUSH THE SANDINISTAS TOWARD A POLITICAL OPENING.

6. CEREZO AGREED WITH HABIB THAT SALVADORAN PRESIDENT DUARTE HAD SPECIAL PROBLEMS BECAUSE OF HIS INTERNAL SITUATION AND THAT DUARTE'S LEGITIMATE CONCERNS MUST BE TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT. HE SAID DUARTE'S MOST DIFFICULT PROBLEM WITH THE ARIAS PROPOSALS WAS THE CEASE-FIRE. CEREZO EXPLAINED A CEASE-FIRE COULD NOT BE SIMPLY DECLARED; TO WORK, IT MUST BE NEGOTIATED BY THE COMBATANTS. CEREZO NOTED THAT A CEASE-FIRE WAS ALSO A PROBLEM FOR THE USG, BECAUSE THE USG USED PRESSURE FROM THE RESISTANCE TO OPEN POLITICAL SPACE IN NICARAGUA.

UNCLASSIFIED

7. CEREZO SAID HE WAS CONTEMPLATING A FORMULA WHICH HE WOULD DISCUSS WITH THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES BEFORE

UNCLASSIFIED

ESQUIPULAS. HE WOULD PROPOSE TO MAKE THE CEASE-FIRE NOT AN IMMEDIATE OBJECTIVE BUT RATHER A GOAL FOR THE FUTURE. THE NATIONAL COMMISSION DESCRIBED IN THE ARIAS PROPOSALS WOULD BE CHARGED WITH NEGOTIATING THE CEASE-FIRE. ALL ELEMENTS OF THE OPPOSITION, INCLUDING THE DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE, WOULD BE INCLUDED IN THE NATIONAL COMMISSION. THIS APPROACH COULD BE USED IN NICARAGUA, EL SALVADOR, AND EVEN GUATEMALA. HABIB EXPRESSED HIS INTEREST IN THIS CONCEPT AND PRESSED FOR MORE DETAILS. CEREZO EXPLAINED THAT THE NATIONAL COMMISSION WOULD

SIMULTANEOUSLY WORK TO ACHIEVE TWO PRINCIPAL GOALS: A POLITICAL OPENING AND A CEASE-FIRE. CEREZO EXPLAINED THAT IT WAS IMPERATIVE THAT THE SANDINISTAS NOT BE ALLOWED TO DELAY TALKS WITH THE RESISTANCE.

8. HABIB ASKED IF THE SANDINISTAS HAD INDICATED THAT THEY WOULD ACCEPT SUCH A PLAN. CERERZO REPLIED THAT THEY HAD NOT; THE SANDINISTAS WANTED AN AGREEMENT ON ENDING AID TO THE RESISTANCE AND ON THEIR SECURITY, BUT THEY WERE NOT PARTICULARLY CONCERNED ABOUT A CEASE-FIRE. HABIB NOTED THAT THE RESISTANCE MUST STILL RECEIVE NON-LETHAL SUPPLIES SUCH AS FOOD AND MEDICINE IF A CEASE-FIRE WERE REACHED. CEREZO REPLIED THAT ANY CEASE-FIRE MUST BE "IN PLACE," ADDING THAT THE RESUPPLY QUESTION COULD CERTAINLY BE OPEN TO DISCUSSION.

9. CEREZO SAID THAT IT WAS NECESSARY TO INVOLVE THE SANDINISTAS IN THE DISCUSSIONS. THE DEMOCRACIES MUST SHOW THAT THEY ARE WORKING FOR PEACE AND PRODUCE A GOOD PLAN. IF THE SANDINISTAS THEN REJECT THE PLAN, THEY WILL BE TO BLAME. HE HAD NOT HAD FURTHER CONTACT WITH THE SANDINISTAS SINCE HIS VISIT TO MANAGUA IN LATE MARCH, BUT HE PLANNED TO SEND A WORKING-LEVEL DELEGATION.

10. HABIB SAID THAT ARIAS WAS CONCERNED THAT THE SANDINISTAS WOULD SEEK TO EXPAND THE AGENDA AT ESQUIPULAS. THEY WOULD INTRODUCE NEW SUBJECTS IN ORDER TO GENERATE A LENGTHY AND NON-CONCLUSIVE DISCUSSION. ARIAS WAS ADAMANT THAT HIS PROPOSALS BE THE ONLY AGENDA AT ESQUIPULAS. CEREZO ASSERTED THAT HE WANTED TO GIVE ARIAS A SUCCESS, AND HE AGREED THAT THE DISCUSSIONS SHOULD CENTER ON THE ARIAS PROPOSALS; HIS WORDS FELL SHORT OF A CONCRETE COMMITMENT NOT TO PRESENT HIS OWN

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

UNCLASSIFIED

IDEAS, HOWEVER. HE RECOGNIZED THAT ANY REVISIONS IN THE ARIAS PROPOSALS WOULD TEND TO GIVE THE SANDINISTAS A

UNCLASSIFIED

PRETEXT FOR REJECTING THEM AND SAID THAT FOR THAT REASON

THE DEMOCRACIES SHOULD SEEK MINIMAL CHANGES.

11. HABIB SAID THAT HE HAD SUGGESTED TO ARIAS THAT THE TIMETABLE FOR THE POLITICAL OPENING BE ADVANCED. IN PART, THIS COULD BE DONE WITHOUT EVEN CHANGING THE LANGUAGE OF THE PROPOSALS. FOR EXAMPLE, WHERE THE PROPOSALS CALLED FOR CERTAIN ACTIONS "WITHIN 60 DAYS," DURING THE NEGOTIATIONS THE DEMOCRACIES COULD INTERPRET THIS TO MEAN THAT THE ACTIONS SHOULD BE TAKEN MUCH EARLIER. HABIB QUESTIONED THE WISDOM OF WAITING UNTIL 1990 FOR NEW ELECTIONS IN NICARAGUA. HE MENTIONED THAT THE FEBRUARY PLAN OF SEVEN PARTIES OF THE NICARAGUAN CIVIC OPPOSITION PROPOSED NEW ELECTIONS IN ONE YEAR. HE ADDED THAT IT WAS ALSO IMPORTANT TO LOOK AT THE DETAILS OF THE ELECTIONS; FOR EXAMPLE, THE SANDINISTAS DOMINATED THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION. CEREZO SAID THAT A GENUINE POLITICAL OPENING WAS NEEDED AND THAT THE ELECTIONS FOR THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT WERE PART OF THIS. THESE WOULD LED TO ELECTIONS FOR MUNICIPAL LEADERS. HE AGREED THAT ATTENTION MUST BE PAID TO THE DETAILS IN ORDER TO MAKE THE ELECTIONS MEANINGFUL, AND HE INDICATED HE WOULD CONSIDER THE ISSUE OF ADVANCING THE ELECTION SCHEDULE.

12. CEREZO STATED THAT HE HAD MET WITH THE CIVIC OPPOSITION AND WAS SEEKING TO HELP THEM ACHIEVE UNITY. HABIB ASKED IF CEREZO HAD HAD CONTACTS WITH THE DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE. CEREZO REPLIED THAT UNO OFFICIALS HAD RECENTLY COME TO GUATEMALA BUT HE HAD BEEN UNABLE TO RECEIVE THEM. INSTEAD, THEY MET WITH THE LEADER OF THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY. UNO DIRECTORATE MEMBER PEDRO JOAQUIN CHAMORRO WOULD BE COMING SOON, HOWEVER, AND CEREZO PLANNED TO SEE HIM.

13. HABIB ASKED HOW MEXICAN PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID HAD RESPONDED DURING HIS RECENT TRIP TO GUATEMALA TO THE FACT THAT THE CENTRAL AMERICANS HAD TAKEN THE LEAD AWAY FROM CONTADORA. CEREZO RESPONDED THAT DE LA MADRID RECOGNIZED THAT THE CENTRAL AMERICANS WERE THE IMPORTANT ACTORS IN THE PROCESS. DE LA MADRID WANTED CONTADORA TO REMAIN INVOLVED, HOWEVER; HE WAS PROPOSING THAT CONTADORA BE PRESENT AT ESQUIPULAS AND OPEN THE MEETING IN ORDER TO MAINTAIN THE SPIRIT OF CONTADORA. FOREIGN SECRETARY SEPULVEDA HAD WANTED TO GO EVEN FURTHER AND HAVE CONTADORA BE ACTUAL OBSERVERS DURING THE DISCUSSIONS AMONG THE PRESIDENTS. DE LA MADRID HAD OVERRULED HIM, INSISTING THAT MEXICO NEEDED TO EMPHASIZE ITS NON-INTERVENTION. DE LA MADRID DID WANT ANY AGREEMENT THAT THE FIVE CENTRAL AMERICANS REACHED AT ESQUIPULAS TO

BE SPONSORED BY CONTADORA. CEREZO REMARKED THAT DE LA

MADRID DID NOT WANT THE USG TO INTERVENE IN NICARAGUA BUT AT THE SAME TIME DID NOT LIKE THE SANDINISTAS LINKS TO CUBA AND THE SOVIET UNION. DE LA MADRID HAD SOUGHT TO CONVINCE CEREZO THAT MEXICO WAS NOT BIASED IN FAVOR OF NICARAGUA. HABIB RESPONDED THAT MEXICO'S ACTIONS IN CONTADORA FOR YEARS SHOWED THIS NOT TO BE THE CASE. CEREZO AGREED WITH HABIB THAT SUPPORT FOR DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA WAS NOT INTERVENTION AND SAID HE HAD MADE PRECISELY THIS POINT TO DE LA MADRID. DEMOCRACY WAS THE MAIN ISSUE, CEREZO SAID, AND IT WAS THE MAIN DIFFERENCE BETWEEN GUATEMALA AND MEXICO. HE ADDED THAT BECAUSE OF ITS OWN POLITICAL REALITIES, THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT DID NOT WANT TO FOCUS ON THIS ISSUE.

14. HABIB SAID HE WOULD RETURN TO CENTRAL AMERICA AFTER

THE JUNE 11 FOREIGN MINISTERS MEETING, AND THAT IN THE MEANTIME HE LOOKED FORWARD TO SEEING CEREZO IN WASHINGTON IN MAY. CEREZO COMMENTED THAT HE WAS LOOKING FORWARD TO HIS TRIP TO THE UNITED STATES. HE WOULD SEEK TO MAINTAIN HIS BALANCE AND WOULD BE ON GUARD AGAINST THOSE IN THE PRESS WHO WOULD TRY TO PROVOKE HIM INTO SAYING SOMETHING AT ODDS WITH USG POLICY. SHULTZ

E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: PREL, ES, XK, OVIP (HABIB, PHILIP C.)
SUBJECT: AMBASSADOR HABIB'S MEETING WITH SALVADORAN PRESIDENT DUARTE

1. ~~SECRET~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. AMBASSADOR HABIB MET PRESIDENT DUARTE APRIL 28 AND URGED STRONG AND ACTIVE EFFORTS TO REACH A SOUND, UNIFIED POSITION AMONG THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES. DUARTE DOUBTED SUCH UNITY COULD BE ACHIEVED AND SAID HE DID NOT FEEL ABLE TO ASSUME NOW A STRONG LEADERSHIP ROLE TO SEEK SUCH UNITY. HE WILL FIGHT ADAMANTLY FOR DEMOCRACY AT ESQUIPULAS. HE CONSIDERS THE ARIAS PROPOSALS SO DEFECTIVE AND INCAPABLE OF IMPLEMENTATION AT THIS TIME THAT -- DESPITE SALVADORAN RESERVATIONS -- HE COULD SIGN THEM IMMEDIATELY, AS COULD THE SANDINISTAS. HE BELIEVES ARIAS IS AIMING TO OBTAIN SANDINISTA AGREEMENT TO HIS PLAN, AND THAT THIS EXPLAINS HIS

RESISTANCE TO CHANGES WHICH WOULD APPEAR TO BE CONSISTENT WITH HIS STATED INTENTION TO "PUSH THE SANDINISTAS AGAINST THE WALL" ON DEMOCRACY. ARIAS, HE FEELS, IS POSITIONING HIMSELF FOR A POST-CONTRA POLICY ENVIRONMENT DOMINATED BY THE U.S. DEMOCRATIC PARTY. CEREZO, TOO, IS A "PRACTICAL MAN" WHO IS TRYING TO DEAL WITH THE

SANDINISTAS, ALTHOUGH CEREZO'S COMMITMENT TO SUPPORTING AND PRESERVING DEMOCRACY IN THE OTHER FOUR COUNTRIES IS

UNCLASSIFIED

UNSHAKABLE. END SUMMARY.

3. ON APRIL 28, AMB. CORR HOSTED A LUNCH FOR PRES. DUARTE AND AMB. HABIB. ALSO PRESENT WERE FONMIN ACEVEDO, VICE FONMIN MAZA MARTELLI, DCM, POLCOUNS, POLOFF AND MEMBERS OF HABIB'S TEAM.

4. DUARTE BEGAN BY INQUIRING ABOUT NEWS REPORTS THAT THE COSTA RICANS HAD STATED THAT AMB. HABIB HAD OFFERED "COMPLETE SUPPORT" TO THE ARIAS PROPOSALS. HABIB UNDERSCORED THAT USG'S PRIVATE AS WELL AS PUBLIC POSITION WAS TO "WELCOME" PROPOSALS, BUT THAT WE BY NO MEANS APPROVED THEM UNRESERVEDLY. HABIB REPORTED ON HIS CONVERSATIONS WITH ARIAS THE DAY BEFORE, EMPHASIZING THAT THE USG CONTINUED TO INSIST ON THE GOCR'S NEED TO ADDRESS ISSUES THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES VIEWED AS IMPORTANT, IN ORDER TO REACH AGREEMENT AMONG THE FOUR. HABIB URGED THAT EL SALVADOR MAKE CLEAR ITS CONCERNS, WITH SPECIFIC PROPOSALS, SO THAT PLANNED JUNE 11 FONMINS MEETING WOULD BE SUBSTANTIVE AND PRODUCTIVE.

5. THE DIPLOMATIC PROCESS.

SECRET

HABIB URGED THE IMPORTANCE OF WORKING ALL OUT TO ACHIEVE UNITY AMONG THE FOUR AT ESQUIPULAS, BUT DUARTE EXPRESSED DOUBT UNITY COULD BE ACHIEVED AND INDICATED AN INTENT TO HOLD BACK FOR THE TIME BEING. IN RESPONSE TO DUARTE'S COMPLAINT THAT IT WAS STILL NOT CLEAR WHAT THE FIVE COUNTRIES MIGHT AGREE ON, HABIB REPLIED THAT THE FOUR (OR EVEN THE THREE) MUST AGREE FIRST ON WHAT THEY WANTED BEFORE IT WAS POSSIBLE TO STATE WHAT MIGHT EMERGE FROM ESQUIPULAS. HE OFFERED TO RETURN AFTER THE JUNE 11 FONMIN MEETING TO HELP BRING THE FOUR TOGETHER ON SPECIFICS TO THE EXTENT THEY HAD NOT BEEN ABLE TO AGREE FULLY BY THAT TIME. HE AGAIN STATED THAT THE MOST IMPORTANT GOAL IS TO KEEP ATTENTION FOCUSED ON THE DEMOCRATIZATION CORE OF THE ARIAS PROPOSALS, AND SUGGESTED THAT IF THIS OCCURRED ESQUIPULAS MIGHT WELL PRODUCE A PRODUCTIVE IDEOLOGICAL CONFRONTATION BETWEEN ARIAS AND ORTEGA. DUARTE AGREED THAT THERE WOULD BE A CONFLICT BETWEEN ARIAS AND ORTEGA, ADDING, HOWEVER, THAT THE REAL CLASH AT ESQUIPULAS WOULD BE BETWEEN HIMSELF AND ORTEGA.

6. DUARTE'S POSTURE AT ESQUIPULAS

UNCLASSIFIED

DUARTE CONFIRMED HE WILL ATTEND ESQUIPULAS. HE INSISTED HE DOES NOT INTEND TO LEAD ANY FIGHTS. HE WILL HOLD OUT

UNCLASSIFIED

ADAMANTLY ON DEMOCRACY AND FOR EL SALVADOR'S INTERESTS, BUT SEES NO USEFUL LARGER ROLE AT THIS TIME. HE EXPRESSED CONCERN ABOUT HIS OWN DOMESTIC PROBLEMS WITH HIS RIGHT WING, WHICH WISHES HIM NOT TO ATTEND ESQUIPULAS, WITH HIS NEED TO MAINTAIN SUPPORT IN THE U.S. CONGRESS, AND AT THE MANIFEST UNREADINESS OF THE OTHER PRESIDENTS TO TAKE STRONG POSITIONS. HE FEELS UNABLE TO BEAR THAT BURDEN AT THIS TIME THAT WOULD RESULT FROM TAKING THE LEAD AND SEEKING ACTIVELY TO UNIFY THE FOUR. HE ALSO BELIEVES ANY FAILURE FOLLOWING A STRONG

~~SECRET~~

SALVADORAN ROLE WILL INEVITABLY BE BLAMED ON HIM, AND ON THE UNITED STATES.

7. SALVADORAN POSITION ON SPECIFICS

ACEVEDO SAID THE FOREIGN MINISTRY'S THINKING FOCUSES ON SALVADORAN INTERESTS "RATHER THAN ON GETTING THE NOBEL PEACE PRIZE," AND THAT ITS DRAFT PROPOSALS ARE DESIGNED TO ACTUALLY ADDRESS AND RESOLVE EL SALVADOR'S PROBLEMS. DUARTE SAID HE WOULD FIGHT ADAMANTLY TO SUPPORT DEMOCRACY AT ESQUIPULAS. IN RESPONSE TO CORR'S QUESTION REGARDING THE ARIAS PROPOSALS RELATING TO AMNESTY, DIALOG, RELEASE OF POLITICAL PRISONERS AND A CEASE-FIRE WITH THE FMLN WHICH WOULD LEAVE IT IN CONTROL OF TERRITORY, DUARTE STATED THAT NONE OF THESE PROVISIONS WERE UNACCEPTABLE SINCE ALL WERE SUBJECTS TO BE COVERED IN NEGOTIATIONS. THE ARIAS PROPOSALS, HOWEVER, MAKE NO PROVISION FOR NEGOTIATIONS AND THUS CANNOT BE IMPLEMENTED. AS A RESULT, "I COULD SIGN THEM TOMORROW."

8. DURABILITY OF U.S. SUPPORT

A QUESTION WAS RAISED WITH RESPECT TO WHAT THE USG WOULD DO IN THE EVENT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS WERE SIGNED BUT -- AFTER TAKING INITIAL STEPS AS REQUIRED -- NICARAGUA THEN FAILED TO COMPLY WITH THE SERIOUS DEMOCRATIZATION ELEMENTS. HABIB SAID AID TO THE NICARAGUAN DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE WOULD BE RESUMED, AND THAT THE SHORT AND PRECISE TIMEFRAMES OF THE ARIAS PROPOSALS WOULD MAKE THIS POLITICALLY FEASIBLE. HE REJECTED THE VIEW, OFTEN ASCRIBED TO COSTA RICA, THAT THE USG WOULD INVADE IN SUCH

UNCLASSIFIED

A CASE, BUT STATED THAT NO U.S. ADMINISTRATION WOULD BE PREPARED TO ACCEPT A COMMUNIST STATE ON THE MAINLAND.

UNCLASSIFIED

DUARTE AGREED ANY ADMINISTRATION WOULD OPPOSE SUCH A

STATE, BUT DOUBTED THE UNITED STATES WOULD WIN SUCH A CONFRONTATION AND THAT THE USG HAD THE CAPACITY TO SUSTAIN SUCH A POLICY.

9. DUARTE'S MEETING WITH CEREZO

HABIB NOTED THAT ARIAS APPEARED MOST CONCERNED ABOUT ATTEMPTS BY CEREZO TO PROPOSE AN ESQUIPULAS AGENDA OTHER THAN THE ARIAS PROPOSALS, AND THAT AZCONA AGREES WITH ARIAS THAT RETAINING FOCUS ON THE ARIAS PROPOSALS WAS HIGHLY DESIRABLE IN ORDER TO AVOID NICARAGUAN DIVERSION FROM THE KEY TOPIC OF DEMOCRATIZATION. DUARTE OFFERED NO VIEW ON THE LIKELIHOOD OF CEREZO'S PROPOSING MATTERS OTHER THAN THE ARIAS PROPOSALS, BUT SUGGESTED CEREZO'S GOAL IS TO GIVE SOMETHING TO EVERYONE: TO ARIAS, HE WOULD GIVE PUBLICITY BY CONCEDING THAT ANY DOCUMENT WOULD BE CALLED THE "ARIAS PLAN." EL SALVADOR WOULD RECEIVE CONCESSIONS ON SECURITY, WHILE HONDURAS WOULD BE SUPPORTED ON ITS CONCERNS ABOUT THE DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE. HE WOULD ADDRESS U.S. NEEDS BY PERMITTING THE RESISTANCE PROGRAM TO CONTINUE AND FINALLY, WOULD MAKE CONCESSIONS TO NICARAGUA ON INTERNAL POLITICAL ISSUES. DUARTE HAD ONLY LISTENED, CONFINING HIMSELF TO STATING HIS INTENTION TO FIGHT FOR DEMOCRACY AT ESQUIPULAS, AND THAT ESQUIPULAS MUST BE VIEWED AS THE BEGINNING OF A PROCESS SINCE IT COULD NOT ITSELF SOLVE THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PROBLEM. DUARTE HAD TURNED DOWN CEREZO'S OFFER TO INFORM HIM WHAT ORTEGA HAD TOLD HIM IN CONFIDENCE ABOUT NICARAGUA'S REACTION TO THE ARIAS PROPOSALS. HE SUSPECTED CEREZO HAD RECEIVED COMMITMENTS FROM NICARAGUA ON THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT AS WELL

AS "COMMUNIST SUPPORT FOR THE CEREZO GOVERNMENT IN UN FORA (CITING THE RECENT ACTION ON THE GUATEMALAN HUMAN RIGHTS RAPPORTEUR AND GENERAL INTERNATIONAL SUPPORT FOR CEREZO'S POLICY OF ACTIVE NEUTRALITY). CEREZO HAD BEEN ABSOLUTELY CLEAR ABOUT HIS SUPPORT FOR SALVADORAN DEMOCRACY. DUARTE FELT CEREZO IS COMMITTED TO SUPPORTING DEMOCRACY FOR THE FOUR, BUT THAT HE IS "PRAGMATIC" AND "KNOWS HE MUST LIVE WITH A COMMUNIST NICARAGUA." CEREZO HAS PRESUMABLY COMMITTED HIMSELF TO MEXICO NOT TO JEOPARDIZE MEXICO'S CENTRAL AMERICA POLICY -- A POSITION UNIVERSALLY SUPPORTED IN GUATEMALA.

10. ASSESSMENT OF SANDINISTAS

UNCLASSIFIED

DUARTE BELIEVES THAT, AS HE ASSERTS EL SALVADOR IS,

UNCLASSIFIED

NICARAGUA IS PREPARED TO SIGN THE ARIAS PROPOSALS, EVEN

AS THEY STAND, IN ORDER TO AVOID PUBLIC OPPROBRIUM FOR UNDERMINING THE PEACE PROCESS. THEY ARE TOO CLEVER TO COOPERATE WITH ARIAS' STATED GOAL OF TRYING TO FORCE THEM TO PUBLICLY REJECT DEMOCRACY AT ESQUIPULAS. THEY WILL NOT IMPLEMENT THE TERMS OF ANY AGREEMENT, HOWEVER, BECAUSE THEY ARE INCOMPATIBLE WITH THE SANDINISTAS' TRUE GOAL OF TOTAL INTERNAL CONTROL. HE FEELS THIS GOAL IS GREATLY FORWARDED BY HAVING AN EXTERNAL ENEMY, PARTICULARLY ONE (I.E., THE UNITED STATES AND THE PUPPET RESISTANCE) COMPATIBLE WITH THE "NATURAL" LATIN POSITION OF ANTI-AMERICANISM. THE SANDINISTAS LACK SUPPORT AMONG THE PEOPLE, BUT THE CIVIC OPPOSITION IS UNABLE TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS CIRCUMSTANCE DUE TO INTERNAL FRAGMENTATION, WEAK ORGANIZATION, LACK OF FUNDS AND DISTRUST OF THE RESISTANCE. HABIB NOTED THAT THE

SANDINISTAS ARE UNDER VERY REAL PRESSURE FROM THE RESISTANCE AND THEIR FAILING ECONOMY, AND THAT UNITY AMONG THE FOUR ON THE NEED FOR DEMOCRATIZATION IN NICARAGUA WOULD ADD A GENUINE ADDITIONAL MEASURE OF PRESSURE.

11. POSITIONS OF ARIAS AND AZCONA

DUARTE BELIEVES ARIAS HOPES NICARAGUA WILL IN FACT ACCEPT HIS PROPOSALS, AND WILL THUS RESIST CHANGES IN ORDER TO PRESERVE THIS POSSIBILITY. THERE IS A MEASURE OF TRUTH IN ARIAS' BELIEF THAT THE UNITED STATES OPPOSES HIS PROPOSALS, IN THAT ANY MODIFICATIONS COULD FATALLY DISTURBS THE BALANCE OF HIS PROPOSALS. NO MATTER HOW WELL-INTENTIONED OR -REASONED, ANY IMPROVEMENTS WOULD TEND TO WEAKEN THE CONCESSIONS (I.E., AN END TO THE RESISTANCE) HE COULD OFFER THE SANDINISTAS IN RETURN FOR COMMITMENTS ON DEMOCRATIZATION. IT MUST BE UNDERSTOOD THAT ARIAS BELIEVES AID TO THE RESISTANCE WILL NOT BE RENEWED, THAT CONGRESS NOW HOLDS THE UPPER HAND ON FOREIGN POLICY, THAT THE DEMOCRATS WILL WIN IN 1988 AND THAT HE IS BEING DENIED SUPPORT HE NEEDS TO CARRY OUT HIS CAMPAIGN PROMISES. SINCE HE THUS HAS NOTHING TO LOSE, HE IS ESTABLISHING A POSITION FOR THE FUTURE -- AND IS BEING ENCOURAGED IN THIS BY THE WIDESPREAD U.S. AND WORLD SUPPORT FOR HIS PROPOSALS. DUARTE IMPLIED ARIAS CANNOT BE RELIED ON TO WORK WITH THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES TO STRENGTHEN EITHER THE POLITICAL OR THE SECURITY PROVISIONS OF HIS PROPOSALS. INDEED, HE HAD ATTEMPTED TO CONVINCE ARIAS TO DO SO AT THE SAN JOSE SUMMIT AND ARIAS HAD REFUSED. DUARTE NOTED THAT AZCONA, AS A PRESIDENT ELECTED BY ONLY A SMALL MINORITY OF THE ELECTORATE,

UNCLASSIFIED

RESPONDS TO PUBLIC OPINION IN A DIFFERENT WAY THAN

ANOTHER PRESIDENT MIGHT. HE UNDERSTANDS THAT MOST

~~SECRET~~

UNCLASSIFIED

HONDURANS WANT THE RESISTANCE OUT OF THE COUNTRY, AND HIS SINGLE INTERVENTION AT THE SAN JOSE SUMMIT -- TO DELAY ESQUIPULAS FOR THREE MONTHS -- HAD BEEN DESIGNED TO GIVE MORE TIME FOR THE RESISTANCE TO LEAVE HONDURAN TERRITORY. HE MUST ALSO RESPOND TO THE HONDURAN ARMED FORCES, HOWEVER, AND THEY HAVE FAVORED THE RESISTANCE. HE IS DEPENDENT ON THE UNITED STATES TO SOLVE HIS PROBLEM WITH THE RESISTANCE.

12. DEMOCRACY VERSUS NON-INTERVENTION

IN CLOSING, CORR INQUIRED HOW DUARTE THOUGHT THE FOUR PRESIDENTS WOULD DEAL WITH THE CONTRADICTION BETWEEN THE VALUES OF NON-INTERVENTION AND OF DEMOCRACY. NICARAGUA WILL PRESS THE FORMER: WILL THE DEMOCRACIES RESIST THIS APPROACH, SO ATTRACTIVE TO LATINS, AND ARGUE AS STRONGLY IN FAVOR OF DEMOCRACY? OR WILL AN "INTERNAL DEBATE" WITHIN EACH PRESIDENT WEAKEN THEIR POSITION ON THIS POINT? DUARTE RESPONDED BY STATING HIS GENERAL OPPOSITION TO INTERVENTION, BUT DISTINGUISHED HIS OVERALL POSITION FROM HIS RESPONSE TO SOME DOUBT THAT CURRENT POLICIES WERE THE BEST POSSIBLE FOR SUPPORTING THE COMMITTED DEMOCRATS OF THE CIVIC OPPOSITION IN NICARAGUA, DUARTE STATED THAT HE DID NOT CONSIDER SUPPORT FOR DEMOCRACY, OR FOR ACTIONS GENUINELY SUPPORTING DEMOCRACY, TO CONSTITUTE INTERVENTION. E.O. 12356: DECL:OADR
TAGS: PREL, HO, XK, OVIP (HABIB, PHILIP C.)
SUBJECT: AMBASSADOR HABIB'S MEETING WITH HONDURAN PRESIDENT AZCONA

1. ~~SECRET~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. AMBASSADOR HABIB OPENED HIS MEETING WITH PRESIDENT AZCONA BY REVIEWING HIS MEETING WITH COSTA RICAN PRESIDENT ARIAS EARLIER THAT SAME DAY IN WHICH HE STRESSED TO ARIAS THE IMPORTANCE OF MAINTAINING DEMOCRATIZATION AND A POLITICAL OPENING IN NICARAGUA AS THE KEY ISSUE AT ESQUIPULAS. CORE FOUR UNITY WAS ESSENTIAL AND ARIAS HAD TO BE WILLING TO MAKE SOME COMPROMISES TO ACCOMMODATE THE CONCERNS OF EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS. AZCONA SAID THAT ESQUIPULAS WOULD BE A DIFFICULT MEETING BUT THAT HE THOUGHT THAT, AS A MINIMUM, AGREEMENT COULD BE REACHED ON A UNIFIED POSITION AMONG HONDURAS, EL SALVADOR, AND COSTA RICA. AZCONA AGREED THAT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS WOULD BE THE

~~SECRET~~

AGENDA AT EXQUIPULAS AND THAT THE POLITICAL PROVISIONS WERE THE MOST IMPORTANT ISSUE WHICH WOULD SET THE STAGE FOR A CONFRONTATION BETWEEN COSTA RICA AND NICARAGUA AT ESQUIPULAS. AZCONA SAID THAT HE WOULD NOT GO TO THE NEW ORLEANS CONFERENCE ON CENTRAL AMERICA. END SUMMARY.

3. IN THE EARLY EVENING OF APRIL 27 AMBASSADORS HABIB AND BRIGGS MET WITH PRESIDENT AZCONA; GENERAL REGALADO, COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF THE ARMED FORCES; AND COLONEL

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

GUTIERREZ MINERA, CHIEF OF STAFF OF THE ARMY; AT THE PRESIDENTIAL PALACE.

4. HABIB OPENED THE MEETING BY REVIEWING HIS MEETING WITH PRESIDENT ARIAS THAT SAME MORNING. HE NOTED THAT ARIAS IS CONCERNED THAT THE POSSIBILITY OF AN OPEN AGENDA AT ESQUIPULAS WILL LEAD TO A LOT OF DISCUSSION, BUT NO ACTION.

5. AZCONA SAID THAT THEY HAD HEARD THAT COSTA RICAN REPRESENTATIVES (DEPUTADOS) HAD NEGOTIATED A SECRET AGREEMENT IN SPAIN, DURING THE SOCIALIST INTERNATIONAL MEETING, IN WHICH THE SANDINISTAS HAD AGREED TO WITHDRAW THE ICJ CASE IN EXCHANGE FOR CONCESSIONS FROM COSTA RICA. HE ASKED IF HABIB HAD HEARD OF THIS. HABIB REPLIED THAT HE HAD NOT, BUT THAT MADRIGAL WOULD BE IN WASHINGTON ON WEDNESDAY TO MEET WITH THE SECRETARY AND HABIB WOULD ASK ABOUT THE MEETING IN SPAIN AND FORWARD THE REPLY TO AMBASSADOR BRIGGS.

6. HABIB INQUIRED AS TO HOW AZCONA VIEWED ESQUIPULAS. AZCONA REPLIED THAT HE HAD THE SAME CONCERNS AS BEFORE; IT WAS NOT GOING TO BE EASY. THERE WERE PROBLEMS WITH THE ARIAS PLAN SUCH AS THE SEQUENCE, THE CEASE-FIRE PROVISION, AND HOW INTERNAL DIALOGUE WOULD BE IMPLEMENTED. AZCONA

DOES NOT THINK THERE WILL BE AN AGREEMENT BECAUSE THE SANDINISTAS WILL NOT COMMIT TO REAL INTERNAL REFORM. AZCONA WAS NOT SPECIFIC AS TO HONDURAN ACTIONS, SAYING HE PREFERRED TO WAIT AND SEE WHAT GUATEMALA AND COSTA RICA WOULD DO. AZCONA ASKED FOR HABIB'S ADVICE. HABIB REPLIED THAT HONDURAS HAD TO MAKE ITS VIEWS KNOWN ON THE MILITARY AS WELL AS THE POLITICAL ISSUES. AZCONA SAID THAT HE HAD AVOIDED COMMENTING ON THE MILITARY PROVISIONS SO AS NOT TO AFFECT EL SALVADOR AND, FUNDAMENTALLY, THE MILITARY ISSUES WERE NOT TO AS IMPORTANT AS THE POLITICAL ISSUES. HABIB AGREED, BUT SAID THAT THE MILITARY ISSUES WERE IMPORTANT, ESPECIALLY DURING THE TRANSITION PHASE. FOR EXAMPLE, YOU CAN'T JUST DECLARE A CEASE-FIRE AND YOU CAN'T IGNORE THE DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE. AZCONA WAS EMPHATIC IN SAYING THAT THEY HAD TOLD THE COSTA RICANS THAT THE CONTRAS MUST PARTICIPATE IN THE PROCESS AND HONDURAS WILL MAINTAIN THAT POSITION.

7. HABIB SAID THAT ARIAS INDICATED THAT HE DID NOT THINK THERE WOULD BE AN AGREEMENT EITHER. THE REAL ISSUE THEN WAS HOW THE SANDINISTAS WOULD REACT TO A REASONABLE

PROPOSAL. ARIAS IS CONCERNED THAT GUATEMALA WILL SUBMIT AN ALTERNATE AGENDA WHICH WILL PROVIDE AN OPPORTUNITY FOR THE SANDINISTAS TO AVOID A CLEAR DECISION ON DEMOCRATIZATION. COSTA RICA WANTS THE DISCUSSION TO BE ON

UNCLASSIFIED

THE ARIAS PROPOSALS AS AGREED BY THE PRESIDENTS AT SAN JOSE. AZCONA CONFIRMED THAT THE PRESIDENTS HAD AGREED TO DISCUSS THE ARIAS PROPOSALS AT ESQUIPULAS AND THAT THEY WERE TO BE THE AGENDA. ALL OF THE COUNTRIES WERE TO PRESENT THEIR COMMENT ON THE PROPOSALS, BUT THERE WAS NOT TO BE PRESENTATION OR DISCUSSION OF ANY NEW DOCUMENTS.

8. AZCONA SAID HE HAD MET WITH MEMBERS OF THE INTERNAL NICARAGUAN OPPOSITION AND HAD FOUND THEIR COMMENTS ON THE PROPOSALS TO BE WELL-REASONED, ESPECIALLY IN TERMS OF

ELECTIONS. ARIAS PROVIDES FOR ELECTIONS "IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAW." THE INTERNAL OPPOSITION STATED THAT THIS IS NOT SUFFICIENT TO GUARANTEE A DEMOCRATIC OPENING IN NICARAGUA. FOR ONE THING, IT IS NOT CLEAR WHAT PARTIES COULD PARTICIPATE IN ELECTIONS. FOR ANOTHER, THE GOVERNMENT, THE ARMY, AND THE PARTY WERE ALL ONE, THEREFORE THERE WAS INSUFFICIENT POLITICAL SPACE FOR THE INTERNAL OPPOSITION "IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAW." THESE CONCERNS SHOULD BE ADDRESSED IN THE PROPOSALS, BUT AZCONA WAS NOT SURE THAT ARIAS WAS WILLING TO INCLUDE THEM. HABIB SAID THAT THIS WAS AN AREA WHICH NEEDED IMPROVEMENT AND SUCH ISSUES AS THE LEGITIMACY OF THE CURRENT SANDINISTA ELECTORAL COMMISSION AND THE TIMING OF ELECTIONS WERE ISSUES FOR NEGOTIATION. IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAW, THERE WOULD NOT BE NATIONAL ELECTIONS IN NICARAGUA UNTIL 1990 AND THIS WAS UNACCEPTABLE. WHEN HABIB HAD RAISED THIS ISSUE WITH ARIAS, ARIAS HAD REPLIED THAT HE DID NOT WANT TO QUESTION THE LEGITIMACY OF THE SANDINISTA GOVERNMENT BECAUSE TO DO SO WOULD PREVENT ANY CHANCE THAT THE SANDINISTAS WOULD SIGN AN AGREEMENT. HABIB HAD REPLIED THAT A GOVERNMENT COULD AGREE TO INTERNAL CHANGES WITHOUT CHALLENGING ITS OWN LEGITIMACY.

9. HABIB RETURNED TO THE QUESTION OF CORE FOUR UNITY. WAS IT POSSIBLE? AZCONA REPLIED THAT IT DEPENDED ON WHAT THE OTHERS DO. HE IS NOT SURE WHAT GUATEMALA IS GOING TO DO. CEREZO IS ACTIVELY COMPETING FOR THE ROLE OF CENTRAL AMERICA LEADER AND HE HAS TO DEAL WITH MEXICO. HABIB SAID THAT THE MEXICANS ARE NOT PLAYING A PRODUCTIVE ROLE BECAUSE THEY VIEW THE POLITICAL PROVISIONS AS INTEFERENCE IN THE INTERNAL AFFAIRS OF NICARAGUA. AZCONA SAID HE IS NOT SURE HOW WILLING ARIAS IS TO ACCEPT CHANGES. AZCONA SAID THAT DUARTE WOULD REJECT THE PROPOSAL IN ITS PRESENT

~~SECRET~~

FORM AND DUARTE HAD TOLD ARIAS SO. HABIB HAD EMPHASIZED

 UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

TO ARIAS THAT HE HAD TO MAKE COMPROMISES TO ACCOMMODATE THE CONCERNS OF THE DEMOCRACIES. ARIAS IS CONCERNED THAT IF TOO MANY CHANGES ARE MADE, IT WILL PROVIDE AN EXCUSE FOR THE SANDINISTAS TO REJECT THE AGREEMENT. AZCONA REPLIED THAT WE MUST BE CAREFUL AND MUST KEEP COSTA RICA OUT FRONT SO THAT THERE WOULD BE A CONFRONTATION BETWEEN COSTA RICA AND NICARAGUA AT ESQUIPULAS ON THE POLITICAL ISSUES. AMBASSADOR BRIGGS SAID THAT IF CORE FOUR UNITY WAS NOT POSSIBLE, THEN THERE HAD TO BE AT LEAST UNITY AMONG THE THREE. AZCONA REPLIED, "THE THREE WITH COSTA RICA IN FRONT. IF HONDURAS GETS OUT FRONT, THEN COSTA RICA WILL DROP BACK."

10. AZCONA DISCUSSED HIS FRUSTRATION WITH WHAT HAD BEEN HAPPENING IN THE CONGRESS WITH REGARD TO THE DOLS 300 MILLION AND OTHER U.S. ASSISTANCE TO HONDURAS. IT SEEMS TO HIM THAT THE CONGRESS IS INTENT ON REWARDING COSTA RICA AND GUATEMALA WHILE PENALIZING HONDURAS AND EL SALVADOR FOR SUPPORTING U.S. POLICY, EVEN THOUGH THEY ARE THE COUNTRIES THAT NEED ASSISTANCE THE MOST. AZCONA FEELS THAT COSTA RICA AND GUATEMALA ARE PLAYING TO THE CONGRESS TO GET MORE MONEY AND IT IS NOT HELPFUL FOR THEM TO PLAY THAT GAME. EARLIER PRESS REPORTS OF AZCONA NOT ATTENDING ESQUIPULAS WAS INTENDED AS A MESSAGE TO ARIAS AND CEREZO THAT AZCONA DID NOT APPROVE OF WHAT THEY WERE DOING. REGARDLESS OF WHAT HAPPENS ON THE FUNDING ISSUES, AZCONA SAID THAT HE IS NOT GOING TO PLAY GAMES WITH HONDURAN INTERESTS. AZCONA SAYS HE PLANS TO SPEAK WITH SENATOR DODD, BUT HAS NOT YET DONE SO. AZCONA ALSO SAID THAT HE EXPECTS DODD, AND OTHER U.S. CONGRESSMEN, TO BE AT ESQUIPULAS. HABIB SAID THAT THE ADMINISTRATION WILL CONTINUE TO FIGHT FOR THE DOLS 300 MILLION AND WILL RESUBMIT THE SUPPLEMENTAL WITH THE ORIGINAL DISTRIBUTION OF FUNDS. AZCONA SHOULD REALIZE THAT DODD, OBEY, AND

OTHERS ARE NOT THE U.S. ADMINISTRATION. HONDURAS AND EL SALVADOR STILL HAVE THE FULL SUPPORT OF THE ADMINISTRATION. THE PRESIDENT HAS MANY TOOLS AT HIS DISPOSAL AND HABIB EXPRESSED HIS CONFIDENCE THAT THE ADMINISTRATION WOULD PREVAIL. (HABIB ASKED AMBASSADOR BRIGGS IF HE WAS RECEIVING SUFFICIENT INFORMATION FROM WASHINGTON SO THAT HE COULD KEEP PRESIDENT AZCONA PROPERLY INFORMED. AMBASSADOR BRIGGS REPLIED THAT HE HAD ADEQUATE INFORMATION ON CONGRESSIONAL ACTIONS WITH REGARD TO THE DOLS 300 MILLION AND THE F-5 PURCHASE, BUT THAT HE HAD NO INFORMATION ON ADMINISTRATION STRATEGY/NEXT STEPS FOR THE DOLS 300 MILLION.)

UNCLASSIFIED

11. AZCONA SAID THAT HE WOULD NOT GO TO THE NEW ORLEANS CONFERENCE ON CENTRAL AMERICA. HE HAD ACCEPTED ORIGINALLY BECAUSE HE WAS LED TO BELIEVE THAT ONLY THE FOUR

UNCLASSIFIED

DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTS WERE INVITED. ONCE HE FOUND OUT THAT ORTEGA WAS INVITED, HE COULD NOT ATTEND. HABIB ASKED IF DUARTE WAS GOING. AZCONA SAID HE DID NOT KNOW, BUT HE WOULD ADVISE DUARTE NOT TO GO. HE ADDED THAT HE HAD NOT YET ADVISED THE SPONSORS THAT HE WAS NOT GOING.

12. HABIB ASKED REGALADO HOW THE CONTRAS WERE DOING IN THE FIELD. REGALADO SAID THAT THINGS WERE GOING FINE. RESUPPLY FLIGHTS WERE GETTING IN UNDETECTED AND THE CONTRAS WERE BEGINNING TO STORE SUPPLIES INSIDE NICARAGUA. MORALE AMONG THE CONTRAS WAS GOOD AND THEY HAD CAPTURED SUBSTANTIAL NUMBERS OF PRISONERS; MANY OF WHOM HAD BEEN INCORPORATED INTO THE CONTRA FORCES. THEY HAD REPORTS OF SIX SANDINISTA HELICOPTERS DOWNED BY THE CONTRAS AND THE HONDURANS HAD BEEN ABLE TO CONFIRM FOUR OF THOSE. HABIB ASKED WHAT THEIR SOURCES OF INFORMATION WERE. REGALADO SAID THAT THEY HAD THEIR OWN INDEPENDENT

SOURCES AND THEY DID SHARE INFORMATION WITH THE EMBASSY. HOWEVER, THEY COULD PROVIDE NO SPECIFICS ON CASUALTIES ON EITHER SIDE, EVEN THOUGH THEY SAID THEY THOUGHT THE SANDINISTAS WERE GETTING THE WORST OF IT. HABIB REPLIED THAT THE MILITARY PRESSURE WAS IMPORTANT AS WELL AS THE PRESSURE FROM ECONOMIC DETERIORATION, INCREASED INTERNAL DISSENT, AND THE POLITICAL PRESSURE IMPOSED BY THE DIPLOMATIC COOPERATION OF THE DEMOCRACIES. EXCISE

Dear Mr. Kolbe:

We have received your letter of April 7, 1987 concerning a negative vote cast by the United States last fall against a United Nations General Assembly resolution on the human rights situation in Chile. Your letter was on behalf of your constituent[redacted].

In viewing our vote last fall, and in considering our decision to join consensus on a Chilean human rights resolution at the United Nations Human Rights Commission in Geneva during March of this year, it is important to realize that our positions in international organizations concerning Chile are determined with US support for democracy and human rights in Chile very much in mind. We take our actions in these bodies seriously, and seek to be constructive. Accordingly, we do not vote for resolutions unless we consider them sound.

There were significant parts of the resolution on Chile presented last year that reflected our own assessment of the human rights situation in that country. But, taken as a whole, we considered it to be seriously flawed in not reflecting accurately the constructive work of the UN Special Rapporteur, former Costa Rican Foreign Minister Fernando Volio, and in not recognizing the negative impact of terrorism on the human rights situation and the effort to return Chile to democracy. We voted against the resolution only after we were unable to obtain sufficient amendments to the text to allay these fundamental concerns.

There has been no retreat from our vocal support for democracy and human rights in Chile. We took the initiative to propose a resolution on Chile this year in the UN Human Rights Commission, just as we did last year. Through persistent diplomatic efforts we were able to obtain improvements in an unbalanced resolution circulated by Mexico, and to reach agreement on a proposal for eliminating discriminatory treatment of Chile under a separate agenda item. We succeeded in revising the text so that it would deplore "continued acts of extreme violence from all quarters." In view of the improvements we obtained, despite flaws in the text, we joined the consensus in approving the resolution.

The Honorable
Jim Kolbe,
House of Representatives.

COMPETITIVE ELECTION. THE DOMESTIC U.S. CONSIDERATIONS DRIVING POLICY TOWARD SUCH A PUBLIC STANCE ARE CLEAR, FORMIDABLE AND NEED NO DETAILING HERE. IT WOULD NOT ADVANCE OUR INTEREST, HOWEVER, IF THE U.S. TOO FLATLY OPPOSES A MECHANISM WHICH MANY MODERATE CHILEANS CONSIDER A VIABLE MEANS TO END PINOCHET RULE. WE CONCLUDE THAT A WELL TIMED STATEMENT OF U.S. PREFERENCE FOR OPEN ELECTIONS WOULD BE HELPFUL AT THE RIGHT TIME, BUT THAT OUTRIGHT OPPOSITION TO A PLEBISCITE WOULD OBSTRUCT RATHER THAN FACILITATE A TRANSITION. WE MAY NEED TO MAKE A STATEMENT IN THE NEXT SEVERAL WEEKS, SINCE THE EC AND/OR THE BISHOPS' CONFERENCE MAY BE DOING SO. END SUMMARY.

3. PINOCHET APPEARS INTENT ON IMPLEMENTING THE PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION SCENARIO PROVIDED FOR IN THE 1980 CONSTITUTION. (FYI: AT SOME POINT, BUT NO LATER THAN DECEMBER 11, 1988, THE FOUR SERVICE COMMANDERS, INCLUDING PINOCHET, MUST CONVENE AND CHOOSE A CANDIDATE BY UNANIMOUS DECISION. IF WITHIN 48 HOURS THEY ARE UNABLE TO PICK SOMEONE, THE NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL (PINOCHET, THE FOUR JUNTA MEMBERS, THE PRESIDENT OF THE SUPREME COURT, THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF STATE) AND THE COMPTROLLER GENERAL OF THE REPUBLIC MUST MEET AND SELECT SOMEONE BY MAJORITY VOTE (FIVE OF THE EIGHT MEMBERS). THE CONSTITUTION DOES NOT PROVIDE FOR THE EVENTUALITY THAT THE NSC CANNOT DECIDE ON A CANDIDATE. A PLEBISCITE WILL BE HELD WITHIN NO LESS THAN 30 DAYS AND NO MORE THAN 60 DAYS FROM THE DATE OF THE PROPOSAL OF A CANDIDATE.

CONFIDENTIAL

RUMORS ARE WIDESPREAD IN SANTIAGO THAT THE GOC WOULD LIKE TO HAVE THE PLEBISCITE BEFORE THE U.S. ELECTIONS, AND SEPTEMBER 11, 1988 IS SUGGESTED AS A LIKELY DATE. END FYI).

4. THE CONGRESS AND MEDIA ARE LIKELY TO BECOME INSISTENT THAT THE ADMINISTRATION TAKE A STAND ON THE PLEBISCITE ISSUE. APART FROM THE OBVIOUS POINT THAT A PLEBISCITE IS HARDLY A DEMOCRATIC MEANS TO CHOOSE NATIONAL LEADERSHIP AND THE

WELL-GROUNDED BELIEF THAT PINOCHET INTENDS TO CONDUCT AN UNFAIR PROCESS THAT WILL ENSURE HIS RE-ELECTION, THOSE WHO CALL FOR AN ADMINISTRATION STAND CAN POINT TO THE FACT THAT THE HUGE MAJORITY OF CHILEANS, INCLUDING ALL THE SIGNIFICANT DEMOCRATIC PARTIES AND EVEN TWO JUNTA MEMBERS, HAVE PUBLICLY ENDORSED THE IDEA OF A COMPETITIVE ELECTION. IT WILL BE DIFFICULT FOR THE ADMINISTRATION NOT TO EXPRESS ITS PREFERENCE FOR AN OPEN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION, BUT WE THINK THERE ARE COMPELLING REASONS TO AVOID CATEGORICAL U.S. OPPOSITION TO THE PLEBISCITE, IN CASE THE DEMOCRATIC PARTIES THEMSELVES SUBSEQUENTLY SHOULD DECIDE ONE SERVES THEIR AIMS BEST.

5. MANY CHILEANS OF THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION REALIZE THEY CANNOT RULE OUT A PLEBISCITE AS POSSIBLY THE ONLY MEANS FOR ACHIEVING THE EXIT OF PINOCHET AND THE MILITARY. IT IS WIDELY AGREED AMONG PRAGMATIC CHILEANS THAT THE OPPOSITION'S CHANCES OF INFLICTING "POLITICAL DEFEAT" THROUGH DEMONSTRATIONS AND THE LIKE ARE NIL. EVEN RODOLFO SEGUEL OF THE CNT HAS CALLED A HALT, AND THUS FAR THE COMBATIVE STUDENTS HAVE INDICATED LITTLE INTEREST IN DEMONSTRATIONS. THEY REASON THAT IF THE

MILITARY ARE UNWILLING TO CHANGE THE CONSTITUTION TO ELIMINATE THE PLEBISCITE PROVISIONS, IT WOULD BE BETTER TO REACH AN AGREEMENT ON A CANDIDATE OTHER THAN PINOCHET THAN TO RISK A CONFRONTATION WHICH THEY CAN ONLY LOSE. SUCH A CONFRONTATION COULD END UP IN THE PERPETUATION OF MILITARY RULE, I.E., THE TOSSING OUT OF PROVISIONS FOR A CONGRESS, INDEFINITE EXTENSION OF THE TRANSITORY PROVISIONS WHICH RESTRICT INDIVIDUAL AND CIVIL LIBERTIES, NO POPULAR PARTICIPATION WHATEVER, AND NO FORMULA OR DEADLINE FOR A CHANGE. THIS IS KNOWN AS THE "AUTO-GOLPE" FORMULA AND IS OF CONCERN TO MANY MODERATES.

6. THE MODERATES' STRATEGY IS TO ATTEMPT TO ACHIEVE OPEN ELECTIONS AND TO MOBILIZE TO SHOW

THAT PINOCHET OR ANY GOC CANDIDATE CANNOT WIN A PLEBISCITE. THEY HOPE THAT ONCE THE MILITARY REALIZE PINOCHET WOULD BE DEFEATED THE OPPOSITION WILL BE ABLE TO BARGAIN WITH THE MILITARY AND ACHIEVE COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS. BUT THEY ARE REALISTIC ENOUGH TO HAVE SECOND OPTIONS BECAUSE THEY RECOGNIZE THAT THERE ARE MANY REASONS THE MILITARY MIGHT BALK (E.G., INABILITY TO FORCE PINOCHET TO CALL A PLEBISCITE TO REVISE THE CONSTITUTION; MILITARY PREFERENCE FOR A "SAFE" CANDIDATE OTHER THAN PINOCHET.)

7. MANY CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC LEADERS, AMONG THEM SERGIO MOLINA, ANDRES ZALDIVAR AND GABRIEL VALDES, FEEL THAT AN AGREED CONSERVATIVE REPLACEMENT FOR PINOCHET IS AN ACCEPTABLE SECOND ALTERNATIVE TO A COMPETITIVE ELECTION AS LONG AS THE NEW PRESIDENT

CONFIDENTIAL

SERVES ONLY TO CARRY OUT A GENUINE POLITICAL TRANSITION INVOLVING EXTENSIVE MODIFICATIONS TO THE CONSTITUTION AND CULMINATING IN FULL ELECTIONS FOR PRESIDENT, CONGRESS AND LOCAL OFFICIALS AT THE END OF THE 2-3 YEAR TRANSITION PERIOD. INDEED, VALDES HAS OFTEN SAID HE WOULD PREFER THAT THE FIRST POST-PINOCHET GOVERNMENT BE OF SHORT DURATION AND LED BY A DEMOCRATICALLY-INCLINED MILITARY OFFICER WHO WOULD RISE OUT THE STORM OF SOCIAL DEMANDS RATHER THAN HAVE THIS BURDEN SHOULDERED BY THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS. DEMOCRATIC CONSERVATIVES SUCH AS NATIONAL RENEWAL FIND THIS ALTERNATIVE GENERALLY ACCEPTABLE AS WELL, ALTHOUGH THEY WOULD PREFER A CONSERVATIVE CIVILIAN AND SEEM TO FAVOR A LONGER TERM, PERHAPS THE FULL 8 YEARS, FOR THE FIRST POST-PINOCHET PRESIDENT. IN CONTRAST WITH THE PDC LEADERS, THEY ARE WILLING PUBLICLY TO ACKNOWLEDGE THIS AS A LESS DESIRABLE BUT ACCEPTABLE SOLUTION. NATIONAL PARTY LEADERS HAVE ALSO TOLD US THEY WOULD PREFER COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS BUT WOULD BE HAPPY WITH A CIVILIAN "CONSENSUS" CANDIDATE APPROVED IN A PLEBISCITE. DEPENDING ON WHOM THE MILIFARY CHOOSE, THE PROCESS HAS SIMILARITIES TO THE MEXICAN PROCESS OF ELECTING A "TAPADO", BUT WITH GREATER RISKS, AND ON A ONE-TIME BASIS.

8. IT IS QUITE CONCEIVABLE THAT THE CATHOLIC CHURCH GIVEN ITS NEWFOUND STRENGTH COULD HELP BROKER AN UNDERSTANDING WHICH WOULD USHER IN A GENUINE PERIOD OF TRANSITION. IN THE SPECIFICALLY POLITICAL REALM, THE BISHOPS' CONFERENCE AND THE POPE HAVE BEEN CAREFUL TO AVOID GOING BEYOND GENERAL PRONOUNCEMENTS REGARDING THE NEED FOR POPULAR PARTICIPATION. THIS IS PROBABLY A DELIBERATE EFFORT TO KEEP THEIR OPTIONS OPEN. CARDINAL FRESNO EARLIER

THIS YEAR HINTED TO THE AMBASSADOR HE THOUGHT THE BEST CHANCE OF DEFEATING PINOCHET WOULD BE THE PLEBISCITE SINCE IT WOULD UNITE PEOPLE AROUND A "NO". WE SUSPECT FRESNO HAS NOT THOUGHT THROUGH THE DANGERS OF AN "AUTO-GOLPE" DURING THE TURMOIL IN THE WAKE OF A DEFEATED PINOCHET. WE ARE CONVINCED FREE ELECTIONS ARE MUCH PREFERABLE TO A YES-OR-NO VOTE ON PINOCHET. THE FACT THAT MOLINA HAS BEEN INVITED TO ADDRESS THE MAY 20-22 BISHOPS' CONFERENCE MAY INDICATE THAT THE BISHOPS WILL COME OUT AFTER ALL IN FAVOR OF OPEN ELECTIONS. THIS AT LEAST IS VALDES' EXPECTATIONS. ON THE OTHER HAND, FRESNO'S ADVISOR MSR. RENATO POBLETE TOLD US ON MAY 3 THAT A DEFINITIVE STATEMENT BY THE BISHOPS IN LATE MAY OR EVEN JUNE REGARDING ELECTIONS OR THE POLITICAL PROCESS IS FAR FROM CERTAIN BECAUSE THE BISHOPS ARE STILL SORTING OUT THEIR VIEWS.

9. OFFICIAL U.S. PUBLIC DISAPPROVAL OF A PLEBISCITE--AS OPPOSED TO PREFERENCE FOR A FREE ELECTION--WOULD COMPLICATE THE SITUATION OF THE MODERATES. THE MODERATES ARE HAVING A DIFFICULT TIME EVEN DEFENDING THE NOTION OF REGISTERING AS OFFICIAL PARTIES AGAINST THE ATTACKS OF THE COMMUNIST-LED PARTIES OF THE DEMOCRATIC POPULAR MOVEMENT AND THE LEFTIST-ORIENTED SEGMENTS OF THEIR OWN CONSTITUENCIES. IT IS AXIOMATIC THAT CHILEAN CENTRIST OR CENTER LEFT PARTIES TAKE STANCES CONSIDERABLY TO THE LEFT OF THE U.S. AND BY

PRONOUNCING OURSELVES WE REDUCE THEIR ROOM FOR MANEUVER. ON THE OTHER SIDE, PINOCHET WOULD

EXPLOIT OUR STANCE TO STIR A NATIONALISTIC BACKLASH THAT WOULD PRESSURE THE JUNTA MEMBERS TO JOIN HIM IN DEFYING U.S. INTERFERENCE. AS WE POINTED OUT IN REFTEL THE JUNTA MEMBERS SEE ADVANTAGES TO KEEPING THEIR OPTIONS OPEN.

10. THERE ARE OTHER REASONS WHY PUBLIC U.S. FLAT OPPOSITION TO A PLEBISCITE WOULD OBSTRUCT RATHER THAN FACILITATE A TRANSITION AWAY FROM MILITARY RULE. THERE IS UNLIKELY TO BE ANY TRANSITION AT ALL IN THE NEAR FUTURE UNLESS THE MILITARY ARE ASSURED, THROUGH A DEAL WITH THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION, THAT THEIR VITAL INTERESTS ARE BEYOND RISK. A CONCERTED TRANSITION IS VIRTUALLY THE ONLY POSSIBLE ORDERLY TRANSITION. THE ADDED ADVANTAGE IS THAT A CONCERTED TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY WILL PROVIDE GUARANTEES FOR THE RIGHT WHICH HOLDS 30 PERCENT OF THE ELECTORATE AND MUCH MORE OF THE ECONOMIC POWER AND WITHOUT WHICH NO DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT IN CHILE CAN ENDURE.

11. U.S. PUBLIC INSISTENCE ON A COMPETITIVE ELECTION WILL ENCOURAGE THE STRONG TENDENCY AMONG MANY IN THE OPPOSITION TO CONVINCE THEMSELVES THAT THE AMERICANS WILL SOLVE THEIR PROBLEMS AND THAT THEY NEED NOT MAKE THE EFFORT AND POLITICAL SACRIFICES NEEDED TO UNIFY, GET ORGANIZED AND PRESSURE THE MILITARY TO THE NEGOTIATING TABLE. MANY WILL SIMPLY INTENSIFY THEIR OWN PRESIDENTIAL AND CONGRESSIONAL RACES. PERHAPS MORE IMPORTANTLY, MANY WILL CONVINCE THEMSELVES THAT, SINCE THE AMERICANS WILL "DELIVER" THE OPEN ELECTIONS, THEY NEED NOT PROMISE THE MILITARY AND CONSERVATIVES ANYTHING. THERE IS AN URGE IN THE CHRISTIAN

DEMOCRATS AND THE SOCIALISTS TO AVOID THE TARNISH OF PARTICIPATION IN SUCH A SILENT PACT. IN 1983 THE SOCIALISTS REFUSED TO MEET JARPA AND THE PDC DID NOT NEGOTIATE SERIOUSLY. AND THAT BRINGS US BACK TO THE CONDITIONS THE MILITARY PLACE ON LEAVING OFFICE. FINALLY, IF THE PDC THINKS OPEN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS ARE LIKELY EVEN WITHOUT A GOVERNMENT-OPPOSITION UNDERSTANDING, THERE IS AN ELECTORAL INCENTIVE FOR GREATER COOPERATION BETWEEN THE LEFT WING OF THE PDC AND THE FAR LEFT, ASSUMING OF COURSE THAT PINOCHET WOULD BE PREPARED TO REACH AN UNDERSTANDING, OR DECIDED ELECTIONS WERE IN HIS OWN INTEREST. THROUGHOUT ALL THE ABOVE IT SHOULD BE CLEAR THAT WE CANNOT PRETEND WE DO NOT PREFER FREE ELECTIONS, BOTH IN TERMS OF OUR OWN PUBLIC OPINION AND VALUES AND ALSO IN TERMS OF MAINTAINING OUR INFLUENCE AMONG THE DEMOCRATIC ELEMENTS OF CHILEAN SOCIETY.

RECOMMENDATION

12. IN LIGHT OF ALL OF THE ABOVE, OUR RECOMMENDATION IS THAT WE USE A FORMULA IN WHICH WE CLEARLY EXPRESS OUR SUPPORT IN PRINCIPLE AND PRACTICE FOR OPEN ELECTIONS, BUT AVOID THE APPEARANCE OF TRYING TO IMPOSE IT. SPECIFICALLY SUCH A FORMULA MIGHT CONTAIN THE FOLLOWING ELEMENTS WHICH COULD BE USED IN VARYING LENGTHS AND COMBINATIONS:

A. THE AMERICAN PEOPLE REGARD COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS AS THE BEST WAY TO CHOOSE POLITICAL

CONFIDENTIAL

LEADERSHIP IN THEIR OWN COUNTRY AND ELSEWHERE.

B. MANY CHILEAN DEMOCRATIC LEADERS HAVE CALLED FOR AN OPEN ELECTION WHICH WOULD BE MORE IN CONFORMITY WITH THE TRADITION THAT IS STRONGLY ROOTED IN CHILE'S DEMOCRATIC HISTORY.

C. THE UNITED STATES HAS REITERATED ON MANY OCCASIONS ITS STRONG HOPE THAT CHILE WILL RETURN SOON TO THE GROWING DEMOCRATIC FOLD OF THE AMERICAS. OUR BELIEF IS THAT NO BETTER FORMULA EXISTS THAN A FAIR AND FREE ELECTION AMONG COMPETING CANDIDATES.

D. A PLEBISCITE HELD UNDER CONDITIONS STRONGLY OPPOSED BY MAJOR SEGMENTS OF THE SOCIETY WILL NOT HEAL THE SOCIETY'S WOUNDS, BUT ONE THAT WAS THE PRODUCT OF A BROAD CONSENSUS AMONG THESE ELEMENTS COULD SERVE A DEMOCRATIC PURPOSE AS SOME CHILEANS HAVE SUGGESTED.

TIMING

13. WE UNDERSTAND THAT THE EC IN ITS MAY 11-13 MEETING WILL BE TAKING UP THE MATTER OF AN EC DECLARATION SUPPORTING OPEN ELECTIONS. MOLINA HAS TOLD US AND THE EUROPEANS THAT HE WOULD FIND SUCH DECLARATIONS HELPFUL AT THIS TIME. IN ADDITION, AS INDICATED EARLIER THE BISHOPS' CONFERENCE MAY ISSUE AN ENDORSEMENT OF THEIR OWN ALTHOUGH THAT IS FAR FROM CERTAIN. IN EITHER CIRCUMSTANCES WE MAY FIND OURSELVES PRESSED TO STATE OUR VIEWS. GIVEN OUR ASSUMPTION THAT PINOCHET WILL USE WHICHEVER VEHICLE (AND THAT FOR

NOW STILL SEEMS TO BE THE PLEBISCITE) GIVES HIM THE BEST CHANCE TO WIN, WE SHOULD RECOGNIZE THAT ONE OF THE VERY FEW CHANCES FOR HIS NOT CONTINUING IN OFFICE AFTER 1989 IS FOR THE MILITARY (AND/OR PINOCHET) TO BE CONVINCED THAT HE WOULD LOSE THE PLEBISCITE. THIS IN TURN WILL MOST LIKELY COME ABOUT, IF IT DOES AT ALL, FROM WIDESPREAD PUBLIC SUPPORT FOR THE FREE ELECTIONS CAMPAIGN. ONE RESULT OF A SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN, AS INDICATED EARLIER, COULD BE THAT THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION WILL FIND ELEMENTS IN THE MILITARY WHO ARE WILLING TO ENTER INTO A DIALOGUE, THE RESULT OF WHICH IN TURN COULD BE THOSE SAME DEMOCRATIC ELEMENTS AND THE MILITARY DECIDING THAT AN AGREED CANDIDATE IS

THE BEST WAY OUT. BUT IN OUR JUDGEMENT THEY WILL HAVE VERY LITTLE CHANCE OF GETTING TO SUCH A DIALOGUE UNLESS THERE IS CLEAR AND STRONG SENTIMENT FOR FREE ELECTIONS. HENCE WHILE BEING FLEXIBLE ENOUGH OURSELVES TO SUPPORT A DEMOCRATICALLY-ARRIVED-AT CONSENSUS IF ONE EMERGES, OUR OWN PREFERENCE FOR FREE ELECTIONS SHOULD NOT BE HIDDEN. HENCE ALSO OUR SEVERAL POINTED FORMULA GIVEN ABOVE. FROM OUR STANDPOINT HERE WE THINK THE BEST TIMING WOULD BE AFTER THE BISHOPS' DECLARATION DEPENDING ON WHAT THEY SAY.. JUST AS WE FOUND IT USEFUL TO SPEAK OUT AFTER THE GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCED THE POLITICAL PARTIES LAW, SO WE SHOULD BE PREPARED TO SAY SOMETHING ON FREE ELECTIONS AFTER SUCH A STATEMENT BY THE CHILEAN CATHOLIC CHURCH. IN FACT WE PROPOSE THAT CONTACTS BE ESTABLISHED WITH THE EC BEFORE THE 11TH OF MAY TO URGE THAT THEY COORDINATE ANY STATEMENT WITH US SO WE ARE ON GENERALLY THE SAME WAVE LENGTH IN PURSUING OUR MUTUAL GOALS FOR THE RETURN OF DEMOCRACY TO

2. (U) IN THE LAST FEW WEEKS FINLAND HAS PLAYED HOST TO A NUMBER OF VISITORS FROM NICARAGUA. THE MOST IMPORTANT WAS SOCIAL MINISTER REINALDO ANTONIO TEFEL, WHO WAS IN THE COUNTRY ON APRIL 20-25 AS THE GUEST OF THE INTERNATIONAL SOLIDARITY FUND, AN ARM OF THE FINNISH SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY (SDP). IN INTERVIEWS GIVEN TO THE SDP'S NEWSPAPER "SUOMEN SOSIALIDEMOKRAATTI" AND THE

"MODERATE" COMMUNIST NEWSPAPER "KANSAN UUTISET", TEFEL MADE THE FOLLOWING POINTS:

UNCLASSIFIED

-- THE POPE HAS CHANGED HIS ATTITUDE TOWARD THE SANDINISTAS.

-- THE NEW PAPAL NUNCIO IN NICARAGUA HAS MADE THE BISHOPS NEGOTIATE WITH THE GOVERNMENT.

-- RELATIONS BETWEEN THE SANDINISTAS AND THE OFFICIAL CHURCH HAVE "IMPROVED SIGNIFICANTLY" SINCE LAST YEAR.

-- A WORKING GROUP IS CONTINUING THE DISCUSSIONS BEGUN BETWEEN DANIEL ORTEGA AND THE CARDINAL OF MANAGUA.

-- "ONLY AFTER THE USA'S AGGRESSION HAS ENDED", THE BISHOP WHO "OPENLY ASKED FOR INTERVENTION" FROM THE UNITED STATES MAY RETURN, AND "THE SAME APPLIES TO 'LA PRENSA', WHICH ATTACKED THE GOVERNMENT."

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

-- IF THE NEXT PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES COMES FROM THE LIBERAL WING OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY, THE SANDINISTAS "ARE SURE" THEY CAN NEGOTIATE A SOLUTION WITH HIM.

-- THE UNITED STATES CONGRESS WILL NOT APPROVE FURTHER AID TO THE CONTRAS.

-- THE CONTRAS CANNOT FIGHT AGAINST THE ARMY BUT RATHER SOLELY WAGE A CAMPAIGN OF TERRORISM AGAINST TOWNS AND AGRICULTURAL COOPERATIVES, I.E., AGAINST CIVILIAN TARGETS.

-- DURING THE SOMOZA DICTATORSHIP THERE WERE NORMAL LABOR UNIONS IN NICARAGUA. TODAY THERE ARE "1030 DIFFERENT KINDS OF LABOR ORGANIZATIONS" TO WHICH 113,000 OF NICARAGUA'S POPULATION OF 3.5 MILLION BELONG.

-- SINCE SOMOZAS'S FALL, 2800 COOPERATIVES HAVE BEEN CREATED.

-- NICARAGUA WILL NEED CONTINUOUSLY DIRECT INTERNATIONAL AID UNTIL THE LONG-TERM DEVELOPMENT PLAN CAN BE REALIZED.

DURING HIS SOJOURN IN FINLAND, TEFEL CALLED ON THEN-SOCIAL AFFAIRS AND HEALTH MINISTER EEVA KUUSKOSKI-VIKATMAA (CENTER PARTY), DIRECTOR OF THE SOCIAL AFFAIRS ADMINISTRATION VAPPU TAIPALE (SDP), THEN-CHAIRMAN OF THE PARLIAMENTARY FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE ERKKI LIIKANEN (SDP), AND "REPRESENTATIVES OF THE FOREIGN MINISTRY, THE SDP, AND NATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS" (IN "KANSAN UUTISET'S" WORDS). THE ABOVE-MENTIONED NEWSPAPERS, HIS VISIT WAS REPORTED IN A SHORT ARTICLE IN THE "STALINIST" COMMUNIST NEWSPAPER "TIEDONANTAJA".

3. (U) THE SECRETARY-GENERAL OF THE NICARAGUAN PEACE COMMITTEE (CONIPAZ), MARIA GARCIA, AND THE COMMITTEE'S EUROPEAN AFFAIRS OFFICER, LESLIE OMAR, VISITED FINLAND IN EARLY MAY AND RECEIVED EXTENSIVE COVERAGE IN FINLAND'S COMMUNIST NEWSPAPERS. IN INTERVIEWS PUBLISHED ON MAY 5, GARCIA APPARENTLY DID MOST OF THE TALKING; HER MAIN POINTS WERE:

-- THE CONTRAS WERE RESTRAINED ONLY "MOMENTARILY" BY THE SCANDAL OVER THEIR FINANCING.

-- THE SITUATION IN NICARAGUA IS BETTER THAN 2-3 YEARS AGO, BUT THE UNITED STATES IS ENCOURAGING THE CONTRAS TO MAKE NEW ATTACKS.

-- THE CIA HAS BEGUN A MAJOR CAMPAIGN IN HONDURAS AND COSTA RICA TO CLEANSE THE REPUTATIONS OF PRESIDENT REAGAN AND THE CONTRAS.

-- THERE ARE MANY MEN IN THE CONTRAS' RANKS WHO WOULD LIKE TO RETURN HOME TO NICARAGUA FROM HONDURAS UNARMED, BUT THE CIA HOLDS THEM IN ITS TIGHT GRIP AND WILL NOT LET THEM GO.

-- THE NICARAGUANS BELIEVE THAT MILITARY EXERCISES, SUCH AS "SOLID SHELL", ARE PRELUDES TO A DIRECT ATTACK BY THE UNITED STATES.

-- "THE KEEPING OF GUERRILLAS OUTSIDE THE COUNTRY'S BORDERS IS FELT ALSO IN NICARAGUA'S EXPORT EARNINGS, WHICH HAVE COLLAPSED IN A SHORT TIME FROM 450 MILLION DOLLARS TO 218 MILLION DOLLARS" (FROM "KANSAN UUTISET").

-- FINNISH PEACE AND SOLIDARITY ORGANIZATIONS AS WELL AS THE FINNISH MUNICIPAL WORKERS' UNION (KTV) ARE COLLECTING 200,000 STORM LANTERNS FOR NICARAGUA. THESE ARE NEEDED FOR RURAL WORKERS "WHO MUST WAKE UP AT 3:00" TO GO TO WORK AND FOR ADULTS WHO STUDY AT NIGHT AFTER WORK.

4. (U) IN ADDITION, "SUOMEN SOSIALIDEMOKRAATTI" IS CONDUCTING A LOW-SCALE CAMPAIGN IN ITS "ON THE LINE" COLUMN IN FAVOR OF THE DISPATCH OF FINNISH PEACE CORPSMEN ("KEPA TEAMS") TO NICARAGUA. INITIALLY THE FOREIGN MINISTRY DECIDED NOT TO DO SO (REFTEL A), BUT

SDP ACTIVISTS MAY TRY TO BRING ABOUT A RECONSIDERATION OF THE MATTER NOW THAT SDP CHAIRMAN KALEVI SORSA IS FOREIGN MINISTER.

5. (C) COMMENT: THE TWO VISITS SEEM TO HAVE BEEN AIMED AT DIFFERENT BUT SPECIFIC PURPOSES. TEFEL SEEMED TO BE TRYING TO REASSURE THE FINNS ABOUT CHURCH-STATE RELATIONS IN HIS COUNTRY AND ABOUT THE SANDINISTAS' RESPECT FOR TRADE-UNION RIGHTS. GARCIA AND OMAR, ON THE OTHER HAND, SEEMED TO TAKE A MORE ANTI-AMERICAN, ANTI-CONTRA LINE, EMPHASIZING THE ALLEGED THREATS TO NICARAGUA FROM MILITARY MANEUVERS BY THE UNITED STATES. IT MAY BE THAT THE FINNS ARE BECOMING MORE SKEPTICAL ABOUT THE SANDINISTAS' PERFORMANCE IN THESE AREAS.

Dear Senator Dixon:

We have received your letter of April 20, 1987 requesting information on the "no" vote cast by the United States on a resolution concerning human rights in Chile last year. Your inquiry was on behalf of your constituent [redacted]

Let me assure you and your constituent that our actions in international organizations concerning Chile are determined with US support for democracy and human rights in Chile very much in mind. We take our actions in these bodies seriously, and seek to be constructive. Accordingly, we do not vote for resolutions unless we consider them sound.

There were significant parts of the resolution on Chile presented last December that reflected our own assessment of the human rights situation in that country. But, taken as a whole, we considered it to be seriously flawed in not reflecting accurately the constructive work of the UN Special Rapporteur, former Costa Rican Foreign Minister Fernando Volio.

This omission was apparent in many ways. The resolution praised Chilean government cooperation with the Rapporteur, but other positive steps mentioned in Volio's report were not acknowledged fairly. We consider it important that, whenever possible, progress should be recognized in order to encourage more progress in the future.

In addition, Volio, like the majority of the Chilean democratic opposition, had acknowledged that the assassination attempt against General Pinochet last September and the discovery of communist arsenals a month earlier had helped to impede the return of democracy in Chile. The UN resolution did not acknowledge that the government is not the sole source of political violence in Chile. We felt it was important that a resolution on Chile recognize the negative impact of terrorism. We voted against the resolution only after we were unable to obtain sufficient amendments to the text to allay these fundamental concerns.

The Honorable
Alan J. Dixon,
United States Senate.

In seeking to promote human rights and democracy in Chile, we consider it important to be vocal in deploring terrorist violence, just as we are outspoken in deploring violence by the Chilean government. As Pope John Paul II demonstrated in his recent visit to Chile, it is possible to condemn violence from all sources without providing the government justification for human rights abuses.

There has been no retreat from our vocal support for democracy and human rights in Chile. We took the initiative to propose a resolution on Chile this year in the UN Human Rights Commission, just as we did last March. Through persistent diplomatic efforts we were able to obtain improvements in an unbalanced Chile resolution circulated by Mexico, and to reach agreement on a proposal for eliminating discriminatory treatment of Chile under a separate agenda item. We succeeded in revising the text so that it would deplore "continued acts of extreme violence from all quarters." In view of the improvements we obtained, despite flaws in the text, we joined the consensus in approving the resolution.

We continue to work to encourage progress across the board in Chile. Recent months have seen encouraging efforts by the Chilean government to address some longstanding problems, such as political exile. Government security forces have recently agreed with the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) to allow visits by ICRC doctors to most prisoners. Two opposition newspapers have appeared. The government has begun to reestablish voter registries and enacted a law which permits political parties to gain legal recognition. While Chile's 1980 constitution calls for a single-candidate presidential plebiscite in 1989, rather than free elections, these measures help ensure broad discussion of prospects of the possibility of amending that constitution to permit free elections by 1989, as most opposition groups and many government supporters have advocated.

Despite these positive changes, serious human rights problems such as torture have continued. Moreover, President Pinochet gives every indication of wishing to continue in office beyond 1989, and has resisted replacement of the plebiscite with an open election.

The aforementioned steps, however, can help create the type of atmosphere conducive to a return to full democracy in Chile. We hope that these measures are followed up by greater relaxation of restrictions on individual liberties and by decisive steps to end human rights abuses. We will continue to strive to encourage human rights progress and a peaceful return to democracy in Chile. The United States Government is second to none in pressing for both of these. In contrast with most nations, we buttress our words with actions; this is recognized in Chile by both the government and the opposition.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

J. Edward Fox

OREP 2

Dear Senator Evans:

We have received your letter of April 30, 1987 requesting a report on the case of Clodomiro Almeyda, a Chilean relegated (internal banishment) to a small Chilean town by his government. Your inquiry was on behalf of your constituent Sergio Urrutia.

Mr. Almeyda, who was Foreign Minister in the Allende government, is now a leader of a faction of the Chilean Socialist Party allied with the Communist Party and the terrorist Movement of the Revolutionary Left. He was expelled from Chile in 1975 after being detained for sixteen months. While living in exile, Mr. Almeyda reportedly resided in both Mexico and East Germany. He returned to Chile in late March of this year and, upon turning himself into the government, was relegated to Chile Chico, a town in the south of Chile. Mr. Almeyda is allowed to move freely about town and receive visitors, but he cannot leave the area.

United States policy toward Chile is to support the restoration of democracy and to encourage greater respect for human rights. As part of this policy we have consistently called on Chilean authorities to permit all exiles to return and to end the practice of relegation, a practice infrequently used in the last two years. Our Ambassador in Santiago reiterated this policy following Mr. Almeyda's return to Chile. Some progress on the exile problem has recently occurred, with the number of Chileans barred from returning to their homeland reduced from over 3500 to 764.

I am enclosing a copy of the 1986 State Department Human Rights Report, which addresses the question of exiles and relegation in some depth. In addition, you will be interested to learn that in March 1986 the US sponsored a resolution on human rights at the UN Human Rights Commission (UNHRC) which calls upon Chile to allow the return of all exiles. The US also joined consensus on the March 1987 UNHRC resolution on Chile which reiterated the call for an end to the practice of exile.

Dear Harry:

I've just returned from a long, tiring, yet stimulating visit to my old haunts in Argentina and Uruguay. Luckily, the office was in good hands while I was away and only the on-going usual set of crises faced me upon my return. I came back to find that Bob remains heavily involved in Chilean matters, though Elliott has temporarily drawn back a bit to prepare for his Contra/Iran testimony next week. I was disappointed to hear I missed seeing Miss Chile crowned Miss Universe. Is Pinochet crafty enough to get mileage out of this?

GSP Update: It appears increasingly possible that GSP (and, therefore, OPIC) will be cut-off to Chile. We are skeptical that the Front Office will want to fall on the sword to protect Chile's roughly $60 million in GSP benefits, since a strong case can be made that Santiago has not fulfilled its promises and is now stringing us along. As a sidelight on this last point, Shark has told us that he would have been willing to accept the Chilean ILO gambit two years ago, but now it is too late to entertain this idea.

The last two weeks' events seem to have swirled around the Letelier case and Chile's declining chances of retaining GSP. Len went to the Inter-Agency GSP meeting on Chile and said sentiment was so heavily weighted against Chile that he sought to give us at least a little negotiating space by speaking as if he were on retainer to the GOC. (We pouched the notes from this meeting to John.) A player in turning sentiment so negative toward Chile is, of course, Congress. In order to keep the pressure on, staffers from the Senate and House will be talking to Jim, STR's Dave Shark and someone from DOL today. The organizer of the meeting is Congressman Feighan's LA Neil Levine, fresh from the Rojas Fund and sponsorship of the sanctions legislation. Levine's wife is Chilean.

Expulsion Request: On the Letelier case, you know that our expulsion request was revealed in the May 27 Washington Post and our subsequent press guidance. Bob did this in order to provide cover for L's Liz Verville when she testifies today on the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act. Because of a timing mix-up, nothing about the expulsion request was in her prepared statement, though she is prepared to speak on the subject and VOA has been alerted to have a correspondent in the hearing room. (Verville will also see Errazuriz--at his request--to explain again why the Chileans should appear in court to answer the Rojas civil suit.)

What are your views on timing for the next step? Before making the request to involve the military prosecutor, Bob is inclined to wait until we have a Chilean Embassy response in hand and have studied it. We may be forced to move more quickly because of pressure on the compensation issue. We'll see how Liz Verville's appearance goes today (final briefing materials are enclosed).

Brother Arturo:

HUFFMAN ACTION

NDI Considering Direct Aid to Free Elections Committee: Jim discussed with the Democratic NDI staff the proposal you brought to our attention for a $30,000 grant to the free elections committee (FEC) to fund an executive secretariat. Noting the recent media attacks in Chile on the creation of a FEC support group headed by Jimmy Carter, Jim suggested that NDI consider a joint program with the Republican NRI, or direct NED support for the FEC. He noted that a strong identification between the FEC and the Democratic Party would make it easier for the GOC to deflect attention from the election vs. plebiscite issue. We now have the NDI proposal, which puts off the Secretariat funding until later, and proposes a study mission instead. We believe this mission makes sense as a bipartisan undertaking, and should not be rushed. We are asking Bob to call Brian Atwood and Carl Gershman on this.

In a later discussion, NRI president Keith Schuette told Jim that NDI President Brian Atwood had already raised support for the FEC with him. Schuette said the NRI would endorse any NDI or NED program, but did not want to get directly involved. He said the NRI, rather than such "ecumenical work", preferred to concentrate on party-building efforts with conservative political parties. As Keith told George, the NRI is considering sponsoring a conference in Chile with mainly National Party and Renovation Party participation. Schuette was favorably disposed toward joint NDI-NRI sponsorship of a team of experts to assess conditions in advance of any plebiscite, at a later date. Keith said that Andres Allamand was resigned to NRI's supporting both PARENA and the National Party. After the Fiji coup, Keith was in a particularly skeptical frame of mind about democracy-building.

Pinochet on CIA: Chapter 2: Last week, Maturana alerted us that President Pinochet had sent a letter to Ambassador Walters concerning Pinochet's remarks about the CIA. Jim asked whether the GOC had any intention of "clarifying" Pinochet's statements publicly. Maturana indicated that the Chilean Embassy response to our protest note was meant to be a definitive reply. He added that the MFA official who told the Chilean press that the US had not protested the Pinochet statement simply was poorly informed. No retraction was planned, however. Maturana asked that the USG demonstrate "good will" and accept the Embassy's explanation that Pinochet's remarks were misinterpreted. (Bob's response, as noted in the Post article, is that the Chileans can expect little "good will" from us if they show none to begin with.) USUN sent us a copy of the letter and we have sent a cable up to Elliott for approval asking Walters for a read-out of his conversations. Hopefully you will see this cable by the time this letter reaches you. We do not plan a formal reply to GOC note. I expect Bob will continue to raise this matter as long as it proves convenient. His public reference to our protest was stimulated by the deceptive reply of the MFA official. We do not see any utility in a prolonged struggle on this--you may wish to weigh in if it appears the Pinochet/CIA business is detracting attention from more serious matters. There is some utility, however, to keeping this issue alive, to discredit Pinochet--if, in fact, that is the result.

Two Loans and a Loan Restructuring Due In June: Treasury informed us that two Chilean loans will come up at the IBRD on June 9. These will be for $95 million for power generation and $21.5 million for an irrigation project. In addition, on June 2 the IFC will take up a restructuring of a loan to the Cape Horn methanol project. None of the three projects are BHN. In line with standing instructions, Treasury will instruct our bank directors to abstain on the loans and restructuring. Besides next fall's SAL III, upcoming loans include a $35 million railroad loan expected to come up at the IBRD in August and a $68 million potable water project (presumably BHN) scheduled for November in the IDB.

ECON, NOTE

Security Consultations: Bob remains very concerned over the joint security consultations. He recalls that last year the US participants did not faithfully reflect US policy to the Chileans. He wants to be sure this does not happen again and plans to meet with JCS reps and the head of the consultations team. It may be hyperbole, but Bob tells us he is willing to seek to cancel the consultations if he is not satisifed about the approach to be taken by the US team.

DAO, NOTE.

Molina Non-Committal on Sanctions: At his presentation to the NED conference, Sergio Molina highlighted the anti-democratic provisions of Chile's 1980 constitution, and the necessity for Chileans to agree on an opposition platform and candidate to present a clear alternative to Pinochet. Asked whether he would support US sanctions legislations, Molina deflected the question deftly. He said the opposition was divided on the issue--playing off Rep. Solarz' previous comments to the group that the US should take its lead on actions to promote transitions from those working on the ground in non-democratic countries in favor of democracy. Molina said those on both sides of the issue presented logical arguments. Those against sanctions said that they would provoke a nationalistic reaction among "not unsubstantial sectors" and aid Pinochet. Those who favored sanctions felt it was necessary to take this step to discredit the regime now, because of the danger that Pinochet would extend his rule beyond 1989.

His non-answer, while not endorsing the Administration position, buttressed our assertion that the opposition is divided on the issue. Valdes' visit has already had an effect, however. After his meeting with Valdes, Cong. Bereuter is apparently reviewing options on Chile and deciding whether to endorse the Democratic-proposed sanctions legislation or introduce his own bill. Bereuter's staffer says Bereuter has not made up his mind, but favors taking some "action" on Chile. One proposal he is reportedly looking at is "frontloading" sanctions, i.e., tying economic measures to failure to carry out free elections by 1989. We have warned about not undercutting a consensus candidate solution. Bob was to see Bereuter yesterday. We will get you a readout.

Maximo's Maxims: Maximo Pacheco met with Elliott last week. There was not much to the conversation, so we did not do a cable. Maximo said that he favors economic pressure on Pinochet and that he sees an improvement in the human rights conditions in Chile, though he has doubts over the motivation behind this. He had a few words of praise for Stange and efforts to clean up the CNI. He also said the opposition shared blame for the current state of affairs. In HA he had a brief chat with new DAS Paula Dubrianski. Both Paula and Jim mentioned that the US would have difficulty supporting any Chile resolution co-sponsored by Cuba. Maximo said he would raise with the Mexican Ambassador the possibility of dropping Cuba. Maximo said he foresaw a resolution in New York similar to that approved in Geneva. Jim mentioned to him the importance of including a clear reference to terrorist violence, as well as to government violence, and the need to recognize progress when progress occurs--as in the decline in statistics of grave human rights violations.

Church Conclave: Pepe Zavala's predictions on the Bishops' Conference were right on the mark. Has he made known to us his views of the free elections campaign? By the way, how do you judge his reading of the "poblaciones" situation? We welcome the increased contacts you are having with the Church in the aftermath of the Pope's visit. This is an area worth concentrating on. Perhaps you can arrange regular, bi-weekly meetings by you or George with Fresno and/or Pinera--who is particularly impressive. We need to find ways to work more closely together, particularly to influence the democratic opposition.

Statement on Free Elections: The Bishops' non-endorsement has thrown cold water on our making a statement in the imminent future. I would favor holding off until after the August conclave, for the same reasons you perceived the Bishops as delaying in your excellent telegram. Bob has not yet decided. If the EC moves soon, we may want to reconsider waiting for the Bishops. But we understand from a UK diplomat here that current thinking is for an EC statement in September--tied to the anniversary of the coup. Jim, suggested that they consider pegging it to a unifying anniversary instead, such as national day. Attached is a copy of a draft free elections statement--which Bob has not yet cleared. Even if we wait, we could use parts of this statement in the interim to raise the profile of our concerns. No matter what the best timing may be from the point of view of our Chilean policy, our hand could be forced by US domestic considerations--for instance, if Congress holds hearings on Chile.

Good.

MEMORANDUM

TO: L

FROM: ARA - Elliott Abrams

SUBJECT: What, If Any, Legal Avenues Exist to Counter Unrestricted FMLN/FDR Activities in the U.S.?

SUMMARY

A number of recent events highlight a continuing and essentially unrestricted presence in the U.S. of representatives of the Salvadoran Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front/Democratic Revolutionary Front (FMLN/FDR). Its "diplomats" and clandestine members representing front groups tour the country with impunity spreading propaganda and lobbying for an end to U.S. support for the GOES. Both the FMLN and FDR are proscribed organizations. They form an alliance that is trying to overthrow a friendly democratic government by force, has assassinated U.S. officials in the past, and has indicated its readiness, as a matter of policy, to do so again. FBI and INS have shown little interest in pursuing our requests for action against individual persons. Before again approaching enforcement agencies on this issue, we would like L's judgment on what legal avenues the U.S. Government might pursue to control and counter this activity.

BACKGROUND

Unable to secure victory on the battlefield, the FMLN/FDR has adopted a strategy of "prolonged popular war" designed to wear out the democratic government through military attrition, economic sabotage, terrorism, and the penetration and control of labor, student, and human rights organizations to foment political instability. An essential complementary aspect of the strategy is to promote opposition to U.S. policies in this country, the ultimate goal being the early cutoff of U.S. assistance to the government.

The guerrillas have been heartened by the Democrats' taking control of the U.S. Senate and the approaching end of the Reagan Administration. Encouraged by the prospect of a Democratic Administration that in their view may not be as receptive to supporting the GOES, the FMLN/FDR appears to have stepped up its propaganda and lobbying activities in the U.S.

RECENT EVENTS

Recently, we have witnessed -- incredibly in our view -- the spectacle of FMLN members, having been denied visas abroad, entering the U.S. illegally and propagandizing throughout the U.S. and even in the Congress. A recent intelligence report indicates that a hostile witness at an April 21 hearing of the House Appropriations Subcomittee on Foreign Operations is a clandestine member of the FMLN/FDR Political-Diplomatic Commission (CPD), the main international relations body of the guerrilla alliance.

Here is a brief overview of only the most visible FMLN/FDR activities in the U.S., focusing on recent events. We believe these are merely the tip of a very large iceberg.

-- Ramon Cardona, who according to a 1984 intelligence study was once the FMLN/FDR representative for the eastern Caribbean, has been touring the U.S. giving speeches.

-- Febe Elizabeth Velasquez, who according to abundant intelligence reporting is a member of the FMLN, is now touring the U.S. Velasquez has over the last several months been the most active FMLN member in the union movement in El Salvador. She has personally advocated kidnapping and violence to foment instability. She applied for a visa at Congen Toronto in April, but never followed up on the application, which had been referred to the Department. Undeterred, she simply entered illegally.

-- Maria Teresa Tula de Canales, who according to intelligence information is a member of the FMLN who has participated in murdering GOES officials, is in the U.S. illegally and has applied for political asylum. She was denied a visa in 1984 under 212(a)28(f). In February 1987

she applied for a visa in Mexico City, but was denied under 214b. She appeared in late April in the office of Rep. Moakley, giving briefings to Congressmen and staffers.

-- Jorge Sol Castellanos is a respected economist and one of the founders of the FDR. He has apparently lived in Washington for several years. He was one of the hostile witnesses at the recent hearings of the Obey subcommittee, where he argued for an end to U.S. support for the GOES. A recent intelligence report indicates that he (or perhaps a son of the same name) was chosen by the National Revolutionary Movement (MNR) at a March meeting in Cuba to be a representative of the MNR on the FMLN/FDR's Political-Diplomatic Commission (CPD). It is quite possible, therefore, that a star witness at a Congressional hearing was a clandestine member of the FMLN/FDR. Sol was identified at the hearings only as a member of the Institute for Policy Studies.

-- The COMADRES is an ostensible human rights organization that has been identified by abundant intelligence reporting as being a front for and controlled by the FMLN. It operates freely from several offices in the U.S., spreading FMLN propaganda.

-- Francisco Altschul, who has been identified as the FMLN/FDR's Washington representative, freely travels to and from the U.S., apparently spending much of his time on the Hill. We are moving now to revoke his visa, which was probably obtained fraudulently in the early 80s.

-- The FDR has operated openly in the U.S. for many years, principally from its office in New York.

CAN ANYTHING BE DONE?

INS and the FBI have so far shown little interest in FMLN/FDR activities here, although the FBI did apparently look into the matter in 1983. (FBI has declined to give us the final report of that investigation.) We would appreciate L's analysis of the legal aspects of the insurgent presence in this country, both in terms of the overall presence and in terms of the activities of specific individuals who are FMLN members. As proscribed organizations, can the FMLN or FDR operate legally in the U.S? Do organizations such as the COMADRES or individuals such as Jorge Sol have to register as foreign agents? What are the prospects for our successfully moving against clandestine FMLN members in the U.S? Or against individual members of the FDR who may not be members of the FMLN?

If, as we suspect, insurgent propaganda activities are increasing, there may come a point where the heat we take by moving legally against FMLN/FDR representatives becomes an acceptable tradeoff in terms of preventing the insurgents from continued proselytizing in the U.S. That decision, of course, would come later after consultations with appropriate USG agencies. In the meantime, we would like to find out just what the law empowers the USG to do about all this. If you need additional background on the FMLN/FDR alliance, please get in touch with the El Salvador desk, which has all of the information discussed in this memorandum.

SUBJECT: What, If Any, Legal Avenues Exist to Counter Unrestricted FMLN/FDR Activities in the U.S.?

SUMMARY

A number of recent events highlight a continuing and essentially unrestricted presence in the U.S. of representatives of the Salvadoran Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front/Democratic Revolutionary Front (FMLN/FDR). Its "diplomats" and clandestine members representing front groups tour the country with impunity spreading propaganda and lobbying for an end to U.S. support for the GOES. Both the FMLN and FDR are proscribed organizations. They form an alliance that is trying to overthrow a friendly democratic government by force, has assassinated U.S. officials in the past, and has indicated its readiness, as a matter of policy, to do so again. FBI and INS have shown little interest in pursuing our requests for action against individual persons. Before again approaching enforcement agencies on this issue, we would like L's judgment on what legal avenues the U.S. Government might pursue to control and counter this activity.

BACKGROUND

Unable to secure victory on the battlefield, the FMLN/FDR has adopted a strategy of "prolonged popular war" designed to wear out the democratic government through military attrition, economic sabotage, terrorism, and the penetration and control of labor, student, and human rights organizations to foment political instability. An essential complementary aspect of the strategy is to promote opposition to U.S. policies in this country, the ultimate goal being the early cutoff of U.S. assistance to the government.

The guerrillas have been heartened by the Democrats' taking control of the U.S. Senate and the approaching end of the Reagan Administration. Encouraged by the prospect of a Democratic Administration that in their view may not be as receptive to supporting the GOES, the FMLN/FDR appears to have stepped up its propaganda and lobbying activities in the U.S.

RECENT EVENTS

Recently, we have witnessed -- incredibly in our view -- the spectacle of FMLN members, having been denied visas abroad, entering the U.S. illegally and propagandizing throughout the U.S. and even in the Congress. A recent intelligence report indicates that a hostile witness at an April 21 hearing of the House Appropriations Subcomittee on Foreign Operations is a clandestine member of the FMLN/FDR Political-Diplomatic Commission (CPD), the main international relations body of the guerrilla alliance.

Here is a brief overview of only the most visible FMLN/FDR activities in the U.S., focusing on recent events. We believe these are merely the tip of a very large iceberg.

-- Ramon Cardona, who according to a 1984 intelligence study was once the FMLN/FDR representative for the eastern Caribbean, has been touring the U.S. giving speeches.

-- Febe Elizabeth Velasquez, who according to abundant intelligence reporting is a member of the FMLN, is now touring the U.S. Velasquez has over the last several months been the most active FMLN member in the union movement in El Salvador. She has personally advocated kidnapping and violence to foment instability. She applied for a visa at Congen Toronto in April, but never followed up on the application, which had been referred to the Department. Undeterred, she simply entered illegally.

-- Maria Teresa Tula de Canales, who according to intelligence information is a member of the FMLN who has participated in murdering GOES officials, is in the U.S. illegally and has applied for political asylum. She was denied a visa in 1984 under 212(a)28(f). In February 1987

she applied for a visa in Mexico City, but was denied under 214b. She appeared in late April in the office of Rep. Moakley, giving briefings to Congressmen and staffers.

-- Jorge Sol Castellanos is a respected economist and one of the founders of the FDR. He has apparently lived in Washington for several years. He was one of the hostile witnesses at the recent hearings of the Obey subcommittee, where he argued for an end to U.S. support for the GOES. A recent intelligence report indicates that he (or perhaps a son of the same name) was chosen by the National Revolutionary Movement (MNR) at a March meeting in Cuba to be a representative of the MNR on the FMLN/FDR's Political-Diplomatic Commission (CPD). It is quite possible, therefore, that a star witness at a Congressional hearing was a clandestine member of the FMLN/FDR. Sol was identified at the hearings only as a member of the Institute for Policy Studies.

-- The COMADRES is an ostensible human rights organization that has been identified by abundant intelligence reporting as being a front for and controlled by the FMLN. It operates freely from several offices in the U.S., spreading FMLN propaganda.

-- Francisco Altschul, who has been identified as the FMLN/FDR's Washington representative, freely travels to and from the U.S., apparently spending much of his time on the Hill. We are moving now to revoke his visa, which was probably obtained fraudulently in the early 80s.

-- The FDR has operated openly in the U.S. for many years, principally from its office in New York.

CAN ANYTHING BE DONE?

INS and the FBI have so far shown little interest in FMLN/FDR activities here, although the FBI did apparently look into the matter in 1983. (FBI has declined to give us the final report of that investigation.) We would appreciate L's analysis of the legal aspects of the insurgent presence in this country, both in terms of the overall presence and in terms of the activities of specific individuals who are FMLN members. As proscribed organizations, can the FMLN or FDR operate legally in the U.S? Do organizations such as the COMADRES or individuals such as Jorge Sol have to register as foreign agents? What are the prospects for our successfully moving against clandestine FMLN members in the U.S? Or against individual members of the FDR who may not be members of the FMLN?

If, as we suspect, insurgent propaganda activities are increasing, there may come a point where the heat we take by moving legally against FMLN/FDR representatives becomes an acceptable tradeoff in terms of preventing the insurgents from continued proselytizing in the U.S. That decision, of course, would come later after consultations with appropriate USG agencies. In the meantime, we would like to find out just what the law empowers the USG to do about all this. If you need additional background on the FMLN/FDR alliance, please get in touch with the El Salvador desk, which has all of the information discussed in this memorandum.

Dear Senator:

We have received your letter of April 30, 1987 requesting a report on the case of Clodomiro Almeyda, a Chilean relegated (internal banishment) to a small Chilean town by his government. Your inquiry was on behalf of your constituent [redacted].

Mr. Almeyda, who was Foreign Minister in the Allende government, is now a leader of a faction of the Chilean Socialist Party allied with the Communist Party and the terrorist Movement of the Revolutionary Left. He was expelled from Chile in 1975 after being detained for sixteen months. While living in exile, Mr. Almeyda reportedly resided in both Mexico and East Germany. He returned to Chile in late March of this year and, upon turning himself into the government, was relegated to Chile Chico, a town in the south of Chile. Mr. Almeyda is allowed to move freely about town and receive visitors, but he cannot leave the area.

United States policy toward Chile is to support the restoration of democracy and to encourage greater respect for human rights. As part of this policy we have consistently called on Chilean authorities to permit all exiles to return and to end the practice of relegation, a practice infrequently used in the last two years. Our Ambassador in Santiago reiterated this policy following Mr. Almeyda's return to Chile. Some progress on the exile problem has recently occurred, with the number of Chileans barred from returning to their homeland reduced from over 3500 to 764.

I am enclosing a copy of the 1986 State Department Human Rights Report, which addresses the question of exiles and relegation in some depth. In addition, you will be interested

Dear Dick:

Futurology. George who is just back, mentioned that Jim had prepared a paper, of which he had seen a first draft, setting out thoughts for our actions/programs for the rest of the year. By the time you receive this George will have asked for a copy. My reason for raising it is simply to say that we have been thinking along similar future oriented lines. I've asked John Keane to work on what I call a conceptual framework starting with where we want to come out in terms of the plebiscite/election (?) and working backwards to see what the implications are for things we should be doing between then and now.

Sergio Molina on Free Elections: Sergio gave me a quick update upon his return from the U.S. His basic points:

-- There is no pact with Gabriel Valdes to abandon the free elections campaign at any given time or upon failing to achieve a given number of voters registered. Nevertheless, he feels that the registration of only four million voters would be equivalent to defeat.

-- Apathy is the biggest problem. Money and enough people with time available away from earning a living are also obstacles but not as severe as apathy. And he draws this conclusion because five million people who have their carnet already is a good sized base to start from. He would like to see the number of voters registering climb from the current rate of approximately 10,000 per day to 20,000 per day.

-- Carl Gershman agreed that Sergio could draw on the $30,000 which have been granted in a supplement immediately, while he ›ects to be able to provide a grant of $100,000 in September ›e Italians have not yet responded to a request for assistance.* ›ff Puryear of the Ford Foundation would like to provide $50,000 for voter civic education, but that awaits Ford's Board decision. Sergio meanwhile has approximately one million pesos per month indefinitely from local business sources which covers his office expenses. He is attempting to get more money from this group for radio spots.

-- Free Elections committees have been established in Antofagasta, Arica, Punta Arenas, Concepcion, Puerto Montt and perhaps a few other cities. Sergio Molina, Edgardo Condeza and another member of the committee (Sylvia Alessandri, perhaps?) are traveling the country trying to establish committees and generate enthusiasm.

-- Sergio would get in touch with Edmundo Vargas and ask him to urge the American supporters of establishing a Free Elections committee there to hold off. Sergio feels that it is very important that such an effort not be seen as purely political; he would like to have it more broadly encompassing with people from walks of life other than the political party field.

-- Sergio is confident that the Christian Democratic Party will reach some kind of internal consensus and unity is not threatened. Sergio did not indicate who he would prefer but we have the impression from his comments and from statements by others that Sergio privately favors Aylwin. He is prudently avoiding any image of partiality.

-- Sergio thinks that a number of the smaller parties will become interested in the idea of an all-encompassing "free elections party," including the Christian Democrats, once these smaller parties realize they won't be able to garner the 35,000 signatures they need for official recognition.

*The Italian Charge told me this morning that he thinks Sergio's request for U.S. $100,000 from Italian sources will receive a positive response.

Prison Visits: We are still having problems. Despite all our efforts with the Foreign Ministry and the "Gendarmeria", Michelle Ritterman was initially denied entry to the public jail even though she was accompanied by several Chilean members of the local psychologists association, as Amb. Gaston Illanes had recommended to us. We did lots of scrambling to get her an appointment with a senior "Gendarmeria" representative and after travails like those of Pauline she eventually secured entry and had a visit that she described very enthusiastically to Don Knight. By the way, I will be seeing Del Valle on the night of June 1 and if time permits after covering other topics will urge him to try and help develop a consistent and reasonable procedure (See Don Knight's memo enclosed).

Taller Norte: Victor Basauri came to see John on May 26. Jose Cuevas, warehouseman who works with "Construyendo Juntos", the project Bob and Dick visited at Lo Hermida, was kidnapped, drugged, beaten and badly burned in the face and arms by unidentified men in a white car with one-way glass on May 17. He was questioned about "Taller Norte", the activities of the christian base group to which he belongs in that area and the activities of his wife who is active in several community groups. (El Mercurio claims Cuevas is a MAPU member but Basauri notes that Cuevas is a rather slow-witted and harmless individual.) He will be hospitalized for several weeks. The Taller Norte people suspect the culprits are thugs working for the local municipality.

According to Taller Norte, this is a new phenomenon now appearing in several neighborhoods where they have contacts. Their explanation is that as the CNI, Investigations Police and Carabineros clean up their act for the plebiscite and post-transitory articles period, the dirty work is being done by unidentified hoodlums on the municipal payrolls. The security services may not even know who is responsible. The objective is to terrify people into refusing cooperation with base organizations that are led by the opposition. It is disturbing to the mayors that, in a number of cases of "Junta de Vecinos" elections, opposition elements have seized control of the "Juntas". (We will check with human rights and other sources about the problem of municipal thugs). Asked what we could do to help Cuevas or "Construyendo Juntos", Basauri said that they would ask the people of "Construyendo Juntos" to call us and set up a meeting in order to express their preferences directly. Of course we would like to visit Cuevas if they think it does not put him at greater risk. Finally, John is setting up a meeting between Carl Schwarz, of the IAF, who is now in town, and Taller Norte, which is putting the finishing touches on the long-promised project.

Hill Climate for U.S./Chile Military Contacts. George gave us a run-down on his meeting with Ed Long (Harkin staff) and a few others on the Hill. George found that Ed sees the utility of greater U.S./Chilean military contacts, as do some other staffers. Moreover, Barry Sklar thinks that the Senate will probably approve anything along these lines on Chile that is acceptable to Harkin and Kennedy. We are aware, of course, that proposals requiring high visibility actions such as the formal agreement of Congress (e.g., IMET) have poor prospects at best. But we think it would not hurt if someone talked with appropriate staffers (Long is perhaps one) about the PEP program. Forget about the Air Force for the time being, because of undiminished anger over the FACH's latest caper, but the Army, Navy and Marine Corps all would like to have programs. If the PEP program also stirs resistance because it requires some high visibility action by the Congress, perhaps some creative equivalent could be constructed.

off now his comprehensive six-month human rights review which will give you many of the details. Greater press freedom is one of the more obvious examples. To spotlight it, the day Gabriel Valdes registered to vote his photograph was carried on the front page of most dailies, including "La Nacion," although the latter had an unrelated comment below which made it look as though Valdes was the leader of a "leftist" party. TV has also changed on the "cultural" front. Some years ago it seemed as if TV passed through censors of the Spanish Inquisition (and morals were even closely guarded in the boites). This week TV presented a flesh program that was considered so obscene and vulgar that a new protest group called the Theological Revolutionaries staged such a demonstration that it was yanked off the air. The point is, however, there is no signal that the regime plans to loosen up on those things that make a difference in terms of its chances to win the plebiscite, nor is there any sign of disposition to dialogue.

UNGA Resolution. Máximo came in May 28 to report on his Washington visit. We are reporting by telegram one part of the conversation, his account of a talk with Gordon before he left. On another topic, he said he had been told in Washington that there was no hope of U.S. support for any resolution on Chile that was co-sponsored by Cuba. He said he thought getting Cuba off the sponsors list was doable, and he had already talked with Jaime Castillo, who agreed. As usual, however, both think it necessary to get the support of the other three members of the CHRC board - Taborga, Dominguez, and Molina - before they can act. Máximo seemed optimistic and said the next step, after board approval, would be to find a handy Mexican with whom to discuss the idea. He thought perhaps the Ambassador in Argentina. I suggested Ambassador Montana, who had seemed to be kept last year in New York, but Máximo said Montana was based in Mexico City and he did not seem to think a trip there was likely. He expects to discuss the matter with his CHRC colleagues this week.

Pinochet the Civilian. You asked whether Pinochet would be more or less formidable if he resigned as Army chief. Perhaps neither, as far as the next two years are concerned. Hiw power base is the Presidency and the Army's loyalty , and he seems very likely to retain those at least through March 1989. Sinclar, e.g., as CIC seems no more of a tgreat to Pinochet than he is now, i.e., zero. The move is conceivable, given Pinochet's current emphasis on ap-earing in civilian clothes and demonstrating what a fine elected President he will be. But he did it, it would mean total confidence of victory, since if he lost the plebiscite he would then have neither Presidency nor army command.

SUBJECT: Contreras' Involvement in Prosegur

In an attempt to unravel the puzzle of Manuel Contreras Sepulveda's involvement in the Chilean Security Company, Prosegur, is one of the owners.

Colonel Pedro Espinosa, of Letelier fame, was chief of personnel for Prosegur at one time. Espinosa was considered to be one of Contreras' men from the National Directorate of Intelligence (DINA). Contreras is an owner, Contreras in the offices of Prosegur in the building occupied by Alfa-Omega. Contreras is an owner.

It would appear that Contreras is, in fact, an owner of Prosegur but his participation is hidden behind straw partners or other devices. One possible explanation for this cover-up might be that Contreras receives lucrative contracts from the government for his overt security business, Alfa-Omega. Contracts are also awarded to Prosegur, including by several state owned enterprises such as Endesa and the State Bank. It is possible that Contreras has needed to hide his ownership in Prosegur so as not to blatantly show he has a monopoly on government security contracts.

It should also be noted that Prosegur and Alfa-Omega are dumping grounds for ex-DINA officers. Espinoza is one example. Another example of the security service connection is the case of Patricio Vildosola Barahona. Vildosola is the former head of the National Advance Party, a known National Intelligence Center-front group. He is listed as head of the security department for Prosegur.

SHARE Foundation

The SHARE (Salvadoran Humanitarian Aid, Research and Education) Foundation was founded in 1981 ostensibly as a fundraising organization to benefit Salvadoran refugees living inside El Salvador or elsewhere in Central America. Its first fundraising campaign took place in October, 1981, as part of a nationwide "Emergency Action Campaign" sponsored by CISPES to raise $250,000. Lisa Tarver, a staffer at the national CISPES office, sent local activists letters announcing the campaign and SHARE's function in the solidarity movement.[120]

In letter to activists dated 11 September 1981, Lisa Tarver described the new fundraising campaign, and spelled out how CISPES and SHARE comingle funds to be sent to the FMLN:

> "All funds raised in the Emergency Aid campaign will be sent to the [CISPES] national office. The money will then be channeled through SHARE, which will have tax-exempt status that we will be able to utilize. SHARE sends all financial contributions for the refugees to Archbishop Sergio Mendez Arceo in Cuernavaca, Mexico, from where they are distributed to refugee camps throughout Central America. As for making out checks, they can still be made out to 'Emergency Aid to El Salvador' as before. However, [if] an individual or organization wants to receive the tax deduction or feels uneasy about giving money to CISPES, they can make the checks payable directly to SHARE."

SHARE's involvement with CISPES is not surprising; its original six-person board of directors included CISPES national coordinator Heidi Tarver, as well as representatives of two pro-Castro groups: Council on Hemispheric Affairs director Larry Birns, and Isabel Letelier of the Institute for Policy Studies (who helped Farid Handal when he visited Washington in 1980 to set up CISPES).

The FMLN uses refugee camps just over the Salvadoran border in Honduras as sanctuaries between battles.[121] Several of these camps are operated by the United Nations High Commission on Refugees, which are tolerant of the FMLN's presence there. When Honduras proposed moving these camps further from the Salvadoran border and out of reach from the FMLN, the guerrillas' support groups in the United States, including SHARE, launched a political campaign against move, charging, "The Honduran and U.S. governments want the camps out of the way in order to carry out their military maneuvers in the vicinity without civilian observers," and adding this pitiful rationale: "The refugees believe that the infrastructure they have built in the camps will be turned into military bases for the U.S. intervention in El Salvador."[122]

THE MAIL

Your cover story about American mercenaries in Central America left out a major point: Americans are also serving the Marxist Sandinista government in Nicaragua and the FMLN guerrillas in El Salvador. There is an extensive apparatus in the United States that channels material aid to the Sandinistas and the FMLN, and the many Americans who serve them constitute a major story that has yet to be told.

INTRODUCTION: The Salvadoran guerrillas' support apparatus and how it operates

The core of the political and financial support apparatus in the United States for the FMLN guerrillas in El Salvador is the Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador (CISPES), which was officially founded the day after the FMLN itself was formally inaugurated in October, 1980. CISPES openly states its support for the FMLN and its political branch, the FDR, but is often misperceived as a "peace" group. Over the years, CISPES has been firmly supportive of the FMLN, to the point of defending its assassinations of American businessmen and Marine embassy guards.

CISPES has a multifaceted approach in its FMLN support campaign. Its own propaganda line is completely coincidental with that of the FMLN, suggesting close coordination of political activities. Founded to protest the Carter Administration's policy of cautious support for El Salvador's reformist transitional juntas, CISPES has been consistent in its steadfast opposition to any U.S. government aid of any kind, including humanitarian, to El Salvador. A cutoff U.S. aid, CISPES reasons, would completely undermine El Salvador's economic, military and political infrastructure and therefore enable the FMLN to seize power as the Sandinistas did in Nicaragua.

In an effort to pressure Congress to reduce or end aid to El Salvador, CISPES functions as a component of the "Revolution Lobby," a loose movement of political and educational organizations which support Marxist-Leninist revolutionary movements in the Third World. CISPES constantly encourages and mobilizes its activists in more than 400 local chapters to write letters and call their elected officials in Washington, demanding that they vote against aid to El Salvador. In addition, CISPES generates letters to the editor of local newspapers, organizes demonstrations at the grassroots level and in Washington, and holds media events to dramatize opposition to U.S. policy in Central America. The national office sponsors speaking tours for FMLN-FDR representatives, but much of the time, local chapters conceal or downplay their support for the FMLN. CISPES gained further political legitimacy by winning the public support of several celebrities and Members of Congress.

The support group, or "solidarity committee," as it is referred to by the FMLN, works with genuinely pacifist church organizations and exploits their desire to avoid a war in Central America. Taking advantage of concerns for peace and human rights, CISPES uses many mainline Catholic, Baptist, Presbyterian, Methodist and other clergymen to give it an appearance of legitimacy and to use their church collection boxes as a source of funds for the FMLN. More radical clergymen, many of whom espouse "liberation theology," work with CISPES out of their ideological support for the FMLN. They use the rhetoric of peace as a weapon for the FMLN's war.

Current CISPES national coordinator Angela Sanbrano is recognized by those who matter for her work in promoting the guerrillas. The September 1985 issue of the CISPES newsletter Alert! reported that she made an "unprecedented visit with members of the FMLN high command" in El Salavdor (including Salvadoran Communist Party leader Shafik Handal), then went to Nicaragua where she and other members of her "peace delegation" accompanied Sandinista Interior Minister Tomas Borge at a mass rally in Leon. From there, Sanbrano went to Cuba, meeting with Fidel Castro. In October the following year, according to Clergy and Laity Concerned, the Soviet Communist Party's "Peace Committee" invited Sanbrano on an all expense-paid trip to Moscow. Although her seat had already been reserved on a New York-Moscow Aeroflot flight, Sanbrano was unable to go.

CISPES is also the core of a gaggle of "humanitarian" groups which raise money for medical aid, developmental and educational projects, and financial assistance ostensibly for El Salvador's poor. These "humanitarian" affiliates, which are recognized as charities by the Internal Revenue Service, likewise support the FMLN politically, but often mask their true position when soliciting funds. Up to seventy percent of the humanitarian funds raised through these organizations are diverted to the FMLN for military purposes, according to a high-level guerrilla defector.

Since 1984, the Council for Inter-American Security has argued that CISPES and its affiliates are agents for the FMLN, and should register with the Justice Department under the Foreign Agents Registration Act. However, repeated attempts over a two year period to persuade the Justice Department to act have been rebuffed by the Foreign Agents Registration Office.

While the support network for the anti-Communist resistance fighters in Nicaragua has been thoroughly investigated, exposed, and in some cases shut down by the Justice Department, the news media, and congressional committees, the secret U.S.-based supply network for the FMLN guerrillas in El Salvador has been virtually unscathed. While the Soviet bloc provides training, weapons, and logistics to the FMLN, it is unable or unwilling to supply the dollars needed to keep the guerrilla infrastructure alive. Since 1980, the FMLN has relied on private supporters in the United States to fill the gap.

House Majority Leader Tom Foley said recently that he would favor a Congressional investigation of the Salvadoran guerrillas' private aid network in the United States if there was sufficient evidence to merit one. This study is only an outline of the FMLN's multimillion-dollar American support operation.

The Ideology of the FMLN guerrillas

Before discussing the support apparatus for the guerrillas of the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front (FMLN), their ideology must be addressed. While FMLN supporters, skeptics in Congress, and most journalists in the mainstream media balk at referring to the guerrillas as Communists, preferring the euphemistic terms "leftist" or "Marxist-led," the Washington Post and the Miami Herald have on occasion documented that the FMLN's entire leadership is indeed Marxist-Leninist.[1]

Once the origins of the five FMLN factions are traced, it becomes self-evident that all have been ideologically Marxist-Leninist since their inception, putting to rest once and for all the myth that the guerrillas are agrarian reformers who were forced to embrace Communism in the course of their struggle.

The FMLN is an umbrella group composed of five guerrilla/terrorist factions, each of which has a military and political branch. The FMLN General Command is made up of the top commander of each of the five factions. Beneath the FMLN General Command is the Unified Revolutionary Directorate (DRU), a panel made up of three representatives of each of the five factions which is considered the actual decision-making body of the FMLN force.[2]

The first and oldest FMLN faction, from which three of the others are derived, is the Communist Party of El Salvador (PCS), which was founded by the Comintern in the early 1920s when it was led by the FMLN's namesake, Agusto Farabundo Marti. Shafik Handal is the PCS general secretary, and is the PCS representative on the FMLN General Command, as well as on the DRU. Some accounts identify Handal as leader of the General Command. While the five factions were in the process of uniting under the FMLN umbrella in 1980, Shafik Handal traveled to Vietnam, Ethiopia and the Warsaw Pact nations to procure arms for the guerrillas' anticipated "final offensive." Handal uses the code name "Simon." The PCS' strongest historical international ties are with the Soviet Union.

The second faction is the Popular Liberation Forces (FPL), a PCS splinter group founded by Handal's predecessor in the PCS, the late Salvador Cayetano Carpio, known as "Marcial." The split was over the PCS' policy in 1970 which was insufficiently supportive of violence, in line with Brezhnev's peaceful coexistence policy at the time. Marcial, who was then PCS general secretary, stepped down and organized the FPL. (After the Sandinistas' success in 1979, the PCS adopted a policy of armed violence.) Shafik Handal succeeded him as PCS leader. Marcial died under mysterious circumstances in Managua, Nicaragua, in 1981. Currently, the FPL leader is Leonel Gonzalez, who sits on the FMLN General Command. The FPL's strongest historical international ties are with Cuba.

A third faction in the FMLN is the People's Revolutionary Army (ERP), commanded by Joaquin Villalobos. Like the FPL, the ERP is a spinoff of the Salvadoran Communist Party. Villalobos represents the ERP on the FMLN General Command. The ERP's strongest historical international ties were briefly with the People's Republic of China.

The National Resistance, or Armed Forces of National Resistance (RN or FARN) is the fourth faction, led by Eduardo Sancho, who calls himself "Ferman Cienfuegos." The FARN is a splinter group which broke from the ERP in 1974. Cienfuegos is the FARN representative on the FMLN General Command.

The fifth faction is known as the Central American Revolutionary Workers Party (PRTC), commanded by Francisco Jovel, alias "Roberto Roca." It emphasizes a regional revolution of a single Marxist-Leninist Central American political party/guerrilla movement, and is considered Trotskyist in orientation. Roca represents the PRTC on the FMLN General Command. It is the PRTC faction which led the June 1985 terrorist attack on four U.S. Marines eating dinner at a Salvadoran restaurant, an action which was supported by the entire FMLN. The PRTC's strongest historical international ties are with North Korea.

How these five factions united under the DRU and finally in October, 1980, into the FMLN is documented by R. Bruce McColm in El Salvador: Peaceful Revolution or Armed Struggle? published in New York by Freedom House. Further information about the FMLN's ideology, its supply of arms and training by the Soviet bloc, and its relations with other Marxist-Leninist revolutionary movements in the Americas can be found in the bibliography.

Of all the information on the FMLN's ideology, no single document is more telling than "Fundamental Programs for the Salvadoran Revolution," a guerrilla manifesto captured from Commander Nidia Diaz in April, 1985. A complete facsimile of the original document can be found in Appendix 2. The "fundamental programs" include:

"1. To end definitively the politico-military-economic and social dependency of the country with respect to Yankee imperialism.

"2. To liquidate definitively the politico-military and economic, social power of the bourgeois landowning oligarchy allied with imperialism, and to liquidate capitalist exploitation in general.

"3. To establish economic, political, military, cultural, technical and social bases to build the construction of socialism.

"4. The construction of socialism and communism.

LAYING THE GROUNDWORK OF CISPES

Farid Handal's trip to the United States, February-March 1980

Fidel Castro had told Salvadoran revolutionary leaders that if they wanted his complete support, they would have to set aside their differences and form a unified "national liberation front," much like the three Sandinista factions had done in 1977.[3] While all five paramilitary factions were ideologically Marxist-Leninist, they had different doctrinal differences ranging from Stalinist to Trotskyist.

Only one revolutionary group had the total confidence of the Soviets, and that was the Salvadoran Communist Party (PCS) headed by Shafik Handal. Formed in 1925 by Salvadoran Comintern agent Agusto Farabundo Marti, the PCS was the only organization in El Salvador officially recognized by the Soviets. Like most Moscow-line Communist Parties, the PCS maintains party-to-party relations with the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU). Three other guerrilla factions were splinter groups from the PCS (Popular Liberation Forces [FPL] and People's Revolutionary Army [ERP] broke from the PCS in 1970 and '72; the National Resistance [FARN] split from the ERP in 1975.)[4] Logically from the Soviets' view, the PCS became the primary organ within the forming Salvadoran national liberation front.

The PCS began laying the groundwork for its military, financial and political support apparatuses in 1979 and knew from the successes of the Vietcong and the Sandinistas that they would fight their war on two fronts: One on the military battleground in El Salvador, and the other on the political battleground in the United States. Neither the Vietcong nor the Sandinistas won militarily, and neither would the Salvadoran revolutionaries.

The Sandinistas' recent victory against General Somoza and his National Guard was not a military one. The Sandinista National Liberation Front (FSLN) had begun setting up its own U.S.-based solidarity apparatus in 1977, officially inaugurating it in February, 1979 with the support of prominent American political leaders.[5] It promoted the FSLN as the sole legitimate representative of the Nicaraguan people, conducting political activities throughout the U.S. to help ensure that the FSLN and the FSLN alone would be accepted and recognized as the new Nicaraguan government. Washington had already turned its back on Somoza by slapping an arms embargo against his regime, and later engineered diplomatic isolation of his government through the Organization of American States.

By June, 1979, the United States had disarmed the National Guard by imposing a veritable blockade of Nicaragua. Two Israeli freighters bound for Nicaragua with a resupply of arms and ammunition for the National Guard were forced to turn back by the Carter Administration. Issuing an ultimatum, the U.S. forced Somoza to flee Nicaragua. Unarmed and leaderless, the National Guard dissolved, and the Sandinistas marched into Managua two days later.[6]

The PCS was working to form the Salvadoran national liberation front in the last year of the Carter presidency, planning a "final offensive" for late December 1980. For its military campaign to be successful, there had to be heavy political pressure in the United States to continue the arms embargo of El Salvador and to promote the emerging FMLN as the sole legitimate representative of the Salvadoran people.

PCS agent sets up support apparatus in United States

Farid Handal, brother of Shafik, was the PCS agent dispatched to set up the Salvadoran guerrillas' political and financial support apparatus in the United States. He arrived in New York in February 1980, just a few months before his brother Shafik was to go on an arms-shopping trip to the Soviet bloc. Farid's objective, according to his diary which was captured by the Salvadoran military, was "the creation of the International Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador."[7]

He wrote that while not an actual member of the PCS, "I accepted their line and collaborated to the extent of my possibilities." As a cover, he presented himself as a representative of the National Democratic Union (UDN), which in reality is a legal front of the PCS. During his two visits to New York, he said he made important contacts: A Cuban intelligence officer based at the United Nations and the leadership of the Communist Party USA.

Contrary to popular opinion, the CPUSA is not simply a leftist political party, but is an agent of the Soviet government for conducting political influence operations in the United States. While numerically very small, the CPUSA provides the Soviets with a disciplined cadre of operatives who receive their political directives from the International Department (ID) of the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist Party, led at the time by Comintern veteran Boris Ponomarev.[8] Much of the funding for the

CPUSA comes in the form of cash transfers from the KGB through the Soviet Mission at the U.N. and the Soviet Embassy in Washington.[9]

Meeting with "members of the Directorate of the CPUSA," Farid described the help he needed in setting up the "Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador." He said that the Communist Party leaders had invited him to the meeting (implying that they knew about his visit in advance), and that "in spite of the fact that I insisted that I did not represent the PCS, they insisted that they needed to meet with me, because they wanted information."

At first, the CPUSA leaders were skeptical of him, but after a while, Farid said, they "allowed me to speak and they began to behave more cordially and humanly; now they smiled and listened. . . . The meeting lasted several hours." His specific contact and translator on the CPUSA politburo was Sandy Pollack, an attractive and energetic activist who had been involved in promoting Third World revolutionaries for the Party since her days in Cuba with the Venceremos Brigades. A CPUSA National Council (politburo)-member, Pollack was also active in the United States Peace Council (USPC), a CPUSA front which served as the U.S. chapter of the World Peace Council, the leading Soviet international front organization which organizes and promotes "active measures" campaigns against the West. Farid identified her as the "person responsible for the U.S. Peace Council" and the "solidarity coordinator" for that organization. (See section on the World Federation).

During his New York visit, Farid also met at the home of Alfredo Garcia Almeida, the fourth-ranking official at the Cuban Mission to the U.N. who has been identified as a Cuban intelligence officer under the control of the KGB.[9] According to the diary, Garcia Almeida "recommended that I should carry out work of an informational nature about the situation in El Salvador with progressive Congressmen for the purpose of making the rest of my work more natural. And in that way to protect my visa. They offered to facilitate contacts in Washington. And they did that."

More on Handal's visit

During his trip to the U.S., Farid Handal apparently passed himself off as a representative of the National Democratic Union (UDN) in order to disguise his appearance as an agent for the PCS. The UDN is the legal front of the PCS. Taking the guidance of Pollack and Garcia Almeida, Farid went to Washington for meetings arranged by the CPUSA. What follows is a verbatim transcript excerpted from Farid's diary:

> "Surprise encounter with Veronica (Chilean) of the CPUSA charged by the Directorate of the CPUSA in Washington with arranging a meeting. Meeting with Mouris [sic; Maurice Jackson] president of CPUSA in Washington who informed that he had received instructions to give [me] any help that he might desire. . . . Pleasant meeting. The beginning of a valuable collaboration. . . . They played an important role in the arrangements for the meeting with Congressman Ronal Dellums [sic], Congressman from the state of California. Black, but very progressive.

"The comrades of the CP in Washington were the pioneers for the formation of the International Solidarity Committee that I took the advantage of forming in Washington.

"The comrades of the Cuban Mission had recommended Juan Ferreira, from Uruguay. I contacted him at WOLA [Washington Office on Latin America]. He helped me at WOLA and at the National Council of Churches. . . .

"I contacted Isabel Letelier who had prepared a seminar at the Institute for Policy Studies of Washington. The Seminar would be based on a talk by Napoleon Gonzalez, which had already been announced. Gonzalez was in Washington at the invitation of Amnesty International. . . .

"That same Monday at 4:00 PM the meeting with Congressman Dellums and his work team took place. At the beginning of the meeting which took place in the offices of the Congressman located in the Capitol building, his political counselor made known that my visit could not have arrived at a better moment. They were interested in better understanding the situation in El Salvador because they were ready to do battle against the Hawks who have today strengthened their position and influence in the Senate and Congress of the USA. My statement is transcribed in the attached summary. When the meeting was over they asked me to write it in the offices of Dellums and they gave me a typewriter to use. They explained that they needed it to translate into English and make a report to all of the group of black congressmen. . . . They invited me to participate in that report. At that time we agreed that I would let them know my whereabouts so that they could advise me as to the date and time of the meeting and so that they could bring me back to Washington. . . . For this meeting I prepared a folder with the program of the Government of Coordination. . . . The English translation was done by the comrades of the CP [Communist Party] in Washington. . . . All the arrangements and translations for the folders which we would give to the congressmen had to be done in Washington because it was there that we received information from WOLA. . . .

"Monday morning the offices of Congressman Dellums were turned into our offices. Everything was done there. the meeting with the [Congressional] Black Caucus took place in the liver of the monster itself, nothing less than the meeting room of the commission of the exterior [Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives]."

Farid's Second Visit to New York

Farid Handal's second visit to New York toward the end of his organizational tour described how CPUSA politburo member Pollack "proposed" a national conference to set up a permanent, centralized political and financial support apparatus for the Salvadoran revolutionaries. His notes state:

"Meeting with Sandy Pollak [sic], Solidarity Coordinator for the U.S. Peace Council. Sandy proposed a national conference under the auspices of the U.S. Peace Council, the National Council of Churches, Amnesty International, WOLA, and various important unions in the U.S. The objective of the conference would be to establish a support mechanism for the solidarity committees in those states where it does not already exist.

"The support that they proposed consisted in financing radio, TV and press programs, under its public patronage. They agreed to the idea of issuing a series of coupons worth one dollar that they would call Credit Bonds from the North American People to the Salvadoran People, as a counterpart to the credits given by the U.S. Government to the Junta of El Salvador. But all of these propositions had the following as conditions:

"1. That they would back the coordinator [the coalition of support groups] as they did not want to appear to be backing one organization in particular.

"2. That the diverse images of the movement should be eliminated and that the image of a Broad Solidarity Movement should be presented, without an ideological label. . . . Each of the representatives should have the power to express a single [political] line. . . .

"3. At this time they felt that it was indispensible that Monsignor Romero be present. . . . I let them know that it would be very difficult to convince the Monsignor to assume that role. [Note: Conveniently for the Left's propaganda purposes, San Salvador's Archbishop, Monsignor Romero, was assassinated by unidentified gunmen weeks after this meeting. Both the Left and the Right have been blamed for the killing, but the true assassins are unknown. While the Archbishop was mourned by nearly all Salvadorans, he was exploited as a martyr by the FMLN and its support groups.]

"4. That it would be agreed to call for the conference in no less than 30 days. . . ."

Handal Says Congressional Black Caucus Volunteered to Serve as Guerrillas' Mouthpiece in Congress

Farid returned a second time to meet with the Congressional Black Caucus, according to his diary. It was a fruitful get-together. The notes show that he was to meet with a group of 32 Black and Hispanic Members of Congress, and that the Caucus would "Maintain a close contact with us for information. They would be open to concrete petitions," and "were ready to undertake immediate tasks and establish a permanent climate in favor of the struggle in El Salvador."

"It is good to point out," Farid continued, "that these people have influence and prestige. In reality they are able to collaborate even in special promotions where their prestige could mean an effective support."

Also during his second stay in Washington, Farid met with a representative of the Palestine Liberation Organization through an individual named Rene Tensen. The PLO member, who is not named, "identified himself as a representative of one of the smallest groups which make up the PLO. He said that it was one of the smallest groups but that it represented the authentic Marxist-Leninist line. . . . At the end I told him that I did not have the authority for representations at the levels which corresponded to a conversation of this type. And that I would limit myself to carrying the news of their good intentions for helping us. He spoke about help in scholarships [training] for use of arms. He spoke of other types of help."

The Handal brothers would quite naturally have an affinity for the PLO, as they are of Palestinian descent. It is believed that the PLO and some Salvadoran communists first met in 1966 at the Tricontinental Conference in Havana, where a resulting international network known as the Organization of Solidarity with the Peoples of Asia, Africa and Latin America (OSPAAL) was set up. The Sandinista National Liberation Front (FSLN) leaders also met the PLO for the first time at the Tricontinental Conference, which led to FSLN members being trained at PLO camps in Lebanon as early as 1969.

Shafik Handal has known ties with various PLO leaders, including Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (PFLP) chief George Habash, and PLO leader Yasser Arafat. In March 1981,

Shafik met with Habash in Lebanon, and the two issued a joint communique stating that an arrangement had been made to continue already existing PLO military aid to the FMLN. A month later, Arafat was publicly supporting the FMLN-FDR. He proclaimed,

> "We are a great revolution that can never be intimidated. We have connections with all the revolutions throughout the world, in El Salvador, in Nicaragua--and I reiterate Salvador--and elsewhere in the world."[10]

Farid's brother shopped for the guns

Backtracking to 1980 as the FMLN was being built: Three months after Farid Handal successfully organized the base for the guerrillas' solidarity committee in the United States, Shafik made a trip to the Soviet bloc in search of weapons and supplies.[11] His first stop was Hanoi, on 9 June, where he met with Vietnamese Communist Party leader Le Duan and received a "friendly and enthusiastic reception." They agreed to provide him with American-made weapons left behind after the U.S. pulled out of Southeast Asia; the first shipment, Shafik noted, weighed 60 tons. Weapons deliveries were expected to be made from Ho Chi Minh City, formerly Saigon.

In East Germany, Shafik was notified that that government had already shipped first-aid kits, cameras and other equipment to Nicaragua for the use of the Salvadoran guerrillas. East German leader Erich Honecker personally approved additional aid and military training to the revolutionaries, pending their detailed requests. No weapons were offered, as the East Germans had no western-made arms on hand, and did not want to give the guerrillas any East-bloc guns. Shafik then went to Czechoslovakia, where he learned that the Czech government had already decided "to send a quantity of weapons of Czech manufacture," types already available on the open market, which would be shipped in coordination with the East Germans.

A four-day stop in Bulgaria was next on Shafik's trip, where he met with Bulgarian Communist Party Secretary for International Affairs Stanichiev, who said that the Bulgarian government would give him 300 reconditioned Nazi submachine guns from World War II, as well as 200,000 rounds of ammunition, 10,000 uniforms, and 2000 medical kits. Shafik noted in his diary that the Bulgarians praised the conduct of the Salvadoran Communist Party.

From Bulgaria, Shafik went to Hungary, and met with Communist Party leader Janos Kadar. The Hungarians offered medicines and first aid kits, and 10,000 uniforms, but had no non-Soviet bloc guns. They did say that they "would be willing to participate in a deal with Ethiopia or Angola" for weapons. Shafik Handal met several times with Soviet officials about receiving military training, weapons, explosives, ammunition, and currency. The Soviets said that Vietnam would be the best source of weapons, and arranged for higher level meetings with the Salvadoran that autumn.

Shafik's last stop was Ethiopia, in early July, where he was received by dictator Haile-Marian Mengistu. The Salvadoran was promised "several thousand weapons," including M-1 and M-14 rifles and some 790,000 rounds of ammunition.

The setting in the summer of 1980

Jimmy Carter was in the White House, locked in a bitter primary battle with Ted Kennedy for his party's presidential nomination. Already, an apparatus had been organized to mobilize U.S. public opinion against Carter's controversial policy toward El Salvador: His "human rights" campaign focused excessively on anti-communist military regimes, ignored the crimes of the Castro government in Cuba, and overlooked the hundreds of executions underway by the Sandinistas in Nicaragua, which were being documented at the time by the State Department.

The Carter Administration was aware of intelligence reports indicating that the Sandinistas were already sending supplies and other forms of assistance to the guerrillas in El Salvador. Cautious support was given to the transitional civilian-military juntas governing that country, while conservative and anti-communist figures in El Salvador were excoriated by U.S. Ambassador Robert White. Indeed, many Salvadorans as well as Americans believed that White was supporting El Salvador's extreme left. From the viewpoint of the Handals, Ambassador White must have been quite an encouragement.

That spring, Farid had organized a successful base for the guerrillas' support apparatus in the United States, the Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador. With a grass-roots movement underway to terminate all American aid to El Salvador, Shafik must have been confident during his trip to the Soviet bloc in search of military assistance. The first guns would arrive in September. Meanwhile, the difficult and delicate process of unifying the five guerrilla groups into the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front (FMLN) was moving along well, with the guidance of Fidel Castro. The new guerrilla alliance would be announced formally in October, coinciding with the unveiling of its American solidarity committee, CISPES.

Things looked good for the guerrillas' planned "Final Offensive," to take place before the inauguration of the next U.S. president in January 1981. The Salvadoran government was so corrupt and inept, its army so poorly motivated, trained and equipped, that the Final Offensive could be a pushover. On the other hand, the guerrillas were prepared to become engaged in a prolonged war, which would be fought on the Salvadoran battlefield, but won or lost in Washington.

Profile of the "leading architect" of the FMLN support apparatus

According to Farid Handal's journal of his February-March 1980 organizational trip to the United States, it was CPUSA politburo member Sandy Pollack who was his most important contact in setting up the Salvadoran guerrillas' support apparatus that was to be known as the Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador (CISPES).

Scholars of the strategy and tactics of Soviet-financed active measures in the United States can find a wealth of information on how the CPUSA operates to influence American foreign policy in a 90-page volume, honoring Pollack's accomplishments published in 1986 by the U.S. Peace Council. Titled Sandy Pollack: Her Life,[12] this remarkable little book is a candid story of one of the top CPUSA organizers in the United States, tracing her political career as she developed from a college student to a professional agent who oversaw the implementation of active measures operations under the direction of the International Department of the Soviet Communist Party Central Committee. What follows is adapted from that publication.

Those who knew her said that Pollack was a talented and energetic Party organizer who was responsible for building coalitions between the Communist Party and "peace" and religious groups, trade unions, solidarity and human rights organizations, and old New Left activists through the 1970s and early 1980s. Pollack's career was brought to an end in January, 1985, when she was killed in a plane crash near Havana, Cuba.

A native of Queens, New York, Alexandra "Sandy" Pollack was born in 1948 to Cecilia and Harry Pollack, two leftist activists. In 1967, Sandy Pollack joined the Communist Party and was part of a cell at Boston University, where she was a transfer student. At B.U., she got her first experience in coalition building, where she worked with leftists of varying tendencies in the movement against American involvement in Vietnam. She became a leader in the local Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). In the words of the U.S. Peace Council biography, "For two years, she met almost daily with her friends in the Communist Party group at B.U. . . . Sandy organized openly as a Communist. She had a fundamental commitment to the mass anti-war movement that defined student and political life in Boston, and to the Communist Party's role within that movement. She maintained this commitment, this modus operandi, for the rest of her life."

She was an organizer of a mass demonstration at B.U. the day after Martin Luther King was assassinated on April 4, 1968, and was a participant in the riots at the Democrat National Convention in Chicago that summer. In November 1969, Pollack was a participant in the first Venceremos Brigade to Cuba, where she spent a month working in the Aguacate camp cutting sugar cane and experiencing the Castro revolution.

Pollack became a leader of the Venceremos Brigade's New York committee and office manager of the national office of the CPUSA's youth branch, the Young Workers Liberation League. She set up a New York defense committee for Angela Davis, a CPUSA functionary who was arrested for murder in 1970.

In 1971, Pollack went back to Cuba as a national Venceremos Brigade leader. The Venceremos Brigades were created to inculcate revolutionary fervor among American radicals, to train some of them in terrorist and guerrilla tactics, to gather intelligence, and to recruit some participants as agents to operate back in the United States. All Venceremos Brigades activities were overseen by Cuba's DGI intelligenc agency, a body under the control of the Soviet KGB. Pollack directed the finances of the Venceremos Brigades.

Pollack and her husband, fellow CPUSA staffer Terry Cannon, founded the Tricontinental News Service in 1972 to disseminate news about "progressive" movements in the Third World such as the Vietcong. Much of the materials disseminated by TNS were verbatim political tracts and documents from the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), Hanoi and Havana.

When Chile's Marxist President Salvador Allende was ousted in a military coup in September, 1973, Pollack "became a seminal figure in the Chile solidarity movement," according to the U.S. Peace Council.

Pollack's mentor in the mid-1970s was Alberto Moreau, who, the USPC said, was "a life-long Communist and had been instrumental in helping to create and nurture several Latin American communist parties."

When the U.S. Peace Council was formed in 1979 as the American chapter of the World Peace Council, Pollack became associate director, in charge of international solidarity. Her biography says that at this time, "she helped sow the seeds of what would soon become the National Network in Solidarity with Nicaragua, the parent organization of most of the Central American solidarity activities today." (This organization is also known as the Nicaragua Network.)[13] During that year, she was busy at work in other areas, organizing three national speaking tours for a group from South Africa, for future Sandinista Minister of Culture Ernesto Cardenal, and for a radical Chilean musical group called Quilapayun. She also organized celebrations during the 20th anniversary of Castro's seizure of power on July 26, helped arrange the CPUSA national convention in Detroit in August, and set up a speaking tour for Cannon who had just returned from Vietnam and Cambodia. Additionally, she laid out the basic plans for an international forum, in support of the Marxist-Leninist Puerto Rican separatist movement in Mexico City, "and finally, the practical and political groundwork for the official founding conference of the U.S. Peace Council that year in Philadelphia."

In 1980, the biography said, "she helped to found CISPES, the Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador, sat on its national advisory council, and served as one of two U.S. representatives on the world body in solidarity with El Salvador."

After President Reagan was elected in 1980, Pollack "was instrumental in organizing mass protests against U.S. troops in Lebanon, the Sabra and Shatila massacres of Palestinians, the U.S. invasion of Grenada, the [Big] Pine I and [Big] Pine II military exercises in Central America, and U.S. participation in numerous international peace congresses," said her biography. Perhaps the most noteworthy mass protest Pollack helped organize was the June 12, 1982 rally in New York City's Central Park, where some 700,000 people (the biography says "close to a million") gathered to demand a U.S. nuclear freeze. The USPC recalled, "as much as anyone, and more than most, she made it possible."[14]

Pollack went to El Salvador in 1983 to go out with the FMLN guerrillas. Her biography stated, "If the government authorities had known of her quiet visit, this leading architect of U.S. support for the Salvadoran guerrillas likely would have been tortured and killed. But she eluded the armed forces and the death squads." (emphasis added)

Pollack's last act was to attend a "peace" conference in Havana, Cuba, in January 1985, where she released an essay called "Reaganomics: Cornerstone of U.S. Aggression." Instead of returning to the United States as she had planned, she decided to fly to Managua instead. The plane crashed just after takeoff, killing all aboard.

She was buried in Cuba. Fidel Castro personally laid a wreath at her grave which said, "To Sandy, from the Commander-In-Chief." Two weeks later, a memorial service was held for Pollack at the Riverside Church in New York. Diplomats and United Nations officials from the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Vietnam, Cuba and Nicaragua, as well as representatives of the FMLN, the PLO, the African National Congress, Communist exile leaders from Chile and Grenada, CPUSA officials and members of the many non-Marxist church groups and trade unions who had formed coalitions with the Party attended the service, which was conducted by the Rev. William Sloane Coffin.

In his eulogy, Coffin noted that Pollack was an atheist, but praised her work as godly: "Sandy may not have believed in God, but God believed in Sandy."

Eulogies for Pollack at the Riverside Church

Pollack's work was recognized from around the world. Among those sending letters of tribute published in her biography were Sandinista directorate member Bayardo Arce, Cuban Politburo member Jesus Montane Oropesa, Rene Mujica of the Cuban Interests Section at the Czechoslovakian Embassy in Washington, East German Ambassador Gerhard Herder, World Peace Council President Romesh Chandra, Soviet Peace Committee leader Yuri Zhukov, Mfanafuthi Makatini of the African National Congress, and Zehdi Labib Terzi of the PLO.

American citizens sending eulogies included those from Digna Sanchez of the Marxist-Leninist Puerto Rican Socialist Party, David Dyson and Paul Filson of the Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union (ACTWU), Dan Cantor of the National Labor Committee in Support of Democracy and Human Rights in El Salvador, Sr. Marjorie Tuite of Church Women United; CPUSA chairman Henry Winston, CPUSA General Secretary Gus Hall, and CPUSA Secretary of the Central Committee James E. Jackson; Congressman Ronald Dellums (who wrote, "Sandy Pollack accomplished. . . much more than most who shared her vision of a better and more just tomorrow for all."), former Grenadian ambassador Dessima Williams, Isabel Letelier of the Institute for Policy Studies, Leslie Cagan of Mobilization for Survival, Kathy Engel and Digna Sanchez of MADRE, Berkeley mayor and USPC co-chairman Gus Newport, Arnold Braithwaite of the N.Y. Peace Council, Libby Frank of the Womens International League for Peace and Freedom, Secretariat of Solidarity with Chile President Victor Frias, and U.S. Peace Council executive director Michael Myerson.

Messages from the FMLN, East Germany and CISPES

The FMLN and its political front, the Democratic Revolutionary Front (FMLN-FDR) sent this message:

> "Since the struggle began for peace, justice and fundamental freedoms in El Salvador, Sandy worked to give solidarity to our struggle. When the unity was formed and the alliance of the FMLN-FDR started to consolidate, Sandy worked to support the process in every aspect, and to build the non-U.S.intervention struggle. . . .
> "In 1982, with the formation of the first worldwide solidarity organization, the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador, she became part of the bureau along with representatives of other solidarity movements and worked not only to guarantee its existence but to ensure that it had a strong position against U.S. intervention. . . ."

East German Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary Gerhard Herder left this message:

> "Many people in the GDR [German Democratic Republic] and in our Embassy got to know her as a true internationalist, as a dedicated fighter for peace and national liberation. In her work as a founder and a leader of the U.S. Peace Council, Comrade Pollack made an immeasurable contribution to develop, broaden, educate and unify the peace movement in this country and all her short life she was in the front row of the ever growing movement in solidarity with Cuba, Nicaragua, El Salvador, Chile, Grenada and Puerto Rico."

And CISPES national relations coordinator Suzanne Ross had this to say:

> "We in CISPES who knew Sandy, and who with her lived through the very stormy early stages of building an El Salvador solidarity movement, came through a rather convoluted path to respect and love her very deeply. . . .
> "Our ability to grow together politically, to establish a unified perspective and to collaborate as we have in the past couple of years, was a source of real inspiration to us. . . . Sandy's loss is irreparable. We honor and celebrate her precious life and will remember her for years to come as our companera and sister, a beautiful revolutionary. We also know that the responsibility we now carry, given how few of us there are, is that much greater because she is no longer with us to carry the tremendous weight she did."

CISPES Founding Conference, October 1980

". . . do everything possible and even the impossible to reinforce the pacifist wing of the bourgeoisie and increase, however feebly, its chances of success at the polls--that is the first task; the second task is to split up the countries united against us--this is our double task. . . . In no way must Communist opinions be elaborated."

--V. I. Lenin
16 February 1922.

The Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador was formally founded in October, 1980, just a day after the FMLN announced that it had become the umbrella group of the five Marxist-Leninist guerrilla factions in El Salvador.

There were two founding conferences, one on the east coast, and one on the west. The resulting document from the eastern conference, which was organized by Heidi Tarver and Sandy Pollack, was called the "Work Plan for the Salvadoran Solidarity Movement," part of which is reproduced on the following pages. It resolved to pressure Congress through letter-writing campaigns, visits to the offices and public appearances of elected officials, promotion of local government resolutions concerning El Salvador, demonstrating broad-based opposition to the Carter Administration's policy by taking out newspaper ads, and organizing "fact-finding" trips to El Salvador "which can return and generate publicity and support."

Influencing the media was another objective of CISPES' founding conference, by applying "pressure" on journalists and developing "alternative channels of communication and information sharing." Discrediting U.S. policy meant comparing it to Vietnam, denouncing as a "CIA front" the AFL-CIO's American Institute for Free Labor Development (AIFLD) which was promoting agrarian reform and free trade unions, and publicizing Salvadoran government human rights violations, as well as aiding refugees and illegal aliens in the U.S. (the beginnings of the Sanctuary Movement).

Making sure the FMLN received material aid was key. On the bottom of the first page of the work plan we find this interesting entry:

"Pressure the governments of the U.S. and El Salvador to assure the neutrality and protection of humanitarian relief efforts, including in particular refugee centers and medical relief personnel."

In other words, aid to areas under FMLN-dominated areas or to the FMLN itself should be guaranteed passage to its destination unimpeded by government restraints. Just below this entry, CISPES recommended the establishment of "a nationally coordinated fund-raising campaign to support the people of El Salvador, including sale of 'Free El Salvador' certificates."

The entire second page of the work plan was dedicated to working with religious groups in El Salvador and the United States. These religious organizations would become one of the most important transmission belts for FMLN propaganda, and channels for direct financial and material aid to FMLN forces fighting inside El Salvador.

Within weeks of this meeting, CISPES was putting out a regular newsletter, El Salvador Alert!, circulating other literature on El Salvador, including a forgery of a State Department document, working with the news media and church groups, and raising money for "the people."

Distribution of Forgery of State Department Document

CISPES was a prime distributor of a forged State Department document concerning El Salvador. At times when State Department personnel disagree with official government policy, they may voice their opinions through the "dissent channel" established for that purpose. This serves as a productive mechanism to keep U.S. foreign policy in check within the executive branch. State Department employees differing with official policy often distribute their "dissent papers" throughout the government bureaucracy and the media.

Soon after it was organized, CISPES disseminated a reprint of a State Department "Dissent Paper on El Salvador and Central America." This unsigned document outlined concerns of many "current and former analysts and officials" in the National Security Council, State Department, Defense Department, and Central Intelligence Agency, and admitted that a "key objective" of American foreign policy toward Central America was "to limit Cuban and Soviet bloc influence throughout the region." The paper warned that further military aid to El Salvador would eventually force the United States to intervene militarily in the region. At the same time, however, the dissent paper noted that "a consensus in favor" of the FMLN's political front, the FDR.

The dissent paper considered the FMLN-FDR as "a legitimate and representative political force in El Salvador," and portrayed the FDR as a moderate, non-Marxist organization with wide popular support. It recommended that the United States officially recognize the FDR.

Document a forgery attributed to KGB

However, there was one problem with the document CISPES was circulating: it was pronounced a forgery by the State Department, and attributed by intelligence experts to Service A of the First Chief Directorate of the Soviet KGB. Service A is the division responsible for conducting active measures against the West.[15]

CISPES distributed this forgery to the media, and succeeded in getting it accepted as a genuine dissent paper. It first surfaced in an article by the Pacific News Agency on 19 November 1980. Stephen Kinzer of the Boston Globe reported on the document in a front-page article on 28 November. The forgery was publicized by small movement publications, like the November-December 1980 newsletter of the Religious Task Force on El Salvador, a pro-FMLN organization which is represented on CISPES' national board; the December 1980 issue of Revolutionary Worker, the publication of the Revolutionary Communist Party (RCP); and the December 1980 issue of El Salvador Alert, the CISPES newsletter.

The first major journalist to report on the forgery as a legitimate document was liberal New York Times columnist Anthony Lewis.[16] A second New York Times columnist, Flora Lewis (no relation), quoted from the forgery in her 6 March 1981 column as though it were authentic. The next day, the Times reported in a news article that the State Department had denounced the document as a forgery, and Flora Lewis apologized to her readers in her 9 March column, admitting that she had been fooled. Anthony Lewis never recanted.

Despite the wide publicity surrounding the denunciation, the Institute for Policy Studies (IPS) treated the paper as genuine in the 18 March edition of its publication In These Times.

A leader of the FBI's Intelligence Division testified before the House Select Committee on Intelligence that "There are certain similarities of this operation with other forgeries. It is known that the Soviets attempted to surface this document in Central America through clandestine means."[17]

CISPES continued to distribute forgery

The forgery continued to be advertised for sale from the CISPES national office in El Salvador Alert. Other items sold by CISPES at the same time was the political platform of the FDR, copies of the Philip Agee-related anti-intelligence Covert Action Information Bulletin, a publication by EPICA leader and Counter-Spy magazine contributor Philip Wheaton on agrarian reform, and issues of NACLA Report on the Americas.[19]

CISPES decertification campaign

In compliance with a law passed by Congress in the midst of the aid to El Salvador controversy, the President must certify every six months that El Salvador's government is making progress in the area of human rights. The law states that Congress must receive this certification before it will permit any military aid from being sent to El Salvador. In addition, the law states that the U.S. President must certify that the land reform program is moving forward, and that the Salvadoran military is sufficiently controlled by the civilian government. This law does not apply to Marxist dictatorships such as Zimbabwe, for example, which receives U.S. military aid without any human rights certification.

CISPES anticipates these regular certification reports by holding nationwide "educational" events, press conferences in conjunction with church organizations, and meetings with congressional staffers. Also in anticipation of certification, CISPES organizes letter-writing campaigns to Congress, urging Members to cut off El Salvador as a military aid recipient. For example, the 25 January 1984 Guardian reported that CISPES called for a week-long "campaign of letter writing and phone calls urging Congress to vote against military aid to El Salvador."

These decertification activities include acts of civil disobedience, which uniformly received local and national media attention. On 24 January 1983, for instance, CISPES organized a "Decertification Blockade Task Force" in front of the State Department in Washington. Of the more than 700 protestors at the event, 126 were arrested. CISPES national director Heidi Tarver spoke at the beginning of the demonstration, as did a speaker from the pro-ANC South Africa Support Project and from the National Network in Solidarity with the People of Guatemala (NISGUA), the CISPES equivalent to the Marxist-Leninist guerrillas there. Two U.S. congressmen appeared at a pro-CISPES news conferenct that evening.

Anti-decertification efforts also took place that day in New York, Tallahassee, Detroit and Boulder. As one observer noted,

> "The CISPES demonstrations indicate a shift in both its political and tactical policies. Support for the FMLN in El Salvador has been broadened to a regional concept with the revolutionary movements of Nicaragua, Guatemala and Honduras presented as 'targets of U.S. imperialism.' Tactically, the demonstration showed that CISPES could mobilize a significant group on a working day (Monday) prepared to take part in a direct illegal, although peaceful, protest. . . . U.S. FMLN supporters or by Salvadorean [sic] FMLN members legally or illegally in the U.S. could be escalated to non-peaceful actions."[20]

When the next certification was due to Congress six months later, a group of "Salvadoran refugees" marched for 17 days from New York to Washington "against repression and war in Central America." A pro-FMLN flyer issued by "Salvadoran Refugees Against Certification," a CISPES front group, cried, "NO to the lie of certification!" and urged people to "Join Salvadoran refugees in protest against U.S. intervention in Central America." On 21 July, a march and rally was held at the White House, followed by an ecumenical service; the next day, the dreaded "Day of Certification," the CISPES-organized "refugees" held a press conference.[21]

One of their flyers blamed "U.S.-sponsored terror" as the culprit of their "refugee" status, and echoed the FMLN line that "elections held during a state of civil war are unacceptable." (Of course, CISPES and its supporters had no such objection to the Sandinista elections which were to be held the following year in the midst of Nicaragua's civil war).

The FMLN and American Politics:

Changing the Composition of the U.S. Congress for Permanent Change of U.S. Policy Toward El Salvador

Public pressure and lobbying to influence legislation was not enough to increase the chance that Congress would cut or even further restrict aid to El Salvador. CISPES and the other FMLN support groups became actively involved in electoral politics, backing candidates and incumbents who were against aid, and trying to defeat those who were for it.

The first two years of CISPES' existence were spent on building grassroots opposition to American aid to El Salvador, with a focus on lobbying Congress. By 1982, the CISPES leadership saw another opportunity to influence Congress--this time by working for or against congressional candidates or incumbents.

CISPES was especially involved in the 1982 and 1984 campaigns, trying to project the image that President Reagan and the Republicans were warmongers bent on getting the country involved in "another Vietnam." Groping for an issue with which to attack the President, many liberal candidates grabbed the question of U.S. "intervention" in El Salvador. CISPES and the broad coalition of old anti-Vietnam protestors, nuclear freeze activists, pacifists and radicals were there to provide instant cheerleaders and workers for those candidates' campaigns.

In El Salvador and Managua, the FMLN leadership also recognized the need to influence the American electoral process if their war against the Salvadoran government was to succeed. As revealed in captured documents, the FMLN worked to create incidents inside El Salvador which supporters and political opportunists could use in the United States during the heated 1984 campaign.

The 1982 Electoral Campaign

That summer, the CISPES national office mailed its local chapters an eight-page "Fall Electoral Strategy," accompanied by a detailed two-page questionnaire for congressional candidates. Mobilization of its activists, outreach and fundraising for CISPES itself and the FMLN were the leading items on the fall agenda, but eyes were on the congressional campaign. Nationwide demonstrations were organized for October 16, two weeks before the vote, as part of "a wide variety of tactics to demonstrate the breadth and strength of opposition to U.S. intervention in El Salvador," according to the strategy paper.

CISPES committees "targeted the elections as a major area of emphasis," according to the strategy paper. Below is a summary of that document. The first section gave a background to the fall, 1982 campaign in the context of its "overall electoral strategy":

> "The electoral campaign is one tactic within the overall approach to mass mobilizations. Traditionally, CISPES has used 'legislative work' as an outreach, movement-building tool, and as a way of helping to limit military and economic aid to El Salvador, Guatemala, and Honduras."

CISPES wanted to undermine the economic as well as the military strength of those three pro-western countries. The strategy document assessed CISPES' past success at influencing certain Members of Congress. It continued,

> "Although we have never seen legislative work as a primary focus, we have always considered it to be important. Our letter-writing, delegations, petitions, etc., have helped make some congresspeople take better positions on some votes than they otherwise would have. The effectiveness of these tactics has depended to a large degree on how we back them up with visible opposition in the streets-- demonstrations, pickets, leafletting, bannering, civil disobedience, etc. We recognize the role of Congress as the primary mechanism for stopping [U.S.] intervention but we are also clear that it is only an increasingly strong and broad mass movement that can force that mechanism to act. The Fall elections provide us with an opportunity to use the fanfare that surrounds the campaigns as a forum for raising our opposition to U.S. intervention in a very public way to very wide audiences." (emphasis in original)

The CISPES strategists then showed how their actions aimed at undermining U.S. support for the Salvadoran government were being done in concert with the FMLN's military actions inside El Salvador:

> "While our degree of focus on this type of work will vary, it is important to understand its direct relations to the present needs of the war. The popular victory in El Salvador will be won by the Salvadoran people themselves, but as the FMLN continues to make advances, the U.S. is dangerously raising the technical level and regionalization of the conflict. Anything we can do to limit [U.S.] military aid [to the Salvadoran government] in the coming months will have a direct impact on the war." (emphasis added)

Successfully pressuring Congressman Lantos

Encouraging activists that their work counts, CISPES strategists gave an example of successful direct action by a local chapter. Congressman Tom Lantos (D-CA), they said, was targeted by the Palo Alto CISPES chapter and as a result cosponsored House Joint Resolution 552, declaring President Reagan's certification of progress in El Salvador as "null and void," and calling for suspension of U.S. military aid to that country.

Questioning the candidates

The CISPES national office provided local activists with a detailed two-page questionnaire to be filled out by congressional candidates during the 1982 campaign. The questionnaire's purpose was to get the specifics on the candidates' stance toward various Central America issues, and to "force" the candidate to define any vague positions he may have. Candidates who indicated in their answers that they knew little about Central America were to be given "correct" information so that they would learn "the facts."

Candidates were then to be urged to take a "pledge" on his stance on Central America, to the point where CISPES activists were to "'haunt' the candidate with different people asking questions at every one of his/her public appearances about when he/she will sign the pledge."

The FMLN's Attempts to Influence the 1984 U.S. Elections

The "1984 CISPES National Administrative Committee Strategy Proposal," took into consideration the Central America policies of the Reagan administration and how those policies could be used against the President and his congressional allies during the campaign. The proposal noted that the President's policy had "worked in Congress--so far. . . . Most sectors of the Democratic Party have avoided the debate for fear it will weaken their possibilities for re-election and divide the Party as the issue of Vietnam did in 1968 and 1972."

At the time, the Administration was trying to forge a bipartisan consensus for a coherent policy to foster democracy and roll back communism in Central America through the special commission headed by former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger. In the CISPES 1984 agenda proposal, CISPES called this bipartisan commission "an attempt to undercut the remaining Democratic opposition."

The most popular theme around which the President's political opponents rallied was that involvement in Central America would result in "another Vietnam." CISPES leaders observed in the 1984 proposal, "People fear prolonged Vietnam-type involvement," a fear which they determined to exploit. CISPES and other leftist groups such as the Institute for Policy Studies had already begun attacking the Kissinger Commission and its findings.[22] The 25 January 1984 Guardian reported that CISPES called for nationwide protests to coincide with the 11 January release of the Kissinger Commission, saying that the actions were "protesting a panel of millionaires and ex-CIA agents."

CISPES leaders observed, "The Democrats have no apparent strategy around Central America, and are divided internally on the issue. They seem unsure of the strength of public opinion," the strategy proposal continued, noting that most Democrats wanted to combat communism in some way, yet had to be responsive to the highly vocal U.S.-out-of-Central America movement: "A Democratic 'anti-intervention' position would be tactical rather than genuine. It can, however, weaken the support Reagan needs at a critical time for intervention. . . ."

The proposal continued, "We need to make U.S. intervention a high-visibility presence as a key anti-Reagan issue." Six lines further, it was reiterated--"We can use this expanded public opposition to:

> "Make opposition to intervention a key issue in the anti-Reagan movement; Pressure Democrats to take a clear position; Isolate Reagan politically and disrupt his political alliances."

During the first CISPES national conference, held in Washington on 28-30 January 1984, "intense debate erupted over a proposal from Mid-Atlantic region affiliates that the defeat of Reagan be made a fundamental goal of 1984," according to the Guardian. Many conference delegates "argued that CISPES should contribute to removing Reagan through raising consciousness about Reagan's Central American policies." A resolution was passed calling on CISPES to "contribute to the defeat of Reagan and his allies in Congress through focusing on their Central American and Caribbean policy."

A resolution was passed almost unanimously to support Jesse Jackson's "Rainbow Coalition." Jackson was to be utilized by the FMLN to inject its agenda into the mainstream debate of the Democrat party during the campaign.

Captured FMLN documents show preoccupation with U.S. election

Captured FMLN documents reveal that guerrilla leaders were intensely concerned with the outcome of the 1984 U.S. presidential elections. They had good reason to believe that their forces would not be able to survive if President Reagan won a second term. The war in El Salvador was to be won or lost in Washington, and the FMLN knew that its actions on the ground could be used by the President's political opposition against him during the campaign. By projecting an image that the Salvadoran government was unable to govern, that it had lost popular support, that it was systematically abusing the people, or that the U.S. was being dragged into "another Vietnam," the FMLN created situations for propaganda purposes that were utilized by their allies such as CISPES and by President Reagan's political opponents in the United States. The success of these propaganda measures depended heavily on American politicians playing into their hands.

As students of revolutionary history, FMLN strategists drew on successful precedent, most notably on Vietnam. In doing so, they kept in constant contact with their U.S. solidarity committees, through quarterly meetings and at other gatherings. Vietnam was a useful model, as many of those leading the anti-intervention/ solidarity movement in the United States at the time did the same thing for the Vietcong a decade earlier. Captured documents from the FMLN leadership provide insight into their methods.

One FMLN document focused on the issue of exploiting the internal divisions of the enemy, in this case, the United States. Their model was the Vietnamese Communist Party (PCV) which, during its war against the U.S.-backed government and the U.S. itself "always sought to win through political work." The FMLN's analysis went as follows:

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights Special Project (1993)

> "The PCV profits from the enemy's contradictions: One has to combat the enemy in every sense, from front- to rear guard, from outside to inside, one must profit from the individualist and competitive character of the enemy, creating fissures inside, exploiting internal disputes. the revolutionary forces have the obligation to profit from the enemy's internal divisions. . . . Profiting from these contradictions has a tactical value and also a strategic value. . . ."[23]

The FMLN analysis went on, "To wage an effective diplomatic struggle one must make use of the enemy's contradictions," observing, "The foreign policy of Reagan is the weak flank of his reelection campaign." It also noted that "The White House policy toward El Salvador has been one of the most constant points of rejection by public opinion since 1981. . . ."

"Policy toward El Salvador," it continued, "is one of the areas where the most relevant confrontations [exist] with Congress and the Democrat Party against Reagan, and includes a group of Republican congressmen throughout his presidential term."

Great emphasis was placed on helping President Reagan's opposition in Congress, and utilizing the Democrat national convention in San Francisco. Those actually carrying out the FMLN's policies, the documents show, would be American leftists working within the Democrat party to influence U.S. public opinion. Success depended on political opportunists to seize upon the letter-writing campaigns, demonstrations and other publicity stunts.

However, an unexpected event--the successful and extremely popular U.S. incursion into Grenada in October 1983--boosted Reagan's support among the electorate and dealt a crushing blow to the morale of the FMLN, the Sandinistas, and their American supporters. Fearing a subsequent U.S. invasion of Nicaragua, the Sandinistas abruptly cut off all clandestine arms shipments to the FMLN, in order to take away any possible excuse by the Reagan administration to do a repeat performance there.[24] Although the action ended up being only for show, the FMLN was very concerned.

In a memorandum from the FMLN General Command to the National Directorate of the ruling Sandinista National Liberation Front (FSLN) in Managua dated 24 November 1983, the Salvadoran guerrillas acknowledged the Sandinistas' new diplomatic offensive in the wake of the Grenada operation.[25] The memorandum stated that the upcoming presidential campaign was "a favorable moment to meet with the North American [U.S.] electorate," adding, "For this reason we support the current diplomatic initiatives of the FSLN to buy time, to help Reagan's opposition in the United States and to isolate internationally his aggressive plan toward Nicaragua and El Salvador." (Emphasis added.)

Dialogue would be the tactic to be used to demonstrate the FMLN's flexibility and good faith, and to put the Reagan administration on the defensive. The key phrase here is "to help Reagan's opposition in the United States," a clear reference to the Democrat party which had found the President's Central America policies to be an important political issue. Party leaders in Congress--Robert Byrd in the Senate and Tip O'Neill and Jim Wright in the House--were bitterly denouncing the Administration's policy in El Salvador (demanding that the Salvadoran government negotiate with the FMLN) and in Nicaragua (demanding either a complete U.S. shutoff of aid to the contras or bilateral U.S.-Sandinista negotiations exclusive of either the Soviets or the Nicaraguan resistance).

A 22 November 1983 report on FMLN leaders' talks with the Sandinista directorate states, "We see the urgency of taking political measures. . . to strengthen political opposition to Reagan in the U.S." [26] (Emphasis added.) The objective here was, again, to buy time, given the Sandinistas' fear of a U.S. invasion. Sandinista aid to the FMLN was temporarily halted in order to "put off intervention until February," which was the beginning of the "U.S. electoral campaign."

Also in November 1983, the Salvadoran guerrillas drew up their "Directives for the Political Struggle of the FMLN in This New Phase of the War Process."[27] Part of this document discussed staving off greater U.S. "intervention" in El Salvador. The FMLN directives discussed how the American political system would determine whether the U.S. intervened directly on behalf of El Salvador's government, stressing the upcoming "presidential electoral process in the United States."

The Directives explained that President Reagan had to portray his first term in office as a success in domestic and foreign policies. What the FMLN had to do in the meantime was to deliver harsh blows to the Salvadoran government and thereby undermine the success of the Reagan agenda in Central America. In formulating the FMLN propaganda strategy for 1984, the Directives outlined the use of refugees, human rights, religious groups, and other issues on which to focus. The Directives summarized, "We should extend special interest to North American political personalities, the church, the UCA [Central American University] and the UPD."

An annex to these Directives elaborated on one point: "This situation [Reagan's reelection] obliges him to buy time and to try to profit the most by realizing successes of political character which serve as propagandistic sustenance to his reelection campaign. . . ."

The PRTC faction of the FMLN, from which most of these documents were recovered, held a meeting in April, 1984, and examined the American presidential campaign at great length. The guerrilla leaders repeated a common point: "Keep into account that the contradictions between the Democrats and the Republicans are well-centered on U.S. international politics. . ." They further noted the erosion of American prestige due to the sharp political differences in Washington: "North American imperialism is losing credibility as a strategic ally as much with governments of underdeveloped countries as with governments of developed countries (Israel, South Africa, Holland, etc.), as important elements of contradiction persist. . . ."

At that meeting, the PRTC resolved to: "Develop a politico-military plan which would force the Reagan government to decide between intervention or for negotiations [with the FMLN] in the most critical months of the electoral campaign in the U.S. (September, October and November). Apart from the development of strategic operations, change to great importance military and political strikes in the metropolitan zone [San Salvador]."[28] In other words, make the war more visible by bringing it into El Salvador's capital city, projecting the image that the people had risen up against the government and that it was incapable of maintaining order.

Meanwhile, the FMLN should do all it could to tie up U.S. aid currently in the pipeline. Further during the PRTC meeting, the following was resolved:

> "We should work before the U.S. Congress so that it condition the military 'aid' to the Salvadoran regime toward the realization of negotiations as a form of solution to the conflict. . . . In the work plans for the U.S., we should not forget that in November there will be elections for all members of the Lower House and for one-third of the Senate."[29]

It was agreed that the PRTC would focus on working with the solidarity committees in the United States through 1984 recalling that "solidarity activities produce repercussions in the U.S., especially in Congress." (Emphasis added.)

The PRTC leaders reiterated their strategy again and again: to "intensify propaganda work before the U.S. Congress, with the goal that it not authorize, that it reduce, that it delay and/or condition military aid to the Salvadoran government." It also urged that pressure be brought upon Guatemala and Honduras so that no actions would be taken against FMLN bases in those countries. Additionally, it sought to utilize the Contadora group (Mexico, Panama, Colombia and Venezuela) to work for a negotiated solution to the El Salvador conflict, to "present motions before the North American Congress," and even to murder Americans in El Salvador for their propaganda value. Such killings doubtlessly would prompt U.S. politicians in Washington to demand a reduction or withdrawal of the 55 U.S. military trainers working with the Salvadoran army. Specifically, the idea was to multiply the death of U.S. Navy Commander Albert Schaufelberger, who was assassinated by the FMLN in 1983, by a factor of four. The PRTC did exactly this in June, 1985, when its terrorist Mardoqueo Cruz Urban Guerrilla Command killed four U.S. Marine Embassy guards at a San Salvador restaurant, two American businessmen, and seven other civilian bystanders.[30]

Jesse Jackson was to play an interesting role in the injection of FMLN positions into the U.S. political campaign. With CISPES taking part in the Rainbow Coalition, the FMLN had a direct voice. In a 5 June 1984 memorandum from the FMLN General Command to the FMLN Managua office, a ceasefire proposal was planned to coincide with the Democrat national convention.[31] The memorandum indicated that the cease fire proposal was for purely propagandistic purposes, to be aimed at the U.S. public to show the FMLN's willingness to resolve the war peacefully, and to portray the Reagan administration as intransigent (and therefore, anti-peace).

The ceasefire was to be announced at the San Francisco Democrat convention by Jesse Jackson. The FMLN General Command told the Managua office that a letter would be sent to the convention "in the name of the FMLN-FDR," which would describe the guerrillas' "disposition to realize a real dialogue with the Salvadoran government and army" for a political settlement. Such a settlement would be initiated by an FMLN ceasefire in order to establish a mutual accord, according to the document. The FMLN letter would then ask the Democrats to recognize Guillermo Ungo, the leader of the FMLN's political front, the FDR, to present the peace proposal to the U.S. Congress.

The FMLN General Command memorandum said that the entire campaign would be coordinated with the Sandinista National Liberation Front (FSLN).

This optimistic plan to get Ungo recognized by mainstream Democrats and have a forum in Congress did not get far, although Jackson and his Rainbow Coalition did what they could to promote the FMLN's cause. Their political work had a marked influence even on the Democrat party candidates' positions, however, probably out of fear of alienating the huge bloc of minority voters who followed Jesse Jackson.

In analyzing the American political scene just weeks before the convention, a 1 June report by the FMLN-FDR Politico-Diplomatic Commission referred to "the influence of the North American electoral campaign on U.S. policy toward Central America," and noted "the growing Democratic opposition" to such policy.[32] The FMLN (as opposed to the PRTC faction as noted earlier) made what to them was an encouraging notation: "The Democrat candidates have already included the theme of Central America in the electoral debate and have distanced themselves from the position of the President."

One American activist working with the FMLN on its ceasefire proposal, according to a captured FMLN document, was Dick McCall, an aide at the time to retiring Senator Paul Tsongas (D-MA). McCall and a colleague, retired Army Colonel Ed King, held a secret meeting on 22 June with FMLN leaders after meeting with top Salvadoran army officers. The document indicates that McCall assured the FMLN that he thought El Salvador's democratic elections were a sham, and that there could be no solution aside from power-sharing between the government and the FMLN. It also indicates that he may have passed to the FMLN potentially sensitive political and military intelligence gleaned from his conversations with army leaders, including information on the armed forces of Honduras and CIA activity in Honduras.[33]

(After Senator Tsongas retired from politics in 1984, McCall was hired by Tsongas' successor, fellow Democrat John Kerry, who in 1986 began a highly political probe of the Nicaraguan resistance and its private support network. McCall played a key role in that investigation. At the time of this writing, McCall was back working in Democrat party electoral politics as Kerry's staff director of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee. Also at the time of this writing, King was the Senate Democrats' official representative on a four-person commission to monitor the progress of the Nicarguan resistance and peace prospects there. King was the personal choice of Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd. These secret meetings with the FMLN raise serious constitutional, legal, and ethical questions and merit close investigation by appropriate Senate committees, the Justice Department, and the media).

Recalling what CISPES said

> "a campaign of political support is needed. . . . to provide a forum for the FMLN-FDR in the U.S. . . ."
> --1984 CISPES National Administrative Strategy Proposal

It is easy to see how CISPES's own strategy for agitation and propaganda inside the United States CISPES's own strategy for agitation and propaganda inside the United States coincided with the FMLN's armed propaganda plans for 1984. With U.S. aid to the Nicaraguan contras as one of the biggest foreign policy issues, CISPES also integrated anti-contra activism with its anti-El Salvador program.

The "1984 CISPES National Administrative Strategy Proposal" explicitly stated that CISPES would continue to "provide political and material support for the FMLN-FDR in El Salvador," and would "Defend the Sandinista revolution" in Nicaragua.

Diplomatically, the United States was succeeding in isolating the FMLN which, just a year or so earlier, had been enjoying international support from much of the world's democratic left. The CISPES strategy document noted that its efforts and those of the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador would have to be redoubled: "U.S. attempts internationally to isolate the FMLN-FDR also require a world-wide effort to give political and material support." Ideologically supportive of the Sandinistas and knowing that the demise of that regime would spell the practical end of the FMLN as a successful insurgency, CISPES leaders said,

> "Our defense of the Sandinista revolution will directly contribute to the Nicaraguan people's efforts to consolidate their revolution. It will also undermine Reagan's > attempts to build a 'strategic consensus' in the U.S. for intervention in all of Central America."[34]

To polarize the American public during this important election year was the reasoning behind this strategy. The document continued,

> "The administration's key vulnerability in 1984 is its ability to build a bipartisan and popular consensus for long-term intervention. . . . Therefore, we propose as the basic political strategies for 1984:
> "1. Disrupt Reagan's alliance for intervention with the Democrats.
> "2. Make opposition to intervention in Central America a central anti-Reagan issue.
> "3. Prepare for and initiate effective, powerful and popular responses to greater escalations of U.S. intervention in Central America."

In order for this to succeed, CISPES leaders took a chapter from the New Left's anti-Vietnam strategy of building a coalition, or broad front, of ideological, social, ethnic and religious organizations and trade unions disaffected by the Reagan Administration's policies. CISPES planned to "make opposition to intervention a key issue of the anti-Reagan movement, by participating actively in anti-Reagan coalitions" (emphasis in original), to "use emergency situations to mobilize and expand the active participation of new sectors," and to "Develop strategic relations with organizations of the religious sector, Blacks, Latinos, peace movement, etc." (emphasis added) This was the same grouping which formed the "San Francisco Democrats."

CISPES had, of course, been active in politics since it was founded in 1980, and vowed at the time to keep El Salvador a political issue. A Guardian article published 9 May 1984, headlined "Intervention as an Election Issue," described "the 1984 political strategy of the Central American anti-interventionist solidarity movments" and their different ways and means. The article said, "two main goals are emerging in a national strategy. The first is to organize immediate and effective antiwar protests against the Reagan Administration's step-by-step escalation of the U.S. war in Central America and the Caribbean. The second goal is to put opposition to such U.S. intervention on the agendas of the Democratic and Republican presidential nominating conventions this summer and to make it an issue in national and local election campaigns this fall."

According to the Guardian, CISPES (like the FMLN) considered Jesse Jackson as its main ally in the Democrat party. CISPES leader Suzanne Ross was quoted as saying, "Jackson is in a different league from Hart and Mondale, who equivocate about withdrawing all U.S. military personnel from Central America and other key issues." Ross said that CISPES was taking an active part in Jackson's Rainbow Coalition. The Guardian reported that Ross "predicted that Jackson would take the movement's peace platform to the Democratic convention." This is in line with the FMLN leadership's plan to use Jackson as a means of injecting its position into the Democrat party.

CISPES then set up its own political action committee, CISPES-PAC, during the summer. Activists were told that the PAC would not contribute directly to candidates, but would produce literature to be used in political campaigns "that call for defeating Reagan."

The FMLN's International Support Apparatus

Working with and through foreign Communist parties and international Soviet front organizations, the FMLN has a worldwide support apparatus claiming over 300 member organizations in at least 42 countries, including the Soviet bloc. Founded in Mexico City in March, 1982, the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador serves as the international version of CISPES.

The World Front coordinates international events to be conducted simultaneously as part of the solidarity movement for the FMLN, holding meetings every three months. In addition to generating political support for the guerrillas and opposition to the Salvadoran government, the World Front also gathers funds for the FMLN forces which are deposited in a bank account at the Banca Serfin administered by Monsignor Sergio Mendez Arceo, former bishop of Cuernavaca.

The FMLN and FDR maintain offices in Mexico City, which serve as diplomatic headquarters (in contrast to central operational headquarters in the Managua offices). The Mexican government has extended diplomatic support to the FMLN-FDR, and has very close ties to Cuba, enabling Cuban and FMLN-FDR operatives to travel freely between Havana and Mexico City.

The Unified Revolutionary Directorate (DRU), the central political and military planning center for the five Salvadoran guerrilla factions which evolved into the FMLN in 1980 "called for the establishment of solidarity committees in Western Europe, Latin America, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand to serve as propaganda outlets, conduits for aid, and organizers of solidarity meetings and demonstrations," according to an interagency intelligence study published in hearings before the House Select Committee on Intelligence in 1982.[35] Those hearings also revealed that the FDR and the DRU "collaborate closely but not always openly with the Soviets, Cubans and East Europeans. Nevertheless they represent themselves as indigenous, independent organizations in an effort to conceal the Soviet and Cuban role in planning and supporting their activities."[36]

Prior to the formal founding of the World Front, FMLN solidarity committees around the world, "in cooperation with local Communist parties and leftist groups, organized some 70 demonstrations and protests that took place between mid-January and mid-March 1981 in Western Europe, Latin America, Australia and New Zealand. The Cubans and some other Communist parties provided significant support to this DRU effort and to some demonstrations," according to the published report. It continued,

> "Through front and solidarity groups, the Soviets and Cubans tried to assist the Salvadoran leftists in manipulating a range of international operations to gain political legitimacy, support, and humanitarian aid for the insurgents. They specifically targeted the United Nations, the Organization of American States, the Non-Aligned Movement, the European Parliament, the Council of Europe, the International Committee of the Red Cross, and the Catholic Relief Services. The DRU, through the socialist party of El Salvador, also tried to influence the socialist parties in Venezuela, the Dominican Republic, Costa Rica, and other countries to exploit the Socialist International mechanisms as a means of waging a concerted campaign on behalf of the Salvadoran insurgency. The active measures campaign was buttered by intense diplomatic activity on behalf of the insurgents."

In January, 1981, an "El Salvador Will Win" conference was held in Managua, Nicaragua, where 270 participants--including solidarity committee representatives from over 43 countries--attended. In addition to 70 Americans representing the National Network in Solidarity with the Nicaraguan People (Nicaragua Network), the Sandinistas' counterpart of CIPSES, "numerous delegations" from the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe participated, according to official Sandinista sources, which said that "the central theme of the conference was the solidarity of the progressive peoples of the world with the Salvadoran struggle." A highlight of the event was the appearance of FMLN and FDR representatives."[37]

On the diplomatic end, the ruling PRI party in Mexico was instrumental in mustering support for the FMLN within the Socialist International. Traditionally very hostile toward the United States in international politics, Mexico has long cooperated with Castro in supporting Soviet-backed insurgencies in Nicaragua and Guatemala, as well as in El Salvador. Mexico was crucial in getting the support of France, the Socialist International, and liberals in the U.S. Congress to support the FMLN initially. Writer Max Singer said that at one point 100 U.S. congressmen urged the State Department to pay greater attention to Mexico's diplomatic initiatives toward El Salvador, and that in the summer of 1980 Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo "reportedly promised Castro that when the [FMLN's] planned final offensive in El Salvador was carried out the following January, the Mexican army would conduct maneuvers near the Guatemalan border to discourage the Guatemalan army from interfering" on behalf of El Salvador.[38] A representative of the International Relations Commission of the PRI participated in a World Front event in August, 1983.[39] The PRI's foreign policy was enunciated quite bluntly by Mexican Interior Secretary Manuel Bartlett Diaz, who declared upon his arrival to Moscow leading Mexican delegation to Soviet Premier Konstantin Chernenko's funeral, "The policies of Mexico and the Soviet Union toward Central America coincide."[40]

The World Peace Council: Guardian of the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador

The World Peace Council is the major force behind the coordinated international "peace" movement, or in the words of its president, Romesh Chandra, it is the "vanguard of the world peace movement."[41] It was a major force behind the international campaign to extract the United States from Southeast Asia, the nuclear freeze movement of the early 1980s, and the current international active measures campaign to end U.S. "intervention" in Central America.[42]

The World Peace Council supports every foreign policy position of the Soviet Union, according to Chandra. At its most recent conference, which was held in October, 1986 in Copenhagen, Denmark, World Peace Council leaders endorsed the USSR's nuclear weapons positions, threw its weight behind the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), the African National Congress (ANC), the Provisional Irish Republican Army and the Irish National Liberation Army, the POLISARIO guerrillas of the Western Sahara, the Puerto Rican Macheteros, and the Salvadoran FMLN. The organization also supports the governments of Libya, Vietnam, Kampuchea, Nicaragua, Syria, Cuba, and other revolutionary/communist states.[43]

In the past, the WPC has influenced, led and often controlled international campaigns against the deployment of American nuclear missiles in Europe and has worked through the democratic systems of NATO nations in an attempt to sow discord within the alliance. The WPC has also publicly supported the Soviet invasions of Czechoslovakia and Afghanistan. Chairman Chandra is a politburo member of the Communist Party of India who has been described as "slavish" in his loyalty to Moscow. Chandra has publicly stated that "the World Peace Council. . . positively reacts to all Soviet initiatives in international affairs."[44]

It should come as no surprise, then, that the World Peace Council is funded and controlled by the Soviet government. As one of 13 major international fronts which are directed and financed by the International Department of the Soviet Communist Party Central Committee and the KGB, the WPC has chapters in 130 countries. Its 1980 budget was estimated at $50 million. National WPC chapters are controlled by the local Moscow-line Communist parties.[45]

The U.S. branch of the World Peace Council is the United States Peace Council (USPC), based in New York. The USPC was founded in 1979 and is under the immediate control of the KGB-funded Communist Party USA (CPUSA).[46] Its co-chairman is Eugene "Gus" Newport, the former mayor of Berkeley, California, who is also a vice president of the World Peace Council.[47] (For more information on Newport's work in support of the FMLN, see the section on New El Salvador Today [NEST], and the section on the May 14, 1986 hearings on El Salvador chaired by Congressman Michael Barnes).

U.S. congressmen who have promoted the World Peace Council in Washington include John Conyers (D-MI), Ron Dellums (D-CA), Don Edwards (D-CA), Charles Rangel (D-NY), George Crockett (D-MI), Mickey Leland (D-TX), and Mervyn Dymally (D-CA). In January 1978, Conyers, Dellums, Edwards and Rangel were part of a WPC leadership meeting in Washington, the first time the WPC had had such open access to the U.S. Capitol. It regarded this access as an "outstanding landmark in WPC history." The WPC delegation included Chandra, Oleg Kharkhardin of the CPSU Central Committee International Department, and KGB Colonel Radomir Bogdanov.[48]

Congressman Edward Boland (D-MA), in his capacity as chairman of the House Intelligence Committee, covered up for his colleagues in hearings on Soviet active measures in July, 1982.[49] As evidence of Soviet active measures operations in Washington, the Committee reprinted a 48-page brochure published by the WPC to publicize its visit to Congress. However, before the Intelligence Committee staff reprinted the document, they doctored it to erase any evidence of involvement by Boland's liberal colleagues in Congress and other liberal political leaders and activists. The reprint appeared in the published hearings as Exhibit XI, but pages 3, 4, 12, 13, 14, 18, 19, 21, 23, 45, 46, 47 and 48--which mentioned work with Congress--had been omitted. In order to disguise this from the public, Boland's staff cut out the page numbers from the remaining pages.[50] To someone who had never seen the original document, nothing appeared unusual in the Committee reprint.

In May, 1981, Conyers, Edwards, Crockett, Weiss, Leland and Dymally organized a meeting in the Rayburn House Office Building for WPC Chairman Chandra to lobby Members of Congress.[51] In January, 1982, Conyers flew to Copenhagen for a WPC meeting, and in June, 1983, Leland flew to Prague, Czechoslovakia for another WPC conference.[52] Congressman Crockett sponsored the WPC's 1986 "People's Peace Treaty" for a Soviet-initiated nuclear test ban proposal.[53] In October that year, Senator Edward Kennedy (D-MA) and Congressman Dellums extended public greetings to the WPC's World Peace Congress in Denmark.[54] Dellums and Congressman Gus Savage (D-IL) were to have attended that event, but legislative priorities prevented them from going. Dellums' administrative assistant Carlottia Scott did attend as part of the U.S. delegation.[55]

The founding of the World Front

FMLN-FDR leaders and their core of international supporters sponsored a conference in Mexico City to form the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador from March 26-28, 1982, to coincide with the constituent assembly elections in El Salvador.[56] The FMLN-FDR had refused to participate in those elections. (Note: It is of interest that the founding of the World Front coincided with the date of the elections; the day after the FMLN had been founded in October, 1980, CISPES held its founding conference). In the course of the FMLN-FDR's election boycott, its guerrillas attempted to disrupt the voting process by attacking polling places and intimidating the population.[57] Nevertheless, over 80 percent of the population participated in the elections in repudiation of the FMLN-FDR, and several people were shot by the FMLN as they stood in line to vote.[58]

CISPES organized a nationwide series of demonstrations against the Salvadoran elections on March 27, 1982, and coincided with the World Front's founding conference. A brochure against the Salvadoran elections captioned, "March 27: At The Crossroads," featured on its cover a group of CISPES demonstrators carrying a banner which proclaimed, "FDR is the only representative of the Salvadoran people." Inside, CISPES called the elections "just one of a series of smokescreens that the U.S. has used to justify its intervention in El Salvador." The other two "smokescreens" were land reform ("more peasants were getting assassinated than receiving titles to land"), and "alleged 'Soviet/Cuban/Nicaraguan interference,'" which "has turned into a mockery."[59]

The CISPES literature noted the founding of the World Front:

> "People all over the world are organizing against U.S. intervention in Central America and in favor of peace and self-determination. Solidarity networks from countries in several continents are meeting this week-end in Mexico City to forge a world-wide front against U.S. intervention and in solidarity with the people of El Salvador."[60]

CISPES used the Mexican position to add credibility to its own propaganda: "Most European countries, and many in Latin America, have criticized Reagan's El Salvador policy, and are supporting Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo's peace plan calling for negotiations with the FMLN-FDR and separate negotiations to defuse U.S. tensions with Cuba and Nicaragua."[61]

American CISPES leadership in Mexico City joined with officials from the Cuban Communist Party, the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) and others to form the core of the World Front. Among the members of the Permanent Bureau of the World Front were, at the time, Alexandra "Sandy" Pollack of the politburo of the Communist Party USA and on the CISPES advisory board, and CISPES national director Heidi Tarver.[62] It will be recalled that Salvadoran Communist Party agent and CISPES organizer Farid Handal identified Pollack as the "solidarity coordinator of the U.S. Peace Council," and his main contact in New York.

The founding President of the World Front was Bill Zimmerman,[63] who also chairs Medical Aid for El Salvador (MAES), a CISPES affiliate which raises money and medical supplies in the United States which is funneled through Mexico City for the FMLN. (See section on Medical Aid for El Salvador). Zimmerman led a similar group called Medical Aid for Indochina to channel aid to the Vietcong during the Vietnam war.[64]

Other board members of the World Front included Monsignor Sergio Mendez Arceo of Cuernavaca, who manages FMLN bank accounts in Mexico City; Massoun Kassawat of the Organization of Solidarity of the Peoples of Africa, Asia and Latin America (OSPAAL), a Soviet front based in Cuba which was organized at the 1966 Tricontinental Conference in Havana serves as a support apparatus for international terrorist and subversive organizations supported by Cuba; Jorge Gallardo of the Cuban Institute for Friendship with the Peoples (ICAP), a front for the Americas Department of the Cuban Communist Party; Jesus Escandel, a Cuban representing another Soviet front, the World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU); Ahmad Zobeh, the PLO's representative in Mexico, as well as Andres Fabregas of Mexico, Josefina Finders of the Netherlands, Antonio Silva of Portugal, Julio Escalona of Venezuela, Lucia Pavletich of Peru, Willy Rosenbaum of France, Hans Aalborg of Denmark, and Bob Morgan of Great Britain.[65]

This meeting marked the creation of the specific international front in support of the FMLN. However, coordination of worldwide activities on behalf of the FMLN predated the Mexico conference, as anti-U.S. and pro-FMLN demonstrations were held around the world on March 27, 1982: In Berlin, Frankfurt, Rotterdam, Mexico City, Bern, Stockholm, Luxembourg, Toronto, Calgary, London, Sao Paulo and Tel Aviv, in addition to those organized by CISPES in the United States. All were officially sponsored by local "Committees for Solidarity with the Salvadoran People."[66] The interagency study published by the House Intelligence Committee concluded, "The decidedly anti-U.S. cast to these demonstrations, their timing, and their international scale suggest that the Soviet Union or one of its fronts was behind the protests."[67]

The World Front executive committee holds quarterly meetings to monitor, organize and coordinate international campaigns. These meetings are attended by the CISPES national coordinator or a personal representative of the coordinator. The World Front's second executive committee meeting was held in Managua, Nicaragua, in September 1982. CISPES activists are urged to send triplicate copies of their literature to the national office so that the national CISPES office can send progress reports and information packets to the World Front meetings.

International Campaigns of the World Front

The official newsletter of the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador, Frente Mundial, says that there are national chapters in 42 countries, and informal networks in no less than 13 other countries, including within the Soviet bloc and in Third World Communist states allied with the USSR where political organization can function only with official party approval.

As of September, 1983, the World Front reported that it had formal campaigns in Albania, Angola, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Finland, France, Great Britain, Greece, Grenada, Hungary, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Luxembourg, Mexico, Mozambique, the Netherlands, Nicaragua, Norway, Panama, Peru, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, United States, Venezuela, Vietnam, West Germany, and Yugoslavia. Countries listed as having an existing "solidarity movement with the people of Central America" but which did not have formal members of the World Front were Bulgaria, Egypt, Guyana, Libya, Morocco, New Zealand, North Korea, Philippines, Poland, Romania, South Yemen and Suriname.[68]

World Front's role in Soviet active measures strategy

The activities of the World Front and its cast of actors fit the description of objectives of all Soviet active measures operations, which are best summed up by Tufts University Professor Richard Shultz and Georgetown University Professor Roy Godson in their book Dezinformatsia: Active Measures in Soviet Strategy :[69]

"1. To influence American, European, and world public opinion to believe that U.S. military and political policies are the major cause of international conflict and crisis.

"2. To demonstrate that the United States is an aggressive, militaristic, and imperialistic power.

"3. To isolate the United States from its friends and allies (especially those in NATO), and to discredit those states which cooperate with the United States.

"4. To discredit U.S. and NATO military and intelligence establishments.

"5. To demonstrate that the policies and objectives of the United States are incompatible with those of the under-developed nations.

"6. To confuse world pubic opinion concerning Soviet global ambitions, creating a favorable environment for Soviet foreign policy."

On the international scale, the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador serves to promote the FMLN worldwide and to discredit El Salvador's fledgling democratic government. More than that, it falsely portrays American policy in the region as a brutal one of propping up corrupt dictators without any regard for human rights. In turn, this discredits U.S. foreign policy in general, at a sensitive time when U.S. nuclear missiles were being placed to counter Soviet missiles already aimed at Western Europe, and currently as the United States is cultivating international support for its Strategic Defense Initiative. Most NATO allies are critical of U.S. policy in El Salvador.

Attention is thus centered on U.S. policy, while Soviet and Cuban subversion there and elsewhere is discounted or unnoticed. Leftist political leaders also point to alleged U.S. transgressions which they use to put Washington on par with Moscow.

Guerrillas Proposed Raising Money Through Humanitarian Fronts

Even before uniting under the FMLN umbrella, the guerrillas set up humanitarian front organizations through which cash and supplies could be raised from foreign relief organizations. Documents captured from the FMLN and released by the State Department in 1981 reveal a sophisticated and successful plan to raise private funds from the West. Their Soviet-bloc allies, it turned out, gave the guerrillas plenty of military supplies and training, but were cheap when it came to giving them badly-needed dollars. (See footnote 11)

Before beginning this section, it is necessary to point out that the U.S. groups in question, aided by CIA defector Philip Agee, denounced the captured documents as forgeries. However, the State Department has consistently defended their authenticity, and revelations over the past six years confirmed the genuine nature of their contents.

In 1979, the Salvadoran Communist Party set up a front called the Ecumenical Committee of Humanitarian Aid (CEAH), raising over half a million dollars over the following seven months. The documents show that the PCS front received $170,575 from the World Council of Churches, $154,254 from the Catholic Relief Service, $62,230 from Oxfam-America, and $16,351 from "United Churches." In October, 1980, the month the FMLN was formed, the World Council of Churches approved another $500,000 grant for CEAH, according to a note signed by Angel V. Peiro, the World Council of Churches' subsecretary for American Aid and Caribbean [Affairs] of the Commission for Inter-Ecclesiastical Aid of the Refugees and World Service.[70]

After the FMLN unified the guerrilla groups, the FPL faction drew up an expanded aid proposal which was considered and approved by the Unified Revolutionary Directorate (DRU), the decision-making body of the FMLN.[71] The proposal sought "to capture the maximum help for humanitarian purposes in benefit of the revolutionary process," and proposed the merger of CEAH and another humanitarian front into a body called the "Salvadoran Ecumenical Committee of Humanitarian Aid," or CESAH.

The contents of the document

The document speaks for itself, implying in the opening paragraph that some of the humanitarian aid would be used for the purchase of weapons: it would be a "single, 'apolitical,' ecclesiastical-humanitarian group that will guarantee the international financial agencies good administration [of funds] for victims of repression and will appear to such agencies to be incapable of using any of the funds to purchase arms."[72]

"This group should appear to be directed by persons who are not publicly identified with any revolutionary organization and who inspire confidence among ecclesiastical institutions such as the Archbishopric, Protestant churches, Catholic schools, orders of nuns and priests, etc. This would make it possible for such institutions to participate in the group and make available their many facilities (premises, vehicles, etc.) that might be used in connection with shelters, storehouses, hospitals, etc.

"This group should not only serve the revolutionary process but should be under the control of the DRU.

"The foregoing conditions may be met by creating a structure that is under the control of the DRU subcommittee on obtaining international funds. Control over the humanitarian group will be ensured by the subcommittee's direct contact with those who are in charge of the aid or who occupy key positions in carrying out the group's activities. All these must be militants of revolutionary organizations, but not known as such. In addition, an effort will be made to influence indirectly those who appear, on the surface, to be the highest authorities. This must be done with a good deal of tact so that those less progressive institutions of persons whose participation is desirable because they attract much foreign and domestic aid will not cease to participate."

The document then proposed that CEAH merge with the Salvadoran Ecumenical Council (CES) into CESAH, in part because it would resolve conflicts between the two groups and thereby enable more funds to be drawn from abroad. It would be ecumenical in order to attract contributions from the widest number of religious and other organizations. CESAH's sole role, the proposal said, would be to raise money for humanitarian purposes; it would issue no denunciations of the Salvadoran government in order to appear non-political and thereby maintain appeal while avoiding negative attention. The political statements, said the document, would come from the Non-Governmental Human Rights Commission (CDHES) and Socorro Juridico, the Legal Aid office of the Archdiocese--two groups that would later be revealed as FMLN fronts themselves.[73]

Care would be taken to mask CESAH's true connections. This would be done through using unwitting individuals in various churches by giving them high-level positions which really had little power. Leading CESAH's bureaucracy would be an assembly consisting of two representatives of each member organization.

The document explained, "According to the bylaws, the assembly would be the highest authority and would have no organic connection with the DRU. In practice, inasmuch as it is a very large bureaucratic group that meets every three months, its influence would be minimal. It would only provide general guidance. The importance of this assembly, which will be as numerous as possible, is to provide effective cover for the committee that will generate confidence, both in El Salvador and abroad, and will make it difficult for the government to prevent the receipt of foreign aid (medicines, food, money, etc.)."

In the results of the CISPES founding conference in Washington, the same concern was expressed. The "work plan" outlined earlier stated that CISPES would "pressure the governments of the U.S. and El Salvador" to "assure the neutrality and protection of humanitarian relief efforts," indicating concern that there would be a crackdown on private groups sending aid destined for the FMLN.

Similarly the CESAH board of directors, to have ranked below the assembly in the hierarchy, would also consist of well-known, respectable people who had little actual power within the organization. "The board of directors," the proposal said, "will consist of representatives of institutions that are best known abroad and thus make it easier to gain the confidence of funding agencies. . . These representatives should also be persons who have the trust and respect of the bishops; the bishops will then refrain from interfering in CESAH policy or, if they should interfere, the representatives would be able to stop the interference without having to break with the bishops." But while the board would have the ability to hold concerned bishops at bay, it would have no real influence within CESAH. The document continued, "Although the board members will appear to occupy key positions in the bylaws, they will not be the persons who, in practices, wield the real power in CESAH; they will be very busy persons who can only consider CESAH matters every couple of weeks. . . . The importance of the board of directors is also to privide cover and decoration for CESAH, to make it trustworthy and attractive without obstructing its real function."

Politically reliable candidates on the board were important. The designated guerrilla contact in the Archbishopric was Father Octavio Cruz. The proposal said, "We see no need to question this appointment since he sympathizes with the revolutionary organizations without being organized [without being an official member of an organized revolutionary group?] and he would let us act in CESAH without protesting." In 1987, Father Cruz was identified by former FMLN member Luz Janet Alfaro as a member of the FPL guerrilla faction and as the chief point of contact for the FMLN inside the Archbishopric. Father Cruz, to have been named chairman of CESAH, would have an important role to play in the FMLN fundraising apparatus.

While San Salvador's Archbishop Arturo Rivera y Damas was highly critical of the government, he never supported the guerrillas. An additional impediment to his possible interference was to be the inclusion of the Protestant churches. This presence, the document said, "ensures that Monsignor Rivera cannot act fully in CESAH policy and that the Protestant funding agencies will cooperate more readily."

Representatives of the Confederation of Religious Orders and the local Catholic schools would also be on the CESAH board. The schools, especially the Universidad Centroamericana (UCA), were hotbeds of pro-FMLN faculty. The guerrilla proposal noted, "It is important that CESAH attract and incorporate this sector of the Catholic Church because it has a great deal of infrastructure and a certain autonomy from the Archbishopric." The director of the Sacred Heart school, whom the guerrillas identified as a supporter, was to become public relations director for the fundraising front, because "she sympathizes with the revolutionary movement without being a member of any organization and she is capable of opposing any effort by the Archbishop to change CESAH." It was suggested that she oversee a CESAH bulletin to be distributed to "collaborators and solidarity committees. The bulletin will point the increasing and specific needs for greater aid, particularly international aid."

The individual to have actual power within CESAH would be the executive secretary, who would also be t e only board member to work full-time at the CESAH office: "He will be greatly responsible for channeling the aid to the revolutionary process. . . To accomplish this, it will suffice for him to submit exact reports to them on what has been distributed, always stating that it has been distributed to the people, the victims of the repression." (emphasis added) In other words, the executive secretary would prepare false financial reports to deceive the board of directors, while channeling the money to the FMLN. It would be a sensitive position, and "should be held by a tested militant, a member of a revolutionary organization who is in constant contact with the DRU subcommittee for obtaining international funds, and a member of that subcommittee," the document said. "His political militance should not be publicly known."

There would be several committees to oversee certain CESAH projects. The leaders of most committees, the proposal went on, either would be "militants" of revolutionary groups, "or at least proven sympathizers" who "will work full time with the CESAH. They will directly organize distribution of the aid. Their militance must not be publicly known."

These committees would be centered around health and social welfare, to include a Pharmacy Committee to bring in medicines, a Medical Assistance Committee for building clinics, a First Aid Training Committee, a Stores Committee to gather and distribute clothing and supplies, a Shelters Committee, and an Indemnization Committee apparently supporting family members of the guerrillas. The document was plain about the purpose of these committees:

"The economic aid, clothing, food, medicines, etc., will be channeled through these committees to the combatants. However, we should not ignore persons who seek refuge in the shelters or request aid and who are not members of an organized group since it will be part of our cover to provide such assistance.

"Funds will be channeled to the revolutionary organizations through contact between the CESAH committees and the health and social welfare coordinators, in accordance with the rules established by the DRU subcommittee on obtaining funds. Care should be taken that the coordination between the committees and the collaborators does not become publicly known." (emphasis added)

For this operation to succeed over the long term, the document continued, the "internal structure" of the fundraising organization had to function in a disciplined manner and would be completely under the control of the FMLN's DRU governing body. The internal structure was described as follows:

"The subcommittee for the acquisition of international funds shall be composed of the leaders of these subcommittees or teams of the various organizations that make up the DRU.

"Its purpose will be to administer the acquisition and channeling of the funds obtained by the CESAH so that they will benefit the DRU and the FDR. In a word, it will be responsible for the financing of the revolution." (emphasis added) Over time, the subcommittee members would attempt to win over non-committed members of the powerless board of directors "and incorporate them as soon as possible, until at least a majority of them will be following subcommittee policies."

Actual refugees in need of assistance were to be CESAH's last priority, according to the planners. The revolutionary units came first, and would have to submit requests to CESAH for funds. The document warned, "It is very important that the revolutionary organizations endeavor to channel their petitions to the CESAH only through the coordinating units, because that is the only way in which the distribution of foreign humanitarian assistance can be centralized and carried out in proportion to the organizations' actual needs.

"These coordinating units will also expedite and enhance the effectiveness of CESAH's service to the revolutionary organizations and will prevent CESAH from giving preferential assistance to fleeing segments of the population, to the detriment of the fighting segment."

A specific section of the proposal was reserved for dealing with American support groups. As a large resource of money and supplies, solidarity groups in the United States would have to set up specialized fundraising campaigns, along the lines of refugee subsistence, family support, medicine, food, hospitals and support for "exiles." "Collections made abroad in churches and solidarity committees for the purpose of meeting the urgent need [of] humanitarian assistance for the Salvadoran people" were one method of fundraising, the proposal said. "Such collections shall be encouraged by CESAH by disseminating information about the needs and nature of CESAH"; however, it should be "information that does not compromise too deeply persons who cooperate with CESAH, but which is likely to promote international solidarity."

Transfer of cash from the U.S.

Under the subheading "Mechanisms for transferring donations from abroad," the document explained,

> "There shall be two dollar checking accounts in the name of CESAH in Panama or in Mexico. One of the accounts shall be used to channel cash from the [humanitarian] agencies. The number of the latter account shall not appear in literature distributed during the conduct of the collections. In contrast, the other account number shall be used precisely to channel donations made by people abroad. The account number shall be disseminated widely. Both accounts shall be in the names of renowned persons and institutions who are completely trustworth to the donors and who guarantee that they will transfer to CESAH the cash deposited in the accounts in its entirety. It is recommended that the accounts be in the name of famous bishops or pastors who are committed to serve the people. In short it should be Mendez Arceo in Mexico for the public account."

Sergio Mendez Arceo is the former bishop of Cuernavaca, Mexico and a longtime supporter of Marxist-Leninist revolutionary causes. He is a member of the directorate of the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador and is an honorary president of the World Peace Council.[74] Mendez Arceo was denounced by the leader of the Mexican Catholic Bishops Conference as misrepresenting the position of the church.[75] As will be outlined, it is through Mendez Arceo that funds raised by CISPES and its affiliates are channeled to the FMLN.

The fundraising proposal explained how the money would be laundered from the accounts to the FMLN: "The manner in which the cash deposited in these two accounts shall be transferred to El Salvador shall be by bank drafts of about ten thousand dollars each made out to members or collaborators of CESAH. A different name shall be used each time. These drafts should preferably be hand-carried by trustworthy persons."[76]

This document and the Farid Handal diary created quite a controversy when they were made public in 1981. UPI wrote an article about the documents which appeared in the 26 April 1981 Boston Globe under the headline, "Did aid funds go to Salvador rebels?" The article and the State Department were denounced in several press conferences and public statements by the groups named in the documents, such as Oxfam, the World Council of Churches, Church World Services (an arm of the National Council of Churches) and Catholic Relief Services. It was subsequently reported that UPI editor in chief H. L. Stevenson publicly apologized for UPI's not having contacted the groups in question when writing the article.[77] Nevertheless, UPI did not retract the story.

However, despite the protests of the groups involved, at least three of them, the World Council of Churches, the National Council of Churches and Oxfam, were supporting the FMLN politically at the time. To add further doubt to the credibility of claims that the documents were false is the fact that one of the most prolific attackers of the documents was Philip Agee, a former CIA operative who defected and has since dedicated his life to discrediting the U.S. government and destroying American intelligence operations. One of the West's top experts on Soviet active measures, former Czech disinformation chief Ladislaw Bittman of Boston University, says that Agee has actively "participated in Soviet disinformation campaigns" against the U.S. intelligence community.[78] Agee was quoted by the New York Times as saying, "I aspire to be a Communist and revolutionary,"[79] has praised the Soviet KGB,[80] and publicly acknowledged in his first anti-CIA book Inside the Company: CIA Diary that he relied on the Communist Party of Cuba for source material.[81]

This notwithstanding, subsequent statements over the next few years by Oxfam, CISPES, the U.S. Peace Council and other aid groups have proven beyond reasonable doubt that those documents were genuine. These statements have been used as source material throughout this study and are a matter of public record. While critics of the 1980 Farid Handal document denied any CPUSA involvement in the formation of CISPES, for example, the 1986 U.S. Peace Council biography of CPUSA operative Sandy Pollack confirmed the relationship. CISPES and Oxfam-America promote each other's material and cosponsor the same pro-FMLN and pro-Sandinista demonstrations and political events, bringing into question the veracity of Oxfam's denials.

In October 1981, Oxfam's Central America Task Force chairman Laurence R. Simon angrily challenged an article which mentioned Oxfam's aid to the guerrillas. "Oxfam is not named in any captured document describing guerrilla activity," Simon snapped, and followed up with, "the U.S. State Department is not making that claim. . ."[82] Perhaps despite Oxfam's official political support for the FMLN, Mr. Simon honestly believed that his group was not financing the guerrillas. This seems reasonable, as the fundraising system designed by the FMLN was elaborately designed to conceal its true function, even from its own board of directors and Archbishop Rivera y Damas. Simon finished, "Our funds in El Salvador are committed and used for the care of persons displaced by the civil war [sic]. The refugee organizations we are funding have the strong and continuing backing of acting Archbishop Rivera y Damas." Simon sent a copy of his letter to Oxfam's attorneys. But the reporter made no retraction, and Oxfam took no legal action.

One of the reasons given for believing that the document was false was that nobody had ever heard of a group called CESAH. The document, though, was a proposal, and the final result was subject to change. Rev. Paul F. McCleary of the United Methodist Church and an officer of the Church World Service said that in January 1981, CEAH merged with the "much larger official Catholic relief group," CES. This merger was known as ASESAH, through which "nearly all worldwide relief efforts" were being coordinated in early 1981.[83]

An evangelical group from Texas visited the ASESAH office in late 1981, and reported that it was managed by Fr. Octavio Cruz in the archbishopric.[84] This evidence shows that the document in question was accurate:

1. CEAH and CES did merge into a new group.

2. The merger took place in January 1981, less than a month after the guerrilla proposal was written.

3. The new group was based in the archbishopric and managed by Father Cruz, who had been designated as such in the guerrilla proposal.

(ASESAH changed its name shortly after. Oxfam reported in its Spring 1983 newsletter that it gave $50,000 to DIACONIA, which it says was "formerly ASESAH." See section on Oxfam-America.)

Development of the FMLN's private fundraising system

[Author's note: This chapter is a copy the text of a diplomatic cable from the U.S. Embassy in El Salvador to the Secretary of State in Washington. The cable number is SS10058, and is dated 18 July 1986. Its title is "Guerrilla Finances--Where Does The Money Come From?" It was originally classified "Confidential," but was declassified by the U.S. Embassy in San Salvador. The bureaucratic sections of the cable, including the numbering of each section, have been deleted for ease in reading as a text. The author made the editorial decision to insert certain items for clarity; these additions are plainly marked in brackets. Since 1980, the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front (FMLN) has conducted a widespread guerrilla war that has proved costly in human and material terms. The FMLN receives most of its arms through Nicaragua and other Communist bloc countries. However, the bulk of its funds come from donations collected in western democracies as well as funds channeled to it by sympathetic human rights groups, unions, and elements in the Catholic church. The FMLN supplements this income with contributions from the socialist bloc and local Salvadoran collaborators and income obtained from kidnappings and the collection of "war taxes." Western donations have declined in the last two years, while the support of socialist states remains static. To cover the resulting budgetary shortfall, the FMLN has increasingly resorted to banditry, extortion, and kidnapping, the primary funding sources of the 1970s. In the absence of new sources of funding, we may expect these activities to increase substantially in the near future.

Much of the information for this report came from an interview with former FMLN guerrilla leader Miguel Castellanos, who served on the finance committee of the Popular Forces of Liberation (FPL) in 1978 [a major faction of the FMLN] and defected from the movement in 1985. Additional information was provided from the documents captured in April 1985 with Nidia Diaz, comandante of the Revolutionary Party of Central American Workers (PRTC)--another of the five organizations making up the FMLN. Salvadorans who were victims of guerrilla extortion also provided firsthand accounts of guerrilla fund-raising efforts. . . .

Guerrilla Finance in the Seventies.

During the seventies, the Salvadoran insurgency was a small urban-based force which relied on terrorizing the political and economic elite for most of its funds. Due to its small size, guerrilla financial requirements for food, housing, and other recurring costs were

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

modest; however, the guerrillas had to purchase their arms on the high-priced world market. The guerrillas acquired most of their funds from kidnappings conducted in San Salvador. This enabled them simultaneously to support themselves and to terrorize the urban rich.

The Transformation to Guerrilla Warfare: An Expensive Proposition.

Spurred by government and right-wing repressive measures, the FMLN was transformed from a self-sustaining urban force into a large, rural-based guerrilla army. This dramatically altered the nature of their fiscal requirements. From 1980 onward, the guerrillas no longer had to worry about financing the purchase of arms and ammunition. Munitions flowed in quantity from Nicaragua and other Communist bloc countries. The FMLN had only to guarantee the safe passage of the weapons. At the same time, however, guerrilla leaders found themselves confronted with millions of dollars of expenses to provision their rapidly expanding army.

Where does the money go?

The documents captured in April 1985 with PRTC comandante Nidia Diaz included a number of financial documents, among which was an estimated budget for 1984. Projected annual expenditures for 19845 for the PRTC alone were about $580 thousand. Housing, food, and health-related expenditures accounted for the bulk of the projected outlays. The PRTC also budgeted $10,200 yearly for trips to obtain external financing, $15,200 to cover overseas subscriptions to newspapers and magazines, and $300 for international phone calls. Funds were also required to purchase and fuel vehicles and buy other provisions and supplies.

Support From the East--Let Them Eat Rifles

The guerrilla organizations originally planned to obtain the bulk of their funds from "fraternal" socialist states. To their dismay, although weapons were provided, only Cuba, Libya, and to a lesser extent, Nicaragua were responsive to requests for money. According to Castellanos, Facundo Guardado, a member of the FPL and of the finance committee of the FMLN, visited Libya in 1981. During his visit, Col. Muamar Gaddafi [sic] offered the FMLN $4 million in direct assistance. By 1984, at least $2 million had been delivered. East Germany, in contrast, offered only uniforms and medicine to the guerrillas. The Soviet Union ignored all direct requests for help, preferring to channel its assistance through Cuba. The extent of past (and current) Soviet assistance to the FMLN is therefore very difficult to estimate.

Direct Fund-Raising Efforts in the West.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights Special Project (1993)

The Western democracies became the largest source of cash for the guerrilla[s] during the 1980s. The various constituent fronts of the FMLN and its political ally, the Revolutionary Democratic Front (FDR) set up "solidarity" organizations in western Europe, the United States, Canada, and other Latin American countries. In churches and town halls, on campuses and street corners, these support groups painted a horrific picture of government oppression and portrayed the FMLN-FDR as a force for positive change. The resulting funds soon became the most important source of income for the FMLN, raising millions of dollars in hard currency. In 1982, for example, the "Arms for El Salvador" campaign in West Germany raised approximately $2 million for the Popular Forces of Liberation (FPL).

From FMLN Records.

The documents captured with Nidia Diaz clearly reflect the dominant role of external funding as a source of guerrilla financing. One of the documents, dated April 10, 1984, provided a complete accounting of PRTC dollar and colon [local Salvadoran currency] accounts in 1983. During 1983, 93 percent of the PRTC's total annual revenues came from direct dollar donations. According to the captured financial records, total dollar receipts came to $389,954. The PRTC during 1983/84 was the smallest of the guerrilla armies, and probably represented less than 10 percent of the total guerrilla combatants in El Salvador. Assuming other guerrilla organizations received similar levels of direct dollar contributions from western sources relative to the size of their groups, we conservatively estimate that at least $4 million was donated to the FMLN in 1983.

Development Projects--To Feed Hungry Guerrillas.

In addition to the direct contributions which were openly associated with the leftist cause, the FMLN-FDR set itself up in the economic development business, then proceeded to siphon off the bulk of the project assistance to FMLN combatants. Former FMLN comandante Castellanos has provided a detailed explanation of how these organizations function. In 1981, Guillermo Ungo's National Revolutionary Movement (MNR--one of three parties belonging to the FDR) founded the Social Action Investment Center (CIAS) [Centro de Investigacion y Accion Social]. The CIAS collected donations from humanitarian organizations and the general public specifically to support FMLN projects in El Salvador. The projects were in areas of strong FMLN persistence and directed to their "masas" support base. A typical project involved the purchase of seed and fertilizer for peasant followers of the FPL. According to Castellanos, many of the projects were fictitious, created to impress westerners with the FPL's technical sophistication, compassion, and economic need. Only about 30 percent of these donations actually reached the projects; the FPL used the other 70 percent to maintain its combatants.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

The success of the CIAS-FPL effort encouraged other FMLN groups to tap private development assistance funds to support their war efforts. The proliferation of these groups and the FMLN's greed to mine this rich and easy vein was counterproductive. So little care was taken to maintain the facade of requesting funds for legitimate development projects that, in at least one case, two different guerrilla groups presented virtually identical project proposals to the same international group. The CIAS and the other "development" front groups eventually lost credibility in the West. Donor agencies began to require detailed accounting of the use of their funds, including photographs of the projects and copies of receipts. The ability of the CIAS to collect funds for the FPL diminished in 1984, and it was eventually disbanded.

More From Nidia Diaz.

The Nidia Diaz documents reflect that the PRTC also milked the development projects as a source of finance. The colon account shows receipts of $21,998.50 from "projects" in 1983, or five percent of total PRTC revenues. The same April 1984 report projects a budget for 1984 and lists as a method to obtain funds "an increase in projects proposed to CIAS, DIACONIA, and other sources." The picture had clearly changed by 1985. In a section entitled "The Humanitarian Source," a document explaining financing sources dated 16 March 1985 and addressed to front commanders cynically states that "in the last few years a good quantity of funds from these agencies has been received by presenting projects that need developing in various zones. . . . It is essential to develop the projects in an effective way since reports have to be furnished in case of a visit from the agencies. Not being able to show proof, we lose credibility and cut ourselves off from the possibility of receiving more resources."

The Church Steps In.

With the discrediting of CIAS and other guerrilla-front development agencies, the Catholic church, through DIACONIA, became a leading management agency for funneling private development donations to qualified projects. According to Castellanos, the church's involvement brought with it much tighter controls over the use of the funds. For example, the church-sponsored projects required the approval of local parish priests. The closer controls effectively stymied widespread guerrilla appropriation of the project funds. Castellanos said there were constant complaints within the FMLN because the church allowed too little for FMLN projects.

[Note: A central organization in El Salvador called DIACONIA collects funds raised through international churches and private groups such as Oxfam. DIACONIA, which has been described as "the central reserve bank of the FMLN," is directed by church activists who are members of various FMLN factions and is considered an FMLN front. Not all church groups within DIACONIA are Marxist, but non-Marxists exercise no control over the body. (see chart)

[According to a study of FMLN "human rights" fronts based on evidence provided by former FMLN members Luz Janet Alfaro and Dora Angelica Campos, the DIACONIA leadership is as follows:

> "The Lutheran Church, with Reverend Medardo Gomez, who belongs to the Salvadoran Communist Party (PCS), as one of its representatives; the Emmanuel Baptist Church, with Brother Juan Sanchez, who is a militant in the Resistencia Nacional (RN); the Catholic Church, its representative Father Octavio Cruz, also a militant in the Popular Liberation Forces (FPL); the Episcopal Church with its representative Brito Bertiz, who does not aid any specific organization, but all of them considered 'democratic'; and finally the Federation of Cooperatives called FUNFROCOP, led by Dimas Vanegas, militant of the Salvadoran Communist Party (PCS)."[85]

[Apparently, most international organizations donating to DIACONIA are either unaware of its FMLN ties or have no objection to such ties. DIACONIA reportedly prepares false invoices to show to officials of foreign donor organizations to justify expenses, and presents supposed recipients of such aid who are, in reality, FMLN members or supporters. It is estimated that only 10 percent of the funds given to DIACONIA are utilized for genuine relief purposes, with the remaining 90 percent going directly to the FMLN-FDR.][86]

The "Human Rights" Link.

As a consequence of the diminution of project funding, the FMLN fronts were forced to create new, more credible fund-raising organizations in the West. Some of these groups--CRIPDES (Christian Committee for the Displaced of El Salvador), CDHES (Non-Governmental Human Rights Commission of El Salvador), COMADRES (Committee of Mothers and Relatives of Political Prisoners, Disappeared and Assassinated of El Salvador Monsignor Oscar Romero), and CONIP (National Coordinating Conference of the Popular Church) were essentially reconstructed versions of the CIAS--they solicited funds for humanitarian efforts and channeled the funds to FMLN fronts. Some of these groups have recently lost credibility as well--particulaly since the recent defection and public testimony of two of their members in June [1986]--and they will likely be reincarnated under new names, according to Castellanos.

Labor Organizations Channel Funds to [the] Guerrilla[s]

The guerrillas have found that they can obtain a substantial amount of capital from donations from labor unions which they control. Groups like FENASTRAS (National Federation of Workers'

RELEASED

Unions), FUSS (United Federation of Salvadoran Workers), ASIES (Independent Union Association of El Salvador), ANDES (National Association of Salvadoran Educators--21st of June), and COACES (Confederation of Cooperative Associations of El Salvador) all channel western donations to the FPL. As "representatives" of the Salvadoran working class, these organizations attract sympathy and support from many westerners who would not consciously assist a communist insurgency. Castellanos stated that the wife of French President Francois Mitterrand provided ANDES with $40,000 in 1984, much of which found its way to the FPL's coffers. Castellanos estimates that the FPL receives about 50 percent of the funds donated by the West to labor groups like ANDES.

Auxiliary Funding Sources.

Assistance from abroad, though substantial, has never provided enough money to fund the guerrilla effort completely. The guerrillas have thus found it necessary to supplement their income with local means of support. Relying on local sources for each month's revenue is not possible, as a memo which accompanied the PRTC's 10 April 1984 financial report noted. Flows may be relatively strong one month, then dry up completely the next. Unlike the external financing and the project financing, which are centrally controlled by each guerrilla organization, auxiliary funding sources are managed independently at the front or sub-front level. Cash is also sent from Nicaragua. In 1985, for instance, a Lada [automobile] from Nicaragua crashed in Honduras. A search of the vehicle revealed secret compartments which contained arms and $27,400 in cash. Castellanos said this was not destined for the FPL, and he considered it "amateurish."

Collaborators.

The guerrillas prefer, of course, to obtain funds through donations offered by collaborators. This is a painless, easy way to procure money, but it is not lucrative, because FMLN collaborators are few and generally relatively poor. A letter dated March 13, 1984, which was captured with Nidia Diaz discusses recent progress in generating resources: "The ranch will be ready shortly and will be handed over to some collaborators. We have thought about sending Victor to the front. His wife will remain in Santa Tecla and help set up a small business."

Kidnappings.

Another guerrilla fund-raising technique involves kidnapping. The FMLN does not discriminate in the selection of its victims; it kidnaps small cotton farmers in Usulutan and big businessmen in San Salvador. A survey of recent incidents shows that ransoms range from as little as $20 to more than $60,000, with the bulk in the $4000 to $5000 range. By early 1985, the need for money had driven the guerrillas to seek to rebuild their capability to conduct large-scale kidnapping activities. The FMLN conducted kidnapping operations in Costa Rica and Honduras; Castellanos attributes the kidnapping of a Japanese businessman in Costa Rica in the early 1980s to the FPL.

Although potentially far more lucrative than contributions from collaborators, this strategy is problematic. It is difficult and expensive to create urban commando units which are capable of carrying out successful kidnappings. The task is all the more difficult now, because the urban infrastructure of the guerrillas is in shambles as a result of the government's thorough investigations of the Inez Duarte kidnapping and the [June 19, 1985] Zona Rosa massacre [of four U.S. Marine Embassy guards, two U.S. businessmen and seven others]. Although in need of additional professionalism, the security forces have improved their anti-terrorist capabilities. The kidnappings of wealthy members of San Salvador's elite would prove both ideologically satisfying and renumerative to the FMLN, but the guerrillas do not now appear to be in the position to carry out many of these operations.

As a result, FMLN groups direct the bulk of their operations against small farmers in rural--and generally impoverished--areas. This places the self-proclaimed "representatives of the people" in the uncomfortable position of victimizer. The victims rarely have anything to do with the government and are often individuals of modest means. Indeed, those kidnapped by one guerrilla front are sometimes sympathizers of another; on more than one occasion, says Castellanos, this type of mistake has strained relations between allied guerrilla bands. This kind of infighting has also been revealed in numerous captured documents.

War Taxes.

"War taxes" provide another means of guerrilla finance. This is the guerrilla term for the banditry and blackmail which they perpetrate. Guerrillas sometimes stop buses and rob or "solicit" money and watches from the indigent, working-class passengers. They also demand extortion payments (often a combination of cash and provisions) from farmers and businessmen who work in areas of guerrilla activity. Because of FMLN weakness in Salvadoran cities, urban dwellers and businesses usually are not subject to war taxes. According to Castellanos, the FMLN leadership does not like to rely on these activities, because they reveal the guerrillas as enemies of the people and make it difficult for the leadership to prevent their groups from deteriorating into bands of common thieves.

Two typical examples of war taxes follow. The manager of a small coffee farm received a form letter in late 1985 from the FMLN informing him that if he wished to harvest his coffee in peace, he had to:

(A) Comply with the salary schedule endorsed by the FMLN;

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

(B) Pay 10,000 colones in cash ($2,000);
(C) Deliver 10 pounds of aluminum oxide, 10 pounds of potassium chlorate, 10 meters of slow wick, and 10 flares.

The manager was given 17 days to purchase and deliver the cash and the goods.

Another grower, who received a similar form letter, faced much stiffer demands. This time the guerrilla demanded 250,000 colones ($50,000), 100 pounds each of aluminum oxide and potassium chlorate, 200 blasting caps, and a rotary multicopier. The coffee grower had only 11 days to respond.

Guerrillas also ask for boots, materials for uniforms, and knapsacks, as well as money.

Nonetheless, as foreign funding sources diminish, some fronts increasingly rely on war taxes. Castellanos says that since 1984 the San Vicente front of the FPL has received much of its funds from war tax collections. Property owners in a village in the western shadow of the San Vicente volcano report that guerrilla harassment over the past year has been at its highest level in years. A middle class resident of the village was kidnaped and ransom notes were distributed not only to his family, but a dozen of the leading villagers as well. (Although many of the villagers did not accede to the extortion demands, the victim eventually was released.) The guerrillas also prevented property owners from harvesting from the higher elevations. Posing as small farmers, they harvested the coffee themselves and sold it to INCAFE [the state- controlled coffee monopoly]. Transportation interruptions and collections of war taxes have greatly increased in frequency in this area.

Current Trends in Guerrilla Finance.

Finances are a grave problem for the FMLN. Castellanos estimates the FPL's monthly non-military expenses in 1985 at 800,000 colones; its monthly income from external donations had dropped from 300-400,000 colones in earlier years to 200,000 in 1985. It had to collect the rest from its union allies and through auxiliary measures. The crux of the shortfall lies in the increasing difficulty of raising funds for the Salvadoran guerrilla movement in the West. Past donors are no longer convinced of the inevitability of the guerrilla victory, and they have turned their attention to newly urgent areas of "struggle" like Chile and South Africa. Barring spectacular FMLN military triumphs or severe political or human rights deterioration in El Salvador, the decline in western contributions to the guerrillas will accelerate.

Unless the guerrillas manage to convince the socialist bloc to increase its financial assistance to their cause, they will find it necessary to deepen their reliance on auxiliary measures. Because potential increases in collaborator donations are marginal, the FMLN will have to collect more war taxes and conduct more kidnapping operations, especially of wealthy targets. The financial exigencies of the FMLN guerrilla warfare will subject Salvadorans to heightened levels of extortion, blackmail, and terror.

CISPES as the nerve center

"In the U.S., 347 'solidarity committees' funnel money to the movement. The guerrillas have even hired a U.S. public relations firm with offices in Manhattan and Washington to plead their case. Whatever their internal divisions and rivalries, the guerrillas have learned very well that the best place to put up a united front is in public."

--Time, 9 April 1984, p. 33.

Given CISPES' role as the central support apparatus for the FMLN, it is logical that it would also be the nerve center of financial support activities for the guerrillas. CISPES was a key factor in the setting up and promotion of four organizations whose specific function is to raise cash and material supplies for the FMLN. The four organizations have innocuous names, and raise funds in a manner that masks their support for the guerrillas. The Council for Inter-American Security filed complaints with the Internal Revenue Service and the U.S. Postal Service showing that the fundraising techniques of at least two of the groups through direct-mail are misleading, and urged those government entities to take action.

The four groups in question are New El Salvador Today (NEST), which raises money under the pretense of fostering economic and agricultural development in El Salvador; Medical Aid for El Salvador (MAES), whose direct-mail packages solicit funds for war victims; the Salvador Medical Relief Fund (SMRF), which says it suplies and trains rural community health workers; and the Salvadoran Humanitarian Aid, Research and Education Foundation (SHARE), which is said to benefit Salvadoran refugees living in Central America.

In a way, their statements of purpose are true, in that some of their funds are used for development and relief. However, they are also misleading, as their fundraising literature does not say explicitly that their projects are conducted inside zones controlled by FMLN paramilitary forces or that funds raised are channeled to the guerrillas. By contrast, private groups which support the contras in Nicaragua specifically tell their donors that money is to be used for aid to the fighters and their families.

In a brochure called "Humanitarian Aid Drive for the People of El Salvador," CISPES explained its version of human suffering in El Salvador and solicited donations for NEST, MAES and SMRF. A 1986 CISPES brochure titled "Raise Your Voice for Peace in El Salvador" made an identical pitch.

Other CISPES activities to raise cash for the FMLN was a fundraising drive "to benefit childcare centers for Salvadoran children." The money was sent directly to the Women's Association of El Salvador (Asociacion de Mujeres del Salvador, AMES), a political front for the FMLN.[87]

A September, 1981 letter to activists from the CISPES national office announced the Emergency Aid to El Salvador campaign which set a goal of $250,000 to be raised. The CISPES national office collected all the funds and in CISPES organizer Lisa Tarver's words, "The money will then be channeled through SHARE, which will have tax-exempt status that we will be able to utilize." Tarver continued, "SHARE sends all financial contributions for the refugees to Archbishop Sergio Mendez Arceo in Cuernavaca, Mexico, from where they are distributed to refugee camps throughout Central America."[88] As noted earlier, the FMLN designated the Mexican former clergyman to serve as its repository for humanitarian aid raised by groups in the United States.

Fundraising projects sponsored directly by CISPES are varied: San Francisco CISPES, for example, sponsored an effort to raise $15,000 "for a school and an agricultural project in El Salvador." The local chapter maintains a continued flow of donations through a pledge system.[89] Another CISPES chapter sponsored a 12 kilometer walkathon "to raise material aid for El Salvador."[90] In Washington, D.C., local CISPES activists held a series of functions to raise $17,000 over a six-month period to build a "shoe factory" in the FMLN-held town of Tequeque in Chalatenango province.[91] D.C.CISPES documents showed that the goals of that project were to "develop new values" among the Tequeque residents through "collective work," and to provide food to the "popular army"--the CISPES euphemism for the FMLN. (Although Tequeque's population was only 600 at the time, CISPES wanted its residents to produce 6,000 pair of shoes per year. It is doubtful that the shoes were to have been made for trade outside the area, as CISPES noted that the dirt roads in and out of Tequeque were "barely passable.")

With the separate humanitarian fundraising operations functioning as successfully as they did, CISPES concentrated its efforts on propaganda and political action aimed at changing the votes in Congress. However, as noted in the aforementioned diplomatic cable from San Salvador, the FMLN was in desperate need of cash by mid-1986. CISPES abruptly canceled its years-long "Stop the Bombing" campaign that June and re-directed its activities toward fundraising. In the July-August 1986 issue of the CISPES newsletter Alert!, activists were told that the "Stop the Bombing" tactic was over and that the national office had begun training activists to raise a quick quarter of a million dollars. The entire article is reprinted here from the cable to demonstrate CISPES' fundraising vocabulary and how the funds are raised on a local level:

"CISPES has closed its campaign to stop the bombing, and has now begun a new cycle of material aid fundraising as part of our campaign to promote peace with justice in El Salvador.

"The culminating event of"Stop the Bombing" took place on June 20 in Washington, DC--a dinner to benefit CISPES' Healing the Wounds of War medical campaign in which CISPES pledged to raise $130,000 for medical aid for El Salvador and Salvadoran medical relief fund. The dinner itself raised over $1500, and featured as speakers Gus Newport, the mayor of Berkleley, Ca., and Violetta Delgado, a Salvadoran physician.

"CISPES kicked off its new cycle of material aid fundraising with a material aid training in Washington, DC, July 9-13. The national coordinators conference in May set the ambitious goal of $250,000 to be raised by December, and called for this training to help us meet the challenge. The NCC [national coordinators conference] designated the money to fund projects for New El Salvador Today (NEST), Medical Aid for El Salvador and Salvadoran Medical Relief Fund. [The latter is headed by Dr. Charles Clements.]

"14 people attended the material aid training, representing 10 committees in the New England, Mid-Atlantic, Midwest, and Northwest regions. Ken Jacobs, formerly of NEST in Berkeley, led the training as the new national office material aid coordinator. He considers the most important contribution of the training to be the trainees' increased understanding of just how critical material aid work is in the solidarity movement. The training also increased participants' understanding of how to carry out material aid work, particularly how to integrate it with the rest of the program. The participants learned in skills workshops how to do outreach, bring new people into committees, and increase their visibility within the community through medical aid work.

"One of the primary objectives of the training was to show the participants that they could raise a lot more material aid than they thought they could--and the inspiration proved immediate. A goal of $1500 had been set for the hands-on phone-banking and streetwork, and the trainees surpassed it by raising $2250.

"Trainers included staff from NEST, the CISPES national office, and CISPES regional offices. Diane Greene from NEST told the trainees that those who raise material aid for El Salvador should feel personally responsible for the thousands of lives that are saved through Material Aid.

"Beth Westgarde of San Francisco CISPES gave a workshop on producing dance-a-thons. Beth has worked for two years on Give Peace a Dance (GPAD), a 12-hour dance marathon which after three years has become a Bay Area tradition, and an astonishingly successful fundraiser. 3500 dancers participated in GPAD '86, sponsored by San Francisco and Oakland/Berkeley CISPES and the San Francisco Freeze. The event grossed an incredible $110,000, netting over $70,000, and Oakland/Berkeley CISPES earmarked half of their share for their Medical Aid for El Salvador project. (For more information call San Francisco or Oakland/Berkeley CISPES at (415)861-0425 or (415)644-3636.)

"The participants agreed that one of the greatest strengths of the training was its success in bringing together people from different sized communities and different geographic areas to share experiences and work together. The trainees are now energized to take on the $250,000 goal; most importantly, they're ready to take the training back to their committes and to other committees in their area, and pass on the information and the inspiration they received."[92]

MEDICAL AID FOR EL SALVADOR

Tapping the generosity of the more fortunate Americans, Canadians and West Europeans, the FMLN received the organizational assistance from friends in those democracies to set up its fundraising front organizations at the same time it phased out its traditional methods of fundraising, such as kidnapping and extortion. In the U.S., three particular fronts were set up for three different "humanitarian" projects: Medical aid, development and literacy, and aid to refugees still living in Central America.

Medical Aid for El Salvador (MAES) was founded in Los Angeles in February, 1982.* One of its founders, Bill Zimmerman, was a veteran at arranging such deceitful fundraising campaigns; during the Vietnam War, Zimmerman led a Vietcong fundraising project innocuously called Medical Aid for Indochina.[93] "Medical Aid for El Salvador," Zimmerman announced, "has two purposes. One is to deliver medical assistance for the alleviation of the suffering in El Salvador; and two, to protest the involvement of our government in that struggle, because that involvement is creating more victims in need of medical care." To kick off MAES, the group presented a $25,000 check to a Salvadoran doctor based in Mexico.[94]

Reminiscent of the Vietcong support campaigns, MAES organizers recruited a host of actors to lend itself instant recognition. Ed Asner, Howard Hesseman, and Lee Grant were at the Washington press conference for its initial unveiling. Asner described how he got involved months earlier after being approached on the El Salvador issue by a politically active nun. Initially, Asner had little success in getting other Hollywood celebrities involved. "Then a guy named Bill Zimmerman approached me. He had done a phenomenal job on medical aid to Indochina, and he told me he was doing the same for El Salvador, and would I be one of the titular heads for the committee? I thought about it and thought about it and finally said okay. And he knew how to do it."[95]

Asner said that Zimmerman then wrote up a fundraising letter "which I signed after a few changes, and he got it out. Everything was cool, everything was fine. There were some internal conflicts between the Salvadoran groups, which were finally ironed out, and I was able to work easily and gracefully with the [Archbishop] Romero [Relief Fund] people and the Zimmerman group. . . . The letter provided money."

Meanwhile, Asner read up to become an instant authority on El Salvador, relying on everything from the major media to Marxist publications like The Nation. The nun who had initially recruited Asner passed him literature from the pro-Castro North American

Congress on Latin America (NACLA). "I'm not an expert on El Salvador," Asner said, "but I'm a citizen who can read."[96]

Actors Martin Sheen and Mike Farrell joined Asner in signing direct-mail fundraising letters for MAES calling for help for El Salvador's impoverished and suffering people, but conveniently failing to mention anything about the FMLN. Because of this misleading fundraising campaign, the Council for Inter-American Security filed a complaint with the Internal Revenue Service that MAES, a designated charity, is raising money under false pretenses.[97]

Asner is more open with the leftist press than with his prospective donors. In an interview with the CISPES newsletter in March 1982, Asner stated, "if we Americans want to deliver medical assistance to the people of El Salvador, frankly we must do it through the rebel forces. They are now the most effective institution in El Salvador committed to health delivery."[98] CISPES itself said that the role of MAES is "to raise money nationwide to fund efforts by the FMLN-FDR to provide basic medical services to the people of El Salvador."[99] (emphasis added) MAES national coordinator Christina Courtright defends the FMLN's record. In an interview with the Los Angeles Times, she said, "The rebels were bringing health care as part of their attempt to liberate the country, while the military and the death squads have been waging a campaign against doctors."[100]* She admitted that MAES "sympathizes with the insurgents."

How funds are raised for the FMLN

Medical Aid for El Salvador conducts many of its fundraising campaigns with CISPES at a grass-roots level, through door-to-door canvassing (activists for Ralph Nader's PIRGs have taught MAES how to canvass), benefit dances and dinners, bake sales, auctions, film festivals, walk-a-thons and even church collections, as well as more sophisticated direct-mail.[101] The pitch made is generally a broad appeal for aid to the suffering war victims in El Salvador. Unless done at an openly pro-FMLN event such as a CISPES rally or demonstration, the fundraising appeals generally avoid references to the FMLN entirely, but usually stress the need to cut off U.S. aid to El Salvador.

In a March 1984 direct-mail letter signed by Martin Sheen, MAES said that it had already raised nearly $450,000; nowhere in the letter is the FMLN mentioned. An Asner letter similarly

*Christina Courtwright is the wife of Dave Cortwright, executive director of SANE. Once confined to anti-nuclear issues, SANE has expanded its activities to "anti-intervention" work. Dave Courtwright explained his reasons for doing so in a special column he wrote for the April 23, 1987 issue of the CPUSA newspaper People's Daily World.

sidetracks the FMLN issue: "When you contribute to Medical Aid for El Salvador, you are sending a message of hope to the people there, as you are sending a message to President Reagan that you believe the road to peace is humanitarian aid, not military aid." The donors are misled into thinking that their contributions are intended solely for civilians.

CISPES and the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador also raised money for the MAES project. The CISPES newsletter said that October 1982 saw the "first wave of international protest coordinated by the World Front in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador. . . . Several of these actions raised funds which were channeled through Medical Aid for El Salvador to the people's clinics in El Salvador administered by the FMLN."[102] In 1983, CISPES set up its own "People-to-People" aid program, whose "two main goals" were pathetically described by CISPES newsletter editor Bob Ostertag as "to raise money for the FMLN's popular clinics and to educate people in this country about the new El Salvador being patiently and lovingly constructed in the zones of popular control."[103]

Once the funds are raised, they are deposited in the MAES account in Los Angeles, where they are "sent to an FMLN-FDR approved team of physicians in Mexico, who buy medical supplies to be taken clandestinely into FMLN-controlled areas of El Salvador," according to the Marxist Guardian.[104] At times, MAES money is channeled through contacts in Costa Rica.[105] By April, 1987, MAES said that it had raised nearly $1 million in cash and delivered $1.13 million in supplies.[106] MAES raised $273,000 in supplies for victims of the terrible October, 1986 earthquake which leveled part of San Salvador, but judging by MAES' record, there is little doubt that the disaster was used as a fundraising opportunity for the guerrillas.

In December, 1986, Medical Aid for El Salvador reported sending $631,000 worth of supplies to El Salvador in cooperation with Oxfam America, the Archbishop Romero Relief Fund (which was involved in setting up MAES), and Chevron Corporation, making MAES' total claimed deliveries to Salvadoran recipients $2.09 million.[107]

MAES set up a network inside El Salvador which is overseen by the National Students Association of El Salvador (AGEUS), identified as a front for the FMLN; and the Salvador Committee of Health Professionals (COPROSAL).[108] (see glossary) These two organizations are said to administer MAES projects inside FMLN-dominated areas of El Salvador, however, there is evidence that the projects never existed, and that the money "disappeared." Seventy percent of the funds raised are diverted for military purposes, according to former FMLN bookkeeper Miguel Castellanos. MAES funds are often sent either through Sergio Mendez Arceo in Mexico, or directly to Rev. Octavio Cruz, a radical priest working in the Archbishop's office in San Salvador who is a member of the FMLN and a point of contact between the guerrillas and the church.[109] Cruz is a leading member of the San Salvador-based FMLN fundraising front DIACONIA, a coalition of church groups which serves as a repository for funds from international humanitarian organizations which are diverted to the FMLN.[110] (see section on SHARE)

Direct aid to terrorist commander

According to a MAES flyer describing its history, it won a "landmark victory" in August, 1985, when it "pressured the Salvadoran government into permitting an urgently-needed operation on La Palma Peace Talks participant Nidia Diaz," who had been shot by the army.[111] Again, the group is misleading prospective supporters. Diaz was not a simple peace talks participant brutalized by the army, but is one of the FMLN's top commanders as a leader of the Trotskyist Central American Revolutionary Workers Party (PRTC) faction.[112] She was shot and captured in combat in April, 1985.

In danger of losing the use of her trigger finger (her right hand had been injured in battle), Diaz requested an operation. Medical Aid for El Salvador rushed to her aid. In the U.S., MAES and CISPES leaders organized a telegram-sending campaign to President Duarte and the Salvadoran Defense Minister, and a phone-in campaign to the Salvadoran Embassy in Washington. The government relented and allowed the MAES doctors inside the prison to operate. T.V. actor Mike Farrell, who played a doctor on MASH went along to heighten the drama.[113]

Medical Airlift to El Salvador, December 1986

A combination aid shipment/media event took place in late November and December 1986, when the "Medical Airlift to El Salvador" was launched from Los Angeles. Designed for its "high visibility and dramatic stance," the airlift was meant to "refocus the American public's attention on the problems of El Salvador and stimulate future support for humanitarian aid." The aid MAES referred to is private assistance through the pro-FMLN network, as MAES consistently opposes U.S. government aid of any kind, including humanitarian, to El Salvador.

MAES said that two chartered DC-6 planes and a 727 were to fly more than 50,000 pounds ($1 million) of medical supplies to El Salvador for displaced people inside El Salvador, civilian amputees and "combatants from both sides," and sick and wounded children.[114] The aid was indeed delivered, but through FMLN operative Octavio Cruz at the Archbishopric. It was reported that Archbishop Arturo Rivera y Damas, who had publicly endorsed the MAES campaign, expressed frustration that the church had little say in determining where or how this aid was distributed.[115] The U.S. Embassy in San Salvador, which met with members of the 32-person MAES delegation, said that the group defended their program to aid terrorist commander Nidia Diaz, but would not comment on her faction's June 19, 1985 murder of the four U.S. Marine Embassy guards and the other people. Nor would they comment on the FMLN's kidnapping of President Duarte's daughter, who was released in exchange for Diaz and more than 100 other FMLN guerrillas and terrorists who subsequently flew to Cuba. The MAES delegates also refused to talk about Diaz's broadcasts over Radio Havana, which were occurring at the time of the visit.[116]

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

The Medical Airlift was organized by MAES executive director Sand Brim and staff, as well as Jon Floyd, a former decorated Marine captain who served bravely in Vietnam but subsequently joined the Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW); David Evans, a Marine who enlisted in 1969, lost both legs in Vietnam, and later joined the VVAW and is now a leader of the left-of-center Vietnam Veterans of America; and Mario Velasquez, a Yale graduate and pro-FMLN activist who is said to be the son of a former high-ranking Salvadoran military official and now lives in "exile" in the U.S. To his credit, Evans visited maimed Salvadoran army soldiers and, according to MAES, delivered prosthetics devices to some of the amputees. It was not reliably recorded, however, the effect the visit had on the soldiers' morale.[117]

In the United States, the airlift was made for the media. The projected itinerary went as follows: the group was to leave Los Angeles on November 30 after a press conference and a second press photo session with the aircraft and supplies. On December 1, Evans was scheduled "to deliver and fit ten artificial limbs to selected Salvadoran amputees." Between December 2 and 4, the delegation was scheduled to deliver supplies in various camps in El Salvador, meeting with government officials on the fifth. They were then scheduled to go to Mexico City to meet with foreign ministers of the Contadora group and leaders of the FMLN-FDR, where they would publicly denounce American foreign policy.[118]

The event was conducted in cooperation with Oxfam, and was underwritten by the Chevron Corporation.[119]

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this letter to express my full support of the fundraising efforts of Medical Aid for El Salvador, which is providing medical supplies and health care to the victims of the civil war in El Salvador.

The efforts of this group have already saved the lives of hundreds of innocent women, men, and children by providing such essential items as antibiotics, anesthetics, and health care manuals to those attempting to respond to the brutal violence in El Salvador. The government of El Salvador is unable or unwilling to provide medical care to all but the very few who support its policies and practices in a war against its own people.

The people of El Salvador are in urgent need of help. In the face of such incredible human need the Reagan Administration is spending hundreds of millions of dollars for more military aid to El Salvador. This money is directly supporting a military that former U.S. Ambassador Robert White has called "one of the most out-of-control, violent, bloodthirsty group of men in the world."

I urge you to support Medical Aid for El Salvador in these requests for financial contributions. In doing this, you will be contributing to the improvement of the human condition of our world.

Sincerely,

Ronald V. Dellums

Since mid-1982, SHARE has published a regular newsletter called "El Salvador: Refugees in Crisis." Its bias is obvious: While giving great attention to victims of the Salvadoran army, it never pays attention to victims of the FMLN. In one issue, the newsletter tells about a Salvadoran doctor named Leonardo Gonzalez, who "was forced to take his practice underground after other doctors were persecuted and often killed for treating peasants in poor communities." It turns out that Dr. Gonzalez is a representative of COPROSAL, a pro-FMLN group in New York that supports the FMLN.[123]

A doctor whom SHARE frequently quotes is Charles Clements, an American Vietnam veteran who was stripped of his rank for refusing to follow orders (he is a Quaker) and later spent a year in El Salvador as a medic for the FMLN. Clements, who wrote a book about his El Salvador experience titled Witness to War, has spent the past few years speaking out on behalf of the FMLN to civic and university groups, journalists, and on television and radio shows.[124]

Other pro-guerrilla material SHARE recycles is from the Non-Governmental Human Rights Commission (CDHES), a widely-quoted organization which has been revealed to be a propaganda front of the FMLN.[125] This is SHARE's analysis of the situation in El Salvador:

> "The growing awareness of the poor and their call for change was threatening to the wealthy and to the government, how- ever, and lead [sic] to the formation of death squads that tortured and murdered members of the base communities and burned their houses and crops. Those who remained fled for their lives.

or rockets that swirl, or explosions that go 'BOOM, BOOM, BOOM.' The smoke leaves you sick, the bombs kill the elderly and they destroy everything. . . . The situation of the women is a tragedy, they were cut in half. The armed forces killed them. We want the bombing to stop, we want to stop suffering." (Emphasis in original)[126]

Shades of Vietnam. This passage from a SHARE promotional brochure is telling:

> "To be a Salvadoran refugee is to have daily viewed slaughter so pervasive that almost every Salvadoran family has a member tortured, raped or murdered by government forces. There is no time for grief, no time for childhood, only the immediacy of survival. Among the peasant population, many of the men and single women have been assassinated [?] or left to join the opposition. . . For mothers, children and the elderly it is a daily struggle to escape, to stay alive, to avoid starvation."[127]

The theme is the same as that of CISPES and the FMLN itself. Only the Salvadoran government is guilty of atrocities, and these atrocities are so systematic and widespread, SHARE says, that "almost every Salvadoran family" has been a victim. There is no mention of the FMLN guerrillas by name; they are referred to vaguely as "the opposition." The same brochure accused the government of systematically torturing and gunning down 600 people: "Women were tortured before being killed; babies were tossed in the air for target practice."[128]

SHARE also aims its propaganda at children, in one case telling horror stories to children from the Sidwell Friends School in Washington, D.C. SHARE editor Mark Bradley told the children about an experience he said he had at a refugee camp in Honduras. The children wrote an article about what Bradley had told them, which was printed in the SHARE newsletter.

This is what they recounted: The first night Bradley was at the camp, he saw soldiers shooting inside the camp. Alarmed, he said he tried to persuade them not to shoot for fear of endangering some of the refugee children. He said that "an angry sergeant" responded, "If any of those refugees shines a flashlight on me again, I will shoot. I don't care if it hits a child." Bradley also told the schoolchildren that an old man was beaten up by soldiers when he had to go to the bathroom.[129]

SHARE also has spoken out about the plight of Guatemalan refugees and illegal aliens posing as refugees. It has shown no interest in the plight of refugees from Nicaragua.

Where the money goes

Most of the money is raised through community action programs which take advantage of people's charity without telling them that SHARE supports the FMLN. Methods of fundraising include door-to-door neighborhood campaigns; tables at shopping centers, churches, community centers, union meetings, flea markets, and clinics; events like walk-a-thons, benefit concerts and parties; displays at shopping centers and universities, and direct solicitation of individuals and humanitarian and religious organizations. Priests at Georgetown University in Washington who returned from El Salvador impressed with SHARE's model projects also made fundraising pitches during Mass.

Money raised in the United States by SHARE is sent to the same controversial former clergyman in Mexico who handles other private funds raised for "humanitarian" purposes. In SHARE's own words, "SHARE sends financial contributions for refugee assistance directly to Bishop Sergio Mendez Arceo in Cuernavaca, Mexico, who then distributes it to refugee centers in Central America."[131]

From Mexico, SHARE funds are sent to the Archdiocese of San Salvador, which runs several of the camps for displaced people. However, the individual within the Archdiocese who actually handles these programs is Father Octavio Cruz, a member of the FMLN who serves as the guerrillas' liaison inside the church and is a leader of DIACONIA, the FMLN financial front in San Salvador.

NEW EL SALVADOR TODAY (NEST)

The division of labor between the humanitarian fundraising groups is distinct. MAES is designed for medical aid. SHARE is for refugees and displaced persons living in Central America. A third group is for developmental projects, a CISPES spinoff called New El Salvador Today (NEST), which set up operations in October, 1983 as a tax-exempt charity. Its national office in Berkeley, California, is shared with that of the local CISPES headquarters.

So as to understand NEST a bit more clearly, it is necessary to take a look at the first of its four directors, former Berkeley mayor Gus Newport. He can hardly be called a humanitarian. Newport is co-chairman of the United States Peace Council, and is a vice president of the World Peace Council.[132] At a WPC conference in Copenhagen, Denmark, Newport expressed support for the Palestine Liberation Organization and other terrorist organizations, and defended the Soviet invasion and military occupation of Afghanistan, physically grappling with a man who was passing out leaflets denouncing the Kremlin's atrocities in Afghanistan. Newport refuses to condemn the African National Congress (ANC) for its practice of burning alive moderate blacks by binding their arms and legs or hacking off their limbs, then placing a gasoline-soaked tire around their shoulders and lighting it. After a heated debate about Communist influence within the WPC conference, Newport blurted, "As a black American, I got no problem with the Communists. It's the Democrats and the Republicans who I got a problem with."[133]

Radio Havana reported in December 1986 that Newport was prominent at an anti-American demonstration in the Cuban capital, alongside Fidel Castro and FMLN commander Nidia Diaz.

Yet he puts on a great act for reporters. After returning from a trip with the FMLN in March, 1985, Newport burst into tears during a press conference, weeping that the "policy of the Duarte government is to totally wipe out the civilian population in areas under popular control."[134]

NEST sent $80,000 worth of aid to its destination in the first year. In its first annual report, NEST executive director Tracey Schear said that the aid went to "local community governments" in "areas of popular control," again the euphemisms which give no indication to unsuspecting donors that these are actually areas under Communist control. Elsewhere in NEST's literature, readers are told that the aid goes to the "Poderes Populares Locales," or PPLs, another euphemism for the local FMLN administrations which is not explained in the literature.

In early 1984, NEST set up a "National Community-to-Community Program," a sister cities concept which linked American towns with "liberated" villages in El Salvador. The pilot project was initiated by the Berkeley, California city council, which declared the FMLN-dominated village of San Antonio Los Ranchos as its sister city. Berkeley residents reportedly raised $17,000 for the village.[135] Evidently, the flow of money from NEST to sites in El Salvador does not flow through the regular FMLN conduit in Mexico.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

A peculiar fundraising project was organized for 1985 called "National Work-a-Day for El Salvador." This effort entailed getting people to donate a day's pay for NEST, a concept used elsewhere to raise funds in a hurry.[136]

In response to the Salvadoran army's successful counter-insurgency campaign, NEST organized an "Emergency Fund" for Chalatenango, the northern province which has been a guerrilla stronghold. In two weeks, NEST raised $26,000, which it sent to Chalatenango with a delegation consisting of Carlottia Scott, administrative assistant to Congressman Ronald Dellums; Fr. Eugene Boyle, of San Jose, California; Mary Kay Baum, of the Madison, Wisconsin school board; and Margarita Studemeister of the Center for Central American Studies, a NEST board member. NEST personnel included Tracey Schear and Lisa Robinson. The delivery was made on 28 April 1986.[137] By July, 1986, NEST claimed to have sent "over $268,000 in humanitarian assistance to El Salvador."[138]

As with Medical Aid for El Salvador and SHARE, NEST coordinates its fundraising activities with CISPES. In the September, 1984 issue of El Salvador Alert, for example, CISPES notified its activists, "In upcoming months, many CISPES chapters will be focusing their material aid campaigns on New El Salvador Today. . . . This fall dozens of organizations, including over 20 CISPES chapters, plan to raise over $200,000 by January. Chapters have pledged amounts ranging from $1000 to $50,000." The money, readers were told, was to be spent on agricultural cooperatives and chicken ranches and fisheries. Other NEST projects include funding literacy campaigns for the peasants; however, these campaigns are more ideological indoctrination campaigns than they are educational. (see section on literacy campaign)

The CISPES newsletter explained what some chapters would be doing: "The fundraising schemes hint at the breadth of CISPES membership. Washington, D.C., which is funding a shoe workshop, will host a Fiesta de Zapateas, with a prize for the person wearing the most outrageous shoes. Santa Rosa will hold a paddle tennis tournament, while Berkeley, Oakland, San Francisco and Portland are organizing Work-a-Days where workers donate one day's salary to the zones. Several cities are considering 24-hour dance-a-thons." The New York CISPES printed greeting cards, while the Olympia, Washington chapter published "a bilingual coloring book on the zones."[139]

While NEST's literature aimed at donors hides the relationship between the local governments it funds and the FMLN, its spokesman have publicly acknowledged the relationship elsewhere. In the 10

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

October 1984 issue of the Guardian, for example, NEST is described as "a material aid project benefiting the local governments in El Salvador's rebel-held zones of control." NEST coordinator Tracey Schear is quoted by the Guardian as acknowledging that her group's efforts aid the FMLN militarily:

> "Within the past two years, there have been significant advances in the zones. First, the FMLN has been able to expand and consolidate those areas. Second, there's been the development of popular power. When I was in Chalatenango, 90% of the province was under popular control.
> "The ability of the FMLN to develop and advance as a regular army has everything to do with these emerging civilian structures. For example, I was told that a year ago the FMLN might recoup food for the civilian population. Now, the popular power is developing agricultural production not only for the civilian population and the guerrillas, but also for reserves for people fleeing government attacks." (emphasis added)

Schear continued, "there is essentially a transformation of an entire society in which the political, economic and military institutions of the old Salvadoran regime are being replaced by the structures of popular power, the mass organizations and the FMLN." NEST is helping with that transformation.[140]

So is a particular United States Congressman. Representative John Conyers (D-MI) signed a direct-mail fundraising letter for NEST in 1986, which contained such gross inaccuracies and untruths that U.S. Ambassador to El Salvador was prompted to respond with a long letter of clarification. Both are reprinted in Appendix 8. Like the rest of NEST's fundraising literature, Conyers' letter fails to tell the donors that the campaign has anything to do with the guerrillas.

The Council for Inter-American Security filed a complaint to the Internal Revenue Service that NEST is raising money under false pretenses to supply a foreign paramilitary organization with money and materiel.

OXFAM-America

Oxfam-America was founded in 1970 as an autonomous sister of the original Oxfam which was founded in Oxford, England in 1942. A highly reputable refugee relief and development organization, Oxfam-America raises money for humanitarian causes in under-developed countries. However, an ongoing study by the Council for Inter-American Security shows a pattern indicating Oxfam-America's distinct political support for pro-Soviet Marxist regimes and revolutionary movements. This trend shows that in countries with a ruling Marxist party, Oxfam-America usually works through the party structure, while in pro-western countries under attack by a Marxist insurgency, the organization tends to work outside the government with groups allied with the paramilitary movement.

Oxfam-America's programs in Zimbabwe, Tanzania, Mozambique, Kampuchea, Cuba, Grenada and Nicaragua were and/or are run through or with the ruling Marxist party apparatus. Its literature praises these governments as "models" of economic development. Oxfam-America closed down its operations in Grenada after the U.S. removed the Communist government in 1983, despite that Caribbean country's dire need of continued development support.[141] By contrast, Oxfam's programs in South Africa, Guatemala and El Salvador are conducted outside government channels, and, respectively, in conjunction with the Soviet-backed and Communist-controlled ANC, URNG and FMLN paramilitary organizations.[142]

Oxfam's $15 million annual budget comes from foundation grants, direct-mail campaigns, and grass-roots activities. The latter category includes an annual "Fast for a World Harvest" where high school and college students are encouraged to forego a lunch on their meal plan, the cash value of which is donated by the food service to Oxfam. Up to $10,000 is raised from a single school in a day using this method. These fasts are popular and are widely accepted by high school and college officials who see nothing political in this ostensibly humanitarian campaign. However, Oxfam's newsletter and other publications are quite political.

In El Salvador, Oxfam-America's literature has been supportive of the FMLN-FDR and hostile to the Salvadoran government. FDR leaders Guillermo Ungo and Jose Penate were hosted at an Oxfam-America luncheon. Contrary to its stated support for democracy and consistent with the guerrillas' policy, Oxfam has not encouraged the FMLN-FDR to participate in El Salvador's electoral process. Like the guerrillas, Oxfam-America calls for "talks leading to a political solution," or power-sharing with the elected government without having to go through an election. An Oxfam "Central America Advocacy Statement" also called upon the U.S. Congress "to end bilateral military and economic assistance to El Salvador." (Emphasis added) For an organization interested in development, Oxfam's opposition to economic aid to El Salvador is strange, as it has criticized the U.S. government harshly for cutting aid to the Sandinista government in nearby Nicaragua.[143]

While the FMLN guerrillas destroy El Salvador's economic infrastructure through attacks on farms, roads, and energy facilities, CISPES and related groups lobby in the U.S. against economic aid to El Salvador. Here, Oxfam took an identical position.

Captured FMLN documents show that in the first six months of 1980, Oxfam sent the dollar equivalent of 62,230 Salvadoran colones to CEAH, the Ecumenical Committee of Humanitarian Aid, which has been identified as a front for the Communist Party of El Salvador.[144] While Oxfam leaders denounced the documents in question as containing falsehoods, the organization itself had said months earlier, in its August 1980 newsletter, "Oxfam America recently approved a grant of $50,000 for emergency aid to refugees in El Salvador," and that the funds would be distributed through CEAH.

In 1983, Oxfam-America donated $50,000 to the FMLN front DIACONIA. In its Spring '83 newsletter, Oxfam-America said that DIACONIA was formerly known as ASESAH, which has been shown to have been the result of a planned guerrilla merger between the CES and the CEAH. Any claims of ignorance by Oxfam as to DIACONIA's relationship with the FMLN is suspect due to Oxfam's open support for the guerrillas at the time.[145]

Oxfam-America's attitude toward refugees cannot be more graphically illustrated than those unfortunate people living in Honduras. The relief group publicized the fate of Salvadoran refugees in Honduras and sent aid to them in 1983. Former FMLN commander Alejandro Montenegro told the author that the FMLN routinely crossed into Honduras to use the refugee camps as sanctuaries and to be with their families who resided in those camps.[146] Meanwhile, Oxfam has all but ignored the plight of the tens of thousands of Nicaraguan refugees also living in Honduras. When asked why this was so, an Oxfam-America spokesman gave this weak excuse: "We have never worked with those [Nicaraguan refugee] camps; the Catholic Relief Service is involved with them."[147]

Politically, Oxfam-America has been very active. In November 1984, for example, Oxfam co-sponsored the pro-FMLN "March on Washington" demonstration in conjunction with the Communist Party USA (CPUSA), the Communist Workers Party, the reputed CPUSA front National Lawyers Guild, and CISPES. In fact, Oxfam-America recommends CISPES material as part of its recommended literature on El Salvador.[148]

Oxfam-America officials deny that the organization supports the FMLN, and maintain that if it ever supported the guerrillas, it was several years ago under a different administration. However, as recently as April 1987, Oxfam-America cosponsored political events in support of the Sandinistas and the FMLN. Oxfam was an official endorser of the massive April 25 mobilization on Washington, which was denounced by Lane Kirkland of the AFL-CIO, Stephen Rosenfeld of the Washington Post, and others as a demonstration supportive of communism in Central America.[149] Leading the rally were such figures as Jesse Jackson, Ed Asner, and representatives of the Sandinista government and the FMLN. Oxfam-America officially marched with them, carrying a banner down Pennsylvania Avenue to the Capitol.[150]

How a ten-dollar contribution reaches the FMLN

To illustrate how a ten-dollar contribution from an American donor travels from his or her pocket to the FMLN, we give the following hypothetical example:

Mary Smith receives a letter in the mail from actor Martin Sheen, asking her to donate to Medical Aid for El Salvador (MAES) to help relieve the misery of victims of the war in that country. She is told nothing about that organization's support for the FMLN. In fact, the FMLN is not mentioned at all in the letter. Heartned by the emotional appeal, she writes a check for ten dollars and sends it to MAES.

Once it reaches the MAES office, about half of it goes to pay for overhead and legitimate fundraising expenses such as list rentals, printing and postage, leaving five dollars for the people of El Salvador. That five dollars is sent to one of the bank accounts managed by Sergio Mendez Arceo in Mexico City. In Mexico, it is decided to which organization the money will be sent. These particular five dollars will go to DIACONIA.

The money is transferred to the DIACONIA office in San Salvador, where it is to be distributed to "the people." Thirty percent, or $1.50, is spent on legitimate humanitarian aid projects which politically benefit the providers--the FMLN. The other seventy percent of Mary Smith's net contribution, or $3.50, goes directly to FMLN military operations.

Months later, she receives another letter from Medical Aid for El Salvador, showing pictures of how peasant families have been benefiting from contributions like hers. These pictures are real; these programs do exist, but the nature of the programs is unknown to the donors. Mary Smith gives a second contribution. She cannot afford much, so she writes Medical Aid for El Salvador to ask what else she can do to help. In a few weeks, she receives a package of brochures, articles, and a MAES annual report showing how the money is supposedly spent. Incensed, confused and concerned, she writes a letter to her congressman, asking him to stop U.S. military aid to El Salvador. She approaches the pastor of her church, and urges him to hold a special collection for the suffering Salvadoran people. It seems like a worthy cause. On Sunday, the collection basket is passed and the money is sent to MAES. This time, there are no fundraising expenses, so a greater percentage of this contribution reaches its final destination.

On the facing page is a flow chart demonstrating how one's humanitarian contribution is diverted to the FMLN guerrillas.

CISPES ACTIONS ELICIT RESPONSE IN CONGRESS

Many of CISPES' activities have produced responses by Members of Congress. Representative Mervyn Dymally (D-CA), a member of the House Subcommittee on Western Hemisphere Affairs, documented some of CISPES' successes in a fundraising letter he signed for the group in early 1986. In the letter, he repeated CISPES' own themes. The congressman said,

". . . CISPES has. . . already shown results in Congress:

"47 Members of Congress have co-sponsored a resolution by Rep. John Conyers condemning the continuing human rights violations in El Salvador and calling for a halt to the indiscriminate air and ground attacks on civilians.

"At CISPES' urging, House Ways and Means Chair Dan Rostenkowski wrote letters to our colleagues, David Obey, Chair of the Foreign Operations Appropriations Subcommittee, and Michael Barnes of the Western Hemisphere Affairs Subcommittee of the Foreign Affairs Committee. He voiced opposition to the Administration's supplemental request of $54 million in Central American police training funds.

"The police training measure failed--thanks in part to the opposition of Rep. Rostenkowski and other members of Congress contacted by CISPES.

"Following Rep. Rostenkowski's letter and thousands of letters from CISPES members, Rep. Barnes held Subcommittee hearings on the human rights situation in El Salvador.

"Rep. Frank Annunzio, a former supporter of military aid to El Salvador, credits CISPES members in his district with changing his point of view about the effects of that aid in El Salvador."

In an accompanying letter, CISPES national coordinator Angela Sanbrano said, "we're putting pressure where it's needed most. In 50 key Congressional districts, CISPES is helping tip the balance on critical legislation." (emphasis in original)

Congressman Dymally then appealed for donations so that CISPES could continue its operations, especially its efforts to get Congress to stop the Salvadoran army's successful aerial counterinsurgency operations. Dymally continued, "Sign the 'Urgent Reply Memorandum' I am enclosing and return it along with your contribution. We need to obtain thousands of signatures as part of CISPES' effort to deliver these pledges by the truckload to Members of Congress. Your representatives must recognize that you want them to act to stop the bombings." Congressman Dymally added as a postscript that contributions of $100 or more could be itemized as a tax-deduction if made out to the Institute for Effective Action, which would "fund CISPES' ongoing educational work."

Barnes holds hearings in response to CISPES campaign

Congressman Dymally helped CISPES launch its national petition campaign to get the House Subcommittee on Western Hemisphere Affairs to hold hearings on the "air war." Subcommittee chairman Michael Barnes (D-MD) agreed, and held a special hearing on 14 May 1986, called "The Air War and Political Developments in El Salvador." This hearing institutionalized the term "air war" as coined by the FMLN and CISPES into accepted congressional vernacular.

The development of this hearing is a textbook example of how a Communist front, its tax-exempt spinoff, and a friendly congressman work together to influence policy on Capitol Hill. It also shows the incestuous relationship between CISPES and its "humanitarian" spinoffs, and how the two work together to change public opinion and policy.

It began when Berkely, California mayor Gus Newport, leader of New El Salvador Today (NEST), returned from eight days with the FMLN in Chalatenango province in March, 1985. He returned to California denouncing the "air war," and, with Congressman Dellums, began a campaign to lobby for congressional hearings on the subject.[151] As the "air war" campaign developed, Congressman Dymally sent out the CISPES letters to generate petitions to Congress demanding the hearing. Evidently, CISPES supporters responded overwhelmingly. During the hearing, Congressman Barnes remarked, "we probably have had more requests for this hearing than any hearing we have ever held."[152] In an exchange with Barnes, Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs Elliott Abrams called the hearing "the product of a kind of drive to besmirch and muddy the reputation of El Salvador, a drive to claim human rights abuses that do not exist."[153] Barnes protested this observation, and Congressman Dymally complained, "I frankly resent the aspersions that the committee chairman is being used and the committee is being used by people for disinformation.

"This meeting," Dymally continued indignantly, "is a result of petitions from all over the country. In fact, I brought several thousand petitions to you, Mr. Chairman. So did the gentleman from New York [Congressman Ted Weiss] and many other members." Dymally mentioned nothing of his involvement in generating the petitions. He was upset: "To suggest that this committee is being used by the guerrillas or the Communists distresses me a great deal. I want to express my strong resentment over those statements issued by the members of this committee."[154]

Yet the critics, including Secretary Abrams, Congressmen Dan Burton (R-IN) and John McCain (R-AZ) were correct. The guerrillas and the Communists were indeed using the hearing. Dymally was distressed because he had been caught.

To be fair, Secretary Abrams and former Salvadoran Ambassador to the United States Ernesto Rivas-Gallont were allowed to state their case, as was Democrat William C. Doherty of the AFL-CIO's American Institute for Free Labor Development (AIFLD).

Congressman Conyers was the first witness to testify. (He was not a member of the subcommittee). His testimony was the exact political line taken by the FMLN and CISPES. He made six policy recommendations: 1) For the denial of all U.S. aid to the Salvadoran police, 2) an overall cut in U.S. aid to El Salvador for FY 1987, 3) that all aid be conditional on certification of the Salvadoran government's conduct against the FMLN, 4) withholding delivery of six training helicopters "until there are several dozen prosecutions" for human rights abuses, 5) making future aid contingent on negotiations with the Communists, and 7) investigating the Reagan Administration's "misrepresentation of fact as it applies to human rights in El Salvador."[155]

This is very similar to what CISPES wanted, which is not surprising; Conyers is one of the most radical members of Congress who has taken such extreme stands as supporting the Palestine Liberation Organization and abstaining from condemning the Soviets for their shooting down of 269 people aboard Korean Air Lines flight 007 in September, 1983. Conyers is from a radical background. A native of Detroit, he is known as a Red diaper baby. His father, John Conyers, Sr., was a local Communist Party official and close friend of a leading Detroit Communist Party collaborator, George Crockett.[156]

(Congressman Barnes lost his seat in 1986. George Crockett, who was elected to Congress in 1980, succeeded Barnes as chairman of the subcommittee. For more information on Crockett, see the Council for Inter-American Security's package, The Crockett File.)

Conyers brought in as a witness a fellow radical, NEST leader Gus Newport, who visited the FMLN in Chalatenango in March, 1985, accompanied by Diane Greene of NEST and Mary Ann Buckley of CISPES.[157]

Needless to say, this was not made clear in the hearing. Newport was vague about exactly who hosted him in El Salvador, and would not come out and say that he was with the FMLN. However, his evasiveness was noted by Congressman Burton, who was in the same areas of El Salvador as was Newport, but saw nothing like what the Berkely mayor described.

Yet another witness was Eileen Purcell, representing San Francisco Archbishop John R. Quinn. Ms. Purcell is executive

"The El Salvadoran revolution has no alternative to armed struggle. The communists are convinced that the revolution will triumph despite all obstacles. Our revolution rests on the strength, will, and heroism of the people, and its vanguard consists of left forces that are united and have extensive experience of struggle."

--Shafik Handal, General Secretary, Communist Party of El Salvador, and leader of FMLN General Command, in World Marxist Review (Prague), October 1980.

CISPES Goals for 1984:

"1. Impede the escalation of U.S. intervention in Central America by (a) making the political costs of a full-scale, direct intervention too high; (b) obstructing the step-by-step escalation of U.S. intervention in Central America.

"2. Provide political and material support to the FMLN-FDR of El Salvador; and

"3. Defend the Sandinista revolution.

"Our defense of the Sandinista revolution will directly contribute to the Nicaraguan people's efforts to consolidate their revolution. It will also undermine Reagan's attempts to build a 'strategic consensus' in the U.S. for intervention in all of Central America."

". . . there are survivals of sectarianism. . . . But this is now of minor importance and cannot inhibit the successful development of the unitary process, whose purpose is to create a united Marxist-Leninist party, although nobody can say exactly when this will happen."

--Shafik Handal, World Marxist Review, September 1980.

"The United Revolutionary Leadership is highly appreciative of the international solidarity fettering the aggressive actions of U.S. imperialism. In this connection the main task of the day is to expose the U.S. policy of genocide relative to the peoples of El Salvador and Guatemala, whose thousands upon thousands of families have lost relatives and homes or found themselves in the bloodstained hands of butchers directed by U.S. military advisers."

--Shafik Handal, World Marxist Review, September 1980.

"We have organized a large solidarity apparatus that encompasses the whole planet, even in the United States, where one of the most active centers of solidarity exists."

"The heroic people and government of Viet Nam have set an example for the oppressed people of theworld by their courageous struggle and defeat of U.S. imperialism on April 30th, 1975. That victory inspired national liberation struggles around the world, many already victorious. . . We also support the heroic people of El Salvador, led by the Democratic Revolutionary Front [FDR], for their courageous struggle for self-determination."

--Undated flyer co-sponsored by CISPES and the Committee in Soliarity with Viet Nam, Kampuchea and Laos, for 9 May 1981 rally at Washington Square Methodist Church, New York City.

"The job of such a movement is to challenge U.S. policy; to disrupt the war effort, to polarize opinion, to inspire people to refuse to cooperate, to create divisions within Congress and every other institution from the AFL- CIO to the campuses, etc. Each escalation of the war must bring a response more costly than the one before, precisely the Vietnam war phenomenon the administration is trying to avoid. As the FMLN wears down each incremental phase of intervention, such a movement can make it impossible for the U.S. government to escalate to new levels at the rate it needs in order to win."

It is in this context that the forces that form the FMLN will maintain and strengthen relations with all the forces and governments interested in the peace of Central and Latin America. That is why we reply to imperialism: We are and will continue to be friends of the peoples and governments of Cuba and Nicaragua and we are not ashamed of this. On the contrary, we are proud to maintain relations with those peoples, who are bastions of the anti-imperialist struggle."

The FMLN literacy campaign

Charitable groups which have been either created or co-opted by FMLN support organizations have heralded the guerrillas' literacy campaign for the illiterate peasants in rural El Salvador. The FMLN's literacy program serves a threefold purpose: To demonstrate to El Salvador's poor that it can offer the people something which the government cannot, in this case education; and to project the image in the western democracies that the FMLN has a humanitarian agenda in addition to its political/military one.

Third, the image of a functioning FMLN literacy program enables FMLN supporters to raise money in the West to sustain that program. Most humanitarian funds raised for the FMLN are skimmed off and diverted for military p rposes. According to Miguel Castellanos, former finance director for the FPL faction of the FMLN, seventy percent of such humanitarian aid is channeled to the actual combatants.

Ideological indoctrination

Like the highly-publicized political indoctrination that forms the core of the literacy program sponsored by the Sandinista government in Nicaragua, the FMLN's literacy campaign serves to indoctrinate as it educates.

A hand-written FMLN literacy book captured from the unit with Commander Nidia Diaz in April 1985 shows how the paramilitary organization indoctrinates its supporters in Marxist-Leninist ideology. The following letters, words, sounds, phrases, sentences and illustrations are taken from the literacy book and serve as examples:

C. Centro America. (Central America). Map of Central America, with El Salvador marked with an explosion, and Nicaragua marked "libre."

CH. Ernesto Che Guevara. Sketch of Che Guevara. Phrase: "La lucha de Chile." (The struggle of Chile). For a literacy campaign, there is little concern with sentence structure.

D. Dialogo. (Dialogue). Picture of two men seated at table; one man is bearded and wears a cap, resembling Fidel Castro.

F. Farabundo. Picture of Salvadoran Communist Party founder and Comintern agent Farabundo Marti, for whom the FMLN is named.

G. Burguesia. (Bourgeoisie). Picture of well-dressed fat man with bag of money.

K. "Emboscamos en el Kilometro 51." ("We will ambush at Kilometer 51.")

L. Liberacion. (Liberation). Picture of map of El Salvador with FMLN flag flying over it.

M. Milicias Populares. (Popular Militias). Picture of peasant with sickle and gun.

P. Poder Popular. (People's Power). Accompanied with a picture of a group ofpeople with an FMLN flag. Pepe. Picture of a man ("Pepe") holding a gun.

T. Titere. (Puppet). Picture of President Duarte as marionette, with puppeteer labled "Reagan."

Z. Zapadores. (those who dig trenches, lay mines, etc). Picture of*zapador* with gun and shovel near electric power pylon, a common target of FMLN bombings. Sentence: "Zenobio va a la zona liberada." (Zenobio goes to the liberated zone). "Zenobio" is not a Spanish name, but it appears to be a reference to Grigory Zinoviev, the Comintern leader who oversaw the international Communist movement at the time of Farabundo Marti in the 1920s and '30s.

"AR" sound. Partido. (Political party). Sentence: "La Alfabetizacion. . . Otra arma en la revolucion." ("Literacy. . . Other arm of the revolution.") Picture of hammer and sickle.

"AM" sound. "Campesino. El campesino se organiza. Combatimos al imperialismo." ("Peasant. The peasant organizes. We combat imperialism.")

"CL" sound. "Lucha de clases." "La lucha de clases es el motor de la historia." ("Class struggle." "Class struggle is the engine of history.") Accompanying the example is a picture of soldier and a well-dressed fat man with a bag of money, faced by an angry crowd with a gun and sickle.

"BR" sound. "Hombre nuevo." "Obreros y campesinos al poder." ("New man." "Workers and peasants to power.")

"DR" sound. "La DRU." "Direccion Revolucionaria Unificada." ("The DRU." "Unified Revolutionary Directorate.") These vocabulary words refer to the first coalition of Salvadoran guerrilla groups in 1980 that evolved into the coordinating body of the FMLN. Illustrating these examples is a cloud bearing the initials of the five political factions of the FMLN, which were also members of the DRU: FPL (Popular Liberation Forces), PCS (Communist Party of El Salvador), PRTC (Central American Revolutionary Workers Party), PRS (Salvadoran Revolutionary Party), and RN (National Resistance).

"FR" sound. "Frentes de liberacion." "Frente Farabundo Marti para la Liberacion Nacional. Los revolucionarios no tenemos fronteras." ("Liberation fronts." "Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front. The revolutionaries have no borders.") The accompanying picture is of the FMLN banner.

Encourage greater support for humanitarian assistance efforts already underway
Establish a nationally coordinated fund-raising campaign to support the people of El Salvador, including sale of "Free El Salvador" certificates

RELIGIOUS SECTOR

General Considerations

Outreach within the religious community should seek, among other things, to highlight the witness of the Church and Christians in El Salvador today, including their support of the popular organizations. It should also seek to help North American Christians understand the theological basis for the Church's action in El Salvador, and the persecution it is subjected to as a consequence. Care needs to be taken, however, not to present the Church in isolation from the people of the community as a whole. In the same manner, solidarity efforts within the religious community here should strive to maintain close cooperation with secular groups in the broader Salvadorean solidarity movement.

Specific recommendations:

1. Organize delegations of church people to visit the religious editor of local newspapers; coordinate with a broader-based letter-writing campaign to focus on media blackout, distortion
2. Insure regular distribution of news updates, anlysis to religious press
3. Prepare Op-Ed pieces for submission by local church officials
4. Encourage local groups to plan commemorations of the anniversary of Archbishop Romero's assassination
5. Form a coordinating group for religious people within the broader El Salvador solidarity movement, with the specific task of helping develop and coordinate the following:

--Preparation of informational materials, liturgical aids, suggestions for prayer vigils, speakers, etc. for use by local churches

--Facilitation of church-to-church dialogue, arranging for visit of U.S. church delegations to El Salvador and visits of Salvadorean church people here

--Participation of religious groups in the National Week of Solidarity, suggested to be held January 18-25 so as to include commemoration of the peasant massacre in 1932 and the march of 200,000 in 1980 (both Jan. 22) and the week of Prayer for Christian Unit

--Preparation of a resource list for distribution to local churches, parishes: include "theological" resources, slides, music, speakers, forums, liturgies, etc.

--Translation and distribution of news from Socorro Jurídico, Orientación

--Approval by major church bodies of statements or resolutions denouncing U.S. aid to the junta, its genocidal policies, persecution of the Church, and offering support for the popular organizations

--Preparation of an ecumenical letter, signed by top religious officials, to the President, State Department, Congress, perhaps to be delivered by a top-level delegation

Congressman Ronald V. Dellums

Washington, D. C.
Friday morning

Dear Fellow Citizen,

A growing militarism infects our nation, threatens our planet, and poisons the hopes of our children.

Will you help me convince my colleagues in Congress to stop building a perpetual war machine and start rebuilding America?

Ronald Reagan now gives the Pentagon half of every dollar you and I pay in federal income taxes. If yours is a typical American household, you will have poured more than $20,000.00 down this defense drain before Reagan's second term is over.

Don't think it will end there. Reagan proposes a 12% increase in military spending for this year, coupled with massive cutbacks in nearly every non-military program. This arms build-up is wreaking incredible long-term damage to our economy and seriously weakening our social fabric. Education, health care, jobs -- all suffer the ill effects resulting from the misplaced priorities of this new militarism.

I plan to submit an Alternative Defense Budget to the 100th Congress when it convenes -- just as I have done in every session since 1982. It is a budget for defense -- not for playing strategic "chicken" with the Soviet Union or for war-games -- and war -- in the Third World. Instead, it will allow us to return to the vital task of building a just, compassionate America and a peaceful world.

Since I suspect you already share my concern over America's ominous, wasteful, military build-up, I invite you to join me now in support of the Alternative Defense Budget. Let us establish together the framework for a new era of safety, security, and realism about America's global role.

Together we can keep alive national debate at the highest levels of government, and make significant progress toward a sane defense policy.

In this debate, we must very clearly understand what we are willing to pay for, and why.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

I believe that until we re-order our defense policies, military spending will continue to ravage American society and drain both our personal and national resources

Military spending is the issue upon which the fate of our whole society now hinges. Its urgency does not allow you and me to sit around waiting for a changing of the guard. We must start now to bring the country back to reality.

Because many of my Congressional colleagues are now searching for the right road -- and open to alternatives -- it is particularly urgent that we fully debate the Alternative Defense Budget in the next session of Congress.

> Even my arch-conservative colleague Newt Gingrich conceded during the historic House debate on an earlier version of the Alternative Defense Budget: "I think your cry from the heart is fundamentally right."

And despite intimidation by the Pentagon brass and the arms manufacturers, we keep on winning important victories.

I have fought continuously against the MX missile. In 1977, I could muster only 11 votes to kill all funding for this dangerous, useless weapon. But in 1985, the tide had turned. Congress approved only a fraction of the requested funding. And we have succeeded in publicly exposing the fraudulent shift in strategy that would base the MX in hardened missile silos as a first-strike weapon

My opposition to the B-1 bomber also dates back to the day it was proposed. As special Congressional advisor to President Carter, I was able to halt the development of the B-1 for several years. Under Ronald Reagan, it has unfortunately been revived at an estimated $398 million per plane.

I helped engineer the successful freeze on military spending in the 99th Congress.

And I am continuing the fight against Reagan's destabilizing "Star Wars" program after helping to cut more than $1 billion from his original request for research and development.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

The humane, realistic assumptions about America's real national security needs and our proper role in world affairs are what makes the Alternative Defense Budget so different from the Reagan Administration's budget. Here is our agenda:

 We must reverse the nuclear arms race.

 We must end American interventionism in Central America and throughout the world.

 We must curtail the plans for Star Wars.

 We must initiate effective arms control negotiations with the Soviet Union.

 We must stop acting as the world's biggest arms merchant.

 We must reform the Pentagon's procurement methods.

 We must begin the conversion to a productive peacetime economy.

But as long as national priorities are defined by the Pentagon and not by the people, the debate will continue. And we will have to defer even longer our vision of full employment, true security, justice and equality.

I will not deceive you by suggesting that we can make our views about the madness of current military policies prevail overnight.

But I will not allow us to delay even a moment in carrying on the work that we must do for ourselves, our children, and our children's children.

Let me tell you exactly what I plan to do.

I will present the Alternative Defense Budget to the 100th Congress. I will make certain its assumptions and implications are explored by the full House of Representatives in debate on the Floor.

I will work to explain the Alternative Defense Budget to the national news media, to specialized journals, and to the American people directly. The counsels of peace will be given their chance to prevail.

And I will keep on confronting the military establishment until it accepts the inevitable: The United States must build a just, compassionate society at home while working unceasingly for world peace.

Let us start right now to work together toward this goal.

Please respond quickly to this letter. Your persona support is a vital tool in building a Congressional coalition in favor of the Alternative Defense Budget.

The Republican National Committee and wealthy Right-wingers in California are all as eager as ever to unseat me in the coming elections. Your contribution to my re-election campaign for $25, $35, $50, $100 or more -- especially at this crucial early date -- will help ensure that my campaign committee has adequate resources to defend me from the Right-wing attack we can expect.

With your gift of $250 or more, you will become a member of the Dellums Leadership Circle, a select group of far-sighted Americans committed to a sound, progressive vision of our future.

By helping me, you will be making sure that the concerns of all progressive Americans, wherever they live and work, are voiced both in crucial Committee meetings and on the House Floor.

I will keep you fully informed of my progress. And I pledge to make your support for sane defense policies more widely known in Congress and throughout Washington. The fight for a rational alternative to military madness remains my unremitting priority.

Washington, D. C.
Wednesday afternoon

Dear Fellow American Citizen,

The United States is deeply involved in a civil war in El Salvador -- a war which has cost over a billion taxpayer dollars, killed 50,000 Salvadorans, and driven over one and a half million more from their homes.

U.S. arms provide firepower in the Salvadoran civil war. U.S. advisors provide training and oversight, and U.S. pilots use infra-red equipment to identify targets.

The war will not stop without your help.

There are three things you can do to help stop the bombing in El Salvador and end U.S. aid to the Nicaraguan Contras. But before telling you what they are, I must make clear how seriously I view this situation.

During my six years on the Foreign Affairs Committee, I have listened to witnesses chronicle our deepening military involvement in Central America. In my Los Angeles County home district, Salvadoran refugees have told me about the high human toll of the war.

Sporadic news reporting fails to convey a full picture of the intensity of the fighting or of its impact:

- Our tax dollars fund an escalating air war which features daily bombings of civilian areas. U.S.-trained pilots fly AC-47 gunships which can put a bullet in every square foot of an area the size of a football field -- within three seconds.

- Since January, the Salvadoran military has been conducting "Operation Phoenix" -- a massive drive to depopulate Guazapa Province, a few miles north of El Salvador's capital city.

- Once, 50,000 people -- mainly farmers -- lived in the area around the Guazapa Volcano. Now, less than 1,500 civilians are estimated to be left. The army has methodically killed livestock, burned fields and fruit trees, and destroyed food stocks -- all violations of the Geneva Accords.

- According to an April 18th report from the Christian Committee for the Displaced of El Salvador, Operation Phoenix has produced 245 civilians murdered, including 5 pregnant women; 1,345 civilians captured; and 13 villages totally destroyed.

On January 13, 1986 the Washington Post (p. A21) reported, "El Salvador's Roman Catholic Archbishop [Arturo Rivera y Damas] said he witnessed a government aerial bombardment of a populated area during his pastoral visit to guerilla-controlled areas this week ... he witnessed the bombing last Monday as residents of the embattled northern Chalatenango Province were singing songs of welcome to him.... Defense officials denied that there was any bombing in the area where Rivera y Damas visited."

The American people and their representatives in Congress must not allow our government to support the bombing of civilians. That is why the U.S. Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador (CISPES) is organizing a National Emergency Campaign to Stop the Bombing. I ask you to support the campaign.

Members of CISPES are working in local communities across the country, informing their neighbors about the threat of full-scale war in Central America -- and asking them to also take action.

With 450 committees in towns and cities in all 50 states, and close working relationships with many other organizations, CISPES is ideally suited to inspire public opposition to the widening U.S. role in Central America. Through films, slide-shows, and public discussions in churches, community centers, and homes, CISPES' volunteer members are showing Americans what is really happening in Central America.

In its 5-1/2 years of existence, CISPES has helped hundreds of thousands of Americans take action for peace -- many for the first time.

 CISPES efforts have motivated thousands to call Members of Congress and to write letters voicing opposition to the U.S. war in Central America.

 CISPES volunteers are breaking through the news media blackout on El Salvador. Op-ed articles, letters to the editor, and newspaper ads are telling the facts. "Stop the Bombing" bus and subway placards are up in urban transit systems across the country.

 CISPES has sent hundreds of thousands of dollars to help meet the basic human needs of those in El Salvador suffering from war. In 1985 alone, CISPES grassroots committees sent over $180,000 in humanitarian aid.

My House and Senate colleagues have access to the same information as do I. "War stories" will not change their votes -- unless they also know that a consensus in opposition to the war is building among their own constituents.

Through organization, that consensus can be built. That is why CISPES is embarking on a two-year educational campaign in 50 key Congressional districts. With trained full-time organizers, CISPES will reach the unconvinced, recruit volunteers and build effective opposition to the bombing.

With generous initial contributions, CISPES has begun the effort -- and already shown results in Congress:

* 47 Members of Congress have co-sponsored a resolution by Rep. John Conyers condemning the continuing human rights violations in El Salvador and calling for a halt to the indiscriminate air and ground attacks on civilians.

* At CISPES' urging, House Ways and Means Chair Dan Rostenkowski wrote letters to our colleagues, David Obey, Chair of the Foreign Operations Appropriations Subcommittee, and Michael Barnes, Chair of the Western Hemisphere Subcomittee of the Foreign Affairs Committee. He voiced opposition to the Administration's supplemental request of $54 million in Central American police training funds.

  The police training measure failed -- thanks in part to the opposition of Rep. Rostenkowski and other members of Congress contacted by CISPES.

* Following Rep. Rostenkowski's letter and thousands of letters from CISPES members, Rep. Barnes held Subcommittee hearings on the human rights situation in El Salvador.

* Rep. Frank Annunzio, a former supporter of military aid to El Salvador, credits CISPES members in his district with changing his point of view about the effects of that aid in El Salvador.

But now our government is escalating the U.S. military role in Central America in ways reminiscent of the expansion of the war in Vietnam -- and we must all redouble our efforts to respond.

Here are the three things YOU can do RIGHT NOW to help STOP THE BOMBING:

1) Write a check to CISPES today for $35 -- or for $25, $50 or $100 -- and send it to us in the enclosed postage-paid envelope.

   The day-to day work of CISPES is carried out by volunteers, and the CISPES staff are paid subsistence wages. But other expenses are unavoidably high. To finance its National Emergency Campaign to Stop the Bombing, CISPES must raise over $45,000 in the next two weeks -- and most of it must come from individuals like yourself.

2) Sign the "Urgent Reply Memorandum" I am enclosing and return it along with your contribution. We need to obtain thousands of signatures as part of CISPES' effort to deliver these pledges by the truckload to Members of Congress. Your representatives must recognize that you want them to act to stop the bombings.

3) If you wish to participate actively in your local community as well, write down your phone number on the enclosed reply memorandum. CISPES staff or other volunteers in your area will contact you with details about grassroots activities in which you may take part.

The Reagan Administration and the Congress are at a crossroads. You can help point out the right path.

One path leads to peace and economic justice. It is the route to the recognition of human rights and the sanctity of human life.

The other path -- the way of death squads and massive bombardment -- leads to large-scale death and destruction. We took that path in Southeast Asia.

Let us not allow our government to lead us down that path again.

Sincerely,

MERVYN M. DYMALLY

Committee on Foreign Affairs

P.S. Your check for $100 or more will be tax-deductible if made payable to the "Institute for Effective Action". Contributions will fund CISPES' ongoing educational work.

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Dear Friend,

I know you share with me a commitment to peace in Central America, and that's why I'm writing you now.

For the twenty-one years I've served as a U.S. Congressman, I've been proud of the desire of most Americans to protect human rights and their willingness to help those less fortunate when help is necessary.

Today our help is desperately needed in El Salvador.

You are no doubt aware of the shocking facts about the human toll of El Salvador's war -- 50,000 persons killed largely by the military and right-wing death squads over the past five years; 500,000 refugees struggling for survival within El Salvador alone.

Now in the Salvadoran countryside, human suffering has taken on a new face -- a face molded, in large part, by the more than $1.7 billion in U.S. aid to El Salvador during the Reagan administration.

And the chief victims are El Salvador's civilians.

Determined to destroy any base for the opposition movement, the Duarte government and the Salvadoran military forces are attacking their own people with unrestrained savagery.

Every day planes bought with U.S. tax dollars fly over countryside considered "enemy territory," machine-gunning, firing mortars and dropping anti-personnel bombs on whatever moves below. Ground forces ruthlessly carry out "search and destroy" missions -- standard procedures ordered by their U.S. advisors.

And every day, caught up in a war not of their making, hundreds of children, women and men are forced to flee their homes in terror of the military's raids or aerial attacks.

A handful of U.S. observers have taken the perilous journey into these war zones. They have brought back bloodchilling testimonies of military massacres.

- Old women unable to run -- mowed down with machine guns.
- Children stabbed, shot and mutilated.
- Babies crying in pain from white phosphorus burns.

NOT PRINTED OR MAILED AT GOVERNMENT EXPENSE

When the Salvadoran army mounts a drive through a village, the people flee to avoid the wrath of the military. These marches -- called guindas (pronounced "GEEN-duz") -- sometimes last for weeks.

The guindas take a shocking toll on children and the elderly. Often safe drinking water and food are simply unavailable. Without adequate shelter, without medicine, without rest, often the very youngest and the very oldest simply die. As one eyewitness said:

> "Sometimes we have suffered for eight days or ten days without water during the different times when we had to be fleeing. I have two children who died and, really, I blame that on the [military] because they didn't have to die....
> "A lot of times when we had to leave, I might be right in the middle of making tortillas or whatever and there was no choice, you just had to leave everything. There have been so many massacres that when you have to leave, you just leave...."

And when the survivors return, bravely determined to rebuild some semblance of a normal life, this is what they find: the military has burned down their houses, killed their chickens and pigs, even razed their newly planted crops. Deprived of their only sources of livelihood and nourishment, they are desperately hungry.

You might well ask: how can this be?

While a wealthy minority controls the bulk of the country's resources, the majority of Salvadorans are trapped in poverty and landlessness. Peaceful attempts at land reform or other democratic change that might ease this chronic impoverishment have been ruthlessly thwarted by the Salvadoran military.

It is not difficult to comprehend why some who oppose the Salvadoran government's war on its own people have fought back in desperation.

But it is difficult to comprehend why the Salvadoran military, in seeking to stop this opposition, is attacking the unarmed population with such ferocious brutality.

In destroying the rural economy and deliberately targeting civilians, Napoleon Duarte's "democratic" government hopes to undercut support for its opposition. But the true sufferers are the innocent.

> "Every time when soldiers have come here they have either burnt the fields or trampled down the new plants, so you never know. These are things they are doing against the civilian population because we are not [guerrillas] here...."

We can no longer avoid addressing what is being done in our name in El Salvador.

On the floor of Congress, I have adamantly opposed military aid to the Salvadoran government. And, though Congress ended up approving additional U.S. military assistance to El Salvador, I believe the American public stands with me in opposing this tragic use of our tax dollars.

I hope that someday our government will correct itself, just as it finally extricated itself from the Vietnam War. But until that happens, we cannot help but shoulder part of the responsibility for our country's role in heightening the conflict in El Salvador -- and for the human suffering this conflict is causing.

I know that you share my concern for the civilian victims of El Salvador. So I am eager to tell you about a way in which we can help, not hurt, the people of El Salvador.

A small and resourceful organization called New El Salvador Today (N.E.S.T.) is working to provide emergency help for the children, women and men living in economic desperation because of El Salvador's war.

N.E.S.T. is a non-profit tax-exempt foundation which is sending humanitarian aid to those whose lives are most affected by the violence of the U.S.-supported war. Already N.E.S.T. has succeeded in channeling over $225,000 to the civilian populations in El Salvador's war zones.

The situation these thousands of families face is truly a life-or-death emergency.

They lack even the most basic requirements for life:

- Because their crops have been destroyed, they need food.
- Because they had to flee for their lives, leaving everything behind, they need clothing.
- Because they have walked for weeks on end, wearing out what footwear they had before, they need shoes.

And, most of all, despite their incredible resilience and determination, they need our immediate help.

To respond to this urgent need, N.E.S.T. is mounting an Emergency Relief Campaign to raise $100,000 for desperately needed food and everyday necessities.

RELEASED

Special Project (1994)

Because the situation is so critical, N.E.S.T. is appealing to individual Americans like you who care enough to support this Emergency Relief Campaign right now.

I am asking you to give whatever you can -- $25, $35, $50 or more. Your contribution will be used immediately to support N.E.S.T.'s efforts to provide clothing and food for the civilian populations impoverished by this violent civil conflict. These supplies will then be transported at great risk -- often on people's backs -- into El Salvador's war zones.

Our government sends billions of dollars to El Salvador that destroy lives. Here is a chance to send something to save human lives.

And it takes so little to help! Simply fill out the enclosed reply form and return it with your tax-deductible contribution -- whatever you can afford to give.

As a supporter of N.E.S.T.'s Emergency Relief Campaign, you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you are helping to redress the destruction being done by the U.S. military aid sent to El Salvador.

On behalf of N.E.S.T. and the people of El Salvador, I thank you.

Sincerely,

John Conyers

Congressman John Conyers, Jr.
1st District, Michigan

P.S. Every day is critical now for the people of war-torn El Salvador. So, please, don't put this letter aside. I urge you to take a moment to send in your contribution to N.E.S.T.'s Emergency Relief Campaign today.

CISPES and the Coalition for a New Foreign Policy

The Coalition for a New Foreign Policy is a lobbying organization made up of various church, "peace" and activist groups with a liberal to leftist outlook. It serves as a coordinating body for grassroots activists to lobby their elected officials, monitoring legislatin, publicizing the bills before Congress, and mobilizing its constituent groups. There is some question as to whether the Coalition and/or its members may be violating IRS tax codes which forbid religious, charitable and educational organizations from devoting more than a small portion of their budgets and programs to lobbying.

CISPES is a member of the Coalition for a New Foreign Policy. In a March 1987 letter sent to "Dear Friends Concerned About El Salvador," the Coalition urged local activists to participate in a "Campaign of Inquiry designed to educate Congress on El Salvador," and "to prod congresspeople to learn more about the reality of El Salvador today and thus lay the foundation for specific legislation for a more positive U.S. policy."

This "positive" work is done in tandem with CISPES' own campaign to influence legislation which would help undermine the government of President Duarte in El Salvador, and brings into question whether the Coalition for a New Foreign Policy is simply a mainstream liberal organization that is being used by CISPES, or is a more radical group with a hidden agenda that is concealing its true intentions from its members and from Congress.

[82]Technically, Simon could be correct about the State Department's claim. The State Department released the FMLN document containing Oxfam's name and contribution, but did not make the accusation itself. The point is moot, however, because Oxfam's August 1980 newsletter said that it gave money to the same group mentioned in the FMLN document. A recently declassified cable from Secretary of State Alexander Haig to the US Embassy in San Salvador showed official U.S. concern with possible funding of the FMLN by Oxfam. However, a letter from Assistant Secretary of State for Congressional Relations Powell Moore to Senator Jeremiah Denton dated 11 March 1982 said that "An extensive search of our files has produced no record of [Oxfam's] involvement [with the FMLN]." Moore was mistaken, because it was the State Department itself which released the captured guerrilla documents a year earlier. Additionally, former Sandinista intelligence officer Miguel Bolanos revealed that Oxfam was running financial support operations for the Sandinistas through Mexico.

The former guerrilla also said that UN High Commission on Refugees (UNHCR) personnel unwittingly help the FMLN by giving the guerrillas refugee documents, and permission to rest at the camps. Medicine and cloth donated by international relief agencies for the refugees are taken from the UN camps into the combat areas for use of the FMLN combatants.

SUBJECT: W/W CASE OF NICHOALS BLAKE AND GRIFFITH DAVIS

REF: MEXICO 8742

1. ON 5-JUN-87 POST WAS VISITED BY JOSE M. RIVERA MALDONADO CONCERNING THE BLAKE/DAVIS CASE. HIS CARD SHOWS HIM A LICENCIADO EN ECONOMIA AND GIVES HIS ADDRESS (BOTH BUSINESS AND HOME) AS 12 CALLE "B" 39-58, ZONA 5, JARDINES DE LA ASUNCION, GUATEMALA, GUATEMALA. HIS TELEPHONE NUMBER IS 500487. HE DESCRIBED HIMSELF AS A MEMBER OF THE HUEHUETENANGO LIONS CLUB AND AS HAVING IMPORTANT POLICE CONTACTS. HE ALSO SAID THAT HE HAD IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT THE WHEREABOUTS OF NICHOLAS BLAKE. HE DESCRIBED HIS EFFORTS AND THOSE OF HIS BROTHER, LUIS MALDONADO, IN LOCATING THE HOUSE WHERE BLAKE WAS LIVING IN MEXICO A YEAR AGO.

2. MALDONADO SAID THAT HE HAD TOLD THE EMBASSY OF THESE SIGHTINGS IN 1986, BUT EMBOFFS HAD NOT SEEN INTERESTING IN PAYING HIM WHAT HE DESCRIBED AS EXPENSES, SO HE HAD NOT BEEN WILLING TO TELL THEM EXACTLY WHERE HIS BROTHER HAD SEEN BLAKE. HIS EXPENSES AMOUNT TO SOME 400 QUETZALES (150 U.S. DOLLARS) AND THE EXPENSES OF HIS BROTHER ARE 3,000 U.S. DOLLARS. FOR THE PAYMENT OF THE ABOVE LISTED EXPENSES PLUS A FURTHER CONSIDERATION HE AND/OR HIS BROTHER WILL BE WILLING TO MAKE MORE TRIPS INTO THE REGION TO AGAIN LOOK FOR BLAKE. HE GAVE HIS BROTHER'S ADDRESS AS FOURTH AVENIDA NORTE PONIENTE, NUMBER 90 IN COMITAN, CHIAPAS, MEXICO. HIS BROTHER WORKS WITH THE POLICIA JUDICIAL DE MEXICO AND ALSO WORKS FOR THE BROTHER OF THE GOVERNOR OF CHIAPAS.

3. MALDONADO SAYS THAT BLAKE WAS LIVING WITH A PRIEST NAMED ALFREDO INDA WHO ALSO USED THE NAME PEDRO HERNANDEZ. WHILE LIVING THERE, HE WAS APPROACHED AND CALLED BY NAME. HE RESPONDED BY SAYING THAT HE DID NOT WANT TO BE IDENTIFIED AND WANTED NO CONTACT WITH THE OUTSIDE. ACCORDING TO MALDONADO, PEOPLE IN THE REGION OF COMITAN AND TRINITARIA MOVE FREELY ACROSS THE BORDER BETWEEN MEXICO AND GUATEMALA WITHOUT INSPECTION BY BORDER CROSSING AGENTS, AND BLAKE AND DAVIS COULD HAVE BEEN DOING THE SAME.

3. COMMENT. THIS CLAIM WAS REPORTED IN REFTEL AND APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN WELL INVESTIGATED BY EMBASSY MEXICO OVER A YEAR AGO. MR. MALDONADO INSISTS THAT FOR THE RIGHT PRICE HE CAN PRODUCE PEOPLE WHO CLAIM TO HAVE SEEN NICHOLAS BLAKE. WHETHER HE COULD PRODUCE PEOPLE WHO HAVE INDEED SEEN NICHOLAS BLAKE IS ANOTHER MATTER. PIEDRA

TAGS: CS, XR, OVIP (HABIB, PHILIP C.)
SUBJECT: AMB HABIB'S MEETING WITH PRESIDENT ARIAS

2. SUMMARY: ON JUNE 8, AMB. HABIB ASSURED PRESIDENT ARIAS THAT THE USG WELCOMED HIS PLAN TO PUSH THE SANDINISTAS TO THE WALL ON DEMOCRATIZATION BUT THAT HIS PLAN NEEDED TO BE IMPROVED SO THAT IF THE SANDINISTAS ACCEPTED IT, WE COULD ALL LIVE WITH IT. WE WERE LOOKING FOR FORMULAS FOR ADDRESSING ISSUES SUCH AS A CEASE-FIRE, A CESSATION OF MILITARY AID TO IRREGULAR FORCES, AMNESTY, ELECTIONS, AND INCLUSION OF THE RESISTANCE IN THE DIALOGUE THAT REQUIRED MINIMAL CHANGE TO THE LANGUAGE OF THE PROPOSALS. HE SUGGESTED THAT THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION COMMISSION DESCRIBED IN THE PROPOSALS BE CHARGED WITH DEALING WITH SOME OF THESE ISSUES. HABIB ALSO NOTED THAT THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES MUST DEVELOP THEIR TACTICS FOR THE SUMMIT SO THAT THEY COULD FOCUS ON THE POLITICAL ELEMENTS OF THE PROPOSALS AND FORCE THE SANDINISTAS TO REVEAL THEIR POSITION. ARIAS WAS CONCERNED THAT THE USG STILL DID NOT SEE THE VIRTUE OF HIS PROPOSALS AND HOW THEY COULD EXPOSE THE SANDINISTAS TO THE WORLD. HE WAS FRUSTRATED THAT THE USG AND THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES COULD LET THE SANDINISTAS OFF THE HOOK. IF THE PLAN FAILED BECAUSE EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS WERE DEMANDING TOO MANY CHANGES, ONLY CONTADORA AND NICARAGUA WOULD GAIN. HE WANTED A 4-1 OUTCOME WHICH WOULD EXPOSE THE SANDINISTAS IMMEDIATELY OR A 5-0 WHICH WOULD EXPOSE THEM IN 60 DAYS WHEN THEY HAD FAILED TO HONOR THE AGREEMENT. THIS OUTCOME WOULD ALSO KILL CONTADORA. HE DID AGREE THAT THE DEMOCRACIES HAD LEGITIMATE OBSERVATIONS AND SAID HE WOULD ACCEPT SOME CHANGES IN HIS PROPOSALS. HE SAID THAT EXPANDING THE ROLE OF THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION COMMISSION MIGHT ADDRESS SEVERAL OF THE PROBLEMS HABIB NOTED. HE SAID THAT HE HAD ASKED EUROPEAN LEADERS IF THEY WOULD PARTICIPATE ON THE FOLLOW-UP COMMISSION, AND THEY HAD RESPONDED AFFIRMATIVELY. HABIB SUGGESTED THAT THE OAS BE USED TO STAFF THE COMMISSION. ARIAS AGREED WITH HABIB'S SUGGESTION TO DEVELOP TACTICS FOR THE SUMMIT. HE SAID THAT CEREZO WOULD MAKE THE ARIAS PROPOSALS THE AGENDA AT THE SUMMIT. CEREZO, PRESSURED BY MEXICO, WAS INSISTING THAT ONE MEMBER EACH OF THE CONTADORA AND SUPPORT GROUP BE OBSERVERS AT THE SUMMIT. HABIB NOTED THIS WAS A BAD IDEA. ARIAS AGREED TO MEET AGAIN WITH HABIB AT THE END OF HIS CURRENT VISIT TO THE REGION. END SUMMARY.

3. ON JUNE 8, AMB HABIB, CHARGE MELTON, AND DCM STEWART MET WITH COSTA RICAN PRESIDENT ARIAS, FOREIGN MINISTER MADRIGAL, AND RODRIGO ARIAS TO DISCUSS THE NEGOTIATING TRACK. HABIB OPENED BY NOTING THAT HE HAD MET EARLIER THAT DAY WITH THREE LEADERS OF THE NICARAGUAN RESISTANCE DIRECTORATE. HE SAID THAT THESE WERE RESPECTABLE, RESPONSIBLE PEOPLE, AND THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT TO TAKE THEIR VIEWS INTO ACCOUNT. HE ADDED THAT THEY EXPECTED A LOT FROM COSTA RICA WITH REGARD TO THE UPCOMING CENTRAL AMERICAN SUMMIT IN GUATEMALA. ARIAS RESPONDED THAT HE WAS INTERESTED IN TALKING WITH THE RESISTANCE LEADERS.

4. ARIAS ADVISED HABIB THAT HE INTENDED TO VISIT THE UNITED STATES AT THE REQUEST OF SENATOR LUGAR TO GIVE A SPEECH IN INDIANAPOLIS. HE WANTED TO VISIT WASHINGTON ON HIS WAY BACK TO COSTA RICA, AND HE HAD ASKED AMB GUIDO FERNANDEZ TO SET UP AN APPOINTMENT WITH VICE PRESIDENT BUSH ON JUNE 18. HE SUGGESTED THAT AMB HABIB MEET WITH HIM AT THAT TIME.

5. HABIB ASSURED ARIAS THAT THE UNITED STATES SUPPORTED HIS PLAN IN PRINCIPLE. HE NOTED THAT THERE WERE SOME IN WASHINGTON WHO WERE CALLING ON THE PRESIDENT TO FIRE HIM BECAUSE HE WAS DEALING SERIOUSLY WITH ARIAS BUT THEY DID NOT SPEAK FOR THE ADMINISTRATION. THE USG DID WANT TO SEE NICARAGUA PUT TO THE TEST ON DEMOCRATIZATION AS ARIAS PROPOSED. HE RECALLED WHAT SECRETARY SHULTZ HAD TOLD MADRIGAL IN APRIL: THE ARIAS PROPOSALS NEEDED TO BE IMPROVED SO THAT IF THEY WERE IMPLEMENTED, WE ALL COULD LIVE WITH THEM. HABIB NOTED THAT IT WAS

IMPORTANT THAT THE PROPOSALS WERE AN INDIVISIBLE PACKAGE. THE DEMOCRATIZATION ELEMENTS WERE THE CORE OF THE PROPOSALS. WE UNDERSTOOD ARIAS' RELUCTANCE TO MAKE CHANGES IN THE PROPOSALS, AND WE WERE LOOKING FOR FORMULAS THAT WOULD REQUIRE MINIMAL REVISION TO THE TEXT AND YET MEET THE NEED FOR IMPROVEMENT. IN MANY CASES, IT WAS POSSIBLE TO ADDRESS OUR CONCERNS WITHOUT CHANGING THE LANGUAGE BUT BY MORE CAREFULLY DEFINING AND INTERPRETING THE TERMS. WITHOUT SUCH A CLEAR DEFINITION, THE PROPOSALS WOULD LEAD TO MISUNDERSTANDINGS AND CREATE CONFUSION. HABIB ASKED ABOUT THE CEASE-FIRE: WHAT WERE THE TERMS? WHO WOULD DETERMINE THE TERMS? HE ASKED ABOUT THE TIMING OF THE SUSPENSION OF MILITARY AID TO IRREGULAR FORCES, NOTING THAT IT HAD TO BE LINKED WITH THE CEASE-FIRE OR THOSE FORCES WOULD BE LEFT EXPOSED. HE POINTED OUT THAT THE TERMS OF THE AMNESTY MUST BE WORKED OUT SO THAT THEY WOULD BE ACCEPTABLE TO ALL. IT WAS IMPORTANT TO SPECIFY AT WHAT POINT THE RESISTANCE WOULD BE INCLUDED IN THE DIALOGUE PROCESS. HABIB STRESSED THAT WE WANTED THE PLAN TO SUCCEED AND THAT WE WERE LOOKING FOR WAYS TO HARMONIZE THE VIEWS OF THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES, THE RESISTANCE, AND THE USG.

6. HABIB NOTED THAT GUATEMALAN PRESIDENT CEREZO HAD SUGGESTED EXPANDING THE ROLE OF THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION COMMISSION TO INCLUDE THE ISSUES OF A CEASE-FIRE AND A POLITICAL OPENING. ARIAS RESPONDED THAT THIS WAS THE MAIN OBJECTIVE OF THE COMMISSION. HABIB URGED THAT THE COMMISSION ALSO BE GIVEN THE ISSUE OF DETERMINING THE TIMING OF ELECTIONS. HE EXPLAINED THAT IT WAS ENTIRELY APPROPRIATE THAT THE PARTIES IN THE DIALOGUE SHOULD DECIDE WHEN ELECTIONS COULD TAKE PLACE, AND THIS WAS A FORMULA FOR MAKING POSSIBLE ELECTIONS IN NICARAGUA BEFORE 1990 WITHOUT QUESTIONING THE LEGITIMACY OF THE GOVERNMENT WHICH ARIAS HAD SAID HE WISHED TO AVOID.

7. HABIB SUGGESTED THAT ARIAS BEGIN CONSULTING WITH THE OTHER THREE DEMOCRACIES TO DETERMINE THEIR TACTICS FOR THE SUMMIT. HE RECALLED THAT DURING THEIR LAST MEETING IN APRIL ARIAS HAD SAID IT WAS ESSENTIAL THAT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS BE THE AGENDA. ARIAS REPLIED THAT CEREZO HAD ASSURED HIM THAT HIS PROPOSALS WOULD BE THE ONLY THING ON THE AGENDA. MADRIGAL ADDED THAT THE GUATEMALAN INVITATION TO THE SUMMIT STATED CLEARLY THAT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS WERE TO BE THE FIRST ITEM ON THE AGENDA. HABIB SAID THAT WE HAD RECEIVED VARIOUS REPORTS ABOUT WHAT THE SANDINISTAS WOULD DO AT THE SUMMIT. THEY MAY INTRODUCE THEIR OWN PLAN, AS COMANDANTE ARCE HAD INDICATED. THEY MAY JUST SIT BACK AND WAIT FOR THE DEMOCRACIES TO DISAGREE. HABIB STRESSED THAT THE

DEMOCRACIES SHOULD KEEP THE DISCUSSION FOCUSED ON THE POLITICAL ELEMENTS AND FORCE THE SANDINISTAS TO RESPOND. THIS REQUIRES THAT THEY COORDINATE SO THAT THEY KNOW WHAT TO DO AND WHEN TO DO IT. THEY MUST NOT LET THE SANDINISTAS DIVIDE THEM OR DRAG OUT THE PROCESS.

8. ARIAS, VISIBLY NERVOUS AND UNCOMFORTABLE, REPLIED THAT IT SEEMED THAT "WE ARE WHERE WE STARTED . . . BACK TO SQUARE ONE." HE SAID THAT THE USG HAD THE SAME DOUBTS AS BEFORE, DESPITE ALL HIS EFFORTS TO CONVINCE US TO PUT THE EMPHASIS ON THE REAL ISSUE: DEMOCRACY. HABIB SAID THAT WE KEPT COMING BACK TO THESE ISSUES BECAUSE THEY WERE REAL AND WOULD NOT GO AWAY; THEY NEEDED TO BE ADDRESSED. ARIAS STATED THAT HE WAS WORRIED ABOUT THIS, AND HE ASKED WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF THE INITIATIVE FAILED. HABIB QUESTIONED WHAT HE MEANT BY FAILURE. WE WOULD WELCOME A GOOD AGREEMENT, BUT EVEN IF NO AGREEMENT RESULTED, THE INITIATIVE COULD STILL BE USEFUL IN CLEARLY ESTABLISHING THE POSITIONS OF THE VARIOUS PARTIES. ARIAS RESPONDED THAT NICARAGUA WAS A VITAL INTEREST TO COSTA RICA. HABIB REPLIED THAT THE USG ALSO HAD VITAL INTERESTS THERE. ARIAS SAID THAT THE SITUATION OF THE UNITED STATES, A SUPERPOWER, WAS QUITE DIFFERENT FROM THAT OF COSTA RICA.

9. AT THIS POINT, ARIAS WAS CALLED TO THE PHONE, AND WHEN HE RETURNED HE BEGAN TO COMPLAIN THAT HE WAS BEING CRITICIZED FOR SPENDING TOO MUCH TIME ON

FOREIGN AFFAIRS. PEOPLE WERE CALLING ON HIM TO DEVOTE HIS ENERGIES TO SOCIAL PROBLEMS AND THE ECONOMY. HE ASSERTED THAT HE HAD NEVER EXPECTED FOREIGN AFFAIRS TO ABSORB SO MUCH OF HIS TIME AND HE WAS TIRED OF IT. HE THEN DESCRIBED HIS TRIP TO EUROPE. EXCEPT FOR MARGARET THATCHER (WHO HE DESCRIBED AS WANTING TO SEND THE FLEET AND ARMY TO MANAGUA), ALL THE LEADERS OF EUROPE SUPPORTED HIS PROPOSALS. HE HOPED THE EC WOULD FORMALLY ENDORSE HIS PROPOSALS BEFORE THE GUATEMALA SUMMIT. THE EUROPEAN LEADERS HAD ALSO PLEDGED TO RAISE HIS PROPOSALS INFORMALLY AT THE VENICE SUMMIT. HABIB ASSURED ARIAS THAT THE PRESIDENT AND SECRETARY SHULTZ ALSO WELCOMED HIS PROPOSALS, BUT WANTED THEM IMPROVED AND THE TERMS TO BE DEFINED.

10. ARIAS EMPHASIZED THAT COSTA RICA WOULD DO ALL IT COULD TO MAKE THE INITIATIVE SUCCEED. HE WAS SENDING MADRIGAL TO THE OTHER FOUR COUNTRIES, INCLUDING NICARAGUA. ARIAS THEN RETURNED TO HIS QUESTION ABOUT WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF THE INITIATIVE FAILED, AND HE ASKED WHO WOULD WIN. HE ANSWERED HIS OWN QUESTION STATING THAT CONTADORA AND NICARAGUA WOULD BE THE WINNERS IF IT FAILED BECAUSE EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS DEMANDED CHANGES THAT THE OTHERS COULD NOT ACCEPT. HE AGAIN DISPLAYED HIS FRUSTRATION, STATING THAT HE DID NOT WANT TO SPEND MUCH MORE TIME ON THE NEGOTIATIONS. AT THE FEBRUARY 15 SUMMIT, HE HAD WANTED THE NEXT MEETING HELD IN 15 DAYS. HE HAD DEFERRED TO HONDURAN PRESIDENT AZCONA WHO ASKED FOR THREE MONTHS IN WHICH TIME THE RESISTANCE WOULD LEAVE HONDURAS. HE NOTED THAT THE RESISTANCE WERE STILL THERE. HABIB COMMENTED THAT ONLY A FEW WERE LEFT; MOST WERE NOW INSIDE NICARAGUA. ARIAS SAID THAT IF THERE WERE NO AGREEMENT AT THE SUMMIT AND THERE WAS REASON TO HOLD A SECOND MEETING, HE WOULD INSIST THAT IT BE HELD QUICKLY, IN JUST A FEW WEEKS. HABIB SAID THAT THIS WAS ABSOLUTELY CORRECT: THE PROCESS MUST NOT DRAG OUT.

11. ARIAS THEN OUTLINED HIS SCENARIOS FOR THE SUMMIT. THE BEST OUTCOME WAS 4-1, WITH 5-0 SECOND BEST. HABIB REPLIED THAT 5-0 WOULD BE BEST IF IT WERE AN ACCEPTABLE AGREEMENT. ARIAS SAID A 5-0 WOULD BE PERFECT, BUT HE EXPLAINED THAT HIS PURPOSE WAS TO EXPOSE THE SANDINISTAS TO THE WORLD. A 4-1 WOULD ACCOMPLISH THIS IMMEDIATELY. IF THE SANDINISTAS SIGNED, THEY WOULD CERTAINLY RENEGE, SO THEN THEY WOULD BE EXPOSED IN 60 DAYS. HE EXPLAINED THAT IT WOULD BE IMPOSSIBLE FOR THE SANDINISTAS TO LIVE UP TO THE TERMS, FOR IF THEY ALLOWED A POLITICAL OPENING, SUCH AS LETTING CARDINAL OBANDO ON TELEVISION OR RADIO CATOLICA, IT WOULD BE THE BEGINNING OF THE END

12. HABIB ASSURED ARIAS THAT WE UNDERSTOOD EXACTLY HIS OBJECTIVE, BUT HE STRESSED THAT IN ORDER TO ACCOMPLISH IT, HE NEEDED TO DEFINE HIS PROPOSALS. HE REMARKED THAT THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES RESENTED THAT ARIAS HAS MADE HIS PROPOSALS PUBLIC WITHOUT TAKING THEIR VIEWS INTO ACCOUNT. HE RECALLED THAT ARIAS HAD SAID THAT HE WOULD ACCEPT CHANGES ON THE SECURITY ASPECTS OF THE PROPOSALS, ALTHOUGH NOT ON THE POLITICAL ELEMENTS. ARIAS REPLIED THAT HE WAS PREPARED TO MAKE CHANGES AND ACCEPTED THAT THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES HAD LEGITIMATE OBSERVATIONS. HE THEN REVISITED THE MATTER OF THE ROLE OF THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION COMMISSION AND EXPLAINED THAT ITS MAIN PURPOSE WAS TO ARRANGE A CEASE-FIRE AND POLITICAL OPENING. HABIB EXPLAINED THAT THIS WAS PRECISELY THE TYPE OF DEFINITION HE WAS SEEKING.

13. ARIAS THEN TRIED TO EXPLAIN THE ANALYSIS UPON WHICH HIS PROPOSALS WERE BASED. HE SAID THAT THE ESSENCE OF THE SANDINISTAS' SUPPORT AROUND THE WORLD WAS THEIR AMBIGUITY. THEY RECEIVED SUPPORT FROM THE WESTERN DEMOCRACIES AND FROM THE SOVIETS. MEANWHILE, THE USG WAS ISOLATED. HELMUT KOHL HAD ASKED HIM HOW HE COULD EXPECT GERMANY TO CRITICIZE THE SANDINISTAS WHILE US AGGRESSION CONTINUED. ARIAS INSISTED THAT HIS PLAN WOULD RESOLVE THIS AMBIGUITY BY EXPOSING THE SANDINISTAS TO THE WORLD AND ROBBING THEM OF THEIR EXCUSES.

14. ARIAS SAID THAT HE HAD ASKED EUROPEAN LEADERS IF THEY WOULD BE WILLING TO SERVE ON THE FOLLOW-UP COMMISSION DESCRIBED IN HIS PROPOSALS. THEY HAD RESPONDED AFFIRMATIVELY. HABIB SUGGESTED THAT IT WOULD BE WISER TO HAVE THE OAS PERFORM THE VERIFICATION. ARIAS ASKED ABOUT USING PEREZ DE CUELLAR, NOTING THAT WAS A TRUE DEMOCRAT AND NO FRIEND OF THE SANDINISTAS. HABIB REPLIED THAT THE USG HAD THE HIGHEST REGARD FOR PEREZ DE CUELLAR, BUT THAT THE UN SYSTEM, WITH ITS VETO IN THE SECURITY COUNCIL, WAS NOT THE APPROPRIATE BODY. IT WOULD BE BETTER TO KEEP IT IN THE OAS. IF THE OAS WANTED TO INVITE IN CERTAIN EUROPEANS, THAT MIGHT BE POSSIBLE. ARIAS SUGGESTED GERMANY AND BELGIUM. HABIB RESPONDED THAT GERMANY WOULD BE RELUCTANT: PORTUGAL AND SPAIN WOULD BE BETTER. ARIAS SAID PORTUGAL WOULD BE EXCELLENT, AS MARIO SUAREZ WAS THE FIRST EUROPEAN LEADER TO CRITICIZE THE SANDINISTAS.

15. ARIAS RETURNED TO THE NEED FOR HIS PLAN TO SUCCEED LEST CONTADORA REEMERGE. HABIB NOTED THAT MEXICO DID NOT LIKE HIS PROPOSALS AS THEY FOCUSED ON DEMOCRACY. HE NOTED THAT MEXICO WAS QUIET, BUT WAS WORKING ON CEREZO. ARIAS SAID THE MEXICANS WERE PRAYING THAT NO AGREEMENT IS REACHED AT THE SUMMIT. HE STATED THAT CEREZO HAD PUBLICLY SAID THAT HE HAD NO OBJECTIONS TO THE PROPOSALS. HABIB REMARKED THAT CEREZO DID WANT SOME POINTS DEFINED. HABIB POINTED OUT THAT PRESIDENT DUARTE WAS THE MOST CONCERNED BY THE PROPOSALS: HE WAS UNDER ATTACK FROM BOTH THE RIGHT AND LEFT AND NEEDED TO BE VERY CAUTIOUS. ARIAS ACKNOWLEDGED THAT DUARTE WAS IN A DIFFICULT SITUATION AND SAID HE WOULD LIKE TO HELP HIM. HABIB SAID THAT THE FMLN'S REJECTION OF THE PROPOSALS MIGHT MAKE IT EASIER FOR DUARTE TO DEAL WITH THE PROPOSALS.

16. ARIAS AGAIN BECAME AGITATED AS HE DESCRIBED HOW IN THE PAST THE USG HAD USED COSTA RICA DELIBERATELY TO OBSTRUCT CONTADORA NEGOTIATIONS USING MANY OF THE SAME ARGUMENTS IT WAS USING NOW ABOUT HIS PROPOSALS. HE STRESSED THAT HE DID NOT WANT TO BE USED IN THAT WAY. HE ASSERTED THAT IF HIS FRIENDS DID THAT TO HIM AT THE SUMMIT, HE WOULD WALK AWAY. HE WAS TIRED OF THE WHOLE PROBLEM; THE NEGOTIATIONS COULD RETURN TO CONTADORA AND THE USG COULD INVADE NICARAGUA. HE PLEADED THAT THE SANDINISTAS BE PUT TO THE TEST AND ALLOWED TO FAIL. THEY COULD THEN BE PUT UNDER PRESSURE, BUT NOT PRESSURE IN THE FORM OF THE RESISTANCE. HE ASKED WHAT HIS SITUATION WOULD BE TODAY IF HE HAD LISTENED TO THE USG AND ALLOWED THE RESISTANCE TO USE COSTA RICAN TERRITORY. HE WOULD BE HEARING ASST. SEC. ABRAMS, EX-AMB. TAMBS, AND RICHARD SECORD TELL IT TO THE WORLD. HOW WOULD HE EXPLAIN

THIS TO FELIPE GONZALEZ? HABIB RESPONDED THAT EXPLAINING THINGS TO GONZALEZ WAS NOT IMPORTANT; THE ONLY ONES THAT WERE REALLY IMPORTANT WERE THE CENTRAL AMERICANS THEMSELVES AND THE USG. THE EUROPEANS WERE NOT CONCERNED ABOUT CENTRAL AMERICA, AND ARIAS SHOULD CARE FIRST ABOUT WHAT HIS NEIGHBORS AND WE THOUGHT.

17. MADRIGAL SAID THAT HE UNDERSTOOD THAT THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES HAD SOME OF THE SAME CONCERNS AS THE USG. HE AGREED THAT THERE WAS A NEED TO HAVE SOME SYSTEM TO WORK OUT THE TERMS OF A CEASE-FIRE. HABIB EMPHASIZED THAT THERE COULD BE NO SUSPENSION OF MILITARY AID TO THE RESISTANCE UNTIL THERE WAS A CEASE-FIRE ACCEPTABLE TO THE CONTRAS. HABIB REFERRED TO LANGUAGE IN THE REVISED DRAFT ABOUT THE SUSPENSION OF AID, AND ARIAS BECAME AGITATED THAT THE USG HAD A REVISED VERSION. MADRIGAL STATED EMPHATICALLY THAT THE REVISED VERSION WAS ONLY A WORKING DRAFT: IT HAD NOT BEEN CLEARED BY HIM OR ARIAS AND HAD NO OFFICIAL STANDING. HABIB NOTED THAT IF THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION COMMISSION COULD WORK OUT THE TERMS OF AN AGREED CEASE-FIRE, IT COULD BE POSSIBLE TO HAVE A SIMULTANEOUS SUSPENSION OF MILITARY AID. ARIAS RESPONDED "THAT IS QUITE OBVIOUS."

18. ARIAS REMARKED THAT PERHAPS THE NATIONAL COMMISSION COULD BE GIVEN MORE FUNCTIONS TO ADDRESS THE CONCERNS HABIB HAD RAISED. HABIB REMARKED THAT THIS WAS A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION. THIS WAS

JUST THE TYPE OF DEFINITION WHICH WE WERE SEEKING. HABIB ADDED THAT IT WAS NECESSARY TO SPECIFY ALSO AT WHAT POINT THE RESISTANCE WOULD JOIN IN THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION PROCESS. HE POINTED OUT THAT THE RESISTANCE WAS PREPARED TO BE FLEXIBLE ABOUT HOW THIS WAS DONE. ARIAS RESPONDED THAT ANYONE WHO WANTED TO SHOULD BE ALLOWED TO RETURN. HE EXPECTED RESISTANCE LEADERS ALFREDO CESAR AND ALFONSO ROBELO TO RETURN IF AN AGREEMENT WAS REACHED. HE ADDED THAT HE DID NOT TRUST THE SANDINISTAS, AND HE WOULD EXPECT THEM TO NOT ALLOW SOME BACK IN, SUCH AS ADOLFO CALERO. THEY WOULD THUS FAIL THIS TEST, AS THEY WOULD PROBABLY FLUNK THE TEST ON PRESS FREEDOM. THIS WOULD BE EXACTLY WHAT HE WANTED, AS IT WOULD EXPOSE THE SANDINISTAS.

19. ARIAS SAID THAT IF THE SANDINISTAS WERE EVER GOING TO ACCEPT HIS PROPOSALS, NOW WAS THE TIME. THEY WERE UNDER SEVERE ECONOMIC PRESSURE AND NEEDED SOME RELIEF. HABIB REITERATED THE NEED TO KEEP THE FOCUS ON DEMOCRACY. ARIAS SAID THAT IF THE SUMMIT PRODUCED A 4-1 OR A 5-#, IT WOULD MEAN THE DEATH OF CONTADORA. HABIB NOTED THAT THE SANDINISTAS WERE TALKING ABOUT PUSHING THE ARIAS PROPOSALS BACK INTO CONTADORA. ARIAS RESPONDED THAT HE HAD MADE CLEAR TO CEREZO THAT HE DID NOT WANT CONTADORA INVOLVED AT THE SUMMIT. CEREZO HAD NEVERTHELESS INSISTED THAT ONE MEMBER OF THE CONTADORA GROUP AND ONE OF THE SUPPORT GROUP BE PRESENT. HABIB EXPRESSED HIS DISMAY AND WARNED THAT THIS WAS A SERIOUS MISTAKE. ARIAS EXPLAINED THAT THEY WOULD ONLY ATTEND AS OBSERVERS; THEY COULD POSSIBLY ATTEND A LUNCH BUT NOT THE FORMAL SESSIONS. HE NOTED THAT CEREZO WAS UNDER PRESSURE FROM MEXICO IN THIS REGARD.

20. ARIAS THEN DESCRIBED WHAT HE EXPECTED TO BE THE FUTURE OF NICARAGUA. UNDER THE SANDINISTAS, IT WOULD CONTINUE ITS DOWNWARD SPIRAL, JUST AS OTHER MARXIST COUNTRIES SUCH AS VIETNAM, ANGOLA AND MOZAMBIQUE. IT WOULD BECOME THE ETHIOPIA OF CENTRAL AMERICA. HABIB WARNED THAT NICARAGUA COULD STILL BE A PROBLEM FOR ITS NEIGHBORS, POINTING OUT THAT THERE WERE THOUSANDS OF CUBAN SOLDIERS IN ANGOLA AND ETHIOPIA. ARIAS SAID HE DID NOT SEE HOW THE SANDINISTAS COULD CHANGE. THE HARDLINERS WOULD BLOCK ANY OPENING; HISTORY HAD SHOWN, AS IN THE CASE OF PORTUGAL, THAT A TRUE OPENING WOULD LEAD TO THE REVERSAL OF THE REVOLUTIONARY PROCESS. ARIAS REPEATED ONCE AGAIN HIS DESIRE TO EXPOSE THE SANDINISTAS TO THE OAS, TO PEREZ DE CUELLAR, AND TO EUROPE. HABIB SAID HE SHARED THIS GOAL BUT THAT THE PROPOSALS NEEDED TO BE IMPROVED TO ACCOMPLISH IT. ARIAS, IN BETTER SPIRITS BY THIS POINT, JOKED THAT HABIB WANTED HIM TO WRITE AN ENCYCLOPEDIA. HIS GOAL

WAS TO HAVE SOMETHING SHORT AND SIMPLE THAT EVERYONE COULD UNDERSTAND.

21. HABIB NOTED THAT HE WAS PREPARED TO HELP HARMONIZE THE VIEWS OF THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES. HE WOULD DISCUSS THE SITUATION WITH THE OTHER THREE PRESIDENTS AND, IF ARIAS THOUGHT IT USEFUL, RETURN AT THE END OF HIS TRIP TO REVIEW THE SITUATION. ARIAS EXPRESSED HIS APPRECIATION FOR HABIB'S EFFORTS AND AGREED TO RECEIVE HIM ON THURSDAY, JUNE 11.

22. AT THE END OF THE MEETING, ARIAS TOOK HABIB ASIDE FOR A PRIVATE CONVERSATION. HE AGREED WITH HABIB ON THE NEED FOR THE FOUR TO DEVELOP TACTICS WHICH FORCED THE SANDINISTAS TO PUT FORWARD THEIR POSITION ON THE POLITICAL ELEMENTS AT THE SUMMIT AND URGED HABIB TO DISCUSS THIS WITH THE OTHERS.

23. COMMENT: THE TONE OF THE MEETING FLUCTUATED REPEATEDLY FROM WARM AND CORDIAL TO TENSE. ARIAS IS WELL AWARE THAT HIS PROPOSALS MAY TURN OUT TO BE A DISASTER IF THE DEMOCRACIES ARE NOT SUBSTANTIALLY UNITED. HE IS FRUSTRATED THAT HE CANNOT MAKE US SEE THE LIGHT, BUT HE MAY BE BEGINNING TO REALIZE THAT HE WILL HAVE TO BE MORE FLEXIBLE AND WORK WITH US AND THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES TO PREVENT HIS WORST-CASE SCENARIO. HIS WILLINGNESS TO ACCEPT AN EXPANDED ROLE ON SECURITY ISSUES FOR THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION COMMISSION COULD BE HELPFUL. NEVERTHELESS, ARIAS STILL HAS FAR TO GO BEFORE HE WILL BE ABLE TO

E.O. 12356: N/A
SUBJECT: REMARKS OF AMBASSADOR AT LARGE PHILIP HABIB
- IN SAN JOSE 6/8/87

1. AFTER MEETING WITH GOCR PRESIDENT OSCAR ARIAS 6/8/87, U.S. AMBASSADOR-AT-LARGE PHILIP HABIB SPOKE BRIEFLY TO LOCAL PRESS (INCLUDING LOCAL REPS FOR NBC, AP, UPI, DPA, PRENSA LATINA, AND TASS.) PRESIDENT ARIAS SPOKE FIRST, SUMMING UP THE TWO-AND-A HALF HOUR CONVERSATION; THEN AMB. HABIB RESPONDED TO TWO QUESTIONS.

2. TRANSCRIPT FOLLOWS:

PRESIDENT ARIAS: ONCE AGAIN I'D LIKE TO TELL YOU THAT WE HAVE HAD A MEETING IN WHICH WE TALKED ABOUT THE TOPIC OF CENTRAL AMERICA. I INFORMED MR. HABIB ABOUT THE RESULTS OF OUR RECENT VISIT TO EUROPE, ABOUT THE SUPPORT THE EEC HAS OFFERED ME, AND ABOUT THE NEED I PERCEIVE THAT IN THE NEXT SUMMIT MEETING IN GUATEMALA, THAT WE ARRIVE AT AN ACCORD WHICH WILL BRING PEACE TO CENTRAL AMERICA--THE PEACE SO STRONGLY DESIRED BY THE PEOPLES OF CENTRAL AMERICA.

WE HAVE SPOKEN ABOUT THE POSSIBILITY OF ARRIVING AT SUCH AN ACCORD. HE, ONCE AGAIN, HAS COME FIRST TO COSTA RICA. IN DAYS TO COME HE'LL VISIT EL SALVADOR, GUATEMALA AND HONDURAS. HE HAS PROMISED, IF IT'S NECESSARYAND IF I THINK IT CORRECT, TO RETURN NEXT THURSDAY TO INFORM ME ABOUT THE RESULTS OF HIS CONVERSATIONS WITH PRESIDENTS CEREZO, AZCONA AND DUARTE.

I ALSO INFORMED HIM OF OUR DESIRE THAT ALL POSSIBLE OBSTACLES CAN BE OVERCOME. AND AS I'VE JUST TOLD YOU, FONMIN RODRIGO MADRIGAL WILL BE TRAVELLING IN THE NEXT FEW DAYS TO THE CENAM NATIONS TO TRY TO CLEAR THE WAY FOR THE GUATEMALA MEETING.

Q AND A WITH AMB. HABIB:

- Q: MR. HABIB, WHAT DO YOU EXPECT FROM THE GUATEMALA MEETING? DO YOU BELIEVE IT WILL BE A SUCCESS?

- A: IT'S QUITE OBVIOUS THAT I HAVE COME TO COSTA RICA NOW, AND I WILL BE GOING TO THE NEIGHBORING DEMOCRACIES, TO DISCUSS THE GENERAL SITUATION IN CENTRAL AMERICA AND THE PEACE PROCESS, WHICH IS NOW CENTERED AROUND THE PROPOSALS MADE BY PRESIDENT ARIAS, WHICH WILL BE DISCUSSED IN THE MEETING IN GUATEMALA.

IT IS EQUALLY, AS YOU KNOW, MY CHARACTER NOT TO TELL YOU IN DETAIL WHAT I THINK, WHAT I'VE DISCUSSED, EXCEPT TO SAY THAT THIS IS JUST ONE MORE IN A LONG SERIES OF CONSULTATIONS, WHICH I HAVE HAD WITH PRESIDENT ARIAS AND WITH THE OTHER PRESIDENTS IN THE NEIGHBORING DEMOCRACIES.

AS YOU ALL KNOW, THE UNITED STATES IS ALSO EQUALLY INTERESTED IN THE SEARCH FOR A PEACEFUL SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEMS. THIS IS NOW IN THE HANDS OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS, WHO WILL BE MEETING SOON.

WE SUPPORT THE PROCESS. WE SUPPORT THE SEARCH FOR A PEACEFUL RESOLUTION OF THESE ISSUES. WE HAVE WELCOMED THE PROPOSALS MADE BY PRESIDENT ARIAS IN THIS REGARD. AND IT NOW BECOMES A TEST FOR THE PRESIDENTS IN CENTRAL AMERICA TO MEET, AND LET US SEE WHERE THEY COME OUT. OTHER THAN THAT I DO NOT INTEND TO TAKE ANY OF YOUR QUESTIONS. THE PRESIDENT HAS INDICATED THAT I AM GOING ON TO SOME TO THE OTHER COUNTRIES. I MAY COME BACK IF IT'S ACCEPTABLE TO HIM.

WE WILL CONTINUE WHILE I CHARACTERIZE AS THESE NORMAL CONSULTATIONS, WHICH HAVE BEEN GOING ON FOR MORE THAN A YEAR. THANK YOU VERY MUCH, MR. PRESIDENT.

- Q: DID YOU HAVE TALKS TODAY WITH THE 'CONTRAS'?

- A: YES, I DID MAKE WITH THREE OF THEM TODAY. I WILL BE MEETING WITH THEM BY OTHER TIMES ALSO. THAT HAS ALSO BEEN A NORMAL PART OF MY CONSULTATIONS.
END TRANSCRIPT.

SUBJECT: AMB HABIB'S MEETING WITH PRESIDENT ARIAS

2. SUMMARY: ON JUNE 8, AMB. HABIB ASSURED PRESIDENT ARIAS THAT THE USG WELCOMED HIS PLAN TO PUSH THE SANDINISTAS TO THE WALL ON DEMOCRATIZATION BUT THAT HIS PLAN NEEDED TO BE IMPROVED SO THAT IF

THE SANDINISTAS ACCEPTED IT, WE COULD ALL LIVE WITH IT. WE WERE LOOKING FOR FORMULAS FOR ADDRESSING ISSUES SUCH AS A CEASE-FIRE, A CESSATION OF MILITARY AID TO IRREGULAR FORCES, AMNESTY, ELECTIONS, AND INCLUSION OF THE RESISTANCE IN THE DIALOGUE THAT REQUIRED MINIMAL CHANGE TO THE LANGUAGE OF THE PROPOSALS. HE SUGGESTED THAT THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION COMMISSION DESCRIBED IN THE PROPOSALS BE CHARGED WITH DEALING WITH SOME OF THESE ISSUES.

UNCLASSIFIED

HABIB ALSO NOTED THAT THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES MUST DEVELOP THEIR TACTICS FOR THE SUMMIT SO THAT THEY COULD FOCUS ON THE POLITICAL ELEMENTS OF THE PROPOSALS AND FORCE THE SANDINISTAS TO REVEAL THEIR POSITION. ARIAS WAS CONCERNED THAT THE USG STILL DID NOT SEE THE VIRTUE OF HIS PROPOSALS AND HOW THEY COULD EXPOSE THE SANDINISTAS TO THE WORLD. HE WAS FRUSTRATED THAT THE USG AND THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES COULD LET THE SANDINISTAS OFF THE HOOK. IF THE PLAN FAILED BECAUSE EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS WERE DEMANDING TOO MANY CHANGES, ONLY CONTADORA AND NICARAGUA WOULD GAIN. HE WANTED A 4-1 OUTCOME WHICH WOULD EXPOSE THE SANDINISTAS IMMEDIATELY OR A 5-0 WHICH WOULD EXPOSE THEM IN 60 DAYS WHEN THEY HAD FAILED TO HONOR THE AGREEMENT. THIS OUTCOME WOULD ALSO KILL CONADORA. HE DID AGREE THAT THE DEMOCRACIES HAD LEGITIMATE OBSERVATIONS AND SAID HE WOULD ACCEPT SOME CHANGES IN HIS PROPOSALS. HE SAID THAT EXPANDING THE ROLE OF THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION COMMISSION MIGHT ADDRESS SEVERAL OF THE PROBLEMS HABIB NOTED. HE SAID THAT HE HAD ASKED EUROPEAN LEADERS IF THEY WOULD PARTICIPATE ON THE FOLLOW-UP COMMISSION, AND THEY HAD RESPONDED AFFIRMATIVELY. HABIB SUGGESTED THAT THE OAS BE USED

TO STAFF THE COMMISSION. ARIAS AGREED WITH HABIB'S SUGGESTION TO DEVELOP TACTICS FOR THE SUMMIT. HE SAID THAT CEREZO WOULD MAKE THE ARIAS PROPOSALS THE AGENDA AT THE SUMMIT. CEREZO, PRESSURED BY MEXICO, WAS INSISTING THAT ONE MEMBER EACH OF THE CONTADORA AND SUPPORT GROUP BE OBSERVERS AT THE SUMMIT. HABIB NOTED THIS WAS A BAD IDEA. ARIAS AGREED TO MEET AGAIN WITH HABIB AT THE END OF HIS CURRENT VISIT TO THE REGION. END SUMMARY.

3. ON JUNE 8, AMB HABIB, CHARGE MELTON, AND DCM STEWART MET WITH COSTA RICAN PRESIDENT ARIAS, FOREIGN MINISTER MADRIGAL, AND RODRIGO ARIAS TO DISCUSS THE NEGOTIATING TRACK. HABIB OPENED BY NOTING THAT HE HAD MET EARLIER THAT DAY WITH THREE LEADERS OF THE NICARAGUAN RESISTANCE DIRECTORATE. HE SAID THAT THESE WERE RESPECTABLE, RESPONSIBLE PEOPLE, AND THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT TO TAKE THEIR VIEWS INTO ACCOUNT. HE ADDED THAT THEY EXPECTED A LOT FROM COSTA RICA WITH REGARD TO THE UPCOMING CENTRAL AMERICAN SUMMIT IN GUATEMALA. ARIAS RESPONDED THAT HE WAS INTERESTED IN TALKING WITH THE RESISTANCE LEADERS.

4. ARIAS ADVISED HABIB THAT HE INTENDED TO VISIT THE UNITED STATES AT THE REQUEST OF SENATOR LUGAR TO GIVE A SPEECH IN INDIANAPOLIS. HE WANTED TO VISIT

UNCLASSIFIED

WASHINGTON ON HIS WAY BACK TO COSTA RICA, AND HE HAD ASKED AMB GUIDO FERNANDEZ TO SET UP AN APPOINTMENT WITH VICE PRESIDENT BUSH ON JUNE 18. HE SUGGESTED THAT AMB HABIB MEET WITH HIM AT THAT TIME.

5. HABIB ASSURED ARIAS THAT THE UNITED STATES SUPPORTED HIS PLAN IN PRINCIPLE. HE NOTED THAT THERE WERE SOME IN WASHINGTON WHO WERE CALLING ON THE PRESIDENT TO FIRE HIM BECAUSE HE WAS DEALING SERIOUSLY WITH ARIAS BUT THEY DID NOT SPEAK FOR THE

ADMINISTRATION. THE USG DID WANT TO SEE NICARAGUA PUT TO THE TEST ON DEMOCRATIZATION AS ARIAS PROPOSED. HE RECALLED WHAT SECRETARY SHULTZ HAD TOLD MADRIGAL IN APRIL: THE ARIAS PROPOSALS NEEDED TO BE IMPROVED SO THAT IF THEY WERE IMPLEMENTED, WE ALL COULD LIVE WITH THEM. HABIB NOTED THAT IT WAS

IMPORTANT THAT THE PROPOSALS WERE AN INDIVISIBLE PACKAGE. THE DEMOCRATIZATION ELEMENTS WERE THE CORE OF THE PROPOSALS. WE UNDERSTOOD ARIAS' RELUCTANCE TO MAKE CHANGES IN THE PROPOSALS, AND WE WERE LOOKING FOR FORMULAS THAT WOULD REQUIRE MINIMAL REVISION TO THE TEXT AND YET MEET THE NEED FOR IMPROVEMENT. IN MANY CASES, IT WAS POSSIBLE TO ADDRESS OUR CONCERNS WITHOUT CHANGING THE LANGUAGE BUT BY MORE CAREFULLY DEFINING AND INTERPRETING THE TERMS. WITHOUT SUCH A CLEAR DEFINITION, THE PROPOSALS WOULD LEAD TO MISUNDERSTANDINGS AND CREATE CONFUSION. HABIB ASKED ABOUT THE CEASE-FIRE: WHAT WERE THE TERMS? WHO WOULD DETERMINE THE TERMS? HE ASKED ABOUT THE TIMING OF THE SUSPENSION OF MILITARY AID TO IRREGULAR FORCES, NOTING THAT IT HAD TO BE LINKED WITH THE CEASE-FIRE OR THOSE FORCES WOULD BE LEFT EXPOSED. HE POINTED OUT THAT THE TERMS OF THE AMNESTY MUST BE WORKED OUT SO THAT THEY WOULD BE ACCEPTABLE TO ALL. IT WAS IMPORTANT TO SPECIFY AT WHAT POINT THE RESISTANCE WOULD BE INCLUDED IN THE DIALOGUE PROCESS. HABIB STRESSED THAT WE WANTED THE PLAN TO SUCCEED AND THAT WE WERE LOOKING FOR WAYS TO HARMONIZE THE VIEWS OF THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES, THE RESISTANCE, AND THE USG.

6. HABIB NOTED THAT GUATEMALAN PRESIDENT CEREZO HAD SUGGESTED EXPANDING THE ROLE OF THE NATIONAL

RECONCILIATION COMMISSION TO INCLUDE THE ISSUES OF A CEASE-FIRE AND A POLITICAL OPENING. ARIAS RESPONDED

UNCLASSIFIED

THAT THIS WAS THE MAIN OBJECTIVE OF THE COMMISSION. HABIB URGED THAT THE COMMISSION ALSO BE GIVEN THE ISSUE OF DETERMINING THE TIMING OF ELECTIONS. HE EXPLAINED THAT IT WAS ENTIRELY APPROPRIATE THAT THE PARTIES IN THE DIALOGUE SHOULD DECIDE WHEN ELECTIONS COULD TAKE PLACE, AND THIS WAS A FORMULA FOR MAKING POSSIBLE ELECTIONS IN NICARAGUA BEFORE 1990 WITHOUT QUESTIONING THE LEGITIMACY OF THE GOVERNMENT WHICH ARIAS HAD SAID HE WISHED TO AVOID.

7. HABIB SUGGESTED THAT ARIAS BEGIN CONSULTING WITH THE OTHER THREE DEMOCRACIES TO DETERMINE THEIR TACTICS FOR THE SUMMIT. HE RECALLED THAT DURING THEIR LAST MEETING IN APRIL ARIAS HAD SAID IT WAS ESSENTIAL THAT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS BE THE AGENDA. ARIAS REPLIED THAT CEREZO HAD ASSURED HIM THAT HIS PROPOSALS WOULD BE THE ONLY THING ON THE AGENDA. MADRIGAL ADDED THAT THE GUATEMALAN INVITATION TO THE SUMMIT STATED CLEARLY THAT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS WERE TO BE THE FIRST ITEM ON THE AGENDA. HABIB SAID THAT WE HAD RECEIVED VARIOUS REPORTS ABOUT WHAT THE SANDINISTAS WOULD DO AT THE SUMMIT. THEY MAY INTRODUCE THEIR OWN PLAN, AS COMANDANTE ARCE HAD INDICATED. THEY MAY JUST SIT BACK AND WAIT FOR THE DEMOCRACIES TO DISAGREE. HABIB STRESSED THAT THE DEMOCRACIES SHOULD KEEP THE DISCUSSION FOCUSED ON THE POLITICAL ELEMENTS AND FORCE THE SANDINISTAS TO RESPOND. THIS REQUIRES THAT THEY COORDINATE SO THAT THEY KNOW WHAT TO DO AND WHEN TO DO IT. THEY MUST NOT LET THE SANDINISTAS DIVIDE THEM OR DRAG OUT THE PROCESS.

8. ARIAS, VISIBLY NERVOUS AND UNCOMFORTABLE, REPLIED THAT IT SEEMED THAT "WE ARE WHERE WE STARTED

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

. . . BACK TO SQUARE ONE." HE SAID THAT THE USG HAD THE SAME DOUBTS AS BEFORE, DESPITE ALL HIS EFFORTS TO CONVINCE US TO PUT THE EMPHASIS ON THE REAL ISSUE: DEMOCRACY. HABIB SAID THAT WE KEPT COMING BACK TO THESE ISSUES BECAUSE THEY WERE REAL AND WOULD NOT GO AWAY; THEY NEEDED TO BE ADDRESSED. ARIAS STATED THAT HE WAS WORRIED ABOUT THIS, AND HE ASKED WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF THE INITIATIVE FAILED. HABIB QUESTIONED WHAT HE MEANT BY FAILURE. WE WOULD WELCOME A GOOD AGREEMENT, BUT EVEN IF NO AGREEMENT RESULTED, THE INITIATIVE COULD STILL BE USEFUL IN CLEARLY ESTABLISHING THE POSITIONS OF THE VARIOUS PARTIES. ARIAS RESPONDED THAT NICARAGUA WAS A VITAL INTEREST TO COSTA RICA. HABIB REPLIED THAT THE USG ALSO HAD VITAL INTERESTS THERE. ARIAS SAID THAT THE SITUATION OF THE UNITED STATES, A SUPERPOWER, WAS QUITE

UNCLASSIFIED

DIFFERENT FROM THAT OF COSTA RICA.

9. AT THIS POINT, ARIAS WAS CALLED TO THE PHONE, AND WHEN HE RETURNED HE BEGAN TO COMPLAIN THAT HE WAS BEING CRITICIZED FOR SPENDING TOO MUCH TIME ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS. PEOPLE WERE CALLING ON HIM TO DEVOTE HIS ENERGIES TO SOCIAL PROBLEMS AND THE ECONOMY. HE ASSERTED THAT HE HAD NEVER EXPECTED FOREIGN AFFAIRS TO ABSORB SO MUCH OF HIS TIME AND HE WAS TIRED OF IT. HE THEN DESCRIBED HIS TRIP TO EUROPE. EXCEPT FOR MARGARET THATCHER (WHO HE DESCRIBED AS WANTING TO SEND THE FLEET AND ARMY TO MANAGUA), ALL THE LEADERS OF EUROPE SUPPORTED HIS PROPOSALS. HE HOPED THE EC WOULD FORMALLY ENDORSE HIS PROPOSALS BEFORE THE GUATEMALA SUMMIT. THE EUROPEAN LEADERS HAD ALSO PLEDGED TO RAISE HIS PROPOSALS INFORMALLY AT THE VENICE SUMMIT. HABIB

ASSURED ARIAS THAT THE PRESIDENT AND SECRETARY SHULTZ ALSO WELCOMED HIS PROPOSALS, BUT WANTED THEM IMPROVED AND THE TERMS TO BE DEFINED.

10. ARIAS EMPHASIZED THAT COSTA RICA WOULD DO ALL IT COULD TO MAKE THE INITIATIVE SUCCEED. HE WAS SENDING MADRIGAL TO THE OTHER FOUR COUNTRIES, INCLUDING NICARAGUA. ARIAS THEN RETURNED TO HIS QUESTION ABOUT WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF THE INITIATIVE FAILED, AND HE ASKED WHO WOULD WIN. HE ANSWERED HIS OWN QUESTION STATING THAT CONTADORA AND NICARAGUA WOULD BE THE WINNERS IF IT FAILED BECAUSE EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS DEMANDED CHANGES THAT THE OTHERS COULD NOT ACCEPT. HE AGAIN DISPLAYED HIS FRUSTRATION, STATING THAT HE DID NOT WANT TO SPEND MUCH MORE TIME ON THE NEGOTIATIONS. AT THE FEBRUARY 15 SUMMIT, HE HAD WANTED THE NEXT MEETING HELD IN 15 DAYS. HE HAD DEFERRED TO HONDURAN PRESIDENT AZCONA WHO ASKED FOR THREE MONTHS IN WHICH TIME THE RESISTANCE WOULD LEAVE HONDURAS. HE NOTED THAT THE RESISTANCE WERE STILL THERE. HABIB COMMENTED THAT ONLY A FEW WERE LEFT; MOST WERE NOW INSIDE NICARAGUA. ARIAS SAID THAT IF THERE WERE NO AGREEMENT AT THE SUMMIT AND THERE WAS REASON TO HOLD A SECOND MEETING, HE WOULD INSIST THAT IT BE HELD QUICKLY, IN JUST A FEW WEEKS. HABIB SAID THAT THIS WAS ABSOLUTELY CORRECT: THE PROCESS MUST NOT DRAG OUT.

UNCLASSIFIED

11. ARIAS THEN OUTLINED HIS SCENARIOS FOR THE SUMMIT. THE BEST OUTCOME WAS 4-1, WITH 5-0 SECOND BEST. HABIB REPLIED THAT 5-0 WOULD BE BEST IF IT WERE AN ACCEPTABLE AGREEMENT. ARIAS SAID A 5-0 WOULD BE PERFECT, BUT HE EXPLAINED THAT HIS PURPOSE WAS TO

EXPOSE THE SANDINISTAS TO THE WORLD. A 4-1 WOULD ACCOMPLISH THIS IMMEDIATELY. IF THE SANDINISTAS SIGNED, THEY WOULD CERTAINLY RENEGE, SO THEN THEY

WOULD BE EXPOSED IN 60 DAYS. HE EXPLAINED THAT IT WOULD BE IMPOSSIBLE FOR THE SANDINISTAS TO LIVE UP TO THE TERMS, FOR IF THEY ALLOWED A POLITICAL OPENING, SUCH AS LETTING CARDINAL OBANDO ON TELEVISION OR RADIO CATOLICA, IT WOULD BE THE BEGINNING OF THE END FOR THEM.

12. HABIB ASSURED ARIAS THAT WE UNDERSTOOD EXACTLY HIS OBJECTIVE, BUT HE STRESSED THAT IN ORDER TO ACCOMPLISH IT, HE NEEDED TO DEFINE HIS PROPOSALS. HE REMARKED THAT THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES RESENTED THAT ARIAS HAS MADE HIS PROPOSALS PUBLIC WITHOUT TAKING THEIR VIEWS INTO ACCOUNT. HE RECALLED THAT ARIAS HAD SAID THAT HE WOULD ACCEPT CHANGES ON THE SECURITY ASPECTS OF THE PROPOSALS, ALTHOUGH NOT ON THE POLITICAL ELEMENTS. ARIAS REPLIED THAT HE WAS PREPARED TO MAKE CHANGES AND ACCEPTED THAT THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES HAD LEGITIMATE OBSERVATIONS. HE THEN REVISITED THE MATTER OF THE ROLE OF THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION COMMISSION AND EXPLAINED THAT ITS MAIN PURPOSE WAS TO ARRANGE A CEASE-FIRE AND POLITICAL OPENING. HABIB EXPLAINED THAT THIS WAS PRECISELY THE TYPE OF DEFINITION HE WAS SEEKING.

13. ARIAS THEN TRIED TO EXPLAIN THE ANALYSIS UPON WHICH HIS PROPOSALS WERE BASED. HE SAID THAT THE ESSENCE OF THE SANDINISTAS' SUPPORT AROUND THE WORLD WAS THEIR AMBIGUITY. THEY RECEIVED SUPPORT FROM THE WESTERN DEMOCRACIES AND FROM THE SOVIETS. MEANWHILE, THE USG WAS ISOLATED. HELMUT KOHL HAD ASKED HIM HOW HE COULD EXPECT GERMANY TO CRITICIZE THE SANDINISTAS WHILE US AGGRESSION CONTINUED. ARIAS INSISTED THAT HIS PLAN WOULD RESOLVE THIS AMBIGUITY BY EXPOSING THE

SANDINISTAS TO THE WORLD AND ROBBING THEM OF THEIR EXCUSES.

14. ARIAS SAID THAT HE HAD ASKED EUROPEAN LEADERS IF THEY WOULD BE WILLING TO SERVE ON THE FOLLOW-UP COMMISSION DESCRIBED IN HIS PROPOSALS. THEY HAD RESPONDED AFFIRMATIVELY. HABIB SUGGESTED THAT IT WOULD BE WISER TO HAVE THE OAS PERFORM THE VERIFICATION. ARIAS ASKED ABOUT USING PEREZ DE

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

CUELLAR, NOTING THAT WAS A TRUE DEMOCRAT AND NO FRIEND OF THE SANDINISTAS. HABIB REPLIED THAT THE USG HAD THE HIGHEST REGARD FOR PEREZ DE CUELLAR, BUT THAT THE UN SYSTEM, WITH ITS VETO IN THE SECURITY COUNCIL, WAS NOT THE APPROPRIATE BODY. IT WOULD BE BETTER TO KEEP IT IN THE OAS: IF THE OAS WANTED TO INVITE IN CERTAIN EUROPEANS, THAT MIGHT BE POSSIBLE. ARIAS SUGGESTED GERMANY AND BELGIUM. HABIB RESPONDED THAT GERMANY WOULD BE RELUCTANT: PORTUGAL AND SPAIN WOULD BE BETTER. ARIAS SAID PORTUGAL WOULD BE EXCELLENT, AS MARIO SUAREZ WAS THE FIRST EUROPEAN LEADER TO CRITICIZE THE SANDINISTAS.

15. ARIAS RETURNED TO THE NEED FOR HIS PLAN TO SUCCEED LEST CONTADORA REEMERGE. HABIB NOTED THAT MEXICO DID NOT LIKE HIS PROPOSALS AS THEY FOCUSED ON DEMOCRACY. HE NOTED THAT MEXICO WAS QUIET, BUT WAS WORKING ON CEREZO. ARIAS SAID THE MEXICANS WERE PRAYING THAT NO AGREEMENT IS REACHED AT THE SUMMIT. HE STATED THAT CEREZO HAD PUBLICLY SAID THAT HE HAD NO OBJECTIONS TO THE PROPOSALS. HABIB REMARKED THAT CEREZO DID WANT SOME POINTS DEFINED. HABIB POINTED OUT THAT PRESIDENT DUARTE WAS THE MOST CONCERNED BY THE PROPOSALS: HE WAS UNDER ATTACK FROM BOTH THE RIGHT AND LEFT AND NEEDED TO BE VERY CAUTIOUS. ARIAS ACKNOWLEDGED THAT UARTE WAS IN A DIFFICULT SITUATION AND SAID HE WOULD LIKE TO HELP HIM. HABIB SAID THAT

THE FMLN'S REJECTION OF THE PROPOSALS MIGHT MAKE IT EASIER FOR DUARTE TO DEAL WITH THE PROPOSALS.

16. ARIAS AGAIN BECAME AGITATED AS HE DESCRIBED HOW IN THE PAST THE USG HAD USED COSTA RICA DELIBERATELY TO OBSTRUCT CONTADORA NEGOTIATIONS USING MANY OF THE SAME ARGUMENTS IT WAS USING NOW ABOUT HIS PROPOSALS. HE STRESSED THAT HE DID NOT WANT TO BE USED IN THAT WAY. HE ASSERTED THAT IF HIS FRIENDS DID THAT TO HIM AT THE SUMMIT, HE WOULD WALK AWAY. HE WAS TIRED OF THE WHOLE PROBLEM; THE NEGOTIATIONS COULD RETURN TO CONTADORA AND THE USG COULD INVADE NICARAGUA. HE PLEADED THAT THE SANDINISTAS BE PUT TO THE TEST AND ALLOWED TO FAIL. THEY COULD THEN BE PUT UNDER PRESSURE, BUT NOT PRESSURE IN THE FORM OF THE RESISTANCE. HE ASKED WHAT HIS SITUATION WOULD BE TODAY IF HE HAD LISTENED TO THE USG AND ALLOWED THE RESISTANCE TO USE COSTA RICAN TERRITORY. HE WOULD BE HEARING ASST. SEC. ABRAMS, EX-AMB. TAMBS, AND RICHARD SECORD TELL IT TO THE WORLD. HOW WOULD HE EXPLAIN THIS TO FELIPE GONZALEZ? HABIB RESPONDED THAT EXPLAINING THINGS TO GONZALEZ WAS NOT IMPORTANT; THE ONLY ONES THAT WERE REALLY IMPORTANT WERE THE CENTRAL

UNCLASSIFIED

AMERICANS THEMSELVES AND THE USG. THE EUROPEANS WERE NOT CONCERNED ABOUT CENTRAL AMERICA, AND ARIAS SHOULD CARE FIRST ABOUT WHAT HIS NEIGHBORS AND WE THOUGHT.

UNCLASSIFIED

17. MADRIGAL SAID THAT HE UNDERSTOOD THAT THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES HAD SOME OF THE SAME CONCERNS AS THE USG. HE AGREED THAT THERE WAS A NEED TO HAVE SOME SYSTEM TO WORK OUT THE TERMS OF A CEASE-FIRE. HABIB EMPHASIZED THAT THERE COULD BE NO SUSPENSION OF MILITARY AID TO THE RESISTANCE UNTIL THERE WAS A

~~SECRET~~

CEASE-FIRE ACCEPTABLE TO THE CONTRAS. HABIB REFERRED TO LANGUAGE IN THE REVISED DRAFT ABOUT THE SUSPENSION OF AID, AND ARIAS BECAME AGITATED THAT THE USG HAD A REVISED VERSION. MADRIGAL STATED EMPHATICALLY THAT THE REVISED VERSION WAS ONLY A WORKING DRAFT: IT HAD NOT BEEN CLEARED BY HIM OR ARIAS AND HAD NO OFFICIAL STANDING. HABIB NOTED THAT IF THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION COMMISSION COULD WORK OUT THE TERMS OF AN AGREED CEASE-FIRE, IT COULD BE POSSIBLE TO HAVE A SIMULTANEOUS SUSPENSION OF MILITARY AID. ARIAS RESPONDED "THAT IS QUITE OBVIOUS."

18. ARIAS REMARKED THAT PERHAPS THE NATIONAL COMMISSION COULD BE GIVEN MORE FUNCTIONS TO ADDRESS THE CONCERNS HABIB HAD RAISED. HABIB REMARKED THAT THIS WAS A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION. THIS WAS JUST THE TYPE OF DEFINITION WHICH WE WERE SEEKING. HABIB ADDED THAT IT WAS NECESSARY TO SPECIFY ALSO AT WHAT POINT THE RESISTANCE WOULD JOIN IN THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION PROCESS. HE POINTED OUT THAT THE RESISTANCE WAS PREPARED TO BE FLEXIBLE ABOUT HOW THIS WAS DONE. ARIAS RESPONDED THAT ANYONE WHO WANTED TO SHOULD BE ALLOWED TO RETURN. HE EXPECTED RESISTANCE LEADERS ALFREDO CESAR AND ALFONSO ROBELO TO RETURN IF AN AGREEMENT WAS REACHED. HE ADDED THAT HE DID NOT TRUST THE SANDINISTAS, AND HE WOULD EXPECT THEM TO NOT ALLOW SOME BACK IN, SUCH AS ADOLFO CALERO. THEY WOULD THUS FAIL THIS TEST, AS THEY WOULD PROBABLY FLUNK THE TEST ON PRESS FREEDOM. THIS WOULD BE EXACTLY WHAT HE WANTED, AS IT WOULD EXPOSE THE SANDINISTAS.

19. ARIAS SAID THAT IF THE SANDINISTAS WERE EVER GOING TO ACCEPT HIS PROPOSALS, NOW WAS THE TIME. THEY WERE UNDER SEVERE ECONOMIC PRESSURE AND NEEDED SOME RELIEF. HABIB REITERATED THE NEED TO KEEP THE

~~SECRET~~

UNCLASSIFIED

FOCUS ON DEMOCRACY. ARIAS SAID THAT IF THE SUMMIT PRODUCED A 4-1 OR A 5-0, IT WOULD MEAN THE DEATH OF CONTADORA. HABIB NOTED THAT THE SANDINISTAS WERE TALKING ABOUT PUSHING THE ARIAS PROPOSALS BACK INTO CONTADORA. ARIAS RESPONDED THAT HE HAD MADE CLEAR TO CEREZO THAT HE DID NOT WANT CONTADORA INVOLVED AT THE SUMMIT. CEREZO HAD NEVERTHELESS INSISTED THAT ONE MEMBER OF THE CONTADORA GROUP AND ONE OF THE SUPPORT GROUP BE PRESENT. HABIB EXPRESSED HIS DISMAY AND WARNED THAT THIS WAS A SERIOUS MISTAKE. ARIAS EXPLAINED THAT THEY WOULD ONLY ATTEND AS OBSERVERS; THEY COULD POSSIBLY ATTEND A LUNCH BUT NOT THE FORMAL SESSIONS. HE NOTED THAT CEREZO WAS UNDER PRESSURE FROM MEXICO IN THIS REGARD.

UNCLASSIFIED

20. ARIAS THEN DESCRIBED WHAT HE EXPECTED TO BE THE FUTURE OF NICARAGUA. UNDER THE SANDINISTAS, IT WOULD CONTINUE ITS DOWNWARD SPIRAL, JUST AS OTHER MARXIST COUNTRIES SUCH AS VIETNAM, ANGOLA AND MOZAMBIQUE. IT WOULD BECOME THE ETHIOPIA OF CENTRAL AMERICA. HABIB WARNED THAT NICARAGUA COULD STILL BE A PROBLEM FOR ITS NEIGHBORS, POINTING OUT THAT THERE WERE THOUSANDS OF CUBAN SOLDIERS IN ANGOLA AND ETHIOPIA. ARIAS SAID HE DID NOT SEE HOW THE SANDINISTAS COULD CHANGE. THE HARDLINERS WOULD BLOCK ANY OPENING; HISTORY HAD SHOWN, AS IN THE CASE OF PORTUGAL, THAT A TRUE OPENING WOULD LEAD TO THE REVERSAL OF THE REVOLUTIONARY PROCESS. ARIAS REPEATED ONCE AGAIN HIS DESIRE TO EXPOSE THE SANDINISTAS TO THE OAS, TO PEREZ DE CUELLAR, AND TO EUROPE. HABIB SAID HE SHARED THIS GOAL BUT THAT THE PROPOSALS NEEDED TO BE IMPROVED TO ACCOMPLISH IT. ARIAS, IN BETTER SPIRITS BY THIS POINT, JOKED THAT HABIB WANTED HIM TO WRITE AN ENCYCLOPEDIA. HIS GOAL

WAS TO HAVE SOMETHING SHORT AND SIMPLE THAT EVERYONE COULD UNDERSTAND.

21. HABIB NOTED THAT HE WAS PREPARED TO HELP HARMONIZE THE VIEWS OF THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES. HE WOULD DISCUSS THE SITUATION WITH THE OTHER THREE PRESIDENTS AND, IF ARIAS THOUGHT IT USEFUL, RETURN AT THE END OF HIS TRIP TO REVIEW THE SITUATION. ARIAS EXPRESSED HIS APPRECIATION FOR HABIB'S EFFORTS AND AGREED TO RECEIVE HIM ON THURSDAY, JUNE 11.

22. AT THE END OF THE MEETING, ARIAS TOOK HABIB ASIDE FOR A PRIVATE CONVERSATION. HE AGREED WITH HABIB ON THE NEED FOR THE FOUR TO DEVELOP TACTICS WHICH FORCED THE SANDINISTAS TO PUT FORWARD THEIR POSITION ON THE POLITICAL ELEMENTS AT THE SUMMIT AND URGED HABIB TO DISCUSS THIS WITH THE OTHERS.

UNCLASSIFIED

23. COMMENT: THE TONE OF THE MEETING FLUCTUATED REPEATEDLY FROM WARM AND CORDIAL TO TENSE. ARIAS IS WELL AWARE THAT HIS PROPOSALS MAY TURN OUT TO BE A DISASTER IF THE DEMOCRACIES ARE NOT SUBSTANTIALLY UNITED. HE IS FRUSTRATED THAT HE CANNOT MAKE US SEE THE LIGHT, BUT HE MAY BE BEGINNING TO REALIZE THAT HE WILL HAVE TO BE MORE FLEXIBLE AND WORK WITH US AND THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES TO PREVENT HIS WORST-CASE SCENARIO. HIS WILLINGNESS TO ACCEPT AN EXPANDED ROLE ON SECURITY ISSUES FOR THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION COMMISSION COULD BE HELPFUL. NEVERTHELESS, ARIAS STILL HAS FAR TO GO BEFORE HE WILL BE ABLE TO HARMONIZE HIS VIEWS WITH THOSE OF HIS DEMOCRATIC NEIGHBORS.

SUBJECT: AMBASSADOR HABIB'S MEETING WITH PRESIDENT CEREZO

2. SUMMARY: IN A MEETING WITH PRESIDENT CEREZO ON JUNE 10, AMBASSADOR HABIB TOLD THE GUATEMALAN PRESIDENT THAT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS MUST BE STRENGTHENED, SO THAT WE CAN LIVE WITH THEM IF NICARAGUA SHOULD ACCEPT THEM. EMPHASIZING THE IMPORTANCE OF DEMOCRATIZATION, HABIB TOLD CEREZO IT IS VITALLY IMPORTANT TO PREVENT THE SANDINISTAS FROM DIVIDING THE DEMOCRACIES OR DIVIDING THE ISSUES. NOTING THAT ARIAS SEEMED RELUCTANT TO ACCEPT CHANGES, HABIB URGED CEREZO TO CONTINUE EFFORTS TO HARMONIZE THE POSITIONS OF THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES, AND ASSURED HIM THAT THE U.S. WOULD SUPPORT A STRENGTHENED PLAN. CEREZO OUTLINED MAJOR CHANGES TO THE ARIAS PLAN WHICH HE HOPES THE OTHERS WILL ACCEPT. CEREZO PROPOSES TO PROVIDE MORE CONCRETE DEFINITION TO THE WHOLE RECONCILITION PROCESS, ALLOW ALL ELEMENTS "WILLING TO WORK FOR DEMOCRACY" TO PARTICIPATE IN THAT PROCESS, AND DEFER THE CEASE-FIRE AND CUT-OFF OF AID TO INSURGENTS

UNTIL THE RECONCILIATION PROCESS IS WELL ADVANCED. HE ALSO PROPOSES TO STRENGTHEN THE MILITARY SIDE OF THE PLAN BY ADDING PROVISIONS DESIGNED TO CURTAIL NICARAGUA'S TIES WITH THE SOVIET BLOC. CEREZO SAID THAT IN HIS MEETING WITH ARIAS LAST WEEK HE FOUND THE COSTA RICAN PRESIDENT SOMEWHAT RECEPTIVE TO HIS IDEAS, AND FOREIGN MINISTER MADRIGAL WOULD BE ARRIVING LATER IN THE DAY FOR FURTHER CONSULTATIONS ABOUT THEM. QUINONES WILL SEE ACEVEDO IN SAN SALVADOR ON JUNE 15, AND ON JUNE 16

CEREZO WILL SEE PRESIDENT AZCONA IN HONDURAS. CEREZO SAID HE IS WILLING TO SEE THE JUNE 25-26 SUMMIT END WITHOUT A SIGNED AGREEMENT, BUT THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES MUST PRESENT A PROPOSAL WHICH IS SEEN TO BE REASONABLE. HOWEVER, HE DID NOT SAY WHAT HE WOULD DO IF NICARAGUA AND COSTA RICA SIGN ARIAS' ORIGINAL PROPOSAL. HABIB URGED CEREZO TO MEET WITH RESISTANCE LEADERS, AND CEREZO INDICATED HIS WILLINGNESS TO DO SO. END SUMMARY.

3. AMBASSADOR HABIB, DAS WALKER, AND AMBASSADOR PIEDRA CALLED ON PRESIDENT CEREZO ON JUNE 10. ALSO IN ATTENDANCE WERE FOREIGN MINISTER QUINONES, COLONEL ROBERTO MATA, CEREZO'S CHIEF OF STAFF, SARA MISHAAN, THE PRESIDENT'S SECRETARY FOR POLITICAL AFFAIRS, AND HOWARD DAVIS, NOTETAKER.

4. HABIB BEGAN BY DESCRIBING HIS MEETINGS IN THE LAST FEW DAYS WITH PRESIDENT ARIAS, PRESIDENT DUARTE, AND MEMBERS OF THE DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE. THE PURPOSE OF HIS VISIT TO GUATEMALA WAS TO FIND HOW CEREZO'S VIEWS ON THE SUMMIT WERE EVOLVING AND TO EXPRESS OUR OWN VIEW THAT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS NEED IMPROVEMENT, SO THAT IF ACCEPTED WE COULD LIVE WITH THEM. HABIB SAID HE FOUND ARIAS RELUCTANT TO TALK ABOUT CHANGES, AND MENTIONED

SECRET

THAT ARIAS CLAIMS THE "REVISED" COSTA RICAN DRAFT HAS NO STANDING. IT WAS HIS OVERALL IMPRESSION THAT THERE HAVE NOT BEEN SUFFICIENT CONSULTATIONS AMONG THE DEMOCRACIES TO REACH AGREEMENT. IT IS NOT A QUESTION OF REACHING COMPLETE UNITY, BUT OF HARMONIZING THE VIEWS OF THE FOUR, PARTICULARLY ON DEMOCRATIZATION. HE NOTED THAT DURING CEREZO'S RECENT VISIT TO WASHINGTON, ALL OF HIS U.S. INTERLOCUTORS HAD BEEN DEEPLY IMPRESSED WITH THE SINCERITY WITH WHICH CEREZO HAD ARGUED FOR THE IMPORTANCE OF GETTING A PROCESS OF DEMOCRATIZATION STARTED IN NICARAGUA. THE QUESTION WE MUST NOW ASK, HE SAID, IS WHETHER THE ARIAS PROPOSALS WILL PRODUCE DEMOCRATIZATION. LOOKING AT PROSPECTS FOR THE UPCOMING SUMMIT, HABIB SAID IT IS IMPORTANT TO AVOID THE PITFALL OF DIVISIONS AS WELL AS THE PITFALL OF MAKING PARTIAL DEALS; WE AGREE WITH ARIAS THAT THE PROPOSALS MUST BE ACCEPTED OR REJECTED AS A COMPLETE PACKAGE.

UNCLASSIFIED

5. REFERRING TO HIS MEETING WITH DUARTE, HABIB SAID HE EXPECTS THE SALVADORAN PRESIDENT TO BE MORE ACTIVE DIPLOMATICALLY THAN HE HAS BEEN IN RECENT WEEKS. CEREZO AGREED WITH HABIB THAT DUARTE HAS "SPECIAL PROBLEMS," PARTICULARLY THE POLITICAL PROBLEMS POSED BY THE RIGHT WING AND THE GUERRILLAS ON THE LEFT. HABIB NOTED THAT THE SALVADORAN FOREIGN MINISTRY HAS DONE SOME COMMENDABLE WORK IN COMING UP WITH WAYS TO STRENGTHEN

UNCLASSIFIED

THE ARIAS PLAN.

6. CEREZO SAID THAT HE PLANS TO GO TO HONDURAS ON JUNE 16 TO CONSULT WITH PRESIDENT AZCONA. HE ADDED THAT HE CONTINUES TO EXCHANGE IDEAS WITH DUARTE BY TELEPHONE.

QUINONES SAID HE PLANS TO GO TO SAN SALVADOR ON JUNE 15 TO TALK WITH ACEVEDO.

7. HABIB SAID THERE IS NO POINT TO HAVING AGREEMENT ON SOMETHING WHICH IS NOT CLEARLY DEFINED, AND CEREZO AGREED. HABIB SAID THE ARIAS PLAN IN ITS PRESENT FORM DOES NOT ANSWER THE QUESTION WHAT HAPPENS TO THE NICARAGUAN DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE'S POLITICAL RIGHTS. IF THERE IS NO IKEE-FIRE, THERE CANNOT BE A CESSATION OF AID. THERE IS NO CLEAR DEFINITION OF AID: THE RESISTANCE WILL HAVE A CONTINUED NEED FOR FOOD, CLOTHING AND MEDICINE, SO THE TERMS MUST BE DEFINED. WHEN CAN THE DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE JOIN THE DIALOGUE PROCESS? HOW WILL IT DO SO? HABIB SAID HE HAD FOUND CEREZO'S IDEA OF EXPANDING THE FUNCTIONS OF THE RECONCILIATION COMMISSION USEFUL, AND HAD URGED ARIAS TO GIVE IT FAVORABLE CONSIDERATION. FOR EXAMPLE, THE COMMISSION COULD HAVE A VOICE IN THE TIMING OF ELECTIONS. THIS WOULD BE A PERFECTLY LEGITIMATE TOPIC FOR THE COMMISSION TO CONSIDER AND IT COULD DO SO WITHOUT CHALLENGING THE

~~SECRET~~

LEGITIMACY OF THE CURRENT GOVERNMENT. ALL OF THESE QUESTIONS MUST AT LEAST BE DISCUSSED, AND THE PLAN SHOULD BE IMPROVED TO ADDRESS THEM.

8. TURNING TO TACTICS AT THE SUMMIT MEETING, HABIB SAID HE TOLD ARIAS THAT HIS PLAN SHOULD BE THE AGENDA, OR THE FIRST ITEM ON THE AGENDA. AFTER ARIAS PRESENTS HIS PLAN, CEREZO SHOULD MAKE SURE THAT ORTEGA RESPONDS. ORTEGA MUST BE MADE TO DEAL WITH THE POLITICAL ELEMENTS

OF THE ARIAS PLAN, AND IT IS IMPORTANT TO DO THIS EARLY IN THE SUMMIT.

UNCLASSIFIED

9. CEREZO AGREED THAT THE ARIAS PLAN IS NOT ENOUGH TO INSURE THAT WE REACH OUR GOAL. IT IS FULL OF GENERALITIES AND DOES NOT RESOLVE IMPORTANT PROBLEMS LIKE HOW TO ACHIEVE A CEASE-FIRE. HE HAD EXPLAINED THIS TO ARIAS AND FELT THAT ARIAS AGREED WITH PARTS OF WHAT HE SAID. NEVERTHELESS, IN CEREZO'S VIEW, ARIAS FEELS IT IS IMPORTANT TO HIS PRESTIGE TO GET SOMETHING SIGNED AT THE SUMMIT, ESPECIALLY IN WAKE OF THE PRAISE HIS PLAN RECEIVED DURING HIS RECENT TRIP TO EUROPE. ARIAS MAY FEEL ANYTHING IS BETTER THAN NOTHING, BUT A BAD AGREEMENT COULD DISCREDIT THE CENTRAL AMERICAN NEGOTIATION PROCESS.

10. HABIB THEN ASKED CEREZO WHETHER HE FEELS THERE MUST BE A SIGNED AGREEMENT BY THE FIVE AT THE CONCLUSION OF THE SUMMIT. CEREZO SAID NO. HE SAID THE GUATEMALAN PLAN IS TO SAY THAT THE ARIAS PLAN WOULD BE ACCEPTABLE WITH CHANGES TO WHICH ALL FOUR DEMOCRACIES AGREE. SUCH CHANGES WOULD INCLUDE CONTROLLING MILITARY ASSISTANCE FROM OUTSIDE THE REGION. THEY WOULD ALSO INCLUDE CHANGING THE ORDER OF THE STEPS PRESCRIBED IN THE PLAN.

THE RECONCILIATION COMMISSION SHOULD PERMIT THE PARTICIPATION OF EVERYONE WILLING TO WORK FOR DEMOCRACY. THERE MUST BE AGREEMENT ON HOW THE COMMISSION WILL WORK, ON THE NATURE OF THE RECONCILIATION PROCESS, ON THE MEANING OF AMNESTY AND DIALOGUE. AND THE CEASE-FIRE SHOULD BE THE CONSEQUENCE OF THE PROCESS. HABIB ASKED IF MILITARY AID TO THE INSURGENTS WOULD CEASE ONLY WHEN A CEASE-FIRE GOES INTO EFFECT. "OF COURSE," CEREZO REPLIED.

11. CEREZO WENT ON TO SAY THAT DEMOCRATIZATION MUST PROCEED IN PARALLEL WITH THE OTHER PROVISIONS OF AN AGREEMENT. HE SAID THERE SHOULD BE AT LEAST TWO ELECTIONS WITHIN THE NEXT 18 MONTHS, IN NICARAGUA AS WELL AS THE OTHER COUNTRIES. FIRST WOULD BE ELECTIONS TO THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT, THEN PERHAPS MUNICIPAL AND LOCAL ELECTIONS, AND THEN THE OTHERS. CEREZO SAID HE WANTS TO SEE THE FOUR AGREE TO "REQUEST NICARAGUA" TO HAVE THESE ADDITIONAL ELECTIONS.

UNCLASSIFIED

12. ON THE SUBJECT OF MILITARY ASSISTANCE, CEREZO SAID CURRENT BILATERAL AGREEMENTS SHOULD BE ALLOWED TO CONTINUE, WITH SOME LIMITS. HE WOULD PROPOSE THAT A COMMISSION BE FORMED TO PROPOSE A SCHEDULE OF WEAPONS TO BE PERMITTED IN CENTRAL AMERICA ALONG WITH PROVISIONS FOR CONTROLLING THEM AND REGULATING -- NOT TERMINATING

-- MILITARY MANEUVERS. HE ALSO SAID THE "EAST-WEST DIMENSION" IN CENTRAL AMERICA SHOULD BE NEUTRALIZED, BY PROVIDING THAT NO COUNTRY "OUTSIDE THE CONTINENT" CAN ESTABLISH BASES. FURTHER, THE MILITARY SIDE OF THE AGREEMENT SHOULD BE SUBJECT TO INTERNATIONAL SUPERVISION.

13. HABIB SAID WE BELIEVE THE OAS IS A BETTER VEHICLE THAN THE UN FOR THIS PURPOSE. CEREZO ASSURED HABIB THAT THE OAS WILL BE TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT. HE ADDED THAT HE ENVISIONS HOLDING A FOLLOW-UP MEETING OF THE PRESIDENTS TO SEE HOW THE WHOLE PROCESS IS WORKING, AND A FINAL MEETING AT THE END OF SIX MONTHS. AT THAT TIME, IF EVERYTHING IS ON SCHEDULE, THE PRESIDENTS WILL SIGN GENERAL AGREEMENTS DEALING WITH THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PARLIAMENT AND OTHER MATTERS.

14. HABIB ASKED IF CEREZO'S BASIC IDEA IS TO MOVE THE POLITICAL FEATURES OF THE PLAN TO THE FRONT, AND MOVE THE OTHER ELEMENTS BACK. CEREZO AGREED WITH THIS FORMULATION, AND SAID HE WOULD GIVE HABIB A COPY OF HIS PROPOSALS WITH A REQUEST FOR COMMENTS. HABIB PROMISED AN EARLY RESPONSE.

15. CEREZO THEN TURNED TO PRE-SUMMIT STRATEGY, SAYING HE WANTS TO GET THE FIVE FOREIGN MINISTERS TOGETHER IN GUATEMALA TWO DAYS BEFORE THE SUMMIT. THE REAL PURPOSE,

~~SECRET~~
~~SECRET~~

HE SAID, WOULD BE TO CREATE AN OPPORTUNITY FOR THE MINISTERS FROM THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES TO MEET PRIVATELY TO DISCUSS THE ISSUES. HOWEVER, HONDURAN PRESIDENT AZCONA OBJECTS TO THIS IDEA. CEREZO EXPRESSED THE HOPE THAT HABIB WOULD TALK TO AZCONA ABOUT THIS. COMMENT: CEREZO AND QUINONES WERE APPARENTLY UNAWARE AT THE TIME THAT THE MINISTERIAL MEETING SCHEDULED TO BE HELD IN TELA, HONDURAS HAS BEEN CANCELLED. END COMMENT.

16. HABIB SAID THERE IS A DANGER NICARAGUA MAY ACCEPT SOME BUT NOT ALL OF THE PROPOSALS. CEREZO REPLIED THAT IN HIS VIEW THE NICARAGUANS ARE IN A BAD SITUATION, UNDER PRESSURE, AND CAN BE FORCED TO ACCEPT A PACKAGE IF THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES ARE IN AGREEMENT. SUCH A PACKAGE MUST CONTAIN, AT A MINIMUM, PROVISIONS FOR DEMOCRATIZATION, CESSATION OF AGGRESSION BY NICARAGUA AGAINST OTHER STATES IN THE REGION, AND CURTAILMENT OR "DIMINISHING" OF NICARAGUAN TIES WITH THE SOVIET UNION.

UNCLASSIFIED

17. HABIB SAID THE IDEA OF PUTTING THE POLITICAL STEPS FIRST IS A GREAT IMPROVEMENT, AND THE TRACK CEREZO OUTLINED IS SOUND. BUT ITS FATE DEPENDS ON CEREZO'S SUCCESS IN DEALING WITH THE CRITICAL ISSUES. HE ADDED THAT ARIAS INDICATED DURING THEIR MEETING JUNE 8 THAT HE IS ADAMANTLY CRITICAL OF CONTADORA, AND DOES NOT WANT TO SEE ANY INTERFERENCE BY CONTADORA. ARIAS FEELS MEXICO WANTS TO SABOTAGE HIS PLAN. CEREZO, WHO EARLIER IN THE MEETING CONFIRMED THAT HE HAD INVITED BOTH THE CONTADORA AND SUPPORT GROUP TO SEND AN OBSERVER TO THE SUMMIT, INSISTED IT IS ESSENTIAL TO AVOID A CONFRONTATION WITH CONTADORA.

THE SUMMIT, HABIB SAID HE IS CONCERNED BY THE POSSIBILITY ORTEGA WILL RESPOND ONLY TO SOME OF THE PROPOSALS AND TRY TO OBFUSCATE THE ISSUES. HE NOTED THAT OUR AMBASSADOR IN MANAGUA BELIEVES NICARAGUA'S STRATEGY WILL BE TO DIVIDE THE DEMOCRACIES AND DIVIDE THE ISSUES. THEY WILL STALL FOR TIME TO SEE IF THE U.S. CONGRESS WILL CUT OFF AID TO THE CONTRAS AND SOLVE THEIR PROBLEM. CEREZO SAID THAT IF NICARAGUA WILL NOT FACE ALL THE ISSUES, "THEN WE DON'T SIGN."

19. HABIB SAID THAT IF THE SUMMIT FAILS, IT MUST BE BECAUSE THE NICARAGUANS REJECT A REASONABLE OFFER. CEREZO AGREED, SAYING EVERYONE MUST PERCEIVE THE CORRECTNESS OF THE PROPOSALS MADE BY THE DEMOCRACIES.

20. CEREZO THEN SAID THAT IF SUCCESS AT THE SUMMIT IS TO BE ACHIEVED, DUARTE AND AZCONA MUST TAKE A MORE ACTIVE ROLE IN FIGHTING FOR CHANGES TO THE ARIAS PLAN. HABIB ASKED CEREZO WHETHER HE WOULD SIGN THE ARIAS PLAN WITHOUT CHANGES, IF COSTA RICA AND NICARAGUA SIGN. IF AN UNSATISFACTORY AGREEMENT COMES OUT OF THE SUMMIT, HE CONTINUED, THE U.S. WILL NOT ABIDE BY IT. WHILE HIS TALKS WITH DUARTE WERE HEARTENING, ARIAS SHOWED FLEXIBILITY WITH REGARD TO TACTICS BUT NOT SUBSTANCE.

THE CURRENT CROSSROADS IT IS IMPORTANT TO KNOW WHETHER WE ARE REALLY WORKING IN THE SAME DIRECTION, AND (CEREZO CONTINUED) WE NEED TO BE CONFIDENT THAT THIS IS SO.

22. HABIB SAID HE WOULD LIKE TO REAFFIRM WHAT HE TOLD ARIAS: THE U.S. IS NOT TRYING TO SABOTAGE HIS PLAN. WE WANT TO SEE THE VIEWS OF THE DEMOCRACIES HARMONIZED, AND WE WANT TO SEE THE PLAN STRENGTHENED. BUT THE ARIAS PROPOSALS AS THEY NOW STAND ARE NOT TECHNICALLY SUFFICIENT. CEREZO ACCEPTED THIS REASSURANCE.

23. HABIB ASSURED CEREZO THAT DUARTE WILL ACCEPT A PLAN THAT WOULD RESULT IN DEMOCRATIZATION AND THE END OF SUBVERSION. THE WAY TO PUSH THE SANDINISTAS TO THE WALL IS TO GET AGREEMENT ON AMENDMENTS TO THE ARIAS PLAN ALONG THE LINES WE HAVE DISCUSSED. IT IS TO BE HOPED THAT CEREZO WILL TAKE AN ACTIVE ROLE IN HARMONIZING THE VIEWS OF THE DEMOCRACIES. CEREZO NODDED, ADDING WITH A SMILE THAT "IT IS STILL THE ARIAS PLAN."

24. IN CONCLUSION, HABIB EXPRESSED THE HOPE THAT CEREZO WOULD SEE THE RESISTANCE LEADERS. CEREZO ASKED WHETHER SUCH A MOVE COULD DAMAGE PROSPECTS FOR THE SUMMIT. HABIB RECOMMENDED THAT CEREZO FOLLOW DUARTE'S TACTIC OF HAVING THE RESISTANCE LEADERS SET UP A MEETING WITH THE FOREIGN MINISTER, THEN CREATE AN OPPORTUNITY TO SEE THEM IN CONNECTION WITH THAT MEETING. CEREZO NODDED HIS AGREEMENT.

25. COMMENT: CEREZO HAS ONCE AGAIN MADE ALL THE RIGHT NOISES, BUT HIS REAL PURPOSES ARE STILL SOMEWHAT UNCLEAR. HIS PLAN TO STRENGTHEN THE POLITICAL AGENDA AND MOVE IT CHRONOLOGICALLY AHEAD OF THE CEASE-FIRE AND AID CUT-OFF IS UNLIKELY TO RECEIVE A WARM RECEPTION IN EITHER SAN JOSE OR MANAGUA. AT THE SAME TIME, CEREZO'S INSISTENCE ON AVOIDING CONFRONTATION WITH CONTADORA, AND CERTAIN ASPECTS OF HIS MILITARY PROPOSALS MAY HAVE BEEN ENCOURAGED BY MEXICO. FINALLY, CEREZO HAS YET TO ANSWER THE CRITICAL QUESTION OF WHETHER HE WOULD SIGN THE ORIGINAL ARIAS PROPOSAL, IF BOTH NICARAGUA AND COSTA RICA AGREE TO DO SO.

What is the Agency picking up on this? Pinochet continues to cover his tracks by refusing to expel two others involved in the case, Gen. (ret.) Contreras and Col. Espinosa.

1. ~~SECRET~~ ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. AT A JUNE 10 DINNER, HONDURAN FOREIGN MINSTER LOPEZ CONTRERAS TOLD HABIB THAT HE THOUGHT THE GUATEMALA SUMMIT WOULD GO FAIRLY WELL, BY WHICH HE MEANT THAT NO AGREEMENT WOULD BE SIGNED. THE KEY QUESTION FOR HONDURAS IS NICARAGUA'S STRATEGIC ALIGNMENT, NOT ONLY DEMOCRATIZATION. HABIB SAID HE HAD BEEN TOLD THE SAME THING EARLIER IN THE DAY BY THE GUATEMALAN FOREIGN MINISTER. HABIB URGED THAT THE CENTRAL AMERICANS PREPARE THOROUGHLY BEFORE THE MEETING -- THE FOUR DEMOCRACIES MUST HARMONIZE THEIR ACTIONS AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE. THE HONDURANS CONFIRMED THAT THE PACE OF CONSULTATIONS WAS STEPPING UP, BUT MADE LITTLE EFFORT TO HIDE THEIR ANNOYANCE OVER THE WAY THAT THE GUATEMALANS HAD FORCED THEM TO ABANDON THE TELA MEETING OF FOREIGN MINISTERS. ASKED WHAT THE NEXT STEP WOULD BE IF GUATEMALA PRODUCED NO AGREEMENT, LOPEZ REPLIED FIRMLY THAT THE TASK WOULD BE TO DRAW UP A MORE CREDIBLE AND

BETTER COORDINATED AGREEMENT. THE INITIATIVE FOR SUCH AN AGREEMENT SHOULD COME FROM WITHIN CENTRAL AMERICA, BUT BE COORDINATED WITH THE UNITED STATES. LOPEZ ALSO NOTED THAT HONDURAS OPPOSED TRADING SECURITY MOVES FOR NICARAGUAN INTERNAL POLITICAL MOVES. SECURITY ISSUES SHOULD BE TRADED FOR SECURITY MOVES. HABIB REPLIED THAT IT WAS NEVERTHELESS IMPORTANT FOR THE SANDINISTAS TO ACCEPT THE PROPOSITION THAT THEIR INTERNAL ARRANGEMENTS ARE UP FOR DISCUSSION IN THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PEACE PROCESS. HABIB BRIEFED LOPEZ ON OUR VIEW OF THE RESISTANCE'S PERFORMANCE, AS WELL AS THE NICARAGUAN-SOVIET RELATIONSHIP. END SUMMARY.

UNCLASSIFIED

3. AMBASSADOR HABIB FOLLOWED UP HIS JUNE 10 MEETING WITH PRESIDENT AZCONA (SEPTEL) WITH A MORE EXTENDED DINNER CONVERSATION WITH HONDURAN FOREIGN MINISTER CARLOS LOPEZ CONTRERAS. HABIB LED OFF ASKING LOPEZ WHAT HE THOUGHT WOULD HAPPEN AT THE GUATEMALA SUMMIT. LOPEZ REPLIED THAT HE THOUGHT THE MEETING WOULD GO FAIRLY WELL; NO AGREEMENT WOULD BE SIGNED. AT A LATER POINT LOPEZ SAID HE WAS CONFIDENT THAT THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES COULD HANDLE THE SUMMIT. THEY HAD BEEN THROUGH MORE DIFFICULT SESSIONS IN THE CONTADORA DRAFTING PROCESS. OF GREATER CONCERN IS WHAT COMES AFTER GUATEMALA.

4. LOPEZ SUGGESTED THAT FOR HONDURAS, THE KEY QUESTION IS NOT INTERNAL NICARAGUAN DEMOCRATIZTION. WHAT HONDURAS IS MOST CONCERNED ABOUT IS STRATEGIC ALIGNMENT, NOT DEMOCRATIZATION. NICARAGUA'S ALIGNMENT WITH THE SOVIET UNION IS WHAT WORRIES HONDURAS MOST, AND THE THING HONDURAS WANTS TO CHANGE. HABIB REPLIED THAT THE GUATEMALAN FOREIGN MINISTER HAD EARLIER IN THE DAY MADE

THE SAME POINT, EVEN USING THE SAME WORD "ALIGNMENT." THE GUATEMALANS HAD SAID THAT THEY WANTED NO "EXTRA-CONTINENTAL POWER" TO BE INVOLVED IN NICARAGUA, MAKING CLEAR THAT THIS REFERRED NOT ONLY TO THE SOVIET UNION, BUT TO CUBA AS WELL. HABIB SAID HE FOUND IT INTERESTING THAT THE TWO MINISTERS WOULD USE EXACTLY THE SAME TERMINOLOGY ON THE SAME DAY, AND ASKED WHETHER GUATEMALA'S QUINONEZ AND LOPEZ HAD MET RECENTLY. LOPEZ REPLIED THAT HE HAD MADE THIS POINT ABOUT STRATEGIC ALIGNMENT TO QUINONEZ A SHORT TIME AGO.

5. HABIB COMMENTED THAT WHEN THE ARIAS PLN HAD FIRST BEEN ANNOUNCED, AND THE ESQUIPULAS MEETING (NOW GUATEMALA MEETING) SCHEDULED, HE HAD URGED THAT THE CENTRAL AMERICANS BEGIN CONSULTATION AND PREPARATION. THE DEMOCRACIES FACE A COMMON OPPONENT. THEY SHOULD LOOK AT THEMSELVES AS FOUR COUNTRIES PURSUING ONE COMMON GOAL. HE HAD BEEN TOLD BY A FRIEND THAT THE LATIN AMERICAN WAY WOULD BE TO WAIT UNTIL THE LAST MINUTE. HE HAD NOT BELIEVED THIS AT FIRST, BUT NOW WE ARE DOWN TO THE LAST TWO WEEKS BEFORE GUATEMALA AND CONSULTATIONS ARE JUST BEGINNING. HE SAID THAT HE COULD NOT EMPHASIZE TOO STRONGLY THE NEED FOR THE CENTRAL AMERICANS TO HARMONIZE THEIR POSITIONS IN ADVANCE AND GO TO GUATEMALA WITH AGREED-UPON POSITIONS. THEY COULD NOT EXPECT TO IMPROVISE AN APPROACH AT THE SUMMIT. LOPEZ NOTED THAT

THE CONSULTATIONS WERE ALREADY TAKING PLACE; COSTA RICAN FOREIGN MINISTER MADRIGAL IS COMING TO TEGUCIGALPA ON THE AFTERNOON OF JUNE 11, AND PRESIDENT AZCONA AND COSTA RICA'S ARIAS WILL ALSO HAVE A CHANCE TO GET TOGETHER

SUBJECT: AMBASSADOR HABIB'S MEETING WITH HONDURAN BEFORE THE SUMMIT.

6. LOPEZ MADE LITTLE EFFORT TO HIDE HIS ANNOYANCE OVER THE WAY THE GUATEMALANS HAD TREATED HONDURAS OVER THE TELA FOREIGN MINISTERS MEETING. AT NOON OF JUNE 10, THE HONDURANS HAD BEEN FORCED TO CANCEL THE TELA MEETING, WHICH HAD BEEN SCHEDULED FOR JUNE 22 AND 23, AND WHICH HAD BEEN RESCHEDULED AT LEAST TWICE TO INSURE THAT THE NICARAGUAN FOREIGN MINISTER WOULD BE ABLE TO ATTEND. INSTEAD, THE HONDURANS WILL NOW BE GOING TO A PREPARATORY FOREIGN MINISTERS' MEETING IN GUATEMALA, TO BE HELD JUNE 23 AND 24. (IN A SIDE CONVERSATION ONE OF LOPEZ' ADVISERS SAID THAT THE GUATEMALANS HAD AGREED TO THE TELA MEETING, AND THEN FLOATED THEIR OWN INVITATIONS, WITHOUT TELLING HONDURAS. AFTER GETTING ACCEPTANCES, GUATEMALA SPRANG THE NEWS ON THE HONDURANS, WHO FELT THEY HAD TO CANCEL TELA TO AVOID FURTHER SIGNS OF DIVISION.)

7. HEADING INTO THE GUATEMALA MEETING, LOPEZ SAID, HONDURAS IS FACED WITH A MAJOR PROBLEM -- THAT THE ARIAS

PLAN IS IN MANY RESPECTS MORE TROUBLESOME THAN THE CONTADORA DRAFT. FURTHERMORE, ARIAS HAS RESISTED ANY EFFORTS TO CHANGE IT. HABIB NOTED THAT THE COSTA RICAN FOREIGN MINISTRY HAD COME UP WITH A MORE RECENT MODIFIED DRAFT, WHICH HAD BEEN CIRCULATED, BUT THEN DISAVOWED BY ARIAS. ONE OF LOPEZ' ADVISERS CONFIRMED THAT THE HONDURAN MFA HAD BEEN GIVEN A COPY OF THE REVISED COSTA RICAN DRAFT, BUT SAID THAT THEY HAD NEVER BEEN TOLD THAT IT HAD BEEN REPUDIATED.

8. AMBASSADOR HABIB ASKED LOPEZ IF INDEED THE GUATEMALA SUMMIT PRODUCED NO AGREEMENT, WHAT SHOULD THE NEXT STEP. LOPEZ REPLIED FIRMLY THAT THE TASK WOULD BE TO DRAW UP ANOTHER PROPOSAL, WHICH WOULD BE MORE CREDIBLE AND COORDINATED IN ADVANCE AMONG THE INTERESTED PARTIES. HE MADE CLEAR THAT HE THOUGHT ANY NEW EFFORT SHOULD DEFINITELY BE COORDINATED WITH THE UNITED STATES. HABIB SAID HE THOUGHT THIS WAS AN EXCELLENT APPROACH, AND ASKED THAT SPECIAL NOTE BE TAKEN OF IT IN THE REPORTING MESSAGE. AMBASSADOR HABIB ADDED THAT THE CENTRAL AMERICANS DID NOT NECESSARILY NEED TO GIVE UP THE CONTADORA WORK. SOME OF IT WAS INDEED VERY VALUABLE, AND THE CENTRAL AMERICANS MIGHT WANT TO GO BACK TO IT OR USE PARTS OF IT AT SOME TIME IN THE FUTURE. IT COULD BE HELD IN RESERVE.

UNCLASSIFIED

9. AMBASSADOR HABIB REMINDED LOPEZ THAT THE WORLD PRESS WOULD BE PRESENT IN FORCE FOR THE GUATEMALA SUMMIT. THE CENTRAL AMERICANS NEEDED TO THINK IN ADVANCE HOW THEY WOULD HANDLE THE PRESS. ONE OF THE FOREIGN MINSTERS WOULD HAVE TO BE APPOINTED AS SPOKESMAN, MAYBE LOPEZ HIMSELF. FOREIGN PRESS ATTENTION WILL BE FOCUSED PARTICULARLY ON NICARAGUA'S ORTEGA AND COSTA RICA'S

ARIAS, SO IT WILL BE ALL THE MORE IMPORTANT TO HAVE THE CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRATIC LEADERS SPEAK WITH ONE VOICE. HABIB ALSO SAID THAT THERE WILL BE MANY PRIVATE INTEREST GROUPS, AND MAYBE EVEN SOME MEMBERS OF THE U.S. CONGRESS. THOUGHT HAS TO BE GIVEN TO DEALING WITH THEM. LOPEZ SAID HE WOULD BE WILLING TO SERVE AS CENTRAL AMERICAN SPOKESMAN AT GUATEMALA.

10. LOPEZ SAID THAT ANOTHER OF THE THINGS THAT CONCERNS HONDURAS IS THE TENDENCY OF SOME TO TRY TO TRADE POLITICAL AND SECURITY GUARANTEES. THESE ARE NOT COMPATIBLE, AT LEAST NOT IN HONDURAS' VIEW. IT IT NOT A GOOD TACTIC TO OFFER TO TRADE DECREASED AID TO THE CONTRAS IN EXCHANGE FOR CERTAIN INTERNAL STEPS IN NICARAGUA. HONDURAS WOULD LIKE TO SEE A CHANGE IN NICARAGUA'S SECURITY RELATIONS, SO CHANGES IN THE PRESSURE FELT BY NICARAGUA SHOULD BE IN EXCHANGE FOR A CHANGE IN ITS SECURITY RELATIONSHIP.

UNCLASSIFIED

11. AMBASSADOR HABIB REPLIED THAT IT IS NEVERTHELESS EXTREMELY IMPORTANT THAT THE SANDINISTAS BE COMPELLED TO ACCEPT THE PROPOSITION THAT THEIR INTERNAL ARRANGEMENTS ARE UP FOR DISCUSSION IN THE GUATEMALA SUMMIT. ORTEGA MADE A SPEECH OVER THE WEEKEND SAYING THAT INTERNAL ARRANGEMENTS COULD NOT BE A SUBJECT OF NEGOTIATION. FOR THIS REASON, OUR AMBASSADOR IN NICARAGUA BELIEVES THAT THE NICARAGUANS WILL NOT BE ABLE TO MAKE ANY COMMITMENT AT GUATEMALA WHICH OBLIGATES THEM TO MAKE INTERNAL CHANGES. HABIB SAID HE DID NOT FEEL ENTIRELY CONVINCED ABOUT THIS POINT.

12. REFERRING TO SECURITY GUARANTEES, HABIB TOLD LOPEZ THAT SHORTLY BEFORE LEAVING WASHINGTON ON THIS LATEST TRIP, HE ASKED THE ANALYSTS TO GIVE HIM AN ASSESSMENT OF SOVIET COMMITMENTS TO NICARAGUA. HE HAD BEEN TOLD THAT THE SOVIETS HAVE FULFILLED THEIR OIL DELIVERY PLEDGES TO NICARAGUA. THE RECENT RUMORS ABOUT THE SOVIETS BEING UNWILLING TO MEET NICARAGUA'S ENERGY NEEDS ARE MORE LIKELY A SOVIET REFUSAL TO INCREASE DELIVERIES TO NICARAGUA, NOT A RETREAT FROM THEIR WRITTEN COMMITMENT. OUR ANALYSTS BELIEVE THAT THE NICARAGUANS HAVE ONLY ABOUT A 30-DAY SUPPLY OF CRUDE ON HAND.

13. DAS WALKER NOTED THAT HE HAD BEEN HEARING ANOTHER THEORY AS WELL -- THAT THE EFFORT TO PORTRAY SOVIET-NICARAGUAN FRICTIONS OVER OIL DELIVERIES WAS A CALCULATED EFFORT TO SHOW NICARAGUAN DIFFERENCES WITH THE SOVIETS IN ADVANCE OF THE GUATEMALA SUMMIT, HOPING TO GENERATE SYMPATHY FOR NICARAGUAN INDEPENDENCE FROM THE SOVIETS. HABIB SCOFFED A REPORTS THAT COUNTRIES LIKE MEXICO AND PERU WOULD BE ABLE TO OFFER MAJOR PETROLEUM ASSISTANCE TO THE NICARAGUANS.

THE GOAL IS TO HAVE A STEADY BUT GRADUAL INCREASE IN THE NUMBER AND IMPACT OF RESISTANCE FIGHTERS IN NICARAGUA THIS YEAR, WHICH IS BEING ACHIEVED. CONFIDENTIAL
Official/Informal

The Honorable
Vernon A. Walters
U.S. Permanent Representative to the United Nations
New York, New York

Dear Ambassador Walters:

I am writing to express my concern regarding comments about Chile included in Ambassador Byrne's May 19, uncleared statement to the ECOSOC on the recent session of the United Nations Human Rights Commission (UNHRC). Regrettably, the statement (USUN 1393) presents an incomplete and therefore unbalanced picture of the human rights situation in Chile, to the detriment of US policy toward that country. This incident recalls the unfortunate situation which developed last year, when references critical of Chile's human rights situation were omitted from the cleared text of an explanation of vote provided by the Department to be used in connection with the US "no" vote on the Chile resolution in the General Assembly.

In order to ensure that the US Government speaks with one voice and maintains credibility, it is unfortunate that the May 19 comments on Chile were not cleared in advance with the Bureau of Inter-American Affairs or the Bureau of Human Rights and Humanitarian Affairs. It is important that such major policy statements on such an important aspect of US policy toward Chile fully reflect the latest official USG assessment, which is readily available in the February 1987 State Department Human Rights Report. This document provides the best source of policy guidance, and is fully vetted by concerned executive branch offices. In preparation of the May 19 statement, my staff would have been pleased to assist in updating the information in that report.

As you know, we have worked vigorously to obtain more balanced consideration of the Chilean human rights situation in international fora, with considerable success. We joined consensus this year on the Chile resolution in the UNHRC after obtaining important revisions to the text circulated by Mexico. The consensus text adopted at Geneva took note of areas where the Chilean government has taken some steps to address human rights concerns. It reflected greater recognition of anti-government terrorist violence by deploring violence from all sides.

DECLASSIFIED

That resolution also highlighted areas of continuing USG concern--among these, very serious abuses against individuals such as: cases of torture by government security forces; the failure of the government or the judiciary to punish officials responsible for human rights abuses against government political opponents; the maintenance of political exile, despite recent reductions; and failure to put an end to death-squad type activities by private groups which may have links to government security forces.

While there have been some positive steps in recent months, serious problem areas remain and have been amply documented in the State Department Human Rights reports and in the reports of the UN Special Rapporteur for Chile, Mr. Volio. The May 19 statement, however, by attacking at length UN treatment of Chile while avoiding specificity on continuing human rights abuses, seemed to dismiss UNHRC criticism of human rights violations in Chile as misguided--"a means to unleash abuse" on the Chilean Government.

Not surprisingly, the May 19 statement has already spawned considerable press speculation in Chile concerning "policy differences" in Washington. I am sure you appreciate the challenge we face in implementing the President's policy of encouraging a peaceful transition to democracy and human rights improvements in Chile. Actions that, even inadvertantly, encourage the belief that there is more than one US policy toward Chile complicate this already difficult task.

I fully share your frustration with the hypocracy of those quick to criticize Chile, but silent concerning horrendous human rights abuses in Cuba. If we are, however, to persuade our democratic Latin friends to conform to a single standard, and join with us to condemn Cuba, then we must be consistently evenhanded and set an example ourselves in speaking out against human rights abuses, wherever they occur. With regard to Chile, under current circumstances, that entails more than the mild criticism of human rights violations contained in the May 19 statement.

As the constitutional deadline approaches for a plebiscite on a presidential candidate to be selected by Chile's military junta, the period ahead in Chile will be especially critical. Faced with General Pinochet's apparent presidential ambitions to be elected via a plebiscite for eight more years, we can anticipate greater polarization in Chile. In addition, strong pressures are building in our Congress for more forceful US actions, such as the economic sanctions legislation already introduced in both houses of Congress. To avoid having counterproductive policies imposed on us, it is more critical than before that we implement a clear and consistent US policy in favor of a peaceful transition to full democracy and increased respect for human rights. Actions which cause confusion about our policy or call into question our credibility or seriousness of purpose, will only play into the hands of those critics of Administration policy who deliberately seek to distance the United States further from Chile, making it more difficult to protect important US interests.

I know that you share many of my concerns about the future of US-Chilean relations and the need for a credible and balanced policy. In this spirit I hope that we can work closely together to ensure that the US votes in favor of passage of accurate and acceptable resolutions on both Chile and Cuba at the General Assembly this fall. I am convinced that we can do better in terms of Latin support for our Cuba effort, which will benefit from our speaking out clearly on abuses in Chile as well. In the meantime, I look forward to close cooperation and coordination, to include ensuring that public statements on Chile are properly cleared with all appropriate State Department bureaus and accurately reflect US policy.

Sincerely yours,

Elliott Abrams

INTRODUCTION

From May, 1983, Chile has witnessed an increasing amount of violent acts, affecting the physical safety and the basic needs of the people. These acts, whose characteristics differ from those of common-law crime, were systematically studied as expressions of an underlying social phenomenon or process which we have called terrorism. The period under study extends from 1983 to 1986. It begins at the time of the peaceful protests in May, 1983, and ends with the assassination attempt against the President in September, 1986.

The theoretical framework for this study is provided by the Social Body Theory(1). This sociological theory basically interprets the terrorist phenomenon by its effects at the individual and societal level. At the individual level, it exacerbates human behavior, creating factors of uncertainty, anxiety and fear. At the societal level, it generates factors of tension among the population, affecting the primary conditions of the stability of the Social Body.

This study of the terrorist phenomenon emphasizes the quantitative aspects of the problem, designs methods for data analysis and defines regularities shown by the expressions of terrorist behavior, in both its temporal and its geographic dimension.

UNCLASSIFIED

The terrorist behavior patterns inferred from the regularities observed in Chile provide a scientific basis supporting the hypothesis that it obeys to a planned action, included in a psycho-policy of destabilization of the Social Body.

A. THE PROBLEM OF TERRORISM

The development of terrorist activities in Chile during the period under study (May 1983-September 1986) shows certain characteristics and regularities in its dangerousness.

The frequency and magnitude observed in the occurrence of events, as well as their relationship with the circumstances under which they happen, allow to assume that the terrorist phenomenon represents a set of planned actions, obeying to a strategy of destabilization of the current political regime.

The degree of dangerousness of terrorist activities between July and September, 1986, made explicit by the number and magnitude of the acts, as well as by the discovery of arm caches and the assassination attempt against the President, confirm the feasibility of the above stated theory.

B. CHARACTERISTICS OF TERRORISM

Terrorism as a social phenomenon shows recurring aspects related to the following sociologic considerations:

1. PARAMILITARY ORGANIZATION

Terrorist activities are carried out by groups of civilians organized on the basis of military indoctrination of commandos, which resort to hiding and surprise as a fighting method.

2. FOCALIZED ACTION

Terrorist activity is preferably performed in densely populated urban centers and especially in the cities concentrating political power.

3. PUBLIC SHOCK

Terrorist activities, representing armed propaganda, seek to cause an impact on the public, through the anxiety, fear and uncertainty factors they generate, by affecting the physical safety of persons and/or their basic needs.

4. DESTABILIZING OBJECTIVE

Terrorist activities, as a psychopolitical instrument of violence, aim at the instability of the social body, affecting the economic foundation, the social structure and the political system.

DEFINITION OF TERRORISM

Terrorism consists in violent acts carried out by paramilitary groups through hiding and surprise, against the physical safety of people and their basic needs. Such acts cause a public shock effect, preferably in urban centers, aimed at provoking economic, social and political destabilization.

C. CONCEPTS ASSOCIATED WITH TERRORISM

1. PSYCHO-POLICY

It is a strategy designed to destabilize the social body, affecting its Preservation, Integration and Development functions, through Disinformation.

2. DISINFORMATION

It corresponds to planned actions designed to distort reality through the manipulation of information: ommitting, altering or emphasizing those aspects that allow to condition social behavior by means of a distorted perception of events.

3. POLITICAL ACTIVISM

Legal or illegal acts, without causing injuries to third parties, that promote Social Mobilization in order to destabilize the political regime.

4. YELLOW TERRORISM

Violent acts which, by affecting the meeting of the people's basic needs aim at conditioning their behavior by interfering with the normal activities of individuals.

5. RED TERRORISM

Violent acts which, by endangering the physical safety of individuals and of the population as a whole, aim at creating a loss of the State of Law in the perception of events.

D. A HYPOTHESIS ON TERRORISM

In general terms, the terrorist behavior observed in Chile during the 1983-1986 period corresponds to a planned action, in both time and space dimensions, designed to destabilize the current political regime.

E. VARIABLES OF THE PROBLEM

TERRORIST BEHAVIOR AND PLANNED ACTION are identified as variables of this Hypothesis.

1. OPERATIONALIZATION OF VARIABLES

a. TERRORIST BEHAVIOR VARIABLE

This variable is broken down into two categories whose corresponding indicators operationalize the effect of Terrorism on the population (Yellow Terrorism) or on the physical safety of the people (Red Terrorism).

1) YELLOW TERRORISM INDICATORS

a) ATTACKS USING EXPLOSIVES

This indicator records the number of sabotage acts using explosives against public or private property or services, without casualties.

b) GENERAL SABOTAGE

This indicator records the number of sabotage acts using incendiary or other devices, against public or private property and services, without casualties.

2) RED TERRORISM INDICATORS

a) ARMED ATTACKS

This indicator records the number of acts in which the affected are threatened with firearms or other elements.

b) SELECTIVE ATTACKS OR KIDNAPPINGS

This indicator records the number of attacks or attempted attacks and kidnappings selectively affecting certain individuals among the population.

c) DEATH OR SERIOUS INJURY

This indicator records the numbers of victims of firearms in those events that do not represent common-law crimes.

9..

d) SIGNIFICANT SABOTAGE

This indicator records the number of sabotage acts causing great public shock, due to their indiscriminate effect on the safety of people or to considerable damage to public property or services of the community.

1B) PLANNED ACTION VARIABLE

1B. The operationalization of this variable is broken down into time and space dimensions.

a) Regarding the time dimension, the TIME SERIES models will be used to determine the Trend, Periodicity and Seasonality in the occurrence of terrorist acts.

b) As to the space dimension, the focusing of terrorist acts will be analyzed according to their geographical distribution with respect to the Urban Population Density in each region, within the administrative-political division of the country.

2) The time and space distribution of the events identified as terrorist acts will be concretely operationalized based on the following indicators:

a) CHRONOLOGICAL INDICATORS

PERIODICITY OF TERRORISM

This indicator registers the sequential feature of maximum and minimum values in the occurrence of terrorist acts during the annual cycle.

SEASONALITY OF TERRORISM

This indicator registers the repeating fluctuations of terrorist acts in stages determined by their significant variations within the annual cycle.

UNCLASSIFIED

TREND OF TERRORISM

This indicator registers variation ranges in the frequency of terrorist acts with respect to monthly average levels.

b) GEOGRAPHIC INDICATOR:

FOCALIZATION OF TERRORISM

This indicator shows the distribution of terrorist activities by regions, as related to the urban population density.

2. SCOPE OF THE STUDY

The Data Base under consideration corresponds to the Universe of actions typified as terrorism by the above indicators, and having occurred in Chile between May, 1983, and September, 1986.

3. DATA COLLECTION

The instruments employed to identify terrorist acts correspond to the police reports of subversive events furnished daily by Carabineros de Chile, as well as the Domestic Government reports issued weekly by the Regional Intendancies. They record subversive acts and instability, respectively, according to the codification specified for the corresponding formats.

4. DATA PROCESSING

The methods used, based on data collection, include the following stages:

a. Identification of subversive acts according to criteria specified in the terrorism indicators.

b. Collation of data issued by Carabineros de Chile and the Regional Intendancies.

c. Quantification and recording of terrorist acts in monthly summary tables and by regions, filed in the Data Base.

d. Charting of data in monthly bar histograms and frequency polygons of terrorist acts; herein included in this paper.

F. STATISTICAL ANALYSIS OF TERRORIST BEHAVIOR

1. PERIODICITY OF TERRORISM

a. The variability of the frequency of terrorist acts in different years shows a similarity regarding the months in which the maximum and minimum values occur.

b. The Frequency of Terrorist Acts Curves for 1983, 1984, 1985 and 1986 graphically show the following cyclical characteristics:

- Beginning with intermediate values of terrorist acts during the first months of the year, starting in March (GESTATION).

- Highest degree of terrorist activities halfway through the second semester (MATURITY).

- End of terrorist activities with a minimum number of acts at the end of each year, during the summer months (DEGRADATION).

CHRONOLOGICAL CHARTS OF TERRORIST BEHAVIOR

Frequency of Terrorist Acts recorded in 1983,

c. The cycle pattern inferred from the curves allows to define the existence of stages from now on referred to as:

Gestation Stage (G)

Maturity Stage (M)

Degradation Stage (D)

d. The cyclic pattern of Terrorist Behavior inferred from each annual curve may not be seasonally correlated in a rigid manner, since Planned Action becomes flexible according to the opportunities offered by the environment and the context of occurrence. Thus, the duration of the Gestation, Maturity or Degradation stages varies according to the destabilizing effect expected.

d. When the expected values of terrorist behavior are contrasted with the real values registered in the said year, a coincidence may be appreciated whereof the minimum margin of error in prediction grants a high degree of reliability which confirms the existence of a planned action in the progressive increase of violence.

4. FOCALIZATION OF TERRORISM

Focalization of Terrorism was studied taking into account the geographical distribution, by regions, of the urban population and from the total of terrorist acts occurred during the 1983-1986 period.

In the following table regional values for the urban population are registered (in tens of thousands of inhabitants) and the total of terrorist acts occurred during the 1983-1986 period.

The graphic comparison of the following histograms suggests the existence of a strong association between terrorist behavior and the urban population of the region.

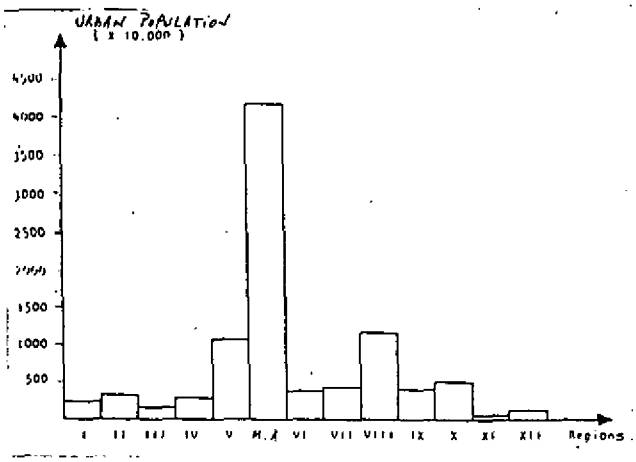
REGIONAL DISTRIBUTION OF URBAN POPULATION



Statistical Analysis of the Focalization of Terrorism

To determine the degree of association between the total of terrorist acts occurred in every region during the 1983 - 1986 period and its urban population, Pearson's coefficient of correlation 'r' between these two variables was computed. The high value obtained for this coefficient ($r = 0.995$) indicates the existence of an almost perfect correlation between them, wherewith the association suggested by the histograms of Paragraph C is proved. That is to say, TERRORIST ACTION IS ASSOCIATED WITH THE URBAN POPULATION OF THE REGION.

Focalization of Red and Yellow Terrorism

In the following table regional values for the urban population and the total acts of Yellow and Red Terrorism occurred during the 1983-1986 period are registered:

Both Red Terrorism and Yellow Terrorism are highly correlated with the regional urban population(with coefficients of correlation of 0.98 and 0.99, respectively).

5. INTENSITY IN THE FOCALIZATION OF TERRORISM

a. The analysis of the geographic focalization of Terrorism proved that THERE EXISTS AN ALMOST

-25-

PERFECT CORRELATION BETWEEN THE TOTAL NUMBER OF TERRORIST ACTS, OCCURRED DURING THE 1983-1986 PERIOD AND THE URBAN POPULATION OF THE REGION. This result confirms the hypothesis that terrorism is focalized in the regions of larger urban population.

b. In order to analyze the differences between regions, concerning terrorist activity per urban population, for each region the INDEX OF INTENSITY OF TERRORIST ACTION or simply the INTENSITY OF TERRORISM was defined (1) as the quotient between the total number of terrorist acts occurred during the 1983-1986 period and the urban population, set forth in tens of thousands of inhabitants. That is, intensity of terrorism (1) indicates the average number of terrorist acts occurred in the region during the considered period for every 10,000 of its urban inhabitants.

c. For the purposes of this analysis the following variables for each region and for the 1983-1986 period have been taken into account:

P = Urban Population (set forth in tens of thousands inhabitants)

R = Total Acts of Red Terrorism

Y = Total Acts of Yellow Terrorism

f. Quantitative Analysis:

Given that in every region the number of Red Terrorist Acts has been smaller than the number of Yellow Terrorist Acts (R/Y), the corresponding Intensity of Red Terrorism is smaller than the Intensity of Yellow Terrorism (1 (R) 1 (Y)).

Three groups of regions may be distinguished in terms of the INTENSITY OF RED TERRORISM, as indicated in the following table:

LEVELS OF INTENSITY OF RED TERRORISM

(1983-1986)

LEVELS OF INTENSITY	R E G I O N S	1(R) AVERAGE
LOW	II, IV, VI, VII, IX, X, XI	0.30
MEDIUM	I, III, V, VIII, XII	1.08
HIGH	METROPOLITAN AREA	2.99

It must be pointed out that the INTENSITY OF RED TERRORISM IN THE METROPOLITAN AREA IS APPROXIMATELY THREE TIMES HIGHER THAN THE AVERAGE OF THE REGIONS of the category of a medium level.

Three groups of regions may also be distinguished in terms of the Intensity of YELLOW TERRORISM, as indicated in the following table:

LOW	II, VII, IX, X, XI	3.17
MEDIUM	III, IV, V, M. A., VI,VIII	6.37
HIGH	I, XII	10.77

For most of the regions, the level of intensity of Red Terrorism corresponds to the same level of Yellow Terrorism. Exceptions to this pattern are the following:

- The utmost regions of the country, the First and the Twelfth, show a medium intensity of Red Terrorism but a high intensity of Yellow Terrorism.
- The nearest regions to the Metropolitan Area -, the Fourth and the Sixth, show a low intensity of Red Terrorism but a medium intensity of Yellow Terrorism.
- For the Metropolitan Area, the level of intensity of Red Terrorism is high while Yellow Terrorism shows a medium intensity.

In all the cases, with the sole exception of the Metropolitan Area, the level of regional intensity of Red Terrorism is the same or lower in one category than the level of intensity of Yellow Terrorism, as indi-

G. CONCLUSIONS RAISED FROM THE ANALYSIS OF THE TERRORIST BEHAVIOR

Pattern

1.- The analysis of the terrorist behavior, based on its time-space variability, makes it possible to infer regularities shown within a characteristic pattern of: Periodicity, Seasonality, Trend and Focalization, WHICH CONFIRMS THE INITIAL HYPOTHESIS OF THIS STUDY: THAT TERRORIST IS THE RESULT OF A PLANNED ACTION

Cycles.-

2.- The PERIODICITY of the Terrorist Behavior shows an annual cyclic regularity, having minimum and maximum degrees of activity which make up a characteristic pattern repeated in: a PHASE OF GESTATION, of increase in violence, a PHASE OF MATURITY, of maximum activity, and a PHASE OF DEGRADATION, with a decrease in terrorist activity.

Seasonality

3.- The periodicity of the Terrorist Behavior shows a coincidence with certain periods of the year, giving this phenomenon a TYPICAL SEASONALITY which normally covers the months of March to August, for the Phase of

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

Gestation, the months of September to November, for the Phase of Maturity, and the months of December to February, for the Phase of Degradation.

Trend

4.- The TREND observed in the terrorist behavior shows a progressive increase in the demonstration of violence; thus, in the period comprising the years 1983 to 1986, each annual cycle shows an increase of acts in relation to the previous year, which may be predicted by means of the statistical regression method.

Focalization

5.- The GEOGRAPHICAL FOCALIZATION of the Terrorist Behavior shows an almost perfect correlation (0.99) with the urban population density.

The analysis of focalization of Terrorism in Chile during the 1983-1986 period suggests that it has been selective, because in certain regions (I, IV, Metropolitan Area, VI and XII Regions),one type of terrorism has been more intensely used than the other.

Dangerousness

The DEGREE OF DANGEROUSNESS resulting from acts of Red

UNCLASSIFIED

-- 33 --

Terrorism reaches its highest ratio in the the Metropolitan Area; and it is geographically distributed alternatively troughout the territory in regions I, III, V, Metropolitan Area, VIII and XII Regions, producing a homogeneous effect on its dangerousness.

From the above, it may be inferred that TERRORISM MUST BE UNDERSTOOD AS A PSYCHOPOLITICAL INSTRUMENT based on violence which seeks the destabilization of the Social Body.

This social phenomenon may be studied systematically and its explanation may be found in the approach of the theory of the Social Body (Marinovic 1986).

Basically, said sociological theory interprets the terrorist phenomenon on the basis of its effect on the individual and societal level. At the individual level, it exacerbates the human behavior, creating factors of uncertainty, anxiety and fear, and conditioning it in its most unstable degree. At the societal level, terrorism generates factors of Social Tension, affecting the primary conditions of social stability, produced by SECURITY, SOLIDARITY and PROGRESS.

7.- Targets of Terrorism

Psychopolitical targets of terrorism, as they appear from the Theory of the Social Body are the following:

The first target is the civil population. It aims at conditioning the perception of facts, creating an atmosphere of social uncertainty in order to generate social tension, which based upon political activism, promotes mobilization

Second target: Authority. It aims at causing the government organs to take measures of social control, subject to manipulation as a result of a dictatorial regime rather than as the effect of the terrorist action

The Police Forces are the third target. By systematically attacking and exacerbating police officers, it is sought to condition them in their police function, and in keeping public order in a repressive manner.

Finally, the Armed Forces are another target. The military indoctrination of their members is exploited, by leading them to face hostility of an aggression behavior, framed within a struggle strategy.

By means of indirect strategies of psychological war, terrorism and guerrilla warfares seek to mislead and create frustation in the regular forces.

The conclusions raised from the QUANTITATIVE Analysis suggest that terrorism as a planned action, takes good advantage of the democratic system to achieve its destabilizing purposes. The following Phase of the QUALITATIVE Analyis of the terrorist phenomenon shall study its relation with the political activism for the destabilization of the Social Body.

H. PSYCHOPOLITICAL INTERPRETATION OF THE TERRORIST BAHAVIOR.

1.- On the basis of the theory of the Social Body, it is concluded that psychopolicy acts simultaneously at the political level by means of DISINFORMATION and at the level of violence, by means of TERRORISM.

2.- Psychopolicy seeks to affect the function of preservation of the Social Body, acting on its foundations by means of economic instability, which endangers the generation of resources. By creating unemployment and labor uncertainty in the structure of the Social Body as a consequence of the above, psychopolicy seeks to affect its integration function; and thus, the solidarity required by the State in its developmental function.

3.- Instability is achieved by generating Social Tension, which political activism and the terrorist behavior seek to promote by means of social mobilization and acts of violence.

4.- Syptoms of economic destabilization in a Social Body are: the level of unemployment, the inflation index and the operation margin that the State has in the external field as regards the financial management and attraction of resources.

Symptoms of political destabilization in a Social Body are: the political articulation, the labor union articulation and the level of Social Tension generated in connection with the objectives of psychopolicy.

5.- The collapse of the Social Body is achieved by breaking the principle of authority and the atmosphere of ungovernability in its social structure, and by the national paralyzation of the productive activities in its economic base.

6.- The search for the collapse in the Social Field lies within the development of the Crisis process, the steps of which coincide with the phases of Gestation, Maturity and Degradation observed in the terrorist behavior.

7.- The Periodicity of the terrorist behavior is found in the context of the patterns of life and customs of the population, for which reason, the phase of Gestation coincides with the beginning of the school year and the phase of Degradation with the summer vacation period.

UNCLASSIFIED

8.- The seasonality of the terrorist behavior, on the other hand, shows the search for the highest instability of the Social Body in the month of September, for its historical connotation of relevant political events.

9.- The steadily increasing trend recorded in the terrorist behavior between the years 1983 and 1986, evidently shows the search for a collapse of the system. This trend being cyclically regulated by the process of crisis, is ratified by the accumulation of arms caches and ends with the attempted assassination of the President of the Republic.

10.- The coverage of geographical focalization in the terrorist behaviour indicates the attempt to generalize the effect of the political destabilization by selecting the regions where terrorist acts are carried out.

-- 39 --

11.- The dangerousness of Terrorism (resulting from the ratio between Red and Yellow Terrorism) observed during the 1983-1986 period, shows a tactical consideration for the Phase of Degradation in the terrorist behavior which compensates the decrease of intensity with an increase in dangerousness.

12.- The variability in the Intensity of Terrorism (which is observed in the chart of Annex "A") allows to infer that the State of Siege, as a measure of Social Control, does not have an inhibitory effect. This may be proved by the increase of terrorism in the Phase of Gestation of 1985, despite the State of Siege being in force; in addition, the disproportionate increase, contrary to the historical trend recorded in November of the same year in the Phase of Maturity, suggests that terrorism seeks the establishment of the State of Siege. This situation is concurrent with the purposes of psychopolicy, since this measure of Social Control keeps the Social Tension in the Phase of Degradation, and enables its utilization for the Disinformation in the external front.

A Sociological Theory for the Political Analysis and Social Interpretation.

I. INTRODUCTION

The sociological approach of the social reality requires for its interpretation, an internal viewpoint and the knowledge of the principles regulating behavior.

While the vision as a whole situates the observer in a context in which a phenomenon or social expression emerges, human knowledge sensitizes him with respect to the motivational nature of the factors conditioning and generating it.

The social behavior, like water, flows along its natural channels, and it is the function of Social Sciences to perceive these channels and analyse them objectively in their cause-effect relation.

To interpret social reality as a system is to understand it better, and definitely, to get to know it, whereby we can not only follow its processes but also make sure of the possibility to act upon it with a scientific basis.

UNCLASSIFIED

A country, as a Social Body is perceived as a living organism being immersed in an environment of interaction and competing with others for possibilities and resources to subsist, grow and develop.

As a living organism, its main feature is its evolution, and in its process of interaction, it is affected by environmental and technological variables of an economic, social and political nature which impose a process of readaptation and change on the social organization for its integral growth and harmonious development.

As a whole, the Social Body requires physical, and intellectual skills which are primary to the human being and which may qualify him to generate participative and creative behaviors associated with his individual and collective needs of growth and development.

Society as a group is not different in nature from that of the individuals who compose it. In its integral growth and harmonious development, individuals, like countries, require basic safety conditions to preserve them, as well as social solidarity conditions to integrate them and generate the necessary conditions to promote and project their development.

As a survey, the paradigm of the Social Body is inserted in the methodology of Mueller*, who for social interpretaton distinguishes levels or fields of analysis which are related to the energetic, societal and cultural environment and forms of expression contained in one single social reality featured by its external expression, the function that it performs and the theory that explains it.

For the purpose of the analysis, a Social Matrix was created, having as a level of analysis the fields of ENERGY, the STRUCTURE and its FUNCTION, being social dimensions defined in this study and the generic forms of expression thereof given by the forms in which they are materialized.

The criterion for the analysis taken into account when applying the matrix, is based upon the social premise that there is no difference between the phenomena regulating the physical and the social world, and that the inductive method to infer their regularities and laws is the same, and is based on OBSERVATION, ABSTRACTION AND GENERALIZATION.

II.- THE SOCIAL DIMENSIONS.

By SOCIAL Body, I mean the human being and any expression or system which, emerging from the human nature is generated from social interaction, requires resources, and is affected by the environmental variables and the technology conditioning it in its development

As in the physical world, the dimensions defining a body are contained in its length, breadth and height; in the social world, the dimensions containing it are expressed through its ENERGY, STRUCTURE and FUNCTION.

If out of the natural characteristics which are the dimensions of a physical body the notion of lenght, area and volume are derived; then out of the social dimensions, concepts related with the NATURE OF THEIR RESOURCES, THE ARTICULATION OF THEIR FORMS AND THE SENSE OF THEIR ACTION are derived.

UNCLASSIFIED

The dimensions of a Social Body in its energetic, structural and functional expression, make it explicit the human nature generating it, and the surrounding factors that condition it.

THE ENERGETIC DIMENSION

At the individual level, it relates with its vitality, whose energy makes it dynamic and enables its existence as such (child, adolescent, adult, aged people).

At the societal level, the Energetic Dimension becomes explicit through the nature of human, material, financial and technological resources of the organizational system, which dynamize the body enabling its existence and purpose of its role (animal, mechanical, electrical, aerobic, nuclear system etc.)

THE STRUCTURAL DIMENSION

At the individual level, it is related to the forms identifying the individual and articulating him in the context of his interaction (osseous, anatomical development; and systems of ethical, philosophical and religious values).

-- 45 --

At the societal level, the Structural Dimension is expressed through the mechanisms of coordination that articulate the body, group or system among their parts, and the value postulates relating them with the environment (organizational systems of formal and informal nature: institutions, enterprises, associations and communities, etc.)

THE FUNCTIONAL DIMENSION

At the individual level, it is related to the individual behavior and the motivational facts which give sense and a purpose or role to the action (father, son, student, policeman, priest, merchant, etc.).

At the societal level, the Functional Dimension becomes explicit through the societal objectives or roles seeking organization (health, education, security, transport, etc.).

III. SOCIAL MATRIX OF ANALYSIS

Mueller's methodology for social interpretation makes a difference between Fields of Analysis and Forms of Expression.

UNCLASSIFIED

-- 46 --

The Fields of Analysis are related to the Energetic, Societal and Cultural scopes, and their Forms of Expression are related to what may be Observed, Sought and Theoretical, as well as the social expressions as a structural set, and they explain the Social phenomenon.

After defining the Social Dimensions according to their Energy, Structure and Function, it is possible to deduce by analogy to Mueller's Method, that in the energetic, structural and functional scope, they generate fields of analysis that, at their respective level, may find forms of expression through what can be observed, sought and theoretical.

The Social Dimensions and their forms of expression make up the Social Matrix of Analysis that explain a social phenomenon and give a consistent analytical base for its scientific interpretation.

The Social Phenomenon in its forms of expression involves an external demonstration which is sensitive to observation, and in its respective energetic, structural and functional dimension make it explicit the nature of their resources, the articulation of their forms and the sense of their role.

ANALYSIS OF HUMAN BEHAVIOR

Once the social dimensions are defined and the Social Matrix of Analysis is established, we may interpret human behavior from an integral systematized point of view.

UNCLASSIFIED

MATRIX OF BEHAVIOR ANALYSIS

SOCIAL BEHAVIOR	WHAT IS OBSERVED	WHAT IS SOUGHT	THEORETICAL VIEWPOINT
LEVELS OF ANALYSIS	ACTION	INTERACTION	BEHAVIOR
FUNCTIONAL	REASON	DEVELOPMENT	RATIONAL ORGANIZED
STRUCTURAL	FEELING	INTEGRATION	AFFECTIVE CONDITIONED
ENERGETIC	INSTINCTS	PRESERVATION	BIOLOGICAL TENDENTIAL

From the energetic, structural and functional dimension of the fields of analysis, we may infer the types of behavior which, at their respective level, are associated with a BIOLOGICAL, AFFECTIVE or RATIONAL response, depending on how instincts, feelings or reasoning prevail upon it.

IV.- DIMENSIONS OF BEHAVIOR

1. THE ENERGETIC DIMENSION

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

In its energetic dimension, behavior is related to the physical constitution of the individual, which associated with the biological level, seeks to satisfy needs of preservation, inherent to its organic nature.

At this level, since factors of a biopsychical nature related to the existence of the human being and its preservation prevail in human behavior, it, being motivated by instincts, is expressed in a BIOLOGICAL-TENDENTIAL manner.

From the point of view of the stability of behavior, since needs of preservation which are vital to the individual are satisfied, at this level, Biological-Tendential manifestation involves the highest degree of social instability.

2.- THE STRUCTURAL DIMENSION

In its structural dimension, behavior is related to the emotional scope which, associated with the affective level, seeks to satisfy needs of integration, inherent to its human nature.

UNCLASSIFIED

At this level, because in behavior motivational factors of a psycho-social nature related to the perception of facts and to the system of values of the individual, group or system prevail, the individual and societal behavior becomes subjected to the motivational factors that condition it, expressing itself as such in an AFFECTIVE-CONDITIONED manner.

At a second level, as it satisfies needs of integration, behavior involves motivational aspects of a psycho-social nature; the stability of which is subject to the factors conditioning it.

3. THE FUNCTIONAL DIMENSION

In its functional dimension, behavior is related to the individual's intelectual sphere which, associated with a rational level and in an organized manner, seeks to satisfy the needs of development emerging from its social nature at the affective scope and those emerging from its organic nature, at the biological scope.

At this level, because in behavior, motivational factors of a social-cultural nature prevail, related to the rationality of the human being and with the system of values which identify him with his group or system, behavior involves in an organized, rational manner, cultural factors that explain the individual or societal degree of development.

From the point of view of the stability of behavior on a third hierarchical level, the individual and societal behavior - culturally expressed in a Rational-Organized manner - involves life-styles and habits which make it predictable and hence grant to behavior the highest degree of social stability.

DEGREES OF STABILITY OF BEHAVIOR

	INSTINCTS	FEELINGS	REASON
UNSTABLE	INSTINCTIVE TENDENTIAL	AFFECTIVE CONDITIONED	RATIONAL ORGANIZED	STABLE

Human behavior, as a process emerging from social interaction, may be sensed in a continuum of stability, conditioned by motivational factors generating it, shifting from what is stable to what is unstable as reason, feelings or instincts prevail in its action. The motivational factors by which it is conditioned are of a bio-psychical, psycho-social and sociocultural nature and they appear respectively at the individual's physical, psychical and intellectual level.

UNCLASSIFIED

V. PRIMARY FUNCTIONS OF BEHAVIOR

From the Social Matrix of Analysis in its sought Expression, we may conclude that all individuals, groups or systems, in their condition of being a Social Body and in their respective dimension, seek to preserve, integrate and develop themselves.

Said functions, which I define as Primary Functions of the Social Body are consubstantial to human nature and, as such, are present in the social reality.

The Primary Functions of a Social Body seek to satisfy individual and collective needs of the human being which emerge from his organic and social condition and are basic for the individual and societal development.

A.- THE FUNCTION OF PRESERVATION

UNCLASSIFIED

-- 53 --

As a primary activity of the individual, group or system in their energetical dimension, the function of preservation is related to the satisfaction of energetical needs that activate them and are vital for their existence.

At the individual level, the Primary Function of Preservation seeks to satisfy biological needs derived from the organic nature and which are basic for his existence.

At the societal level, the Primary Function of Preservation is related to the survival of the body or system which, as an organizational system, requires a minimum of resources and energy for the achievement of its objectives, that will allow to secure the assignment of its role.

At the societal level, the theoretical expression of the function of preservation becomes materialized in the ECONOMIC SYSTEM OF THE SOCIAL BODY.

At both levels, the Function of Preservation requires the primary condition of Security to insure the existence of the Social Body and to allow the generation of behaviors related to their growth and individual and/or societal development.

UNCLASSIFIED

B.- THE FUNCTION OF INTEGRATION

As a primary activity of the individual, group or system, in their structural dimension, the function of integration is related to the satisfaction of needs of structuration and articulation which, in the process of social interaction, are basic for their growth and development.

At the individual level the Primary Function of Integration seeks to satisfy affective needs derived from the social nature of the individual and from his system of values which, in the process of interaction, leads him to become associated with others and to develop a sense of belonging.

As a primary function, integration involves an identification of values that structures the individual with his group or system.

At the Societal Level, the Primary Function of Integration is related to the mechanisms of articulation of the Social Body and to the structural components of the organization with which its system of norms identify, shape and provide themselves with cohesiveness.

UNCLASSIFIED

At the societal level, the theoretical expression of the Function of Integration materializes in the PSYCHO-SOCIAL SYSTEM OF THE SOCIAL BODY.

At both levels, the Function of Integration requires the primary conditions of Solidarity by which the body or system is articulated and that makes it possible its social interaction.

C.- THE FUNCTION OF DEVELOPMENT

As a primary activity of the individual, group or system it is related in its functional dimension with the attainment of objectives and assignments of its role which grant a sense or "raison d'être" to the action of the individual, group or system.

At the individual level, the Function of Development leads the individual to, in an organized manner, satisfy by himself or together with his group, the needs which at the objective and subjective level are derived from the primary functions of preservation and integration.

UNCLASSIFIED

The Primary Function of Development involves a degree of rationality or system of values in the nature of its action that conditions the individual in the rational and creative use of his resources which, made compatible with values and norms of his group or system, shape a lifestile and habits that characterize the individual and his culture.

At the societal level, the Primary Function of Development seeks to satisfy the needs of readaptation and changes derived from the environment and from technology.

As a cultural expression, the Function of Development is given by the capability of the organization to become adapted to the variables of the environment and, in a timely manner, incorporate scientific and technological breakthroughs that are a consequence of the surroundings in which the individual, group or system are immersed.

UNCLASSIFIED

-- 57 --

In its theoretical expression, this function is shaped in the Cultural-Political System of the Social Body.

At both levels, the function of development requires the primary condition of progress which, generated as a consequence of the readaptation process of the variables of the surroundings, promotes the dynamic balance to secure integral growth and harmonic development of the individual, group or system and by means of that way, the stability of the Social Body.

ANALYSIS OF THE SOCIAL REALITY

Once the Primary Functions of the individual, group or system are identified, we may observe that as Social Bodies, systems require for their stability primary conditions of Security to preserve them, Social Solidarity to integrate them and Progress to develop them.

Social stability is then sensed as a consequence of the condition of dynamic balance resulting from the satisfaction of primary needs of an individual and collective nature and which are basic for the integral growth and harmonic development of the individual, group or system.

UNCLASSIFIED

Within this context, the State, as a Social Body, generates the Primary Institutions of which the role is to seek for the primary conditions of social stability.

The Matrix of Analysis of the social reality in its energetic, structural and functional dimensions allows us to visualize the States as a theoretical expression of the countries which, in the observed reality, distinctively express the nature of their resources, population and governments.

ANALYSIS OF SOCIAL TENSION

When, due to incompetence of the System, the primary needs of Preservation, Integration and Development are not satisfied, the Social Body is thereby negatively affected in its conditions of stability (Security, Solidarity and Progress). Disfunctional behaviors to the System are then generated, which, in a rational-organized, affective-conditioned or biological-tendential manner seek to change the established order, distinctly expressing the climate of Social Tension.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

As Reason, Feelings or Instincts prevail in the action, climates of social tension are generated in a social context which I respectively define as INSTABILITY, AGITATION and VIOLENCE.

A.- CLIMATE OF INSTABILITY

In its forms of expression, Social Stability is featured by a social context in which individuals seek to solve their problems in harmony and a rational-organized manner.

A climate of Instability is generated when internal or external variables threaten the Primary Functions of Preservation, Integration and Development and, in the social context, when the Primary Conditions of Security, Solidarity and Progress of the System are seriously affected.

As a process, the climate of instability develops within the legal limits established by the social organization or system; it is rationally expressed through petitions and legal actions without damage to third parties.

B. CLIMATE OF AGITATION

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

In its forms of expression, the climate of Agitation is featured by a context in which factors of Instability, Anxiety and Uncertainty exacerbate social behavior and which lead the individual to face the solution of his problems in a manner conditioned by his feelings.

The Climate of Agitation is generated when external and internal variables negatively affect the functions of Preservation, Integration and Development, thereby endangering the conditions of Security, Solidarity and Progress of the System.

As a process, the climate of Agitation develops within an illegal framework through which pressure groups with no physical damage to third parties are articulated and where affective behavior prevails.

C. CLIMATE OF VIOLENCE

In its ways of expression, the climate of Violence features a context within which the degree of exacerbation is such that it drives the individual, group or system to face the solution of his (their) problem irrationally, by means of its imposition by force.

The climate of Violence is generated when internal or external variables attempt against the Functions of Preservation, Integration and Development and the Primary Conditions which the system requires are adversely affected.

As a process, the Climate of Violence develops within an illegal framework through a generalized confrontation with physical damage to third parties, where tendential behavior prevails.

SOME THOUGHTS FOR YOUR ABA SPEECH

I. INTRODUCTION

A. How pleased you are to have been invited to join their deliberations
There is no more important a group for the effective functioning of the U.S. judicial system than the collective total of its lawyers. Unlike other countries, from your ranks come not only the defense and the prosecution, but the judiciary as well, etc.....

B. Let me talk for a minute about why I think I am here--why I think I have been invited to participate in your deliberations, and what my perspective as U.S. Ambassador in a Latin American country might suggest about the importance of what is being discussed here today.

(here you might wish to cite problems in several countries in the hemisphere to document the critical situation in many Latin judicial systems. Thoughts include the take-over of the Palace of Justice in Bogota, perhaps the problem of the amnesty law in Argentina, the Letelier and Quintana-Rojas cases in Santiago, perhaps something in Mexico and El Salvador.

What all of these cases have in common, of course, is the need for justice and the difficulties faced in achieving justice in some of the countries in the Hemisphere. As a Chilean recently told me,"We have human rights. What we don't have is justice."(isn't that the Pepe quote you cited the other day to the Winsor group?)

C. We have just heard some very important presentations in the area of individual rights and law (summarize some key points)

D. What I would like to speak about briefly today is the need to be relevant--of the need to find ways to help build the kind of judicial systems that protect individual rights and make democratic government possible. Building alternatives is a slow process and your latin colleagues need and deserve your help and support.

SUBJECT: Compliance with Human Rights Requirements of Contra Aid Legislation

ISSUE: Whether to approve an approach for dealing with the human rights and drug dealing requirements of the Contra aid legislation.

Discussion: The legislation providing $100 million in assistance for the Nicaraguan resistance provides inter alia that:

> "No assistance . . . may be provided to any group that retains within its ranks any individual who has been found to engage in --
> (1) gross violations of internationally recognized human rights . . .; or
> (2) drug smuggling or significant misuse of public or private funds." (Section 204 (B) of P.L. 99-591.)

don't have to engage in suggests later time period

We have given considerable thought to how to implement these provisions. The attached memo at Tab A discusses the issues in some detail; its general thrust is summarized below. If you concur with the proposed approach, we will consult with the Agency, the Hill, and the White House. Once those consultations are complete, and any modifications called for have been made, we will prepare for your approval a final paper memorializing the policy.

Consideration must be given to both the process by which decisions will be made and the standards to be used for review.

A. Decision-making Process:

(1) A judgment will be made by L and ARA as to whether any particular allegation of a human rights abuse merits an investigation for the purposes of the funding cut-off requirement, i.e. a Section 204 investigation. Generally, findings of the Independent Nicaraguan Human Rights Organization*/ (ANPDH) that members of NDR organizations have engaged in conduct which would constitute a gross violation of human rights (see standards below) will require such investigation. We will also be cognizant of information from intelligence gathering, press reports, and the work of the nascent military prosecutors office (fiscalia). (At Tab B there is a short memorandum on the progress being made in establishing the fiscalia.) We will give appropriate weight to information taking into account its nature, credibility and source. A Section 204 investigation will be initiated when we have sufficient, credible information to establish a prima facie case that a gross violation of internationally recognized human rights has occurred and that NDR personnel are responsible.

(2) If a difference of view develops between L and ARA as to whether sufficient credible information exists to merit a Section 204 investigation, the issue will be forwarded to P for a decision.

(3) Once the judgment is made to conduct a Section 204 investigation, a communication will be sent by ARA to the NDR organization concerned indicating the Department's intention to conduct an investigation, and where appropriate requesting that the individual/individuals allegedly involved be placed on an administrative leave status pending the review. The time frame for conducting the investigation will be noted and the organization and individual(s) concerned will be invited to offer evidence and argument regarding the allegations made.

*/ ANPDH is an organization headed by Marta Patricia Baltadano a respected attorney with a long and good track record for impartial and objective reporting of human rights violations under Samoza and the Sandinistas. We are currently funding ANPDH's operations. The NDR has previously made its personnel and records available to ANPDH investigations, although access

(4) Action officers in L and in ARA will be responsible for preparing a final case report. They will seek to investigate the basis for the allegations and any defenses offered.

(5) Based on the case report, L and ARA will prepare a memorandum for your decision as to whether the evidence supports a finding that a member or members of a NDR organization receiving US funds have committed gross violations of human rights.

(6) In the event you find that a member(s) of a USG-funded NDR organization has engaged in gross violations of human rights, a letter will be sent to the organization (copy to the Agency) informing it of the finding, and advising it that if the subject individual(s) does not leave its ranks within one week, US assistance will be suspended so long as the individual(s) is retained in its ranks.

B. Applicable Standards:

In administering this provision of law, our judgment is limited to deciding whether to terminate assistance; we are not engaged in a criminal prosecution which will result in the incarceration of individuals. Thus, while we must act consistent with fundamental principles of fairness and due process in light of the circumstances presented, we should not adhere to the rigorous standards of proof which would apply in a criminal proceeding.

1. In making the initial determination to conduct a Section 204 investigation we will need to ask a basic question: given what we understand to be the case based upon credible information, does it appear that there is an individual in the ranks who has engaged in "gross violations of internationally recognized human rights"? Thus, in the first instance, there must appear to be a prima facie case based upon credible information that would warrant termination of aid. Generally, in making the initial judgment we would be guided by the following principles:

a) the alleged abuse involves torture or cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment, prolonged clandestine detention or other flagrant and unjustified denial of the right to life, liberty, or security of person

MORI DocID: 754605

(rough treatment of prisoners, failure to follow appropriate procedures that do not result in serious abuses of the person would not be considered a "gross" violation);

b) we would give the greater weight, emphasis and attention to alleged violations subsequent to resumption of U.S. humanitarian assistance in August 1985, while not disregarding previous actions where sufficient credible information appears to exist to make further investigation worthwhile;

c) we would be guided by the standard of "a preponderance of evidence" rather than a "reasonable doubt" standard.

We note in this connection that some of the findings in the recent ANPDH human rights report (attached) would appear to warrant a Section 204 investigation. (In particular, the ANPDH finding that certain NDR personnel summarily executed captured Sandinista soldiers near Cuapa in 198_ warrants an investigation in our judgment.)

2. Once an investigation is underway we would make every effort to examine the underlying evidence upon which an allegation is based. This includes the evidence relied upon by ANPDH in reaching its conclusions/findings. An opportunity should be given the individual(s) in question to respond specifically to the allegation and to the evidence upon which it is based.

3. The final judgment will be based upon the principles in (1) above; as well, it must also take into account any local disciplinary action that might have been taken by local forces. While the law does not mention appropriate local discipline as a reason not to terminate funding, we believe it would be consistent with the law's intent not to terminate funding to an organization which retains an individual in its ranks for the purpose of administering discipline. However, we would insist that the individual not participate in any military activities during the period of disciplinary proceedings and be expelled once all disciplinary proceedings (including incarceration if any) had been completed.

RECOMMENDATION:

MEMORANDUM

SUBJECT: Compliance with Human Rights Requirements of Contra Aid Legislation

The legislation providing $100 million in assistance for the Nicaraguan resistance provides inter alia that

> "No assistance . . . may be provided to any group that retains in its ranks any individual who has been found to engage in --
> > "(1) gross violations of internationally recognized human rights . . . ; or
> > "(2) drug smuggling or significant misuse of public or private funds."
> > (Section 204(B) of P.L. 99-500)

This seemingly simple provision raises several legal questions. What actions are covered? What is the time period involved? What standard of proof is required? By what process do we "find" that an individual has acted improperly? What is the role of the ANPDH or the resistance in that process? What weight should be given to various other sources of information?

Acts covered

Section 204 does not contain a definition of what actions constitute "gross violations of internationally recognized human rights." This phrase has, however, been defined in another foreign affairs context. Although that definition may not be applicable in every detail in this case, it would be appropriate to refer to other uses of such a phrase for guidance as to Congress' intentions.

[redacted]
DECL: OADR

MORI DocID: 754605

FAA section 502B(D)(1) defines the term "gross violations of internationally recognized human rights" to include "torture or cruel, inhuman, or degrading treatment or punishment, prolonged detention without charges and trial, causing the disappearance of persons by the abduction and clandestine detention of those persons, and other flagrant denial of the right to life, liberty, or the security of person . . . "

The essence of this definition is that certain categories of actions are considered inexcusable attacks on the "right to life, liberty, or the security of person." [MGK requested reference to reg~~ula~~tement definition and comments. PO's note read something like: note on what is c'd violation , i.e., torture, not roughing up.] [Martiga].

Application of this definition to resistance activities may not always be appropriate. For example, prolonged detention without trial, while always highly undesirable, is more readily characterized as a gross violation of human rights in the case of a government with power and institutions permitting it to conduct trials readily than in that of a rebel force operating in the jungle. It is noteworthy as well that the definition quoted above does not include every offensive but less serious action (for example, unwarranted roughness in conducting arrests or interrogations) which would be considered unacceptable in this country. While it is incumbent on us to discourage this latter category of actions, the law does not require termination of assistance to a resistance organization if it does not expel from its ranks persons conducting such actions.

The legislation refers only to "gross violations" and not, as elsewhere in foreign affairs legislation, to "a consistent pattern" of gross violations. This suggests that individual acts of misbehavior may require expulsion. The law also refers to drug smuggling and misuse of public or private funds. We offer no special definition of these terms (nor do we consider one necessary), but believe that actions falling under these categories should be addressed in the same manner as human rights abuses.

Period of time covered.

The law does not specify the period of time during which the gross violations of human rights or other improper acts must have occurred if they are to trigger termination of assistance, and we do not believe it possible to provide a definitive cutoff date. In particular, we see no legal merit in the proposition that the law applies only to actions taking place since enactment of the legislation last October, or since resumption of U.S. humanitarian assistance in August 1985.

MORI DocID: 754605

On the other hand, the law is intended to address the perceived problem that human rights abusers continue to enjoy positions of authority within resistance ranks. Congress apparently seeks to have the USG pressure the resistance to expel such persons, so they do not feel free to continue their misdeeds. Given the limited resources available for pursuing investigations, and the difficulty of obtaining evidence of long-past events, we could reasonably focus on recent activities. Past activities forming part of a pattern continuing to the present should, of course, be examined, as well as particularly egregious actions taken by current resistance members. To the extent that resumption of U.S. humanitarian assistance in August 1985 is seen as a watershed in our relationship to the resistance, a pragmatic case might be made for devoting greater attention to events happening after that date than before.

Process for "finding" misconduct

The law does not specify how an individual is to be "found" to have transgressed its terms. Use of the term "found", however, implies a process of investigation and review of the evidence. The USG must act in making such findings consistent with fundamental principles of due process in light of the circumstances presented. We should proceed according to consistent standards and properly balance concepts of due process and substantive justice in reaching conclusions in cases arising under this section.

Standard of proof. This law is a funding bill, not a criminal statute, and the sanction for "violating" its terms is withholding of a benefit from an organization rather than depriving an individual of his freedom. Moreover, Congress necessarily acted with an awareness that it is virtually impossible in current circumstances to develop the kind of evidentiary record that would be required for a criminal trial in the United States. It would accordingly be inappropriate to read into the law a requirement that findings be made only if proved "beyond a reasonable doubt." We believe a more appropriate standard is that the misdeed be demonstrated by a "preponderance of the evidence" -- i.e., that on balance the credible evidence leads to the conclusion that a gross human rights violation took place.

Although any finding that assistance must be cut off will likely be interpreted widely, if inaccurately, as a conclusive statement that gross human rights abuses have been proved, the desire to avoid such misunderstandings is not an adequate basis for applying a higher standard of proof than that described above.

[redacted]

Who makes the finding. The law does not specify how the finding is to be made, or by whom. Given the preeminent policy role given the Secretary of State by the legislation, it is our view that this finding is properly to be made by the Secretary or his designee.

Under the law it is the responsibility of the USG, not the resistance forces, ANPDH, or any other outside entity, to make the "finding" that an individual has committed gross violations of human rights (potentially) requiring a cut-off. When in possession of information sufficient to make a finding, the confidence we repose in ANPDH will normally permit us to rely on its investigation rather than expend major efforts to conduct our own parallel investigations. Of course, this judgment would have to be reexamined were there any firm reason to believe that ANPDH is not conducting thorough, unbiased and professional investigations. As in our own courts, moreover, we should expect from ANPDH, not merely its conclusions, but also its findings, and the evidence ~~upon you~~ which it relies.

Role of the fiscalia. The resistance is in the process of establishing a fiscalia for the purpose of investigating and trying both human rights abuses and the broader category of offenses by resistance members against military discipline. We have been working with them in this effort, but -- especially in light of the recent friction between ANPDH and the resistance which is in part responsible for the current fiscalia activity -- cannot at this point predict when the fiscalia will be in place or how vigorous, credible or wideranging its activities may be.

We should be prepared, however, to place reliance on the fiscalia in making determinations of human rights abuses as soon as it has established a track record of credible investigation and prosecution of such abuses by resistance personnel. Until then, we could not appropriately defer making our own findings.

The resistance apparently intends that the fiscalia in time wholly duplicate the investigatory functions now being conducted by ANPDH, and that ANPDH in the end have no role with respect to allegations of resistance abuses. We should have no objection in principle to such a development. Indeed, it is highly desirable that the resistance effectively and credibly police itself, and helping the resistance develop and apply such a capacity is among our principal policy goals. It was the prolonged failure of the resistance to police itself, however, which led to creation of the ANPDH and enactment of section 204. Even if fiscalia reports came to be accepted as credible, we may well decide to continue our own parallel activities.

MORI DocID: 754605

Special Atlantic Coast problems. The Indian and other Atlantic Coast resistance organizations may present special problems. At this time, there is no human rights organization or fiscalia with adequate jurisdiction to investigate human rights abuses by these groups. Moreover, these groups are far less well organized than the major forces, and it is not clear that the command structure is capable of forcing cooperation by Indian or Atlantic Coast commanders and troops with a human rights investigation or resulting sanctions. Finally, it appears that through an essentially democratic process the Rus Rus assembly decided to "forgive and forget" with respect, notably, to accusations of human rights abuses leveled against Steadman Fagoth.

As a result, it will be far more difficult to work through the structures of indigenous resistance organizations than to work with other resistance forces, and the USG will likely have to take a direct role in pursuing allegations of abuses and removing wrongdoers from the ranks of Atlantic Coast resistance groups. We may face difficult decisions in the event a group proves unable to remove a wrongdoer.

Other information sources. In the final analysis, our finding must be made on the basis of information we ourselves conclude is credible. Many potential sources of such information exist.

Inquiries are often set in train by press allegations -- some of which contain a germ of truth but many of which are so distorted that they cannot serve as an independent basis for concluding that gross human rights abuses have taken place. We believe, in fact, that press accounts alone cannot responsibly be relied on to trigger a section 204 cutoff. Allegations made by credible news organizations and reporters should, however, be investigated with care.

Embassy Managua reporting is another important asset, since it is the only direct and unfiltered information available to us from non-resistance sources in the field. The Embassy is, moreover, often able through careful examination to extract useful information from the GON, internacionalistas and other unsympathetic parties. It goes without saying that other agency resources are potentially extremely useful in some cases. Similarly, State and other agency representatives in Honduras can obtain important information from resistance headquarters as well as from participants in particular events.

Our basic pool of information in each case will consist of a mix from the above sources, in addition to information provided by ANPDH and eventually the fiscalia. Some cases may be so clear that we can and must act immediately. In many cases, however, the accused should be allowed to challenge charges against him. (We must also, of course, inform the organization itself of our conclusions, since it must act to remove the individual. In most cases, it will already be aware of the accusations and may have helped investigate them.) A two-week period would appear adequate in most cases. During that period, when reasonable grounds exist to believe that a violation of the applicable standard has occurred, the accused should be placed on the equivalent of administrative leave -- with no involvement in resistance activities -- rather than being suspended or purged.

Conclusions

Section 204 requires that the USG cut off assistance to a resistance group whenever it concludes that the group has failed to discipline a member who has engaged in gross human rights abuses. The standard for making this finding should be that of a preponderance of the evidence; proof beyond a reasonable doubt is not required. On some occasions it may be appropriate to rely on ANPDH to investigate alleged abuses and to accept that organization's conclusion that an individual is innocent of wrongdoing, but it is not yet appropriate to give similar weight to findings of the nascent resistance fiscalia. The USG should pursue credible allegations of human rights abuses through all reasonable means and sources.

MISSIONS ARE SCHEDULED TO CANADA (PICKERING, JUNE 1-19), USE (CALVERT CLIFFS, AUGUST 10-28), FRG (PHILLIPSBURG, NOV 2-20) AND SPAIN (ALMARAZ, NOV 30-DEC 18).

OART REPORTS ARE SENT TO THE NATIONAL AUTHORITIES WHO MAY AUTHORIZE THEIR RELEASE. THE BARSEBACK, BORSSELE AND BIBLIS REPORTS HAVE BEEN SO CLEARED.

US. PARTICIPATION HAS BEEN TWO-FOLD: THROUGH U,S.-ORIGIN IAEA STAFF (FORMERLY TWO, FROM NRC AND INPO, NOW ONE, FROM INPO) AND THROUGH AD HOC EXPERTS (14 OUT OF 102 NON-IAEA EXPERTS IN THE 18 MISSIONS TO DATE).

U.S. PARTICIPATION: 3 OUT OF 22 NON-IAEA EXPERTS.

- (3). SAFETY MISSIONS TO DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

SEVERAL OF THE OSART MISSIONS AND ALMOST ALL OF THE RAPAT MISSIONS NOTED ABOVE ARE RELEVANT. OTHER RELEVANT SAFETY MISSIONS INCLUDE:

- INTEGRATED SAFETY ASSESSMENT MISSIONS TO RESEARCH
- REACTOR FACILITIES. IN 1986, FOR EXAMPLE, MISSIONS
- WENT TO 12 FACILITIES IN 8 COUNTRIES: CHILE, EGYPT,

- GREECE, INDONIESIA, JAMAICA, MALAYSIA, MEXICO AND
- SPAIN;

- A VARIETY OF MISSIONS ARE UNDERTAKEN ON SPECIAL
- TOPICS IN NUCLEAR SAFETY AND RADIATION PROTECTION.
- IN 1986, FOR EXAMPLE, NUCLEAR POWER PLANT SITING
- MISSIONS WENT TO 5 COUNTRIES AND ASSISTANCE WAS PROVIDED TO AN INTERREGIONAL PROJECT ON SEISMIC DATA COLLECTION.

OTHER RELEVANT ACTIVITIES INCLUDE AN IAEA-CO-ORDINATED PSA RESEARCH PROGRAM, INCLUDING CASE STUDIES ON THE SAFETY CHARACTERISTICS OF SPECIFIC RESEARCH REACTORS, WITH 10 COUNTRIES PARTICIPATING.

THE AGENCY ALSO PROVIDES CONSIDERABLE TRAINING SUPPORT TO THESE COUNTRIES. NUCLEAR SAFETY TRAINING SUPPORT IN 1986 INCLUDED A TWO-WEEK WORKSHOP IN CHINA USING

THE NUSS DOCUMENTS. RADIATION PROTECTION TRAINING SUPPORT INCLUDING: 3 INTERNATIONAL TRAINING COURSES; SUPPORT TO MEMBER STATE TRAINING PROGRAMS; SPONSORSHIP OF 4 REGIONAL MEETINGS; SUPPORT OF 60 FELLOWS AND SCIENTIFIC VISITORS; AND 8 MISSIONS AND 10 COURSES ON RADIATION PROTECTION SERVICES. THE U.S. FULLY SUPPORTS THIS PROGRAM BY SUPPLYING FELLOWSHIPS AND LECTURERS AND BY PROVIDING MAJOR COURSES AT REGULAR INTERVALS AT THE ARGONNE AND SANDIA NATIONAL LABORATORIES.

- (4). TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE PROJECTS IN POWER
- REACTOR SAFETY OR REGULATORY DEVELOPMENT

IN ADDITION TO THE MISSIONS AND TRAINING OUTLINED IN ITEM 3 ABOVE, AGENCY SAFETY PERSONNEL ARE INVOLVED IN MORE THAN A HUNDRED PROJECTS EACH YEAR IN THE AGENCY'S TECHNICAL CO-OPERATION PROGRAM ON A WIDE RANGE OF NUCLEAR SAFETY AND RADIATION PROTECTION SUBJECTS NEEDS OF MEMBER STATES. EXAMPLES INCLUDE "COMPUTER-AIDED SAFETY ANALYSIS" IN YUGOSLAVIA AND "RADIATION SAFETY OF NUCLEAR POWER PLANTS" IN THE REPUBLIC OF KOREA.

PARTICIPATION BY U.S. EXPERTS IN THESE PROJECTS CONSTITUTED ABOUT 20 PERCENT OF THE TOTAL EFFORT.

- ONE, JAPAN, ACTIVELY PARTICIPATES BUT IS OFFICIALLY AN OBSERVER. (SOUTH AFRICA IS NOT A PARTICIPANT.)

CLOSE COOPERATION IS MAINTAINED WITH NEA IN OPERATION OF THE NEA-IRS FOR OECD COUNTRIES AND IN EVALUATION OF REPORTS UNDER THE TWO SYSTEMS.

THE SYSTEM SEEKS INFORMATION ON "UNUSUAL EVENTS OF SAFETY SIGNIFICANCE". THESE MAY BE "ACCIDENTS" ("INVOLVE SIGNIFICANT DAMAGE"), "INCIDENTS" ("COULD HAVE LEAD TO ACCIDENT") AND NOW, UNDER AN EXPANDED SCOPE, "DEVIATIONS" ("COULD HAVE LEAD TO AN INCIDENT UNCLASSIFIED OR ACCIDENT").

THE IAEA-IRS DEFINITIONS ARE DESIGNED TO BE COMPATIBLE WITH NATIONAL AND OTHER INTERNATIONAL REPORTING SYSTEMS, BUT MAY NOT BE IDENTICAL WITH THE TERMS USED IN THE OTHER SYSTEMS, E.G., THE U.S. TERM "LICENSEE EVENT".

CONSULTANTS HAVE DRAFTED AN IAEA SAFETY SERIES GUIDE FOR UNIFORM REPORTING. (COPY AVAILABLE IN USNRC-AEOD.)

IN 1986 THE IAEA-IRS RECEIVED 78 REPORTS (A TOTAL OF 264 SINCE 1983, INCLUDING 73 FROM NON-OECD COUNTRIES.)

FIVE IAEA-IRS MEETINGS WERE HELD IN 1986 TO DISCUSS AND EVALUATE REPORTED INCIDENTS, AND THE FIRST "I CIDENT REPORT REVIEW" WAS ISSUED. (COPY OF THIS "RESTRICTED DISTRIBUTION" DOCUMENT IS AVAILABLE IN USNRC-AEOD.)

THE SYSTEM IS BEING STRENGTHENED BY LOWERING THE REPORTING THRESHOLD TO INCLUDE SAFETY-SIGNIFICANT "DEVIATIONS" AND BY UPGRADING THE QUALITY OF REPORTS.

PROGRAM METHODOLOGY WAS TESTED AT YUGOSLAVIA'S KRSKO PLANT IN DEC. 1986. THE PROGRAM IS NOW FULLY AVAILABLE. IN 1987 TWO OR MORE MISSIONS MAY BE UNDERTAKEN.

C. PERFORMANCE INDICATORS:

THE AGENCY HAS DEVELOPED PERFORMANCE INDICATOR METHODOLOGY WHICH IS NOW AVAILABLE FOR USE AS AN ADDITIONAL SAFETY ASSESSMENT TOOL IN OSART MISSIONS.

- (6). NUCLEAR SAFETY STANDARDS (NUSS)

THE LAST GUIDES IN THE NUSS PROGRAM, BEGUN A DECADE AGO, WERE ISSUED IN 1986. THESE GUIDES COVERED: NUCLEAR POWER PLANT FOUNDATIONS, DESIGN PRINCIPLES, COOLANT AND ASSOCIATED SYSTEMS, CORE DESIGN, EFFLUENT AND WASTE MANAGEMENT, AND QA IN COMMISSIONING AND OPERATION.

THERE ARE 5 CODES WITH 55 GUIDES. (THESE ARE AVAILABLE IN USNRC-RES.) TO PROVIDE PRACTICAL ADVICE ON NUSS IMPLEMENTATION, A SERIES OF MORE DETAILED IMPLEMENTING DOCUMENTS ARE BEING WRITTEN.

TO SUPPLEMENT NUSS USE FOR OPERATIONS, FOR EXAMPLE, MANUALS ON MAINTENANCE OF IMPORTANT SAFETY SYSTEMS AND COMPONENTS AND ON ASSESSING EMERGENCY POWER SUPPLY WRE ISSUED, AND MANUALS ON IN-SERVICE INSPECTION AND CORROSION CONTROL WERE BEGUN.

- (7). SAFETY ANALYSIS OF POWER REACTORS
IAEA'S WORK IN THIS GENERAL AREA SUPPLEMENTS ITS EFFORTS ON OPERATIONAL SAFETY AND COVERS A WIDE RANGE OF ACTIVITIES, OF WHICH THE FOLLOWING ARE EXAMPLES:

A. COMPUTER CODES FOR SAFETY ANALYSIS:
IN 1986 ADDITIONAL ADVANCED CALCULATIONAL CODES WERE MADE AVAILABLE ON THE IAEA COMPUTER AND CODES WERE USED BY 30 EXPERTS TO ANALYZE PLANTS IN 4 COUNTRIES. WITH THE HUNGARIAN NATIONAL ACADEMY OF SCIENCES, IAEA SPONSORED A STANDARD PROBLEM EXERCISE ON A LOSS OF COOLANT ACCIDENT SIMULATED IN AN EXPERIMENTAL FACILITY AT HUNGARY'S CENTRAL RESEARCH INSTITUTE FOR PHYSICS; A FOLLOWUP WORKSHOP WAS HELD AND A SECOND EXERCISE PLANNED.

B. RISK ASSESSMENT:
IAEA WORK AIMS TO REFLECT OPERATING EXPERIENCE IN PROBABILISTIC SAFETY ASSESSMENTS (PSAS), TO PREPARE USER GUIDANCE, AND TO HELP STANDARDIZE PSAS FOR RESULTS COMPARABILITY. INTERREGIONAL TECHNICAL COOPERATION ON PSA FOR ACCIDENTS BEYOND DESIGN BASIS CONTINUED AND WAS EXTENDED TO INCLUDE RESEARCH REACTORS. AN UPDATED STATUS REPORT ON MEMBER STATE PROBABILISTIC SAFETY CRITERIA IS PLANNED. A KEY FOCUS OF IAEA PSA EFFORTS IS ENCOURAGING THE USE OF ON-LINE PSA SYSTEMS, SUCH AS THE PRISIM SYSTEM DEVELOPED FOR THE USNRC.

C. PLANT AGEING:
AN IAEA TECHNICAL COMMITTEE CONSIDERED AGEING EFFECTS ON COMPONENTS, SYSTEMS AND STRUCTURES, A SUBJECT OF INCRESING IMPORTANCE AS MORE PLANTS APPROACH THEIR

DESIGN LIFETIME. FOLLOWING AN IAEA SYMPOSIUM PLANNED FOR SUMMER 1987, THE IAEA WILL PUBLISH A STATE OF THE ART REPORT ON AGEING AND DEFINE A POSSIBLE AGENCY PROGRAM ON THE MATTER.

D. ACCIDENT CONSEQUENCE LIMITATION AND ACCIDENT MANAGEMENT:
IAEA AND CEC EXPERTS HAVE DRAFTED A STATE-OF-THE-ART REPORT ON HYDROGEN GENERATION, TRANSPORT, COMBUSTION AND MITIGATION OVER A WIDE SPECTRUM OF POSTULATED $EVERE ACCIDENTS. THE AGENCY IS DEVELOPING A REPORT ON ACCIDENT MANAGEMENT BASED ON APPROACHES BEING DEVELOPED IN MEMBER STATES. THE REPORT WILL INCLUDE OPERATOR GUIDELINES.

E. SITE SAFETY:
RECENT SITE SAFETY WORK INCLUDED A NUSS GUIDE ON FOUNDATIONS AND DOCUMENTS ON RIVER SITE FLOODING, SEISMIC EVENT PSA, DOSE ASSESSMENT, AND PREVENTING HYDROLOGICAL CONTAMINATION FROM A SEVERE ACCIDENT. AN IAEA-ORGANIZED SPECIALIST MEETING WAS HELD IN THE USSR ON STRONG EARTHQUAKE-INDUCED GROUND MOTION AND SEISMIC EVALUATION OF NUCLEAR POWER PLANTS. WORK IS UNDER WAY ON GUIDELINES FOR AND APPLICATIONS OF PROBABILISTIC REASSESSMENT OF SEISMIC DESIGN.

- CONVENTIONS ACTIVITIES

IN ADDITION TO ITS NORMAL PROGRAM OF SUPPORT TO MEMBER STATES IN EMERGENCY PLANNING AND PREPAREDNESS, AGENCY WORK PRESENTLY CENTERS ON HARMONIZING DERIVED INTERVENTION LEVELS FOR ACTIONS IN A RADIOLOGICAL MERGENCY, AND ON IMPLEMENTING THE TWO NEW EMERGENCY RESPONSE CONVENTIONS.
A. INTERVENTION LEVEL HARMONIZATION:
GIVEN THE PUBLIC CONFUSION THAT RESULTED FROM THE WIDE VARIANCE IN INTERVENTION ACTIONS TAKEN BY NATIONAL AUTHORITIES IN RESPONSE TO THE CHERNOBYL EVENT, CONSIDERABLE INTERNATIONAL EFFORT IS UNDER WAY TO HARMONIZE THE APPROACH SO AS TO AVOID SUCH A SITUATION DEVELOPING IN FUTURE EMERGENCIES.

THE IAEA ISSUED IN DEC. 1986 A GUIDE ON PROCEDURES AND DATA FOR DERIVED INTERVENTION LEVELS, BASED ON BASIC PRINCIPLES GIVEN IN AN EARLIER (PRE-CHERNOBYL) IAEA GUIDE. IN RELATED (AND CLOSELY CO-ORDINATED) EFFORTS, THE WHO IS WORKING ON SPECIFIC GUIDANCE FOR HEALTH AUTHORITIES AND FAO ON GUIDANCE FOR INTERNATIONAL COMMERCE IN FOOD.

B. IMPLEMENTING EMERGENCY NOTIFICATION AND ASSISTANCE CONVENTIONS:

RECENT AGENCY EFFORTS HAVE INCLUDED PREPARATION, ON THE BASIS OF OPERATING EXPERIENCE, OF TWO DOCUMENTS ON IMPROVEMENTS TO THE MAN-MACHINE INTERACTION. ONE ADDRESSED COMPUTER AIDS FOR OPERATORS, AND THE OTHER DEALT WITH CRITICAL OPERATOR ACTIONS NEEDING EMPHASIS IN TRAINING, PARTICULARLY IN TRAINING ON SIMULATORS. THE IAEA WILL HOST A MEETING IN VIENNA IN MAY 1986. THE MEETING, ORGANIZED JOINTLY WITH WHO, WILL BE ATTENDED BY MORE THAN 25 WORLD EXPERTS, INCLUDING 3 FROM THE SOVIET UNION.

AN IMPORTANT ELEMENT IN CARRYING OUT THE EPIDEMIOLOGICAL STUDY IS GOOD DOSIMETRY FOR THOSE EXPOSED. THIS WILL BE A TWO-STEP PROCESS. FIRST, THE IAEA IS BUILDING AN ENVIRONMENTAL DATA BASE: ABOUT 30 COUNTRIES, INCLUDING THE USSR, HAVE PROVIDED INPUT. SECOND, ON THE BASIS OF THIS DATA UNSCEAR WILL CARRY OUT A DOSE ASSESSMENT.

OTHER IAEA RADIATION PROTECTION PROGRAM ELEMENTS THROUGH WHICH THE USSR CAN PROVIDE THEIR EXPERIENCE INCLUDE:

- LARGE-SCALE DECONTAMINATION OF FACILITIES, LAND

- PERSONNEL PROTECTIVE CLOTHING;
- RADIOLOGICAL MONITORING AND ANALYSIS; AND

3. BEGIN TEXT DRAFT PREPARED STATEMENT.

IN JULY OF LAST YEAR AND IN CLOSED SESSION DURING SEPTEMBER, I TESTIFIED BEFORE THIS SUBCOMMITTEE CONCERNING THE CHALLENGES FACING THE UNITED STATES IN CHILE AND THE ADMINISTRATION'S STRATEGY AND POLICIES FOR CONFRONTING THOSE CHALLENGES. I NOTED OUR SHARED CONCERNS OVER THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE IN THE WAKE OF THE BRUTAL KILLING OF LONG-TIME U.S. RESIDENT RODRIGO ROJAS AND THE BURNING OF CARMEN QUINTANA, AS WELL AS OUR OVERALL PREOCCUPATION REGARDING THE LACK OF MEANINGFUL PROGRESS TOWARD A TRANSITION TO A FULL, PARTICIPATORY DEMOCRACY. I ALSO EXPLAINED THE DILEMMAS THAT ARISE IN DETERMINING HOW TO USE MOST EFFECTIVELY THE LIMITED INFLUENCE OF THE UNITED STATES TO PROMOTE OUR GOALS OF INCREASED RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND A PEACEFUL DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION IN CHILE.

I WELCOME THE OPPORTUNITY TO DISCUSS THESE ISSUES WITH YOU AGAIN. IT IS AN OPPORTUNE TIME TO REVIEW THE SITUATION IN CHILE, SINCE THAT COUNTRY IS RAPIDLY APPROACHING A CRITICAL TURNING POINT, WITH SERIOUS IMPLICATIONS FOR DEMOCRACY, HUMAN RIGHTS, ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND US POLICY. AS THE SITUATION IN CHILE EVOLVES, WE WISH TO CONTINUE OUR CLOSE CONSULTATION WITH

WITHHOLDING US SUPPORT FOR INTERNATIONAL LENDING TO CHILE

FIRST, LET ME MAKE SOME COMMENTS ON U.S. VOTES IN INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL INSTITUTATIONS (IFIS) AS THEY CONCERN CHILE, SINCE THAT IS AN AREA OF PRIMARY CONCERN TO THE SUBCOMMITTEE.

SINCE MY TESTIMONY LAST YEAR, THE UNITED STATES HAS WITHHELD ITS SUPPORT FROM NON-BASIC HUMAN NEEDS LOANS TO CHILE IN THE IFIS BASED ON HUMAN RIGHTS GROUNDS. WE HAVE ABSTAINED ON LOANS TO CHILE IN BOTH THE INTER-AMERICAN DEVELOPMENT BANK (IDB) AND THE WORLD BANK. IN WITHHOLDING OUR SUPPORT FOR A CRITICAL $250 MILLION WORLD BANK STRUCTURAL ADJUSTMENT LOAN TO CHILE LAST NOVEMBER, WE WERE JOINED BY AN IMPRESSIVE GROUP OF OTHER COUNTRIES, INCLUDING CANADA, FRANCE, THE NETHERLANDS, AND SPAIN,

WHICH IN THE PAST TOTALLY DISCOUNTED THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN DETERMINING THEIR VOTES ON IFI LOANS TO CHILE. ACTING TOGETHER, WE HAVE SENT A CLEAR SIGNAL OF INTERNATIONAL PREOCCUPATION OVER THE POLITICAL AND HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE.

SOME MEMBERS OF THE SUBCOMMITTEE HAVE EXPRESSED CONCERN THAT THE ADMINISTRATION HAS ABSTAINED RATHER THAN VOTE "NO" ON IFI LOANS TO CHILE. IN ITS EXCHANGE OF CORRESPONDENCE EARLIER THIS YEAR WITH CHAIRMAN FAUNTROY, THE STATE AND TREASURY DEPARTMENTS EXPLAINED AT LENGTH THE BASIS FOR THAT DECISION.

AT THE RISK OF COVERING SOME OF THE SAME GROUND HERE, A FEW OBSERVATIONS ARE IN ORDER.
LIMITED OFFICIAL USE

FIRST, OUR VOTES IN IFIS ON CHILE NEED TO BE EVALUATED IN THE CONTEXT OF THE OVERALL ADMINISTRATION POLICY OF PROMOTING DEMOCRATIZATION AND HUMAN RIGHTS IMPROVEMENTS. WHILE DIFFERENCES OVER TACTICS FROM TIME TO TIME ARISE, THE RECORD OF ADMINISTRATION WORDS AND ACTIONS HAS DEMONSTRATED THE UNITED STATES CLEAR AND PUBLIC COMMITMENT TO PRESS VIGOROUSLY FOR A PEACEFUL DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION AND HUMAN RIGHTS PROGRESS IN CHILE.

WAS ABSTENTION THE RIGHT COURSE? WOULD A "NO" VOTE ON THE SAL IN NOVEMBER, AS I WOULD HAVE RECOMMENDED IN JULY, PRIOR TO CONSULTING WITH OTHER COUNTRIES AND PRIOR TO A DRAMATIC INCREASE IN TENSION IN CHILE, HAVE LED TO GREATER PROGRESS ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE OR PRODUCED THE DEMOCRATIC OPENING WE ALL SEEK?

TWENTY-TWENTY HINDSIGHT SOMETIMES CAN LEAD TO DIFFERENT CONCLUSIONS. IN THIS CASE, WE CONTINUE TO BELIEVE THAT OUR ABSTENTION WITH AN IMPORTANT GROUP OF WESTERN DEMOCRACIES--TOTALING NEARLY 45 OF THE VOTING WEIGHT OF THE WORLD BANK--WAS THE MOST EFFECTIVE MEANS OF USING OUR VOICE AND VOTE IN THE IFIS TO EXPRESS OUR HUMAN RIGHT CONCERNS REGARDING CHILE.

AS THE SUBCOMMITTEE IS WELL AWARE, THE U.S. DOES NOT HAVE A VETO IN THESE INSTITUTIONS. (IN THE WORLD BANK WE HAVE APPROXIMATELY 20 OF THE WEIGHTED VOTES; IN THE IDB JUST UNDER 35 .) AT ISSUE WAS HOW TO USE OUR ESSENTIALLY SYMBOLIC VOTE TO SEND THE MOST EFFECTIVE POLITICAL AND HUMAN RIGHTS SIGNAL. OUR ADVANCE CONSULTATIONS WITH THESE OTHER COUNTRIES SHOWED CLEARLY THAT POSTPONEMENT OR

ACTUAL DEFEAT OF THE SAL WERE NOT FEASIBLE. WE

DETERMINED THAT A U.S. ABSTENTION, HOWEVER, COULD ELICIT

SIMILAR VOTES BY OTHER DEMOCRACIES, IN SPITE OF WIDESPREAD CONCERNS ABOUT POLITICIZATION OF THE IFIS AND ABOUT DAMAGING CHILE'S ECONOMY.

WE WANTED TO ACT IN CONCERT WITH OTHERS IN ORDER TO AVOID STRENGTHENING HARDLINERS IN CHILE OPPOSED TO CARRYING OUT A GENUINE TRANSITION TO CIVILIAN RULE. TENSIONS WERE ACUTE DURING THE STATE OF SIEGE IMPOSED FOLLOWING THE COMMUNIST-SPONSORED BLOODY ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST GENERAL PINOCHET LAST SEPTEMBER. THE GOVERNMENT CRACKDOWN BY IMPOSING THE STATE OF SIEGE WENT BEYOND UNDERSTANDABLE EFFORTS TO TRACK DOWN THOSE TERRORISTS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE ATTACK AGAINST THE CHILEAN PRESIDENT. FOR EXAMPLE, OPPOSITION MAGAZINES WERE CLOSED, AS WERE TWO FOREIGN NEWS AGENCIES.

IN THIS CLIMATE, THE DANGER EXISTED THAT A U.S. "NO" VOTE WOULD HAVE ISOLATED THE U.S FROM THE OTHER WESTERN DEMOCRACIES AND FANNED NATIONALISTIC SENTIMENTS, THEREBY FURTHER MINIMIZING THE ABILITY OF THE U.S. TO AFFECT EVENTS. A U.S. NEGATIVE VOTE, WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN ENOUGH TO BLOCK THE SAL, BUT WOULD HAVE BEEN PORTRAYED IN A NATIONALISTIC WAY AS ECONOMIC AGGRESSION AGAINST THE CHILEAN PEOPLE. OUR WITHHOLDING OF SUPPORT THROUGH GROUP ABSTENTIONS, HOWEVER, WAS FULLY UNDERSTOOD IN CHILE BY THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT AND BY THE OPPOSITION AS AN EXPRESSION OF DISSATISFACTION WITH THE HUMAN RIGHTS PICTURE. DESPITE THE GOVERNMENT'S RELIEF THAT THE SAL WAS APPROVED, THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT DID NOT--COULD NOT--TRUMPET WORLD BANK APPROVAL OF THE SAL AS ENDORSEMENT OF THE GOVERNMENT OR ITS POLITICAL POLICIES, IN VIEW OF SUCH SIGNIFICANT ABSTENTIONS. EVEN THE INFLUENTIAL CONSERVATIVE NEWSPAPER EL MERCURIO CALLED FOR REFLECTION ON THE REASONS FOR SUCH WIDESPREAD

INTERNATIONAL CONCERN OVER HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE.

WOULD A CHANGE IN OUR VOTING PATTERN NOW AFFECT THE VIEWS

OF OR SUPPORT GIVEN BY OTHER COUNTRIES, OR THE BEHAVIOR OF THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT? IN CONSIDERING THAT QUESTION, IT IS ESSENTIAL TO TAKE INTO ACCOUNT RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN CHILE AFFECTING THE DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION, THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION, AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT.

DEMOCRACY OR "CONTINUISMO"

WHILE THE HEADLINES TODAY FOCUS ON SOUTH KOREA AND PANAMA, AFTER NEARLY FOURTEEN YEARS OF MILITARY RULE, CHILE IS ALSO APPROACHING A CROSSROADS: PERHAPS AS EARLY AS NEXT YEAR CHILE COULD TURN DECISIVELY TOWARD FULL DEMOCRATIC CIVILIAN RULE, OR HEAD DOWN A DIFFERENT ROAD WHICH COULD LEAD TO ESCALATING POLARIZATION, ARMED VIOLENCE, SEVERE REPRESSION, AND FURTHER INTERNATIONAL ISOLATION.

UNFORTUNATELY, CHILE'S DEMOCRATIC FUTURE IS STILL VERY MUCH IN DOUBT. THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT HAS PUT INTO PLACE A FRAMEWORK FOR AN INSTITUTIONALIZED TRANSITION TO WHAT IT CALLS A "PROTECTED DEMOCRACY". ACCORDING TO THE CONSTITUTION ADOPTED IN 1980, NO LATER THAN FEBRUARY 1989 THERE IS TO BE A PLEBISCITE ON A PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE SELECTED BY THE FOUR COMMANDERS-IN-CHIEF OF THE ARMED SERVICES, OR IF THEY CANNOT REACH UNANIMOUS AGREEMENT, BY THE NATIONAL COUNCIL COMPOSED OF THE MILITARY COMMANDERS AND CERTAIN CIVILIAN OFFICIALS. IF THIS CANDIDATE IS NOT

APPROVED, OPEN, COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS ARE TO BE HELD WITHIN A YEAR.

IN PREPARATION FOR THE PLEBISCITE, DURING 1987 THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT HAS ENACTED LAWS TO LEGALIZE NON-MARXIST POLITICAL PARTIES, AND REESTABLISH ELECTORAL REGISTERS. WHILE ENCOURAGING MORE OPEN POLITICAL ACTIVITY, THIS LEGISLATION ALSO HAS DRAWN CRITICISM AS TOO RESTRICTIVE.

MANY WITHIN CHILE HAVE URGED A CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGE TO REPLACE THE SINGLE-CANDIDATE PLEBISCITE WITH THE TYPE OF FREE, COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS USED IN DEMOCRACIES TO ELECT LEADERS. OTHERS HAVE URGED SELECTION OF A CONSENSUS FIGURE WITH BROAD CIVILIAN AND POLITICAL SUPPORT TO LEAD THE COUNTRY THROUGH A TRANSITION TO FULL DEMOCRACY. A GROUP OF EMINENT CHILEAN LEADERS FROM ACROSS THE POLITICAL SPECTRUM HAS FORMED A NON-PARTISAN COUNCIL FOR FREE ELECTIONS. THE CATHOLIC CHURCH HAS SUPPORTED THE COUNCIL'S APPEAL FOR VOTER REGISTRATION, WHICH HAS BEGUN UNDER LEGISLATION RECENTLY APPROVED BY THE GOVERNMENT.

WHILE THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION SUPPORTS VOTER REGISTRATION AND A PROCESS LEADING TO OPEN ELECTIONS AND FULL DEMOCRACY, CHILE'S COMMUNIST FAR LEFT AND THEIR FOREIGN BACKERS ARE DOING LL POSSIBLE TO IMPEDE A SUCCESSFUL TRANSITION. THEY REASON, WITH SOME LOGIC, THAT IF GENERAL PINOCHET DOES NOT STEP DOWN WHEN HIS CURRENT TERM ENDS IN MARCH 1989, THEIR STRENGTH AND POPULAR APPEAL OF THE FAR LEFT, PERFORCE, WILL RISE. THE DISCOVERY LAST SUMMER OF MASSIVE QUANTITIES OF TERRORIST ARMS SMUGGLED INTO CHILE WITH THE HELP OF CUBA

DEMONSTRATED THAT CHILE REMAINS A SPECIAL TARGET FOR FOREIGN MARXIST-LENINISTS. U.S. EXPERTS WHO EXAMINED THE WEAPONS FOUND THAT THEY WERE STORED IN A WAY THAT

INDICATED PLANS FOR FUTURE USE. CHILE'S VIOLENT COMMUNISTS ARE READY TO EXPLOIT THE ENSUING POLARIZATION IF THE CHILEAN PEOPLE'S DEMOCRATIC ASPIRATIONS REMAIN BLOCKED AFTER 1989, AND, PERHAPS, TO USE ARMS AGAINST SUCCESSOR GOVERNMENTS, EVEN IF DEMOCRATIC.

AT THIS POINT, IT IS TOO EARLY TO JUDGE THE OUTCOME. CHILE COULD GO EITHER WAY, TOWARD A FULLY FUNCTIONING DEMOCRACY BASED ON FREE AND FAIR EXPRESSION OF THE POPULAR WILL AND A TRUE NATIONAL CONSENSUS OR TOWARD THE CHAOS THAT WOULD ACCOMPANY A GOVERNMENT WHOSE LEGITIMACY IS BROADLY QUESTIONED AT HOME AND ABROAD. WHETHER ELECTION OR PLEBISCITE, SOME TEST AT THE POLLS IS SET TO OCCUR, PERHAPS AS EARLY AS SEPTEMBER 1988.

POSITIVE STEPS IN STILL MIXED HUMAN RIGHTS PICTURE

AGAINST THIS BACKDROP OF TREMENDOUS UNCERTAINTY CONCERNING A DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION, THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION, WHILE STILL MIXED, HAS IMPROVED SINCE I LAST MET WITH YOU.

THE LIST OF POLITICAL EXILES HAS BEEN REDUCED SUBSTANTIALLY FROM OVER 3500 TO ABOUT 500 SINCE JANUARY.

SUCH NOTABLE FIGURES AS SOCIALIST PARTY LEADER ANICETO RODRIGUEZ HAVE RETURNED TO CHILE. THE STATE OF SIEGE WAS ALLOWED TO EXPIRE IN JANUARY; A LATE-NIGHT CURFEW IN EFFECT FOR MUCH OF THE LAST THIRTEEN YEARS ALSO WAS NOT RENEWED.

IN RESPONSE TO OBJECTIONS OVER CONTINUING CREDIBLE

REPORTS OF TORTURE, THE GOVERNMENT HAS TAKEN A POSITIVE STEP, GIVING THE INTERNATIONAL RED CROSS (ICRC) ACCESS TO MOST PRISONERS AFTER A SHORT PERIOD AND DIRECTING THE SECRET POLICE TO CLOSE ITS DETENTION CENTERS. IN ADDITION, THE CHILEAN INVESTIGATIONS POLICE NOW ALLOW THE GOVERNMENT'S ADVISORY HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION TO VERIFY CONDITIONS OF PRISONERS IN ITS CUSTODY. ALL THESE MOVES HAVE APPARENTLY NOT AS YET LED TO A LESSENING OF TORTURE, AS REFLECTED IN STATISTICS MAINTAINED BY THE CHURCH HUMAN RIGHTS ORGAN, THE VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY. WE BELIEVE MORE TIME IS NEEDED BEFORE THE RESULTS OF THESE MEASURES CAN DE ADEQUATELY ASSESSED, BUT RECENT MOVES SHOW A WILLINGNESS ON THE PART OF SOME IN THE GOVERNMENT TO STOP

THE PRACTICE OF TORTURE.

PERHAPS THE GREATEST CHANGE HAS OCCURED IN THE AREA OF FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION. THOSE OPPOSITION MAGAZINES AND FOREIGN NEWS AGENCIES CLOSED DURING THE STATE OF SIEGE HAVE REOPENED. THE OPPOSITION NOW PUBLISHES TWO DAILY NEWSPAPERS. RADIO STATIONS AIR OPPOSITION VIEWS REGULARLY, INCLUDING A RECENT SPEECH BY CURRENT CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY PRESIDENT GABRIEL VALDEZ. THERE IS A LIVELY PUBLIC DEBATE UNDERWAY ON ALL POLITICAL ISSUES, INCLUDING A HIGH DEGREE OF CRITICISM OF THE GOVERNMENT. FOR INSTANCE, THE RELAXATION OF CONSTRAINTS ON THE PRESS HAS ALLOWED AN OPEN DISCUSSION WITHIN CHILE OF THE ISSUES RAISED BY THE DECISION OF A FORMER CHILEAN ARMY OFFICER TO COOPERATE WITH US LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS CONCERNING THE LETELIER/MOFFITT MURDERS.

BUT THE PICTURE IS STILL MIXED. CREDIBLE CHARGES OF TORTURE ARE STILL MADE. ALTHOUGH THE VATICAN PRAISED THE PERFORMANCE OF CARABINEROS (CHILEAN NATIONAL POLICE) PROVIDING SECURITY DURING THE POPE'S VISIT--ESPECIALLY THEIR RESTRAINT IN THE FACE OF FAR LEFT

VIOLENCE--RECENTLY THERE WERE REPORTS THAT CHILEAN SECRET POLICE (CNI) USED EXCESSIVE FORCE TO DETAIN A GROUP OF TERRORISTS, KILLING SOME WITHOUT ANY ARMED PROVOCATION.

AS I INDICATED, THE GOVERNMENT HAS MADE A VERY SUBSTANTIAL REDUCTION IN THE NUMBER OF POLITICAL EXILES, A PRACTICE WHICH THE VAST MAJORITY OF THE CHILEAN PEOPLE ABHOR. IMPORTANT FIGURES, HOWEVER, REMAIN BANNED. SOME OF THOSE STILL ON THE LIST HAVE RETURNED TO CHILE ILLEGALLY AND FACED COURT PROSECUTION AND INTERNAL BANISHMENT.

WHILE CHILE NOW HAS A VERY LIVELY PRESS ENVIRONMENT, PRESS FREEDOM IS STILL SPOTTY. THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT CAN EXERT PRESSURE ON FINANCIALLY WEAK PAPERS THROUGH DEBTS OWED TO THE GOVERNMENT. IT MAINTAINS STRICT CONTROL OF TELEVISION. IN ADDITION, JOURNALISTS CONTINUE TO BE PROSECUTED AND IMPRISONED UNDER LAWS BARRING CRITICISM OF CHILE'S ARMED FORCES.

THE GOVERNMENT HAS EXPANDED THE ROLE OF ITS HUMAN RIGHTS ADVISORY COMMISSION BUT A GOVERNMENT PROSECUTOR HAS PUT PRESSURE ON THE VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY, THROUGH AN INVESTIGATION LEADING TO THE PROLONGED DETENTION OF ONE VICARIATE EMPLOYEE AND AN INDEPENDENT DOCTOR FOR ASSISTANCE TO AN ALLEGED TERRORIST. AS THE COURT PROCEEDINGS ARE SECRET, THE PROSECUTOR HAS NOT HAD TO MAKE PUBLIC ANY EVIDENCE OF IMPROPER ACTIONS BY THESE INDIVIDUALS.

ONE OF THE MOST SERIOUS PROBLEMS REMAINING IS THE FAILURE OF THE CHILEAN JUDICIARY TO ASSUME ITS ROLE AS WHAT THE

LIMITED OFFICIAL USE

UN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR CHILE HAS DESCRIBED AS "GUARDIAN OF HUMAN RIGHTS". THE JUDICIARY, THOUGH NOMINALLY INDEPENDENT, HAS FAILED TO PUNISH OFFICIALS FOR HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES AGAINST GOVERNMENT OPPONENTS. INVESTIGATION INTO HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS USUALLY STRETCH ON INDEFINITELY WITHOUT RESULTS OR ARE "SUSPENDED" BECAUSE OF LACK OF EVIDENCE--THE PRESENT STATUS OF THE INTERNAL CHILEAN INVESTIGATION INTO THE LETELIER ASSASSINATION, EVEN AFTER THE STATEMENTS MADE TO A U.S. COURT BY MAJOR FERNANDEZ LARIOS.

THE KILLING OF RODRIGO ROJAS IS ANOTHER CASE IN POINT. ON JULY 2, THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF THE KILLING OF MR. ROJAS AND THE SEVERE BURNING OF HIS CHILEAN CONPANION MS. QUINTANA, THE STATE DEPARTMENT SPOKESMAN NOTED OUR CONCERN OVER THE "GLACIAL PROGRESS" IN THIS CASE. (THAT STATEMENT IS ATTACHED FOR THE RECORD.) THE ONLY SUBSTANTIVE RESULTS TO DATE ARE THAT THE CHILEAN OFFICER IN CHARGE OF THE ARMY PATROL INVOLVED IS CHARGED WITH NEGLIGENT HOMICIDE FOR NOT PROCURING MEDICAL ASSISTANCE FOR MR. ROJAS AND MS. QUINTANA. THAT CHILEAN ARMY OFFICER WAS FREED ON BOND AND PROMOTED TO CAPTAIN EARLIER THIS YEAR.

NONETHELESS, THERE HAVE BEEN POSITIVE IMPROVEMENTS IN HUMAN RIGHTS PRATICES. WHY HAVE THEY OCCURRED? EXPLANATIONS VARY. SOME OBSERVERS BELIEVE OUTSIDE PRESSURE HAS BEEN AN IMPORTANT INCENTIVE, CITING THE POPE'S VISIT IN APRIL, AND OUR STRONG STAND. OUTSIDE VIEWS MAY HAVE BEEN A FACTOR, BUT NOT THE DECISIVE ONE. CREDIT GOES TO THOSE PEOPLE WITHIN THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT WHO ARE WORKING TO END HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS, RECOGNIZING THE HARM PERSISTENT VIOLATIONS CAUSE CHILE AND ITS REPUTATION.

WHATEVER THE REASON, WE WELCOME THESE POSITIVE STEPS, AND HOPE OTHERS WILL FOLLOW.

SOUND ECONOMIC POLICIES PRODUCE GROWTH

IN CONTRAST TO THE UNCERTAIN PROSPECTS FOR DEMOCRATIZATION AND CONTINUING HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS, THE ECONOMIC SITUATION LOOKS EXCELLENT. IF OUR DECISIONS IN THE IFIS WERE MADE ON ECONOMIC GROUNDS ALONE, IFI LOANS TO CHILE WOULD GENERALLY DESERVE OUR STRONG SUPPORT AND AFFIRMATIVE VOTES.

SINCE 1970 CHILE HAS SUFFERED AMONG THE WORST DECLINES IN ITS TERMS OF TRADE OF ALL COUNTRIES IN LATIN AMERICA. DESPITE THIS, THE GOC HAS FOLLOWED INNOVATIVE FREE MARKET POLICIES THAT, FOLLOWING A SEVERE RECESSION IN 1981-83, HAVE LED TO FIFTEEN CONSECUTIVE QUARTERS OF ECONOMIC GROWTH. THIS ECONOMIC EXPANSION IS PRINCIPALLY DUE TO THE GOVERNMENT'S HIGH REAL EXCHANGE RATE POLICY, EXPORT-ORIENTED POLICIES, AND AN OPEN DOOR FOR FOREIGN INVESTMENT.

CHILE REMAINS AMONG THE MOST OPEN MARKETS IN LATIN AMERICA FOR U.S. EXPORTS AND INVESTMENTS. U.S. EXPORTS TO CHILE GREW 20.7 PER CENT DURING 1986 TO $823 MILLION, WITH MAJOR INCREASES IN SALES OF AIRCRAFT, FERTILIZERS, CHEMICAL PRODUCTS, COMPUTERS, OFFICE MACHINERY, PAPER AND PAPERWOOD, AND TEXTILE MANUFACTURING EQUIPMENT. CHILE REMAINS OPEN TO NEARLY ALL SERVICE EXPORTS, FOR WHICH THE U.S. IS CHILE'S MAIN SUPPLIER. WE EXPECT CONTINUED GROWTH IN U.S./CHILEAN TRADE DURING 1987.

IN CONJUNCTION WITH IMPORTANT IMF AND WORLD BANK ROLES, THE GOVERNMENT HAS PURSUED GENERALLY SOUND ECONOMIC POLICIES TO MANAGE PAYMENTS ON ITS SUBSTANTIAL FOREIGN DEBT. TOTAL EXTERNAL DEBT NOW STANDS AT ALMOST $20 BILLION--ABOUT 120 PER CENT OF GDP. U.S. BANKS HOLD ABOUT $6 BILLION OF THAT TOTAL. RECENTLY THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT SIGNED A DEBT RESTRUCTURING AGREEMENT COVERING $15.6 BILLION IN MEDIUM AND LONG-TERM DEBT. A LEADER IN DEVELOPING DEBT-EQUITY SWAPS, CHILE HAS CONVERTED $2 BILLION OF ITS DEBT IN JUST TWO YEARS.

US INVESTMENTS IN CHILE TOTAL $1.3 BILLION AND MAY INCREASE AS THE GOC CONTINUES TO ENCOURAGE DEBT-EQUITY SWAPS AND TO PRIVATIZE CERTAIN STATE FIRMS. THE INVESTMENT CLIMATE IS SUBJECT TO INCREASING UNCERTAINTY ABOUT POLITICAL STABILITY AS THE MARCH 1989 PLEBISCITE DEADLINE APPROACHES. IT IS UNFORTUNATE THAT THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENTS COMMITMENT TO POLITICAL FREEDOM DOES NOT MATCH THE STRONG SUPPORT GIVEN TO ECONOMIC FREEDOM.

COMMON SENSE SUGGESTS THAT THE STRONG REVIVAL OF ECONOMIC GROWTH--LIKELY TO BE 5.5 PERCENT IN 1987--FAVORS THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT. OUR JUDGMENT, HOWEVER, IS THAT ECONOMIC FACTORS ARE UNLIKELY TO BE CRITICAL IN

DETERMINING THE OUTCOME OF ANY PLEBISCITE OR ELECTION. WHILE RECENT ECONOMIC PERFORMANCE IS VERY GOOD, HOWEVER, MEMORIES OF THE 1981-83 RECESSION ARE FRESH. ALTHOUGH RELATIVELY STABLE OVER THE LAST YEAR, REAL WAGES HAVE FALLEN 19.6 BETWEEN 1982 AND EARLY 1987, DUE PRIMARILY TO SUBSTANTIAL DECLINES IN PRICES FOR CHILE'S TRADITIONAL EXPORTS AND THE GENERAL REDUCTION IN LDC ACCESS TO THE PRIVATE CAPITAL MARKET, WHICH HAVE FUELED INFLATION AND THE HISTORICALLY HIGH LEVELS OF UNEMPLOYMENT. GRADUALLY

DECREASING UNEMPLOYMENT STILL STOOD AT 9.1 IN APRIL,

WITH ANOTHER 3.6 IN GOVERNMENT WORK PROGRAMS. THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT'S EXCELLENT ECONOMIC MANAGEMENT TEAM RECENTLY MOVED TO COOL OFF THE ECONOMY, A POLICY CONSISTENT WITH PURSUING SUSTAINABLE ECONOMIC GROWTH.

THE IMPROVING ECONOMIC ENVIRONMENT, HOWEVER, CAN PROVIDE A RELATIVELY SOUND ECONOMIC BASE THAT WILL GIVE STABILITY AND VERY IMPORTANT BREATHING SPACE TO ANY FUTURE DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT OF CHILE. THE NEXT CHILEAN GOVERNMENT WILL FACE THE DIFFICULT PROBLEM OF MANAGING A LARGE EXTERNAL DEBT BURDEN WHILE PURSUING SUSTAINABLE POLICIES FOR NATIONAL ECONOMIC GROWTH. THIS IS, UNFORTUNATELY, THE SITUATION OF MOST LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES TODAY.

PURSUING SOUND ECONOMIC POLICIES IS OBVIOUSLY ESSENTIAL TO REACHING THE GOAL OF NATIONAL ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT. BUT THE POLITICAL DIMENSION CANNOT BE OVERLOOKED. BY THAT I DO NOT MEAN THAT SHORT-TERM POPULIST MEASURES ARE IN ORDER. THESE ONLY POSTPONE A DAY OF RECKONING AND BRING ON EVEN GREATER ECONOMIC CRISIS. EVEN THE BEST ECONOMIC PROGRAM, HOWEVER, MUST HAVE A SOUND BASE OF POLITICAL LEGITIMACY IF IT IS TO ENDURE AND TO WEATHER THE LONG RUN, AND THE EXTERNAL SHOCKS THAT AFFECT ALL COUNTRIES. WHILE ECONOMIC RESULTS WILL TO CERTAIN EXTENT PROVIDE THEIR OWN LEGITIMACY, THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR THE SORT OF LEGITIMACY PROVIDED BY FULLY FUNCTIONING DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS AND A SYSTEM THAT SELECTS ITS LEADERS BY OPEN AND COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS. IN CHILE SUCH A DEMOCRATIC CONSENSUS IS LACKING, AND THIS IS A MATTER OF CONCERN FOR ALL WHO WISH TO SEE CHILE'S ECONOMIC COURSE SUSTAINED.

CHILE AT A CROSSROADS

CLEARLY THE SITUATION IN CHILE IS COMPLEX. CONCRETE STEPS FORWARD ON HUMAN RIGHTS HAVE OCCURRED, BUT THERE IS STILL NO SENSE OF A DEEP AND LASTING COMMITMENT BY THE GOVERNMENT TO TAKE DECISIVE ACTION TO END ABUSES AND ESTABLISH PRECEDURES THAT WOULD MAKE SUCH PROGRESS IRREVERSIBLE.

THE GOVERNMENT IS HEADED TOWARD AN ELECTORAL PROCESS, BUT OPEN AND FULLY LEGITIMATE DEMOCRATIC CHOICE ARE IN DOUBT. POLITICAL REFORMS HAVE TAKEN PLACE, BUT ONLY WHEN INSTITUTED FROM THE TOP DOWN, WITHOUT THE INVOLVEMENT OF POLITICAL PARTIES AND OTHER CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS REPRESENTING IMPORTANT DEMOCRATIC ELEMENTS OF CHILEAN SOCIETY, WHOSE FULL PARTICIPATION AND SUPPORT IS VITAL TO A SUCCESSFUL DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION. THERE ARE ALSO STRONG FORCES OPPOSED TO A DEMOCRATIC OUTCOME IN CHILE. POLITICAL VIOLENCE, TERRORISM, AND GOVERNMENT REPRESSION HAVE HELPED TO HINDER THE NECESSARY NATIONAL RECONCILIATION.

SINCE 1979, DICTATORSHIPS OR MILITARY REGIMES HAVE BEEN REPLACED BY DEMOCRATICALLY ELECTED GOVERNMENTS IN ECUADOR, PERU, BOLIVIA, ARGENTINA, BRAZIL AND URUGUAY IN SOUTH AMERICA AND IN EL SALVADOR, GRENADA, GUATEMALA AND HONDURAS IN THE CARIBBEAN BASIN.

CHILE IS APPROACHING AN IMPORTANT TURNING POINT. WHETHER CHILE SUCCESSFULLY REJOINS THE OTHER DEMOCRACIES OF LATIN AMERICA IS CRUCIAL TO DETERMINING THE FUTURE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS THERE AND CHILE'S LONG TERM PROSPECTS FOR ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT. IT IS OF GREAT IMPORTANCE NOT ONLY TO THE CHILEAN PEOPLE, BUT ALSO TO THE NEW DEMOCRACIES OF SOUTH AMERICA. INSTABILITY IN CHILE WOULD DETRACT FROM THEIR EFFORTS TO GRAPPLE WITH THEIR OWN PRESSING NATIONAL PROBLEMS.

A SUCCESSFUL TRANSITION TO FULL DEMOCRACY IN CHILE WHICH RESTORES THAT COUNTRY'S LONG AND PROUD DEMOCRATIC TRADITION IS ALSO IMPORTANT TO THE UNITED STATES. ANY OTHER OUTCOME COULD THREATEN TO LEAD TO UNREST IN CHILE, AND INCREASED TENSIONS WITH THE U.S.

US SUPPORT FOR DEMOCRATIZATION AND HUMAN RIGHTS

TRANSLATING OUR GOALS INTO EFFECTIVE ACTION IS VERY MUCH COMPLICATED BY THE LIMITED LEVERAGE THE U.S. HAS IN

CHILE, SOME OF IT SELF-IMPOSED. WHILE THE CHILEAN ARMED FORCES CLEARLY HOLD THE KEYS TO A PEACEFUL DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION, PARADOXICALLY, THE RESPONSE BY MUCH OF THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY HAS BEEN TO ISOLATE THEM, AT A TIME WHEN EXPOSURE TO THE PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES OF THE ARMED FORCES IN DEMOCRATIC SOCIETIES COULD BE MOST BENEFICIAL. SINCE 1976 THE UNITED STATES HAS NO SECURITY ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS IN CHILE, NOT EVEN TRAINING PROGRAMS, DUE TO CONGRESSIONAL RESTRICTIONS.

OUR POLICY HAS THEREFORE HAD TO EMPHASIZE THE DIPLOMATIC SPHERE, WHERE WE HAVE COMBINED BOTH PUBLIC AND PRIVATE WORDS AND ACTIONS. WE HAVE TRIED TO BE EFFECTIVE BY TAILORING OUR ACTIONS TO INDIVIDUAL CIRCUMSTANCES, AND IN DOING SO, NOT TO UNDERCUT THOSE IN CHILE WHO ARE WORKING TO ACHIEVE A DEMOCRATIC OUTCOME.

THIS HAS ENTAILED ENDORSING AND PUBLICLY SUPPORTING STEPS BY THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION TOWARD FLEXIBLE AND PRAGMATIC POSITIONS--AS IN THE NATIONAL ACCORD. IT ALSO HAS MEANT SPEAKING OUT AGAINST THE VIOLENT FAR LEFT, AND URGING THE GOVERNMENT TO AGREE TO POLITICAL DIALOGUE AND TO CURB HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES. WE HAVE TRANSLATED RHETORIC INTO ACTION, BY SPONSORING AND JOINING CONSENSUS ON FAIR HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTIONS ON CHILE IN THE UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION IN 1986 AND 1987, AND BY CONTINUING TO SIGNAL OUR SUPPORT FOR DEMOCRACY AND HUMAN RIGHTS BY WITHHOLDING OUR SUPPORT OF INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT BANK LENDING TO CHILE.

IN CHILE, BOTH THE GOVERNMENT AND THE OPPOSITION NOW UNDERSTAND CLEARLY THE IMPORTANCE THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION ATTACHES TO A PROMPT RESTORATION OF DEMOCRACY AND TO THE FULL OBSERVANCE OF FUNDAMENTAL HUMAN RIGHTS. THE STRAIN INCREASINGLY EVIDENT IN OUR OFFICIAL BILATERAL RELATIONS REFLECTS THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT'S APPRECIATION OF OUR POSITION ON FULL DEMOCRACY AND HUMAN RIGHTS, AS WELL AS OF OUR SERIOUSNESS OF PURPOSE IN PURSUING JUSTICE IN THE 1976 MURDER IN THIS CAPITAL OF ORLANDO LETELIER AND RONNI MOFFITT.

THE CHILEAN DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION ALSO KNOWS WHERE WE STAND. IN PARALLEL WITH OUR NORMAL CONTACTS WITH THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT, WE HAVE CONSTANT, INTENSE DIALOGUE, BOTH IN SANTIAGO AND IN WASHINGTON, WITH A BROAD SPECTRUM

OF CHILEAN DEMOCRATIC LEADERS FROM POLITICAL PARTIES, HUMAN RIGHTS, LABOR, BUSINESS AND RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS, PARTICULARLY THE CATHOLIC CHURCH. THESE DISCUSSIONS CENTER ON A COMMON OBJECTIVE, THE MEANS FOR RESTORING FULL DEMOCRACY IN CHILE.

NOT SURPRISINGLY, THERE IS WIDE DIVERSITY OF OPINION

WITHIN CHILE ON SPECIFIC U.S. POLICY DECISIONS, SUCH AS ON THE VOTE ON THE SAL LAST YEAR. BUT ON THE BROAD OUTLINE OF US POLICY THERE IS CONSENSUS AMONG DEMOCRATIC ELEMENTS IN CHILE, JUST AS WE FIND THAT THERE IS A LARGE DEGREE OF BIPARTISAN CONSENSUS HERE. WE HOPE TO MAINTAIN CLOSE CONSULTATIONS WITH THE CONGRESS--THROUGH SUCH TESTIMONY, THROUGH REGULAR BRIEFINGS OF MEMBERS BY AMBASSADOR BARNES AND WASHINGTON POLICY MAKERS--IN ORDER TO MINIMIZE ANY MISUNDERSTANDINGS.

ANOTHER STRUCTURAL ADJUSTMENT LOAN TO CHILE WILL BE REVIEWED BY THE WORLD BANK LATER THIS YEAR. IN DETERMINING OUR VOTE, WE WILL TAKE INTO ACCOUNT ALL RELEVANT FACTORS, INCLUDING ECONOMIC, HUMAN RIGHTS, AND STATUTORY CRITERIA. IN GENERAL, OUR PREFERENCE IS TO VOTE IN FAVOR OF LOANS THAT ARE SOUND ON ECONOMIC GROUNDS. GIVEN THE EXCELLENT RECORD OF CHILE'S CURRENT ECONOMIC MANAGEMENT TEAM, IT IS REASONABLE TO EXPECT THAT IN ECONOMIC TERMS THE NEXT SAL WILL WARRANT U.S. SUPPORT.

THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IS MORE DIFFICULT TO PREDICT. WE WOULD HOPE THAT THE POSITIVE EVOLUTION IN THIS AREA COULD DEEPEN AND ALLOW US TO SUPPORT NEW IFI LOANS TO CHILE. BUT SHOULD CIRCUMSTANCES COMPEL US TO CONTINUE NEXT FALL TO WITHHOLD OUR SUPPORT FROM THE SAL ON HUMAN RIGHTS GROUNDS, WE WILL FACE A SIMILAR RANGE OF OPTIONS AS BEFORE: SEEK TO POSTPONE THE VOTE, AS WE DID UNSUCCESSFULLY LAST YEAR; ABSTAIN AGAIN; OR VOTE "NO". IN DETERMINING THE MOST EFFECTIVE U.S. ACTION, WE WILL CONTINUE TO TAKE INTO ACCOUNT THE ATTITUDES OF OTHER COUNTRIES, AS WELL AS THE LIKELY IMPACT OF THAT ACTION IN CHILE.

CONCERNING THE LETELIER/MOFFITT CASE, THE COOPERATION OF FERNANDEZ LARIOS WITH U.S. PROSECUTORS OPENED THE OPPORTUNITY TO MAKE PROGRESS ON THIS LONGSTANDING UNRESOLVED CASE OF POLITICAL MURDER. WE WILL NOT CONSIDER THE MATTER CLOSED UNTIL THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR DIRECTING THE MURDERS ARE BROUGHT TO JUSTICE. THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT TURNED DOWN OUR REQUEST THAT THEY PROVIDE US FOR TRIAL IN THE UNITED STATES THE TWO FORMER CHILEAN OFFICIALS, GENERAL CONTRERAS AND COLONEL ESPINOZA, ACCUSED OF DIRECTING THE MURDERS. WE HAVE MADE CLEAR THAT WE CONSIDER THIS RESPONSE UNSATISFACTORY, AND THAT THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT HAS THE LEGAL AND MORAL OBLIGATION TO ASSURE THAT THESE FORMER OFFICIALS ARE PROSECUTED AND BROUGHT TO JUSTICE. WE WILL CONTINUE TO PURSUE THIS CASE VIGOROUSLY THROUGH LEGAL AND DIPLOMATIC CHANNELS.

DESPITE OUR SHARED GOALS, FROM TIME TO TIME DISAGREEMENTS OCCUR BETWEEN THE ADMINISTRATION AND MEMBERS OF CONGRESS OVER INDIVIDUAL POLICY DECISIONS ON CHILE. BUT THESE DISAGREEMENTS SHOULD NOT OVERSHADOW THE FACT THAT ON THE FUNDAMENTALS OF U.S. POLICY TOWARD CHILE THERE IS BROAD, BIPARTISAN CONSENSUS. AS WE ATTEMPT TO INFLUENCE DEVELOPMENTS IN CHILE IN A POSITIVE DIRECTION, WE ARE MOST EFFECTIVE TO THE EXTENT WE CAN WORK TOGETHER.

UNITED STATES IN CHILE. I NOTED THEN OUR CONCERNS OVER THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE--VIVIDLY SEEN IN THE BRUTAL KILLING OF LONG-TIME U.S. RESIDENT RODRIGO ROJAS--AS WELL AS OUR GROWING PREOCCUPATION OVER THE LACK OF MEANINGFUL PROGRESS TOWARD A TRANSITION TO A FULL, PARTICIPATORY DEMOCRACY. I ALSO EXPLAINED THE DILEMMAS IN USING EFFECTIVELY THE LIMITED INFLUENCE OF THE UNITED STATES.

A LOT HAS CHANGED IN CHILE SINCE THEN, BUT UNFORTUNATELY THE SAME FAMILIAR QUESTIONS REMAIN OVER HUMAN RIGHTS AND

DEMOCRACY. NOW IS A GOOD TIME TO REVIEW THE SITUATION, SINCE CHILE IS RAPIDLY APPROACHING A CRITICAL TURNING POINT, WITH SERIOUS IMPLICATIONS FOR DEMOCRACY, HUMAN RIGHTS, ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND US POLICY.

THE SITUATION IN CHILE IS COMPLEX; BLACK AND WHITE JUDGEMENTS ARE MISLEADING. CONCRETE STEPS FORWARD ON HUMAN RIGHTS HAVE OCCURRED, BUT THERE IS STILL NO SENSE OF A DEEP AND LASTING COMMITMENT BY THE GOVERNMENT TO TAKE DECISIVE ACTION TO END ABUSES, OR TO ESTABLISH PRECEDURES THAT WOULD MAKE SUCH PROGRESS IRREVERSIBLE.

OUR ECONOMIC LEVERAGE IS ALSO LIMITED. WE DO NOT HAVE ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS TO SPEAK OF. NOR DO WE HAVE A VETO OVER LOANS FROM THE WORLD BANK AND IDB.

OUR POLICY HAS THEREFORE HAD TO EMPHASIZE THE DIPLOMATIC SPHERE, WHERE WE HAVE COMBINED BOTH PUBLIC AND PRIVATE

THE CHILEAN DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION ALSO KNOWS WHERE WE STAND. THESE DISCUSSIONS CENTER ON A COMMON OBJECTIVE, THE MEANS FOR RESTORING FULL DEMOCRACY IN CHILE.

IS OUR APPROACH TOWARD CHILE ON COMPLEX ISSUES SUCH AS VOTES IN THE IFIS CORRECT? WE THINK SO, BUT WE ARE VERY AWARE THAT MANY DECISIONS ARE CLOSE JUDGMENT CALLS WITH RESPONSABLE PEOPLE ARGUING FOR A DIFFERENT COURSE. NOT SURPRISINGLY, THERE IS WIDE DIVERSITY OF OPINION WITHIN CHILE ON SPECIFIC U.S. POLICY DECISIONS, SUCH AS THE VOTE ON THE SAL LAST YEAR.

HERE THERE ARE DIFFERENCES AS WELL. SOME MEMBERS OF CONGRESS FAVOR SANCTIONS TO HURT CHILE ECONOMICALLY AND TO DISTANCE US FURTHER FROM THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT; THE ADMINISTRATION OPPOSES SUCH PUNITIVE ECONOMIC MEASURES AS COUNTERPRODUCTIVE TO OUR EFFORTS TO PROMOTE A PEACEFUL TRANSITION. WE THINK SANCTIONS COULD STRENGTHEN, NOT WEAKEN HARDLINE ELEMENTS OPPOSED TO A TRANSITION, AND PENALIZE THE CHILEAN PEOPLE FOR THE PRESENT SITUATION.

BUT ON THE BROAD OUTLINE OF US POLICY THERE IS CONSENSUS AMONG DEMOCRATIC ELEMENTS IN CHILE, JUST AS WE FIND THAT THERE IS A LARGE DEGREE OF BIPARTISAN CONSENSUS HERE. REF: SANTIAGO 4065 NOTAL

1. (~~SECRET~~ - ENTIRE TEXT)

2. SUMMARY: DURING THE LAST WEEK OF FEBRUARY, A BOMB EXPLODED IN AN APARTMENT IN SANTIAGO. THERE WERE NO INJURIES, BUT PAOLA DRAGO'S WALLET WAS FOUND AT THE SCENE, AND THE CHILEAN POLICE HAVE BEEN SEARCHING FOR HER AND THE APARTMENT'S OCCUPANT, EDUARDO MORGAN TIRADO, EVER SINCE. ON FEBRUARY 27, MS. DRAGO'S SISTER CLAUDIA WAS DETAINED, AND KEPT INCOMMUNICADO UNTIL MARCH 2. DURING HER INCARCERATION, 19-YEAR-OLD CLAUDIA WAS INTERROGATED FOR HOURS AT A TIME, MUCH OF IT BLINDFOLDED, AND WAS THE TARGET OF MUCH PSYCHOLOGICAL ABUSE. THERE WAS NEVER ANYTHING TO SHOW THAT CLAUDIA HAD ANYTHING TO DO WITH THE INCIDENT OTHER THAN BEING PAOLA'S SISTER. COMPLICATING FACTORS ARE THAT THE SISTERS ARE THE NIECES OF BISHOP CAMUS OF LINARES, AN OUTSPOKEN CRITIC OF THE PINOCHET REGIME, AND DAUGHTERS OF THE SECRETARY OF MAXIMO PACHECO, VICE PRESIDENT OF THE CHILEAN HUMAN RIGHT COMMISSION.

3. PAOLA DRAGO IS IN BUENOS AIRES, ALONG WITH HER FIANCE DANIEL ROBERTO GALDAMEZ PIZARRO. THE TWO WILL APPROACH THE EMBASSY TO REQUEST REFUGEE STATUS IN THE U.S.
COMMENT: POST SUPPORTS THIS REQUEST FOR THE FOLLOWING REASONS: 1. GIVEN THE TREATMENT METED OUT TO CLAUDIA, WHO OBVIOUSLY HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH THE INCIDENT, IT SEEMS LIKELY THAT PAOLA WOULD BE TREATED EVEN MORE HARSHLY. 2. BISHOP CAMUS IS AN ENEMY OF LONG STANDING OF THE PINOCHET REGIME. 3. MAXIM

PACHECO IS LIKEWISE AN OUTSPOKEN OPPONENT OF THE REGIME. HE IS OF INTERNATIONAL STANDING IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS FIELD THIS AND HIS POSITION IN CHILEAN SOCIETY PROTECT HIM TO A CERTAIN EXTENT AGAINST ATTACK. THE OPPORTUNITY TO CONVICT SOMEONE CLOSE TO CAMUS AND PACHECO OF "TERRORIST ACTIVITIES" MIGHT BE TOO TEMPTING FOR THE GOVERNMENT TO LET FACTS STAND IN ITS WAY. END SUMMARY AND COMMENT.

4. IDENTIFICATION INFORMATION: PAOLA MARIA DRAGO CAMUS, DPOB 3/29/65, CHILE. DANIEL ROBERTO GALDAMEZ PIZARRO, DPOB 4/17/63, VALPARAISO, CHILE.

5. THE ARREST OF CLAUDIA DRAGO AT HER FAMILY'S APARTMENT IN VINA DEL MAR AFTER THE EXPLOSION IN SANTIAGO CREATED A NATIONWIDE SENSATION. HER MOTHER WAS NOT ALLOWED TO SEE HER UNTIL THE LAST DAY OF HER DETENTION. BEFORE THAT THE GIRL HAD BEEN QUESTIONED FOR LONG HOURS WHILE BLINDFOLDED, MADE TO STAND OR CROUCH IN UNCOMFORTABLE ATTITUDE FOR LONG PERIODS, TOLD THAT SHE WAS GOING TO BE STRIPPED AND RAPED, OR THAT DOGS WERE GOING TO BE SET ON HER, TOLD THAT HER MOTHER WAS ALREADY UNDER ARREST AND BEING TORTURED AND THAT IT WOULD CONTINUE UNLESS CLAUDIA TALKED, AND SLAPPED SEVERAL TIMES ABOUT THE HEAD AND SHOULDERS BY A WOMAN INTEROGATOR. FROM SOON AFTER SHE WAS SHOVED INTO THE CAR ON THE FIRST DAY, UNTIL SHE WAS IN THE CAR ONLY BLOCKS FROM HER HOUSE ON THE LAST, CLAUDIA WAS KEPT BLIND FOLDED WHENEVER SHE WAS MOVED FROM ONE PLACE TO ANOTHER. AS REFTEL STATES, A POLICE OFFICIAL LATER SAID THAT CLAUDIA EXPERIENCED "NORMAL METHODS OF POLICE INTEROGATION".

6. ON JUNE 5, SANTIAGO DAILY "LAS ULTIMAS NOTICIAS" PUBLISHED A THREE-PARAGRAPH BOX ON PAGE FIFTEEN WITH THE HEADLINE "SEARCH FOR CLAUDIA DRAGO INTENSIFIED" WHICH STATED THAT SHE AND EDUARDO MORGAN TIRADO HADN'T BEEN SEEN SINCE THE EXPLOSION IN MORGAN'S APARTMENT. MAXIMO PACHECO TOLD A CONSULAR OFFICER THAT HE HAD CALLED RAUL GONZALEZ ALFARO, AN EXECUTIVE OF THE PAPER, TO POINT OUT THAT THEY WERE IN FACT TALKING ABOUT PAOLA, NOT CLAUDIA. GONZALEZ ADMITTED THEIR ERROR. WHEN PACHECO ASKED WHY THEY HAD PUBLISHED THIS, SINCE THERE HADN'T BEEN ANYTHING NEW IN THE CASE, GONZALEZ REPLIED THAT A GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL HAD CALLED HIM THAT DAY AND ORDERED HIM TO PUBLISH IT, IN ORDER TO SEND A MESSAGE TO BISHOP CAMUS IN RETALIATION FOR THE BISHOP'S COMMENTS THE DAY BEFORE ABOUT THE IMMORALITY OF PINOCHET'S 1980 CONSTITUTION.

7. ACCORDING TO PACHECO, PAOLA DRAGO TOLD HER FAMILY THAT SHE HAD NO KNOWLEDGE OF EDUARDO MORGAN'S APPARENT INVOLVEMENT IN BOMB-BUILDING OR ANY OTHER TERRORIST ACTIVITY. SHE KNEW MORGAN AND WAS VISITING HIS APARTMENT WHEN HE SUDDENLY CAME INTO THE ROOM AND SAID THEY MUST LEAVE BECAUSE A BOMB WAS ABOUT TO EXPLODE. POST HAS NDI ON EITHER OF THE DRAGOS OR ON GALDAMEZ . ON MORGAN , WE HAVE ONLY A CLIPPING FROM A 12/11/82 NEWSPAPER REPORTING ARREST OF A PERSON OF THAT NAME AMONG A GROUP OF 12 WHO STAGED A PEACEFUL DEMONSTRATION IN THE SANTIAGO CATHEDRAL

8. COMMENT : THE ABOVE TIDBIT , ALONG WITH THE KIDNAPPING AND INTIMIDATION IN 1986 OF A MAID EMPLOYED BY MAXIMO PACHECO , HIGHLIGHTS THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT ' S PROPENSITY TO ATTACK ITS ENEMIES IN ANY WAY POSSIBLE . IF THEY ARE TOO PROMINENT TO ATTACK DIRECTLY , AS IN THE CASE OF BISHOP CAMUS AND PACHECO , ONE GETS AT THEM THROUGH RELATIVES OR ASSOCIATES . WE HAVE NO INFORMATION CONCERNI PAOLA DRAGO ' S ACTIVITIES BEFORE THE EXPLOSION , BUT CAN SAY WITH CONFIDENCE THAT HER CHANCE OF GETTING A FAIR , SPEEDY , AND PUBLIC TRIAL IN CHILE IS NIL , AND THAT SHE COULD EXPECT TO COME OUT OF THE EXPERIENCE WITH LASTING SCARS -- AT LEAST PSYCHOLOGICALLY . END COMMENT . BARNES UNQUOTE GILDRED

TAGS: CASC, MX (BLAKE, NICHOLAS AND DAVIS GRIFFITH)
SUBJECT: M/M CASE OF NICHOLAS BLAKE AND GRIFFITH DAVIS - SEARCH IN CHIAPAS, MEXICO

REF: A) STATE 198035 B) GUATEMALA 5812 C) 86 GUATEMALA 3878 D) 86 MEXICO 8742 E) 86 MEXICO 5204 F) 85 MEXICO 04892

1. SUMMARY: CONOFF TRAVELED TO THE MEXICAN STATE OF CHIAPAS TO INVESTIGATE POSSIBLE SIGHTING OF NICK BLAKE IN MARCH OF 1986, ONE YEAR AFTER HIS DISAPPEARANCE IN GUATEMALA. BLAKE WAS ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN LIVING IN THE VILLAGE OF TZISCAO, CHIAPAS WITH A PRIEST NAMED ALFREDO INDA. THE SIGHTING WAS REPORTED BY JOSE H. RIVERA MALDONADO OF GUATEMALA CITY WHO SAID THAT HIS BROTHER LUIS MALDONADO OF COMITAN, CHIAPAS HAD SEEN BLAKE AND HAD SPOKEN WITH HIM. CONOFF'S INVESTIGATION IN TZISCAO ON 16 JULY 1987 FAILED TO FIND ANY PROOF TO SUPPORT THIS SIGHTING. ON THE SAME DAY CONOFF TRIED AND FAILED TO CONTACT LUIS MALDONADO AT HIS HOME IN COMITAN. THIS VISIT FOLLOWED SEVERAL ATTEMPTS TO CONTACT HIM BY TELEPHONE. LUIS MALDONADO FINALLY CONTACTED CONOFF BY TELEPHONE ON THE EVENING OF 20 JULY 1987. HE ADMITTED THAT HE HAD NEVER ACTUALLY SEEN BLAKE AND THAT THE SIGHTING WAS A FABRICATION DESIGNED BY HIS BROTHER JOSE TO ELICIT MONEY FROM THE BLAKE FAMILY. END SUMMARY.

2. REFTELS B AND C DISCUSSED AN ALLEGED SIGHTING OF NICK BLAKE IN TZISCAO, CHIAPAS IN MARCH OF 1986. THE SIGHTING WAS REPORTED BY GUATEMALAN BUSINESSMAN JOSE RIVERA MALDONADO IN APRIL OF 1986 AND AGAIN IN JUNE OF 1987. RIVERA WENT TO AMEMBASSY GUATEMALA TO REPORT THE SIGHTING AND TO REQUEST REIMBURSEMENT FOR HIS EXPENSES IN SEARCHING FOR BLAKE. HE REQUESTED 150 DOLLARS FOR HIMSELF AND 3,000 DOLLARS FOR HIS BROTHER LUIS, A RESIDENT OF COMITAN, CHIAPAS. REFTEL C REPORTED THAT MALDONADO SAID BLAKE WAS STAYING AT THE VILLAGE CHURCH IN TZISCAO WITH AN AMERICAN PRIEST NAMED ALFREDO INDA (AKA PEDRO HERNANDEZ). WHEN JOSE RIVERA MALDONADO HEARD OF THE SIGHTING HE SAID HE SENT A PHOTO OF BLAKE TO HIS BROTHER LUIS MALDONADO, WHO ALLEGEDLY WENT TO TZISCAO IN MARCH OF 1986, IDENTIFIED BLAKE AND CALLED HIM BY NAME. BLAKE WAS APPARENTLY UPSET BY THE RECOGNITION AND RESPONDED THAT HE DID NOT WANT TO BE IDENTIFIED AND WANTED NO CONTACT WITH THE OUTSIDE.

3. CONOFF VISITED TZISCAO ON 16 JULY 1987. THE VILLAGE IS A TIGHTLY-KNIT COMMUNITY OF ABOUT 300 RESIDENTS PERCHED ON THE GUATEMALAN BORDER ABOUT THREE HOURS SOUTH SOUTHEAST OF SAN CRISTOBAL DE LAS CASAS. FATHER INDA AND AT LEAST ELEVEN OTHER TOWNSPEOPLE WHO WERE INTERVIEWED STATED THAT BLAKE HAD NEVER LIVED IN TZISCAO. THEY SAID VISITORS COME AND GO IN THE TOWN, SOME STAY A DAY OR TWO, BUT NO FOREIGNER HAD EVER LIVED THERE FOR MORE THAN A WEEK. THEY ALSO MENTIONED THAT BLAKE'S HAIR COLOR AND HEIGHT WOULD HAVE MADE HIM A PARTICULARLY NOTICEABLE GUEST. IN ADDITION, THE STORY ABOUT BLAKE LIVING IN THE TOWN CHURCH MADE NO SENSE. THE CHURCH IS SOMEWHAT REMOVED FROM THE REST OF THE COMMUNITY AND IS BASICALLY UNINHABITABLE - IT HAS NO BED OR LIVING QUARTERS, NO BATHROOM AND NO WINDOWS. FATHER INDA DOES NOT LIVE IN OR NEAR THE CHURCH BUT IN A SMALL HOUSE ABOUT HALF A KILOMETER AWAY. HE SAID THAT THE CHURCH AUTHORITIES FORBID HIM TO HAVE OUTSIDERS AS GUESTS IN THE HOUSE BECAUSE OF TZISCAO'S SOMEWHAT DELICATE POSITION AS A HOME FOR GUATEMALAN REFUGEES. FATHER INDA HELPS THE REFUGEES AS MUCH AS HE CAN, BUT HIS SUPERIORS DO NOT WANT THE APPEARANCE THAT THE CATHOLIC CHURCH IS HOSTING FOREIGNERS WHO COME TO MEET WITH THE REFUGEES.

4. FATHER INDA IDENTIFIED BLAKE FROM A PHOTOGRAPH AND SAID HE HAD MET HIM IN EITHER 1983 OR 1984. BLAKE HAD COME TO TZISCAO TO INTERVIEW THE GUATEMALAN REFUGEES AND ASKED FATHER INDA ABOUT THE CHURCH'S POSITION ON THE REFUGEE ISSUE. BLAKE WAS TRAVELING WITH A DARK-HAIRED, BEARDED FRIEND WHOSE NAME FATHER INDA COULD NOT RECALL. INDA WAS SHOWN A PHOTO OF GRIFFITH DAVIS BUT COULD NOT SAY IF DAVIS WAS BLAKE'S COMPANION AT THE TIME. CONOFF WAS SURPRISED TO LEARN THAT FATHER INDA KNEW THE BASICS OF THE CASE AND HAD HEARD OF THE EMBASSY'S ATTEMPTS TO LOCATE HIM. HE SAID ARCHBISHOP SAMUEL RUIZ OF SAN CRISTOBAL DE LAS CASAS HAD INFORMED HIM THAT THERE HAD BEEN A SIGHTING OF BLAKE IN TZISCAO AND THAT THE EMBASSY HAD BEEN LOOKING FOR INDA LAST YEAR. FATHER INDA SAID THAT HE HADN'T CONTACTED THE EMBASSY BECAUSE THE CLOSEST PHONE WAS AN HOUR AWAY AND HE THOUGHT THE SIGHTING WAS TOO FAR FETCHED TO BE IMPORTANT.

5. A TELEPHONE CALL FROM LUIS MALDONADO ON CONOFF'S RETURN TO MEXICO CITY CONFIRMED CONOFF'S CONCLUSION THAT THE WHOLE TZISCAO STORY WAS A FABRICATION. DURING THE VISIT TO MALDONADO'S HOUSE IN COMITAN CONOFF LEFT BOTH HIS HOME AND WORK TELEPHONE NUMBERS WITH LUIS MALDONADO'S WIFE. CONOFF ASKED THAT MALDONADO CALL COLLECT AND HE OBLIGED BY CALLING ON MONDAY EVENING, 20 JULY 1987. MALDONADO BEGAN THE CONVERSATION BY SAYING THAT THE SIGHTING WAS REAL AND THAT BOTH HE AND HIS BROTHER HAD SEEN NICK BLAKE IN TZISCAO. HE SAID THAT BLAKE WAS STAYING INSIDE OF THE CHURCH AND THAT FATHER INDA APPEARED TO BE TRYING TO HIDE HIM. HE ALSO SAID THAT BLAKE HAD TRAVELED AS FAR AS COMITAN WHERE HE STAYED IN THE PENSION FLORES THERE. CONOFF PRESENTED LUIS WITH THE EVIDENCE GATHERED IN TZISCAO AND SAID THAT HIS STORY WAS DIRECTLY CONTRADICTED BY EVERYONE CONOFF INTERVIEWED. HE WAS TOLD THAT THE WHOLE STORY WAS FULL OF INCONSISTENCIES AND THE PEOPLE OF TZISCAO WOULD HAVE KNOWN IF NICK BLAKE HAD BEEN LIVING IN THE VILLAGE. CONOFF ALSO SAID THAT THE FAMILY HAD MADE NO AGREEMENTS WITH THE MALDONADO'S ABOUT MONEY AND THAT THEIR CLAIM TO OVER 3,000 DOLLARS IN EXPENSES WAS BASED ON LITTLE WORK AND NO EVIDENCE. FACED WITH THIS EVIDENCE, MALDONADO BEGAN TO SLOWLY BACK OFF HIS STORY. HE SAID HE HEARD ABOUT THE CASE BECAUSE HIS BROTHER JOSE CAME TO COMITAN DETERMINED TO FIND BLAKE AFTER HEARING THAT BLAKE HAD SPENT SOME TIME IN THE TZISCAO AREA. LUIS THEN ADMITTED THAT HE HAD NEVER PERSONALLY GONE TO TZISCAO TO LOOK FOR BLAKE, AND THAT THE SIGHTING WAS MADE BY JOSE. LUIS FINALLY ADMITTED THAT JOSE HAD NEVER SEEN BLAKE EITHER AND THAT THE WHOLE STORY WAS A GRAND PLAN TO TRY TO GAIN MONEY EITHER AT THE EXPENSE OF THE BLAKE FAMILY OR THE U.S. GOVERNMENT. HE SAID HE HAD GONE ALONG WITH THE STORY AS A FAVOR TO JOSE.

6. ON 17 JULY 1987, THE DAY FOLLOWING THE TRIP TO TZISCAO, CONOFF MET IN SAN CRISTOBAL DE LAS CASAS WITH GABRIEL SUAREZ AND ELPIDIO MONTES. BOTH OF THESE GENTLEMEN WERE INTERVIEWED DURING PREVIOUS VISITS TO CHIAPAS (REFTELS D, E AND F), AND CONOFF WANTED TO SEE IF

1. (U) THREE MEXICAN NEWSPAPERS PRINTED ARTICLES ON JULY 21, 1987, QUOTING THE LEADER OF THE ELECTRICAL WORKERS UNION AS SAYING THE FUEL FOR THE LAGUNA VERDE NUCLEAR PLANT NUMBER ONE WILL BE LOADED ON AUGUST 14.

2. (U) IN EL NACIONAL (P. 3), NOVEDADES (P. 6), AND LA JORNADA (P. 7), LEONARDO RODRIGUEZ ALCAINE, HEAD OF THE SINDICATO UNICO DE TRABAJADORES ELECTRICISTAS (SUTERM), STATED THAT THE URANIUM FUEL WILL BE LOADED ON AUGUST 14. HE WAS INTERVIEWED AT THE MEXICAN LABOR CONFEDERATION HEADQUARTERS. HE STATED THAT THERE IS NO DELAY IN THE START UP OF THE NUCLEAR ENERGY FACILITY. TIME CONSUMING, EXTENSIVE SAFETY TESTS ARE BEING CONDUCTED SO THAT THE EXPERTS AND THE WORKERS ARE ABSOLUTELY CERTAIN THAT THE PLANT WILL NOT CAUSE ANY PROBLEMS IN THE FUTURE. HE ALSO DECLARED QUOTE THAT IF THE UNION IS NOT SURE THE

3. (C) SCIOFF CONTACTED ING. MIGUEL MEDINA VAILLARD, HEAD OF THE MEXICAN NUCLEAR SAFETY COMMISSION (CNSNS) TO VERIFY THE ACCURACY OF THE AUGUST 14 DATE. MEDINA CONTRADICTED THE NEWSPAPER REPORTS AND SAID THAT IT IS NOT POSSIBLE TO LOAD FUEL THAT EARLY BECAUSE THE CNSNS HAS NOT YET GIVEN ITS PERMISSION. HE EXPECTS THE FUEL LOADING COULD OCCUR AS EARLY AS THE END OF SEPTEMBER, AFTER THE RESULTS OF THE SAFETY TESTING ARE KNOWN. IN ANY CASE, THERE IS NO FUEL LOADING DATE SET.

4. (C) MEDINA SPECULATED THAT THE UNION MENTIONED AUGUST 14 BECAUSE IT IS THE EXACT DATE OF THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE FOUNDING OF THE FEDERAL ELECTRICITY COMMISSION (CFE). HE DID NOT KNOW IF THE CFE HAS PLANNED ANY SPECIAL EVENT AT THE LAGUNA VERDE PLANT TO COMMEMORATE THE ANNIVERSARY.

5. (C) IN ADDITION, ING. JUAN EIBENSCHUTZ HARTMAN, SUBDIRECTOR OF THE CFE, ALSO STATED TO SCIOFF THAT A DATE FOR FUEL LOADING HAS NOT BEEN SET YET. HE, TOO, MENTIONED THAT AUGUST 14 WAS THE ANNIVERSARY OF THE CFE FOUNDING AND SUGGESTED THAT THE REPORTER MAY HAVE MISUNDERSTOOD.

6. (C) FOR NRC: AS YET, EMBASSY DOES NOT SEE ANY CONNECTION BETWEEN CFE 50TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION, REPORTED AUGUST 14 FUEL LOADING, AND THE VISIT OF COMMISSIONER CARR. (SCI:ASIMON) PILLIOD

*-COMANDANTE, YA QUE ESTAMOS EN ESTO, A NICARAGUA SE ACUSA MUCHO DE EXPORTAR LA REVOLUCION, DE AYUDAR A LA GUERRILLA DE EL SALVADOR, TAMBIEN CON ARMAS, DE METERSE EN EL SALVADOR. CUAL ES, EN VERDAD, LA POSICION DE NICARAGUA AL RESPECTO? CUAL ES LA RELACION REAL DEL SANDINISMO CON LA GUERRILLA DE EL SALVADOR?

-NOSOTROS TENEMOS VINCULOS HISTORICOS, PORQUE CONSIDERAMOS QUE ES UNA CAUSA COMUN EN CENTROAMERICA, PARTICULARMENTE EN ESTOS PAISES EN DONDE HEMOS ESTADO SOMETIDOS EN EL PASADO, EN DONDE ESTAMOS SOMETIDOS EN EL PRESENTE.

LA LUCHA DE EL SALVADOR ES TAN ANTIGUA COMO LA LUCHA DE LOS NICARAGUENSES, CONTRA LA OLIGARQUIA, CONTRA LA EXPLOTACION, CONTRA LA DOMINACION ESTADOUNIDENSE.

DE TAL MANERA, QUE TENEMOS UNA IDENTIDAD HISTORICA, UNA IDENTIFICACION HISTORICA DE PROPOSITOS. SUBJECT: ABRAMS-ERRAZURIZ MEETING OF JULY 28

REF: SWIGERT-JONES SECURE TELCON OF 7/28

1. SUMMARY: IN A MEETING JULY 28 CHILEAN AMBASSADOR ERRAZURIZ AND ASSISTANT SECRETARY ABRAMS DEBATED THE NATURE OF CHILE'S HOPED-FOR TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY, WITH ERRAZURIZ COMPLAINING (AS HE HAS BEFORE) THAT US PUBLIC STATEMENTS COMPLICATE, RATHER THAN ADVANCE, EFFORTS TO REACH THAT STILL DISTANT GOAL. ABRAMS PRESENTED ERRAZURIZ WITH A DIPLOMATIC NOTE REQUESTING THAT THE GOC COMPENSATE THE LETELIER/MOFFITT FAMILIES FOR THEIR LOSS DUE TO THE ACTIONS OF FORMER CHILEAN GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS (REPORTED SEPTEL). CHILEAN EMBASSY DCM MATURANA ACCOMPANIED ERRAZURIZ. DAS GELBARD, ARA/SC DEPUTY DIRECTOR HOPPER AND DESK OFFICER SWIGERT ALSO PARTICIPATED. END SUMMARY.

2. ALTHOUGH ERRAZURIZ ASKED FOR THE MEETING, HE SEEMED TO HAVE NO PARTICULAR ISSUE HE WISHED TO DISCUSS. THE ONLY SPECIFIC SUBJECT HE RAISED--US VIEWS TOWARD THE

"GROUP OF EIGHT"--SEEMED ALMOST TO BE AFTERTHOUGHT. WHEN ABRAMS ASKED ABOUT THE ONGOING CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY ELECTIONS, ERRAZURIZ DESCRIBED IN DETAIL THE FRACTIOUS NATURE OF THE OPPOSITION, MAKING HIS FAMILIAR ARGUMENT THAT EVERYTHING WOULD TURN OUT FINE IF OTHERS SUCH AS THE USG WOULD STOP MEDDLING.

3. DURING THE ENSUING GIVE AND TAKE WITH ABRAMS, ERRAZURIZ ADMITTED THAT FULL DEMOCRACY, AS AMERICANS UNDERSTAND IT WITH OPEN ELECTIONS, IS STILL A LONG WAY OFF IN CHILE'S FUTURE. RECALLING SPAIN'S EVOLUTIONARY CHANGE, ERRAZURIZ ARGUED THAT THE DELAY IS BUT A SMALL INTERVAL IN THE LIFE OF A NATION. HE STRESSED THAT NO ALTERNATIVE TO THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT EXISTS. ACCORDING TO ERRAZURIZ, RECENT PUBLIC OPINION POLLS IN CHILE ARE INACCURATE--THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT PRESENTLY ENJOYS THE MAJORITY SUPPORT OF THE CHILEAN PEOPLE. ERRAZURIZ EXPRESSED WORRY IN PARTICULAR ABOUT THE NEGATIVE IMPACT IN SANTIAGO OF STATEMENTS SUGGESTING THE US IS STIMULATING OTHERS, INCLUDING LATIN GOVERNMENTS, TO CRITICIZE CHILE. ERRAZURIZ AND ABRAMS BRIEFLY DISCUSSED THE POSITIONS OF CHILE'S NEIGHBORS TOWARD CHILE, WITH ABRAMS NOTING THE ABSENCE OF ANY GENUINE SOLIDARITY AMONG HEMISPHERIC DEMOCRACIES, AND THE PERSISTENCE OF LATIN AMERICAN SOLIDARITY AGAINST MYTHIC AMERICAN INTERVENTIONISM.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

4. ABRAMS CHALLENGED ERRAZURIZ' OPTIMISTIC APPRAISAL OF THE GOC'S ABILITY TO SUSTAIN ITS CURRENT COURSE, POINTING TO THE FAILURE OF THE MILITARY GOVERNMENT TO RESOLVE THE SERIOUS DIVISIONS WITHIN CHILE WHICH ALLENDE HAD EXPLOITED SO SUCCESSFULLY. IF THESE INTRACTABLE DIVISIONS HAVE PERSISTED OVER FOURTEEN YEARS, AS ERRAZURIZ HIMSELF ADMITTED, IT IS DIFFICULT TO HAVE CONFIDENCE THAT THE CONTINUATION OF THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT FOR ANOTHER EIGHT YEARS WILL BRING LASTING STABILITY. THE RISKS OF MOVING TO GENUINE DEMOCRACY SEEMED LESS THAN THOSE ASSOCIATED WITH PROLONGATION OF THIS GOVERNMENT. ABRAMS PREDICTED THAT THE ABSENCE OF A GENUINE DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION WOULD STRENGTHEN THE COMMUNIST POSITION.

5. ERRAZURIZ BROUGHT UP MEXICO'S EFFORTS TO ORGANIZE THE 'GROUP OF EIGHT", AND EXPRESSED CONCERN THAT NO CLEAR UNDERSTANDING OF THE USG POSITION ON THIS MANEUVER IS APPARENT AMONG THE LATIN AMERICAN DIPLOMATIC CORPS. HE

OBSERVED THAT AMBASSADORS IN WASHINGTON COULD BE HELPFUL IN STIMULATING OPPOSITION IN THEIR CAPITALS TO THE MEXICAN MOVE. ERRAZURIZ ADMITTED THAT THE GOC IS NOT IN A POSITION TO EXERCISE LEADERSHIP AGAINST MEXICO, BUT SUGGESTED WILLINGNESS TO HELP IN ANYWAY POSSIBLE.

6. ABRAMS NOTED THAT WE OPPOSE THE MEXICAN EFFORTS, AND UNDERSTAND THEM CLEARLY TO BE AN EFFORT TO ORGANIZE A FORUM MORE FAVORABLE TO MEXICO--I.E., ONE IN WHICH THE U.S. IS NOT PRESENT--IN WHICH TO CRITICIZE THE US AND ITS POLICIES. ABRAMS SAID WE WOULD SEND AN INSTRUCTION TO OUR EMBASSIES ON THIS VERY SOON, AND NOTED THAT HE RECENTLY EXPLAINED US OPPOSITION TO THE MEXICAN INITIATIVE, WHICH EXCLUDES DEMOCRACIES SUCH AS ECUADOR AND BOLIVIA WHILE INCLUDING PANAMA, TO ARGENTINE FOREIGN MINISTER CAPUTO AND TO THE COLOMBIAN PRESIDENT AND

FOREIGN MINISTER. GELBARD ADDED THAT HE HAD CONVEYED US OPPOSITION TO THE MEXICAN INITIATIVE TO EUROPEAN GOVERNMENTS DURING HIS RECENT TRIP. ABRAMS INDICATED THAT WE UNDERSTOOD COMPLETELY THAT THE IMPACT OF INSTITUTIONALIZATION OF THE "GROUP OF THE EIGHT" WOULD LIKELY BE THAT OTHER COUNTRIES WOULD YIELD TO THE MOST EXTREME POSITION AND THEN HIDE BEHIND A SO-CALLED LATIN VIEW. A SIMILAR PHENOMENON IS SOMETIMES VISIBLE IN THE EC.

7. ABRAMS THEN PRESENTED ERRAZURIZ WITH A NOTE REQUESTING THAT COMPENSATION BE PAID TO THE VICTIMS' FAMILIES IN THE LETELIER/MOFFITT CASE. THIS EXCHANGE IS REPORTED SEPTEL. FYI: WE HAVE DECIDED TO HOLD OFF PRESENTING THE SECOND NOTE ON REOPENING THE COURT CASE PENDING FURTHER DISCUSSION IN WASHINGTON. PER REFTELCON, EMBASSY SHOULD CORRECT PREVIOUS UNDERSTANDING OF LETELIER FAMILY IN SANTIAGO THAT THIS SECOND NOTE WOULD BE DELIVERED ALONG WITH THE REQUEST FOR COMPENSATION. WE RECOGNIZE POSSIBILITY THAT FAMILY MAY DECIDE, IN THE ABSENCE OF USG ACTION, TO REQUEST REOPENING OF CASE DIRECTLY. THERE IS ALSO THE CHANCE THAT THE GOC MAY TRY TO PREEMPT SUCH A US MOVE BY ACTING ITSELF TO REOPEN THE CASE. SHULTZ

1. SUMMARY: MEXICO IS AMONG THE LEADERS OF LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES IN ADVANCED S AND T PROGRAMS AND CAPABILITIES AND THE USG HAS PLAYED A MAJOR PART IN THIS DEVELOPMENT. MEXICO HAS DONE NOTABLE RESEARCH IN OCEANOGRAPHY, EARTHQUAKE ENGINEERING, AND MANY OTHER FIELDS. IT HAS TAKEN AN ACTIVE PART IN THE NASA SHUTTLE PROGRAM AND IS IN THE PROCESS OF STARTING UP TWO NUCLEAR POWER REACTORS. MEXICO'S GEOGRAPHIC PROXIMITY AND OUR MUTUAL 2000 MILE BORDER DICTATE A STRONG INTEREST IN RESEARCH ON SUBJECTS OF MUTUAL BENEFIT TO BOTH COUNTRIES. END SUMMARY.

2. THE MOST IMPORTANT BILATERAL S AND T ISSUE - FROM A FOREIGN POLICY PERSPECTIVE - IS COOPERATION BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND MEXICO ON THE BORDER ENVIRONMENT PROBLEMS. WE ARE ACTIVELY WORKING ON A LONG TERM BINATIONAL SOLUTION TO THE SAN DIEGO/TIJUANA SANITATION

PROBLEM. THE INTERNATIONAL BOUNDARY AND WATER COMMISSION (IBWC) HAS THE LEAD ON THIS ISSUE AND OTHER CHRONIC POLLUTION PROBLEMS ON THE BORDER, INCLUDING PROBLEMS AT

LAREDO, NOGALES, NEW RIVER, AND OTHER LOCATIONS. THIS SUGGESTS THE NEED FOR A MORE SIGNIFICANT CONTRIBUTION FROM THE COMMISSIONER AND THE IBWC IN THE PREPARATION OF THE TITLE V REPORT.

3. THE 1983 AGREEMENT FOR COOPERATION FOR THE PROTECTION AND IMPROVEMENT OF THE ENVIRONMENT IN THE BORDER AREA AND THE ACCOMPANYING ANNEXES ARE IN FORCE. ANNEX III, COVERING TRANSPORTATION, IMPORT AND EXPORT OF HAZARDOUS MATERIALS AND SUBSTANCES, WENT INTO EFFECT IN JANUARY. THE FIRST NOTIFICATION OF A HAZARDOUS WASTE EXPORT FROM THE UNITED STATES TO MEXICO UNDER THE ANNEX WAS COMPLETED IN JULY. IN ADDITION, NOTIFICATIONS OF UNITED STATES ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY REGULATORY ACTIONS ARE BEING MADE UNDER THE AGREEMENT. WHILE THERE ARE STILL ADMINISTRATIVE KINKS TO BE WORKED OUT BETWEEN THE MEXICAN SECRETARIAT OF URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND ECOLOGY (SEDUE) AND EPA, BOTH AGENCIES ARE PLEASED WITH THE SUCCESS OF ANNEX III.

4. THERE ARE SEVERAL OTHER AGREEMENTS OR TREATIES BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES THAT ARE PRODUCING POSITIVE RESULTS BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND MEXICO IN THE REALM OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY. THE BILATERAL GEOLOGICAL PHENOMENA WORKING GROUP IN SAN DIEGO-TIJUANA, CREATED UNDER THE UNITED STATES-MEXICO AGREEMENT FOR COOPERATION IN THE CASE OF NATURAL DISASTERS, IS WORKING ON A FINAL DRAFT OF AN EARTHQUAKE EMERGENCY PLAN FOR THE REGION. HUD AND SEDUE ARE COOPERATING UNDER THE BILATERAL AGREEMENT IN THE FIELD OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT.

IN A MARCH 1987 JOINT STEERING COMMITTEE MEETING, THE TWO COUNTRIES AGREED TO PROMOTE THE CREATION OF LOCAL BINATIONAL COMMITTEES IN THE SISTER CITIES ALONG THE BORDER. A LATE 1987 OR EARLY 1988 MEETING OF ALL THE SISTER CITY REPRESENTATIVES, CHAIRED BY THE MEXICAN AND AMERICAN SECRETARIES OF URBAN DEVELOPMENT, IS BEING PLANNED AS THE FIRST ANNUAL MEETING.

5. PRIVATE ORGANIZATIONS SUCH AS PRONATURA MODEL THEMSELVES AFTER CONSERVATION ORGANIZATIONS SUCH AS THE NATURE CONSERVANCY IN THE U.S. IN THE PAST YEAR, OVER TEN MILLION DOLLARS WAS DONATED TO PROCURE RARE AND ENDANGERED HABITAT IN MEXICO THROUGH PRONATURA. DUCKS

UNLIMITED DE MEXICO (DUMAC) IS ANOTHER PRIVATE ORGANIZATION THAT SPENT OVER ONE MILLION DOLLARS IN WETLANDS' PRESERVATION AND IMPROVEMENT. U.S. DUCKS UNLIMITED CONTRIBUTED MOST OF THE TRAINING AND FINANCING FOR THIS IMPORTANT PROJECT.

6. THE U.S. FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE HAS SEVEN COOPERATIVE PROJECTS IN MEXICO INCLUDING ASSISTING IN PRESERVING SITES OF ENDANGERED MARINE TURTLES. THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCED THE FORMATION OF SEVERAL TURTLE EGG LAYING PRESERVES AND PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID DECREED THAT MEXICO WILL CONSIDER JOINING THE INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION FOR ENDANGERED SPECIES (CITES) IN ORDER TO STEM THE FLOW OF ILLEGAL TRADE IN ENDANGERED SPECIES. THE USG IS TRYING IN A LOW-KEYED FASHION TO PERSUADE MEXICO TO JOIN.

7. COOPERATIVE AGREEMENTS AND DISCUSSIONS BETWEEN GOM AND USG OFFICIALS TO PROMOTE FISHERIES RESEARCH AND TRADE HAVE RESULTED IN SEVERAL US/MEX JOINT VENTURE START-UPS

IN THE FISHING INDUSTRY AND THE EXCHANGE OF VALUABLE SCIENTIFIC INFORMATION ON SHARED FISH STOCKS SUCH AS MACKEREL, SHRIMP, AND ANCHOVIES. U.S. TECHNICIANS ARE CURRENTLY WORKING WITH MEXICAN BIOLOGISTS ON AN EXPERIMENTAL TURTLE EXCLUDER DEVICE (TED) PROGRAM THAT WILL ENABLE TURTLES TO ESCAPE SHRIMP TRAWLER NETS WHILE STILL ALLOWING EFFICIENT FISHING. MEXICAN FISHERIES TRADE WITH THE U.S. REMAINS ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT SOURCES OF FOREIGN EXCHANGE, SECOND ONLY TO PETROLEUM.

8. THE OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT FOR CONTINUED COOPERATION IN CONSERVATION AND FISHERIES TRADE. THE U.S. AND MEXICO ARE FORMING A COOPERATIVE COMMITTEE (MEXUS-PACIFICO) FOR FISHERIES ON THE PACIFIC COAST. THIS WILL COMPLEMENT THE ALREADY EXISTING MEXUS-GULF BILATERAL PROGRAM.

9. THE NATIONAL OCEANIC AND ATMOSPHERIC ADMINISTRATION (NOAA) COOPERATES IN MANY WAYS BY DONATING FORECASTING EQUIPMENT AND PROCESSING SATELLITE DATA FROM MEXICAN WEATHER STATIONS. NOAA ALSO CONDUCTS HURRICANE

OBSERVATION FLIGHTS IN MEXICAN AIR SPACE. PARTICIPATING IN THESE FLIGHTS ARE MEXICAN METEOROLOGISTS AND TECHNICIANS WHO RECEIVE TRAINING IN THIS HIGHLY SPECIALIZED FIELD.

10. THE COOPERATIVE S AND T PROGRAM IS ONE OF THE MOST COMPREHENSIVE WE HAVE ANYWHERE IN THE WORLD. IN BREADTH AND DEPTH IT COMPARES FAVORABLY WITH OUR RELATIONSHIP WITH CANADA. AT THE LATEST COUNT, 16 TECHNICAL AGENCIES HAVE OR HAVE HAD PROJECTS WITH MEXICO. THE MIXED S AND T COMMISSION (MC) WILL LIKELY UNDERGO SOME REVISION LATER IN THE YEAR - THE FIRST SINCE 1972 WHEN IT WAS ORGANIZED UNDER THE US-MEXICAN BILATERAL AGREEMENT ON SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY. WE HOPE TO NEGOTIATE THE MC OUT OF DAY-TO-DAY OPERATIONS AND MOVE THE FOCUS TO COORDINATION

AND DISSEMINATION OF INFORMATION. IF POSSIBLE THE MC, WHICH HASN'T MEET SINCE 1983, WILL MEET BEFORE THE END OF THE YEAR.

11. THE LAGUNA VERDE NUCLEAR PLANT IS IN THE FINAL PHASE OF CONSTRUCTION. THIS IS MEXICO'S FIRST NUCLEAR POWER PLANT AND IS BEING BUILT WITH GENERAL ELECTRIC. REACTOR NO. 2, ALSO BUILT BY GE, IS APPROXIMATELY 50 PERCENT COMPLETE. THE GROWTH OF NUCLEAR POWER IN MEXICO IS A FUNCTION OF A NUMBER OF FACTORS INCLUDING THE SUCCESS OF LV 1 AND LV 2, THE PERCEPTION OF THE NUCLEAR INDUSTRY WORLD-WIDE AND THE GROWTH OF A LOCAL ANTI-NUCLEAR LOBBY. THE US INDUSTRY HAS AN IMPORTANT COMMERCIAL ADVANTAGE BASED ON THE NRC/CNSNS (MEXICAN NATIONAL COMMISSION FOR NUCLEAR SECURITY) RELATIONSHIP AND THE GE AND GE-SUBCONTRACTOR RELATIONSHIPS. THERE ARE NO IMMEDIATE PLANS FOR ADDITIONAL POWER REACTORS IN MEXICO. HOWEVER, IF MEXICO DECIDES TO EXPAND THEIR PROGRAM, WE HAVE A FOOT

12. COMMENT: SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY IS AN IMPORTANT ELEMENT IN THE US MEXICAN RELATIONSHIP. IT SHOULD BE ACKNOWLEDGED THAT A GREAT MAJORITY OF VALUABLE S AND T ACTIVITY TAKES PLACE BETWEEN MEXICO AND THE UNITED STATES THROUGH THE PRIVATE SECTOR AND NOT UNDER THE FORMAL UMBRELLA OF THE AGENCY-TO-AGENCY AGREEMENTS. THERE ARE NUMEROUS CONTACTS BETWEEN UNIVERSITY RESEARCHERS, LEADING TO STRONG LINKS BETWEEN THE TWO SCIENTIFIC COMMUNITIES AND RESULTING IN SIGNIFICANT SCIENTIFIC AND ECONOMIC BENEFITS TO BOTH NATIONS. ONLY CANADA HAS A MORE DEVELOPED RELATIONSHIP AT ALL RESEARCH LEVELS WITH THE UNITED STATES. (DRAFTED:SCI:SIMPKINS, NESS, SIMON) GAMBLE

Señor Martin,

I am deeply concerned by the involvement of Chilean armed forces soldiers in the death by burning of Rodrigo Rojas de Negri in July, 1986.

Witnesses and lawyers involved in the case have been subject to threats which your government has failed to supress. In addition, while a patrol of several officers and soldiers was involved in the burning, only one person has been charged with the crime.

I strongly urge you to insure that this case is investigated fully and promptly, that witnesses be protected, and that all persons responsible for this terrible offense be brought to justice.

Sincerely,

Stan Lieberson

SUBJ: MEETING WITH PRESIDENT PINOCHET: CODEL LAGOMARSINO

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: IN A CONVERSATION OF OVER AN HOUR WITH CODEL LAGOMARSINO, PRESIDENT PINOCHET EMPHASIZED HIS DETERMINATION TO HOLD THE PLEBISCITE CALLED FOR IN THE 1980 CONSTITUTION. HE PROMISED IT WOULD BE CLEAN AND FREE, LIKE ALL ELECTIONS IN CHILE, AND SAID HE EXPECTED THAT BETWEEN FIVE AND A HALF AND SIX MILLION VOTERS WOULD BE REGISTERED FOR IT. CHILE WOULD MOVE CAUTIOUSLY, HOWEVER, IN RETURNING TO DEMOCRACY, BECAUSE OF ITS DANGERS. LOOK AT THE DEMOCRACIES OF ARGENTINA, BRAZIL, COLOMBIA, ECUADOR, PERU. PUBLIC OPINION CAN BE MANIPULATED, AND THE SOVIET UNION CONTINUES ITS QUEST FOR WORLD CONQUEST. U. S. RESOLVE IS WEAK, PRESIDENT REAGAN IS NOT AS VIGOROUS AS HE ONCE WAS, AND THE STATE DEPARTMENT IS INFILTRATED. PINOCHET SUPPORTS OUR CENTRAL AMERICAN POLICY, BUT WE ARE NOT DOING ENOUGH AND WILL LOSE THE WHOLE REGION. MEXICO IS A RIPE FRUIT WAITING TO FALL. PINOCHET SAID

CERN FOR WELFARE OF CHILE. GOD PLAYED A ROLE IN SAVING HIM FROM ASSASSINATION LAST YEAR.

3. CODEL TOLD PINOCHET THEY UNDERSTOOD THE NECESSITY FOR THE 1973 COUP AND SUPPORTED HIS EFFORTS TO STRENGTHEN THE FREE MARKET IN CHIE. BUT A TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY WAS A NECESSITY IF THEY WERE TO CONTINUE SUPPORTING CHILE, AND SUCCEED IN WARDING OFF EFFORTS IN CONGRESS TO APPLY ECONOMIC SANCTIONS. WHATEVER THE ELECTORAL PROCESS, IT MUST - LIKE CAESAR'S WIFE - NOT ONLY BE FREE AND FAIR, BUT BE SEEN TO BE, PARTICULARL WITH REGARD TO OPPOSITION ACCESS TO TELEVISION. THE CONGRESSMEN CONCLUDED BY STRESSING THEIR SUPPORT FOR REAGAN ADMINISTRATION POLICY TOWARD CHILE, AS REPRESENTED BY ASSISTANT SECRETARY ABRAMS AND THE AMBASSADOR. END SUMMARY.

4. CODEL LAGOMARSINO, ACCOMPANIED BY CHARGE AND CONTROL OFFICER PHILLIP ANTWEILER, CALLED ON PRESIDENT PINOCHET AUGUST 13, IN THE LA MONEDA PALACE. PINOCHET WAS ACCOMPANIED BY FOREIGN MINISTER RICARDO GARCIA; A OFFICER FROM THE MINISTRY'S NORTH AMERICAN DEPARTMENT, RENE ROJAS; AND THE SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE PRESIDENCY, GENERAL SERGIO VALENZUELA. ROJAS WAS PERMITTED TO TAKE NOTES ON THE MEETING, ALTHOUGH THE CONGRESSMEN'S STAFF AND EMBOFFS HAD BEEN PROHOBITED FROM DOING SO. THE PRESIDENT, IN CIVILIAN CLOTHES, WAS ALERT AND ATTENTIVE DURING THE MEETING. AT TIMES, HE BECAME VERY ANIMATED, INTERRUPTING A PRESENTATION TO MAKE HIS POINT, LEANING FORWARD IN HIS CHAIR, AND MAKING USE OF GESTURES. THE MEETING LASTED AN HOUR AND FIFTEEN MINUTES.

5. THE CONGRESSMEN'S PRESENTATION: CONGRESSMAN LAGOMARSINO BEGAN THE PRESENTATION AFTER INTRODUCING THE MEMBERS OF THE DELEGATION. HE EXPRESSED SYMPATHY FOR THE LOSS OF LIVES AND HOMES DUE TO RECENT FLOODS. HE TOLD THE PRESIDENT THAT THEY WERE FRIENDS OF CHILE, AND HAD SUPPORTED IT IN A NUMBER OF DIFFICULT VOTES IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. HE CITED THEIR SUCCESS IN DEFEATING THE PROPOSAL TO DISINVITE THE ESMERALDA AS ONE EXAMPLE. CONGRESSMAN LEWIS EMPHASIZED THEIR

SUPPORT FOR THE FREE MARKET ECONOMIC POLICIES THAT PINOCHET HAD FOSTERED, BUT STRESSED HOW IMPORTANT IT WAS THAT THE INCREASE IN ECONOMIC LIBERTY BE SUPPLEMENTED BY -

POLITICAL LIBERTY. WITHOUT A RAPID TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY, THE CONGRESSMEN STATED THAT EFFORTS IN CONGRESS TO IMPOSE PUNITIVE ECONOMIC SANCTIONS COULD NOT BE RESISTED. OF PARAMOUNT IMPORTANCE WAS THAT THE PROCESS BY WHICH THE NEXT PRESIDENT IS CHOSEN BE CLEAN, OPEN, AND CLEARLY REFLECTIVE OF THE MAJORITY WILL OF THE CHILEAN PEOPLE. A KEY ASPECT OF SUCH OPENESS WOULD BE UNFETTERED ACCESS OF OPPOSITION TO TELEVISION. THEY ALSO NOTED DEEP CONCERN IN THE CONGRESS OVER THE LETELIER AND ROJAS CASES. THE CONGRESSMEN CONCLUDED BY STATING THEIR SUPPORT FOR THE ADMINISTRATION'S POLICIES BOTH TOWARD CENTRAL AMERICA AND TOWARD CHILE, AND THEIR CONVICTION THAT BOTH ASSISTANT SECRETARY ABRAMS AND THE AMBASSADOR WERE ACCURATELY REFLECTING PRESIDENT REAGAN'S POLICIES. IN SHORT, MR. LAGOMARSINO SAID, "WE WANT YOU TO KNOW

6. THE PLEBISCITE: PINOCHET SAID HE KNEW THE U.S. DIDN'T LIKE THE PLAN TO SELECT CHILE'S NEXT PRESIDENT IN A PLEBISCITE. "YOU ACCEPTED THE PLEBISCITE IN THE PHILIPPINES, BUT NOT OURS." REF. LAGOMARSINO SAID HE WOULD NOT ADVISE A SOVEREIGN COUNTRY ON WHAT TO DO. HE HAD A PERSONAL OPINION, BUT SINCE THE PRESIDENT HADN'T ASKED FOR IT, HE WOULDN'T OFFER IT. IN ANY EVENT, PINOCHET CONTINUED, THE 1980 CONSTITUTION MANDATES A PLEBISCITE, AND IT WAS NOT POSSIBLE TO AMEND THE CONSTITUTION. HE HAD GIVEN HIS WORD OF HONOR TO UPHOLD THE CONTITUTION. HE AGREED THAT A LARGER VOTER REGISTRATION WAS IMPORTANT, WHICH HE DEFINED AS BETWEEN FIVE AND A HALF AND SIX MILLION PEOPLE (ABOUT 70 PERCENT OF ALL THOSE OVER 18.) HE DISTINGUISHED BETWEEN FREE ELECTIONS, TO WHICH HE WAS COMMITTED, AND COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS, WHICH HE RULED OUT. ALL ELECTIONS ARE FREE,

COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS WHEN MOST OF THEM HAD NOT YET EVEN TAKEN UP THE GOVERNMENT'S OFFER TO REGISTER AS LEGAL PARTIES. HE EMPHASIZED HIS PERSONAL COMMITMENT TO A CLEAN PLEBISCITE, AND URGED THE CONGRESSMEN TO TRUST THE GOVERNMENT ON THIS POINT. HE POINTED OUT THAT TO DATE, THE DEMOCRATIZATION PROCESS HAD BEEN UNFOLDING JUST AS THE GOVERNMENT HAD PROMISED. THE PRESIDENT REMINDED THE CONGRESSMEN OF THE HISTORY OF CLEAN ELECTIONS IN CHILE UNTIL THE MARXISTS BEGAN TO TAKE CONTROL AND PAD THE ELECTORAL ROLLS. HE STRESSED THAT THIS DEBATE ON DEMOCRATIZATION WOULD NOT EVEN BE TAKING PLACE IF THE MILITARY HAD ALLOWED ALLENDE'S GOVERNMENT TO CONTINUE, AND THAT CHILE'S ELECTIONS TRADITIONALLY HAD BEEN, AND WOULD CONTINUE TO BE, CLEANER THAN THOSE OF MANY OF ITS NEIGHBORS.

7. POLITICAL PROCESS: PRESIDENT PINOCHET STRESSED THE IRRESPONSIBILITY OF THE CHILEAN POLITICAL PARTIES IN BRINGING THE COUNTRY TO A SITUATION WHERE THE MILITARY WAS FORCED TO INTERVENE. HE DISTINGUISHED BETWEEN FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION, AND LICENSE, EMPHASIZING THAT THE FORMER, BUT NOT THE LATTER WOULD BE ALLOWED. HE RIDICUL THE PARTIES FOR CLAIMING TO REPRESENT SIGNIFICANT SECTOR OF CHILEAN OPINION, AND HELD, INSTEAD, THAT THERE WAS WIDE SUPPORT FOR HIS OWN POLICIES AND GOVERNMENT. HE POINTED TO THE CHILEAN NEWSPAPERS AS PROOF THAT THERE WA OPEN POLITICAL DEBATE IN CHILE, STATING THAT SOMETIMES I SEEMED LIKE THE PAPERS TALKED ABOUT NOTHING BUT POLITICS PINOCHET STATED THAT THERE WOULD BE "A SPACE" ON TELEVISION FOR OPPOSITION VOICES DURING THE 30 DAYS PRIOR TO THE PLEBISCITE.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

8. THE DANGERS OF DEMOCRACY. PINOCHET SAID HIS VISITORS DID NOT APPRECIATE THE RISKS OF DEMOCRACY, WHICH MADE IT NECESSARY TO MOVE WITH GREAT CAUTION IN INTRODUCING IT TO CHILE. LOOK, HE SAID, AT ARGENTINA BRAZIL, COLOMBIA, ECUADOR, PERU - THEY ARE ALL DEMOCRACIES. IN CHILE THERE ARE NO EXPROPRIATIONS OF PROPERTY, NO SEIZURES OF BANKS. IN THE U.S. THERE IS ONLY A SMALL DIFFERENCE BETWEEN PARTIES. (REP. LAGOMARSINO QUIPPED, "I'M NOT SO SURE!") HERE A CHANGE OF ADMINISTATIONS IS A TOTAL TURNABOUT. PUBLIC

9. THE STRUGGLE AGAINST COMMUNISM. PINOCHET ASSERTED A COMMONALITY OF VIEWPOINT BETWEEN CHILE AND THE U.S. IN THEIR EFFORTS TO COMBAT COMMUNISM. HE ADMIRED OUR WAR IN VIETNAM. HE QUESTIONED U.S. RESOLVE IN THIS STRUGGLE, HOWEVER. HE THOUGHT THAT IN HIS MOST RECENT SPEECH PRESIDENT REAGAN WAS NOT A VIGOROUS AS HE HAD BEEN. PINOCHET WAS SURPRISED AT THE NUMBER OF STATE SECRETS EXPOSED IN THE IRAN-CONTRA HEARINGS. THERE IS COMMUNIST INFILTRATION IN THE ADMINISTRATION. LOOKING AT THE CHARGE, HE SAID, "I HAVE MY OWN SOURCES OF INFORMATION FROM THERE, YOU KNOW. I HAVE JUST SEEN A CONFIDENTIAL STATE DEPARTMENT DOCUMENT WHOSE AUTHORS WERE EITHER COMMUNISTS OR DUPES." (HE GAVE NO DETAILS.) AS A RESULT, WE HANDICAPPED ANTI-COMMUNIST REGIMES WITH HUMAN RIGHTS CRITICISMS. MEANWHILE, GORBACHEV IS VERY EFFECTIVE AND THE SOVIET UNION PROCEEDS APACE IN ITS

EFFORTS TO TAKE OVER THE WORLD. THEIR FOREIGN MINISTER IS A KGB GENERAL. WHILE HE AND CHILE COMPLY WITH INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS ON HUMAN RIGHTS, THERE ARE NO HUMAN RIGHTS IN COMMUNIST COUNTRIES, AND THE ISSUE IS USED IN INTERNATIONAL COMMUNIST PROPAGANDA TO ATTACK CHILE AND UNDERMINE ITS GOVERNMENT. AT THIS POINT THE PRESIDENT PRESENTED CONGRESSMAN LAGOMARSINO WITH A COPY OF VICTORIA SIN GUERRA BY THE GERMAN ANTI-COMMUNIST COUNT HANS VON HUYN (SEE SANTIAGO 4996). PINOCHET STATED THAT THE U.S. HAD ALREADY LOST CUBA IN THIS STRUGGLE AND WAS GOING TO LOSE CENTRAL AMERICA FROM PANAMA ON UP. HE SUPPORTED U.S. POLICY IN CENTRAL AMERICA BUT WE SHOULD BE DOING MORE TO DEFEAT THE COMMUNISTS. MEXICO IS A RIPE FRUIT READY TO FALL.

10. CHARGE REPLIED THAT AS CONGRESSMEN HAD SAID, THEY WERE SUPPORTERS OF THE ADMINISTRATION, AND AS SUCH THEY WOULD LIKE, AS WOULD THE ADMINISTRATION, TO BE ABLE TO DEFEND CHILE AND ITS ELECTORAL PROCESS. IN THAT RE-

THE CHILEAN PEOPLE. AMERICANS BELEIVE THAT THE BETTER INFORMED OUR PEOPLE ARE, THE BETTER DEMOCRACY WORKS. THEREFORE, WE SOMETIMES FIND IT NECESSARY TO REVEAL EVEN GOVERNMENT SECRETS TO PREVENT ABUSES. FINALLY, CHARGE SAID HE COULD ASSURE PRESIDENT THAT WHAT ELLIOTT ABRAMS SAYS U.S. POLICY TOWARD CHILE IS IN PUBLIC - FOR EXAMPLE HIS RECENT HOUSE TESTIMONY - IS THE SAME AS WHAT HE AND HIS STAFF SAY IT IS IN "CONFIDENTIAL" DOCUMENTS.

11. PERSONAL ROLE OF PINOCHET: PRESIDENT EMPHASIZED HIS DEEP LOVE OF CHILE AND COMMITMENT TO ACTING IN ITS BEST INTERESTS. HE STATED THAT INTERNATIONAL OPINION DID NOT CONCERN HIM IN THE LEAST, AND THAT THE ONLY IMAGE HE WAS CONCERNED ABOUT WAS HIS IMAGE IN CHILE, WHERE HE WANTED TO BE FAVORABLY REMEMBERED. HE STRESSED THAT HIS CONTINUANCE IN OFFICE REFLECTED NOT PERSONAL AMBITION, BUT RATHER DEEP CONCERN FOR THE WELFARE OF CHILE. GROWING ANIMATED, THE PRESIDENT SAID THAT ANYONE CONCERNED ABOUT HIS PERSONAL FATE WOULD HAVE ALREADY RETIRED FROM THE SCENE. HE WENT ON TO DESCRIBE THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT IN WHICH TWO ROCKETS AND 400 BULLETS HIT HIS CAR; THE ROCKETS FAILED TO EXPLODE, AND HE EMERGED MIRACULOUSLY UNSCATHED. HE SAID GOD HAD SAVED HIM. HE INTENDED TO CONTINUE HIS SELF-SACRIFICE ON BEHALF OF CHILE UNTIL THE END OF HIS DAYS. AS THE GROUP DEPARTED, PINOCHET GAVE EACH CONGRESSMAN A COPY OF HIS BOOK ON THE 1973 COUP, THE CRUCIAL DAY, IN ENGLISH.

12. COMMENT: PINOCHET WAS LESS AGGRESSIVE AND DOMINEERING IN THE CONVERSATION THAN IN OTHER MEETINGS WITH U.S. VISITORS, IN PART PERHAPS IN A CON-

SCIOUS EFFORT TO MAKE A GOOD IMPRESSION, IN PART PERHAPS BECAUSE HE SEEMED GENUINELY INTERESTED IN HEARING WHAT THIS GROUP HAD TO SAY. NEVERTHELESS, MANY OF THE STANDARD THEMES CAME THROUGH - THE COMMUNIST THREAT, THE DANGERS OF UNSUPERVISED DEMOCRACY, THE INTEREST OF DIVINE PROVIDENCE IN HIS PERSONAL MISSIO CONGRESSMAN LAGOMARSINO COMMENTED THAT PINOCHET CERTAINLY SOUNDED LIKE A CANDIDATE IN FULL CAMPAIGN, AND THAT THE CODEL'S OBSERVATIONS ON WHAT CONSTITUTED A FAIR ELECTORAL PROCESS SEEMED TO STRIKE A SENSITIVE NERVE. SUBJECT: GELBARD MEETING WITH SERGIO MOLINA

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: SERGIO MOLINA AND EDGARDO CONDEZA OF THE FREE ELECTIONS COMMITTEE (CEL) TOLD GELBARD THEY ARE GUARDEDLY HOPEFUL ABOUT ACHIEVING THEIR GOALS OF VOTER REGISTRATION, A CLEAR OPPOSITION ALTERNATIVE TO PINOCHET, AND CONVINCING THE MILITARY OF THE NEED TO NEGOTIATE. MOLINA COVERED MUCH OF THE SAME GROUND REPORTED IN SANTIAGO 5660, BUT THERE HAVE BEEN SETBACKS IN SOME AREAS AND PROGRESS IN OTHERS. END SUMMARY.

3. LEADING OFF, GELBARD COMMENTED THAT THE FREE ELECTIONS COMMITTEE HE VISITED IN VALPARAISO IS INEFFECTUAL. MOLINA AND CONDEZA ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THAT COMMITTEE IS PARTICULARLY WEAK, AND THAT SEVERAL OTHERS ARE SIMILARLY BAD, BUT CONCEPCION AND A NUMBER OF OTHERS ARE QUITE WELL ORGANIZED AND EFFECTIVE.

4. TURNING TO THE GENERAL PICTURE, MOLINA SAID HE IS PLEASED THAT THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY-LED CAMPAIGN FOR FREE ELECTIONS WILL BE

RUN BY ANDRES ZALDIVAR (WHO HAS REPLACED GABRIEL VALDES IN THAT JOB). ZALDIVAR IS ENERGETIC AND IS ALREADY BEGINNING TO MOBILIZE THE YOUTH, STUDENT LEADERS AND OTHER PARTY AFFILIATES. HE NOTED THAT THE NUNEZ SOCIALISTS AND OTHERS OF THE LEFTIST COMMITTEE FOR FREE ELECTIONS (CIEL) HAVE ALSO BEEN QUITE ACTIVE, AND THAT HIS OWN CAMPAIGN IS GENERATING THE ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMITTEES THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY. MOLINA ADDED THAT THEY HAVE BEGUN TO CAMPAIGN IN A FEW SANTIAGO POOR NEIGHBORHOODS, WHILE IN CONCEPCION THERE IS GENUINE ENTHUSIASM. HE REITERATED THAT LACK OF MONEY FOR CEL HAS BEEN A CONTINUING DRAG, SINCE IN MANY AREAS OF CHILE IT WILL BE DIFFICULT FOR THE FREE ELECTIONS COMMITTEES TO ORGANIZE AND OPERATE WITHOUT FUNDING ACTIVISTS.

5. THE OTHER MAJOR OBSTACLES, ACCORDING TO MOLINA, REMAIN:

-- A. THE INCONVENIENT HOURS AND LOCATIONS OF MANY VOTER ENROLLMENT OFFICES AS WELL AS AN INSUFFICIENT NUMBER OF THEM;

-- B. POLITICAL PROBLEMS, SUCH AS OPPOSITION OF THE EXTREME LEFT, AND GENERALLY UNCOOPERATIVE ~~CO~~NFIDENTIAL

ATTITUDE OF THE GOVERNMENT. THE INTERIOR MINISTER (FERNANDEZ) HAS THUS FAR BEEN UNWILLING TO REPLY TO A REQUEST FROM MOLINA FOR AN APPOINTMENT;

-- C. ORGANIZATIONAL DEFICIENCIES, PARTICULARLY AT THE REGIONAL LEVEL IN SOME AREAS. (MOLINA DID NOT ACKNOWLEDGE THAT THE PROLIFERATION OF PARALLEL FREE ELECTIONS COMMITTEES HAS BEEN A BRAKE ON THEM ALL, BUT THAT IS CLEARLY A PROBLEM. HE INDIRECTLY ADMITTED DIFFERENCES WITH VALDES BY SAYING THAT HE THINKS THAT COOPERATION WITH THE POLITICAL PARTIES' LED DRIVE WILL BE MUCH BETTER NOW THAT ZALDIVAR WILL HEAD IT);

-- D. SPARSE RESOURCES, UNTIL NOW.

6. THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION WILL VERY SOON, PERHAPS IN AS LITTLE AS TWO WEEKS, DEVELOP A CLEAR AND MODERATE ALTERNATIVE TO PINOCHET, MOLINA ANNOUNCED HOPEFULLY. HE HAD SPOKEN RECENTLY TO PATRICIO AYLWIN WHO SAID THAT CONVERSATIONS ARE UNDERWAY AND HE, AYLWIN, WAS OPTIMISTIC THAT A COMMON PLATFORM COULD BE WRITTEN IN A FORTNIGHT, WHICH SHOULD GIVE A BOOST TO VOTER REGISTRATION.

7. CONDEZA SAID THAT UNEQUIVOCAL FOREIGN

SUPPORT FOR FREE ELECTIONS WAS CRUCIAL TO INFLUENCING CHILEAN MILITARY OFFICERS AND BUSINESSMEN, AND HE APPEALED TO GELBARD FOR A STATEMENT BY PRESIDENT REAGAN, WHILE NOTING THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT AS WELL FOR THE EC TO BE HEARD. GELBARD NOTED THAT THE U.S. POSTPONED ISSUING A STATEMENT IN JUNE IN PART BECAUSE CHILEAN OPPOSITION LEADERS THEMSELVES THOUGHT IT WAS PRUDENT TO WAIT. MOLINA CORROBORATED THIS. GELBARD MADE NO COMMITTMENT REGARDING THE REQUEST FOR A PRESIDENTIAL STATEMENT NOR REGARDING THE CONTENT SHOULD WE DECIDE TO ISSUE A STATEMENT.

8. GELBARD NOTED PARTLY IN RESPONSE TO CONDEZA THAT HE SAW POTENTIAL DANGER IN THE COMMITTEE'S EMPHASIS ON FREE ELECTIONS AS THE GOAL, SINCE THAT SEEMS INCREASINGLY

. FREE ELECTIONS DRIVE'S CREDIBILITY AND DEFLATE OPPOSITION AND POPULAR ENTHUSIASM AT THE CRITICAL MOMENT, JUST BEFORE THE SCHEDULED PLEBISCITE.

9. CONDEZA ARGUED THAT THE CHILEAN PEOPLE WOULD REJECT ANY CAMPAIGN WHICH SEEMED TO ACCEPT THE PLEBISCITE AS A REALITY. MOLINA SAID THAT IT WOULD NOT BE DIFFICULT TO SWITCH GEARS AND CALL FOR A "NO" VOTE, SINCE THE TRIUMPH OF "NO" SHOULD RESULT IN FREE ELECTIONS THE FOLLOWING YEAR ANYWAY, ACCORDING TO THE CONSTITUTION. (COMMENT: WHILE MOLINA IS FACTUALLY CORRECT, WE WONDER WHETHER GELBARD IS NOT RIGHT THAT MANY PEOPLE WILL BE DISAPPOINTED IF AND WHEN THE OPPOSITION MUST ASSUME A FALLBACK POSITION. END SOMMENT).

10. A LIVELY DEBATE ENSUED BETWEEN CONDEZA (A DEMOCRATIC SOCIALIST) AND GELBARD OVER U.S. PRAISE FOR THE GOC'S ECONOMIC POLICY AND ITS PERFORMANCE OVER THE LAST HALF DECADE, WITH CONDEZA MAKING WELL-KNOWN CENTER-LEFT ARGUMENTS ABOUT THE GROWING GAP BETWEEN POOR AND WEALTHY, LEVELS OF UNEMPLOYMENT AND THE LIKE.

11. MOLINA DESCRIBED RECENT WRINKLES IN THE PROJECT TO FUND THE FREE ELECTIONS CAMPAIGN THROUGH THE CATHOLIC CHURCH SPONSORED INSTITUTE, ILADES. CARDINAL FRESNO AND MSGR. PINERA HAVE DECIDED THAT ILADES AND THE CHURCH SHOULD NOT BE THE RECIPIENTS OF FUNDS IN THE AMOUNT CONFIDENTIAL

CONTEMPLATED (OVER 1 MILLION U.S. DOLLARS) BECAUSE OF THE HIGH PROFILE THIS WOULD GIVE THE CHURCH, AND THE MUD THAT WOULD FLY FROM GOC AND PRO-GOC QUARTERS. ILADES WILL FOLLOW THROUGH WITH

THE PROJECT DESCRIBED IN THE ILADES PROPOSAL (ONE HUNDRED SIXTY THREE THOUSAND U.S. DOLLARS) FUNDED BY THE FORD FOUNDATION, AND IT WILL BE PREPARED TO CONSIDER COOPERATION IN OTHER ELEMENTS OF THE CAMPAIGN, BUT IT IS NOT AUTHORIZED BY THE CHURCH TO RECEIVE FUNDS OTHER THAN THE FORD GRANT.

12. MOLINA LEARNED OF THIS CHURCH DECISION ON MONDAY, AUGUST 17, AND SINCE THEN HAS COME UP WITH A GENERAL IDEA OF AN ALTERNATIVE. HE TENTATIVELY PROPOSES THE FORMATION OF AN AD HOC COMMITTEE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF A NUMBER OF CHILEAN ORGANIZATIONS WHICH ENJOY "PERSONERIA JURIDICA", LEGAL PERSONALITY, WHICH CONFERS THE AUTHORITY TO RECEIVE FUNDING. THE COMMITTEE WOULD DEVISE A STRATEGY FOR THE CAMPAIGN AND DETERMINE CONCRETE TASKS FOR THE INSTITUTIONS THAT PARTICIPATE OR WANT TO COOPERATE WITH IT. FUNDS WOULD BE RECEIVED BY THE LEGAL ENTITITES AND THEN DISTRIBUTED TO THE APPROPRIATE ORGAN AS DIRECTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

3. MOLINA IS PLANNING TO MEET WITH OTHERS O SUGGEST AND REFINE THE IDEA. HE FEELS HAT TIME IS SHORT AND WANTS TO HAVE AN OPERATIONAL SETUP FOR THE PROJECT BEFORE THE END OF AUGUST SO THAT THEY CAN START WORKING

ON THE ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN AND OTHER ELEMENTS OF THE PLAN. HE SAID THEY WILL ATTEMPT TO BEGIN TV ADVERTISING IN VALPARAISO, SINCE THE ARCHBISHOP OF THE FIFTH REGION HAS AGREED TO THE USE OF THE CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY STATION OF VALPARAISO. IF THAT WORKS, THEY WILL ATTEMPT TO AIR THEIR ADS ON CHANNEL 13 BELONGING TO THE CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY OF CHILE. CHANNEL 13 HAS A NATIONWIDE NETWORK COVERING SANTIAGO AND SEVERAL LARGE CITIES.

ZALDIVAR IS AN AVID CAMPAIGNER, ACCORDING TO SEVERAL SOURCES, AND IF HIS ORGANIZING TALENTS ARE ANY GOOD HE SHOULD BE ABLE TO CONTRIBUTE A GREAT DEAL TO THE VOTER ENROLLMENT EFFORT. WE ARE NOT SURPRISED THE CATHOLIC CHURCH HAS COLD FEET, BUT ARE TAKEN ABACK THAT THEY HAD NOT CONSIDERED THE POLITICAL IMPLICATIONS FULLY AT THE BEGINNING. IN ANY CASE, IT WILL NOT BE EASY FOR MOLINA AND THE OTHERS TO FIND OR CREATE A FIDUCIARY ENTITY WHICH IS BOTH APOLITICAL AND TRUSTWORTHY TO THE SPECTRUM OF THE CHILEAN DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION, BUT OUR LATEST INFORMATION IS THAT THEY ARE MAKING GOOD HEADWAY.

SUBJECT: GUERRILLA DESERTER SPEAKS PUBLICLY

1. (U) A MEMBER OF THE REBEL ARMED FORCES (FAR) GUERRILLA GROUP HAS REQUESTED ASYLUM FROM THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY. JUAN SANIC QUILL, "LA VELOZ", 23, APPROACHED A MILITARY DETACHMENT IN TECPAN GUATEMALA IN THE DEPARTMENT OF CHIMALTENANGO ON AUGUST 20. HE WAS PRESENTED TO THE PRESS ON AUGUST 24 AT MILITARY ZONE 302 HEADQUARTERS IN CHIMALTENANGO. A MILITARY SPOKESMAN STATED THAT SANIC WOULD BE GIVEN PROTECTION.

2. (U) IN SPEAKING TO THE PRESS, SANIC EXPLAINED HIS SIX-YEAR INVOLVEMENT WITH THE GUERRILLAS. AMONG HIS MOTIVES IN JOINING THE GUERRILLAS IN 1981 WAS TO SEEK OUT RELATIVES WHO HAD BEEN KIDNAPPED. HE ALSO HAD BEEN PROMISED MANY THINGS HE FEELS HE FOOLISHLY BELIEVED WOULD HAPPEN, BUT NEVER OCCURRED. THE NON-EXISTENCE OF EQUALITY AND THE ADVANTAGE TAKEN OF THE COMBATANTS BY THE LEADERS ALSO UPSET HIM. AS A GUERRILLA HE BECAME PART OF THE "TECUN UMAN" COLUMN WHICH WAS KNOWN FOR ITS FEROCITY. SANIC TOOK PART IN SEVERAL BATTLES AGAINST THE MILITARY. ALL OF HIS TROOP WERE FROM THE CHIMALTENANGO AREA; THERE WERE NO FOREIGNERS. WHEN HE STARTED WITH THE FAR HE CARRIED A M-16 RIFLE AND THREE HAND GRENADES, BUT AFTER A WHILE HE CARRIED ONLY A REVOLVER.

3. (U) SANIC ALSO DISCUSSED THE PRESENT SITUATION OF THE GUERRILLAS. IN HIS TROOP ALMOST EVERYONE HAD DESERTED AND ONLY FIFTEEN WERE LEFT. MANY WHO LEFT TOOK RIFLES AND HAND GRENADES WITH THEM. SUMMING UP ON HIS YEARS WITH THE GUERRILLAS HE STATED HE ENCOUNTERED "WAR AND MORE WAR, BLOOD AND MORE BLOOD" WHILE HE FOUGHT FOR A CAUSE THAT DID NOT MAKE SENSE. ASKED WHY HE TURNED HIMSELF IN TO THE MILITARY, SANIC RESPONDED HE DESPAIRED SEEING SO MANY PEOPLE DIE FOR A POINTLESS CAUSE. HE HAD BEEN TOLD HE WOULD BE KILLED IF HE SURRENDERED, BUT SAID HE WAS TIRED OF CARRYING ARMS AND THOUGHT OF SUICIDE. HE ALSO TALKED OF OTHERS WHO QUIT THE GUERRILLAS BUT

4. (C) THE MILITARY WENT OUT OF ITS WAY TO PRESENT SANIC TO THE GUATEMALA MEDIA. FIRST REPORTED AS A "CAPTURED GUERRILLA CHIEF", SANIC REPRESENTED HIMSELF TO REPORTERS AS A SURRENDERED COMBATANT REQUESTING AMNESTY.

5. (C) COMMENT: SANIC'S MEETING WITH THE MEDIA IS ANOTHER EXAMPLE OF THE NEW PUBLIC RELATIONS EFFORTS BEING MADE BY DEFENSE MINISTER GENERAL HECTOR GRAMAJO. THE PUBLICITY BEING GIVEN TO SANIC'S DESERTION COULD ALSO BE DESIGNED TO FOCUS ATTENTION ON THE ISSUE OF AMNESTY AND "RECONCILIATION" IN THE WAKE OF THE GUATEMALAN PEACE AGREEMENT. IT REMAINS TO BE SEEN WHETHER SANIC'S MESSAGE THAT YOU CAN "COME IN FROM THE COLD" WILL STRIKE HOME WITH HIS FORMER COMRADES. END COMMENT.

SUBJECT: FUEL RODS TO BE LOADED IN LAGUNA VERDE NUCLEAR REACTOR IN MID-DECEMBER

1. (U) SEVERAL MEXICAN NEWSPAPERS RECENTLY QUOTED THE DIRECTOR GENERAL OF THE COMISION FEDERAL DE ELECTRICIDAD, FERNANDO HIRIART, AS SAYING THAT THE FIRST REACTOR AT LAGUNA VERDE WOULD BE LOADED WITH FUEL RODS IN MID-DECEMBER. HE PREDICTED THE REACTOR WOULD BE READY FOR COMMERCIAL PRODUCTION OF ELECTRICITY THREE MONTHS LATER IN MID-MARCH. HIRIART EXPLAINED THAT THE TECHNICAL ASPECTS OF THE NUCLEAR PLANT WERE COMPLETE AND CFE WAS ONLY AWAITING THE JUDGEMENTS OF THE INTERNATIONAL ATOMIC ENERGY AGENCY AND THE NATIONAL COMMISSION ON NUCLEAR SAFETY AND SAFEGUARDS. HIRIART WAS INTERVIEWED BY A GROUP OF JOURNALISTS ON AUGUST 18 AT THE PRESIDENTIAL RESIDENCE, LOS PINOS, AFTER PARTICIPATING IN A MEETING ON "INDUSTRIAL RECONVERSION".

2. (LOU) COMMENT: LOWER RANKING OFFICIALS HAVE PUBLICLY PREDICTED SEVERAL OTHER DATES FOR LOADING THE FUEL RODS, BUT THESE DATES HAVE ALL SLIPPED BY. HIRIART

UNCLASSIFIED

IS THE MOST SENIOR, KNOWLEDGEABLE OFFICIAL TO SET A DATE SO FAR AND WE SEE NO TECHNICAL REASON WHY FUEL COULD NOT BE LOADED IN MID-DECEMBER. FURTHERMORE, THERE WILL BE LESS POLITICAL CONSTRAINTS ON LOADING IN DECEMBER BECAUSE PRI SHOULD ANNOUNCE ITS CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT BY EARLY OCTOBER. IT IS QUITE POSSIBLE THAT ALFREDO DEL MAZO, SECRETARY OF ENERGY AND A LEADING CONTENDER FOR THE PRI NOMINATION, HAS POSTPONED THE LOADING UNTIL AFTER THE NOMINATION SO AS NOT TO HURT HIS CHANCES. AS THE CABINET MEMBER MOST CLEARLY IDENTIFIED WITH THE LAGUNA VERDE PROJECT, HE WILL BE SHARPLY CRITICIZED BY CERTAIN ANTI-NUKE GROUPS WHEN THE FUEL RODS ARE LOADED. SOME ENVIRONMENTAL GROUPS ARE STILL SAYING IT IS NOT TOO LATE TO CONVERT LAGUNA VERDE TO A CONVENTIONAL, FUEL OIL-BURNING POWER PLANT. (DRAFTED BY:ECON:JMSHELTON)

CONSIDERATION OF CHILE AT UNGA

ROME ALSO FOR VATICAN; BRUSSELS ALSO FOR EC

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: WHILE INTERNATIONAL ATTENTION FOR THE MOMENT IS FOCUSED ELSEWHERE, CHILE IS RAPIDLY APPROACHING A TURNING POINT WITH A PRESIDENTIAL PLEBISCITE EXPECTED PERHAPS AS EARLY AS SEPTEMBER 1988. THE NEXT YEAR WILL DETERMINE WHETHER CHILE'S TRANSITION IS PEACEFUL OR TURBULENT, AND WHETHER IT HELPS OR HURTS OUR INTERESTS. TO ENHANCE THE EFFECTIVENESS OF OUR EFFORTS TO PROMOTE A PEACEFUL, ORDERLY RETURN TO FULL DEMOCRACY DURING THIS CRUCIAL PERIOD, WE WISH TO WORK AS CLOSELY AS POSSIBLE, IN NEW YORK AND IN CAPITALS, WITH OTHER WESTERN DEMOCRACIES. IN THIS CONTEXT, WE WANT TO ENCOURAGE A COORDINATED AND CONSTRUCTIVE APPROACH ON THE DEBATE AND RESOLUTION CONCERNING THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE THAT WILL TAKE PLACE AT THE UNGA THIS FALL. ACTION

ADDRESSEES ARE REQUESTED TO APPROACH HOST GOVERNMENTS AT AN EARLY DATE TO ENSURE THAT SENIOR OFFICIALS UNDERSTAND THE IMPORTANCE WE PLACE ON THEIR ACTIVELY WORKING WITH US IN ADVANCE OF AND DURING THE UNGA TO BRING ABOUT A BALANCED RESOLUTION ON CHILE WHICH PROMOTES SHARED INTERESTS IN CHILE AND ELSEWHERE AND DOES NOT DIVIDE THE WEST NOR ISOLATE US. IN SO DOING EMBASSIES SHOULD BE GUIDED BY TACTICAL SUGGESTIONS PROVIDED BY USUN (SEPTEL) AND FOR SUBSTANCE SHOULD DRAW ON TALKING POINTS BELOW (PARAS 8 -10) WHICH CONTAIN THE ELEMENTS WE BELIEVE NEED TO BE TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT BOTH IN SEEKING TO OBTAIN A BALANCED RESOLUTION AND DURING THE DEBATE. END SUMMARY.

3. THE NEXT TWELVE MONTHS SHOULD DETERMINE THE SHAPE OF CHILE'S TRANSITION. THE GOC HAS RECENTLY TAKEN SOME POSITIVE HUMAN RIGHTS STEPS, BUT WITHOUT MATCHING POLITICAL CHANGE THEY ARE REVOCABLE AND TRANSITORY -- NOT THE STUFF DEMOCRACY IS MADE OF. INDEED, WE SUSPECT THEY ARE PART OF PINOCHET'S CAMPAIGN STRATEGY. SINGLE-MINDED IN HIS DESIRE TO REMAIN IN POWER, PINOCHET APPEARS TO BE TACTICALLY DIMINISHING POSSIBILITIES FOR AN ORDERLY TRANSITION IN ORDER TO PRESENT THE CHILEAN POPULACE WITH ONE CHOICE --"CHAOS OR ME.". HIS CANDIDACY IN THE PRESIDENTIAL PLEBISCITE WILL BE A WATERSHED EVENT, ONE THAT RISKS POLARIZING CHILE TO THE POINT OF FRACTURE. IN ANY EVENT IT WILL FORCE HARD DECISIONS ON THE CHILEAN PEOPLE, AND ON US. WITH THE CRUCIAL VOTE LIKELY TO OCCUR SOMETIME NEXT YEAR, WE NEED TO INTENSIFY EFFORTS TO ENCOURAGE CONSTRUCTIVE, MUTUALLY REINFORCING STATEMENTS AND ACTIONS BY WEST EUROPEAN AND LATIN AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES SO THAT WE WILL HAVE MADE EVERY EFFORT TO UNDERLINE OUR SUPPORT FOR A RETURN TO FULL DEMOCRACY IN CHILE WHICH WE ARE CONVINCED IS THE ONLY SURE WAY TO AVERT VIOLENT CHANGE WHICH FAVORS THE POLITICAL EXTREMES.

4. ONE KEY ARENA FOR DOING SO IS THE BIANNUAL CONSIDERATION OF CHILE HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTIONS IN THE UNGA AND UNHRC. THIS MARCH AT THE UNHRC WE WERE ABLE TO JOIN CONSENSUS WITH WEST EUROPEAN AND LATIN AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES ON A RELATIVELY BALANCED BUT STILL FLAWED CHILE HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION. ON THE OTHER HAND, LAST FALL AT THE UNGA THE WEST EUROPEANS AND THE LATIN DEMOCRACIES ALL VOTED IN FAVOR OR ABSTAINED ON A CHILE RESOLUTION, CO-SPONSORED BY CUBA, WHICH WAS SO UNBALANCED THAT THE US WAS VIRTUALLY FORCED TO VOTE NO. SADLY, OUR VOTE, DESPITE OUR STRONG EXPLANATORY STATEMENT, IS NOW MISINTERPRETED BY DEMOCRATS IN CHILE AS A SIGN OF OUR ON-GOING SUPPORT FOR THE PINOCHET REGIME -- WHICH IT WAS NOT.

UNCLASSIFIED

5. WE WISH TO AVOID SUCH AN OUTCOME THIS YEAR, WHICH WOULD SEND UNHELPFUL MIXED SIGNALS CONCERNING THE ADMINISTRATION'S STRONG COMMITMENT TO PROMOTING A PEACEFUL DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION IN CHILE AS WELL AS MEANINGFUL HUMAN RIGHTS IMPROVEMENTS. WE JUDGE THAT AN EARLY, FORCEFUL, AND CONSISTENT US ROLE IN SHAPING THE HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION IN THE UNGA (AND IN SETTING CLEAR TERMS AND EXPECTATIONS FOR THE DEBATE) IS THE ONLY WAY WE CAN POSSIBLY STIMULATE OTHERS TO WORK TOWARDS A BALANCED RESOLUTION ON CHILE WHICH WE COULD SUPPORT AND WORK WITH. SUCH A RESOLUTION CAN ALSO SERVE AS A PUBLIC BENCHMARK AGAINST WHICH TO JUDGE THE OUTCOME OF THE PROCESS, AND A STANDARD WHICH WILL MAKE OUR VOTE AND STATEMENT UNDERSTANDABLE TO CRITICAL AUDIENCES IN CHILE AND ELSEWHERE. MOREOVER, EARLY CONSULTATION WITH SENIOR POLICY MAKERS IN KEY FRIENDLY CAPITALS ON THE GENERAL ELEMENTS FOR THIS YEAR'S CHILE RESOLUTION SHOULD HELP AVERT OR UNDERCUT RADICAL AND UNBALANCED INTIATIVES AND FACILITATE EVENTUAL AGREEMENT AMONG OUR DELEGATIONS IN NEW YORK ON HOW BEST TO MANAGE ISSUES RELATED TO CHILE.

6. ACTION REQUESTED: ACTION ADDRESSEES SHOULD UNDERTAKE NECESSARY APPROACHES AT SUFFICIENTLY SENIOR LEVEL TO ENLIST THE ACTIVE INVOLVEMENT OF HOST GOVERNMENTS' DELEGATIONS IN WORKING TOGETHER WITH OURS TO BRING ABOUT THE PREPARATION, AND CONSISTENT SUPPORT FOR A CONSTRUCTIVE RESOLUTION ON CHILE POTENTIALLY TO BE INTRODUCED IN THIS YEAR'S UNGA. IN ADDITION WE WILL SEEK AGREEMENT ON A GAMEPLAN SO THAT CUBA AND HARD LINE MEMBERS OF THE NAM CANNOT EASILY MANEUVER THE PROCESS ON THE FLOOR IN ORDER TO PAINT ALL OF US INTO A CORNER WHICH MAKES THE ONLY CHOICES APPEAR TO BE EITHER VOTING FOR AN UNBALANCED RESOLUTION, OR SEEMING TO ACCEPT THE POLICIES OF PINOCHET. IF WE ACT NOW, AND ACT TOGETHER, WE CAN CREATE BETTER CHOICES: OUR FIRST PRIORITY, IF POSSIBLE, IS TO BRING ABOUT PASSAGE OF A FAIR AND BALANCED RESOLUTION WHICH WE WILL BE ABLE TO VOTE FOR; WHILE AT A MINIMUM WE SEEK AN OUTCOME WHICH WILL MAKE IT POSSIBLE FOR AN IMPRESSIVELY BROAD GROUP, EMCOMPASSING US, TO ABSTAIN WITH A STRONG AND CLEAR EXPLANATION OF OUR POSITION. TO THESE ENDS, WE ARE PREPARED TO CONSULT CONCERNING APPROPRIATE LANGUAGE, BUT PREFER THAT OTHER COUNTRIES TAKE THE LEAD AS DRAFTERS AND PRINCIPAL CO-SPONSORS. IF THE TEXT OF THE RESULTING RESOLUTION IS ACCEPTABLE, WE WOULD, OF COURSE, BE PREPARED TO SUPPORT IT. IN MAKING APPROACH YOU SHOULD DRAW ON TALKING POINTS BELOW, WHICH MAY BE LEFT AS A NON-PAPER.

8. TALKING POINTS

--THE NEXT TWELVE MONTHS ARE CRUCIAL TO THE SHAPE OF CHILE'S TRANSITION. SINGLE-MINDED IN HIS DESIRE TO REMAIN IN POWER, PINOCHET APPEARS TO BE TACTICALLY DIMINISHING POSSIBILITIES FOR AN ORDERLY TRANSITION IN ORDER TO PRESENT THE CHILEAN POPULACE WITH ONE CHOICE --"CHAOS OR ME.". HIS CANDIDACY IN THE PRESIDENTIAL PLEBISCITE WILL BE A WATERSHED EVENT, ONE THAT RISKS POLARIZING CHILE TO THE POINT OF FRACTURE.

--THE UNITED STATES STRONGLY SUPPORTS A PEACEFUL TRANSITION TO FULL DEMOCRACY IN CHILE, AS WELL AS INCREASED RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, AND HAS ACTIVELY WORKED TOWARD THOSE OBJECTIVES. WE HAVE MADE OUR VIEWS KNOWN CLEARLY IN CHILE WHERE IT COUNTS, WITH THE GOVERNMENT IN PRIVATE, AND IN STATEMENTS TO THE CHILEAN PUBLIC.

--IN 1986 AND 1987 WE INTRODUCED AND JOINED CONSENSUS ON RESOLUTIONS IN THE UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION CRITICAL OF CHILE'S HUMAN RIGHTS PERFORMANCE AND URGING DEMOCRATIZATION AND FREE, OPEN ELECTIONS.

--WITH THE CRUCIAL PLEBISCITE VOTE LIKELY TO OCCUR SOMETIME NEXT YEAR, THOSE OF US OUTSIDE CHILE WHO WISH TO ENCOURAGE PEACEFUL DEMOCRATIC CHANGE IN CHILE NEED TO WORK TOGETHER.

--WE DID SO EFFECTIVELY AT THE UNHRC EARLIER THIS YEAR, ALTHOUGH THE RESULTS WERE NOT COMPLETELY SATISFACTORY. WE WOULD HAVE PREFERED TO HAVE ELIMINATED IN MARCH THE DISCRIMINATORY PRACTICE OF TREATING CHILE UNDER A SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM. THIS IN PRACTICE IS UNFAIR; MOREOVER, ITS CONTINUATION GIVES THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT AN EASY EXCUSE WITH WHICH TO TRY TO DISCREDIT THE VIEWS OF THE UNHRC AS BIASED AGAINST CHILE.

--WE HOPE THAT YOU WILL WORK WITH US AT THE UNHRC NEXT YEAR TO PUT AN END TO THIS DISCRIMINATORY PRACTICE.

UNCLASSIFIED

--BEFORE THEN THE CHILE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION WILL BE DISCUSSED IN THE THIRD COMMITTEE AND THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY. LAST YEAR WE VOTED AGAINST THE CHILE RESOLUTION BECAUSE OF ITS UNBALANCED ASSESSMENT OF THE SITUATION IN CHILE, WHICH, AMONG OTHER FLAWS, FAILED TO ACKNOWLEDGE VIOLENCE FROM SOURCES OTHER THAN THE GOVERNMENT.

--WE CONSIDER IT IMPORTANT TO OUR SHARED OBJECTIVES IN CHILE THAT A BALANCED RESOLUTION ON CHILE BE INTRODUCED IN THE UNGA THIS YEAR THAT THE US CAN SUPPORT. WE WOULD LIKE YOUR ACTIVE ASSISTANCE TO ENSURE SUCH AN OUTCOME.

--WE WANT TO BEGIN WORK IMMEDIATELY WITH YOU AND OTHER WEST EUROPEAN AND LATIN DEMOCRACIES TO FORMULATE A TEXT ON WHICH THE US CAN VOTE "YES". WE WOULD NOT SERVE AS CO-SPONSOR OF SUCH A TEXT, BUT WOULD BE PREPARED ULTIMATELY TO SUPPORT THE RESOLUTION. OUR ABILITY TO DO SO, HOWEVER, WOULD NOT BE HELPED WERE CUBA OR OTHER COMMUNIST COUNTRIES TO CO-SPONSOR THE RESOLUTION -- SINCE IT IS PATENTLY CLEAR THAT THESE NATIONS IN FACT OPPOSE AND DO NOT ENCOURAGE DEMOCRACY AS WE UNDERSTAND IT.

--WE ALSO BELIEVE THAT THE EVOLUTION TO DEMOCRACY IN LATIN AMERICA AS A WHOLE CAN BE EXTENDED AND CONSOLIDATED TO THE EXTENT THAT WE SEND CONSISTENT SIGNALS ABOUT THE IMPORTANCE OF DEMOCRACY AND HUMAN LIBERTY EVERYWHERE.

5. ELEMENTS OF A RESOLUTION

--THE ELEMENTS WE SEE AS IMPORTANT TO A CONSTRUCTIVE AND BALANCED TEXT ARE:

A) A FAIR APPRAISAL OF THE CURRENT HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION THAT EXPRESSES SERIOUS CONCERN OVER PERSISTENCE OF ABUSES, SUCH AS TORTURE, AND DEATHS OF POLITICAL OPPONENTS IN POLICE CUSTODY;

B) UNDERLINES CONCERN AT THE GOVERNMENTS FAILURE TO PUNISH SECURITY OFFICIALS FOR ABUSES OF AUTHORITY;

C) RECOGNITION, WITHOUT EXAGGERATING THEIR IMPACT, OF THOSE POSITIVE STEPS THAT HAVE BEEN MADE, SUCH AS REDUCTION IN NUMBER OF EXILES AND EXPANDED FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION, INCLUDING THE EXISTENCE OF AN OPPOSTION PRESS;

UNCLASSIFIED

DECLASSIFIED

D) STRESS THAT CHILE'S RETURN TO FULL DEMOCRACY UNDER A CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT CHOSEN IN A FAIR, FREE, AND OPEN ELECTION WILL PROVIDE THE BEST GUARANTEE FOR ASSURING RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS;

E) ACKNOWEDGEMENT OF THE COOPERATION GIVEN BY THE GOVERNMENT TO THE UN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR; AS WELL AS RECOGNITION FOR THE FACT THAT THE GOC DOES ALLOW A WIDE RANGE OF INTERNATIONAL FIGURES TO VISIT CHILE AND TO REACH THEIR OWN CONCLUSIONS ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION; AND

F) CLEAR DISAPPROVAL OF VIOLENCE, WHATEVER ITS SOURCE, AS SPECIFIED BY THE MARCH 1987 UNHRC RESOLUTION. (FYI: WE THINK IT IS IMPORTANT THAT THE RISKS TO HUMAN RIGHTS AND POLITICAL PROGRESS POSED BY THE MUTUALLY REINFORCING VIOLENT ACTIONS OF THE POLITICAL EXTREMES BE ACKNOWLEDGED, AND THAT THE RESOLUTION NOT IMPLY THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS THE ONLY PERPATRATOR AND THE SOLE CAUSE OF VIOLENCE. END FYI)

10. CONCLUDING TALKING POINTS

--WE WOULD WELCOME YOUR IDEAS AND SUGGESTIONS. WE ARE CONCERNED THAT UNLESS LIKE-MINDED DEMOCRACIES WORK TOGETHER ON PREPARING A FAIR CHILE RESOLUTION, WELL IN ADVANCE OF THE THIRD COMMITTEE DEBATE THIS FALL, THE CUBANS AND THEIR ALLIES WILL PUSH FORWARD THE TYPE OF UNFAIR ASSESSMENT THAT COULD DIVIDE US AGAIN.

--IN THIS REGARD, OUR DELEGATIONS AT THE UNGA SHOULD WORK TOGETHER CLOSELY TO STRENGHTEN OUR ABILITY TO COPE WITH THE OILY TACTICS USED SO WELL BY CUBA AND ITS FRIENDS. WE PLEDGE OUR CONSISTENT COOPERATION WITH YOU SHOULD YOUR GOVERNMENT AGREE TO WORK TOGETHER IN PURSUIT OF A FAIR, BALANCED AND EFFECTIVE CHILE RESOLUTION.

--OUR OBJECTIVE IS PASSAGE OF A FAIR AND BALANCED RESOLUTION, BUT WE MUST STRESS THAT SHOULD THE PROCESS TO CONSTRUCT AND THEN DEBATE THE CHILE RESOLUTION ONCE AGAIN THIS YEAR GET CAPTURED BY THOSE WHO WILL MAKE IT UNBALANCED, WE WILL HAVE TO MAKE CLEAR OUR DISSATISFACTION WITH THE ENTIRE PROCESS. IN THAT EVENT WE WOULD HOPE TO ABSTAIN WHILE MAKING A STRONG STATEMENT. WE WILL BE BETTER ABLE TO FOLLOW THIS COURSE TO THE EXTENT THAT WE ARE NOT ALONE.

--IN CONCLUSION, AS TENSIONS RISE IN CHILE, IT IS INCREASINGLY IMPORTANT THAT THOSE OF US WHO WISH TO ENCOURAGE A PEACEFUL TRANSTION WORK TOGETHER. THIS IS ESPECIALLY IMPORTANT IN THE MONTHS BEFORE A POSSIBLE PLEBISCITE WHEN POLITICAL DEMOCRATS NEED TO BE STRENGTHENED, AND WHEN THE OPPONENTS OF DEMOCRACY SHOULD NOT BE ALLOWED TO IMAGINE THAT TACTICAL SPLITS AMONG AND WITHIN THE WESTERN DEMOCRACIES WILL ALLOW THEM TO FRUSTRATE THE ACCOMPLISHMENT OF A DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION.

THE ROLE OF SANCTIONS (FYI)

11. SHOULD YOUR INTERLOCUTORS ASK ABOUT OUR POSITION ON ECONOMIC SANCTIONS YOU MAY DRAW ON THE FOLLOWING POINTS, BUT THEY SHOULD NOT BE INCLUDED IN THE TALKING POINTS PAPER WHICH YOU PRESENT.

-- WE OPPOSE THE USE OF ECONOMIC SANCTIONS IN THE CHILEAN CASE AS IT CURRENTLY STANDS. WE THINK THEY WOULD HARM THE CHILEAN PEOPLE AND ECONOMY, WOULD HARDEN THE RESISTANCE OF THE GOVERNMENT, AND WOULD ALLOW PINOCHET TO PLAY AN AGGRIEVED NATIONALIST CARD AGAINST THE OPPOSITION.

--WE THINK IT WOULD BE A MISTAKE TO CREATE ECONOMIC CHAOS WHICH WOULD STRENGTHEN EXTREMISTS, AND BY DISRUPTING CHILE'S ESSENTIALLY SOUND MARKET ECONOMY CREATE VERY DIFFICULT PROBLEMS FOR THE SUCCESSOR DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT WE ARE TRYING TO MAKE POSSIBLE IN CHILE--SUCH A GOVERNMENT WILL ALREADY FACE SUFFICIENT PROBLEMS.

--WHAT WE ARE DOING, HOWEVER, IS MAKING CLEAR TO CHILEAN AUTHORITIES THAT IF FREE MARKETS AND UNEMCUMBERED DECISION MAKING ARE GOOD FOR BUSINESS AND GOOD FOR THE ECONOMY--WHICH WE BELIEVE IS THE CASE--THEN THEY ALSO NEED TO RECOGNIZE THAT THIS IS EVEN MORE TRUE IN THE REALM OF POLITICS, IDEAS AND HUMAN LIBERTY.

UNCLASSIFIED MEMORANDUM OF MEETING

Date: 3 September, 1987

Place: Consul General's Office

Those Present: CONS:DTrujillo; DATT:GHooker; CONS:Converse; Mr. Jim Ellesen (aka Tim Raub Ellis)

Subject: Blake/Davis Case

As arranged, Mr. [redacted] presented himself at the Embassy at 10AM to discuss the status of his investigation into the whereabouts of Nicholas Blake and Griff Davis. B6

Mr. [redacted] said that he came to Guatemala in 1976 to flee a sentence of one and a half years in prison for sale of drugs in Boston. He was familiar with Guatemala from frequent travel here to visit friends in the Peace Corps. B6

Last year for the first time since he came to Guatemala he re-entered the States and did it without papers. He said that he was stopped, but talked his way in. He worked for six months, but loved his two Guatemalan children too much to spend any more time away from them, so returned.

He has a range of Guatemalan identification, including a carnet as a Commissional Militar, a driver's license and a cedula indicating he was born in Guatemala (although he was actually born in PA in 1945). He used an altered birth certificate to establish an identity here in Guatemala as [redacted] B6

Mr. [redacted] contacts with the embassy began in 1984 when he contacted then DATT Charlie Stokes and later Lt. Col. Herzog from Embassy Mexico. Everything he told Stokes was repeated to him by the Military Zone Commander the next day, leading him to believe that the embassy is bugged. He doesn't believe that Col. Stokes was the source of the information. B6

Mr. [redacted] managed to stay neutral in Guatemalan internal troubles until the guerilla forces moved into Huehuetenango in force. He then decided to make friends with the military, and established a close relationship with then Zona Militar Commander Col. Hector Catalan. He supplied them with information and they gave him the run of the base. While making friends in the military he also made enemies, and he was told in 1985 that there was a clique on the base intending to kill him. He then decided to come to the embassy and talk to the DATT. He reported on such things as the shipment of arms, Mexican support for the insurgency and military responses. In the conversations B6

United States Department of State
Office of FOI, Privacy, & Classification Review
Review Authority: MOSKOWITZ, SAM
Date: 07/03/95
Case ID: 95122216

he was asked, "Is Col. Catalan stealing more than" another colonel. He doesn't remember his answer, but Col. Catalan decided that his answer was a negative reflexion on him, and turned him out of the base and cut him off from support. Mr. [redacted] then cut his relations with the embassy from then until a month ago. B6

Over the course of those months of embassy contact Col. Stokes mentioned that the embassy was very interested in locating Jack Shelton, an American who had disappeared in the Huehuetenango area. After the disappearance of Blake and Davis, interest was expressed in knowing what happened to them, also. Stokes involved then ConGen Phil Taylor at that point. According to [redacted] Taylor offered to help him with his legal troubles in the U.S. while discussing information on Blake and Davis. (Taylor does not remember this being an offer of assistance in exchange for information.) B6

[redacted] says that Blake and Davis were killed the day after they were last seen. They left Huehuetenango to go to Nabaj, but had difficulty in getting there and turned back. They were shot on the way back to Huehuetenango by people who wanted their cameras and other objects of value. He does not yet know exactly where they are buried and probably won't know for a month. He is paying a person to make contact and become friendly with the murderer. This is at a delicate stage, and cannot be hurried or meddled with. The information was given to him about 6 weeks ago by someone who apparently knew about it within two days of its happening. B6

As an aside he reported that last Sunday the insurgents took the village of Aquacatan and held it for the night. The Civil Guard called for the military, then hid. The military never came to the assistance of the village. There are Peace Corps volunteers there, and he suggests that they be withdrawn. He also suggests that people not venture off the main roads in that part of Guatemala.

[redacted] suggested two things at this point in the conversation: 1) Don't investigate the murders to closely. It will open a can of worms and cause trouble for [redacted] the government and other people whom he declined to identify; and 2) Exhume the bodies and get out with minimal publicity, which might threaten the life of the go-between. B6 B6

The ConGen described the logistics of getting a team of people there for the exhumation and Col Hooker said that it would be difficult without involving the military, depending on where the grave is located.

[redacted] hopes to avoid his involvement becoming known. He will not be present at the exhumation, and discussed ways to pinpoint the grave without his having to return. He is concerned with his safety and that of the people who have helped him. He has B6 left letters with two people addressed to the embassy with all the details as he knows them to this point. If he should be killed or disappear, they will be delivered. If his sources dry up, he will also give us the details so we can try on our own. He left us a list of numbers where he can reached during the day, but he has no telephone in his house.

[redacted] is willing to talk to the Blake and Davis families, but feels that now is premature. He is also willing to speak to the Blake lawyer, but only on his terms and if the lawyer will accept him as a client so that he cannot be discussed with the Blake family. When it was suggested that this might be a conflict of interest, he said that he would probably not speak to the lawyer at this time. B6

The conversation turned to his legal problems in the states and his desire to register his children as U.S. citizens. The ConGen deliberately did not bring the subject up, leaving it to Mr. [redacted] When he finally did bring it up, it came in the form of a request, and not a quid pro quo arrangement. He clearly understood that the embassy could not assist him in settling his affairs in the U.S. Various options were outlined to him about how to register his children, but it was reiterated that his legal problems in the states are his problems. These problems include resolving his fugative status and his use of multiple names to clear the way for registration of his children and for his marriage. B6

In response to ConGen's question about whether they were killed because they were Americans, he said no, they were killed because they had cameras. It was not anti-American or anti- or pro- anything.

He left saying that he would keep in touch and expressing the hope that we would soon have an exhumation.

2. MR. [redacted] B6 MET WITH CONGEN, DATT, AND CONOFF IN CONGEN'S OFFICE. MUCH OF THE MEETING CONSISTED OF REPEATING THE STORY TOLD IN REF B, BUT THERE WERE AMPLIFICATIONS. HE SHOWED SEVERAL PIECES OF GUATEMALAN IDENTIFICATION, INCLUDING A CARNET AS A COMMISSIONAR MILITAR, A DRIVER'S LICENSE AND A CEDULA (NATIONAL IDENTITY CARD) FALSLY INDICATING THAT HE WAS BORN IN GUATEMALA. HE USED AN ALTERED BIRTH CERTIFICATE TO ESTABLISH AN IDENTITY IN GUATEMALA AS [redacted] B6 AND HAD THE HELP OF INFLUENTIAL FRIENDS IN GETTING THE NECESSARY DOCUMENTS.

3. MR. [redacted] B6 MANAGED TO STAY NEUTRAL IN GUATEMALAN INTERNAL TROUBLES UNTIL GUERILLA FORCES MOVED INTO HUEHUETENANGO IN FORCE. HE THEN DECIDED TO MAKE FRIENDS WITH THE MILITARY, AND ESTABLISHED A CLOSE RELATIONSHIP WITH THEN ZONA MILITAR COMMANDER COLONEL HECTOR CATALAN. HE SUPPLIED THEM WITH INFORMAION AND THEY GAVE HIM THE RUN OF THE BASE. WHILE MAKING FRIENDS IN THE MILITARY HE ALSO MADE ENEMIES, AND HE WAS TOLD IN 1985 THAT THERE WAS A CLIQUE ON THE BASE WHICH INTENDED TO HAVE HIM KILLED.

4. HE DECIDED TO COME TO THE EMBASSY AND TALK TO THE DATT. HE REPORTED ON SUCH THINGS AS THE SHIPMENT OF ARMS, MEXICAN SUPPORT FOR THE INSURGENCY AND MILITARY RESPONSES. DURING THESE CONVERSATIONS HE WAS ASKED, "IS COLONEL CATALAN STEALING MORE THAN" ANOTHER COLONEL. HE DOES NOT REMEMBER HIS ANSWER, BUT COLONEL CATALAN DECIDED THAT HIS ANSWER AS REPORTED

TO HIM WAS A NEGATIVE REFLEXION ON HIM, AND TURNED HIM OUT OF THE BASE AND CUT HIM OFF FROM MILITARY SUPPORT. MR. [redacted] THEN CUT HIS RELATIONS WITH THE EMBASSY UNTIL THIS LATEST CONTACT. B6

5. OVER THE COURSE OF THOSE MONTHS OF EMBASSY CONTACT, MR. [redacted] BEGAN AN INVESTIGATION OF THE WHEREABOUTS OF BLAKE AND DAVIS, AS REPORTED IN REF B. DURING THIS LATEST MEETING, HE SAID THAT THEY WERE KILLED THE DAY AFTER THEY WERE LAST SEEN. THEY LEFT HUEHUETENANGO TO GO TO NEBAJ, BUT HAD DIFFICULTY GETTING THROUGH AND TURNED BACK. THEY WERE SHOT ON THE WAY BACK TO HUEHUETENANGO BY PEOPLE WHO WANTED THEIR CAMERAS AND OTHER OBJECTS OF VALUE. HE DOES NOT YET KNOW EXACTLY WHERE THEY ARE BURIED AND PROBABLY WILL NOT KNOW FOR A MONTH. HE IS PAYING A PERSON TO MAKE CONTACT AND BECOME FRIENDLY WITH THE MURDERER(S). THIS IS AT A DELICATE STAGE AND CANNOT BE HURRIED OR MEDDLED WITH, ACCORDING TO HIM, OR THE WHOLE EFFORT WILL FALL APART. THE INFORMATION ABOUT THE MURDERS WAS GIVEN TO HIM ABOUT SIX WEEKS AGO BY SOMEONE WHO APPARENTLY KNEW ABOUT IT WITHIN TWO DAYS OF ITS HAPPENING. B6

6. AS AN ASIDE, HE REPORTED THAT ON SUNDAY 30-AUG-87 INSURGENTS TOOK THE VILLAGE OF AGUACATAN AND HELD IT FOR THE NIGHT. THE CIVIL GUARD CALLED FOR THE MILITARY, THEN HID. THE MILITARY NEVER CAME TO THE ASSISTANCE OF THE VILLAGE. THERE ARE PEACE CORPS VOLUNTEERS THERE, AND HE SUGGESTED THAT THEY BE WITHDRAWN. HE ALSO SUGGESTS THAT PEOPLE NOT VENTURE OFF THE MAIN ROADS IN THAT PART OF GUATEMALA.

7. [redacted] SUGGESTED TWO THINGS AT THIS POINT IN THE CONVERSATION: (1) DO NOT INVESTIGATE THE MURDERS TOO CLOSELY. IT WILL OPEN A CAN OF WORMS AND CAUSE TROUBLE FOR ELLESEN, THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA AND OTHER PEOPLE WHOM HE DECLINED TO IDENTIFY; AND (2) EXHUME THE BODIES AND GET OUT WITH MINIMAL PUBLICITY, WHICH MIGHT THREATEN THE LIFE OF THE GO-BETWEEN. THE CONSUL DESCRIBED THE LOGISTICS OF GETTING A TEAM OF PEOPLE THERE FOR THE EXHUMATION AND THE DATT SAID THAT IT WOULD BE DIFFICULT WITHOUT INVOLVING THE MILITARY, DEPENDING ON WHERE THE GRAVE IS LOCATED. B6

REF: A) RABADAN/TRUJILLO TELECON OF 11-SEP-87, B) GUATEMALA 8811 AND PREVIOUS

BE ACCEPTED THAT IT WOULD NOT BE POSSIBLE TO EXHUME BODIES WITHOUT NOTICE.

8. [redacted] HOPES HIS INVOLVEMENT WILL NOT BECOME KNOWN. HE WILL NOT BE PRESENT AT THE EXHUMATION, AND DISCUSSED WAYS TO PINPOINT THE GRAVE WITHOUT HIS HAVING TO RETURN. HE IS CONCERNED WITH HIS SAFETY AND THAT OF HIS FAMILY AND OF THE PEOPLE WHO HAVE HELPED HIM. AS "INSURANCE" HE HAS LEFT LETTERS WITH TWO PEOPLE IN HUEHUETENANGO ADDRESSED TO THE EMBASSY WITH ALL THE DETAILS AS HE KNOWS THEM TO THIS POINT. IF HE SHOULD BE KILLED OR DISAPPEAR, THEY WILL BE DELIVERED. IF HIS SOURCES DRY UP, HE WILL ALSO GIVE POST THE DETAILS SO IT CAN TRY ON ITS OWN. HE LEFT A LIST OF NUMBERS WHERE HE CAN BE REACHED DURING THE DAY, BUT HE HAS NO TELEPHONE IN HIS HOUSE. B6

9. THE CONVERSATION TURNED TO HIS LEGAL PROBLEMS IN THE STATES AND HIS DESIRE TO REGISTER HIS CHILDREN AS U.S. CITIZENS. THE CONGEN DELIBERATELY DID NOT BRING THE SUBJECT UP, LEAVING IT TO MR. [redacted] TO DO SO. WHEN HE FINALLY DID, IT WAS AS A REQUEST, AND NOT A QUID PRO QUO ARRANGEMENT. HE CLEARLY UNDERSTOOD THAT THE EMBASSY COULD NOT ASSIST HIM IN SETTLING HIS AFFAIRS IN THE STATES. VARIOUS OPTIONS WERE OUTLINED TO HIM ABOUT HOW TO REGISTER HIS CHILDREN, BUT IT WAS REITERATED THAT HIS LEGAL PROBLEMS INCLUDE RESOLVING HIS FUGITIVE STATUS AND HIS USE OF MULTIPLE NAMES TO CLEAR THE WAY FOR REGISTRATION OF HIS CHILDREN. B6

12. [redacted] EXPRESSED A DESIRE TO EVENTUALLY TALK TO THE FAMILIES OF BLAKE AND DAVIS, BUT IS UNWILLING TO DO SO NOW. THERE ARE THREE REASONS FOR HIS CURRENT REFUSAL: (1) HE DOES NOT WANT THE HOPES OF THE FAMILIES RAISED PREMATURELY, (2) HE FEARS FOR HIS SAFETY AND THAT OF HIS FAMILY AND HELPERS IF NEWS OF HIS INVOLVEMENT LEAKS OUT, AND (3) IF WORD SHOULD SPREAD THAT THE SEARCH WAS CLOSING IN ON THE GRAVES, HIS SOURCE WOULD COMPLETELY DRY UP AND PROBABLY DISAPPEAR. FOR THE SAME REASONS HE IS UNWILLING TO TALK TO THE BLAKE FAMILY LAWYER, EXCEPT ON CONDITION THAT HE NOT DEVULGE DETAILS TO THE FAMILY (A CLEARLY IMPOSSIBLE CONDITION). B6

11. THIS LEAVES POST IN A SOMEWHAT DELICATE SITUATION VIS-A-VIS THE VISIT OF THE BLAKE FAMILY LAWYER ON 21-SEP-87. POST RECOGNIZES ITS RESPONSIBILITIES TO THE BLAKE AND DAVIS FAMILIES TO KEEP THEM INFORMED, BUT ALSO FEELS THAT THEIR PREMATURE INVOLVEMENT WOULD RAISE HOPES WHICH PROBABLY WILL NOT BE REALIZED AND MIGHT CAUSE THEM TO PREJUDICE THE INVESTIGATION BY ATTEMPTING TO ASSIST MR. [redacted] IN HIS EFFORTS. ALSO, MR. [redacted] DID NOT SIGN A PRIVACY ACT WAIVER, AND POST THEREFORE IS BOUND TO RESPECT HIS CONFIDENCE. B6

12. POST FEELS THAT MR. [redacted] IS A WELL ESTABLISHED, RESPONSIBLE MEMBER OF SOCIETY AND IS NOT A CRANK. WHETHER HE WILL BE ABLE TO DELIVER ON HIS PROMISES IS AN OPEN QUESTION, BUT POST FEELS THAT HE CERTAINLY BELIEVES THAT THERE IS EVERY HOPE OF FINALLY SOLVING THIS CASE, WHILE RECOGNIZING THE POSSIBLITY THAT IT WILL LEAD NOWHERE. Chile Strategy

I. Policy Objective

INC for

Promote the establishment of a stable, democratic regime in Chile which is friendly to the U.S. and supportive of major U.S. interests. This future regime should stem from a basic political consensus between moderate, democratic elements of Chilean society and the armed forces. As such, it should enjoy a high degree of legitimacy. Change in government should come about peacefully and with the Chilean economy as undamaged as possible, clearing the way for a vigorous future role for the private sector.

II. Obstacles to Attainment

A. Pinochet

The biggest obstacle to the attainment of U.S. policy objectives is Pinochet's ambition to continue in power. The most likely political scenario as things now stand is a Pinochet candidacy in a plebiscite to be held in the next 12 to 18 months. As outlined below, all possible results of the Pinochet candidacy are potentially dangerous to U.S. policy interests.

1. Pinochet runs in the plebiscite and loses. This result would severely undercut the regime's legitimacy and stability. Pressure from within Chile and from the outside for a rapid change of government would increase. Three likely scenarios emerge:

a. An auto-coup by Pinochet to remain in power. Such a move would eliminate all vestiges of the regime's right to rule, probably divide the armed forces, and feed violent subversion from the left. A period of chaos would ensue.

b. Pinochet calls for open elections according to constitutional stipulations. Fear of an auto-coup would be constant during the waiting period involved, with intense maneuvering going on. Pinochet would first have to be removed before his former supporters could arrive at a new strategy.

c. Military coup removes Pinochet If the armed forces remove Pinochet and take over, they would have to choose between two basic moves --recognize as victorious the "no" faction in the plebiscite and negotiate with it. This would indicate a greater willingness to dismantle at least partially the authoritarian system.

a. obtaining funds for CEL projects in the U.S. and elsewhere. Funds should be channeled to Chile through intermediaries for specific projects.

b. issuing a statement by the Department stating our view that free and open elections are the best possible means of selecting a president and praising the CEL campaign. At the same time, the USG should refrain from making further comments on the legitimacy of plebiscites.

c. encouraging the Church to take a more active role in supporting the CEL and the registraton campaign.

2. Abstain on a Chile resolution at the UNGA.

3. Make greater political use of U.S. military visitors to Chile to get across policy message Ditto for Chileans in U.S.

4. Obtain a postponement of the November SAL vote Explain to the GOC that the conditions for proceeding with SAL depend on:

a. The GOC's cancellation and non-renewal of the State of Emergency.

b. Expulsion from Chile to the U.S. of Contreras and Espinoza.

5. Lobby the Chilean business community in favor of a consensus settlement with the opposition. Point out that a Pinochet candidacy is detrimental to its own interests.

6. Encourage political parties from the PS-N to the PARENA to unite on a basic platform and candidate without suggesting names.

7. Enlist more active Church support for the CEL and political negotiation.

Next Step: Evaluate Results (March, 1988)

By March, 1988 if not sooner, the relative success or failure of this strategy should become clear. If the opposition remains disunited and without a candidate, if registration of voters is proceeding slowly, and if Pinochet's stock is on the rise, the strategy must be reevaluated. If however, it is clear that the opposition's campaign is proceeding well and that Pinochet's support is stagnant or declining, it should be pushed forward, but prudently to avoid looking like a "made in the USA" product. Success at this stage will provide further leverage in stimulating dialogue between the opposition and the armed forces.

United Nationalist Reaction

The above steps will undoubtedly provoke a nationalistic reaction which Pinochet will attempt to exploit to his own advantage. If the opposition is clearly gaining in prestige and influence, however, an ultra nationalistic, anti-U.S. campaign will obtain only very short-term benefits for Pinochet and then be counterproductive. If the USG is so fortunate as to provoke a similar reaction from the far left, the effect of its policy will be even more positive. Should Pinochet lash out with some dramatic action, such as declaring PNG the Ambassador, he is digging his own grave. If he refuses to comply with our conditions on the SAL, the loans should be further postponed or denied outright and more economic pressure considered.

The Plebiscite Proceeds (March, 1988 onward)

If, despite his low standing in the polls, Pinochet wins the nomination of the Junta for the plebiscite, the US should:

1. continue to channel as much support as feasible to the opposition through intermediary organizations for the "no" vote campaign.

2. Issue clear public statements expressing concern for the purity of the electoral procedure.

3. Lobby the military hard to initiate dialogue with the opposition and vice versa in the likelihood of a victory by the "no" position. Instill in the minds of both sides the need for a prearranged solution to avoid chaos following the election.

4. Enlist the support of European and democratic Latin nations to scrutinize the plebiscite proceedings to ensure fairness and equal access to the media during the campaign.

The "No" Position Wins

The most likely result of a plebiscite under these circumstances is a "no" victory. The USG should extoll the virtues of the electoral exercise and, depending on the margin of the outcome, make statements concerning the legitimate right of the opposition to control the presidency. Hard lobbying on the military and GOC civilian supporters to recognize the right of the opposition to form a new government must take place. Given the need of both the military and the opposition for each others' cooperation, the U.S. should be able to help broker a compromise solution (a fine moment for the Church to step in) which will lead to the installation of a transitional or more permanent democratic regime.

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT ARIAS BRIEFS FRESHMAN CODEL I ON GUATEMALA PEACE PLAN

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: PRESIDENT ARIAS' REPLIES TO QUESTIONS FROM FRESHMAN CODEL I COVERED MUCH FAMILIAR GROUND BUT SOME EMPHASES BEAR MENTION. HE REPEATED HIS LONG-STANDING REFUSAL TO SUPPORT RENEWED AID TO THE NICARAGUAN RESISTANCE AFTER NOV 7 IF THE SANDINISTAS FAIL TO COMPLY WITH THE GUATEMALA AGREEMENT, BUT HE HINTED THAT HE WOULD NOT OPPOSE A BIPARTISAN EFFORT TO VOTE RENEWED AID UNDER THOSE CIRCUMSTANCES. MOREOVER, HE SUGGESTED THAT HIS PERSONAL CRITICISM OF SANDINISTA NON-COMPLIANCE WOULD HELP TO SOLIDIFY DEMOCRATIC SUPPORT. FOR THE FIRST TIME IN THE CHARGE'S HEARING, HE SAID THE U.S. COULD EXPEL THE SANDINISTAS WITH 50,000 MARINES IF WE SO CHOSE. ARIAS ALSO DETAILED THE NEGATIVE CONSEQUENCES FOR COSTA RICA OF CONTINUED CIVIL WAR IN NICARAGUA, EXPLAINING

THAT HOSTILITIES ALONG THE BORDER COULD

INVOLVE COSTA RICANS AND LEAD TO IRRESISTIBLE DEMANDS FOR THE REMILITARIZATION OF THE COUNTRY AND THE END OF ITS UNIQUE WAY OF LIFE. END SUMMARY.

3. PRESIDENT OSCAR ARIAS ANSWERED QUESTIONS ON THE GUATEMALA PEACE PLAN FOR OVER ONE HOUR SEPT 11 FROM MEMBERS OF FRESHMAN CODEL I, COMPOSED OF REPS JIM BUNNING (R-KY), ELTON GALLEGLY (R-CA), CLAUDE HARRIS (D-AL), JAMES M. INHOFE (R-OK), ERNEST KONNYU (R-CA), AND PATRICIA SAIKI (R-HI), PLUS DAS BETSY WARREN AND MICHAEL DONOVAN FROM H, AND MAJ. FRED SERENE, MILITARY ESCORT OFFICER. CHARGE ACCOMPANIED GROUP.

4. REP BUNNING BEGAN THE DISCUSSION BY ASKING ARIAS WHAT HE WILL DO IF THE SANDINISTAS DO NOT COMPLY WITH THEIR OBLIGATIONS UNDER THE GUATEMALA AGREEMENT. ARIAS NOTED IN REPLY THAT HIS MOOD SWINGS BETWEEN OPTIMISM AND PESSIMISM REGARDING SANDINISTA COMPLIANCE, BUT THAT THE COSTA RICANS ARE DOING ALL THEY CAN SO THAT THE NICARAGUANS HAVE NO EXCUSES FOR NON-COMPLIANCE. HE WARNED THAT THE SANDINISTAS CANNOT BE EXPECTED TO ACHIEVE THE DEGREE OF DEMOCRATIZATION ON NOV 7 THAT REQUIRED 200 YEARS TO MATURE IN THE UNITED STAES AND 100 YEARS IN COSTA RICA. HOWEVER, HE WILL BE PREPARED TO DENOUNCE THE SANDINISTAS, HE EXPLAINED, IF THE CHANGES THEY INTRODUCE ARE ONLY COSMETIC.

5. FOLLOWING UP, REP BUNNING ASKED IF THE

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

SANDINISTAS DO NOT COMPLY, WHETHER ARIAS WILL FAVOR RENEWED AID TO THE CONTRAS BY THE U.S. CONGRESS, MILITARY ACTION BY THE UNITED STATES, OR SOME OTHER SANCTION. ARIAS BEGAN HIS REPLY BY NOTING THAT A FEW MONTHS AGO HE ASSUMED THAT THE SANDINISTAS WERE UNWILLING TO ACCEPT ANY CHANGES IN THEIR SYSTEM, GIVEN THE ATTITUDES OF BORGE AND THE OTHER HARDLINERS. NOW, HOWEVER, HE CONTINUED, HE IS WILLING TO GIVE THEM A CHANCE TO COMPLY WITH A SPECIFIC TIMETABLE FOR CHANGES.

EVEN THOUGH UNARMED COSTA RICA IS VULNERABLE TO COVERT MILITARY ACTION BY THE SANDINISTAS, WHO VIEW THEIR SOUTHERN NEIGHBOR AS A PRIME TARGET BECAUSE OF ITS PRESTIGE IN LATIN AMERICA. IF THE SANDINISTAS FAIL TO COMPLY, ARIAS EXPLAINED, HIS JOB WILL BE TO RALLY LATIN AMERICAN SUPPORT TO ISOLATE NICARAGUA. NOW, HE SAID, WASHINGTON IS ISOLATED IN ITS SUPPORT FOR THE CONTRAS, ALTHOUGH HE HELPED TO CHANGE THE MINDS OF EUROPEANS ABOUT THE SANDINISTAS AND CONVINCED THEM TO SUPPORT THE PEACE PLAN. HE URGED THE CONGRESSMEN TO GIVE HIM A CHANCE, FOR IF THE SANDINISTAS FAIL TO COMPLY WITH THE GUATEMALA AGREEMENT, THEY WILL BE ISOLATED.

E.O. 12356: N/A
TAGS: PINS, PREL, XK, CS, OREP
SUBJECT: PRESIDENT ARIAS BRIEFS FRESHMAN CODEL I
. ON GUATEMALA PEACE PLAN

6. REP SAIKI ASKED FOR ARIAS' REACTION TO SECRETARY SHULTZ'S ANNOUNCEMENT THAT THE ADMINISTRATION INTENDS TO ASK FOR $270 MILLION IN RENEWED AID TO THE CONTRAS. THE PRESIDENT RECALLED HIS SUGGESTION THAT THE GUATEMALA PLAN SHOULD BE GIVEN A CHANCE AND WARNED THAT IF CONGRESS VOTES AID BEFORE NOV 7, THE SANDINISTAS WILL SEIZE ON THE ACTION AS AN EXCUSE FOR NON-COMPLIANCE.

7. WHEN SAIKI THEN ASKED IF ARIAS WILL BE ABLE TO SAY ON NOV 8 WHETHER THE SANDINISTAS HAVE COMPLIED, THE PRESIDENT REPLIED IN THE AFFIRMATIVE WHILE ADDING THAT IT WILL NOT JUST BE HE WHO MAKES THAT DETERMINATION BUT CARDINAL OBANDO Y BRAVO, PEREZ DE CUELLAR, AND OTHER DISTINGUISHED OBSERVERS OF THE PEACE PROCESS. THE PRESIDENT REPEATED HIS ASSERTION THAT A JUDGMENT WILL BE POSSIBLE RIGHT AFTER NOV 7, EVEN AFTER REP GALLEGLY

LATER POINTED OUT THAT THE INTERNATIONAL VERIFICATION AND FOLLOW-UP COMMITTEE WILL NOT MEET UNTIL

DEC 7 TO MAKE ITS DETERMINATION; WHEN REP INHOFE WONDERED IF ARIAS WILL CONTINUE HIS OPPOSITION TO CONTRA AID AFTER NOV 7 IF THE SANDINISTAS FAIL TO COMPLY, THE PRESIDENT SIMPLY REPEATED THAT HE WILL NEVER FAVOR AID TO THE CONTRAS.

8. FOLLOWING UP THIS EXCHANGE, REP BROWN ASKED WHAT OPTIONS ARIAS WOULD FAVOR UNDER THESE CIRCUMSTANCES. IN REPLY, THE PRESIDENT SAID HE FAVORS "BALLOTS, NOT BULLETS." IF THE SANDINISTAS COMPLY, HE EXPLAINED, THE DEMOCRATIZATION PROCESS WILL BE IRREVERSIBLE. CITING HIS DOCTORAL RESEARCH IN ENGLAND, HE EXPRESSED CONFIDENCE THAT THE SANDINISTAS WOULD RECEIVE NO MORE THAN 10-15 PERCENT OF THE VOTE IN A FREE, VERIFIED ELECTION DUE TO THE MISERABLE STATE OF THE NICARAGUAN PEOPLE. HE EXPLAINED HIS OPPOSITION TO CONTINUATION OF THE NICARAGUAN CIVIL WAR BY POINTING TO ITS ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL CONSEQUENCES FOR COSTA RICA AND ASKED HOW U.S. CONGRESSMEN FROM CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA WOULD LOOK ON A CIVIL WAR IN MEXICO. WHILE TAKING HIS POINTS, BROWN EXPRESSED CONCERN THAT THE DEMOCRATIZATION PROCESS WILL NEVER REACH THE POINT OF ELECTIONS.

9. IN ANSWER TO REP KONNYU'S QUESTIONS, ARIAS SAID HE HAS NO SPECIAL INTELLIGENCE INSIGHTS INTO THE SANDINISTA VIEW OF THE PEACE PLAN, BUT THOUGHT THE NICARAGUAN GOVERNMENT IS MAKING MISTAKES, SUCH AS ORTEGA'S TRIP TO MOSCOW ON

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NOV 7, IN REACTING TO ITS REQUIREMENTS. HE IS "NOT VERY CONVINCED," HE EXPLAINED, THAT THE SANDINISTAS WILL MAKE DRASTIC CHANGES IN THEIR SYSTEM, AND HE SAW THE IMPLEMENTATION TIMETABLE AS A CHANCE TO "UNMASK" THEM. IF THEY FAIL TO COMPLY, HE WILL ASK OAS SUPPORT FOR MEASURES TO ISOLATE THEM. THEY CANNOT STAND ALONE, HE ASSURED THE CODEL, AND THE SOVIETS WILL NOT HELP NICARAGUA TO THE EXTENT THEY HAVE HELPED CUBA. JOINT OAS MILITARY ACTION WAS TAKEN IN THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC, HE POINTED OUT, BUT THE

UNITED STATES ACTED WITHOUT OAS SUPPORT IN GRENADA, AND WE COULD DO THE SAME THING IN NICARAGUA, IF WE WISHED, WITH 50,000 MARINES. IN ANY CASE, HE CONCLUDED, AFTER HE AND OTHERS PASS JUDGMENT ON THE SANDINISTA PERFORMANCE NOV 8, THE UNITED STATES MIGHT HAVE A BIPARTISAN POLICY AT LONG LAST.

10. REP INHOFE INQUIRED IF ARIAS REALLY THINKS THE SANDINISTAS WILL ALLOW FOR ELECTIONS AFTER A $2 BILLION MILITARY BUILDUP. THAT WILL DEPEND, THE PRESIDENT REPLIED, ON HOW THE GUATEMALAN ACCORD IS IMPLEMENTED. HE EXPLAINED THAT IF THEY CAN BE PRESSURED WITH INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPERS AND TV STATIONS, AND IF INDIVIDUAL LIBERTIES ARE RESTORED, THE SANDINISTAS WILL SHOW THEIR TRUE FACE. "WE KNOW THEY ARE CONVINCED MARXISTS," HE ADDED, "THAT THEY WANT TO BUILD A SECOND CUBA."

HOWEVER, HE CONTINUED, U.S. SUPPORT TO THE CONTRAS SUBVERTS THIS EFFORT BY ENCOURAGING INTERNATIONAL SUPPORT (E.G., FROM THE DUTCH) FOR THE SANDINISTAS. HE RECOGNIZED THIS WILL BE THE FIRST TIME A COUNTRY IS FREED FROM COMMUNISM THROUGH DEMOCRATIZATION, BUT HE WAS HOPEFUL THAT THE TIME-TABLE IN THE GUATEMALA PLAN WILL FORCE THEM FORWARD. THE CENTRAL AMERICANS WERE CHALLENGED TO SOLVE THEIR OWN PROBLEMS, HE ADDED, AFTER CONTADORA FAILED DUE TO THE LACK OF A DEMOCRATIZATION REQUIREMENT AND THE READINESS OF MEXICO TO HELP THE SANDINISTAS PLAY FOR TIME.

11. REP BUNNING POINTED OUT THE SANDINISTAS PROMISED THE OAS IN 1979 THAT THEY WOULD UPHOLD DEMOCRACY AND FAILED TO DO SO. HE WONDERED WHY THERE IS MORE HOPE FOR COMPLIANCE NOW AND ASKED IF CONGRESS COULD PASS A BILL PERMITTING NON-LETHAL AID AT THE PRESENT TIME WITH LETHAL AID AUTHORIZED AFTER NOV 7 IF THE SANDINISTAS DO

NOT COMPLY WITH THE GUATEMALA PLAN. ARIAS ANSWERED THAT THE UNITED STATES WILL FIND NO

OPEN SUPPORT IN LATIN AMERICA FOR CONTRA AID BEFORE NOV 7. HOWEVER, IF THE SANDINISTAS DO NOT COMPLY, WE WILL BE FREE TO DO WHATEVER WE WANT WITH THE POSSIBILITY OF OAS SUPPORT FOR SOME MEASURES.

12. TO REP INHOFE'S QUESTION, ARIAS CONFIRMED THAT U.S. SUPPORT FOR THE CONTRAS DID "IN A WAY" INFLUENCE ORTEGA TO SIGN THE GUATEMALA PLAN. HOWEVER, HE ASKED THAT THE UNITED STATES NOW PROVIDE THE PLAN WITH SOME "OXYGEN" BY HOLDING OFF ON RENEWED ASSISTANCE.

13. REP SAIKI SAID THAT EVERYONE WANTS TO GIVE THE GUATEMALA PLAN A CHANCE, BUT QUESTIONED WHETHER COSTA RICA WILL BE IN A STRONGER POSITION IF THE CONTRAS DISINTEGRATED AS A FIGHTING FORCE BECAUSE THE UNITED STATES HOLDS OFF ON RENEWED AID UNTIL AFTER NOV 7. ARIAS SAID THAT OAS ACTION WILL THEN BE POSSIBLE, BUT HE ADDED THAT THE FIRST PRIORITY IS TO ORGANIZE A CEASE-FIRE, BOTH IN NICARAGUA AND IN EL SALVADOR, WHERE THE GUERRILLAS ARE STRONGER THAN THE CONTRAS. (HE NOTED HERE THAT THE FMLN-FDR LEADERS GAVE HIM THEIR TELEPHONE NUMBERS AFTER THEIR RECENT MEETING, AND ALL THE NUMBERS WERE IN MANAGUA DESPITE ORTEGA'S ASSURANCE TO HIM THAT HE WAS NOT HARBORING SALVADORAN INSURGENTS.) U.S. EXPERTISE ON CEASE-FIRE WAS NEEDED, HE SAID.

14. CONTINUING WITH HER QUESTION, REP SAIKI

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

ASKED ARIAS TO CONFIRM THAT HE WILL NOT SUPPORT CONTRA AID AFTER NOV 7. WHILE NOT RESPONDING DIRECTLY, ARIAS SAID HE WILL HAVE MUCH TO SAY ON SANDINISTA COMPLIANCE AFTER NOV 7, LEAVING THE REPUBLICANS FREE TO ORGANIZE RENEWED ASSISTANCE WITH THE AID OF THE DEMOCRATS. IN REPLY TO REP INHOFE'S FOLLOW-UP, ARIAS CLAIMED THAT HE IS NOT DOGMATIC AND WILL CHANGE HIS POSITION ON CONTRA AID IF THE CIRCUMSTANCES WARRANT. HOWEVER, HE EXPRESSED FEAR THAT COSTA RICAN INVOLVEMENT IN MILITARY ACTION -- EVEN THE DEATH

OF ONE COSTA RICAN -- WOULD LEAD TO STRONG PRESSURE FROM LOCAL HARDLINERS TO REMILITARIZE. THIS WOULD BE "THE END OF THE COUNTRY," HE EXPLAINED, AS COSTA RICA WOULD EVOLVE FROM A "WELFARE STATE" INTO A "GARRISON STATE." STEWART

I. Introduction

From 1980 to 1991, the Republic of El Salvador in Central America was submerged in a war that plunged Salvadoran society into a nightmare of violence that left thousands upon thousands dead and seared it with criminal forms of terror. This situation continued until 16 January 1992, when the two sides came together to sign a peace agreement at Chapultepec Palace in Mexico, once again allowing the light to shine in and enabling the country to move from insanity to hope.

A. Institutions and Names

Violence was a wildfire that blazed through the fields of El Salvador, invading its villages, cutting off roads, destroying bridges and highways. It devastated energy sources and transmission systems, attacked the cities, penetrated families, and violated holy places and schools. It struck at justice and filled government offices with victims, labeling anyone not on its list of friends as an enemy. Violence transformed everything into destruction and death because such is the debris left behind by the break in peace and contentment bestowed by the rule of law. This is so because the very essence of violence is a modification, whether sudden or gradual, in the certainty that rules create in human beings when that modification does not flow from mechanisms provided by a state of law. Its victims included Salvadorans and foreigners from many lands and every social and economic background. After all, given the blind recklessness of its cruelty, violence is a great leveler.

When they finally paused to reflect, the Salvadoran people placed their hands over their hearts and felt them beat with joy. No one was winning the war; everyone was losing it. Governments of friendly nations and organizations from all over the world that had followed with anguish the painful events in the smallest Central American country, a country that was great in terms of the creativity of its people, contributed to the depth of the meditation. A visionary, Javier Perez de Cuellar, then Secretary General of the United Nations, heard the unanimous clamor and responded to it. The presidents of Colombia, Spain, Mexico, and Venezuela supported him. The Chapultepec Accord expressed the support of the new Secretary General, Butrus Butrus-Ghali, for the search for reconciliation.

B. Creative Sequels

In the long itinerary of the peace negotiations, the need to come to an agreement on a Truth Commission sprang from both sides' recognition of the collapse of communism that encouraged one of them and, perhaps, the disillusionment of the power that spurred on the other. It emerged like a link in a chain of reflections and convergences. Finally, it arose out of the jection of these facts to Salvadoran society, which was confronted with an nt need to face up to the issue of the generic, institutionalized impunity had und mined its innermost being. Indeed, outside the framework of the ith the protection of government agencies, human rights had been repeatedly olated by members of the Armed Forces; guerrilla forces had also transgressed those same rights.

Burdened with a sickening mission, the negotiators agreed that such facts should be turned over to a Truth Commission, as they agreed from the very

DRAFT

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

beginning that it should be called. In contrast to what had occurred with the Ad Hoc Commission, so named because there was no agreement on the name to be given to the entity created to purge the Armed Forces, the Truth Commission was given its name because its vocation and essence were in fact the search, discovery, and publication of the truth concerning acts of violence committed by both sides.

"The truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth," to quote the ritual oath one swears. The general and specific truth, the shining but peaceful truth, the whole truth and its parts, in other words, the radiant light would shine on a surface for the purpose of illuminating it and its many parts. The parts of that whole would also be illuminated case by case, whoever the protagonists might be, but always within a pedagogical framework ensuring that one would be contributing to the reconciliation and abolition of such patterns of behavior in the new society.

Knowing the truth, strengthening and tempering the will to find it, putting an end to impunity and concealment, resolving political and social discrepancies through agreement rather than violent actions: These are the creative sequels that follow analytical access to the truth.

C. The Mandate

In addition, as a result of the scope which the negotiators gave to the agreements, it was understood that the Truth Commission would examine systematized atrocities individually and in general, inasmuch as the flagrant violations of human rights that shook Salvadoran society and the international community were not committed solely by members of the Armed Forces, but by the insurgents as well.

Article 2 of the Chapultepec Peace Accord is clear in terms of the mandate and scope of action of the Truth Commission: "It will be responsible for investigating serious acts of violence that have occurred since 1980, acts whose mark on society demands with the greatest urgency that the people know the truth." Article 5 assigns to the Commission the task of "shedding light on and overcoming any sign of impunity of Armed Forces officials." An explanation is given: "Deeds of this nature, independent of the group with which their authors were affiliated, must be the object of exemplary action by the courts so that the sanctions contemplated by law may be applied to those responsible."

The peace negotiators clearly wanted this new peace to be founded, erected, and built on the transparency of knowledge fearlessly made public. It is also clear that this public knowledge of the truth--these are the very words of the agreement--"is demanded with the greatest urgency" so that the truth will not be a docile instrument of impunity, but rather, of justice, the sine qua non requirement for the synchrony of the Accords, in which the Truth Commission is the part that greases the gears.

D. Open Doors and Windows

As soon as they embarked on their task on 13 July 1992, when they were officially installed before the Secretary General of the United Nations, the commissioners perceived how right the negotiators of the Accords were in the far-reaching importance they had given to the Commission and the scope of the prerogatives bestowed upon it. They understood that the Secretary General was not wrong to rule that judges of Salvadoran nationality were not competent to preside over hearings concerning repeated situations of violence and the atrocious crimes of the twelve years of war, for he was anxious to preserve the credibility of the Commission. Transcending considerations of sovereignty, he entrusted those responsibilities to three academicians of other nationalities, contrary to what was done in Argentina and Chile at the end of their military dictatorships. Finally, the commissioners perceived the beginning of a new hope in the Salvadoran soul given the imminence of the concise truth, without prejudice or pressure, with the majesty of strictness and complete impartiality. This fact contributed to a complete revival of the people's faith in the effectiveness and timeliness of justice. This is why, in their first contact with the media upon arriving in El Salvador, the commissioners declared that "they would not be amenable to pressure or impressionable" and that they would seek the objective truth, the strict reality of the facts.

DRAFT

El Salvador: Human Rights

The commissioners and the group of professionals working with them on their investigations overcame difficulties and limitations in order to establish the truth, starting with the brief time of six months allotted to them by the Chapultepec Accords. Given the magnitude of the task, the distance discerned as a Kafkaesque infinity when they embarked on their mission was perceived at the conclusion of that same mission as scant and as a mere preamble to the best possible execution of their task.

The overriding criterion governing the work of the Commission during its mandate and the drafting of this report was not to be tempted by any unverified fact before drawing a conclusion. The Salvadoran community and institutions and individuals knowing of incidents of violence were asked to report them to the Commission based on the guarantee of confidentiality and privacy established in the Accords. Space was purchased in the press and time on radio and television for the same purpose. Invitations, written and verbal, were extended to file reports with no limitations. The Commission opened offices in several cities in departments, including Chalatenango, Santa Ana, and San Miguel. Bulletins were issued, witnesses called, and inspections arranged in several locations (for example, El Calabozo, El Mozote, Sumpul, and Guancorita). The Commission itself also traveled to several departments, sometimes by car, but usually in helicopters furnished in a timely, diligent manner by the UN Observer Mission in El Salvador (ONUSAL), when asked by the group of professionals. Every probative step forward suggested new paths in the search for proof. Any person who might be implicated was asked to testify, this without limitations in terms of time or space and almost always in the Commission's offices or some other private place, often outside the territory of El Salvador so as to provide better protection for witnesses.

The doors and windows must be open to receive evidence: This was the Commission's method. The doors and windows must be closed in order to protect confidentiality was another procedural guideline. The probing discoveries where its work bore fruit are a sample of the horrors of a war during which insanity reigned. They exude with overwhelming reliability the accuracy of the facts reported, gathered, and verified for this report. When the investigation was deemed sufficiently complete because there was substantial proof, the case was recorded with all the details and those responsible. When it was established that further progress was impossible for the time being, the respective documents not subject to the requirement of confidentiality were sent on to the courts or held back in order to be reactivated at a later date.

One fact must be expressed on the strength of the evidence: As a result of the destruction or concealment of documents, escape from a place where many persons were jailed or where bodies were buried, in some cases, the burden of proof was reversed and the Commission was then given the task of reconstructing events. It is therefore the task of the new administration of justice to pursue such investigations and make the final decisions that it deems proper at this point in history.

El Salvador: Human Rights

The list of victims is inevitably an open one. It was drafted on the basis of reports and evidence received and verified by the Commission.

E. The Paroxysm

The spiritual distortions produced by the conflict led to the paroxysm. A priori, the civilian population living in disputed zones or areas controlled by the guerrillas was identified as the enemy, as was the case in El Mozote and Rio Sumpul. Similar attitudes existed on the opposite side, resulting in crises with the execution of mayors, justified as acts typical of war because such individuals hindered the supplying of insurgents. Persons seeking entertainment sometimes became military targets, as in the case of the American sailors, unarmed at the time, in the Pink Zone of San Salvador. Also based on the doctrine of saving the nation and the principle that anyone not with me is against me, the neutrality, passivity, and defenselessness of journalists and nuns and priests who had served the community in one way or another were ignored.

Such patterns of behavior also led to the sinister refinements of the death squads. The dumdum bullet that exploded in Monsignor Romero's chest as he was saying mass in a church in the capital on 24 March 1980 is a crude summary of the nightmare endured by El Salvador during the war. The murder of the six Jesuit priests a decade later was the final crisis in a delirious form of behavior that had infected the military institution and the deepest recesses of part of the national leadership. The bullet in the portrait of Monsignor Romero, mute witness to this new crime, repeats the image of the nightmare then endured.

F. Phenomenology of Violence

It is a universally recognized assertion that the subject in any criminal situation is the human individual, who alone is capable of volition and therefore of deliberate decisions. Crimes are committed by individuals, not the institutions they created. Consequently, it is to the former and not the latter that the respective penalties established by law must be applied.

Nevertheless, in certain contexts, there are repetitive acts in time and space that would seem to correct the preceding premise. Indeed, repetitions of criminal acts do occur in which different individuals from the same institution act as protagonists in an unequivocally analogous manner, transcending the political affiliation of governments and of those who make the decisions. This leads one to think that institutions do perhaps commit crimes, given the same constant forms of behavior. This is true when accusations are followed by concealment by the institution to which the protagonists involved belong and by institutional obstruction vis-a-vis the responsibilities implied by investigations. Under the circumstances, it is easy to succomb to the strength of repetitive actions in pointing out institutional culpability.

The Truth Commission did not succomb to that temptation. When it embarked on its task it heard insinuations from the highest levels to the effect that institutions cannot commit crimes and that consequently, responsibilities would have to be given specific names. At the conclusion of its mandate as well, it heard new insinuations from the highest levels to the opposite effect, that names should not be given, perhaps so as to protect specific persons in compensation for their real and praiseworthy zeal in participating in the creation of situations that facilitated the peace accords and national reconciliation.

El Salvador Human Rights

All things considered, the responsibility for everything that happened during the period of the conflict, the Commission believes, could not and should not fall upon the institution, but rather, upon those who ordered the specific procedures. It should also fall upon those who, finding themselves in a position to prevent such proceedings, were compromised by the degree of tolerance and permissiveness with which they may have acted from positions of authority or leadership. Or they were compromised by their concealment of events of which they became aware or because they themselves gave the order that generated the respective action. In this way, institutions are preserved and violators punished.

G. The Recovery of Faith

As the Commission submits its report, El Salvador is going through an affirmative, irreversible process of consolidating domestic peace and adapting behavior in order to maintain an authentic, lasting atmosphere of national coexistence. The unity of wills is creating a new self-confidence in the nation, in its leaders and institutions. This does not mean that it has overcome all difficulties and stumbling blocks in the application of commitments made during the negotiations. The special sensitivity of some of the commitments, such as the purge of the Armed Forces, faces resistance to administrative action that must be taken by President Alfredo Cristiani, who a thousand headlines have destined for general recognition as the driving force behind the Peace Accords.

Nevertheless, one of the basic elements of the Accords that has a critical effect on the democratic future of El Salvador is the unreserved, unconditional submission of the military to civilian power, not in appearance only, but in actual fact. In a democratic system based on respect for constitutional order and governed by law, there is no place for conditions, personal commitments, possibilities of subverting order by internal motivations, or intimidating activities aimed at the president who, because of the office he holds, is the commander in chief of the Armed Forces.

H. The Risk of Delays

The purge resulting from the reports of the Ad Hoc Commission and the Truth Commission may seem inadvisable in cases of a rectification of conduct by an individual guilty of a serious violation in the past, but it has contributed to the negotiated peace. Nonetheless, it is a small price to be paid by anyone responsible for punishable situations, whatever his position. He must accept it for the good of his country and the democratic future of the new Salvadoran society. Moreover, the vindication, pardon, or attenuating circumstances that might be extended to those expelled from the Armed Forces are not the province of the Commission, which lacks the pertinent legal powers. It is not out of resignation, but rather, as a result of its creative attitude toward the commitment assumed and the new order of democratic coexistence that Salvadoran society as a whole will in the end establish a balance and extend consideration to those who bore responsibilities in the conflict but demonstrated merit in the peace process.

El Salvador now requires new souls. By its action in connection with the murder of the Jesuits ten years after the murder of Monsignor Romero, by the hallucinating, phantasmagoric creation of the death squads, the military leadership showed just how far the radicalization of positions could go in the elimination of those viewed as opponents either because they were or because they expressed discontent, as in the case of the religious leaders and newsmen. In another paroxysm of violence, the most perverse feelings of human beings resurfaced, along with the most absurd attempt to conceal the truth about who gave the orders.

What is more, the Armed Forces were diminished by having sufficient capacity to block or establish conditions for the purge. If the guilty parties were not singled out and punished, that very attitude would incriminate the institution as such; there could be no other interpretation. Those who confront the institution with this alternative must ponder the scope of such an attitude in the face of history.

I. The Truth Foundation

The collection of reports, evidence, references from newspapers and periodicals, and books published in Spanish and other languages resulted in the creation, within the Truth Commission itself, of a Center of Documents on the typology of violence in El Salvador. Public information relative to the context of the war (books, pamphlets, research by Salvadoran and international organizations), the 2,000 pieces of testimony by primary sources with regard to over 7,000 victims, information from secondary sources referring to over 20,000 victims, that from official agencies in the United States and other countries, information supplied by government entities and the FMLN [Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front], dense photographic and videographic material on the conflict and the very action of the Commission itself: All of this represents a rich source belonging to El Salvador because (even containing the wrenching reality that is depicted) it is part of the country's contemporary history. It is rich for historians and the analysts of this heartrending experience and for those who want to get closer to this painful reality in order to strengthen the lesson of "Never again!"

What is to be done with this torrent of riches in order to help seekers of peace throughout the world and present these actual experiences to the defenders of human rights? What is to be done when laboring under the limitation of documentary and evidentiary confidentiality? What application is to be given to this precedent of the creativity of the United Nations in the form of a piece of contemporary history so full of contradictions and turbulence, one that will perhaps require the analogies and responses of the Salvadoran conflict?

In order to guarantee the secrecy of evidence and the confidentiality of many documents supplied by institutions and even governments, while at the same time offering the possibility of scholarly research and maintaining that same confidentiality, the Commission obtained the assistance of both parties and the consent and support of George Washington University's International Rule of Law Center in Washington, D.C., which since 1992 has administered and protected documents relating to the transition to peace in countries dominated by oppression or emerging from armed conflicts. At the same time, the Commission has sought the cooperation of governments, academic institutions, and international foundations, always with the categorical understanding that it has jurisdiction, as if it were a personal matter, over the guarantee of confidentiality before the final transfer of the archives to their rightful owners.

The Truth Foundation would be an academic, nonprofit entity governed by bylaws in accordance with the laws of the United States. It would be governed by an international board of directors with Salvadoran participation and including a representative of the Secretary General of the United Nations and the members of the Commission. It would operate under the direction of Professor Thomas Buergenthal and maintain a close relationship with officials and investigators from El Salvador, the group of European, American, and Latin American professionals working with the Commission, and scientists from all over the world. There would be duplicates and data banks in the Salvadoran institutions needing them for documents not subject to confidentiality.

The Foundation will officially begin its work in June 1993 in Washington with a multidisciplinary seminar devoted to an analysis of the Truth Commission's report.

J. Appreciation

The Commission hereby expresses its admiration for and gratitude to the Salvadoran people, without exception, for the courage they demonstrated during the martyrdom of the conflict and for the high-mindedness they so generously demonstrated during the peace process. It likewise expresses its recognition to President Cristiani, the members of his government, and to the Military Headquarters and members of the Farabundi Marti National Liberation Front (FMLN) for the cooperation they extended during the completion of the Commission's task.

The Commission likewise expresses its thanks to the Secretary General of the United Nations, Javier Perez de Cuellar, Secretary General Butrus-Butrus Ghali, Undersecretary General Alvaro de Soto, and the personnel in their office for their effective cooperation. It thanks ONUSAL, particularly its director, Dr Iqbal Riza, for the diligence and promptness of its logistical support and security. It thanks jurist Pedro Nikken, who has a profound understanding of Central American reality.

It expresses its gratitude to Colombian President Cesar Gaviria Trujillo, Spanish Prime Minister Felipe Gonzalez, Mexican President Carlos Salinas de Gortari, and Venezuelan President Carlos Andres Perez, called "the four friends of the Secretary General." Likewise, their ambassadors to the United Nations and El Salvador deserve our recognition for their constant and full support.

We would also like to express our gratitude to the Salvadoran political parties and their leaders, to nongovernmental organizations in El Salvador and those working internationally, the Catholic Church and its hierarchy, and all other religious denominations. We thank the directors of the communications media and their collaborators, prominent personages in the public life of this Central American country, and the brilliant figures from the international sphere who understand the history of the conflict. Truly, without the cooperation of this group of willing contributors, it would have been impossible to penetrate the labyrinths where the truth is sometimes hidden!

This report would not have been possible without the cooperation of the interdisciplinary group of professionals who came from all over the world and who, under the executive direction of Patricia Valdez, for eight months devoted themselves with a high sense of professionalism, objectivity, and dedication to the task of seeking, deciphering and, on more than one occasion, digging up the truth.

K. Driving Idea

The members of the Commission are convinced, as a result of all they observed during the six months that they were close to Salvadoran society, that that martyrized people have no room for rancor or space for vengeance. Nor is there any attempt to humiliate, and no one today would attempt to attack the dignity of any human being for any type of behavior. Peace is always signed by those who waged the war and all of the veterans of the war have established the organs of reconciliation for the new society. Every individual is now summoned to contribute whatever his grief and love of country tell him to. Once again it will be the task of President Cristiani, the "president of peace," his government, and the former rebels, particularly those who were the commanding officers of the FMLN, to play a leading role in order to plot the new path of El Salvador's destiny.

They are being watched from the perspective of history by Salvadoran society, a society that has known sacrifice and hope. They are being summoned by no less than the future of the nation, a nation which, driven by one idea, seeks to rise up from the rubble and hoist the illusion of its future like a banner. They are being watched by the nations of the international community, full of joy. A new people is rising from the ashes of a war in which everyone was unjust. They are being watched, from infinity, by those who died. Finally, they are being watched, from the angle of hope, by those who wait.

II. The Mandate

A. The Mandate

The Truth Commission owes its existence and authority to the El Salvador Peace Accords. The Accords comprise a series of agreements negotiated over a period of more than three years (1989- 1992) between the Government of El Salvador and the FMLN [Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front]. The negotiating process took place under the auspices of the United Nations, with the special cooperation of Colombia, Mexico, Spain, and Venezuela (the so-called "Friends of the Secretary General) and culminated in the Peace Accord signed in Chapultepec, Mexico, on 16 January 1992.(1)

The decision to create the Truth Commission was made by the parties to the Mexican Accords signed in Mexico City on 27 April 1991.(2) These Accords define the Commission's functions and powers. The Commission's authority is expanded by Article 5 of the Chapultepec Peace Accord titled "Overcoming Impunity"(3). These provisions, considered as a whole, comprise the Commission's mandate.

The mandate defines the Commission's functions as follows:

"The Commission will have the task of investigating serious acts of violence that have occurred since 1980 and whose imprint on society demands with the greatest urgency that the public know the truth."

It then goes on to state that the Commission will take the following considerations into account:

"a) the singular, far-reaching importance that may be attributed to the acts to be investigated, their nature and effects, the social upheaval they caused; and

"b) the need to build confidence in the positive changes which the peace process promotes and to stimulate the transition toward national reconciliation."

With respect to impunity, the specific functions assigned to the Commission are partly defined in the Chapultepec Accord as follows:

"There is an awareness of the need to shed light on and overcome any suspicion of impunity on the part of officials in the Armed Forces, particularly in cases where respect for human rights is compromised. To that effect, the parties to the Accord refer consideration and the resolution of this point to the Truth Commission."

In addition to the powers which the Peace Accords confer upon the Commission relating to the matter of impunity and the investigation of serious acts of violence, the Commission is also entrusted with the task of drafting recommendations "of a legal, political, or administrative order." Such recommendations may be related to specific cases or be of a more general nature. The latter may include measures aimed at preventing a repetition of such acts (of violence), as well as proposals aimed at national reconciliation."

The Commission was therefore endowed with two specific powers: to conduct investigations and present recommendations. The second of the two assumes singular importance inasmuch as in the mandate, "both parties pledge to comply with the recommendations of the Commission." Consequently, both parties accept the obligation to obey the Commission's recommendations.

In terms of the Commissionn's other responsibility, the Mandate instructs it to investigate serious acts of violence...whose mark on society demands public knowledge of the truth with the greatest urgency." In other words, when it comes time to decide which deeds its analysis should focus upon, the Commission should consider the singular importance of each and every one, their impact, and the social disturbances they caused. Nevertheless, the mandate did not enumerate or identify any specific case to be investigated by the Commission, nor did it distinguish between large-scale acts of violence and those involving only a few

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights
Project (1993)

persons. Rather, the focus of the mandate was on serious acts of violence and their impact or repercussions. On the basis of these criteria, the Commission investigated two types of cases:

a) individual cases or acts which, because of their singular characteristics, moved Salvadoran society and/or international society;

b) a series of individual cases having similar characteristics which reveal a systematic pattern of violence or mistreatment and which, seen as a whole, likewise moved Salvadoran society, particularly since the purpose was to make an impact on certain sectors of society through intimidation.

Shedding light on the truth in both cases is of equal importance for the Commission. Moreover, these two categories of cases are not exclusive. Many of the so-called singular acts of individual violence that had the greatest impact on public opinion also displayed characteristics of systematic patterns of violence.

In investigating these events, the Commission considered three additional factors relating to the fulfilment of its mandate. First, the Commission would investigate serious or flagrant acts committed by both parties to the Salvadoran conflict rather than one side only. Second, by referring the issue of the impunity "of officials of the Armed Forces, particularly in those cases where respect for human rights is compromised," to the Commission, the Chapultepec Accord urged the Commission to pay special attention to the issue, as well as to those acts of violence committed by officials of the Armed Forces who were never investigated or punished. Third, the Commission was given six months to complete the work assigned.

When one realizes that the Salvadoran conflict lasted 12 years and that it caused such a high number of deaths and other serious acts of violence, it is obvious that it would be impossible for the Commission to handle all the events that might have been included in the sphere of its competency. In weighing the decision to opt for one case instead of another, it had to look at the representative nature of the case, the availability of sufficient proof, the investigative resources available to the Commission, the time needed to do an exhaustive investigation, and the issue of impunity as defined by the mandate.

B. Applicable Law

The Commission's mandate entrusts it with the task of investigating "serious acts of violence," but it does not specify the legal principles that are to be applied for the definition of such acts and in order to determine responsibility for them. Nevertheless, it is obvious that the concept of serious acts of violence as used in the Peace Accords does not exist in a normative vacuum and that it must therefore be analyzed in terms of specific and pertinent legal principles.

In defining the legal standards applicable to this work, it should be noted that during the Salvadoran conflict, both sides had the obligation to obey a series of standards of international law, including those stipulated in international law covering human rights or international humanitarian law or both. Moreover, throughout the period of concern to us, the government of El Salvador had the obligation to adapt its internal law to its obligations in accordance with international law.

These standards of international law must be considered as such, as must normative criteria applicable to those functions which the Peace Accords impose on the Commission.(4)

It is a fact that in principle, international law governing human rights is only applicable to governments, while in specific armed conflicts, international humanitarian law is binding on both sides, meaning that it is valid for rebels as well as government forces. However, one must recognize that when one has a

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights
Project (1993)

case of insurgents exercising governmental powers in territories under their control, then one can also require that they comply with certain obligations regarding human rights, which bind the government based on international law. Consequently, they would be responsible for failure to comply.

The FMLN officially maintained that it had specific territories under its control and that it effectively exercised such control.

1. International law on human rights

International law on human rights applicable to this situation consists of several international instruments that were adopted within the framework of the United Nations and the Organization of American States. They are binding for the government of El Salvador. In addition to the Charters of the United Nations and the Organization of American States, they include the following treaties on human rights, among others: the International Pact on Civil and Political Rights and the American Convention on Human Rights. El Salvador ratified the pact on 30 November 1979 and the American Convention on 23 June 1978. Both instruments went into effect for El Salvador before 1980. Consequently, they were in effect throughout the conflict to which the Commission's mandate refers.

Clearly, not every violation of a right guaranteed by these instruments can be characterized as a "serious act of violence." The instruments themselves recognize that certain violations are more serious than others. This position is reflected in a provision appearing in both treaties in which a distinction is made between those rights that can never be suspended (not even in wartime or any other state of national emergency) and those that can be suspended under such circumstances. It is therefore appropriate for the Commission to classify the seriousness of every "act of violence" on the basis of the catalogue of nonrepealable rights appearing in both treaties. Those rights that are directly related to the right to life and the physical integrity of the person should be particularly taken into account.

In that sense, the Commission points out that Article 4 of the Pact includes among the nonrepealable rights that are within the province of its functions the right to life ("No one may be deprived of life arbitrarily"), the right not to be tortured or subjected to cruel, inhuman, or degrading treatment, and the right not to be subjected to slavery or various forms of servitude. Article 27 of the American Convention declares that these same rights cannot be suspended, not even "in case of war, public danger, or any other emergency threatening the independence or security of the government."

According to international law, it is illegal for a government or those acting in its name to violate any of these nonrepealable rights, no matter what the reason might be. A violation of these rights can even achieve the level of international crime in situations in which the facts comprise a consistent typology or reflect a systematic practice whose purpose is the large-scale violation of these fundamental rights of the human person.

2. International Humanitarian Law

The principles of international humanitarian law applicable to the Salvadoran conflict are contained in the common Article 3 of the four Geneva Conventions of 1949 and the Second Additional Protocol to those conventions. El Salvador ratified these instruments before 1980.

While the Salvadoran armed conflict was not international in nature, in the se that the Conventions define that concept, it did meet the requirements for plication of the common Article 3 of the four Conventions. That provision defines certain fundamental humanitarian standards that are applicable to armed conflicts that are not international. The same can be said of Protocol No 2 of the Geneva Conventions, which is concerned with protecting victims of armed conflicts that are not international in nature. The provisions of the common

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Article 3 and Protocol No 2 are legally binding on the government as well as the insurgent forces.

Without analyzing the provision mentioned exhaustively, it is obvious that violations of the common Article 3 (6) and the fundamental guarantees contained in Protocol No 2 (7) for either of the two parties the conflict--especially if they are committed systematically--could be characterized as serious acts of violence for the purposes of the interpretation and application of the Commission's mandate. The foregoing includes such acts as the arbitrary deprivation of life, torture, cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment, the taking of hostages, and the denial of certain fundamental requirements of due process before the imposition and execution of serious criminal sanctions.

3. Conclusions

With rare exceptions, the serious acts of violence prohibited by the standards of humanitarian law applicable to the Salvadoran conflict are also violations of the nonrepealable provisions of the Pact on Civil and Political Rights and the American Convention, the two human rights treaties ratified by the government of El Salvador. In addition, both instruments prohibit the derogation of any rights guaranteed by any human rights treaty of which the government is a signer.

Consequently, neither the Salvadoran Government nor those acting as its representatives or in its place can claim that the existence of an armed conflict justified the commission of serious acts of violence in violation of either of the two human rights treaties or the applicable instruments of humanitarian law, which are binding on the government.

C. Methodology

In order to determine the methodology that would govern the conduct of investigations essential to the drafting of this report, the Commission took a series of factors into account.

The text of its mandate was a binding condition and the point of departure for the Commission in recording the intentions of both sides on the matter. The preamble to the mandate indicates that the Commission was created because the two sides recognized "the need to shed light promptly on those acts of violence of singular significance, whose characteristics and repercussions...demand precise knowledge of the truth with the greatest urgency...." In establishing the procedures which the Commission was to follow in performing its duties, paragraph 7 of the mandate stipulates that the Commission should perform its duties "in a confidential manner." Paragraph 5 establishes that "the Commission's proceedings are not jurisdictional." Paragraph 8 stipulates that "the Commission will have complete freedom to use whatever sources of information it deems useful and reliable," while subparagraph b of that same provision empowers the Commission to "interview, freely and privately, any persons, groups, and members of entities or institutions." Finally, in the fourth paragraph of the mandate's preamble, both sides agree that compliance with the tasks entrusted to the Commission "through a procedure that is both reliable and expeditious and that can yield results in short-range terms" did not detract from "the obligations of Salvadoran courts to resolve those cases and mete out the proper punishment to those responsible."

In analyzing these provisions of the Mandate, the Commission deemed it important that both sides had emphasized that "the Commission's proceedings are not jurisdictional." In other words, the parties to the agreement not only did not set up a court or tribunal, but rather, made it very clear that the Commission should not function as if it were a jurisdictional institution. However, they were anxious to make sure that the Commission could act confidentially and receive information from any source, public or private, that it deemed useful and reliable. These powers were conferred upon it in order to enable it to develop an investigative procedure that would be both expeditious and, in its opinion, reliable in order to "shed light promptly on those acts of violence of singular significance, whose characteristics and repercussions...demand precise knowledge of the truth with the greatest urgency...."

It is therefore clear that both parties opted for an investigative procedure which, within the short time frame allowed, would be the most suitable for elucidating the truth about acts of violence within the Commission's province, without requiring it to comply with procedures and rules traditionally governing the conduct of any legal or quasi legal organ. Any legal function that it might have to perform would be expressly reserved for the courts of El Salvador. For both parties, the paramount consideration was to arrive at the truth without delay.

Another important general consideration that affected the Commission's methodology had to do with the situation in El Salvador today. This is not only reflected in the Commission's mandate, but also profoundly affected the Commission's investigative process and modus operandi. It forced the Commission to obtain its most valuable information in exchange for guarantees of confidentiality.

The parties to the Peace Accords not only authorized the Commission to act in a confidential manner and receive information privately, but the situation in El Salvador made this essential for two reasons: first of all, to protect the lives of the witnesses; and second, to obtain information from witnesses who, due to the climate of fear in which they still live, would not have supplied it if the Commission had not guaranteed them absolute confidentiality.

The situation as it now exists in El Salvador is that the people in general continue to believe that many military and police officials, on active duty or retired, government officials, judges, members of the FMLN, and persons who at some time or other had some connection with the death squads, are in a position to cause serious physical and material harm to any person or institution who might come forward to testify about acts of violence committed between 1980 and 1991. In the Commission's opinion, this suspicion is not irrational, given the recent history of El Salvador and the power still held or, in many cases, held until only recently by persons whose direct involvement in serious acts of violence or the concealment of such acts--without their being held accountable for their actions or omissions.

Even if the fear expressed by some of the potential witnesses may have been exaggerated, the truth is that it is real to them. Consequently, they were not willing to offer testimony unless they were guaranteed absolute confidentiality. It should be noted that a large number of witnesses had in the past refused to give information to other investigative bodies precisely because they feared their identity would be divulged.

The Commission itself testifies to the extreme fear of reprisals that was expressed repeatedly, verbally and by their behavior, by many witnesses interviewed. It is also important to emphasize that the Commission was not in a position to offer witnesses any significant protection aside from the guarantee of confidentiality. Unlike the national courts, for example, the Commission lacked the authority to dictate precautionary measures and naturally had no police powers. In addition, the public perception in general is that the Salvadoran judicial system is not capable of providing the necessary guarantees.

The Commission also received reports from a number of governments and international organizations on the condition that the source not be revealed. This information was subjected to the same test of reliability that was applied to other information received, and it was mainly used to confirm or verify personal testimony and channel the Commission in its search for other investigative areas.

El Salvador Human Rights

From the very moment it began its work, the Commission recognized that accusations presented secretly and evidence received in the same manner faced a far greater risk of being considered less reliable than that subjected to traditional judicial tests to determine the truth and other related requirements relating to due process, especially including the right of the accused to confront and examine adverse witnesses. For that reason, the Commission determined that it had a special obligation to take all possible measures aimed at ensuring the reliability of evidence used to reach a conclusion. In addition, in those cases in which the Commission found itself in the situation of identifying specific persons as responsible for having committed, arranged, or tolerated specific acts of violence, a stricter test of reliability was applied.

The Commission decided that in each of the cases described in this report, it would specify the degree of certainty on which it based its final conclusion. The different degrees of certainty are: 1) overwhelming proof: conclusive or highly convincing proof supporting the Commission's conclusion; 2) substantial proof: very solid proof supporting the Commission's conclusion; and 3) sufficient proof: more proof supporting than contradicting the Commission's conclusions. The Commission decided not to reach any specific conclusion on those cases or situations or any aspect of them in which there was less than "sufficient" proof supporting such a conclusion.

In order to guarantee the reliability of the evidence gathered, the Commission insisted on verification, crosschecking, and a reexamination of all statements concerning the events, comparing them with a large number of sources whose veracity had already been established. It was determined that no source or witness would by itself be considered sufficiently reliable to establish the truth about any matter that was in fact necessary in order for the Commission to reach a conclusion. It was decided that secondary sources, for example, reports from national or international entities, whether governmental or private, and statements by persons lacking first-hand information about the facts they related, would not in themselves constitute an adequate basis for drawing conclusions. Nevertheless, these secondary sources were used along with circumstantial evidence to verify conclusions that emerged from primary sources.

It could be argued that, given the fact that its investigative methods do not meet the traditional requirements of due process, the Commission should not give in its report the names of persons it deems are implicated in specific acts of violence. The Commission believes it had no alternative in this particular case.

The parties to the Peace Accords made it very clear that it was necessary to obtain precise knowledge of the truth and that it was for this reason that the Commission was created. However, not all the truth is being told if names are omitted. After all, the Commission was not entrusted with the task of writing an academic report on El Salvador! It was asked to investigate and describe acts of violence of singular significance and to recommend measures aimed at preventing the repetition of such acts in the future. This is not a task that can be completed in the abstract, by eliminating information (the names of those responsible for such acts, for example) when one has reliable testimony on the matter and, above all, when the persons identified occupy high posts and perform official functions directly related to violations or their concealment. Failing to mention names would strengthen that very mantle of impunity which the parties instructed the Commission to lift.

It should be stated that, in weighing certain aspects related to the protection of the lives of those testifying against the interests of persons who

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

in one way or another might be negatively affected by the publication of their names in the report, the Commission also considered the fact that the report is not a legal or quasi legal determination of the legal rights or obligations of specific persons. Consequently, the Commission is not in principle subject to the requirements which, according to traditional due process, are applied in proceedings leading to these consequences.

In addition, the application of a strict pattern of means of proof applied by the Commission to determine the degree of reliability in situations in which persons have been identified by name, as well as the high level of conviction it had reached before proceeding to do so, were additional factors influencing the Commission when it came time to make a decision about this analysis. The Commission is therefore satisfied that the patterns of impartiality and reliability that it applied to the entire process are fully compatible with the functions entrusted to it and the interests whose balance it had a duty to ensure.

The considerations that led the Commission to receive information without revealing the source of that information also forced it to omit references in reports of cases, in the text as well as the footnotes, except to specific public and official sources. Thus it is that references are found to official records of judges and other similar sources, but not to testimony or other types of information gathered by the Commission. It opted for this approach in order to reduce the likelihood that those responsible for the acts of violence described herein or their defenders might be able to identify the confidential sources of information used by the Commission. In some of the reports on cases, the Commission also omitted details that might reveal the identity of certain witnesses.

III. Chronology of Violence

Introduction

It was incumbent on the Truth Commission to investigate and analyze the serious acts of violence that occurred in El Salvador between January 1980 and July 1991.

Taking into consideration "the unique significance that could be attached to the acts that are to be investigated, their characteristics, and their repercussions, as well as the social upheaval that they caused," (8) the Commission, for methodological reasons, divided the interval 1980-1991 into four periods: 1980-1983; 1983-1987; 1987-1989; and 1989-1991. Each of these periods is associated with the political changes occurring in the country, the progress of the war, and the regularity or frequency of certain practices in violation of human rights and humanitarian international law.

I. Period 1980-1983: The Institutionalization of Violence

The systematic establishment of violence, terror, and distrust among the civilian population was the essential characteristic of this period. The breakup of any opposition or dissident movement through arbitrary arrests, assassinations, and indiscriminate, selective disappearances of leaders became a common practice. The repression in the urban areas was aimed against political organizations, trade unions, and organized sectors of Salvadoran society. Examples of this are the persecution of such organizations as the National Association of Salvadoran Teachers (ANDES) (9), assassinations of political leaders (10), and attacks against human rights organizations.(11)

In late 1980, the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front (FMLN) was formed; and, in January 1981, the first large-scale military offensive left a toll of hundreds of deaths. Starting in 1980, there was a series of indiscriminate attacks against the noncombatant civilian population, as well as collective summary executions afflicting the rural population in particular.

(12) Serious massacres occurred, such as those at the Sumpul River (14-15 May 1980), the Lempa River (20-29 October 1981), and El Mozote (December 1981). The advent of organized terrorism, through the so-called death squads, became the most aberrant practice in the incremental process of violence. Civil and military groups engaged in assassinations with total impunity and regularity under the dispassionate protection of state institutions. (13)
For instance, Monsignor Romero's assassination exemplifies the unlimited, devastating power of these groups. The largest number of deaths and human rights violations occurred during this period.

The government of General Carlos Humberto Romero (Jul 77-Oct 79) was overthrown on 15 October 1979. The Revolutionary Government Junta (JRG), composed of Colonel Jaime Abdul Gutierrez and Colonel Adolfo Majano, proclaimed its principal objectives: a stop to the violence and corruption, guarantees for the effectiveness of human rights, adoption of measures aimed at a just distribution of the national wealth, and a positive conduct in foreign relations. (14)

Elections were announced for February 1982 (18/10/79), and measures were issued limiting land possession to 100 hectares (Decree 43 of 6/12/79). The ORDEN (15) organization wad dissolved (6/11/79), and the National Security Agency of El Salvador (ANDESAL) was dismantled. (16)

The political strife between civilians and conservative military sectors became heightened, in an atmosphere of social agitation and mobilization. Leftist organizations, such as the People's Revolutionary Bloc (BPR), the 28 February People's Leagues (LP-28), and the Nationalist Democratic Union (UDN) announced their merger into the Revolutionary Coordinator of the Masses (CRM). (17)

On 22 January, a CRM crowded demonstration, described as peaceful by Monsignor Romero, was repressed by the National Guard, which left an undetermined number of deaths (estimated by some as between 22 and 50), as well as about 100 persons injured.

The antigovernment violence was demonstrated in activities such as occupations of radio stations, bombing of newspapers (LA PRENSA GRAFICA and EL DIARIO DE HOY), kidnappings, executions, and attacks on military targets, especially by the People's Liberation Forces (FPL) and the People's Revolutionary Armed (ERP).

On 3 January 1980, the three civilian members of the Junta and 10 of the 11 cabinet ministers resigned.(18) The Junta embarked on another crisis. The Agrarian Reform Law (19) and the nationalization of banks were announced. On 9 March, Engineer Jose Napoleon Duarte joined the Junta, after the Christian Democratic Party had expelled Dada Hizeri, Ruben Zamora, and other leaders from its ranks. The process of political polarization brought an unprecedented increase in the death squad activities.

On 6 February, the U.S. Ambassador, Frank Devine, reported to the State Department that, "...mutilated bodies are appearing on the roadsides as during the worst periods of the Romero regime." He also reported that "...the far right is arming and preparing for a confrontation, in which it undoubtedly expects to be allied with the military."(20)

On 22 February, the PDC [Christian Democratic Party] leader and Prosecutor General of the Republic, Mario Zamora, was assassinated at his residence a few days after the Broad National Front (FAN), headed by former National Guard Major

Roberto D'Aubuisson, had publicly accused him of being a member of subversive groups (see the case in Ch. IV).

On 24 March, Monsignor Oscar Arnulfo Romero was assassinated by a sniper while celebrating Mass in the chapel of The Divine Providence (21)Hospital (see the case in Ch. IV). This crime polarized Salvadoran society even more, and became a milestone symbolizing the greatest disrespect for human rights, and a prelude to open war between the government and the guerrillas. During the funeral, a bomb exploded opposite the San Salvador Cathedral. The crowd, estimated at 50,000 persons, seized with panic, was fired upon with machine guns. It is estimated that, as a result, between 27 and 40 deaths and over 200 injuries occurred.(22)

The Nationalist Democratic Union (UDN), founded in 1969, was the legal version of the banned Salvadoran Communist Party.

On 7 May 1980, Major Roberto D'Aubuisson (23) was captured on a farm with a group of civilians and military. During the raid, a sizable volume of arms and documents implicating the group with the organization and financing of squads that had reportedly taken part in Archbishop Romero's death was discovered. The arrest was followed by a series of activities including terrorist threats and institutional pressure, culminating in D'Aubuisson's release. Moreover, the more conservative sector in the government became stronger (24), and there was marked evidence of the Judicial Branch's apathy and inertia during the period. (25)

Illegal repressive government measures (26) and activities were imposed in order to dismantle the legal structure and neutralize the opposition movement. (27)

Between 12 and 15 August, a general strike called by the FDR [Revolutionary Democratic Front], a coalition of left-center parties, was violently repressed, with a death toll of 129. (28) On 27 November, they kidnapped Alvarez Cordoba and six FDR leaders, whose corpses appeared later with signs of torture (see the case in Ch. IV). A few days later, the General Maximiliano Hernandez Martinez Anticommunist Brigade issued a communique claiming responsibility for the action.

Between October and November 1980, the five armed opposition groups: People's Liberation Forces (FPL), People's Revolutionary Army (ERP), Armed Forces of Liberation (FAL), Armed Forces of National Resistance (FARN), and the Revolutionary Party of Central American Workers (PRTC) formed the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front (FMLN).

At the end of 1980, in the context of a change of administration in the United States, the violence in El Salvador reached U.S. citizens On 2 December, four nuns were arrested, raped, and assassinated by National Guard personnel (see the case in Ch. IV).

At the year's end, Colonel Majano was removed from the Junta, and Engineer Napoleon Duarte assumed the Presidency. (29)

The Truth Commission received direct reports on 2,597 victims of serious acts of violence occurring in 1980. (30)

1981

The individual extrajudicial executions continued, and those on a mass scale increased in the rural areas as well. On 3 January, the president of the Salvadoran Institute of Agrarian Reform and two U.S. advisers were killed at the Hotel Sheraton (31) (see the case in Ch. IV). This act was part of a campaign of assassinations of cooperative leaders and agrarian reform beneficiaries.

On 10 January, the FMLN launched the "Final Offensive," announced since the end of 1980.(32) Attacks were committed against military targets throughout the attempt was made to form a transitional government that would establish a democratic system. The lack of coherence between the forces comprising the government and the dynamics of the armed conflict did not allow for substantive changes during Dr. Magana's administration.

The Ilopango Air Base was attacked by the FMLN, with the destruction of six of the Air Force's 14 UH-1H helicopters, five Ourgan planes, and three C-47's. (41) The guerrillas intensified their action against economic targets. Between February and April, a total of 439 acts of sabotage were reported, (42) as well as an increase in the number of acts of sabotage with dynamite and incendiary devices to 782 between January and September. (43) The U.S. Embassy estimated the damage to the economic infrastructure at $98 million. (44) The FMLN also carried out large-scale operations in the capital, temporarily occupying urban centers in the interior. According to some reports, the number of rebels fluctuated between 4,000 and 5,000; while others estimated it between 6,000 and 9,000. (45)

The Armed Forces' combined "land-air" military operations were an attempt to regain control over populated areas controlled by the rebels. In one of those operations (31 January), 150 civilians were reported killed by military forces in Nueva Trinidad and Chalatenango. On 10 March, about 5,000 peasants fleeing from the combat zone in San Esteban, Catarina, were pursued with gunfire from helicopters and mortars. In August, a military "pacification" campaign in San Vicente caused between 300 and 400 peasants to be killed. (46) At the end of November, 5,000 troops took part in counteroffensive operations lasting 10 days, in northern San Salvador. At the end of the operation, the Defense Ministry reported the recovery of four towns, with 20 military casualties, and 232 among the guerrillas. (47)

On 31 August, the National Commission for Assistance to the Displaced Population (CONADES) reported the number of internal displaced persons as 226,744. The number of Salvadoran refugees in Latin American by June fluctuated between 175,000 and 295,000. (48)

The U.S. Embassy reported a total of 5,639 deaths, including 2,330 of civilians, 762 among the military, and 2,547 among the guerrillas. Christian Legal Assistance reported that, during the first eight months of 1982, there were 3,059 political assassinations, "nearly all committed by government agents against the civilian population not participating in military combat." (49) The same source reported the total number of civilian victims for 1982 as 5,962. (50)

The death squads (51) continued to operate with impunity during 1982. On 10 March, the Anticommunist Alliance of El Salvador published a list of 34 persons condemned to death "for discrediting the Armed Forces," most of them journalists. The Inter-American Human Right Commission, commenting on the discovery of clandestine cemeteries for squad victims, reported that, on 24 May, in Puerta del Diablo, Panchimalco, the bodies of over 150 persons were buried. (52) On 27 May the corpses of six members of the Christian Democratic Party were found in El Playon, another clandestine cemetery used by the squads. (53) President Duarte publicly denounced the extreme right, holding it responsible for the assassination of hundreds of PDC members and mayors. Four Dutch journalists were killed on 17 March 1982 (see the case in Ch. IV).

The Truth Commission received direct testimony from 1,145 victims of serious acts of violence occurring in 1982.

II. PERIOD 1983-1987. THE ARMED CONFRONTATION AS A CONTEXT FOR VIOLATIONS

The violations of life, physical integrity, and security continued in the urban centers. Nevertheless, there was evidence of a numerical reduction country, leaving a toll of hundreds killed. Government sources announced that "at least 500 extremists died in the 'Final Offensive.'" At the beginning of the FMLN activities, the martial law decreed by the Junta was sustained until 1981.

The violence in El Salvador acquired international attention and dimensions. Foreign political figures began putting the Salvadoran conflict in the context of the East-West confrontation. On the other hand, a negotiated solution to the conflict was promoted. (33) Many sectors began viewing a negotiated solution to the conflict as a possibility, counting on appropriated resources for this purpose. On 14 January, the U.S. administration reestablished its military aid, which had been suspended after the murders of the U.S. nuns. (34) The U.S. Goverment also made a considerable increase in its military and economic assistance. The resources provided have, to an increasing extent, been allocated to train, modernize, and expand the number of Armed Forces personnel. Also started was the creation of Immediate Reaction Infantry Battalions (BIRD): (Atlacatl: March 1981; Atonal: January 1982; Belloso: May 1982, etc.), specializing in the antiguerrilla battle.

The counterinsurgent military operations affected the civilian, non-combatant population, with a high cost in lives, generating the legal category of the "displaced person."

On 17 March, in an attempt to cross the Lempa River toward Honduras, a group of thousands of peasants was attacked by air and land. As a result of the attack, between 20 and 30 deaths and 189 missing persons were reported. Something similar occurred during October, on the southern shore of the same river, leaving a toll of 147 peasants killed, including 44 children. During November, in the department of Cabanas, a counterinsurgent operation surrounded and kept under attack for 13 days a group of 1,000 persons attempting to escape to Honduras. This time, betwen 50 and 100 deaths were reported. (35) In late December, the Atlacatl battalion carried out one of the largest massacres of the war, in various villages in El Mozote (see case in Ch. IV).

According to the Salvadoran Foundation for Development (FUSADES), by 1981 the displaced persons amounted to 164,000. There was also an increase in the number of displaced persons leaving the country in search of asylum, according to the report from the United Nations High Commission for Refugees (ACNUR). (36) Moreover, Christian Legal Assistance reported 12,501 deaths in 1981. (37)

The Truth Commission received direct testimony on 1,633 victims of serious acts of violence occurring in 1981.

The Constituent Assembly, composed of 60 members (38), adopted a new Constitution and elected an interim government. Although the PDC won the largest vote (40.3 percent), ARENA [Nationalist Republican Alliance] (29.3 percent), in an alliance with the National Conciliation Party, PCN (19 percent) and other minority parties, achieved control over the Assembly. Roberto D'Aubuisson was elected President of the Constituent Assembly, and two PCN members occupied the vice-presidencies. The Assembly ratified the Political Constitution of 1962. (39) Moreover, it elected Dr. Alvaro Magana as Provisional President of the Republic, and Drs. Raul Molina Martinez (PDC), Gabriel Gutierrez Castro (ARENA), and Pablo Mauricio Alvergue (PCN) as Vice-Presidents.

The National Assembly's Decree No 6 suspended Phase III (40) of the application of agrarian reform and, subsequently, the same decree was amended. Furthermore, the Apaneca Pact (3 August 1982) was signed, whereby a government of National Unity was formed. Its goals were pacification, democratization, human rights, economic recovery, security, and international reinforcement. An associated with greater selectivity. In 1982, 5,962 persons died at the hands of government forces, whereas by 1985 the number declined to 1,655. (54)

A marked reduction began in the death squads' activity. In December 1983, Vice President Bush paid a visit to El Salvador, publicly condemning the death squads. He demanded the removal of certain officials from the Armed Forces and security forces associated with human rights violations. The visit attested to the effect of U.S. diplomatic pressure on the reduction in violations.

The FMLN reinforced its structure and showed signs of power in the military area. It engaged in large-scale activities, exercising territorial control, albeit temporary, in various parts of the country. Starting in 1985, it used mines indiscriminately, causing many deaths among the civilian population. It waged an intense campaign to destroy economic targets, causing major material losses. It practiced the taking of hostages and assassinations, particularly of municipal mayors and government officials in troubled areas or those near the conflict. In this way, the guerrillas attempted to demonstrate, both within and outside the country, the existence of a "duality of power" in El Salvador.

The military course of the war during this phase led the Armed Forces to view the civilian population in the troubled zones as "legitimate targets of attack." They engaged in indiscrimate air bombardment, massive artillery attacks, and infantry invasions: all of which was reflected in massacres and destruction of communities, aimed at "depriving the fish of water." The systematic recurrence of these violations on the part of the Armed Forces had an effect that typified this period: legions of displaced persons and refugees. By 1984, 500,000 internal displaced persons were reported, (55) as well as 245,500 Salvadoran refugees abroad. The total number of displaced persons reached approximately 1.5 million. After much international criticism, the Armed Forces reduced their use of air attacks against the civilian population.

On 4 May, the Constituent Assembly passed an Amnesty Law for civilians implicated in political crimes. (56) In November, presidential elections were agreed upon for 25 March 1983, after having originally been scheduled for December 1983. Also, on 15 December, after 20 months of debate, the new Constitution was approved. (57)

The dialogue between the government and the FDR-FMLN began, although without positive results. Delegations from both sides met on 29-30 August in San Jose, Costa Rica, and on 29 September in Bogota, under the auspices of the Contadora Group (58) Presidents. In October, President Magana announced the cancellation of a forthcoming round of dialogue, citing the FMLN's refusal to participate in the elections. On the same day, 7 October, the high-level representative of the FDR residing in El Salvador, Victor Manuel Quintanilla, was found dead, together with three other victims. The Maximiliano Hernandez Martinez Anticommunist Brigade assumed responsibility for the act. (59)

The FMLN continued its campaign of economic sabotage, with an escalation of large-scale military operations. Between 15 and 18 January, the guerrillas unleashed an offensive, with a temporary occupation of towns in Morazan. On 29 January, in a similar operation, the FMLN occupied the town of Berlin (35,000 inhabitants) for three days, destroying the National Police and National Guard headquarters. The government, for its part, responded with a large-scale counteroffensive. A few days later, Monsignor Rivera y Damas charged the Armed Forces with being responsible for the large number of civilian deaths, estimated at between 50 and 170, as well as for the material damage caused. On 22 February, uniformed troops kidnapped and summarily executed a group of peasants belonging to cooperatives in Las Hojas, Sonsonate. The deaths were estimated at 70 (see this case in Ch. IV). On 16 March, Marianela Garcia Villas, President of the Non-Governmental Human Right Commission, was executed by security forces. (60)

Between January and June, 37 large-scale government military operations were conducted. On 25-26 September, the FMLN attacked Army positions in Tenancingo, and A-37 aircraft responded with air bombardment. About 100 civilians were killed in this operation. (61) In November, troops from the Atlacatl Battalion invaded an area controlled by the rebels near Lago Suchitlan, and 118 deaths were reported as a result of the operation. (62) Toward the year's end, the FMLN deployed its most extensive military action against the El Paraiso military base in Chalatenango. It was estimated that over 100 soldiers were killed in the attack. On 25 May, the FPL's Clara Elizabeth Ramirez urban commando group executed Navy Commander Albert Schaufelberger, the second-ranking member of the mission of 55 U.S. military advisers in El Salvador. (63)

On 6 April, Melida Amaya Montes ("Commander Ana Maria"), second in command of the FPL, was assassinated in Managua. A few days later, Salvador Cayetano Carpio, founder and chief of the FMLN's majority faction, committed suicide, after it was proven that a close collaborator of his had committed the crime.

In 1983, the death squads continued operating, with a high toll of murders of political opposition leaders, heads of labor union sectors, and educational and church leaders. A State Department report notes:

"The resurgence of the squads' activities began in May, and during the past two months they have been more active. The main reason for the resurgence is the current, although limited, dialogue between the Peace Commission and the left." (64)

On 1 November, the Maximiliano Hernandez Martinez Anticommunist Brigade threatened Bishops Rivera y Damas and Rosas Chavez with death, warning them to "immediately stop their agitating sermons." In his farevell message, Ambassador Hinton mentioned the incident, remarking: "I have never been able to understand the private sector's silence toward the squads' activities." (65)

On 4 November, the new ambassador, Thomas Pickering, commented on the pressure brought to bear on the government of El Salvador to act against the squad leaders, among whom he cited: Hector Regalado, chief of security of the Constituent Assembly; Major Jose Ricardo Pozo, intelligence chief of the Treasury Police; Lt. Colonel Aristides Alfonso Marquez, intelligence chief of the National Police; and Colonels Denis Moran, Elmer Araujo Gonzalez, and Miguel Alfredo Vasconcelos. (66)

The most important event in this respect was the visit paid by the U.S. Vice President, George Bush, to San Salvador, on 9 December. On that occasion, Bush publicly declared that "the death squads must disappear," because they are a threat to the political stability of the government. He later submitted to the government a list of civilians and military suspected of belonging to these clandestine organizations. (67) Thereafter, a significant reduction was evident in the squads' activities, and several echelons of the government announced their future investigations of the matter. (68)

On 25 December, Monsignor Gregorio Rosas Chavez reported that 6,096 Salvadorans had died as a result of political violence in 1983. The Army and the squads killed 4,700 persons, while the deaths among the Armed Forces and security forces totaled 1,300. (69)

In the nation's interior, the number of displaced persons totaled 400,000, which, when added to the approximately 500,000 Salvadorans estimated by ACNUR as being in the United States, and the 200,000 in Mexico and Central America, made a total equivalent to 20 percent of the country's entire population. In his annual report, the special representative of the UN Human Rights Commission, Jose Antonio Pastor Ridruejo, stated:

"...the most disturbing feature of the human rights situation.... is the fact that the number of civilians killed for political reasons in El Salvador is still very high." (71)

The Truth Commission received direct testimony on 513 victims of serious acts of violence occurring in 1983.

The PDC won first place in the March 1984 elections (43.41 percent), followed by ARENA (29.76 percent), and the PCN (20 percent). Since an absolute majority was not attained, the first two took part in a runoff election held on 6 May. Jose Napoleon Duarte received 53.6 percent and the ARENA candidate, Roberto D'Aubuisson, 46.4 percent. Hence, Duarte assumed the position on 1 June, becoming the first civilian elected President in 50 years.

During the interval between the election and the inauguration, the trial was held against the National Guardsmen accused of killing the American nuns, which occurred in December 1980. Strong pressure was brought to bear by the United States institutions and government, whose Congress was considering emergency aid for El Salvador. On 23 May after finding them guilty, Judge Bernardo Rauda Murcia sentenced the five National Guard members to 30 years in prison.(72)

In October, President Duarte tendered the FMLN an invitation to the dialogue. The meeting took place at La Palma, Chalatenango, on 15 October; followed by a second, on 30 November, in Ayagualo, La Libertad. Both meetings failed, because of the conflicting positions on the conditions for a possible incorporation of the FMLN into political activity. (73)

During the course of the war, a reduction occurred in political assassinations; but, at the same time, there was an increase in hostile activities evident in countless confrontations, acts of economic sabotage, (74) and massive military counterinsurgency operations in the war zones. (75)

On 23 October, in a war strategy, the People's Revolutionary Army (ERP) made it easy for Colonel Domingo Monterosa, Commander of the Third Infantry Brigade, to locate and seize the alleged transmission center of Radio Venceremos. In so doing, it installed an explosive in the transmitting unit, which blew up when it was being transported in the helicopter. The colonel and his companions were killed in the operation.

Despite the indiscriminate, disproportionate attacks against the civilian population, there was a decline in the air attacks on them. Moreover, a considerable reduction occurred in the death squads' activities during the early months of the year. (76) In April, however, the Office of Legal Protection reported that the murders by the death squads had started to resume after two months of passive conduct. (77)

Legal Assistance, in a document dated September, reports that, during the first eight months of 1984 there were 1,965 civilian deaths attributed to the Army, the security forces, and the death squads. Also, in his annual report, the United Nations Special Envoy concludes:

"...the persistence of civilian deaths during or as a result of battles, detracts from the favorable impression caused by the decline in the number of political assassinations dissociated from hostile actions." (78)

The Truth Commission received direct testimony relating to 290 victims of serious acts of violence occurring during 1984.

On 31 March, elections were held for the Legislative Assembly and the municipalities, in which the Christian Democrats won. The aftermath of the relative loss of political control on ARENA's part generated a process of internal reconciliation, which culminated on 29 September in the election of Alfredo Cristiani as President of that party's National Executive Committee.

During the course of the year, the process of dialogue remained stagnant, with the failure of the proposal to keep the talks unpublicized, so as thereby to progress in the pacification effort.

The violence showed a marked, visible heightening, with military confrontations and operations in the zones of guerrilla activity. Concurrently, the FMLN carried out a series of kidnappings and summary executions. (79) The act with the most serious consequences was the attack by the Revolutionary Party of Central American Workers (PRTC) at a restaurant in San Salvador's Zona Rosa on 19 June. The victims were four U.S. Marine guards from the U.S. Embassy, who were killed with nine other civilians (see this case in Ch. IV).

During 1985, the FMLN engaged in a series of kidnappings of mayors and municipal officials, which reached a total of 20 mayors abducted in September. Moreover, in combat the Army captured the PRTC Commander, Nidia Diaz, and Commander Miguel Castellanos deserted (see the case in Ch. IV).

The FMLN kidnapped the daughter of President Duarte. (80) After several weeks of negotiations, with the Church and foreign governments as mediators, Ines Guadalupe Duarte and 22 mayors held by the FMLN were exchanged for Nidia Diaz and a group of 21 leaders. A total of 101 of FMLN's disabled combatants left the country.

The FMLN began the widespread tactical use of mines in its zones of influence, This practice caused a large number of deaths and mutilations among the civilian population. The Legal Protection agency recorded 31 deaths from mines during 1985; and the Government Human Rights Commission, for its part, reported 46 fatalities and 100 injuries as a result of contact mines. (81)

No large-scale collective executions occurred during the many military counterinsurgency operations. Nevertheless, there was intensive air bombing, with evictions of the peasant population in rural areas.(82) Christian Legal Assistance reported 1,655 civilian noncombatant victims whose deaths were attributed to government forces.(83) Legal Protection indicated a death toll of 371.(84)

The activity of the death squads continued during 1985. Legal Protection recorded 136 murders by squads; whereas, during the last six months of 1984, the number had been reported as 39. On the other hand, the Anti-Communist Secret Army (ESA) threatened 11 members of El Salvador University with death, and nine of those threatened went into exile. Major D'Aubuisson expressed an opinion of the squads, remarking that they "have been operating in our country since 1969, when the Communist Party's terrorist groups were formed."(85)

According to the sources, the numbers of victims and deaths resulting from conflicts are inconsistent. They probably total approximately 2,000 persons. (86)

The Truth Commission received testimony on 141 victims of serious acts of violence occurring in 1985.

1985

The process of political dialogue for resolving the conflict became stagnant, given the radicalization of the parties concerned. The war had a negative effect on production, which has been recovering slowly. President Duarte adopted the "Economic Stabilization and Reactivation Program," while, simultaneously, the protests increased and the crisis became more acute.

The National Union of Salvadoran Workers (UNTS) and the National Worker-Peasant Union (UNOC) began their activities, organizing protests and people's demonstrations. Economic demands were made, and there was a call for dialogue between the government and the FMLN-FDR. The UNTS and the University Students Federation (FEUS), among other organizations, held three major protest demonstrations.

During January, the so-called "Operation Phoenix" began, for the purpose of regaining the Cerro Guazapa area from FMLN control This operation lasted throughout the year.

During the escape from the counterinsurgency operations, there were massive displacements of people from their places of origin. Those affected founded the National Repopulation Coordinating Group (CNR), which sought, "...to retrieve the civilian population's right to live in its places of origin." These "repopulation" movements received the Church's support.

President Napoleon Duarte proposed a new peace plan, but the FMLN rejected it, because the Salvadoran guerrillas refused to be equated with the Nicaraguan rebels.(87) President Duarte insisted on calling for dialogue throughout the year, also seeking international pressure in an attempt to promote peace in the region. In June, "...13 Latin American nations made a final attempt to save the Contadora pacification process, after the attempt to sign the Central American Peace Act failed for the second time."(88) In September, a new call for dialogue with the FMLN-FDR was proposed by President Duarte in the community of Sesori, San Miguel; but the guerrillas did not heed it.

The violence continued. The victims were caused by the counterinsurgency operations and the repressive measures of the state security forces; as well as the kidnappings, summary executions, attacks on town halls, and explosions of mines on the part of the FMLN. The death squads' activity continued, and the Salvadoran Army of Salvation was created. Furthermore, the October earthquake in San Salvador left hundreds of victims and material lossess. A state of emergency was declared.

The Truth Commission received testimony on a total of 155 victims of serious acts of violence occurring in 1986.

III. PERIOD: 1987-1989, THE MILITARY CONFLICT AS AN OBSTACLE TO PEACE

The Esquipulas II Accord (89) signed by President Duarte opened à political space making it possible for FDR political leaders to return at the end of 1987. They participated in the 1989 presidential elections as a coalition.

Progress was made in what the international community termed "the humanization of the conflict."(90) Nevertheless, the violence resumed, with an obvious increase in attacks on the labor movement, human rights groups, and social organizations. The FMLN engaged in a campaign of kidnappings, summary executions, and assassinations aimed against civilians associated or sympathizing with the government and the Armed Forces. The dialogue process became stagnant, and it was obvious that the institutional vacuums, complicity, or negligence facilitated human rights violations, and became the main obstacles to the attainment of pacification.

The protest against the tax measures and electoral law reforms multiplied; there was also an increase in labor mobilizations and acts of violence against leaders of the cooperative movement.(91) In August 1987, the five Central American presidents signed "Esquipulas II" in Guatemala, calling for the creation of national reconciliation commissions in each country, an "International Verification Commission," and amnesty laws. The Apostolic Nunciature, for its part, offered its headquarters for meetings between the government and the FMLN-FDR; and Archbishop Monsignor Rivera y Damas acted as moderator. The parties publicly adhered to the Esquipulas II Accord, announcing the creation of commissions in the cease-fire areas, and other actions contained in the accord.

The Legislative Assembly approved Decree-Law No. 805, called the "Amnesty Law for Achieving National Reconciliation."(92) El Salvador's Special Representative on the United Nations Human Rights Commission,(93) and human rights organizations such as Americas Watch, criticized the scope of the amnesty.(94) Christian Legal Assistance also filed an appeal of unconstitutionality against the article granting the benefit in all types of crime.(95)

Moreover, the coordinator of the Salvadoran Human Rights Commission (CDHES-NG), Mr. Herbert Anaya Sanabria, was assassinated. The act caused great upheaval in the country.(96) The UN's Special Representative, Jose Antonio Pastor Ridruejo, reported more humane patterns of conduct in the Armed Forces, compared with the previous year. He also noted that no information had been received on large-scale massacres attributed to the Armed Forces, nor the use of torture.(97) The Special Representative concluded by citing the guerrillas' responsibility for the majority of deaths or injuries among the civilian population caused by contact mine explosions.

He also commented on the forced recruitment of children by the guerrillas. (98) Nevertheless, overall, the number of victims this year was lower than in 1986.

The Joint Chief of Staff of the Armed Forces, General Adolfo Blandon, upon submitting his annual raeport, stated that 75 percent of the Armed Forces, estimated at over 50,000 men, took part in a total of 132 military operations. The government forces suffered 3,285 casualties, with 470 deaths and 2,815 injured, 90 percent of the latter returning to active service. The list of rebel casualties totaled 2,586, with 1,004 killed, 670 injured, 847 captured, and 65 deserters.(99)

The Truth Commission received testomony on a total of 136 victims of serious acts of violence occurring in 1987.

Elections were held for the National Assembly and the Municipal Councils, with results giving the majority to ARENA. The FMLN attempted to boycott the elections with transportation strikes, kidnappings, and assassinations, as well as the detonation of car bombs. The Supreme Court of Justice, applying the amnesty law, released the officials and presumed perpetrators of the Las Hojas massacre from responsibility, as well as those implicated in the killing of the U.S. advisers for agrarian reform and the ISTA director.(100)

There was evidence of a return to the practice of massive executions by the Armed Forces, the most serious occurring in the jurisdiction of San Sebastian, San Vicente, where 10 peasants were killed (see the case in Ch. IV). Moreover, the death squads multiplied the number of victims by three, compared with 1987, achieving an average of eight victims per month.(101)

The FMLN began including municipal officials and alleged Army informants as military targets. Hence, the guerrillas killed eight mayors (see the case in Ch. IV), and threatened to execute a similar number of other informants.(102) The number of victims of mine detonations in 1988 was estimated at over 150 persons.

The Truth Commission received testimony on 138 victims of serious acts of violence occurring in 1988.

IV. Period: 1989-1991: From the "Final Offensive" to the Signing of the Peace Accords

At 2000 hours on Saturday, 11 November 1989, the FMLN unleashed the largest offensive recorded throughout the conflict. This occurred a few days after the dynamite attack on the FENASTRAS headquarters. The magnitude of the offensive against the capital and other cities led to a decree of standby status. On 13 November, a curfew was established, from 1800 hours to 0600 hours.(103) The battles waged until 12 December caused over 2,000 casualties on both sides, and damage amounting to nearly 6 billion colones.(104)

The 1989 offensive was one of the most violent episodes in the course of the war. The guerrillas shielded themselves in densely populated sections during the fighting, and urban areas were the target of indiscriminate air bombings. Violations occurred, such as arrests, torture, assassinations, and disappearances of hundreds of members of the noncombatant civilian population, as a result of the critical circumstances that the country was experiencing. In this situation, the assassination of the Jesuit priests and of two women took place.

The parties admitted the impossibility of a decisive military victory, and the negotiation process leading to the signing of the Peace Accords was resumed with greater endeavor.

Resolution 637 of the Security Council (27 July 1989) ratified intermediation through the UN Secretary General's good offices. The UN began a direct participation, through mediation between the parties, culminating in the signing of the accords. The United Nations Secretary General and his representatives intervened during the most critical intervals, to prevent one of the parties from leaving the negotiating table.

The Geneva Accord (April 1990), in the Secretary General's presence, marked the beginning of an irreversible process of advances in the establishment of the agenda and timetable: (Caracas Accord, 21 May 1990); human rights (San Jose, 26 July 1990); reforms in the Armed Forces, and the judicial and electoral system; and creation of the Truth Commission (Mexico City Accord, 27 April 1991); until the final accord of Chapultepec was achieved. It was followed by the beginning of the cessation of hostilities, disarmament, and the execution of the institutional reforms agreed upon.

Two contradictory tendencies affected Salvadoran society during 1989. On the one hand, there was a heightening of acts of violence and charges of human rights violations; and, on the other, there was progress in the talks between representatives of the Government of El Salvador and members of the FMLN leadership, with a view toward achieving a negotiated and political solution to the conflict.(105)

The ARENA party's candidate, Licentiate Alfredo Cristiano,(106) was elected in the presidential elections, while the FMLN called for a boycott of the elections and a transportation strike during the week of elections. Several incidents occurred at university centers. (107) There was no stop to the systematic intimidation and threats against religious of various churches, and social workers from different church institutions.(108)

The FMLN continued its policy of "executions" and threats against mayors, causing mayors to leave their duties. This affected a third of the country. (109) Moreover, there was an increase in assassinations for political reasons, most of them attributed to the rebels. The cases that aroused the most agitation were the killing of the former guerrilla commander, Miguel Castellanos (17 February) (see Ch. IV); the execution of Dr. Francisco Peccorini Letona, and the Prosecutor General of the Republic, Mr. Roberto Garcia Alvarado; and the assassination, on 9 June, of Dr. Jose Antonio Rodriguez Porth, who had assumed the post of Minister of the Presidency a few days earlier. He was wounded by several shots in front of his house, and died a short time later at the hospital. This act was probably committed by the FMLN. Also occurring were the murder of the conservative ideologist, Edgard Chacon; the execution of Gabriel Eugenio Payes Interiano;(110) and the death of the prominent politician, Dr. Francisco Jose Guerrero, former President of the Supreme Court. The latter occurred on 24 November, in an act attributed by the government to the FMLN urban commandos (see Ch. IV).

Progress was made in the process of dialogue between the FMLN and the Salvadoran government.(111) The talks continued in Mexico City from 13 to 15 September; in San Jose, Costa Rica, starting on 16 October; and in Caracas, a month later. The meetings were attended by observers from the Salvadoran Catholic Church, the United Nations, and the Organization of American States.

As a result of a bomb attack at the offices of the Salvadoran Workers Union National Federation, FENASTRAS 112 (see Ch. IV), the FMLN suspended the talks with the government.

On 16 November 1989, miliary personnel killed the following Jesuit priests at the Central American University (UCA): Ignacio Ellacuria, Rector of the University; Segundo Montes, Ignacio Martin-Baro, Armando Lopez, Juan Ramon Moreno, and Joaquin Lopez. Also killed were the domestic worker, Elba Ramos, and her 15-year old daughter, Celina Ramos (See Ch. IV).

Colonel Rene Emilio Ponce, Chief of Staff of the Armed Forces, reported that the casualty toll was 446 soldiers killed, and 1,228 injured; and 1,902 guerrillas killed, and 1,109 injured.(113)

The Truth Commission received direct testimony on 292 victims of serious acts of violence occurring in 1989.

During 1990 there was a parallel negotiating process, with substantive progress on the one hand, and a continuation of the war, on the other. In Guatemala, Hector Oqueli Colindres, leader of the National Revolutionary Movement (MNR), was kidnapped and killed (see Ch. IV).(114) Former President Jose Napoleon Duarte died, whereupon the FMLN declared a unilateral cease-fire on the 24th and 25th.

According to the Annual Report of the Inter-American Human Rights Commission, 1990-1991, political assassinations attributable to military or paramilitary groups caused the deaths of 119 persons, 53 of whom were reportedly executed by death squads, and 42 by the Army. The FMLN executed 21 persons, 14 of whom were considered victims of political assassinations.(115)

The figures on civilian deaths were lower than those of the year before. A considerable decline was evident after the signing of the San Jose Accord on human rights on 26 July 1990. The Army's military operations caused 852 victims, but it could not be specified how many were FMLN combatants or members of the civilian population.(116)

The UN Special Representative, in his report for 1990 on the human rights situation, expressed the same concern as the Human Rights Commission did over the alarming frequency with which members of the country's Civil Defense are involved in serious acts of bloodshed, thefts, assaults, rapes, and abuses of authority, creating a permanent state of terror and insecurity among the citizenry.(117)

A meeting took place in Geneva between the government delegations and the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front, and they agreed to resume the talks. On 20 May 1990, the parties signed an accord in Caracas containing the agenda for the negotiations to end the conflict, and a fixed timetable was established 118. On 19 June, the meetings of the parties continued in Oaxtepec, Mexico, to discuss demilitarization and military impunity. The round of talks ended without agreements. As part of this process, on 26 July what was considered the first substantial accord was signed. It related to respect for human rights, and was later known as the San Jose Accord. Both sides pledged to respect the most fundamental rights of the human being, and to establish an international verification procedure assigned to a mission from the United Nations Organization.

During August, a new round of talks took place, to deal with the military issue. It ended without accords. The stagnation of the progress prompted the Secretary General of the United Nations, on 31 October, to announce that the negotiations would be held in secret thereafter.

About mid-November, the FMLN heightened its military action in various parts of the country, for the purpose of exerting military pressure for an acceleration of the stagnant negotiating process. The international community responded with appeals to the FMLN to halt this action.(119)

The Truth Commission received direct testimony on 107 victims of serious acts of violence occurring in 1990.

During 1991, the negotiating process between the government of El Salvador and the FMLN continued its course, while serious acts of violence were attributed to both sides. On 2 January, in San Miguel, FMLN forces downed a helicopter flown by three U.S. advisers, and executed two survivors (see Ch. IV). On 21 January, uniformed personnel executed 15 members of a family in El Zapote.(120) On 28 February, Dr. Guillermo Manuel Ungo died after a lengthy illness. That same day, the FMLN announced that it would not boycott the March elections as it had in the past. On 10 March, 53 percent of the registered voters participated in the legislative and municipal general elections held in the country.(121)

As for the dialogue process, two rounds of negotiations were held: one in Mexico City, from 3 to 6 January, and the other in San Jose, from 19 to 21 February, without concrete results. Meanwhile, the violence of the war became hightened throughout the country.(122)

On 4 April, Mexico City received the representatives of the government and the FMLN for the eighth round of negotiations, which lasted until the 27th of the same month. Significant accords were achieved, representing reforms to the Constitution on topics such as the Armed Forces, the electoral system, and the Judicial Branch. They were approved by the Legislative Assembly on 29 April. In these accords, the parties also agreed to create the Truth Commission.(123)

On 26 July, with the prior, total support of the United Nations Security Council (Resolution 693), and of the Legislative Assembly of El Salvador, the United Nations Observer Mission in El Salvador (ONUSAL) was installed, and the Human Rights Division began operating immediately. The UN Secretary General invited the parties to meet with him in New York. On 25 September, the so-called New York Accord was signed, creating the National Commission for the Consolidation of Peace (COPAZ). A process of purging and reducing the Armed Forces was established; the commitment between the parties for redefining their doctrine was affirmed; and the effectiveness of the Mexico City Accord of 27 April 1991 was reiterated. Furthermore, certain accords reached in the economic and social realm were specified, and an agenda was established for the negotiation of unsettled issues.

The signing of the El Salvador Peace Accord in Chapultepec, Mexico, on 16 February 1992, constituted the culmination of the negotiating process and the beginning of the phase of executing the accords. At Chapultepec, it was also stipulated that the work of the Truth Commission would be associated with the clarification and elimination of impunity.(124)

For the period of the first six months of 1991, the Truth Commission received testimony on 28 victims of serious acts of violence.

The signing of the peace accord in Chapultepec put an end to 12 years of armed conflict in El Salvador. What has been briefly reviewed in this chronology is merely a part of the tragic events of that country's recent history. This event should also become the beginning of a new period which, through national reconciliation, will foster a promising future for this Central American nation.

The attacks against the Non-Governmental Human Rights Commission, CDHES-NG were systematic during this period:

On 25 October, they assassinated Ramon Valladares, the CDHES-NG's Administrator. On 4 December 1981, security forces kidnapped the CDHES-NG's Director, Carlos Eduardo Vides, who disappeared. In August 1982, the Treasury Police caused the disappearance of America Perdomo, Director of Public Relations. On 16 March 1983, Marianela Garcia Villas, the CDHES-NG's President, was killed in a military patrol ambush of a group of displaced persons.

Colonel Jose Guillermo Garcia and Colonel Nicolas Carranza were named defense minister and vice minister, respectively. The BPR was created in 1975, and the sectors comprising it included the peasant organizations: Christian Federation of Salvadoran Peasants (FECCAS), and Union of Field Hands (UTC); the teachers organizations: National Association of Salvadoran Teachers (ANDES); the marginal population group: Slum Dwellers Union (UPT); and students: Movement of Revolutionary High School Students (MERS).

The 28 February People's Leagues (LP-28) was a smaller-sized organization with an urban base, controlled by student sectors. It took its name from the date on which dozens of protesting demonstrators were killed: 28 February 1987. They were charging electoral fraud in the elections that installed General Carlos Humberto Romero as president.

The United Popular Action Front (FAPU), founded in 1974, was an organization comprised of labor unions, and student, peasant, and teachers' organizations.

19. The Agrarian Reform Law promulgated the expropriation of plots exceeding 1,250 acres. This affected approximately 372 land- holders, with a total of 625,000 acres. The beneficiaries were to comprise about 85 percent of the rural population. To ward off a reaction from those affected, the Junta issued Decree 155, establishing martial law for 30 days. 23. Major in the National Guard, serving in ANDESAL until the coup of 15 October, the date on which he was forced to resign.

24. On 12 May, Majano lost his influence, when Colonel Jaime Abdul Gutierrez, of the conservative wing, was named President of the Government Junta by the Armed Forces, and as such became the latter's Commander in Chief. On the same day, a communique from a group calling itself the Death Squads was read to the press over the telephone. It stated: "...We want the release of Major D'Aubuisson and of the other companions who were captured at Santa Tecla." It threatened explosions affecting the media that did not publish the message. LA PRENSA GRAFICA, 12 May 1980, p 25.

25. D'Aubuisson and his companions were never transferred to the Judicial Branch, not even with the seriousness of the charges concerning "squads," or the death of Monsignor Romero.

26. On 22 May, the Junta issued Decrees 264 and 265, amending the Code of Criminal Procedure. The former expanded the definition of terrorist activities, prohibiting the occupation of public buildings, work centers, and religious establishments. The latter prohibited release on bail for those accused or convicted of political crimes. On 24 June, Decree 296 prohibited participation in strikes on the part of public servants and employees of state agencies, stipulating immediate dismissal of those who promote or organize strikes. On 22 August, Decree 366 granted the Executive Branch the power to deprive any state union of legal status, if it participated in strikes or caused the interruption of essential public services. On 3 December, the Junta issued Decree 507, granting military courts jurisiction over political crimes against the state.

27. On 26 June 1980, after a national strike, the Army and National Guard attacked the National University, killing between 22 and 40 students and destroying the buildings. The University's Rector, Eng. Felix Antonio Ulloa, was assassinated on 29 October.

29. After a brief detention, Majano went into exile in March 1981.

30. The direct charges made to the Truth Commission, cited in this chronology, include those of the two conflicting sides. The largest number of charges submitted relate to violations committed by representatives of the Armed Forces or of paramilitary agencies. Only the charges with sufficient grounds to support them, in the opinion of the Truth Commission, were processed. See Annex No 5. Also received were a still greater number of charges from indirect sources, which have been included and analyzed in Annexes 5 and 6.

31. The victims were Jose Rodolfo Viera, president of the ISTA [Salvadoran Institute of Agrarian Transformation], and two agrarian advisers from AIFLD, Mark David Pearlman and Michael Hammer.

32. During one of the first mass attacks committed by the FMLN against military garrisons on 27 December, Commander Ferman Cienfuegos, of the FARN, announced that a final offensive would be launched before the Reagan inauguration on 20 January 1981. 57. The document, with 247 articles, called for greater control over presidential power. It also reduced the effect of agrarian reform on landholders. A report from U.S. labor advisers in December stated that only 57,000 out of 117,000 beneficiaries of the reform had used their right to purchase land consisting of up to 17.5 acres that they were leasing; and that over 10 percent of those who had exercised that right were evicted or murdered. The main points established the objective of achieving a cease-fire in 90 days, the formation of national reconciliation commissions, general amnesty, the creation of an International Verification Commission, and the cessation of logistical and armament aid to all the armed rebel groups in the region.

90. The "humanization of the conflict" referred to the attempts to end practices such as kidnappings, bombings, indiscriminate attacks on the civilian population, summary executions, and the indiscriminate use of mines, etc.

91. In a document published on 22 July 1987, Amnesty International expressed its concern over what appeared to be a campaign of repression aimed against the cooperative movement. The law would not benefit those who: a) took part in the assassination of Monsignor Romero; b) committed kidnappings for purposes of personal profit; c) were involved in drug trafficking; and, d) participated in the assassination of Herbert Anaya. IV. CASES AND PATTERNS OF VIOLENCE (125)

A. OVERVIEW OF THE CASES AND PATTERNS OF VIOLENCE

The Truth Commission logged more than 22,000 reports of serious violence in El Salvador during the period from January 1980 to July 1991 (126). More than 7,000 were received at Commission offices in various locations. The others arrived through governmental and nongovernmental organizations (127).

More than 60 percent of the total concerned extrajudicial executions; more than 25 percent, forced disappearances, and more than 20 percent, reports of torture.

The complainants attributed almost 85 percent of the cases to government agents, paramilitary groups allied with them, and the death squads.

Armed Forces personnel were accused in 60 percent of the complaints; members of security forces in approximately 25 percent; members of military escorts and civil defense in about 20 percent; and members of the death squads in more than 10 percent of the cases. The complaints held the FMLN responsible in about five percent of the cases.

Though there were many such complaints, they do not represent all of the incidents of violence. The Commission managed to receive only a significant sampling of them during the three-month period in which it logged testimony.

Nor is it being asserted that each of the incidents took place exactly as represented in the testimony. The Commission investigated certain individual cases under specific circumstances, as well as patterns of violence. Approximately 30 cases treated in the report illustrate the patterns of violence. In other words, these are systematic practices confirmed by thousands of complainants.

The specific cases, plus the patterns, show that during the 1980's unusual political violence was unleashed in the country. All Salvadorans without exception experienced such violence, some more than others though.

The introduction and methodology section of the report explain this point.

The Patterns of Violence of Government Agents and Their Collaborators

The complaints concur in indicating that the origin of this violence was a political philosophy that regarded political opponents, subversives, and enemies as synonymous. Individuals who advanced ideas that ran counter to official ones ran the risk of being eliminated, as if they were armed enemies on the battlefield. The extrajudicial executions, forced disappearances, and slayings of opposition politicians indicated in this chapter epitomize these conditions.

Any organization capable of advocating opposition ideas that questioned official policies was likened, in a conditioned reflex, to the guerrillas. To belong to such an organization was tantamount to being branded a subversive.

The counterinsurgency, in its most extreme variety, found expression in this widespread notion: "Taking the water away from the fish." The residents of areas in which the guerrillas were active were suspected of being guerrillas or of collaborating with them and thus ran the risk of being eliminated. El Mozote is a regrettable example of this view, which prevailed for several years.

Violence in the countryside became extremely indiscriminate in the early years of the decade.

Around half of the complaints analyzed concerned incidents that took place during the first two years, 1980 and 1981; and more than 20 percent had to do with the following two years, 1982 and 1983. In other words, more than 75 percent of the serious incidents of violence reported to the Truth Commission were concentrated in the first four years of the decade.

El Salvador: Human Rights

Violence was less indiscriminate in urban areas and, after 1983, in the countryside as well (95 percent of the complaints came from rural areas, five percent from more urban locales).

The Patterns of FMLN Violence

The Commission recorded more than 800 complaints of serious violence attributed to the FMLN. This violence occurred mainly in the areas of conflict, in which the FMLN maintained strong military control at times.

Approximately half of the accusations against the FMLN had to do with murders, most of them extrajudicial executions. The rest have to do with forced disappearances and recruitments.

The patterns show that this violence stemmed from the war. Physically eliminating persons identified as military targets, traitors, "stool pigeons," and even political opponents was regarded as legitimate. The murders of mayors, rightist intellectuals and public officials, and judges are examples of this view.

Members of a given guerrilla organization investigated the activities of the individual likely to be branded a military target, spy, or traitor. They then evaluated the information and made a collective decision to execute the individual; special groups or commando units then planned and carried out the execution. Afterwards, they publicly claimed responsibility for the execution, indicating the organization in question, for propaganda purposes. The FMLN described such executions as "ajusticiamientos."

The executions were carried out without due process. The case of Romero Garcia, alias Miguel Castellanos, in 1989 is an example of an FMLN-ordered extrajudicial execution of an individual regarded as a traitor. He was not tried. The FMLN acknowledged, after some time had passed, that it masterminded the execution; it never clarified which organization had carried it out.

As for the mayors and the slayings of American military personnel in the Zona Rosa, the commanders of the FMLN had given orders or general guidelines to its organizations.

The Zona Rosa incident in 1985, the execution of Dr. Peccorini in 1989, and the execution of Dr. Garcia Alvarado were examples of how the various organizations that make up the FMLN interpreted in a restricted manner and applied sporadically the guidelines of general policies. This phenomenon caused an escalation of violence.

The execution of the mayors, in contrast, is an example of how the instructions from the FMLN general command were interpreted and applied broadly and extensively. From 1985 to 1989 the People's Revolutionary Army carried out extrajudicial executions of several noncombatant civilians. Under humanitarian international law, there is no way that they could have been equated with military targets.

The Commission was unable to verify the existence of general guidelines from the FMLN leadership to its member organizations concerning forced disappearances. It did receive complaints about some 300 disappearances, which took place mainly in areas in which the FMLN had strong military control. An analysis of these cases did not establish a pattern. Links were seen, however, between disappearances, forced recruitment by the FMLN, and the extrajudicial executions carried out by FMLN members against individuals described as spies and traitors.

The extrajudicial execution of the U.S. military personnel who survived the helicopter attack in San Miguel in 1991 cannot be interpreted as typical. In fact, the FMLN admitted that its members were responsible. They argued publicly that it had been a mistake. Yet there is no evidence that the perpetrators were actually punished.

Lastly, despite the few complaints about the use of land mines by the guerrillas, the Commission considered the charges that various organizations had leveled at the FMLN in this connection. Members of the FMLN admitted to the Commission that they had planted mines in a far from controlled manner, so much so that the mines injured civilians and FMLN members themselves, who were not familiar enough with the roads. The Commission did not find further evidence in this regard.

FOOTNOTES

125. In investigating and resolving the cases described below, the members of the Commission reviewed documents in El Salvador and other countries; interviewed many participants, witnesses, victims, and relatives; requested information from government agencies; consulted court files; visited the scenes of the events, and requested copies of instructions and orders that had been issued.

Requests for specific information about various cases were sent to ministers and officials in government agencies and to the now former commanders of the FMLN.

In the case of the requests for reports from the Defense Ministry, the Commission received answers to some of its questions. Yet many of the answers were incomplete.

As for the requests for reports that were not responded to, some of which concerned events prior to 1984, the Defense Ministry told the Commission: "...there are no records because the staff was completely restructured that year..." (Document 10692, 27 November 1992). For its part, the Public Relations Office of the Defense Ministry (COPREFA [Armed Forces Press Committee]) informed the Commission that "...we do not keep information back to January 1980; as of this date we have a file of bulletins only back to January 1988" (Letter of 29 October 1992).

The replies to the requests made of the FMLN were also, in some cases, incomplete. The former commanders said that the irregular nature of the war and the resulting absence of records made it impossible for them to provide accurate information to the Commission.

126. A detailed analysis of the complaints and the lists of reported victims can be found in the annexes. There were also more than 18,000 complaints from indirect sources, more than 13,000 of which were analyzed. The numbers of direct and indirect sources were not combined. Estimates are that as many as 3,000 complaints were duplicated in the two sources. The Commission feels, in any event, that the total number of reported complaints is no fewer than 22,000.

127. The Commission also received thousands of other complaints from institutions, which after being logged could not be analyzed either because they did not meet the minimum requirements for this purpose, even though they were opportunely conveyed to the institutions, or because the reported events had taken place outside the time frame of the Commission's mandate.

IV. B. Violence by Agents of the State Against Opponents

1. Illustrative Example: The Assassination of the Jesuit Priests

Summary of the Case

In the early morning hours of 16 November 1989, six Jesuit priests, a cook and her 16-year-old daughter were shot and killed in the Pastoral Center of the Jose Simeon Canas Catholic University (Central American University--UCA) in San Salvador. The victims were Fathers Ignacio Ellacuria, rector of the University; Ignacio Martin-Baro, vice rector; Segundo Montes, director of the Human Rights Institute; and Amando Lopez, Joaquin Lopez y Lopez, and Juan Ramon Moreno--all teachers at the UCA; and Mrs. Julia Elba Ramos and her daughter, Celina Mariceth Ramos.

Later, nine members of the military forces were tried in criminal court for the assassinations. Those charged included Colonel Guillermo Alfredo Benavides Moreno, director of the Military School, who was accused of giving the order for the assassination of the priests; Lieutenant Yusshy Rene Mendoza Vallecillos, a Military School officer; and Lieutenants Jose Ricardo Espinoza Guerra and Gonzalo Guevara Cerritos, officers in the Atlacatl Battalion, all of whom were charged with participating in the planning of the operation; and five soldiers in the Atlacatl Battalion, who were charged with being the actual perpetrators of the murders.

In 1991, a jury found Col. Benavides guilty on all of the murder counts, and convicted Lt. Mendoza Vallecillos of the murder of the young girl, Celina Mariceth Ramos. The judge imposed the maximum penalty, 30 years in prison, on the two officers, who are still serving their sentences. The judge also sentenced Col. Benavides and Lt. Mendoza for the crimes of intent and conspiracy to commit acts of terrorism. Lts. Espinoza and Guevara Cerritos were sentenced to three years in prison for the crime of intent and conspiracy to commit acts of terrorism. Lieutenant Colonel Hernandez was sentenced by the judge for the crime of active concealment, and Mendoza Vallecillos was also convicted of this same crime. All except for Col. Benavides and Lt. Mendoza were released on bond and continued to serve in the Armed Forces.

The Truth Commission has reached the following conclusions and recommendations:

1. On the night of 15 November 1989, the then Colonel Rene Emilio Ponce, in the presence and with the collusion of General Juan Rafael Bustillo, the then Colonel Juan Orlando Zepeda, Colonel Inocente Orlando Montano, and Colonel Francisco Elena Fuentes, gave Col. Guillermo Alfredo Benavides the order to have the priest Ignacio Ellacuria assassinated, leaving no witnesses. To this end, he arranged that a unit of the Atlacatl Battalion that had been sent to effect a search at the priests' residence two days earlier was to be used.

2. Later, all of these officers and others, including General Gilberto Rubio Rubio, who knew what had occurred, took steps to conceal it.

3. That same night, Col. Guillermo Alfredo Benavides informed the offices at the Military School of the assassination order. When he asked these officers if anyone was in disagreement, they all kept silent.

4. The assassination operation was organized by the then Major Carlos Camilo Hernandez Barahona, and it was carried out by a group of soldiers in the Atlacatl Battalion under the command of Lieutenant Jose Ricardo Espinoza Guerra and Sublieutenant Gonzalo Guevara Cerritos, accompanied by Lieutenant Yusshy Rene Mendoza Vallecillos.

5. Colonel Oscar Alberto Leon Linares, the commander of the Atlacatl Battalion, knew about the assassination, and he concealed incriminating evidence.

6. Colonel Manuel Antonio Rivas Mejia, head of the Commission to Investigate Crimes (CIHD), knew the facts and concealed the truth about them. In addition, he suggested that Col. Benavides take steps to destroy the incriminating evidence.

7. Colonel Nelson Ivan Lopez y Lopez, who was assigned to help with the CIHD investigation, knew the truth about what had occurred and concealed it.

8. The attorney Rodolfo Antonio Parker Soto, a member of the Special Honor Commission, altered statements in order to conceal the responsibility of high-ranking officials for the murders.

9. The Commission believes it unjust that Col. Guillermo Alfredo Benavides Moreno and Lt. Yusshy Rene Mendoza Vallecillos are still in prison while the other perpetrators of the assassinations and the man who gave the assassination order remain at liberty. The petition for a pardon the Society of Jesus has submitted for Col. Guillermo Alfredo Benavides Moreno and Lt. Yusshy Rene Mendoza Vallecillos should, in the opinion of the Commission, be accepted by the pertinent authorities.

Description of the Events (128)

(In investigating this case, the Commission interviewed many witnesses, reviewed the documents in the court case and other files and reports on the matter, and visited the site of the murders.)

In the early hours of 16 November 1989, a group of military personnel from the Atlacatl Battalion entered the compound of the Jose Simeon Canas Catholic University in San Salvador. They went to the building in the Pastoral Center where the Jesuit priests Ignacio Ellacuria, rector of the University; Ignacio Martin-Baro, vice rector; Segundo Montes, director of the Human Rights Institute; Amando Lopez, Joaquin Lopez y Lopez, and Juan Ramon Moreno, all three teachers at the UCA, resided.

The soldiers attempted to force the entrance to the Pastoral Center. When the priests realized what was happening, they willingly admitted the soldiers. The Army personnel searched the building and ordered the priests to go into the back garden and to lie down on the ground, face downward.

The lieutenant in command, Jose Ricardo Espinoza Guerra, gave the order to shoot the priests. The soldier Oscar Mariano Amaya Grimaldi shot and killed the priests Ellacuria, Martin-Baro, and Montes. Subsergeant Antonio Ramiro Avalos Vargas shot and killed the priests Lopez and Moreno. Shortly afterward, the soldiers, including Corporal Angel Perez Vasquez, found the priest Joaquin Lopez y Lopez inside the residence and killed him. Subsergeant Tomas Zarpate Castillo shot Mrs. Julia Elba Ramos, who worked at the residence, and her daughter Celina Mariceth Ramos, sixteen years old. The soldier Jose Alberto Sierra Ascencio shot them again, killing them.

The Atlacatl Battalion personnel took possession of a suitcase belonging to the priests, and with it, photographs, documents, and $5,000.

The soldiers fired machine-gun rounds at the facade of the residence, and launched rockets and grenades. Before withdrawing, they wrote "the FMLN [Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front] has executed the opposition spies! Triumph or death! FMLN" on a poster.

The Preceding Events

A few hours earlier, between 2200 and 2300 hours on the night of 15 November, Colonel Guillermo Alfredo Benavides Moreno, the director of the Military School, met with the officers under his command. The officers present included Major Carlos Camilo Hernandez Barahona, Captain Jose Fuentes Rodas, Lieutenants Mario Arvalo Melendez, Nelson Alberto Barra Zamora, Francisco Monico Gallardo Mata, Jose Vicente Hernandez Ayala, Ramon Eduardo Lopez Larios, Rene Roberto Lopez Morales, Yusshy Rene Mendoza Vallecillos, Edgar Santiago Martinez Marroquin, and Sublieutenant Juan de Jesus Guzman Morales.

Col. Benavides announced that he had just come from a meeting with the General Staff at which extraordinary measures to combat the FMLN offensive launched on 11 November had been adopted. At that meeting, it was announced that the situation was critical and it was decided to use artillery and armored vehicles.

It was also announced that it was necessary to eliminate all of the known subversive elements. Col. Benavides said that he had received orders to eliminate Father Ignacio Ellacuria, leaving no witnesses.

Col. Benavides asked those who were not in agreement with the order to raise their hands. No officer did so.

Maj. Hernandez Barahona organized the operation. For the purpose, the commando personnel in the Atlacatl Battalion under the command of Lt. Jose Ricardo Espinoza Guerra were used. With a view to minimizing their reluctance, it was arranged that their classmate ("tanda"), Lt. Yusshy Rene Mendoza Vallecillos, would also participate.

When the meeting ended, Maj. Hernandez Barahona met with Lt. Mendoza Vallecillos, Lt. Espinoza Guerra, and Sublieutenant Gonzalo Guevara Cerritos of the Atlacatl Battalion. In order to put the blame for the deaths on the FMLN, they decided not to use regulation weapons, and to leave no witnesses. Following the assassinations, they were to simulate a battle and leave behind a suggestive slogan.

It was decided to use an AK-47 rifle owned by Maj. Hernandez Barahona, because the weapon could be identified as one confiscated from the FMLN. The rifle was entrusted to the soldier Mariano Amaya Grimaldi, who knew how to use it.

In order to reach the UCA, it was necessary to pass through the defensive cordon around the military complex. Lt. Martinez Marroquin arranged for the passage of the Atlacatl personnel.

Lts. Espinoza Guerra and Mendoza Vallecillos and Sublieutenant Guevara Cerritos left the Military School in two pickup trucks with the personnel from the Atlacatl Battalion. They drove to some unoccupied buildings near the UCA complex, where they met other soldiers from the Atlacatl Battalion. There, Lt. Espinoza designated the soldiers who would stand guard and those would go into the Jesuits' residence.

Background Information

Members of the Armed Forces were in the habit of terming the UCA a "refuge for subversives." Col. Juan Orlando Zepeda, vice minister of defense, publicly accused the UCA of being the operations center where the terrorist strategy of the FMLN was planned. Col. Inocente Montano, vice minister of public security, stated publicly that the Jesuits were fully identified with the subversive movements.

Father Ellacuria played an important role in the search for a negotiated and peaceful solution to the armed conflict. The idea developed by sectors of the Armed Forces that the Jesuit priests were identified with the FMLN was the result of the special concern shown by these priests with the sectors of Salvadoran society that were poorest and most affected by the war.

On two earlier occasions in that same year, 1989, bombs had exploded in the printing premises of the University.

The Offensive

The offensive the FMLN had launched on 11 November took on an importance that was unexpected and was alarming to the Armed Forces. The guerrillas gained control of a number of zones in the capital and in the environs of San Salvador. They attacked the official and private residence of the president of the Republic, as well as that of the president of the Legislative Assembly. They also attacked the barracks of the First, Third, and Sixth Infantry Brigades and the National Police. On 19 November, the government declared a state of emergency and imposed a curfew between 1800 hours and 0600 hours in the morning.

At a General Staff meeting on 13 November, Security Commands were established to cope with the offensive. Each Command was headed by an officer under the operational control of Col. Rene Emilio Ponce, the chief of the Joint Armed Forces General Staff. Col. Benavides Moreno was appointed chief of the Security Command of the Military Complex. This area included the premises of the Military School, the Ministry of Defense, the Joint General Staff, and the National Intelligence Directorate. The Arce and Palermo settlements (in which the majority of the residents were military personnel), the residence of the ambassador of the United States of America, and the UCA campus were also within the territorial boundaries of the Command.

A national radio chain was also established, with Radio Cuscatlan of the Armed Forces as its pilot station. Telephone calls were broadcast by this station, which maintained an "open microphone." In the course of these calls, accusations were made against Father Ellacuria and there were even suggestions that he be killed.

On 11 November, guerrillas blew up a gate to the UCA and entered the school campus. The following day, a military unit was assigned to maintain surveillance over the entries into and exits from the University. Beginning on 13 November, the unit prevented anyone from entering the complex.

On 13 November, Col. Ponce ordered Colonel Joaquin Arnoldo Cerna Flores, the commander of the III General Staff Complex, to see that a search of the UCA installations was effected. According to Col. Ponce, he ordered the search because he had been informed that there were more than 200 guerrillas within the University premises.

Col. Cerna Flores entrusted the search to Lt. Jose Ricardo Espinoza Guerra, who took with him about 100 soldiers from the Atlacatl Battalion. Lieutenant Hector Ulises Cuenca Ocampo, of the National Intelligence Directorate, met the troops at the entrance of the UCA to participate in the search. Lt. Espinoza Guerra personally directed the search of the priests' residence. No indications of the presence of the guerrillas, war materiel, or propaganda were found.

When the search had been completed, Col. Espinoza Guerra reported to Maj. Hernandez Barahona. He then went to the General Staff headquarters, where he reported to Col. Cerna Flores.

At 1830 hours on 15 November, a meeting of the General Staff was held with the military chiefs and commanders present for the purpose of adopting further measures with regard to the offensive. Col. Ponce authorized the elimination of rebel leaders, trade unionists, and known member-leaders of the FMLN.

It was also decided at the meeting to step up the bombings by the Air Force and to make use of artillery and armored vehicles to force the FMLN out of the zones it controlled.

General Rafael Humberto Larios Lopez, the minister of defense, asked anyone who disagreed to raise his hand. No one did so. Also, it was agreed to consult President Cristiani about these measures.

The officers remained in the room, talking in groups, after the meeting. One of these groups included Col. Rene Emilio Ponce, Gen. Juan Rafael Bustillo, Col. Francisco Elena Fuentes, Col. Juan Orlando Zepeda, and Col. Inocente Orlando Montano. Col. Ponce called Col. Guillermo Alfredo Benavides over, and in the presence of these four officers, ordered him to eliminate Father Ellacuria, leaving no witnesses. He also ordered him to use the Atlacatl Battalion unit that had effected the search two days earlier.

President Cristiani met with the High Command between 0000 and 0230 hours on 16 November. According to his statement, the president approved a new provision for the use of armored units of the cavalry regiment and artillery pieces, but at no time during this meeting was there any discussion pertaining to the UCA.

The Cover-Up

In the early hours of the morning of 16 November, Maj. Carlos Camilo Hernandez Barahona and Lt. Jose Vicente Hernandez Ayala went to Col. Ponce's office to report in person on everything that had happened at the UCA. The officers reported that they had a suitcase containing photographs, documents, and money taken by the soldiers from the Jesuits some hours earlier. Col. Ponce ordered these items destroyed, because they were evidence of the responsibility of the Armed Forces. They destroyed the suitcase at the Military School.

On returning to his unit, Lt. Espinoza Guerra reported on what had occurred to the commander of the Atlacatl Battalion, Lieutenant Colonel Oscar Alberto Leon Linares.

President Cristiani entrusted the investigation of the crime to the Commission to Investigate Crimes.

Col. Benavides reported on what had occurred to Lieutenant Colonel Manuel Antonio Rivas Mejia, the head of the CIHD, and asked for assistance. The lieutenant colonel recommended that the barrels of the weapons used be destroyed and replaced with others in order to prevent their identification by means of ballistic tests. The barrels of some guns were then destroyed with the help of Lieutenant Colonel Oscar Alberto Leon Linares.

Lt. Col. Rivas Mejia also advised Col. Benavides to make certain that no entries remained in the books recording entries into and departures from the Military School that would make it possible to identify those responsible. Later, Col. Benavides and Maj. Hernandez Barahona ordered that all of the record books of the Military School, for both this year and last, be burned.

Shortly after the investigation began, Col. Rene Emilio Ponce ordered that Colonel Nelson Ivan Lopez y Lopez, the commander of Complex I of the General Staff, who had also been in command of the Tactical Operations Center of the General Staff during the entire night of 15-16 November, become a member of the CIHD so as to participate in the investigation of the case.

As of November, the CIHD had heard from two witnesses, Subsergeant German Orellana Vazquez and a policeman, Victor Manuel Orellana Hernandez, who told the CIHD they had seen Atlacatl personnel near the UCA that night, but they later changed their statements.

Another witness also retracted her initial statement. Lucia Barrera de Cerna, an employee of the University, said she had observed soldiers in camouflage uniforms and caps from a building adjacent to the Jesuits' residence. In the United States, where she fled for protection, she was interviewed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), and she retracted what she had said previously. Lt. Col. Rivas Mejia, head of the CIHD, was present while she was being questioned. She later confirmed her original story.

The CIHD took no statement from Col. Benavides, despite the fact that the events had occurred in his Command zone. According to the court documents, Benavides' first statement was that made before the Commission of Honor on 11 January.

On 2 January 1990, a month and a half after the assassinations, Major Eric Warren Buckland, a United States Army officer and an adviser to the Armed Forces of El Salvador, reported a conversation held some days earlier with Colonel Carlos Armando Aviles Buitrago to Lieutenant Colonel William Hunter, his superior. In the course of this conversation, Aviles Buitrago had told him that he had learned from Col. Lopez y Lopez that Benavides had ordered the assassinations and that a unit of the Atlacatl Battalion had carried them out. He also told him that Benavides had asked Lt. Col. Rivas Mejia for his help.

Lt. Col. William Hunter passed this information on to the head of the United States Military Mission, Colonel Milton Menjivar, who arranged a meeting in the office of Col. Ponce, where Buckland and Aviles confronted each other. Aviles denied having given Buckland this information.

A few days after Buckland's statements became known, the Ministry of Defense appointed a Special Commission of Honor made up of five military officers and two civilians to investigate the assassinations.

The Commission of Honor, after studying the investigation carried out by the CIHD, questioned some 30 members of the Atlacatl Battalion, including Lt. Espinoza Guerra, Sublieutenant Guevara Cerritos, and a number of officers at the Military School, including Col. Benavides and Lt. Mendoza Vallecillos.

Lts. Espinoza and Mendoza and Sublieutenant Guevara, as well as the soldiers who participated in the murders, confessed to their crimes in extrajudicial statements made before the Commission of Honor.

A civilian member of the commission, attorney Rodolfo Antonio Parker Soto, a legal adviser to the General Staff, changed the statements made so as to eliminate reference to any higher orders. He also removed the references to certain officers, including those pertaining to Maj. Carlos Camilo Hernandez Barahona.

On 12 January, the Commission submitted its report to President Cristiani. The report named as the individuals responsible nine persons, including four officers and five soldiers, who were arrested and then tried. Later, Carlos Camilo Hernandez Barahona, who was by then a lieutenant colonel, was also included in the case.

The hearings on the case lasted almost two years. During this period, Col. (now General) Rene Emilio Ponce, Col. (now General) Juan Orlando Zepeda, Col. Inocente Orlando Montano, and Col. (now General) Gilberto Rubio Rubio exerted pressure on officers of lower rank to refrain from any mention of higher orders in their statements to the court.

Finally, the trial was held before a jury on 26, 27, and 28 September 1991 in the Supreme Court building. The identity of the five jury members was kept secret. The defendants and the charges against them were as follows:

Col. Guillermo Alfredo Benavides Moreno, Lt. Jose Ricardo Espinoza Guerra, and Sublieutenant Gonzalo Guevara Cerritos were charged with murder, acts of terrorism, actions in preparation for terrorism, and intent and conspiracy to commit acts of terrorism.

Lt. Yusshy Rene Mendoza Vallecillos was charged with murder, acts of terrorism, actions in preparation for terrorism, intent and conspiracy to commit acts of terrorism, and active concealment.

Subsergeant Antonio Ramiro Avalos Vargas, Subsergeant Tomas Zarpate Castillo, Cpl. Angel Perez Vasquez, and Private Oscar Mariano Amaya Grimaldi were charged with murder, acts of terrorism, and actions in preparation for terrorism.

Private Jorge Alberto Sierra Ascencio was tried in absentia for murder.

Lt. Col. Carlos Camilo Hernandez Barahona was charged with active concealment.

The jury was instructed to reach its verdict on the crimes of murder and acts of terrorism exclusively. The decisions on the other crimes were left to the judge.

Only Col. Guillermo Alfredo Benavides Moreno and Lt. Yusshy Rene Mendoza Vallecillos were convicted of murder. The judge imposed the maximum sentence, 30 years in prison, on both, and they are serving their sentences. The judge also found Col. Benavides and Lt. Mendoza guilty of intent and conspiracy to commit acts of terrorism. Lts. Espinoza and Guevara Cerritos were given sentences of three years in prison for intent and conspiracy to commit acts of terrorism. Lt. Col. Hernandez was also sentenced by the judge to three years in prison for active concealment.

Mendoza Vallecillos was also convicted of this crime. Espinoza, Guevara, and Hernandez were set free and returned to duty in the Armed Forces.

Conclusions

The Truth Commission has come to the following conclusions and recommendations:

1. There is substantial proof that on the night of 15 November 1989, in the presence and in collusion with Gen. Juan Rafael Bustillo, Juan Orlando Zepeda, who was then a colonel; Col. Inocente Orlando Montano; and Col. Francisco Elena Fuentes; Rene Emilio Ponce, who was then a colonel, did give Col. Guillermo Alfredo Benavides the order to assassinate the priest Ignacio Ellacuria, leaving no witnesses. To this end, he arranged for the use of a unit of the Atlacatl Battalion that had been sent to effect a search at the residence of the priests two days earlier.

2. There is full proof that later, all of these officers and others with knowledge of what had occurred took steps to conceal it. There is sufficient evidence that Gen. Gilberto Rubio Rubio, knowing what had happened, took steps to conceal it.

3. There is full proof that:

a. On the night of that same 15 November, Col. Guillermo Alfredo Benavides informed the officers at the Military School of the assassination order he had received. When he asked these officers if any of them disagreed, they all kept silent.

b. The assassination operation was organized by then Maj. Carlos Camilo Hernandez Barahona, and it was carried out by a group of soldiers from the Atlacatl Battalion under the command of Lt. Jose Ricardo Espinoza Guerra and Sublieutenant Gonzalo Guevara Cerritos, accompanied by Lt. Yusshy Rene Mendoza Vallecillos.

4. There is substantial proof that:

a. Col. Oscar Alberto Leon Linares, the commander of the Atlacatl Battalion, knew about the assassination and concealed incriminating evidence.

2. EXTRAJUDICIAL EXECUTIONS

a. SAN FRANCISCO GUAJOYO

CASE SUMMARY

Early in the morning of 29 May 1980, 58 members of the security forces and the 2nd Infantry Brigade arrived at the San Francisco Guajoyo Cooperative in the Belen Guijat Canton, Metapan Jurisdiction, Department of Santa Ana. The cooperative members who lived in the nearby housing were taken from their homes to the central complex of the ranch.

That same morning, the bodies of 12 victims were found, covered with a cloth that said, "killed as traitors." Shortly afterwards, the justice of the peace conducted the required proceedings.

The Commission concludes the following:

1. On 29 May 1980, two employees of the Salvadoran Institute of Agrarian Transformation (ISTA) and 10 members of the San Francisco Guajoyo Cooperative were executed with large-caliber firearms in the central area of the cooperative, after having been dragged out of their homes.
2. The deaths did not occur in an armed confrontation.
3. Troops of the 2nd Infantry Brigade and of the security forces exercising jurisdiction in the Department of Santa Ana were responsible for the killings.
4. The Salvadoran Government is entirely responsible for the execution of the cooperativists, which was a violation of International Humanitarian Law and international human rights law, because it took no action to have the responsible parties identified and punished.

DESCRIPTION OF EVENTS (129)

General Background

Founded in 1977, the San Francisco Guajoyo Cooperative ultimately had about 260 member families. Under the auspices of the organization, a major education and rights campaign was conducted.

The Army and the security forces launched a smear campaign against the cooperativists, whom they accused of being guerrillas. In 1979, they stepped up the threats. The Army patrols came around constantly, and the persecution increased. Most of the cooperativists slept in the woods for fear they would be taken away in the middle of the night.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

The operations were carried out by military troops of the 2nd Brigade and members of the security forces, frequently accompanied by Civil Defense agents. The charges were always alleged ties to the guerrillas, but the cooperativsts felt that the real reason was to prevent them from pressing their demands.

Military Operation

Early in the morning of 29 May 1980, between 50 and 80 troops of the 2nd Infantry Brigade, the National Police, the Treasury Police, and the National Guard (among them some troops responsible for guarding the Guajoyo CEL [Lempa River Hydroelectric Executive Commission]) assembled near the San Francisco Guajoyo Cooperative building.

The military contingent entered the cooperative from two equidistant points, moving toward the stable and the dwellings located around the central complex. They removed the cooperativists from their homes and took them to the central complex of the ranch. The arrests were made on the basis of a list, "although in the end they took anyone they found to the yard of the ranch house."

At the same time, they invaded the cooperative building, capturing three cooperativists who were guarding it. The group that entered the building was led by Adan Figueroa (130) of the Treasury Police, a native of the Tahuilapa Canton known as "Calache" [thingamajig]. The three detainees were taken to the central complex of the ranch. One of the survivors observed "that they already had the other cooperativists lying face down, ready to be killed." They interrogated everyone about where the weapons were hidden and about their identity. A few minutes later the shooting began.

When they realized the operation was going on, primarily because of the noise made by the troops searching the houses, other members fled their homes. One witness stated in his testimony that a member who was guarding the cooperative's tobacco warehouse came to his home to warn him that a military truck had arrived. He was able to hide in time, but he heard the shots and "the wailing and suffering" of the detainees.

Executions

Twelve people were executed. According to the record made by the 2nd Justice Court of Metapan, the bodies were found in the central area of the ranch complex. In the yard of the ranch house were found seven bodies about a half-meter apart from each other. The other five bodies were scattered a short distance from them.

According to the forensic examination, all of the injuries were made by large-caliber weapons.

People who apparently were not on the list were executed, as was the case of Jose Angel Mira, a mentally ill man who was captured. When his father asked them to let him go, the officer told him to lie down beside his son so that they could die together. And that is what happened.

The cooperativists who had fled to the woods returned after the attack and discovered the bodies. At the foot of the bodies was a cloth that said, "killed as traitors." According to the witnesses who testified, this was the usual practice of the combined forces; its purpose was to create confusion about who had perpetrated the act.

Public Reports

The next day, the press reported that a guerrilla encampment had been found in an area near Metapan, "hours after alleged leftist guerrillas had killed 12 peasants, members of a cooperative that was working a ranch seized under the Agrarian Reform program, in the area where the discovery was made." The article said that "the Information Committee of the Armed Forces told ACAN-EFE that some 30 guerrillas fought a battle with the National Guard troops who discovered the camp. There were no casualties in the clash, said the source, although he did not specify the number of victims among the leftists, either.

Another report, titled "12 Killed at Ranch in Subversive Assault," stated that an armed clash had left 12 dead, "most of them peasants, and two employees of the ISTA were wounded at the San Francisco Ranch in the jurisdiction of Metapan." It also noted that military forces had been deployed: "Men wearing olive green uniforms arrived at the ranch in Guajoyo, in the canton of La Joya, jurisdiction of Metapan."

Judicial Branch Action

On the morning of the executions, the justice of the peace with jurisdiction in that area, his clerk, and two coroners went to the cooperative to carry out the necessary legal proceedings. The main points of the record drawn up there are:

a. Twelve people were executed with firearms in the early morning hours of that day;

b. Witnesses blamed a group of individuals wearing olive green uniforms and accompanied by civilians, who dragged the victims out of their homes;

c. According to the forensic investigation, several of the victims had been shot in the back, and several of the bodies showed signs of having been shot at close range.(131) The forensic report also indicated that it was not possible to determine the location of the entry and exit wounds.(132) It noted that several of the victims were half-dressed and barefoot.

At the conclusion of the summary proceeding, the judge turned over the file to the regular court so that the necessary judicial investigation could be carried out. That court did not conduct any further proceedings, and the case was shelved.

CONCLUSIONS

The Commission reaches the following conclusions:

1. There is clear evidence that on 29 May 1980, two employees of the Salvadoran Institute of Agrarian Transformation (ISTA) and 10 members of the San Francisco Guajoyo Cooperative were executed with large-caliber firearms in the central complex of the cooperative, after having been removed from their homes.

2. There is sufficient evidence to find that the troops of the 2nd Infantry Brigade and the members of the security forces exercising jurisdiction in the Department of Santa Ana were responsible for the incident.

3. The Salvadoran Government is entirely responsible for the execution of the cooperativists, which was a violation of International Humanitarian Law and international human rights law, because it took no action to have the responsible parties identified and punished.

b. THE LEADERS OF THE REVOLUTIONARY DEMOCRATIC FRONT

CASE SUMMARY

On 27 November 1980, Enrique Alvarez Cordoba, (133) Juan Chacon, (134) Enrique Escobar Barrera, (135) Manuel de Jesus Franco Ramirez, (136) Humberto Mendoza, (137) and Doroteo Hernandez (138) were kidnapped, tortured, and after a brief incarceration, executed in San Salvador. They were political leaders of the Revolutionary Democratic Front (FDR) and represented a major segment of Salvadoran society.

They were kidnapped in the morning at the San Jose Day School by a large number of heavily armed men.

Because of the climate of violence and danger that prevailed at that time in the country, these events would have been just one more item on a long list of atrocities that were going on if it had not been for the prominence of the victims, the time and place of the kidnapping, the type of operation that was carried out, and the social outrage that ensued.

The Truth Commission concludes that the action was carried out by one or more public security forces, and that the Treasury Police conducted the external security operation that aided and provided cover for the perpetrators. The government, by both act and omission (because it did not duly investigate the case), has failed to meet its obligations under international human rights law to protect people and guarantee them the most basic individual rights.

DESCRIPTION OF THE EVENTS

The six victims were kidnapped at the San Jose Day School, an institution run by the Company of Jesus in the heart of San Salvador, between 0930 and 1100 on 27 November 1980.

Other educational institutions and several hospitals are located near the school, and to the north is the former headquarters of the U.S. Embassy, which was under heavy guard.

On the ground floor of the school was the rector's office, the administrative office, and the Archbishopric Legal Aid office. The latter had been operating since 1975, when the school began focusing its efforts on helping the needy.

The activities of the Legal Aid office had increased considerably, because in addition to the normal flow of people coming in to seek help, other entities engaged in similar efforts had closed their doors because of the prevailing climate of terror. (140)

Despite the number of peole coming in and out of the school, there was no security system on campus. There were just a few unarmed doormen at the main entrance to the complex. That morning there was just one doorman at the main entrance.

The Events

The events occurred between 0930 and 1100. First, an undetermined number of men captured the school doorman. They took him about 500 meters from the entrance and radioed others that "you can go in."

They opened the gate and let in several vehicles containing personnel armed with machine guns and G3 rifles.(141) The group went quickly to the front door of the main building and had all the people line up against the wall. They were then ordered to lie down on the ground and close their eyes. Guards were posted at the entrances to the school, and anyone who came near was subject to the same treatment. Contemporary reports concerning the total number of men participating in the operation ranged from 13 to 200 individuals. (142) According to the information gathered, it was obvious that the reason the bodies were thrown right away onto a

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

public street in full view of passersby was to make identification easy and to reduce political pressure in the matter.

The first four bodies and that of Alvarez Cordoba were found on the outskirts of the resort town of Apulo in the jurisdiction of Ilopango, approximately an hour's drive from San Salvador. The justice of the peace from Ilopango conducted the legal investigation and opened a file, which was then sent to the 4th Criminal Court in San Salvador.

The Commission did not find that any judicial, police, or administrative appeals or claims were filed to preserve the physical integrity of the kidnap victims. It believes that the reason was the people's great fear and mistrust of the court system.

The case file examined by the Commission clearly shows that the agency in charge did not investigate the case properly. Finally, it was shelved on 8 October 1982. In fact, only a bureaucratic procedure was carried out; there was no autopsy or any other proceeding to shed light on the facts and identify the culprits. (143)

After the news was released, there was a flurry of communiques charging that the kidnapping had been carried out by the security forces, or that the death squads had done it without the direct participation of government forces. The possibility that the action had been perpetrated by leftist groups was also broached. (144) The Government Junta requested that the physical and moral integrity of the kidnap victims be kept intact. (145)

In the political sphere, the kidnapping of the opposition leaders closed the door to negotiation and favored those advocating armed confrontation with the third Revolutionary Government Junta. It is worth recalling that on the same day that these events took place, former Foreign Minister Fidel Chavez Mena was in Washington, D.C. at the General Assembly of the Organization of American States (OAS), talking to church leaders and opposition officials to try to negotiate an end to the crisis. (146)

The Government Junta (JRG) promised to conduct an exhaustive investigation of the case and emphatically denied that the security forces under its command were involved. The investigations that were carried out were a mere formality. For example, even though a large number of people were present at the scene of the crime, only four were interviewed. The Commission requested the file from the National Police, but it was not released. (147)

There was a great public outcry about the case, which prompted the Armed Forces and the President's Office to interview some of the eyewitnesses. All of the country's political sectors started pointing their fingers, blaming others for the assassinations.

The FDR turned the funeral into a political event, at which the new party leadership was introduced. It contended that the assassins were paramilitary groups who had at least the complicity of the security forces. (148)

From all the evidence gathered by the Commission, it is clear that the action was aimed at arresting the leaders of the FDR. It does not seem possible that the operation and its outcome could have been a matter of chance or something done for a different purpose. The way the men who carried out the operation moved around in the building and on the campus leaves no room for doubt that this operation was specifically intended for the capture of the leaders.

The hypotheses that have been considered suggest that the action was carried out by paramilitary groups or security forces, or both together, and even that it was an individual action by members of these state agencies.

For example, the General Maximiliano Hernandez Martinez Anticommunist Brigade was blamed for the multiple assassinations. This group has been identified as one of many used by the extreme right wing to carry out such actions. One witness told the Commission that when the incident took place, active military personnel were present.

In the Commission's view, the nature of the operation suggests that although there may not have been unified planning by some security forces, the cover provided for the crime was centralized. Without such cover, the operation would have been extremely risky or difficult to carry out. At any rate, it is unlikely that the deployment involved in the operation would have been possible without at least the complicity of the security agencies, which were also monitoring closely the political leaders and the school itself, because of the activities that were going on there.

In fact, the time and place, the number of troops, the radio equipment, vehicles, weaponry, and uniforms used, the slang and the chain of command, the smooth retreat, and the lack of an adequate investigation by the security forces themselves, all indicate the extent to which they were involved.

Furthermore, diplomatic reports indicated that it was publicly known that the security agencies had perpetrated the crime, with the Treasury Police possibly figuring among them. Several witness statements point in that direction. The Commission has substantial evidence to suggest that the Treasury Police carried out the operation to secure the outer perimeter of the school. The Commission summoned several officers who had held positions of responsibility in that body at the time.

DRAFT

The few who appeared denied emphatically any involvement in the incident.

Another report received by the Commission regarding the activities of the security and intelligence forces indicates that the National Guard carried out the operation, independently of the Staff.

As has already been indicated, in any event the Commission cannot accept the notion that the operation took place without the cooperation of high-ranking officers in one or more of the security forces, which at that time were commanded by military officers.

According to the available information, it is difficult to determine whether this operation was planned at the highest level of the Armed Forces, or on the contrary, whether it was carried out at the level of mid-ranking officers of the security forces, presenting situations that would be difficult to reverse.

Finally, the Commission tried in vain to determine who had given the order to kill the victims, whether it was part of the initial plan or was decided afterwards. Given the violent conditions prevailing at the time, it is clear that an operation of this sort necessarily entailed a high probability that the kidnap victims would be killed.

The Commission received reliable information that the highest echelons of the right wing were consulted regarding the final execution order. It is said that there were phone calls between the executors and planners of the assassination. The latter, according to the testimony, had apparently decided to proceed as quickly as possible to reduce the political pressure that was coming down as a result of the kidnapping.

CONCLUSIONS

The Commission concludes the following:

1. The kidnapping, torture, and subsequent assassination of the political and union leaders was an incident that caused a great outcry nationally and internationally, and closed off all possibility of a negotiated end to the political crisis in late 1980. It was a very serious tragedy that merited the most thorough possible investigation by the Truth Commission.

2. It is not possible to determine precisely which public security agency perpetrated these criminal operations. Nevertheless, the Commission believes that there is sufficient evidence to indicate that a combination of government agencies were responsible for this incident, in violation of international human rights law.

3. The Commission has substantial evidence that the Treasury Police carried out the external security operation that facilitated and provided cover for the perpetrators of the assassination.

FOOTNOTES

129. The Commission received testimony from survivors and eyewitnesses. The statements are consistent with each other in terms of the description of the circumstances and the assignment of responsibility. In addition, the relevant documentation has been reviewed. The court record and the forensic investigation make it possible to assert that the events took place.

The Belen Guijat canton is under the military jurisdiction of the 2nd Military Brigade, commanded by Colonel Servio Tulio Figueroa in 1980. The Commission subpoenaed that officer through the Defense Ministry, and all it received was an untimely response that he was retired. It also requested information from the Defense Ministry on the military operations carried out during the period in question and in the jurisdiction where the incident occurred, and no response was received. Repeated requests for the names of the commanding officers of the security forces in Santa Ana and for a list of the military operations carried out in Metapan in May 1980 have gone unanswered by the Defense Ministry.

Another request submitted to the current commander of the 2nd Infantry Brigade was ignored. A visit to brigade headquarters to review the records was futile. In general, military authorities did not cooperate in the investigation of this case.

130. According to the testimony, he died a few years after the incident.

131. The autopsy reports expressly state that several of the bodies showed what is known as "tattooing." The forensic interpretation of this type of wound refers to the gray ring around the wound resulting from firing at close range (less than 30 centimeters). This gray ring is produced by the deflagration of the gunpowder when the bullet is fired. The result is an indelible mark left on the victim's skin. In other words, the gunshot "burns his skin."

132. Usually it is easy to identify the entry and exit wounds in persons killed by gunshots, because the dimensions and characteristics of the two are very different. Thus, the logical interpretation of the inability to describe the event forensically is that the victim was fired upon at such close range and with such a large-caliber weapon that it literally destroyed the victim's body.

138. Doroteo Hernandez, journalist and leader of the Slum Dwellers Union (UPT). At the time he was not identified as a leader of the FDR, but the document sent to the Truth Commission by the Human Rights Institute of the Central American University (UCA)-Christian Legal Aid indicates that he was a leader of the organization.

139. The Revolutionary Democratic Front (FDR) was founded on 18 April 1980 as a result of a political accord between the Democratic Front (FD) and the Revolutionary Coordinator of the Masses (CRM). It was formally launched on 18 April 1980 by various political, popular, and mass organizations.

Several of its leaders had held prominent government positions in the First Revolutionary Junta that overthrew General Romero on 15 October 1979. On that date, the FDR leadership consisted of the five victims plus Leoncio Pichinte and Mr. Juan Jose Mastel.

2C. American Nuns

Summary of the Case

On 2 December 1980, members of the Salvadoran National Guard arrested four nuns after they had left the international airport. The nuns, Ita Ford, Maura Clarke, Dorothy Kazel, and Jean Donovan, were taken to an isolated spot, and were then executed, by shooting at close range.

In 1984, Subsergeant Luis Antonio Colindres Aleman and the National Guard members, Daniel Canales Ramirez, Carlos Joaquin Contreras Palacios, Francisco Orlando Contreras Recinos, and Jose Roberto Moreno Canjura, were sentenced to 30 years in prison for assassination.

The Truth Commission concluded that:

1. The arrest and execution of the nuns were planned in advance of their arrival at the airport. Subsergeant Luis Antonio Colindres Aleman obeyed the orders from his superiors to execute them.

2. The then Colonel Carlos Eugenio Vides Casanova, General Director of the National Guard; Lt. Colonel Oscar Edgardo Casanova Vejar, commander of the Zacatecoluca military detachment; Colonel Roberto Monterrosa, Major Lizandro Zepeda Velasco, and Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez, among other military personnel, knew that National Guard members had committed the assassinations under orders from their superiors. The subsequent concealment of the facts had the effect of harming the judicial investigation process.

3. The then Defense Minister, General Jose Guillermo Garcia, made no serious effort to investigate thoroughly those guilty of the assassinations.

4. The cantonal commissioner, Jose Dolores Melendez, also knew of the executions committed by members of the security corps, and concealed them.

5. The state of El Salvador failed in its responsibility to investigate the facts thoroughly, to find those guilty, and to punish them according to law, and the stipulations of international law on human rights.

Description of the Incidents (149)

The Assassinations

On 2 December 1980, immediately after 1900 hours, members of the Salvadoran National Gaurd arrested four nuns upon their departure from the Comalapa international airport. The nuns, Ita Ford, Maura Clarke, Dorothy Kazel, and Jean Donovan, were taken to an isolated spot, and were killed there, with shots fired at close range.

Two of the four nuns killed, Ita Ford and Maura Clarke, worked in Chalatenango, and were returning from Nicaragua. The other two had come from La Libertad to pick them up at the airport.

The arrests had been planned in advance. Approximately two hours before the nuns' arrival, the National Guard Subsergeant, Luis Antonio Colindres Aleman, notified five of his subordinates that they were to arrest some individuals arriving from Nicaragua.

Colindres then went to the San Luis Talpa post to advise the Commander not to pay attention if he heard any disturbing noise, because it would be the result of an operation that Colindres and his group were to conduct.

Special Project (1995)

When the members of the security corps took the nuns to a remote location, Colindres returned to his post near the airport. Upon returning to the site where they had taken the nuns, he told them that he had received the order to assassinate the nuns.

The Investigation

1. The Burial

The next morning, 3 December, the bodies were discovered on the road. When the justice of the peace arrived, he immediately decided to have them buried, as he had been instructed by the cantonal commissioner, Jose Dolores Melendez. Hence, local residents buried the nuns' bodies in that vicinity.

The U.S. Ambassador, Robert White, learned the whereabouts of the nuns' bodies on 4 December. As a result of his action, and when permission had been obtained from the justice of the peace, the corpses were removed and taken to San Salvador. There, a group of forensic physicians declined to perform the autopsies, claiming to lack surgical masks.

2. The Rogers-Bowdler Mission

Between 6 and 9 December 1980, a special mission arrived in San Salvador, headed by the Messrs. William D. Rogers, an official in ex-President Gerald Ford's administration, and William G. Bowdler, a State Department official.

They found no direct proof of the crime, nor evidence implicating the Salvadoran authorities. They concluded that the operation involved the concealment of the deaths (150). They also encouraged the FBI to play an active role in the investigation (151).

3. The Monterrosa Commission and the Zepeda Investigation

The government junta put Colonel Roberto Monterrosa in charge of an official investigating commission. Colonel Carlos Eugenio Vides Casanova, Director of the National Guard, in turn, assigned another investigation to Major Lizandro Zepeda. (152) Neither took the case seriously, nor attempted to solve it. Later, Judge Harold R. Tyler, Jr., appointed by the U.S. Secretary of State, conducted a third investigation. The latter concluded that the purpose of the two previous ones was to leave a written precedent that would give grounds for the innocence of the Salvadoran security forces (153) in the incident.

a. The Monterrosa Commission

Colonel Monterrosa admitted that his commission had rejected the possibility that security forces might have taken part in the crime. In fact, acknowledging it would have created serious difficulties for the Armed Forces.

Monterrosa actually withheld the evidence incriminating Colindres. In February 1981, he sent to the U.S. Embassy the fingerprints of three out of four National Guard members from whom the commission had taken statements. Nevertheless, none of them appeared to be involved in the assassinations. Colonel Monterrosa failed to provide the prints of the fourth man, Colindres, from whom testimony also had been taken. Thus, Judge Tyler concluded that Colonel Monterrosa had not turned over Colindres' prints because he knew, from Major Zepeda's account, that Colindres was responsible for the executions (154).

DRAFT

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

b. The Zepeda Investigation

Major Zepeda reported that there was no evidence that National Guard members had committed the executions of the nuns (155). According to the testimony, Major Zepeda had personally undertaken to conceal those responsible for the assassinations, by ordering them to exchange their rifles so as not to be detected, and to remain faithful to their institution by remaining silent about the incidents.

There is also sufficient evidence that Major Zepeda reported his activities to his superior, Vides Casanova (156).

4. Resolution of the Case

In April 1981 (157), the United States Embassy supplied the Salvadoran authorities with the evidence incriminating Colindres and his men. In any case, despite the existence of proof against Colindres, such as his fingerprints on the nuns' van, neither he nor his subordinates were found guilty of any crime (158).

In December 1981, Colonel Vides Casanova named Major Jose Adolfo Medrano to conduct a new investigation. In February 1982, one of those implicated confessed his guilt, and named the others involved, including Colindres. All of them were accused of the nuns' deaths.

On 10 February, President Duarte, in a televised message, announced that the case had been resolved. He also reported that Colindres and his men had acted on their own, and that, therefore, they had no orders from superiors. He concluded by stating that the government had the moral conviction that the accused were guilty (159).

The Judicial Process

1. The Judicial Investigation

The judicial investigation made no substantial progress beyond what had been accomplished by Medrano's task force. Nevertheless, in an FBI interview, Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez, then Colindres' immediate superior, admitted having been informed by Colindres himself of the nuns' assassination, and of his direct participation in it. On that occasion, Martinez warned Colindres not to say anything unless his superiors questioned him. Martinez also claimed to have had no knowledge of the existence of orders from superiors (160).

2. The Judgment

On 23 and 24 May 1984, members of the National Guard were found guilty of the nuns' executions, and sentenced to 30 years in prison (161).

For the first time in Salvadoran history, a member of the Armed Forces was found guilty of assassination by a judge (162). Despite the ambiguous statements of some of its official representatives (163), the United States Government made ts economic and military aid contingent on the resolution of the case, as npensation (164).

The Participation of High-Ranking Officials

Although the Tyler Report concluded, in 1983, that, "...based on the existing evidence" (165), there was no participation by superior officers, the Commission

DRAFT

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

is of the opinion that there is sufficient proof showing that Colindres acted according to orders from superiors.

There is also substantial evidence that Lt. Colonel Oscar Edgardo Casanova Vejar, Commander of the Zacatecoluca detachment, was in charge of the National Guard at the national airport when the nuns' assassination occurred.

General Vides Casanova and Colonel Casanova Vejar have denied any personal intervention in the capture and execution, or in the subsequent concealment of the crime. Nevertheless, there is sufficient evidence showing that both General Vides Casanova and Colonel Casanova Vejar knew that members of the National Guard had assassinated the nuns, and that their action in obstructing evidence had an effect on the judicial investigation.

Cooperation With the Truth Commission

Since October 1992, the first judge of criminal proceedings in Zacatecoluca, Mr. Pleitus Lemus, refused on several occasions to collaborate with the Truth Commission, refusing to provide the evidence and complete judicial records on the case. He furnished only an abbreviated account, not including the testimony and other critical evidence on the possible participation of superior officers (166) in the case.

It was only after much insistence that the Truth Commission, on 8 January 1993, finally obtained all the case records from the Supreme Court, barely a week before its term expired.

Conclusions

The Truth Commission concludes that:

1. There is sufficient evidence that:

a) The arrests of the nuns at the airport were planned before their arrival.

b) Subsergeant Luis Antonio Colindres Aleman received and obeyed orders from his superiors when he arrested and executed the four nuns.

2. There is substantial evidence that:

a) The then Colonel Carlos Eugenio Vides Casanova, Director of the National Guard; Lt. Colonel Oscar Edgardo Casanova Vejar, Commander of the Zacatecoluca military detachment; Colonel Roberto Monterrosa, Major Lizandro Zepeda Velasco, and Sergeant Dagoberto Martinez, among other officers, knew that members of the National Guard had committed the assassinations and, by their action, had facilitated the concealment of the facts, obstructing the respective judicial investigation.

b) The then Defense Minister, General Jose Guillermo Garcia, made no serious effort to investigate thoroughly those responsible for the nuns' assassination.

c) The cantonal commissioner, Jose Dolores Melendez, also knew and concealed the members of the security corps who committed the assassinations.

3) The state of El Salvador failed to meet its obligation, stipulated in the international law on human rights, whereby it was obliged to investigate the case, to judge those responsible, who had ordered and carried out the executions, and finally, to give compensation to the victims.

149. The Truth Commission interviewed eyewitnesses and persons present on the scene, diplomats, high-ranking commanders of the National Guard and the Armed Forces, members of the Maryknoll Order, relatives of the victims, attorneys for the defendants and the nuns, and a member of the court hearing the case. The judicial records were also reviewed, and an analysis was made of both government

D. El Junquillo

Summary of the Case

On 3 March 1981, a military operation was carried out in the northern region of the Department of Morazan. Units led by Captain Carlos Napoleon Medina Garay arrived in El Junquillo and remained there for 8 to 12 days. When it came time to leave, Captain Medina Garay ordered the execution of the civilian population in the canton of El Junquillo.

On 12 March 1981, soldiers and members of the Cacaopera Civil Defense attacked the population, which was comprised solely of women, small children, and old people. They killed the inhabitants and raped a number of women and girls under the age of 12. They burned the houses, cornfields, and granaries.

The Commission concludes that:

1--On 12 March 1981, units from the Sonsonate Military Detachment and members of the Cacaopera Civil Defense indiscriminately attacked and summarily executed the men, women, and children of the canton of El Junquillo in the jurisdiction of Cacaopera in the Department of Morazan.

2--Captain Carlos Napoleon Medina Garay ordered the execution of the inhabitants of the canton of El Junquillo.

3--Colonel Alejandro Cisneros, commanding officer in charge of the operation carried out in March 1981 in the northern region of Morazan and involving units from Sonsonate Military Detachment No. 6 led by Captain Medina Garay, failed in his obligation to investigate whether troops under his command executed members of the civilian population in the canton of El Junquillo.

4--The government and administration of justice of El Salvador instituted no investigation into the matter. Consequently, the government failed in its duty under international law governing human rights to investigate, try, and punish those responsible and compensate the victims or their families.

5--The minister of defense and public security, General Rene Emilio Ponce, is responsible for not providing this Commission with information concerning the military operation carried out in the area of the canton of El Junquillo and therefore failed in his duty to cooperate with the Truth Commission, the government pledged to do by signing the Peace Accords. He therefore prevented the identification of other soldiers who participated in the massacre.

Description of Events (167)

The massacre: On 3 March 1981, a military operation was undertaken in the northern region of Morazan, led by Colonel Alejandro Cisneros. In the course of the operation, soldiers from the Sonsonate Military Detachment under Captain Carlos Napoleon Medina Garay proceeded to El Junquillo.

The unit camped in the area of El Junquillo and remained there for 8 to 12 days. When the unit was about to move on to another destination, testimony indicates that Captain Medina Garay ordered another officer to carry out the mission that had been agreed upon before leaving the hamlet.

On the night of 11 March 1981, the soldiers occupied the hills surrounding the canton of El Junquillo. On the following day, they pounded the canton of El Junquillo with mortar fire for 15 minutes. After the shelling, a large number of soldiers arrived in the canton and headed for the houses.

According to the testimony, soldiers and members of the Civil Defense proceeded to kill the following inhabitants: Francisca Diaz, her daughters Juana and Santana Diaz, and 9 children, all under the age of 10; Guillerma Diaz and her 13-year-old daughter Maria Santos Diaz and 5 children under the age of 12;

Doroteo Chicas Diaz, his wife and 1-day-old baby boy, and 7 children under the age of 10; Eulalio Chicas, his wife, and 3 children; Rosa Otilia Diaz, her daughter-in-law Maria Argentina Chicas Chicas, and the children found there; Santos Majin Chicas, his wife and daughters, Lencha, 12, and Gertrudis, 9; Transito Chicas, 58, and Filomena Chicas, 68; Luciano Argueta, his wife Ufemia Sanchez, and 2 sons under the age of 7; an 80-year-old man, Leopoldo Chicas, and Esteban and Vicente Argueta, both over 70; Petronila and 2 sons under the age of 11. Some bodies had a bullet wound in the back of the head and some of the children's bodies had stab wounds in the chest and a bullet hole in the back of the head. Some of the bodies had been burned. According to the testimony, some of the women and girls had been raped.

The soldiers and members of the Civil Defense burned the houses in the hamlet, the cornfields, and the granaries. They stole part of the corn that the farmers had stored and killed some livestock.

The survivors fled. The following day, a peasant returned to see what had happened. In Doroteo Chicas' house, he saw that Chicas' children had been murdered. The soldiers noticed him and fired shots in his direction. He fled and hid in the mountains. One survivor of the massacre went to the canton to try to bury the victims, but since the soldiers were still occupying the canton, he was forced to hide once again.

The survivors remained hidden in the mountains for several days. One of them found the remains of several persons. The survivors dug several common graves and buried the remains.

One survivor went to a guerrilla camp in La Guacamaya, where a priest heard his tale and took care of him.

There was a total lack of official investigations.

Learning of the victims' accounts, the FMLN reported the massacre on Radio Venceremos and put out several announcements and press bulletins.

Despite such reports, the government, Armed Forces, and Judicial Branch of El Salvador never instituted any investigation into the matter.

Conclusions

The Commission concludes that:

1--There is substantial evidence that on 12 March 1981, units from the Sonsonate Military Detachment and members of the Cacaopera Civil Defense indiscriminately attacked and summarily executed men, women, and children in the canton of El Junquillo in the jurisdiction of Cacaopera in the Department of Morazan.

2--There is substantial evidence that Captain Carlos Napoleon Medina Garay ordered the execution of the inhabitants of the canton of El Junquillo.

3--There is sufficient evidence that Colonel Alejandro Cisneros, the military officer in charge of the operation carried out in March 1981 in the northern region of Morazan involving units of Sonsonate Military Detachment No 6 commanded by Captain Medina Garay, failed in his obligation to investigate whether troops under his command executed members of the civilian population of the canton of El Junquillo.

4--There is full evidence that the government, Armed Forces, and Judicial [illegible]nch of El Salvador did not institute investigations into the matter. The [illegible]ernment therefore failed in its duty under international law governing human [illegible]ights to investigate, try, and punish those responsible and compensate the victims or their families.

operation conducted in the area of the canton of El Junquillo, thus failing in his duty to cooperate with the Truth Commission as the government pledged to do by signing the Peace Accords and preventing the identification of other soldiers who participated in the massacre.

E. The Dutch Journalists

Summary of the Case

On the afternoon of 17 March 1982, four Dutch journalists, accompanied by five or six members of the FMLN, some of them armed, fell into an ambush laid by a patrol of the Atonal Battalion of the Salvadoran Armed Forces as they were heading for territory controlled by the FMLN. The incident occurred a short distance from the San Salvador-Chalatenango Highway in the vicinity of the turnoff to Santa Rita. The four journalists died in the confrontation and only one member of the FMLN survived.

Having analyzed the elements of evidence available, the Truth Commission has reached the conclusion that the ambush was deliberately laid in order to surprise and kill the newsmen and those accompanying them, that the decision to ambush them was made by Colonel Mario A. Reyes Mena, commanding officer of the 4th Infantry Brigade, with the knowledge of other officers, that there was no major confrontation preceding or simultaneous with the shootout that ended in the deaths of the newsmen, and finally, that the officer named and other soldiers concealed the truth and obstructed the legal investigation.

Description of Events

Preceding days: The elections for the 1982 Constituent Assembly attracted a large number of foreign journalists to El Salvador. Information on the national political situation roused the interest of international public opinion.(168)

The situation in the country at the time was one of widespread violence. Several newsmen had been threatened, presumably by death squads, and there were accusations that the information they reported was biased toward the guerrillas.

In March 1982, Dutch newsman Koos Jacobus Andries Koster was in El Salvador to do a report on the political and military situation in the country for the Netherlands television corporation IKON.(169) Producer-writer Jan Cornelius Kuiper Joop, sound technician Hans Lodewijk ter Laag, and cameraman Johannes Jan Willemsen, all Dutch, had come from Holland for that specific purpose.

The team was headed by Koster, who knew the country's political situation, spoke Spanish, and had the necessary contacts because he had been working in Latin America for years.(170)

In 1980, Koster had done a report on the Civil Defense units and death squads that was an international sensation. The government considered the report biased toward the FMLN.

The new report they planned would cover the situation in San Salvador and that of certain zones controlled by the FMLN. According to diplomatic sources, it was "general knowledge" that the Dutch newsmen were doing a report biased toward the guerrillas, similar to the 1980 piece.

On 7 March, they visited the Mariona jail in San Salvador in order to interview and film prisoners accused of belonging to the guerrilla forces. On that occasion, as part of a cultural event, one of the leaders expressed thanks for the journalists' support for political prisoners in El Salvador. The videos taken showed the prisoners' scars which they said resulted from the torture to which they had been subjected.(171)

DRAFT

In order to make the first contact with the FMLN, Koster met with one of its members. Koster gave him a piece of paper with his name, nationality, and the place where he could be contacted. After the meeting, the guerrilla soldier was followed by several men and when he jumped over a fence to escape, reportedly dropped his ID card next to which he had put the slip of paper.

During that period of time, according to his own statement, Colonel Francisco Antonio Moran, general director of the Treasury Police, received a report from the commanding officer of the Usulutan Military Detachment (172) indicating that a piece of paper had been found in the clothing on the body of a terrorist (173) with the following notation: "Contact with Koos Koster at the Alameda Hotel, Room 418, Telephone No 239999, Dutch." Colonel Moran therefore issued an order that Koster was to be brought to the General Directorate of the Treasury Police for questioning.(174)

At about 0600 hours on 11 March 1982, officers of the Treasury Police in civilian dress took Koster and the other three journalists to Colonel Moran's office.(175) Colonel Moran asked him about the piece of paper that had been found. Koster denied knowing any terrorists in the country and explained that the information referring to him could have been supplied by another newsman.(176) Before releasing the newsmen (177), Colonel Moran recommended that Koster be very careful because the terrorists knew he was in the country.(178)

On the following day, 12 March, Koster's photo appeared in the newspaper along with that of the other three journalists and a bulletin from COPREFA that was a transcription of the interrogation. The title of the article was "Foreign Newsman Is Terrorists' Contact," and the photo caption stated that Koster "had been summoned to make a statement to Treasury Police because part of his personal documents had been found on terrorist Jorge Luis Mendez, along with a piece of paper identifying the foreigner as a "contact".(179)

That same day, Dutch journalist Jan Pierre Lucien Schmeitz, who also worked for IKON, had arrived in the country to cover the election. Journalists of other nationalities informed him that Koster had been arrested and taken to the General Directorate of the Treasury Police and that the other three Dutch newsmen had accompanied him.

On the night of 12 March, the four newsmen met with Schmeitz. The latter, whose work in El Salvador went as far back as 1977, advised them to be very careful about the possible consequences of the interrogation by Colonel Moran. In spite of it all, they decided to continue their work.(180) Koster's contacts also urged him to leave the country for a time, but he nevertheless refused to cut his trip short because of the report.

On Monday, 15 March (181), Schmeitz loaned them the minivan that he was driving, but did not offer to drive it. On Tuesday, 16 March, Armin Friedrich Wertz, an independent newsman of German nationality, agreed to drive for $100. That day, Koster had another meeting with members of the FMLN at which it was agreed that they would leave the following day, 17 March. In addition to the previous contacts, the meeting was attended by "Commander Oscar," a member of the FDR [Revolutionary Democratic Front]/FMLN staff of Chalatenango, who was to travel with them and who could act as an interpreter because of his knowledge of English.

On the night of 16 March, the newsmen discovered that their rooms had been searched.

The trip to Chalatenango: On the morning of Wednesday, the 17th, they picked up Schmeitz' minivan that had PRESS-TV written in big letters on both sides, as is the custom in El Salvador. That afternoon, the four newsmen met Wertz and went to a restaurant parking lot, where they met Commander Oscar from the FPL (People's Liberation Forces). A boy named Ruben, who was 12 to 15 years old, would act as a guide and was the only one who knew where the meeting would take place.

At about 3:00 in the afternoon, they left San Salvador for Chalatenango, going through the city of Aguilares.(182)

A few kilometers before they reached the El Paraiso barracks, Wertz noticed in his rearview mirror that a dark brown Cherokee Chief pickup truck with polarized windows seemed to be following them. He says that even when he reduced his speed, it did not pass him and that when he speeded up, he could not lose it. They continued on until about kilometer marker 65 on the Chalatenango highway, where they were to take the cutoff to Santa Rita. About a kilometer before reaching that road, the Cherokee disappeared from view.(183)

When they had gone about a kilometer after the turnoff, they spotted another group of persons. Ruben immediately got out of the minibus and signaled to them.(184) It was the contacts who were waiting for them.

According to Wertz, the four individuals making up the escort group were on one side of the dirt road on a lower level separated from them by a barbed wire fence. One of them was carrying a rifle, probably a member of the FAL [Armed Forces of Liberation], while another had a pistol and the third a kind of carbine. The fourth man was not armed. According to the statement made by Martin (185), who was in charge of the operation and who had an M-1 rifle, he went to the meeting with the newsmen with two more men: Carlos, armed with an M-16, and Tello, who had a 9-mm pistol.

After they approached the vehicle, Wertz talked with Martin and the two reportedly agreed that he would return to pick up the group at 0800 hours on Sunday, 21 March.(186) The journalists unloaded their equipment and at about 5:10 in the afternoon, started down a path that went through a ravine opposite a hill.

Wertz says he then returned to San Salvador with the radio blaring and that he never saw any soldiers or heard any shots along the way.(187)

The ambush: According to Martin, on 14 March 1982, he received the order from the commando to go meet the group. He knew Commander Oscar and Ruben. As for the rest, he knew they were foreign journalists. He picked seven men and left the base camp at 4:00 in the afternoon on the following day, 15 March.

At about 0500 hours on the morning of 17 March, the escort reportedly reached a shelter located 2 km from the contact point. Two men came out to reconnoitre the terrain over a radius of 1 km but observed nothing out of the ordinary.

Martin has stated that he had never before had any problems (189) on that road. In contrast, Colonel Mario A. Reyes Mena has stated that the Army had information that the road was used to supply nearby guerrilla camps. During the trial, Commander Miguel Castellanos, former member of the FMLN, said the road was known to the Army.(190)

When the escort reached the appointed place, the newsmen put on their backpacks and took the rest of their equipment in order to enter the area.

According to Martin's account, the group moved forward in a long single column with intervals of about 4 meters between the men. Commander Oscar led the way, followed by Ruben, who walked with the newsmen, and Carlos stayed in the rear with his M-16.(191) When they had gone about 250 meters, the group came under heavy fire from an M-16 and an M-60 machine gun from two hills about 100 meters away. Martin saw two of the journalists go down. They had been hit by the first bullets and never moved again.(192) He reportedly ran back toward the road, dodging the soldiers' bullets, finally reached the barbed wire fence, crossed it, and escaped.

Most of Martin's account was confirmed by the statement by Sergeant Mario Canizales Espinoza, who headed the military patrol that anbushed them.(194) The sergeant adds that he was able to see that several of the men in the group were carrying equipment and that they were taller than the average Salvadoran. However, it did not occur to him at the time that they might be foreigners and he assumed they were armed. He also adds that toward the end of the shootout, he saw that two of the taller men ran down the hill trying to flee to the riverbed. From a distance of about 25 meters, he fired on them with his M-16 and killed them both. He says in his statements that he could not tell whether these persons were armed.(195)

The statements made by the sergeant and the other troops differ in some details from those of Martin and from each other. They claim the firing was started by FMLN guerrillas from a hill and say the shootout with the group of newsmen and their escort was part of a larger skirmish involving a second group of FMLN elements. As stated below, these claims do not appear to be true.

Origin of the patrol

According to statements by Sergeant Mario Canizales Espinoza, the patrol he headed was made up of 25 soldiers and had been sent to inspect the zone because of information that it served as a guerrilla supply route. According to him, his men were ambushed because they had seen a small group of armed guerrillas go by near the Santa Rita turnoff, just before the meeting, and he decided to surprise them when they returned. He denies having previous knowledge that a specific group would go by on this road or that it would include foreign journalists.(196)

This version is in essence the same as the one that appeared after the encounter in the bulletin issued by the Armed Forces Press Committee (COPREFA).

However, according to statements to the Truth Commission by officers then stationed at El Paraiso Barracks, there was a meeting of officers from the 4th Brigade Staff, including the commanding officer, Colonel Mario A. Reyes Mena, and officers from the Atonal Rapid Deployment Infantry Battalion (BIRI). It was at this meeting, according to precise intelligence information indicating that the newsmen would try to get into the zone controlled by the FMLN the following day (197), those interviewed say, that the ambush was planned. The mission was given to a patrol from the Atonal Battalion, which left El Paraiso Barracks at 0500 hours on the morning of the 17th in order to avoid detection and stayed in the hills all day long waiting for the group to arrive.

Subsequent events: After the skirmish, Sergeant Canizales states that he reported the outcome of the ambush to the barracks (198) by radio. Colonel Reyes Mena (199) then sent a patrol in a vehicle which found the eight bodies in the area upon its arrival.(200) The lieutenant leading the patrol sent a number of troops to the justice of the peace in Santa Rita, who arrived a half hour later.

According to one officer from the detachment, the lieutenant's decision to notify the judge and move the bodies to El Paraiso Barracks surprised and greatly irritated Colonel Reyes Mena, but the latter finally decided to inform the staff.

The next morning, 18 March, the legal process resumed at El Paraiso Barracks.(201) Commander Oscar's distinctive features caused him to be taken for a foreigner and moved to San Salvador with the Dutch newsmen.

According to Schmeitz, at around 9:00 in the morning, he was called by Howard Lane, press attache of the American Embassy in El Salvador, to confirm that his four colleagues were dead.(202) He later went to COPREFA headquarters, where an official handed out a statement saying, in sum, that the journalists had died in the crossfire of a skirmish between guerrillas and the Army.(203)

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Back in his hotel room, Schmeitz received a threatening call telling him to "end the inquiries and get out of the country because they already had the fifth coffin, which was for him." This type of call was reportedly repeated three times that night. On 20 March, Schmeitz left El Salvador.

During this period, the Dutch ambassador met with a member of the Revolutionary Government Junta and passed on to him his country's request that the nation's authorities be required to make a complete investigation into the events. A key element would be the interview with the sergeant and the troops involved, but it was never authorized by the Salvadoran Government. In its second report, the Commission itself states that "at the request of the government of the Netherlands, the American Government supported this request made to Salvadoran authorities."(204)

Martin, the guerrilla who survived the ambush, was taken to Holland, where he testified on 4 and 5 May 1982. Later, on 19 May, the Dutch Commission talked at length with the sergeant without any third parties present.(205)

The legal proceedings relating to the case came to a halt in 1988, when Judge Dora del Carmen Gomez de Claros requested and obtained asylum in another country. She states in correspondence that she received anonymous threats.

The Commission requested a copy of the legal record from Margarita de los Angeles Fuente Sanabria, currently judge of the first instance of El Dulce Nombre de Maria, Chalatenango, who initially offered to release it, then said shortly thereafter that she had received instructions that the Commission would have to appeal to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court in order to obtain such a document. The Commission repeatedly made such a request in writing as well as by telephone to Chief Justice Mauricio Gutierrez Castro of the Supreme Court of El Salvador, but never received any response. In the end, it was the attorney general who sent a copy of the record to the Commission.

Conclusions

1--The Truth Commission deems that there is full evidence that the deaths of the Dutch journalists: Koos Jacobus Andries Koster, Jan Cornelius Kuiper Joop, Hans Lodewijkter Laag, and Johannes Jan Wilemsen on 17 March 1982 resulted from an ambush planned in advance by the commanding officer of the 4th Infantry Brigade, Colonel Mario A. Reyes Mena, at El Paraiso Barracks, with the knowledge of other officers, on the basis of intelligence information that alerted them to its presence. The ambush was carried out by a patrol of soldiers from the Atonal BIRI, led by Sergeant Mario Canizales Espinoza.

2--These same officers, the sergeant, and others subsequently concealed the truth about the events and obstructed investigations conducted by the Judicial Branch and other competent authorities.

3--The murders violated International Law on Human Rights and International Humanitarian Law, which provides that civilians may not be attacked.

4--The government did not comply with its obligation to investigate, try, and punish the guilty parties, which it has the duty to do, according to international law.

5--The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Mauricio Gutierrez Castro, did not cooperate with the Truth Commission.

On 22 February 1983, elements of the Jaguar Battalion, commanded by Captain Carlos Alfonso Figueroa Morales, participated in an operation in the canton of Las Hojas in the municipality of San Antonio del Monte in the Department of Sonsonate. The soldiers arrested 16 peasants and took them to Rio Cuyuapa, where they were shot at point-blank range and killed.

Those charged have steadily maintained that it was a skirmish with terrorists. A Defense Ministry investigation concluded that no member of the Armed Forces was responsible for the events.

The Supreme Court of Justice issued a stay of the legal proceedings under the Amnesty Law of 1987. In 1992, the Inter-American Human Rights Commission accused the government of El Salvador of failing in its duty to investigate and punish those responsible for violations of the American Human Rights Convention.

On the basis of varying degrees of evidence, the Commission concludes that:

1--Colonel Elmer Gonzalez Araujo, then commanding officer of Sonsonate Military Detachment No 6, Major Oscar Leon Linares, and Captain Carlos Alfonso Figueroa Morales (deceased) planned the operation in the canton of Las Hojas for the purpose of arresting and eliminating alleged subversives.

2--The execution orders were transmitted to the material authors for the then 2d Lieutenants Carlos Sasso Landaverry and Francisco del Cid Diaz.

4--Colonel Napoleon Alvarado, in charge of the Ministry of Defense investigaton, also concealed the massacre and obstructed the legal investigation.

5--The Truth Commission recommends that the government of El Salvador comply fully with the resolution of the Inter-American Human Rights Commission in this case.

Description of the Events (206)

The Massacre

Early in the morning on 22 February 1983, Captain Carlos Alfonso Figueroa Morales, commanding officer of the Jaguar Battalion based at Sonsonate Military Detachment No 6, mobilized from that site three sections belonging to the 1st Company: one led by 2d Lieutenant Carlos Sasso Landaverry, another by 2d Lieutenant Cadet Francisco del Cid Diaz, and the third by Sergeant Jose Reyes Perez Ponce.(207)

At about 0600, a section entered the Las Hojas Cooperative of the National Association of Salvadoran Indians (ANIS). With the help of members of the local Civil Defense, wearing bandannas over their faces to conceal their identity, captured seven members of the cooperative. The soldiers, who had a list of alleged terrorists and several members of the Civil Defense, pointed out those on the list, pulled them out of their houses, tied and beat them, then took them from the cooperative on the highway leading to Rio Cuyuapa.

The members captured were Gerardo Cruz Sandoval (age 34) (208), Jose Guido Garcia (age 21) (209), Benito Perez Zetino (age 35) (210), Pedro Perez Zetino (age 24) (211), Marcelino Sanchez Viscarra (age 80) (212), Juan Bautista Martir Perez (age 75) (213), and Hector Manuel Marquez (age 60) (214).

Another section of about 40 troops entered the San Antonio Ranch in the canton of Agua Santa near Las Hojas cooperative, capturing several persons and also taking them to Rio Cuyuapa.(215) Those captured were Antonio Mejia Alvarado (216), Romelio Mejia Alvarado (217), Lorenzo Mejia Carabante (218), Ricardo Garcia Elena (age 19) (219), Francisco Aleman Mejia (age 36) (220), Leonardo

Lopez Morales (age 22) (221), Alfredo Ayala (222), and Martin Mejia Castillo.(223)

When ANIS Chief Adrian Esquino was notified of the capture of the cooperative members, he went immediately at 0700 hours to speak with Colonel Elmer Gonzalez Araujo (224), commanding officer of Sonsonate Military Detachment No 6. Colonel Gonzalez Araujo told him he knew nothing about the capture of the ANIS cooperative members, but that he knew they had captured several terrorists whose last name was Mejia.

Later that morning, a group of ANIS members found 16 bodies on the bank of Rio Cuyuapa. Their hands bore rope marks, their faces were disfigured by bullet wounds, and all had been shot at point-blank range in the temple or behind the ear.

On that same day, 22 February, Justice of the Peace Roberto Rogelio Magana and the experts examined the bodies. The body of Alfredo Ayala still had "...his arms behind his back with the thumbs tied together with a thin rope...."(225) The other victims also showed signs of having had their thumbs tied and of having been shot at point-blank range.

The official version: The operation was discussed and decided upon the preceding day by Colonel Gonzalez Araujo, Major Oscar Leon Linares, executive officer of the Battalion, and Captain Figueroa Morales, head of the S-2. According to their version, they were informed of the presence of terrorists and the purpose of the operation was therefore to sweep the area.

Captain Figueroa Morales subsequently declared that during the operation, he heard shots up ahead. Upon reaching Rio Cuyuapa, the two 2d lieutenants informed him that there had been a clash with guerrillas. Several bodies were found at the site, but none of them was tied.(227)

Although in several pieces of testimony the soldiers alleged that there had been a clash with the guerrillas, none admitted he had witnessed one. They had all merely heard it.

After the skirmish, Captain Figueroa Morales notified Colonel Gonzalez Araujo.(228) Major Leon Linares also received reports after reaching the Detachment at about 0800 hours.

Investigations

Three investigations followed. Justice of the Peace Magana sent the then new governmental Human Rights Commission to investigate the case. Consequently, before the case was turned over to the prosecutor's office, relatives were interviewed and an initial version of the events was drafted.

The minister of defense, General Jose Guillermo Garcia Merino, put Colonel Napoleon Alvarado in charge of investigating the case. As part of the investigation, statements were taken from several witnesses, not including the two 2d lieutenants, Cid Diaz and Sasso Landaverry, who were in Morazan.(229) According to the testimony of Captain Figueroa Morales, they had led the unit that was involved in the purported skirmish.

In April 1983, Colonel Alvarado determined that no proof of the guilt of any member of the Armed Forces had been found and that the deaths had resulted from a skirmish. He also expressed the opinion that the Human Rights Commission's investigation had been biased. He added that the case had been politicized by enemies of the Armed Forces and that "...the Armed Forces can bear no responsibility for what might happen to Adrian Esquino Lisco since it may be deduced that the latter...is protecting guerrilla elements in the Association that he heads."(230)

Special Project (1993)

The legal investigation took a different path. In March 1984, based on the recommendation of the Prosecutor's office (231), the provisional arrest of seven members of the Civil Defense was ordered, along with that of members of the military escort, but the order did not include the soldiers.(232) However, in December 1984, the judge of the 1st Criminal Court of Sonsonate issued a provisional stay of the proceedings and in July 1985, the Criminal Chamber approved the stay. It also ruled that it could not apply the law on accomplices to members of the Civil Defense without some proof of who the principal authors were. It had merely been established that the escorts had lent aid to the Army in the capture, but it was not stated who the immediate authors were.(233)

In reference to the stay in the case against Captain Figueroa Morales and Major Leon Linares, the Chamber ruled that it lacked the necessary proof to charge them with any offenses.(234)

In July 1986, as a result of the intervention of the American Embassy and with new proof of the soldiers' participation, criminal proceedings were reopened against several accused, including Colonel Gonzalez Araujo, Major Leon Linares, and Captain Figueroa Morales.(235)

Nevertheless, in March 1987, the judge of the first instance once again issued a final stay of proceedings in the case (236) and in August, the Court of Appeals revoked the decision and ordered that the case be taken to trial.(237)

Colonel Gonzalez Araujo then filed an appeal of habeas corpus with the Supreme Court before the National Assembly had passed the Amnesty Law (27 October 1987) (238). In July 1988, the Supreme Court maintained that the Amnesty Law had to be applied to the Las Hojas case and issued a final stay of proceedings including all those charged.(239)

Resolution of the Inter-American Human Rights Commission on Application of the 1987 Amnesty Law in the Las Hojas Case

In 1989, the Inter-American Human Rights Commission received a petition (240) condemning the application of the 1987 Amnesty Law as a violation of the obligation of the government of El Salvador to investigate and punish violations of the rights of the Las Hojas victims and to grant reparations for harm done.(241) On 24 September 1992, the same court issued a resolution ruling that the Amnesty Decree passed after the order to arrest officers of the Armed Forces had legally eliminated any possibility of an effective investigation, the trial of those responsible, and adequate compensation for victims.(242)

The Commission declared that the government of El Salvador had not complied with the obligation to guarantee free and full exercise of the fundamental human rights and guarantees of all persons subject to its jurisdiction.(243) It also recommended that the government of El Salvador: 1) conduct an exhaustive, rapid, complete, and impartial investigation into the acts reported in order to identify all victims as well as those responsible and bring them to justice; 2) adopt the necessary measures to prevent the occurrence of similar deeds in the future; and 3) make amends for the consequences of the situation and pay just compensation to the relatives of the victims.(244)

The Commission gave the government of El Salvador three months to carry out its recommendations, meaning until 24 December 1992. To date, no action has been taken to comply with the Commission's recommendations.

Conclusions

The Commission concludes that:

1--There is substantial evidence that Colonel Elmer Gonzalez Araujo, commanding officer of Sonsonate Military Detachment No 6, Major Oscar Leon Linares, and Captain Figueroa Moales (deceased) planned the operation in the canton of Las Hojas for the purpose of arresting and eliminating alleged terrorists.

2--There is full evidence that Captain Figueroa Morales, as captain of the Jaguar Battalion, was in command of the operation and that during the operation, 16 peasants were arrested, bound, and summarily executed. No confrontation with guerrillas ever took place.

3--There is substantial evidence that the execution orders were transmitted to the material authors by the then 2d Lieutenants Carlos Sasso Landaverry and Francisco del Cid Diaz.

4--There is substantial evidence that Colonel Gonzalez Araujo, Major Leon Linares, and Captain Figueroa Morales learned of the massacre immediately but covered it up.

5--There is sufficient evidence that Colonel Napoleon Alvarado, in charge of the Ministry of Defense investigation, also covered up the massacre and later obstructed the legal investigation.

6--The Truth Commission recommends that the government of El Salvador comply fully with the resolution of the Inter-American Human Rights Commission on this case.

G. San Sebastian

Summary of the Case

On 21 September 1988, members of the Jiboa Battalion arrested ten persons in the canton of San Francisco in the jurisdiction of San Sebastian. That same morning, Major Mauricio Jesus Beltran Granados, head of the 5th Brigade's Department of Intelligence, under orders from Colonel Jose Emilio Chavez Caceres, head of the 5th Brigade, arrived in the canton of San Francisco. After interrogating several of them, he ordered the execution of the ten prisoners and the fabrication of a fictitious ambush.

In March 1989, an Honor Commission of the Armed Forces conducted an investigation in the course of which the members of the Jiboa Battalion declared that Major Beltran Granados had ordered them to execute the prisoners and cover up the execution. Beltran Granados, another officer, other noncommissioned officers, and troops were turned over to the judge, who ordered their arrest. All were later released, except for Beltran, who is awaiting trial.

The Truth Commission concludes that:

1--Colonel Jose Emilio Chavez Caceres gave the order to execute the prisoners.

2--Major Mauricio de Jesus Beltran Granados ordered members of the Jiboa Battalion to execute the ten peasants being held prisoner.

3--Colonel Jose Emilio Chavez Caceres covered up the execution of the ten prisoners and Major Mauricio de Jesus Beltran Granados took measures to conceal the execution.

4--2d Lieutenant Arnoldo Antonio Vasquez Alvarenga conveyed Major Beltran's order to name a number of troops to finish off the victims and supplied the elements needed to activate the mines that seriously wounded them.

5--Sergeant Jorge Alberto Tobar Guzman activated the detonator of the mines, knowing that they would explode at the precise spot where the peasants were being held.

6--Subsergeant Rafael Rosales Villalobos and Privates Fermin Cruz Castro, Jose Carlos Hernandez Matute, Jose Alfredo Mendez Beltran, and Francisco Ponce Ramirez fired on the prisoners, killing them.

7--Colonel Luis Mariano Turcios and Lieutenant Colonel Jose Antonio Rodriguez Molina knew of the order to execute the prisoners but took no measures to prevent the execution.

8--The Armed Forces Honor Commission, the Commission to Investigate Criminal Acts, and the judge of the First Criminal Court of the city of San Sebastian failed to take any steps to shed light on the responsibility of Colonel Jose Emilio Chavez Caceres, Colonel Luis Mariano Turcios, and Lieutenant Colonel Jose Antonio Rodriguez Molina.

Description of Events (245)

The Executions

On 20 September 1988, the 2d Company of the Jiboa Battalion of the 5th Brigade arrived in the municipality of San Sebastian in the Department of San Vicente. Lieutenant Manuel de Jesus Galvez Galvez, the unit's commanding officer, was informed that four men had been involved in subversive activities. He ordered 2d Lieutenant Arnoldo Antonio Vasquez Alvarenga to go to the canton of San Francisco and arrest them.

On the night of that same day, 2d Lieutenant Vasquez Alvarenga arrested one of the men. The prisoner led the soldiers to a place where subversive propaganda, explosives, backpacks, wire, and two M-16 rifles were found.(246)

2d Lieutenant Vasquez Alvarenga informed Lieutenant Galvez Galvez of the discovery.(247) Captain Oscar Armando Pena Duran heard the information over the radio and passed it on to the 5th Brigade. Early in the morning, via the Cerro Las Delicias radio repeater station, Captain Pena Duran was ordered to "eliminate" the prisoner. Captain Pena Duran said his officers (Galvez and Vasquez) could not carry out the order. He later informed Galvez Galvez of the order, but the latter also refused to carry it out. Galvez told him that if the order were repeated, the Brigade should be asked to issue it in writing.

In the night, 2d Lieutenant Vasquez Alvarenga continued to question the prisoner, who agreed to point out the houses of three more suspicious parties (248), all of whom were later arrested.

They took the four prisoners to the hamlet school. 2d Lieutenant Vasquez received a radio message from Lieutenant Galvez telling him to go to the canton of San Francisco and get all the people of the canton together at the school.(249)

At 0730 hours on 21 September, Lieutenant Galvez arrived and again questioned one of the prisoners.(250) He recontacted Captain Pena and told him he would not kill the prisoners without a written order from the commanding officer of the brigade.(251) The commanding officer of the 5th Brigade and the 5th Military Zone was Colonel Jose Emilio Chavez Caceres. Pena requested permission to go to the brigade to present the situation in San Francisco. Major Beltran denied such permission.(252) He added that he would go to the place with two interrogators. Pena Duran then spoke with Galvez Galvez and informed him that Major Beltran was on his way and that he would be notified.(253)

On the morning of 21 September, under orders from Colonel Chavez Caceres, Major Beltran left for the canton of San Francisco. He arrived that same morning with two other interrogators and his assistant.

Captain Pena Duran arrived at the Brigade at noon.(254) He reported to Major Rodriguez, whom he informed of what had occurred and of the order to eliminate the prisoner. According to Captain Pena, Major Rodriguez said the prisoner should be taken to Brigade headquarters, in accordance with the Procedure for Normal Operations. The two informed Lieutenant Colonel Turcios of what had occurred and of the order to eliminate the prisoner. Pena then made the same report to Colonel Chavez Caceres. According to Chavez Caceres, he told Pena that the prisoner should be taken to the Brigade.(255)

Upon his arrival, Galvez Galvez reported and Major Beltran Granados brought out three prisoners for interrogation. Returning from the interrogation, Major Beltran, who, as intelligence officer, was not in charge of the unit, told Lieutenant Galvez Galvez that he had to execute the prisoners. Galvez Galvez replied that he would not carry out such an order and that he was turning over the command of the unit carrying out the operation to Major Beltran.(257)

Beltran Granados told Galvez to arrange the arrest of other persons, which he did. A total of ten persons were arrested.(258) Then, according to testimony, Major Beltran Granados gave the order to execute them, faking a guerrilla ambush.(259)

Major Beltran Granados ordered Sergeant Tobar Guzman to look for a place further down in the street where they would place the confiscated mines in order to stage an ambush.(260) Tobar proceeded to lay the mines and connected them with wire.(261)

2d Lieutenant Vasquez ordered the soldiers to carry the rest of the confiscated material to the ambush site. 2d Lieutenant Vasquez told Privates "Churute" (Fermin Cruz Castro), Matute (Jose Carlos Hernandez Matute), and Ciguanabo (Jose Alfredo Mendez Beltran) to finish off any prisoner who survived.(262)

The prisoners (except the women) had their hands tied behind their backs and their eyes blindfolded. At about 3:00 in the afternoon, they were taken to the place of execution on the road. Vasquez gave Tobar a battery which he installed and activated the mines.(263)

A number of soldiers fired their weapons to simulate an ambush, as Major Beltran had ordered them to do.(264) This lasted for five minutes. Since the exploding mines did not kill the prisoners, Major Beltran ordered the soldiers to finish them off. One of them, Manuel de Jesus Herrera Rivera, refused to obey the order. Privates Churute (Fermin Cruz Castro), Balazo (Francisco Ponce Ramirez), and Matute (Jose Carlos Hernandez Matute) administered the coup de grace to the prisoners.(265)

Major Beltran Granados ordered Subsergeant Rosales Villalobos to fire on the prisoners and he did so. He also ordered a soldier to remove the blindfolds from those executed and told Private Hernandez Alfaro to put blood on the uniform of private Mendez Beltran (Ciguanabo) and to put a dressing on him and pretend he had been wounded in combat.

Major Beltran later ordered Lieutenant Galvez Galvez to inform the Brigade that terrorists had ambushed them, resulting in the deaths of eight prisoners and two terrorists, and that he should request a helicopter to transport a wounded soldier.(266)

A helicopter arrived with an attorney from the Brigade's Department 5 and an American adviser. Beltran boarded the helicopter with the "wounded" soldier and they proceeded to Brigade headquarters.

The concealment and the official investigations: On the following day, the justice of the peace of San Sebastian identified the peasants killed and COPREFA reported that ten terrorists had been killed in a skirmish between troops from the Jiboa Battalion and guerrillas. On 23 September, COPREFA circulated the story that Colonel Chavez Caceres said he had received from Major Beltran Granados.

Officials from nongovernmental human rights organizations (Tutela Legal and the Nongovernmental Human Rights Commission) and journalists went to the canton of San Francisco on 22 September. Several witnesses reported that the peasants had been killed by soldiers. In public statements, President Duarte played down the accusations.

General Blandon, chief of staff, contacted Colonel Chavez Caceres on 23 September and told him that the version of events which he had given him was not true.

On 24 September, Major Beltran Granados learned that Private Escoto had been wounded by guerrillas. He asked him to feign being wounded in San Francisco on 21 September in order to help them out of the problem. Two days later, he introduced him to the rest of the members of the 2d Section of the 2d Company of Jiboa Battalion and instructed them to say that Escoto had been in San Francisco on 21 September, where he had been wounded. Escoto was then introduced as if he had been in San Francisco that day.(267)

On the night of 26 September, Major Beltran Granados brought together the officers, noncommissioned officers, and enlisted men who had been in San Francisco. He pointed out the positions they had each occupied when they left the canton of San Francisco. He said this was the story they were to tell. Later, there were more meetings to remind the soldiers of what they were to say.

On one occasion, 2d Lieutenant Vasquez Alvarenga took the soldiers to the canton of San Francisco, where he placed every soldier in the position assigned him so that each would recognize his spot and not forget what he was to say.

On 27 and 28 September, members of the Criminal Acts Investigative Commission (CIHD) interviewed Major Beltran, Lieutenant Galvez, 2d Lieutenant Vasquez, noncommissioned officers, and enlisted men. They all stuck by the fabricated story.

Days later, attorneys Paredes and Parker from the Ministry of Defense and Staff respectively questioned personnel from the 5th Brigade who had been in the hamlet of San Francisco. They all stood by their version of the ambush. One investigator did polygraph tests, the results of which indicated that some had given "doubtful" replies. The attorneys then drafted a report which Chavez Caceres sent to the staff and Ministry of Defense.

Nine days after the incident, a member of the Jiboa Battalion told Colonel Chavez Caceres that Major Beltran had ordered the execution of the prisoners and that they had been murdered. On 5 October, the bodies were exhumed and forensic analyses revealed that the individuals had been killed by bullets fired at close range and not in any battle.(268)

On 29 October 1988, the commanding officer of the 5th Brigade announced at a press conference that the prisoners had died in an ambush and that the guerrillas had returned at night to mutilate the bodies in order to make people believe they had been shot at close range.

Between 8 and 10 December 1988, investigators from the Commission to Investigate Criminal Acts again questioned the officers, noncommissioned officers, and enlisted men. They all stood by the fabricated story.

On 3 February 1989, Vice President Dan Quayle of the United States visited El Salvador and asked that those responsible for the San Sebastian massacre be punished. He gave a list of three officers involved: Colonel Chavez Caceres, Major Beltran Granados, and 2d Lieutenant Vasquez Alvarenga.

Days later, Colonel Chavez Caceres left the brigade and it was turned over to Lieutenant Colonel Turcios. The other officers were then removed from their posts. Lieutenant Galvez Galvez was taken into custody at Treasury Police headquarters, along with 2d Lieutenant Vasquez Alvarenga.

In February and March 1989, the men who had been in the hamlet of San Francisco were once again questioned. Except for Major Beltran Granados, all abandoned the ambush story and stated that that officer had ordered the execution and the fabricated version of the incident.

The Criminal Acts Investigative Commission accused Major Beltran of ordering the executions and 2d Lieutenant Vasquez Alvarenga, Sergeant Tobar Guzman, Subsergeant Rosales Villalobos, Corporal Ayala Arias, and Privates Cruz Castro, Hernandez Matute, Mendez Beltran, and Ponce Ramirez of being responsible for the executions.(269)

Colonel Chavez Caceres was not called to make any statement, nor was he accused or made responsible for any action or omission.

The legal process: The results of the proceedings were turned over to the judge of the first instance of San Sebastian on 11 March 1989.(270) The arrest of nine persons was ordered.(271) In February 1990, the judge freed all of them except Major Beltran (272) and Subsergeant Rosales Villalobos.(273)

In May 1990, the Chamber of San Vicente confirmed the ruling ordering the release of those in custody and revoked the decision to take Subsergeant Rafael Rosales Villalobos to trial.(274)

At the time this report was being drafted, Major Beltran remained in custody awaiting trial.

Conclusions

The Commission concludes that:

1--There is sufficient proof that Colonel Jose Emilio Chavez Caceres gave the order to execute the prisoners.

2--There is full proof that Major Mauricio de Jesus Beltran Granados ordered members of the Jiboa Battalion to execute the ten peasants under arrest.

3--There is substantial proof that Colonel Jose Emilio Chavez Caceres concealed the execution of the ten prisoners and full proof that Major Mauricio de Jesus Beltran Granados took measures to conceal the execution.

4--There is substantial proof that 2d Lieutenant Arnoldo Antonio Vasquez Alvarenga conveyed the order from Major Beltran Granados to appoint a number of soldiers to finish off the victims and sufficient proof that he supplied the elements needed to activate the mines that seriously wounded the victims.

5--There is substantial proof that Sergeant Jorge Alberto Tobar Guzman activated the detonating mechanism of the mines knowing they would explode precisely where the peasants were being held prisoner.

6--There is substantial proof that Subsergeant Rafael Rosales Villalobos and Privates Fermin Cruz Castro, Jose Carlos Hernandez Matute, Jose Alfredo Mendez Beltran, and Francisco Ponce Ramirez fired on the prisoners, killing them.

7--There is sufficient proof that Colonel Luis Mariano Turcios and Lieutenant Colonel Jose Antonio Rodriguez Molina knew of the order to execute the prisoners and took no measures to prevent the execution.

8--There is substantial proof that the Honor Commission of the Armed Forces, the Commission to Investigate Criminal Acts, and the judge of the First Criminal Court of the city of San Sebastian failed to take steps to determine the responsibility of Colonel Jose Emilio Chavez Caceres, Colonel Luis Mariano Turcios, and Lieutenant Colonel Jose Antonio Rodriguez Molina.

H. Attack Against an FMLN Hospital and the Execution of a Nurse

Summary of the Case

On 15 April 1989, Air Force units attacked an FMLN mobile hospital.(275) Five of the 15 persons in the hospital were killed, including three Salvadorans: Juan Antonio (nurse), Clelia Concepcion Diaz Salazar (literacy training teacher), Maria Cristina Hernandez (nurse and radio operator); and two foreigners: Jose

Ignacio Isla Casares (Argentine doctor) and Madeleine Marie Francine Lagadec (French nurse).

A Salvadoran Air Force unit attacked the hospital. Elements from the unit deliberately attacked medical personnel in violation of International Humanitarian Law and captured and executed French nurse Madeleine Lagadec. Since no autopsy was performed on the other persons killed, it was not possible to determine with the same degree of accuracy whether they were also executed.

Description of Events

The Attack

At about 0700 or 0800 on 15 April 1989, according to testimony, two A-37 aircraft flying at a low altitude bombed the area around a mobile FMLN hospital near Catarina Ranch in the canton of El Tortugal in the jurisdiction of San Ildefonso in the Department of San Vicente. Three rocket-launching helicopters (UH 1M's), one Hughes 500 helicopter, and a "Push-Pull" airplane also participated in the attack. A few minutes later, six helicopters appeared carrying paratroopers armed with M-16's. At 0815, the helicopters dropped the troops near the hospital. The bombing lasted 15 minutes.

Fifteen persons were in the hospital when the bombing started. Most began to flee. One male nurse responded to the attack before escaping. Nurse and radio operator Maria Cristina Hernandez and a patient in the hospital, Juan Antonio, were seriously wounded.

Madeleine Lagadec, a French nurse who had been working with the FMLN for years, refused to flee and stayed behind to take care of Maria Cristina. Argentine Dr. Jose Ignacio Isla Casares, head of the hospital, and literacy teacher Clelia Concepcion Diaz Salazar also stayed behind.

Those who escaped later testified as to what had taken place. The soldiers approached the site and a paratrooper equipped with a radio informed his command of the capture of "the mercenaries" and asked for instructions. The soldiers then questioned the three persons captured and screams were heard, particularly from Madeleine Lagadec. Several shots were also heard. The soldiers left in the afternoon.(276)

There is substantial proof that the operation was carried out by the Salvadoran Air Force "Special Operations" group (paratroopers with artillery and air support). They were part of Operation Lightning [Operacion Rayo], whose purpose was to destroy the logistical structure and command organization of the PRTC [Revolutionary Party of Central American Workers] in the area.

The investigation: On the 17th, COPREFA issued a bulletin announcing that nine persons had died in an Air Force attack on a PRTC command post. The bulletin also reported the seizure of weapons and medical equipment.(277)

That same day, persons from the FMLN found the bodies at the site. According to two of them, Lagadec's clothing only covered her torso, her slacks were down around her knees, she had no undergarments, and her left hand had been cut off at the wrist. The five bodies had bullet wounds in the craneal area.(279)

The Autopsy

The only autopsy performed was on the French nurse in France on 2 May 1989.(280)

According to the autopsy report, Lagadec's body had at least five bullet wounds. Two of these (the one in the skull and the one in the left scapular region) were potentially fatal. The wounds were made by small caliber bullets

(5-6 mm) and their capacity to inflict great harm can only be explained by their great speed. No precise explanation could be found for the amputation of the left hand. The French doctors said the various trajectories of the projectiles rendered the hypothesis of an execution unlikely.(281)

Nevertheless, the opinion of Dr. Robert Kirschner (282), who analyzed the reports from the autopsy in France, graphs, and documents in the possession of this Commission was that Lagadec had been executed.(283)

In his analysis for the Commission, Dr. Kirschner, whose experience in analyzing summary executions is among the most extensive in the world, explained: "The wounds and their trajectories supply important proof of the way in which Madeleine Lagadec was murdered. The body presented six bullet wounds: three in the thorax, one in the central region of each calf, and one in the head. All the wounds were inflicted from front to back and from the center toward the sides (...). (The French doctors) maintained that the diversity of the trajectories described by the projectiles indicated that it was probably not an execution. I do not agree with that conclusion. While the wounds in the thorax could have been inflicted while the victim was standing, the wounds in the calves were almost certainly inflicted while she was on the ground, and the wounds in the thorax also seem to have been inflicted when she was in a supine position. It is of particular importance that the bullet wound in the right temporal region of the head, which followed a horizontal path and emerged from the left temporal parietal region of the scalp, was a characteristic wound of a coup de grace and a distinctive trait of an extralegal execution."(284)

Dr. Kirschner's conclusion that Lagadec was executed also finds support in a different analysis made by experts in electronic microscopy in France.(285) They ascertained, first of all, that the victim was shot while already partially nude: "(...) The brassiere, panties, and slacks had absolutely no bullet holes, although the victim presented gunshot wounds in the right breast, pelvis, and lower extremities (...). It can be deduced that the victim was not wearing these three articles of clothing when she was shot."(286)

Concerning the distance from which the projectiles were fired, the aforementioned Center proposes hypotheses ruling out any claim that Lagadec was shot at long range.(287)

Conclusions

The Commission concludes that:

1--There is sufficient evidence that a Salvadoran Air Force unit attacked the field hospital and substantial evidence that it deliberately attacked medical personnel in violation of International Humanitarian Law.

2--There is substantial evidence that elements of that unit captured French nurse Madeleine Lagadec alive and executed her.

3--The Salvadoran Government failed in its responsibility to investigate the case and to try and punish the guilty parties. It was not possible to determine whether the other persons were also executed because no autopsy was performed.

I. Garcia Arandigoyen

a. Summary of the 2d Infantry Brigade of the Armed Forces of El Salvador and a column of the People's Revolutionary Army of the FMLN.

The Commission concludes that:

1--Begona Garcia Arandigoyen was extrajudicially executed by members of the 4th BIC PIPIL Company of the 2d Infantry Brigade under the immediate command of Lieutenant Roberto Salvador Hernandez Garcia and the superior command of Army Lieutenant Colonel Jose Antonio Almendariz Rivas, executive officer of the 2d Brigade.

2--These officers concealed the act with the cooperation of the 3d National Police Command, Santa Ana Unit, along with experts and legal authorities participating in the examination of Begona Garcia's body.

Description of Events

Her Death

Dr. Begona Garcia Arandigoyen, a Spanish doctor, arrived in El Salvador in September 1989 to work as a doctor with the FMLN. She was executed, following her capture, by members of the 4th BIC PIPIL Company of the 2d Infantry Brigade on 10 September 1990 in the Department of Santa Ana.

According to the official version, a patrol sweeping the southern area of the Santa Ana Volcano in the vicinity of the Montanita ranch encountered elements of the FMLN on La Graciela ranch at around 1300 hours on 10 September.

According to statements by Army Lieutenant Colonel Jose Antonio Almendariz Rivas, executive officer of the 2d Brigade and its chief of staff, was informed by radio when the exchange of fire began with the enemy and was later informed of the deaths of ten guerrillas, including two women, one of them a foreigner.(239)

According to the official version, members of the FMLN managed to retrieve the bodies of eight of the dead and the troops of the 4th BIC PIPIL Company found only the bodies of two women. One of them appeared to be a foreigner.

At nightfall, other soldiers moved the bodies of the two women from the place where the events had allegedly occurred to an area of Malacara ranch in Canton Potrero Grande Arriba in the jurisdiction of Santa Ana.

On the morning of 11 September, Army Lieutenant Colonel Jose Antonio Almendariz Rivas and personnel from COPREFA and the 3d National Police Command of the Santa Ana Unit arrived at the Malacara ranch by helicopter under the command of Lieutenant Gilberto Garcia Cisneros. COPREFA personnel photographed the bodies and, the official report states, personnel from the Third Command took paraffin tests to see whether the women had fired weapons. The bodies were not legally examined.(290) The inhabitants proceeded to bury the bodies at the request of the military.

Official examination of the body: On 14 September, the bodies were exhumed and the body of Dr. Begona Garcia was examined by the forensic surgeon on duty, Dr. Neftali Figueroa Juarez, in the presence of the judge of the First Criminal Court of the Judicial District of Santa Ana, Oscar Armando Aviles Magana. A representative of the Spanish Embassy, Lieutenant Colonel Almendariz Rivas, and others were also present.

The medical report states that "an examination was made of the body of Begona Garcia Arandigoyen, which presents a destructive wound on the right side of the face, another on the right forearm with a complete fracture and bone displacement, a destructive wound on the lateral face of the right gluteus, a wound on the external face of the right elbow, and another on the left calf. The body is in a state of advanced decomposition and death occurred a minimum of four days ago. There is no sign of tattooing, burns, or traces of powder in any of the aforementioned wounds, as a result of which it is deduced that the wounds were caused by long-range shots. The body was exhumed and the direct cause of death was the combined shock of multiple wounds."(291)

Autopsy in Spain

The body of Begona Garcia was taken to Spain, where the Department of Pathology of the Hospital of Navarre, run by the government of Navarre, performed a clinical autopsy. That autopsy established the following, as reflected in a report written by Dr. Carlos Martin Beristain on the forensic and medical findings (292):

1--The body presented multiple wounds, especially to the head, neck, and the upper and lower extremities.

2--In the left forearm, a large wound corresponded to a complete fracture that apparently resulted from a blunt weapon or the impact of a bullet.

3--Two round entry wounds measuring from 2.4 to 3 cm were found above the bend in both elbows, but no exit wound could be seen. The lesions were very selective, being only in the extremities and symmetrical in both arms, without any other lesions in the thorax that might follow a line of fire.

4--The lesions in the arms and left calf could have been produced by a cutting instrument such as a bayonet since the diameter was too large to have been produced by a firearm without a greater destructive effect, other exit wounds, or projectiles inside.

5--An entry wound measuring 1.8 cm in diameter was found in the lower central occipital region, the trajectory being upward and in a forward direction.

6--A circular wound measuring 2.5 cm was found in the base of the neck just above the sternum manubrium.

7--Death had to have been produced instantaneously by gunshot wounds to the cranium as a result of the destruction of vital nerve centers rather than by hemorrhaging from the wounds.

Dr Beristain's report notes that biochemical analysis detected the existence of a large amount of powder on the edges of the neck wound (on the external manubrium), indicating that it was left a shot fired from a range of only a few centimeters. Consequently, the bullet wounds in the occipital zone and the external manubrium have similar characteristics and were produced at point-blank range.

The report also notes that the official examination of the body in El Salvador did not record either of the two head wounds that were made at a distance of only a few centimeters (nape of neck and suprasternum region).

Truth Commission Expert's Report

At the request of the Truth Commission, Dr. Robert H. Kirschner, expert forensic pathologist, studied the examination report by Dr. Jose Neftali Figueroa done on 14 September 1990 and the report from the clinical autopsy performed at Navarre Hospital. In Dr. Kirschner's opinion, the Navarre autopsy directly contradicts the examination report from El Salvador and supports the assertion that Begona Garcia was captured and executed. Dr. Kirschner notes that the Navarre autopsy describes wounds inconsistent with the kind sustained in combat and that are typical of those caused by an execution, including the wound near the nape of the neck at the base of the skull and another in the upper chest resulting from a shot fired from a distance of a few centimeters.

Conclusions

The Commission concludes that:

1--There is full evidence that Begona Garcia Arandigoyen was executed extrajudicially in flagrant violation of international humanitarian law and international law governing human rights by units of the 2d Infantry Brigade under the immediate command of Lieutenant Roberto Salvador Hernandez Garcia and the superior command of Army Lieutenant Colonel Jose Antonio Almendariz Rivas, executive officer of the 2d Brigade.

2--There is full evidence that the officers concealed the act.

3--There is full evidence of the responsibility of the Judicial Branch from the time of the involvement of the judge of the First Criminal Court of the Judicial District of Santa Ana, Oscar Armando Aviles Magana, and the forensic pathologist on duty, Dr. Neftali Figueroa Juarez, who participated in the examination of Begona Garcia's body. They omitted from their report the two wounds caused by shots fired at a distance of only a few centimeters and thus failed in their duty to conduct a complete and impartial investigation of the causes of death.

J. FENASTRAS and COMADRES

Summary of the Case

Early in the morning on 31 October 1989, unknown persons placed a bomb at the entryway to the Monsignor Oscar Arnulfo Romero Committee of Mothers and Relatives of Prisoners, Missing Persons and Political Assassination Victims of El Salvador (COMADRES) in San Salvador. Four persons, including one minor, were wounded.

At noon, a bomb was placed at the headquarters of the Salvadoran Workers National Union Federation (FENASTRAS) in San Salvador. Nine persons died and over 40 were wounded. As a result of the attack, the FMLN decided to suspend the peace negotiating process with the government.

The Truth Commission concludes that:

1--The bombings of the COMADRES and FENASTRAS offices on 31 October 1989 were part of a systematic, repeated offensive against the lives, physical integrity, and freedom of the members of the two organizations.

2--The government of El Salvador did not comply with its duty of guaranteeing the human rights which the members of those entities enjoy as individuals and as members of the institutions.

3--The attack on the FENASTRAS office was caused by a bomb which unknown persons placed outside.

4--Competent authorities in El Salvador did not conduct a complete and impartial investigation of the attacks on the COMADRES and FENASTRAS premises.

5--There is no contrary proof that the FMLN or members or affiliates of FENASTRAS authored the attack.

Description of Events (295)

The Monsignor Oscar Arnulfo Romero Committee of Mothers (COMADRES) is a nongovernmental organization created to support mothers and parents of missing persons or the victims of political assassinations. Its founding in December 1977 came at the suggestion of Monsignor Oscar Arnulfo Romero.

The Salvadoran Workers National Union Federation (FENASTRAS) is an independent federation set up in 1974 to strengthen trade union associations and promote the interests of Salvadoran workers. It has 25,000 affiliates and 16 member unions. FENASTRAS is the biggest industrial federation in El Salvador. Its headquarters is located two blocks from National Police Headquarters in San Salvador.

The Bombings

Early in the morning on 31 October 1989, two uniformed men reportedly placed a bomb at the entryway to the COMADRES office in San Salvador. In addition, a large truck was heard leaving the spot only moments later. Four persons, including a 4-month-old baby, were injured. The National Police blamed the guerrillas for the incident.(294)

At about 1230 hours on that same day, a worker affiliated with FENASTRAS observed an individual leaning a bag against the FENASTRAS cafeteria wall. He smelled powder and ran inside to warn his comrades. Another witness, a scrap metal vendor, saw two young men enter the FENASTRAS property through the wall door. One was carrying a suitcase in a jute bag. Through the door in the wall, he saw one of the men "bend down as if he were lighting something." Upon leaving, he shouted that they had laid a bomb and ran north.

Someone yelled "Bomb!" outside and the people began to run. The bomb exploded. Smoke and dust filled the area and the offices were destroyed. Over 40 persons were wounded and the following were killed: Ricardo Humberto Cestoni, trade unionist; Carmen Catalina Hernandez Ramos, FENASTRAS cook; Jose Daniel Lopez Melendez, trade unionist; Julia Tatiana Mendoza Aguirre, trade unionist and the daughter of the leader of the Revolutionary Democratic Front murdered in 1980; Vicente Salvador Melgar, trade unionist; Maria Magdalena Rosales, student and daughter of a union official; Rosa Hilda Saravia de Elias, FENASTRAS cook and union member; Luis Edgardo Vasquez Marquez, trade unionist; and Febe Elizabeth Velasquez, FENASTRAS secretary of international relations and member of the Executive Committee of the National Unity of Salvadoran Workers (UNTS).

FENASTRAS members and the main unions blamed the Armed Forces. UNTS accused the minister of defense of "executing" the workers in reprisal for an FMLN attack on the staff the previous day.

Background

These attacks on COMADRES and FENASTRAS offices occurred within a special political and chronological context. It was common knowledge that both organizations were critical of government policy, particularly with respect to human rights violations, and FENASTRAS of government measures which it thought harmed workers' interests. The Armed Forces considered FENASTRAS a "front" for the FMLN.(295)

Security forces exercised constant surveillance over several COMADRES and FENASTRAS members as well as their offices. They repeatedly raided the offices of the two and their affiliates were regularly threatened, persecuted, and arrested by authorities.(296) On 22 February and 5 September, explosive devices were thrown at FENASTRAS headquarters. Hundreds of incidents of violence, persecution, and threats have been reported against the two organizations.

Within such a political and chronological context, it should be noted that in the month of October 1989, there was a series of attacks on the Army and opponents to the government.(297) A day before the COMADRES and FENASTRAS attacks, members of the FMLN attacked the Armed Forces Joint Staff with explosive devices.(298)

Investigation of Attacks

Immediately following the FENASTRAS bombing, the Commission to Investigate Criminal Acts, Judicial Branch, and National Police initiated their respective investigations. Second Justice of the Peace Nelson Ulises Umana Bojorquez tried to conduct a legal inspection (299) on 31 October, but was forced to abandon his efforts due to "the jostling and commotion of the multitude of persons present."(300) CIHD technicians arrived a half hour after the attack to perform a visual inspection, but neither they nor personnel from the Police Explosives Section obtained access to the inside.(301)

Much doubt remains about the seriousness and impartiality with which the investigations were conducted. CIHD representatives expressed the opinion that same day that "the cause of the explosion was the improper handling of explosives inside the office itself."(302) Members of the Police Explosives Section deduced that the attack "...is part of a plan of conspiracy whose purpose is to discredit the government of El Salvador by making the national and international community believe the attack was the government's response to the artillery attack which the FMLN staged on 30 October 1989 on EMCFA [Armed Forces Joint Staff] facilities...which amounts to concluding that the FMLN attacked itself in order to confuse public opinion by making it believe that it was an act of revenge for the aforementioned incident."

One deduces from the CIHD file that the Commission's investigation was based on the conclusions of the investigation of the Department of Technical Assistance of the National Police's Sergeant Carlos Sosa Santos Explosives and Demolitions Section, which ruled out the possibility that the explosive could have been placed at the FENASTRAS office "by an unknown person not from that organization, inasmuch as a union meeting was being held inside and given the possibility that access to the inside was controlled by the union."(303) One of the first steps taken by the CIHD was to submit an "urgent" request to security forces for any political or other common background of persons who died or were injured in the explosion.(304)

In November of 1989, at the request of President Cristiani, the U.S. State Department sent FBI experts to inspect the site of the explosion at the FENASTRAS office.(305) In its report, the FBI concluded that disturbance of crime scene, the passage of time, and the circumstances of the crime diminished the possiblity of identifying the type of explosive used.(306) It was only possible to determine that a high power explosive weighing approximately 15 lbs. had been used, and that the explosion had occurred between the wall at the entrance to the site and the exterior wall of the building.(307)

It is said that the government allegedly pressured certain prisoners to blame the FMLN for the attack or publish false statements.

Conclusions

The Commission concludes that:

1--There is sufficient proof that the bombings of the COMADRES and FENASTRAS remises on 31 October 1989 were part of a systematic, repeated policy of ks on the lives, physical integrity, and freedom of the members of those zations.

--There is full proof that the government of El Salvador has not complied with its duty to guarantee the human rights which the members of those entities enjoy as individuals and as members of those institutions.

3--There is full proof that the attack on the FENASTRAS office was caused by a bomb which unknown persons placed outside the premises.

4--There is substantial proof that the competent authorities of El Salvador did not conduct a complete and impartial investigation of the attacks on the COMADRES and FENASTRAS premises.

5--There is no proof to indicate the contrary, that the FMLN or members or affiliates of FENASTRAS authored the attack.

K. Oqueli and Flores

Summary of the Case

On 12 January 1990, Hector Oqueli Colindres and Gilda Flores Arevalo were kidnapped in Guatemala City in the Republic of Guatemala. Their bodies were found that same day in the village of San Jose El Coco in the jurisdiction of Jalpatagua in Guatemalan territory, 5 km from the Salvadoran border.

There is no controversy about the facts of the murder, but there are different versions as to the criminal and political responsibility.

Within the confines of its own limitations, the Commission made an exhaustive effort to assign responsibility for the murders. It received part of the investigations conducted by the Office of President of the Republic of Guatemala, querried that country's authorities, evaluated information supplied by the government of El Salvador, studied the report drafted by Professors Tom Farer and Robert Goldman, and heard relevant testimony.

Having analyzed the information available, it can assert that there was involvement by members of Guatemalan security forces acting with Salvadorans.

In addition, it is certain that these happenings were not duly investigated and that a number of essential steps were omitted.

The governments of Guatemala and El Salvador must conduct a thorough investigation into this double murder.

Description of Events

Background

Hector Oqueli, leader of the National Revolutionary Movement (MNR) of El Salvador (308), enjoyed enormous national and international prestige and had long been involved in the Socialist International (IS).(309) He was emerging from his political base as the figure most likely to succeed MNR leader Dr. Guillermo Ungo.(310)

Gilda Flores Arevalo, a citizen and resident of Guatemala, was actively involved in the Democratic Socialist Party (PSD).

The murder took place shortly after the biggest military offensive of the Salvadoran conflict waged by the FMLN in November 1989.

Hector Oqueli Flores' status as a leader of the opposition in Salvadoran politics, combined with the uproar that this crime generated, turn this case into a serious act of violence covered by the mandate granted to the Commission, independently of where the events took place.

Other considerations

As soon as President Vinicio Cerezo took office in Guatemala, a number of opponents of the Salvadoran regime, including Oqueli, began to engage in low-profile political activities in Guatemalan territory.(311)

As a member of the MNR, Oqueli returned to El Salvador and began proselytizing publicly. In November 1989, during an FMLN offensive, Oqueli sought asylum in the Venezuelan Embassy. He proceeded on to Mexico, where he continued his political activity within the Socialist International.

The Events

On 11 January 1990, Oqueli traveled from Mexico to Nicaragua to participate in a meeting of the Socialist Internationalist in Managua. His plan was to make a 1-day stop in Guatemala and leave for Managua the following day.

The reason for the stop was to have a political meeting with Rene Flores, a member of Oqueli's same political group. Rene Flores traveled expressly from San Salvador to meet with him. Oqueli therefore visited Flores in Guatemala.

On the 11th, Oqueli arrived in Guatemala City. He met Rene Flores in the "international arrival zone" as the latter came off a flight from San Salvador.

Oqueli went through the Immigration inspection with no difficulty whatsoever. He was then approached by two Immigration officials who asked for his passport, adducing an administrative reason and detaining him for over half an hour. This delay meant that Oqueli could not leave the baggage area or go through Customs since he did not have his passport with him. Gilda Flores and Rene Flores waited for him at the gate, puzzled by his delay.

Oqueli's passport was new and in perfect order and could not have presented any problem for a mere visual inspection. Nevertheless, when it was returned to him, printed on the date of the entry seal was the notation "Please read."

Once outside, Oqueli met up with Rene Flores and Gilda Flores. They commented on the passport incident that had occurred in the baggage area and proceeded on to Rene Flores' residence.

Upon leaving the airport, they observed that they were being watched by plain-clothes policemen, but nothing untoward occurred on the way to the city.

When they arrived at Gilda Flores' house, they saw people they did not know outside, but since it was near a foreign embassy, they paid no attention.

Once inside, Oqueli made a number of telephone calls. He and Rene Flores talked about the general political situation in El Salvador and the latter gave him a number of documents.

Gilda Flores and Oqueli then took Rene Flores to the airport. Rene Flores told the Truth Commission that he found it strange that they would accompany him to the airport inasmuch as it was not necessary and did not fit in with security precautions that Oqueli scrupulously obeyed.

Gilda Flores invited Oqueli to dinner at her home. The maid left after dinner. The following morning, Flores and Oqueli left for the airport early because Oqueli had a ticket on a flight to Managua. Gilda Flores was driving.

At approximately 0545 hours on Sexta Avenida in Zone 9, they were intercepted by a private vehicle and a group of persons got out.(312) Oqueli, riding in the front seat, tried to escape but was caught, and he and Gilda were forced into the vehicle that intercepted them.

Luis Ayala, secretary general of the Socialist International, and those attending the International meeting in Managua began to miss Oqueli.

That same day, Guatemalan Police appeared at the scene of the kidnapping and found documents in the vehicle abandoned on the street indicating that it belonged to Gilda Flores. Early in the morning, a police report was filed for armed theft of a vehicle committed by two persons against a Guatemalan citizen in Guatemala City. When the vehicle was taken, the attackers were identified as police officers.(313) The vehicle turned out to be the very one in which the bodies of Oqueli and Flores were later found. The bodies had bullet wounds and there were signs that both had been injected with some substance.(314)

The two bodies were found at 1700 on that same day, the 12th, in an abandoned vehicle on the highway leading to the Salvadoran border. Oqueli's papers were found in his clothing.

Subsequent Events

Guatemalan authorities concluded on the spot that it was indeed the body of Hector Oqueli Colindres. Gilda Flores' body was identified by relatives.

President Cerezo ordered an investigation into the case. The result of these investigations was the so-called "Third Report." The report presented no conclusions and assigned no responsibility other than the Guatemalan Government's hypotheses about possible causes of the crime. The investigation went no further despite the fact that the report itself sustained that "intelligence also found information that persons connected with the activities of Salvadoran terrorist groups in recent years might be operating in Guatemala. Among the names mentioned were those of Francisco Ricardo De Sola and Orlando de Sola. Even though there is no concrete evidence concerning the participation of these individuals, the investigation was able to ascertain that they did happen to be in the country on the precise days of the kidnapping and murder."(315) The report adds that "...they found information pointing to Salvadoran Army Colonel Mario Denis Moran Echeverria, El Salvador's military attache in Guatemala, as a person whose background might make him open to suspicion of working to provide cover for illegal terrorist groups from El Salvador."(316)

The Salvadoran Government reacted to the report by maintaining that it had implicated Salvadoran citizens without grounds, as a result of which President Cristiani ordered the attorney general to initiate an investigation. Nevertheless, that investigation produced no results.

At the request of the Socialist International, two human rights experts, Professors Tom Farer and Robert Goldman also analyzed the action of the Guatemalan Government. The Farer-Goldman report concluded that "the shortcomings" of the government reports "are so obvious that one could draw the conclusion that there was a deliberate attempt to make the investigation fail."(317)

The Oqueli-Flores case remains legally unresolved in El Salvador and Guatemala.

Analysis

The Commission held a very significant number of interviews with persons close to Oqueli, including relatives and political associates, and instituted all manner of inquiries in order to bring greater pressure to bear on official investigations conducted in Guatemala and El Salvador. It had access to opinions on many possible motives for the double murder. Unfortunately, the elements most crucial for delving further into the investigation and clearing up some of the questions put before the Commission as working hypotheses found no support from a petition for all depositions which the Salvadoran Government had on the Oqueli-Flores case. Reluctance to make available to the Commission, in Guatemala or El Salvador, the summons issued during the lapse of our investigation placed serious limitations upon it.

In this case, the facts have been documented and there is no doubt about the details of the kidnapping and death of Hector Oqueli and Gilda Flores. However, the material and intellectual authors of the double homicide have not been singled out.

It was never made clear why Guatemalan authorities detained Oqueli at the airport and confiscated his passport for over half an hour. Nor was it determined what substance was injected into the victims before they died. There was no verification of the records of persons who entered and left the country, not even from a border post located only 5 km from the site where the bodies were found. No statements were taken from persons who would have been decisive in clarifying the events and fingerprints were not taken from the vehicles. Finally, there was no investigation of the use of police identification at the time of the theft of the car used to commit the crime.

The legal record supplies no new elements other than the sum of bulletins and reports from police stations and purely routine legal procedures.

The Commission filed a request with the highest levels of government of the Republic of Guatemala for all information on the case.(318) Despite a pledge to cooperate with the work of this Commission, no relevant information was received.(319)

The Office of Attorney General of the Republic of El Salvador gave the Commission a copy of the file on the investigation conducted at the urging of President Cristiani. It is actually only a compilation of press clippings on the case.(320) The Office of Attorney General also failed to interview Salvadorans named in the Third Report, some of whom were government employees of El Salvador.

Among the possible hypotheses are those focusing the motive for the crime on the political and international figure of Hector Oqueli. It is this figure that is analyzed by the Guatemalan Government's Third Report, which places him among the most radical sectors of the FMLN, Guatemalan Army, Salvadoran authorities, or Salvadoran far right.

The Commission received from the MNR the original copy of a military ID of Major Rene Grande Martinez, which was reportedly handed over by President Vinicio Cerezo. The ID card was said to have been found by Guatemalan authorities at the site of the murders.

The Ministry of Defense made little effort to respond to the Truth Commission's request to locate Major Grande Martinez. That officer was repeatedly summoned by the Commission, but never appeared to testify.

The Commission was able to determine that the most important details concerning the murder were: a) advance knowledge of Oqueli's presence in Guatemala; b) Oqueli's detainment at the airport by authorities; c) constant surveillance of his movements; d) the participation of alleged police officers in the theft of the vehicle in which the bodies were later found; e) the kidnapping in Guatemala City in broad daylight on a public thoroughfare; and f) the uninhibited journey from the capital to the border in a stolen car carrying the two kidnap victims. For all these reasons, it is obvious that Guatemalan authorities had to have cooperated with or allowed the commission of these crimes.

Conclusions

1--The governments of Guatemala and El Salvador did not make a sufficient effort to thoroughly investigate the causes of and responsibility for the murder of Hector Oqueli Colindres and Gilda Flores. The Truth Commission urges both governments to do whatever is necessary individually to shed light on the crime and to work with international bodies that are able to support them in the resolution of this tragic event and present to the international community the elements clarifying what took place, without in any way affecting appropriate legal action.

2--The Commission believes there is a direct tie between the following: Hector Oqueli Colindres' and Gilda Flores Arevalo's status as political activists belonging to the opposition; Oqueli's inexplicable detention at the airport by Guatemalan authorities; surveillance of Gilda Flores' home and the subsequent kidnapping and murder of Oqueli and Flores; and the alleged participation of police in the theft of the automobile in which the bodies were found.

3--The Commission has found sufficient evidence that members of Salvadoran security forces bear responsibility for this act, in combination with or tolerated by Guatemalan security forces.

4--There is sufficient evidence that Salvadoran authorities did not investigate this crime properly. There is also sufficient evidence that investigations conducted by Guatemalan authorities were inadequate and that the omission of fundamental evidence, if it did not seek concealment of the crime, produced just such a result.

Footnotes

167. Considering the total lack of any measures aimed at shedding light on the El Junquillo massacre on 28 November 1992, the Truth Commission asked the minister of defense and public security, General Rene Emilio Ponce, to supply the Commission with the following information: which military units participated in the military operation carried out between 10 and 12 March 1981 in the cantons of Agua Blanca and El Junquillo in the jurisdiction of Cacaopera in the Department of Morazan; the names of those responsible for ordering the operation and the orders they gave, as well as the responsibility assigned to each military unit; the names of the officers, noncommissioned officers, and enlisted men and the responsibilities assigned to them; a copy of any report on operations received by the Armed Forces Staff and/or the Ministry of Defense on incidents occurring in the canton of El Junquillo and the hamlet of Flor Muerto in the canton of Agua Blanca in the jurisdiction of Cacaopera in the Department of Morazan between 10 and 12 March 1981.

There had been no response to the request from the minister of defense and public security by the time this report was drafted.

This Commission received the testimony of persons making statements on events in the canton of El Junquillo, as well as from individuals to whom witnesses appealed for help. It also requested information from the government of El Salvador and Military Detachment No 6 in Sonsonate and summoned an Army officer. The request for information was never answered and the officer summoned never appeared.

All of these elements were examined.

252. Deposition by Captain Pena Duran and Major Beltran Granados in the offices of the Deputy Ministry of Public Security. The latter said he denied permission because he had to consult with the command to ascertain its opinion of the possibility. Beltran also said that Pena informed him that units of the Jiboa Battalion had made several captures and seized subversive material, adding that the captures had been seen by the people and that the previous night they had given him an order saying the prisoners had to be eliminated.

253. Deposition by Captain Pena and Lieutenant Galvez in the offices of the Deputy Ministry of Public Security.

254. In his statement in the offices of the Deputy Ministry of Public Security, Captain Pena Duran said he had contacted the Brigade for the second time and spoken with the then Major Rodriguez Molina to request permission to go to Brigade headquarters and that the latter had granted him such permission.

255. Captain Pena said in his statement in the offices of the Deputy Ministry of Public Security that he had met with the aforementioned officers in the order previously given. However, in the statement taken from him on that occasion, he said only that he reported "on the situation" in the hamlet of San Francisco, but not the existence of the order to execute the prisoner. In his hearing before the Truth Commission, Captain Pena Duran said he had expressly informed Rodriguez Molina, Turcios, and Chavez Caceres of the existence of the order. However, he said that when he informed Chavez, the latter simultaneously received the report that the prisoners died in the ambush. Colonel Chavez Caceres said in his statement before the Truth Commission that Captain Pena only informed him of the general situation in the canton of San Francisco. Colonel Turcios said that Captain Pena reported to Major Rodriguez Molina. The latter went to the office of Lieutenant Colonel Turcios and the two then went together to report to Colonel Chavez Caceres. He does not recall receiving in Pena's report information to the effect that they were going to execute the prisoner.

287. Given the difficulty of analyzing residue from the impact of the bullet and the significant presence of phosphorus, the Center for Electronic Microscopy Applications and Research proposes two hypotheses: If the phosphorus is from the detonator, then its presence would mean that the shot was fired from close range. It is impossible to state the distance of the shot since it is not known what type of weapon or ammunition was used. The second hypothesis is that if the phosphorus is not connected with the detonator, then it could come from incendiary bullets made from white phosphorus that ignites in the air. In this case, the absence of detonating products indicates that the shot was fired from medium range (starting at 5 meters). It would not then be a short-range (point-blank) or long-range shot.

3. Forced Disappearances

a. Ventura and Mejia

Summary of the Case

Francisco Arnulfo Ventura and Jose Humberto Mejia, law students at the University of El Salvador, were arrested by National Guard personnel in the parking lot of the U.S. Embassy on 22 January 1980 subsequent to a student demonstration. According to witnesses, Guard agents turned the students over to some men in civilian clothes in the parking lot, and these men took them away in a private car. Despite the investigations made and the court proceedings instigated since that date, these students have never been found.

The Commission reached the following conclusions:

1. National Guard personnel seized Francisco Arnulfo Ventura and Jose Humberto Mejia, detained them in the parking lot of the United States Embassy, and then turned them over to some men in civilian clothes who took them away in a private vehicle.
2. While they were in the custody of these individuals, the students disappeared, and there is no proof that they are still alive.
3. While denying the arrest and the failure to make a diligent effort to investigate the incident and identify the specific individuals who perpetrated it, then Colonel Eugenio Vides Casanova, the commander of the National Guard, at least accepted responsibility for negligent concealment of the facts and for hindering the resulting judicial investigation.
4. The state failed in its duties to investigate, prosecute, and penalize those responsible, to provide compensation to the members of the victims' families, and to inform them of the whereabouts of the students who disappeared. The state has an obligation to carry out these duties fully and promptly.

Description of the Events (321)

On the morning of 22 January 1980, a group of demonstrating students who marched from the University of El Salvador toward the center of San Salvador was violently dispersed by the security forces in front of the cathedral. (322) The casualties included a number of dead and wounded individuals.

Two of the demonstrators, Francisco Arnulfo Ventura Reyes (24 years of age) and Jose Humberto Mejia (25), both law students, went into the grounds of the United States Embassy through the main entrance after the demonstration at about 1430 in the afternoon.

According to several witnesses, National Guard agents stopped them at the embassy door and took them to the parking lot. They remained there for several minutes in the custody of the National Guard. A short time later, a private car drove into the embassy parking lot, and the guardsmen turned the students over to some men wearing civilian clothes, who put them in the luggage compartment of the vehicle and took them away. (323)

This was the last time these students were ever seen.

The Investigation

That same afternoon, a member of Francisco Ventura's family went looking for him. Near the cathedral, several individuals told him they had heard that

Special Project (1993)

Francisco Ventura and Jose Humberto Mejia had been seized in front of the American Embassy by the guardsmen. The following day, when he paid a visit to the General Association of Salvadoran University Students (AGEUS), this information was confirmed.

At the request of the AGEUS, Dr. Santiago Orellana Amador and attorney Florentin Melendez were appointed to make a demand that the two students be physically produced. According to the statements they made in court, they talked with Mr. Vytantos A. Dambrava, director of the International Communications Agency at the United States Embassy, and with the chief of security there. All of the embassy personnel said that they were aware of the seizure of the two students, and that the Marines played no part in it. They also said that the National Guard agents, who were on duty outside the embassy, took the students into the courtyard to search them and kept them there. They added that a short time afterward, the two boys were taken away from the embassy. According to Mr. Dambrava, this was done by agents of that same body (324), while the security chief said that they were taken away by individuals wearing olive drab military trousers and civilian shirts who were driving a private vehicle.

Later, Dr. Orellana and attorney Melendez had an interview with Col. Eugenio Vides Casanova, who was then the commander of the National Guard. He denied the statements made by the officials at the embassy. And so it was that the lawyers filed an appeal with the Supreme Court for resolution of the problem of the contradictory information provided by the embassy and the National Guard headquarters. (325)

On the other hand, Attorney General Mario Zamora filed charges in the Second Criminal Court. Testimony was taken from the family members. Also, the judge solicited information from the Embassy of the United States and the National Guard, but obtained no response.

On 22 February 1980, the Supreme Court instructed the judge of the Second Criminal Court to order an investigation to determine the whereabouts of the vanished students. That same night, Mario Zamora was murdered. (326) Subsequently, no further action was taken.

However, the attorneys pursued their investigation, visiting the barracks, while the families searched everywhere on their own initiative, even examining the corpses found in the environs of San Salvador. (327) The families found neither the young men nor their corpses.

After three months, the death squad known as the Secret Anti-Communist Army published a list of names that included those of individuals who had been assassinated or had disappeared, such as Monsignor Romero, Father Rutilio Grande, and Attorney General Mario Zamora. The names of Francisco Arnulfo Ventura and Jose Humberto Mejia were on that list. At the end of the list, there was an exhortation to "help us eliminate all of these individuals who are selling out their country, and the criminal communists. The fatherland will thank you." (328)

Conclusions

The Commission concludes the following:

1. There is full proof that agents of the National Guard seized Francisco Arnulfo Ventura and Jose Humberto Mejia, held them in the parking lot of the United States Embassy, and turned them over to men in civilian clothes who took them away in a private car.

2. While in the hands of these individuals who arrived at the embassy parking lot by automobile and had the students handed over to them by the guardsmen who had seized them, Ventura and Mejia disappeared. There is no evidence that they are still alive.

3. There is substantial evidence that then Col. Eugenio Vides Casanova, by failing to take diligent action to investigate the incident and to identify the specific individuals responsible for it, made himself responsible at least for negligent concealment and hindering the resulting judicial investigation.

The state failed in its duty to investigate, prosecute, and penalize those responsible, to pay compensation to the family members of the victims, and to establish the whereabouts of the individuals who had disappeared. It is the duty of the state to fulfill its obligations.

b. Rivas Hernandez

Summary of the Case

Miguel Angel Rivas Hernandez, a young man of 17, disappeared on Saturday, 29 November 1986, in the vicinity of the Air Force Base in Ilopango, San Salvador. Witnesses said he was seized by Air Force personnel, to whom his family members went to protest. However, at the base, the seizure was denied. Despite the official denial, the family was told that the young man was at the base. For this reason, the family proceeded to report the matter to the organizations that protect human rights.

The young man was allegedly taken to the Central National Guard Barracks in San Salvador in January of 1987. In March of 1988, the victim's father asserted that he had seen him in the National Guard premises from a distance.

The Commission concludes that:

1. Miguel Angel Rivas Hernandez was detained on 29 November 1986 by Salvadoran Air Force personnel.

2. From the site of the seizure, he was taken to National Guard premises from which he disappeared, and to date there is no proof that he is still alive.

3. The Salvadoran Air Force and the National Guard concealed his seizure and detention.

4. The Commission To Investigate Crimes (CIHD) did not cooperate properly with the Commission. It submitted incomplete information on its investigations into the case.

Miguel Angel Rivas Hernandez was seized by Air Force personnel and then taken a National Guard installation. In addition to the fact that he disappeared while in the custody of that body, there is no evidence that he is alive. The personnel of the Air Force and the National Guard concealed the fact of his seizure. The state cannot avoid its duty to investigate the case fully.

Description of the Events

Miguel Angel Rivas Hernandez, the minor son of Guillermo Rivas Campos, driver, and Rosa Elba Rivas, housewife, lived in the Ilopango Subdivision, which is adjacent to the Salvadoran Air Force Base in San Salvador. He was not known in the neighborhood to have engaged in any political activity.

At the age of 17, Miguel Angel was hired as a worker at the Texaco service station located right on the Panamerican Highway, just beyond the boundary of the Air Base compound. The young man walked to and from his work daily.

It was routine to see motorized patrols making their rounds at various times of day, as well as Salvadoran Air Force (FAS) personnel on foot. Many of the residents of the area knew soldiers who worked at the Base.

The Seizure and Disappearance

On Saturday, 29 November 1986, the superior of Miguel Angel Rivas Hernandez at the Texaco service station gave him permission to leave at about 1930. As usual, he set out for home on foot.

Miguel Angel's parents expected him to be home by about 2200. He did not arrive. The worried parents inquired at the gas station, where they were assured that their son had left a little before 1930.

His mother learned that individuals dressed in civilian clothes driving a red pickup truck with no doors had seized a boy wearing white pants and a black shirt. This description fitted Miguel Angel. The captors, at least judging from the description given of them, appeared to be members of "the regular Air Force patrol at 1930."

Very early the following day, the parents presented themselves at the Air Base to inquire about the boy's situation, but they were told there that there had been no arrest. The parents then turned to various police and military authorities, but everywhere they received denials that their son was being held.

A woman living in the area told Miguel Angel's mother that a young woman had seen the seizure and had recognized one of the captors as soldier at the Air Base nicknamed "El Mango."

Also, an Air Force member nicknamed "El Chino" confirmed to a girl who was a friend of Miguel Angel's that he was being held there at the Ilopango Air Base. Later, this friend related what she had been told to the young man's mother. But at that military facility, his arrest was always officially denied.

The Accusations and the Search

Because of these continuing denials, the family decided in December of 1986 to file complaints concerning the disappearance of Miguel Angel with various organizations defending human rights--the Human Rights Commission of El Salvador (governmental), the Legal Protection Office of the Archbishopric, the International Committee of the Red Cross, Amnesty International, and Americas Watch. This last body took the case to the Interamerican Human Rights Commission. (329)

In January of 1987, the family was informed that Miguel Angel had been taken to the National Guard barracks in San Salvador. (330) However, when his family went to this facility, there was yet another denial that the young man was being held.

The transfer of Miguel Angel Rivas Hernandez from the custody of the Air Force to the National Guard was apparently entered into the record books of that security force in January of 1987. (331)

In the month of February 1987, the case was presented to the Embassy of the United States in El Salvador. Some congressmen in the United States, for their part, wrote letters to their own embassy in El Salvador (332) and to the then president of El Salvador, Engineer Jose Napoleon Duarte, (333) voicing their concern about the disappearance of Miguel Angel. In March, the members of an Amnesty mission visited the National Guard barracks, but they failed to find the young man there.

The Investigation

The Commission To Investigate Crimes undertook an investigation of the case in April of 1987. (334) The investigation was assigned to Detective Sergeant Roberto Palacios Iraheta. (335)

Sgt. Palacios managed to determine, through a confidential informer, that a lieutenant in the National Guard had called a meeting of five agents and had ordered the concealment of books in which the interrogations of Rivas Hernandez, and the record of where he was held--cell No. 4 at the National Guard S-11. (336)

On receiving this last report, Lieutenant Colonel Nelson Ivan Lopez y Lopez, head of the Executive Unit of the CIHD, decided to intervene in the case personally, and he went to the National Guard barracks but did not find the young man. (337)

In a report dated 26 May, Lt. Col. Lopez said ".... The investigations concerning Mr. Rivas Hernandez are leading to complicated situations that require decisions on another level, which will in the near future be reported (to the president of the CIHD)." (338)

On 2 June 1987, Lt. Col. Lopez said in another report, "I am setting forth in general terms the difficulties encountered in connection with the disappearance of Mr. Rivas Hernandez." (339)

Meanwhile, the family was regularly receiving information about the state of health of the young Miguel Angel and about where he was being held from its own source. (The family's source and that of the CIHD were the same person.)

The family also provided this individual with various sums of money on a regular basis, which the victim's mother carefully recorded throughout the period from June of 1987 to February of 1989. The informant claimed to have personally seen the young man being held, and he also reported successive transfers, both to official National Guard establishments and to private homes. On several occasions, the CICR [International Committee of the Red Cross] visited these official establishments, but failed to find the young man.

On 23 March 1988, the Interamerican Commission on Human Rights approved Resolution No. 21/88. It stated that the facts in the accusation about the disappearance were presumed to be true and informed the government of El Salvador that this fact constituted a serious violation of human rights, and it recommended that the government investigate the case and punish those responsible.

A few days later, 16 months after the disappearance of the young man, Guillermo Rivas Campos, his father, said he succeeded in seeing Miguel Angel for a few minutes at the headquarters of the National Guard in San Pablo Tacachico.

Through one of its officials, the Embassy of the United States provided the family with continuing support in its search for the young man. Colonel Rivas Rivas of the CIHD met with a colonel and a lieutenant in the National Guard, but without positive results.

Following the FMLN [Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front] offensive in 1989, the father of Miguel Angel Rivas Hernandez was arrested. He was accused of having links with the guerrilla forces. Thanks to the intervention of the Embassy of the United States, his release was obtained.

Conclusions

The Commission concludes the following:

1. There is substantial evidence of the seizure of Miguel Angel Rivas Hernandez by Salvadoran Air Force personnel.
2. There is substantial evidence of his transfer to the National Guard.

3. There is substantial evidence that while he was in the custody of the National Guard, the young man disappeared, and there is no evidence that he is alive.

4. There is substantial evidence that the Air Force later concealed the arrest and detention, and that the National Guard concealed the fact that he had been held in custody.

5. The state failed in its duty, in accordance with the International Law on Human Rights, to investigate the case, to prosecute, and to punish those responsible.

C. Chan Chan and Massi

Summary of the Case

The Truth Commission received a large number of complaints regarding disappearances and studied the majority of them very closely. The present case provides a collection of symptoms of contempt for family values, family affection, maternal grief, and trade union solidarity.

On 18 August 1989 the trade unionists Sara Cristina Chan Chan Medina and Juan Francisco Massi Chavez were proceeding on foot along the Boulevard del Ejercito, near San Salvador, en route to their respective homes. Sara Cristina, 20, was a photographer for Fenastras [Salvadoran Workers National Union Federation]. Juan Francisco, 25, was a student and worked at the Lido factory. In front of the main gate of the Reprocentro factory, 2.5 km from the capital, six soldiers of the Air Force took them into custody. Some passengers on buses passing by on the highway recognized the young people and saw that they had their hands over their heads and against the wall while the soldiers were interrogating them. This took place at about 1800 hours. They have been missing ever since.

Description of the Facts (340)

Background

Juan Francisco was born on 25 February 1963 in Quezaltepeque, La Libertad, the son of Carmen Chavez de Massi and Simeon Massi. He lived with his family in the Las Margaritas district of Soyapango. He worked for the Lido company, where he was secretary of relations of the union; worked with members of Fenastras on various trade-union projects; had never been arrested; and had no criminal record.

Sara Cristina Chan Chan was the oldest daughter of Jorge Eduardo Chan Chan Jimenez and Maria Juana Antonia Medina. The family lived in the city of Santa Ana, where her father was employed and where he was a recognized leader of the ANDA [National Administration of Waterworks and Sewers] union. She had never been arrested either, nor did she have a criminal record. She had, however, suffered the consequences of her family's union activities.

On 16 June 1980, when Sara Cristina was only 10 years of age, men in civilian clothes came to her home and murdered her father in her presence and in the presence of her three younger siblings and her mother. The men showed up at 0200 and identified themselves as members of the National Guard. Because Sara Cristina's father did not open the door, the men broke the glass in one of the windows of the house and shot him. They also shot at the propane gas tank used for the kitchen, and one of the men was about to light a match when he saw Sara Cristina and her siblings hiding under a bed. Because there were "a lot of children" they did not burn down the house, and vent away.

As a result of the murder of Jorge Eduardo Chan Chan Jimenez, the family moved to San Salvador. It was only after "quite a while" that Sara Cristina's mother decided to return to Santa Ana. According to witnesses, in July 1989 a group of uniformed soldiers of the 2d Brigade--together with some civilians--came to her house. They blindfolded her and put her in a vehicle to take her to the Santa Ana barracks, torturing her en route. After she was set free that same month, the family moved back to the capital. Sara Cristina had obtained work there as a photographer with Fenastras, one of the most important and active labor unions in the nation. Fenastras adopted positions critical of the Armed Forces, and for that reason was branded as a "front for the FMLN". In 1989, threats against Fenastras were commonplace, and in the media its members were accused of maintaining organic ties with the FMLN. One month before the disappearance of Sara Cristina and Juan Francisco, in a paid spot appearing in the DIARIO DE HOY, the priests Ignacio Ellacuria and Segundo Montes were identified as FMLN leaders, and Fenastras leaders were accused of responsibility for the terrorist destruction in El Salvador. In the same statement, President Cristiani was asked to institute the death penalty and summary trials for these individuals.

These considerations--and, in general, the persecution of members of the labor movement and the years of confrontation between Fenastras and the Armed Forces--caused the latter to regard anyone associated with Fenastras as suspect. As a result, members of Fenastras and persons connected with the labor movement were generally regarded as a threat to the security of the state.

The Arrests

Sara Cristina was at Fenastras the entire morning of Saturday 18 August, after which she took a bus to visit Juan Francisco, who was working at the Lido factory on the Boulevard del Ejercito. They met, and then left on foot for San Salvador. The two young people lived in the Santa Lucia district, near Juan Francisco's place of work.

Six soldiers of the Air Force stopped them in front of the main gate of the Reprocentro factory, 2.5 kilometers from the capital. They were equipped with M-16 rifles and wearing red berets that bore the metal insignia of the Air Force. Three of them wore olive green uniforms, the others camouflage.

It was commonplace to see Salvadoran Air Force patrols and soldiers on foot moving about the streets. The Air Force kept reserve troops and patrols 24 hours a day on the Boulevard del Ejercito in the vicinity of their base. It also kept soldiers inside the buildings of several commercial enterprises located on the same boulevard near the base.

Between 1800 and 1830, several persons who were passing by recognized Sara Cristina and Juan Francisco. The first was a fellow worker, who upon recognizing the two prisoners got off the bus on which he was a passenger and returned to the capital to inform Fenastras of the arrests. A few minutes later two fellow workers passed by in a minibus, and when they realized what was happening also got off their vehicle and returned to the capital. Febe Elizabeth Vasquez, the secretary general of Fenastras, also passed by, witnessed the arrests, and returned to union headquarters to report the incident.

According to the log of arrivals and departures of vehicles of the Parachute Battalion, a driver left at 1850 hours to drop off patrols on the Boulevard. Other drivers also left to patrol the Boulevard during those hours. (341)

According to witnesses, one of the soldiers asked Sara Cristina and Juan Francisco for their identity documents while others stood guard. Other witnesses stated that the soldiers had surrounded the two and stood them up against a wall with their hands over their heads, directly in front of the Reprocentro factory.

Several persons were waiting for transportation near where the arrests took place and must have seen what happened. They did not come forward but did mention that "some people had been arrested there." That was what people usually said in those days.

The Parachute Battalion was in charge of patrolling the Boulevard del Ejercito, and on that day the 3d Squadron of the Parachute Battalion was the specific unit performing guard duty on the Boulevard. The officer in charge was Captain Oscar Arnulfo Diaz Amaya. In August 1989 some six to eight soldiers of the Air Force were present at the Reprocentro factory 24 hours a day. These soldiers had orders to stay inside the factory installations. The Air Force did not provide the Truth Commission with the names of the officers of the unit on guard duty at the factory. Fenastras immediately took note of the arrests and called the media to report the incident. Within 15 minutes a member of Fenastras went to the site to investigate, and when they [as published] arrived the two young people were still in custody there. Two other persons subsequently went to the site, but now were unable to find Sara Cristina and Juan Francisco. A total of five persons had witnessed the arrests.

The soldiers supposedly took Sara Cristina and Juan Francisco to the Air Force barracks, although no one saw any military vehicle at the site. Lieutenant Colonel Rene Alcides Rodriguez Hurtado, the then commander of the Parachute Battalion, declared before the Commission that the normal procedure when Battalion troops detained individuals was to communicate with the duty officer via the radio station at the base, whereupon a vehicle would be sent to take the prisoners to the base for interrogation. After the interrogation the prisoner was either released or remanded to the Treasury Police, the National Police, or the National Guard. Lt. Col. Rodriguez Hurtado, who had been the duty officer at the time (342), did not recall the arrest of Sara Cristina and Juan Francisco. When a telephone call was made from Fenastras to the Air Force to find out if they had been taken to the barracks, the commanding officer on duty denied that any arrest had been reported.

Steps Taken by Family Members

On the following day, Sara Cristina's mother was informed of the detention of her daughter. Juan Francisco's family, however, learned of the detentions from a family member that same day.

According to witnesses, on Monday 20 August a representative of the Human Rights Commission, who was at the Ilopango Air Base inquiring about the detention of Sara Cristina and Juan Francisco, said he had been informed that the two young people were taken into custody by elements of the Air Force but that they had already been remanded to the Central Barracks of the Treasury Police. A sister of Juan Francisco and an attorney for Fenastras also went to the base but were not permitted to enter. The log of arrivals and departures of Parachute Battalion drivers on 18, 19, and 20 August 1989, however, contains no verification of any such arrivals or departures. (343)

Ever since that time the authorities have systematically denied even the very fact of the detentions and therefore also any knowledge of the whereabouts or fate of the victims. On that same day--Monday 20 August--Sara Cristina's mother arrived at the Ilopango Air Base to inquire as to the whereabouts of her daughter. The soldier on duty took out a list and then went to get another officer. Within a few minutes an officer whose last name was Flores showed up. "Do me a big favor," he told the mother. "Tell the people at Fenastras to stop putting this propaganda on television. We do not have them in custody."

At that point Sara Cristina's mother embarked on a veritable "way of the cross." She went to various military and police installations in the city in search of information--from the National Police to the Air Force, from the Air Force to the Treasury Police, and from the Treasury Police back to the Air Force. All these efforts proved fruitless.

Juan Francisco's sister also went to the Treasury Police, where they informed her that the Air Force had not sent anyone there. When she returned to the Air Force, they told her that she had been misinformed and that the Air Force had not detained anyone named Juan Francisco Massi or Sara Cristina Chan Chan.

Sara Cristina's mother went to the Air Force a third time, on Tuesday 21 August at 0800 hours. They insisted that she should look for her daughter at the National Guard headquarters. From there she laboriously retraced the same wearisome route: from the National Guard to the Treasury Police, from the Treasury Police to the National Police, from the National Police to the Treasury Police, and from the Treasury Police to the National Guard. Once again, all efforts proved to be unfruitful.

On Wednesday 22 August Sara Cristina's mother returned to the Air Force base accompanied by an attorney from Fenestras. At the entrance to the base she encountered Juan Francisco's father, who was making similar efforts to find his son.

They were attended by the same Air Force officer, who on this occasion told Sara Cristina's mother that if she returned one more time, "the same thing would happen to her," that is to say, they could make her disappear. The officer denied that the arrests had taken place but used the occasion to tell them that Juan Francisco was an FMLN commander and that young people who associated with the guerrillas frequently died.

Because the mother insisted that several people had witnessed the arrests by Air Force soldiers a few days previously, they finally summoned another officer, who escorted her to the jail area. She looked into six cells but did not see either Sara Cristina or Juan Francisco. "Don't come back, madam," the officer shouted at her, "or you will not leave here." Out of fear, she never returned.

On Thursday 23 August the younger sister of Sara Cristina went to the Air Force base accompanied by a woman attorney. The officer who attended them told the girl, "You must be her sister--because you look a lot like her--but we do not have her. Don't come here any more asking for her, because we do not have her here!" Sara Cristina's sister returned to the Air Base on Friday 24 August accompanied by a sister of Juan Francisco, but despite her pleas the soldiers denied once again that Sara Cristina had been detained.

The members of Sara Cristina's and Juan Francisco's families made every effort to find the two young people, including paid newspaper advertisements demanding their release (344); repeated visits to hospitals, cemeteries, and police and military installations; accusations made to the (governmental) Commission on Human Rights, the (nongovernmental) Commission on Human Rights, the Legal Aid Office of the Archbishopric, the International Committee of the Red Cross, and other human rights organizations; and petitions to the Supreme Court for writs of habeas corpus. (345)

Letters were also filed with the Legislative Assembly and the Ministry of Justice. Two deputies of the Assembly informed Sara Cristina's mother that the names of her daughter and Juan Francisco were entered in the internal control registers of prisoners of the Air Force and that both were being held in the basement of the barracks in question, thus confirming the report of the arrests and transfer to Ilopango Air Base.

The director of Legal Aid sent letters to the then Director General of Treasury Police, Colonel Hector Heriberto Hernandez; to the Commandant of the Air Force, Colonel Juan Rafael Bustillo; to the then chief of the Joint General Staff, Colonel Rene Emilio Ponce; to the then minister of defense and public security, General Rafael Humberto Larios Lopez; to the deputy minister of public security, Colonel Inocente Orlando Montano; and to the deputy minister of defense, Colonel Juan Orlando Zepeda.

She received a response only from the Treasury Police, however. In a letter dated 23 August 1989, Col. Hector Heriberto Hernandez answered that he had examined "the files meticulously" and that Juan Francisco and Sara Cristina were not--nor had they been--in the custody of the Treasury Police. (346)

The Governmental Commission on Human Rights looked for Sara Cristina and Juan Francisco at the installations of the Air Force, the Artillery Brigade, the Cavalry Regiment, the Central Barracks of the National Police, the National Guard, the Treasury Police, the First Infantry Brigade, the Fourth Infantry Brigade, and Military Detachment No. 1 (347). These efforts yielded no results, and the investigation was apparently limited to asking the commanding officer of each unit to fill out a form attesting that he did not have them in custody. The Commission on Human Rights finally declared that it had found it impossible to obtain any information concerning the case.

The Truth Commission also asked the Air Force, the National Police, the Treasury Police, and the National Guard to supply information concerning all persons they had arrested during the period from 16 to 20 August 1989. It also asked for a list of persons transferred from the Air Force to the other security corps during that week. The Air Force sent a list of persons arrested by its units during the period from 16 to 20 August 1989. The list it sent, however, was not an original but a typewritten copy listing persons who had been arrested during that period, and only recorded the arrest of six persons on 17 August. There was no record of the arrest of either Sara Cristina or Juan Francisco (348).

The National Police in their turn sent a list of persons arrested by their units during 17 and 19 August 1989. It was a typewritten copy listing several persons arrested during that period, but it likewise did not record the arrest of either Sara Cristina or Juan Francisco (349). The National Guard sent copies of the pages of the logbook in which it kept a record of persons detained during 17, 18, 19, and 20 August, but there was no mention of either Sara Cristina or Juan Francisco. The Guard declared that on those days "no persons were received by transfer from the Salvadoran Air Force" (350).
